CLASS TROUBLES

Two Lower Classes in Frequent Brouls Which Nearly Terminate in Serious Results.

Freshmen Unsuccessful in Spoling the '08 Hay Ride, But Come Out with Flying Colors, Later.

The smouldering rivalry between the Sophomore and Freshmen classes has at last broken out in untamed fierceness. The Sophs' hayride of Friday, a week ago, offered the occasion for the opening of hostilities, and the Freshmen gladly seized it. Thus far in the disturbances, if the Freshmen have had any the best of it, it has been because of their overwhelming superiority in numbers. The rivalry has been all in a friendly spirit notwithstanding its extraordinary strenuousness.

The Sophomores, on Friday, the 17th, had planned to meet at the Henderson home for their hayride. The Freshmen learned of it and planned to play havoc with the '08 merry-makers. With resentment rankling in their bosoms on account of the recent Sophomore manifesto they made out a list of six Sophs whom they thought, (erroneously, however,) to have been the ringleaders in that affair, and these they determined to capture and take into the country. With the aid of an efficient secret service bureau the lower classmen succeeded in capturing McPherson, Mudgett, Clay and Holman. These they took to a Freshman woodshed and placed under a guard of a dozen strong men. The rest of the '09s sallied forth and fell upon some Soph boys with their girls coming from the Dorm. The Freshmen greatly outnumbered the Soph boys and attacked the party with the intention of capturing the remainder of their chosen victims. But the girls were not willing to stay neutral, and when the smoke of battle lifted the Freshies were beating a retreat, with less hair than at the start of the fight.

They returned to the woodshed where the captured Sophs were being guarded, and announced their failure. A ride into the country, which the '09s had been planning for their victims was now given up, on account of the fear of the Freshies that the four Sophs might freeze. The Sophs claim it was on account of '09 "cold feet." Last Thursday night the lower classes again took the center of the stage. The Sophomores, in order to have their turn in the affair, tried to tie up three of the Freshies' ringleaders, Barto, Savidge and Jewell, in order to keep them from going to their class dance on Friday night. To accomplish this the Sophs decided to capture the three and take them to Pullman. The Freshies, however, smelled the rat and were prepared. The Sophs came around on Thursday night and captured Barto and Lefler. By this time the Freshies came around, released their classmates, turned the tables by capturing three of the Sophs, Mac, Morrow, and Whitehead. They took them out six miles in the country and there tied them all up, but Morrow, whom they took back a quarter of a mile and let loose to untie his classmates. Walking back the Freshies met a rig manned by "Fat" Foreman, who was put out and the Freshies rode back to town. The handcuffs are in possession of the Freshies. On the same night Jay Jelick, '09, was painted up with some chemical agent, in revenge for the liberal application of shoeblackening to the four captured Sophs the week before.

FRESHMEN WIN.

Plucky Little Team From the '09 Class Out-Play the Sophomores.

Saturday afternoon at the ball park the Freshman team defeated a team of Sophomores in football by a score of 6 to 4. The game was well played on both sides and was a fast, hard contest. The Freshmen scored a touchdown in the first half and converted. In the second half the Sophomores scored by a drop kick from the field.

The Sophomore team had in its line-up three first team men who played in the back field. These men played the best game for the Sophs. They, however, were unable to cross the goal line and reverted to a drop kick for their score. This was made from the 20 yard line by Thomas, who had previously made several drop kicks in games.

There were no first team men in the ranks of the Freshmen but they had several first team substitutes and one who played in a first team game. The particular stars were the two half backs, Numbers and Coffin. Both these little fellows tore through and around for good gains. Numbers and Pauls were always there in playing defensive. Stokesberry at center played a great game. Coffin skirted the Sophs' right end for a 23 yard run and a touch down. Jewell kicked goal.

Preps Debate

The preparatory department debaters are busy working on the tryout for the Colfax High School debate. The tryout will be held on December 2, and the debate will take place some time in February. The question is that of Chinese exclusion. Wednesday night the Preparatory Debating Society was reorganized. Herbert Wadsworth was elected president and Clarence Edmundson, secretary. A committee was appointed to see about a time of meeting and to arrange the Colfax debate. Proctor Perkins, Earl Foglesong, and O. Solibakke constitute the program committee of the society. The preparatory department is a member of the Inland Empire Debate League.

HENDRICKX AGAIN

The Learned Divine Entertains at Assembly—Astronomical Question Discussed.

The Auditorium Was Filled with Eager Auditors Who Cheered at Each Witty Remark.

The students were again entertained during the assembly hour last week by Father Hendrickx. His subject, this time was the "Astronomical Question Box," and its nature was directly opposite to that of his discourse of last week. His object was to amuse more than to instruct.

The question box has been in vogue in the Eastern cities and universities for several years. It has proved to be of great value in helping both professor and scholar. Father Hendrickx has kept a question box for eleven years and during this time has answered, in round numbers, 27,000 questions.

Although the question box is called the "Astronomical" question box, there were very few questions asked that related to astronomy, many of them relating to politics and society and some were very foolish. These were answered with laconic answers, the speaker holding up the questioner to ridicule and keeping the students in a constant uproar by his witty answers.

Some of these questions were particularly interesting. In one the speaker was requested to illustrate the distance from the earth to the sun. Should we board a train that traveled at a rate of 30 miles an hour and travel continuously until we reached the sun it would take three hundred thirty-eight years, five months and twenty days to reach our destination.

When requested to explain the origin of the following phrases the speaker promptly complied: "He is a brick," "He is a dead head," "He kicked the bucket."

The first of these phrases originated in Sparta before the time of Christ. The Persians and the Spartans were continually engaged in bloody wars. The Spartan cities were all fortified. Some were fortified with brick. During one of these wars the Persians invaded Sparta and razed their brick fortifications. The Persian general in triumph pointing to the ruins said, "now, where is your brick?" The Spartan king in answer, pointed to his splendid army, drawn up in battle formation ready to attack the Persians and said "He is a brick."

The phrase, "He is a dead head," is also of ancient origin. When making excavations in 1878, in the buried city of Herculaneum, numerous coins were dug up; on one side of each coin was the picture of a skull and cross bones. He who possessed one of these coins was permitted to go to the theatre free. Hence he was called a dead head, because he possessed a dead head coin and because he was a dead one as far as revenue was concerned. The phrase maintained the same usage to the present day.

"He kicked the bucket," originated in Massachusetts. A shoemaker, wishing to end his life, stood on a bucket, tied a rope suspended from above, around his neck and kicked the bucket from underneath himself. From this unique way of committing suicide has arisen one of our frequent slang phrases.

Many of these questions of general interest were asked all of which were ably answered. After the talk Prof. Rutgers played a flute solo and as an encore played, on the piano, a piece that he has composed and one that he has dedicated to the "students of the University of Idaho." Professor Rutgers will later compose orchestra parts for the piece.

TALKS ABOUT CHINA.

Lieut. Steunenberg Entertains Websterians with an Interesting Account of His Visit There.

Before the Websterians, at their meeting one week ago, Lieut. Steunenberg gave a short but very interesting account of a visit which he paid to China a few years ago.

He landed at Hong Kong, which he described as a decided British town. It is situated on a steep hillside, the part next to the water being taken up with business houses and the heights back of that being the residence portion. The Lieutenant said that he found very few Americans in the city and was struck with the prevailing lack of friendliness for them. After a short stay in Hong Kong he took a Chinese riverboat and went up to Canton, which he found to be strictly Chinese. The streets were narrow, crooked and dirty. The Captain of the boat advised him to take a guide in his going about through the city. With a guide and a friend who was with him throughout his visit, he started out to see the town. "Canton," said the speaker, "is the greatest shopping place in the world." The shops are filled with goods of such astonishing cheapness that it is difficult for tourists to stop buying. He showed to his audience an ivory ball, which was hollow and pierced with several small openings, inside this were five other balls. The whole piece of work cost hardly a tenth of what an American would have demanded for it. While in Canton Lieutenant Steunenberg also visited a Chinese court and he described very vividly the brutality and tortures inflicted on the accused who refused to plead guilty, and the cool, businesslike, cruelty of the frequent executions.

The Physics department has received a lot of new apparatus for use in the laboratory.

PREPS WIN AGAIN

Down the Strong Normal Eleven After Hard Contest.—Fast Game on a Muddy Field.

Small the Best Ground Gainer for Preps while Guinn Brothers Play Star Game for the Normal.

The Preparatory football team closed their season last Saturday by again defeating the fast Lewiston Normal team. They added one more victory to the long list that Idaho has won this year. The goal line of an Idaho team, either Varsity, second team, or Prep., has not been crossed this year.

The visiting team was heavier than the Lewistonites but the Normal was coached down to a fine point and were stronger in team work and speed. The solitary score was made by Smith, who captured a fumble at the beginning of the second half and carried it over for a touchdown. Small kicked goal.

For the Normals the Guinn brothers put up a great defensive game. The smaller one played at quarter and ran his team like a veteran. Krengel, Stephens, Cleveland and Bashor did the best work for them at carrying the ball. Small was the particular star for the Preps, and frequently made sensational gains. Solibakke and Smith played well in the line and opened up great holes. Horton played his usual steady quarter and was a star on defense.

The boys are loud in their praise for the treatment which they received at Lewiston and think the Normal girls are "too sweet for any use." It is reported that Hercules met a Venus while there and it was with difficulty that they could bring him home.

Basket Ball.

The baskets have been put into shape and practice has begun for the coming season. Everything about the gymnasium is in shape for good developments. The arrival of the new apparatus has given every possible accommodation for those wishing to train.

A few players have been out for the preliminary practice. But if Idaho is going to have a representative team all in the University must get into the gymnasium and demonstrate their abilities. There should be two good teams, one of boys, the other of girls, to contest in behalf of the honor of Idaho.

The teams will be chosen by the coach in a few days. It therefore behooves all desirous of making the teams, to get out immediately.

Each of the classes will probably put out a strong team, and some lively inter-class contests are promised.

Entered in the postoffice, Moscow, Idaho, as second class mail matter.

Lack of space last issue prevented the publication of the Junior-Senior football game. Sophomore strawride, notice of Professor J. M. Aldrich's new book and many other short articles. We are trying to make amends this week.

Last week's Argonaut said that Idaho's goal line had been crossed only once this year. This needs correction. Idaho's goal line has not been crossed and the team has been scored on only once. This was a safety made by the Lewiston High School team.

The Mining Building is the scene of much activity. Fully one-fourth of the male students of the University are taking work there. Beyond question it is one of the most important places at the University. Yet it is one of the two places which is in a measure isolated from the outside world. Many occasions arise in which it is very necessary that there should be telephonic communications with the School of Mines. But that institution is not supplied with the much needed modern improvement.

The faithful work of the students who participate in the inter-collegiate contests should be awarded some token of remembrance. The members of the football team have worked hard all season and have had no trips. They surely deserve something. A small gold football charm would be quite an appropriate present. For other athletics other suitable tokens could be secured. Those taking part in debates and oratorical contests should be presented with the authorized emblem chosen by the Debate Council.

It gives the Argonaut great pleasure to announce to the students that a department of vocal music has been instituted. This is a department that we have certainly needed and hoped for. The head of this department will doubtless build up a strong musical organization which will add to the life and spirit of the institution. By the efforts of some of the faculty a Girls' Glee has been organized, the old Philharmonic club has been revived, and we seem to be entering upon a period of awakening along this line. Next we want a department of string and wind instruments. Then we can have a first class college band, a college orchestra, and the chain will be complete. We hope that this department is not long forthcoming. We wish to welcome Mr. Thor Van Pyk into our midst and lend what aid we can to build up his department.

At the beginning of the present academic year a new feature was inaugurated in connection with library regulations at the University. This innovation appeared to have the approval of the entire student body. At any rate it was a source of convenience to many, but for some reason unknown to many the feature has become obsolete. This feature was the opening of the library at 8 a. m. It frequently occurs, that students wish to consult some reference books, or wish to study before the first recitation period. But with the library closed the students are deprived of this privilege. They are compelled to stand around the corridors. Any one can testify to the inconvenience the corridor congregations cause.

We feel that the way to avoid the gatherings in the corridors, and to benefit the students and give the library greater efficiency is to open it at 8 o'clock.

VOCAL INSTRUCTOR.

Sub-Department Organized and Instructor Secured.

Professor Thor van Pyk, a noted vocal instructor of New York, has been secured by the department of music to give vocal lessons at the University. Professor Thor van Pyk at present is located at Spokane where he has a large class. The professor will be in Moscow two days out of each week and will spend the remainder of the week in Spokane. Professor Thor van Pyk will have charge of all vocal organizations of the college. He will take charge of his work immediately after the Thanksgiving holidays.

Deutsche Gesellschaft

Die "Deutsche Gesellschaft" war letzten Dienstag unter der Fuehrung des Herrn Professors Eldridge und Fraulein Forney neu organisiert. Die Einrichtung der Programmen fuer dieses Jahr ist ungleich jener ertstes Jahres. Die Programmen zu den Versammlungen fuer dieses Jahr aus Schriften um welche Pharen der Deutschen Literatur bestehen werden. Diese Schriften werden aufs Deutsche geschrieben und gelesen werden. Die Versammlungen werden jede vergehn Tage zusammen kommen, die erste regelmassige Versammlung, am Montag nachster Woche kommend, um sieben Uhr Abends. Herr Professor Eldridge wird dir erste Rede geben. Es ist auch dir Absicht der Gesellschaft am Ende des Schuhl-Jahres ein deutsches Schauspiel zu geben. Anstatt einer regelmassigen Organisation wie letztes Jahr, mit einer Verassung, Gewohnheits rechte, Offiziere, u. s. w. versehen, werden die Versammlungen dieses Jahr bei jene die Schrift ablesen, geleitet werden.

Where is Maud?

Arthur Rogers went to Lewiston Friday.

Birdie Ransom is in school again after a long siege of illness.

"Teddy" Roosevelt and Middleton are visiting the white pines.

Vesper services were held in the Auditorium on Sunday at 4 o'clock.

The new librarian, Miss Sweet, assumed the duties of office last Thursday.

Amanda Moerder was ill last Wednesday and did not attend her classes.

Georgiana Gilbert was out of school Thursday and Friday on account of a severe cold.

The "Wave" of the University of Washington will hereafter appear as a four page sheet.

Lyman, ex-'07 was married on the 11th of this month to Miss Grace Kelsey, of Lewiston.

A life and death football game between two featherweight teams is scheduled for Thanksgiving.

Mrs. Judson and Mrs. Young entertained some of their city friends at the home of the former Friday afternoon.

The Sophs had a class meeting on Thursday to make arrangements for having their pictures taken for the Annual.

"Stub" Leonard had two of the arteries in his hand cut last Thursday night by pushing his hand through a window pane.

The Beta Sigmas were at home Saturday afternoon at Miss Edna Moore's, to their girl friends, the faculty ladies, and their friends among the town ladies.

There was a rough house at the dorm Friday night. The Sophs waxed poetic and the Freshies found posters on their doors, Saturday morning.

The Websterians and Amphictyons teams are working hard on the inter-society question and the debate which will take place December 15 or thereabouts promises to be a hard fought contest.

The Kappa Phi Alpha's gave a farewell party in honor of Congressman B. L. French and W. E. Lee at their house Monday. Mr. French and Mr. Lee left for Washington D. C. to assume the duties of their offices when Congress opens.

The Glee club is progressing rapidly. Regular practices are being held and Miss Sonna is much pleased with the results she is obtaining. The personnel of the club is about completed. The students are eagerly awaiting its initial appearance.

The following committees have been appointed to carry on the work of the Philharmonic Club. Executive:—Misses Stockton, Burns, Larson, Mr. Thomas and Mr. DesVoigne; Program:—Misses Lauder, Knepper, McKy, Shaff, and Sweet; Reception:—Mr. Oakes, Mr. Wickstrom, Misses Fox and Broman.

Maud! Maud! Maud!! Maud!!

Every student in the University will then be able to get the necessary exercise.

Roland Smith changed his tie four times to take a flit to the Freshman party.

Clair Stevenson had an attack of la grippe last week and did not attend classes since Wednesday.

A large number of chairs have been purchased by the University for use in the Administration Building.

The mining department has recently received several large and valuable specimens and mineral exhibits which were at the Lewis & Clark Fair.

W. G. Turley, '05, has gone to Santa Fe, New Mexico, in the hope of finding steady employment. He regards that field as affording better opportunities than North Idaho.

Finally the apparatus for the gymnasium has arrived. Complete equipment for making the gymnasium a modern institution in all respects will be in place within the next two weeks.

The Senior and Junior classes in mining made an excursion to the Moscow Mountains, Saturday in quest of mineral specimens. While out they studied the formation of the district and inspected the workings of several mines among them, the White Cross, the Blacksmith and the Golden Gate.

Two young couples were standing outside the door late in the evening of Sunday November 12. They were cooing the love language of the doves. Suddenly these words greeted their ears: "Either all go away or the girls come in. I can't sleep." The voice was that of an elderly lady who was aroused from her slumbers by the cooings. The two young Romeos, G. and W., sadly wended their way home.

The chemical laboratory for the beginning classes in chemistry are completed and will be ready for use in a few days. Thus far this year the work has been carried on by lectures and demonstrations by the instructor. The laboratory will be a great improvement. The new improvements in the chemical department will give ample convenience for all classes and will keep the various classes separated.

Tuesday evening November 8, at 8 p. m., the English Club will render its first regular program at the University Auditorium. At this program Tennyson's "Maud" will be presented. The soloists are Miss Sonna and Professor Eldridge. Miss Forney will be piano accompanist. Dr. Moore will present the readings. Very neat programs have been prepared for the occasion. Everyone interested in English should become acquainted with Maud.

Electrical Association.

The Electrical Association held their regular meeting last Friday afternoon. Schultz, '07, gave a talk on the manufacture of electricals for underground circuits.

The time and day of meeting was changed at the business meeting to Wednesday, at 3:50, after the drafting period, in order to give the Freshman and Sophomore engineering students an opportunity to attend the meetings.

The next meeting will be held on Wednesday, Nov. 6. Matthews will give a paper on poly-phase motors. Goble and Keefe will give reviews on some of the latest electrical engineering magazines.

The Telegram, Portland, November 21, says that on paper at least, the University of Idaho is entitled to the intercollegiate championship of the Pacific northwest in the way of football. If the scores are to be considered there is no other course to follow. Oregon won the state championship by defeating both the Willamette and O. A. C. Washington was defeated by Idaho early in the season. Then Washington played Oregon and a tie score resulted. This must mean from the "dope" that Idaho has the best team.

SENIOR-JUNIOR GAME.

Hard Fought Contest Between the Two Classes with No Score on Either Side—Honors Divided Evenly—Some Star Playing on Both Sides.

Friday afternoon, one week ago, the Senior and Junior class met in the first inter-class football game of the season. The game was fiercely contested and extremely interesting from start to finish. While the teams were running through signal practice the Freshmen gathered round and started rooting for the Junior team. Before long Montandon, with purple and white pennant and megaphone, was leading the Sophomores and a band of Senior girls and boys in rooting for the '08s.

There were stars on both teams. For the Seniors Foxy Culver played a fine game, time after time wriggling through the Junior line for good gains. Leonard, on the '08 team, was also a swift, hard player. Ross played center for the Juniors in fine style, although he had in Wickstrom a heavy opponent who came up smiling and cool for each new scrimmage. There were unfortunate fumbles at times. However, one of the most spectacular gains made by the Juniors was made after the ball had been fumbled and regained.

Neither team had any claim to superiority in the first half, the ball being in the center of the field all of the time. In the second half the kick-off took the ball well into Senior territory and it stayed there for the rest of the game. This half was by far the most exciting of the two. With the possibility of a touch down and victory ahead, the Juniors fought their very hardest, but the Senior team, encouraged by faithful work from Montandon's bunch of rooters, managed to defeat their hopes. After fifteen minutes of pandemonium, time was called, and the score remained nothing to nothing.

The game was unique in that the challenge was submitted only 24 hours before, and all the arrangements were made in that short time. Debaters, basketball men, base ball players, everybody, in short, turned out and in those short 24 hours two teams were selected and coached up to a high degree of proficiency.

STRAW RIDE.

Sophomores After Desperate Struggle With Freshmen Make Trip to Cornwall.

The Sophomore class and several of their friends enjoyed a very exciting hay ride Friday evening, November 17th.

After a long wait for their teams, the Sophs. finally picked up their chaperons, Dr. and Mrs. Peters, and started with a large four horse hay rack loaded with forty-six people, for Cornwall. During the trip, the new Mrs. Whithead, nee Slats Carsen, alias The Knight of the Red Feather, furnished amusement for the crowd. The party arrived at Cornwall at 12 o'clock and after a very pleasant time spent there in dancing and eating, the Sophs. started home, making merry with college songs and yells, and arrived in Moscow early Saturday morning.

Notwithstanding a highly imaginative statement to the contrary, in the evening Journal, the Sophomores regard the hayride as the greatest success which they have made since their entrance into college. The trip was thoroughly enjoyed, and the forty-two Sophomores and the four Freshmen girls unite as to the good feeling and pleasure attending every feature of the ride.

Book By Prof. Aldrich.

Prof. J. M. Aldrich, who last year held the chair of entomology at Idaho and who is now on a leave of absence, has published a catalogue of North American Diptera which was reviewed in a recent number of "Science". We clip the following commendatory review of the catalogue from that publication:

"The long expected catalogue of North American Diptera by Professor Aldrich has at last appeared. It is the first work of its scope to be published since Baron Osten Sacken's catalogue which was issued by the Smithsonian in 1878. During the intervening quarter of a century the aspect of entomology in North America has greatly changed, rendering the new catalogue most welcome.

"The catalogue is rather unique among the present lists of American insects in several respects, all of them commendable.

"It is to be hoped that the catalogue will stimulate the in-

Freshman Dance

A very successful party came off on Friday night when the Freshmen gathered in the Club house for their first merry-making. It was a continued round of hilarity, with just enough of the unexpected to make the occasion interesting. An innovation in the decorating was introduced. Strange to say the Junior colors were used profusely. Now it is a well known fact that Juniors always go where these colors are seen. Consequently some wandering Juniors found their way into the midst of their friends and were royally treated. The ever present Sophomores peeping through the chinks, saw the kind reception given to the Juniors, and they entered, and straightway they, too, began to dance. And when the Freshmen saw their hospitality infringed upon, they showed the Sophs the hole by which they entered, and politely, but emphatically bade them to go. When the Sophs were gone the music again took up the air and the dance proceeded.

Meanwhile the members of the '09 class who do not dance enjoyed themselves at playing cards and tag in the rooms below.

The party was chaperoned by Lieut. and Mrs. Steunenber, honorary members of the club.
