LEWISTON COMING

High School Athletes to Meet Idaho in a Handicap Meet on the Track.

An Interesting Meet and Heavy Expenses Call for Large Support from Students.

The track men are to have a good tryout before entering the W. S. C. meet. Arrangements have been made to have the Lewiston High School on the local grounds next Saturday. This will be the first tryout for the team that meets W. S. C. and promises to be interesting.

The Lewiston boys will be given ample handicaps in all events but the 100 and 200 yard dashes. Fenn is probably the best scholastic sprinter in the Northwest. This youngster can do the 100 yards in 10.1-5 and recently ran 220 in 22.4-5 with no competition. It is the belief of the Lewiston cohorts that he can defeat any sprinter at the Varsity. These two events will be the features of the program.

The Lewiston boys are strong on the weights and jumps. Semper is throwing the discus well toward 100 feet and is doing well with the shot.

As the season progresses it becomes a more difficult task to pick the Idaho team. Four men are making a lively contest for positions in the sprints. Desvoigne, Wadsworth and Frazier are all improving in the pole vault and have equal chances of making the team. Coach Vander Veer smiles at the marked improvement in the weights and jumps.

While this meet will not equal an intercollegiate meet in interest, nevertheless it will be of as much importance as such a contest. Some of the men have the necessary ability and only need a bit of confidence. This meet will put them more at ease and prepare them for the big affray on May 18. The price of admission has been placed within the reach of every student. Only 35c will be charged and it will take at least $60 to defray the expenses of the visitors.

INSPECTION.

Company C Wins the Colors.

Major Dickman, of the thirteenth U. S. cavalry inspected the battalion of cadets, Thursday afternoon, April 26. The cadets wore their Kahki uniforms and leggins with campaign hats. After forming the battalion Captain J. D. Matthews, as acting Major in the absence of Lieutenant Steunenberg, put the cadets through the ceremony of review. A thorough battalion drill was performed next after which the arms were inspected. The competitive drill for the colors, which has formerly been held on Christmas Day, was held Thursday and Major Dickman decided the contest.

The movements were company drill in close and extended order, firings, and the manual of arms.

Each company showed up very creditably in the contest and as the nature of the major's position prevented him from making his decision public until after his departure there was much doubt as to which company was the winner.

It was announced Friday that Company C, commanded by Captain McPherson was entitled to the honor. During the past year the colors have been held by Company A.

Major Dickman left Friday morning. He was not allowed to express an opinion of the battalion but it is believed that it was more favorable than the report of last year as many of the faults mentioned in that report have been remedied.

Assembly.

Professor Janes talked to the students at last week's assembly. He chose for the subject of his discourse, "The making of an Engineer."

Professor Janes emphasized the growing importance of the well trained engineer. He said that there are two qualities that must be found in every successful engineer. First, he must be rigorously honest, second, he must be observing, and possessed of a curiosity to know the why of every operation that he sees. The best engineers are men who observe closely and then draw their conclusions from their observations.

The life of an engineer should be one of endless investigation and the preparation he receives in his college course, enables him to carry on these investigations with accuracy. Professor Janes said that the course at Idaho was in two divisions. In the first two years the student was given the fundamental principle of the work. A great portion of the latter two years was spent in teaching the student how to handle every day problems that are continually brought up. He is taught how to meet men. He is made to do the work of both the employer and the employee. Thus he learns the points of view of both. The educated and trained engineer is supposed to be a leader and it is paramount that he know how to deal with those in his employ.

Student Body Elections.

Tomorrow sees another contest inaugurated for places of honor in the gift of the Student Association. Nominations for President, Vice President, Secretary and Treasurer, of the A. S. U. I. will be made at assembly. The places are all positions of great honor and responsibility and they are consequently prizes well worth striving for. In addition to these offices, nine places in next year's Debate council are to be filled. The Council has come to be an important body; there has always been a large number of candidates in former elections, and a warm contest is naturally to be expected.

A BASEBALL DEFEAT

W. S. C. Team Takes Baseball Game at Ball Park on Wednesday of Last Week.

The Idaho Team Loses Through Costly Errors—Weak Spots Shown Up, and Will be Given Attention.

W. S. C. came, played and conquered. In the first intercollegiate game of the season Idaho lost to the ex-farmers from across the line. The game from the start was replete with errors, and these were usually costly ones. Hits and errors broke about even, but Idaho's errors were bunched and the hits scattered, while the visitors fared the other way.

Twice in the game there were chances for Idaho to overcome W. S. C.'s lead and win the game but the team failed to seize the opportunities. There was not an earned run during the game. Though the game, final score was 4 to 1 against Idaho, the game was close and belonged to anybody until the end of the ninth inning.

While the errors were at crucial points and very costly they may be overlooked since this was the first championship game. But the mistakes in Wednesday's game should make the team get in and brace up the weak spots. Certainly the illumination of Wednesday all the faults of the players were presented to them, and now they can strengthen themselves for the coming games.

Roosevelt pitched a magnificent game and with proper support the result should have been a shut out. He got six assists during the game.

First.—Idaho took the field. Brown fanned. Small retired Triplett. Nissen was hit. Weller struck out.

Johnson struck out, Jelick made first on Weller's error. Jelick stole second. Magee sacrificed sending Jelick to third. Middleton reached the first post on Triplett's error. Jelick scored. Wyman sent a long drive to Triplett who raised high enough to nail it.

Second.—Myer made first on Middleton's error, stole second, reached third on a passed ball. Thompson retired by a fly to Magee. Worley struck three and was put out at first. Halm made first and Myer scored on Jelick's error. Halm took second and third on a passed ball and a wild pitch. McCurdy struck out. Small went out Triplett, to Weller. Robertson and Numbers fanned.

Third.—Brown hit for two sacks and made third on Triplett's sacrifice but was caught off the sack later when Nissen reached first on Roosevelt's choice and was retired. Nissen took second and scored on Weller's two-bagger. Weller took third on a passed ball. Myer walked and Thompson sent a fly to Magee who held. Roosevelt retired, Triplett to Weller. Johnson reached first on Weller's error and stole second. Brown caught Jelick's foul and Magee went out by a fly to Halm.

Fourth.—Worley out, Roosevelt to Small. Halm went out by a fly to Jelick. McCully struck out. Middleton hit and stole second. Wyman and Small fanned. Robertson dropped a fly to Triplett.

Fifth.—Brown out, Roosevelt to Small. Triplett reached first on Middleton's error but went out on second, Jelick to Robertson. Nissen reached first on fielder's choice. Weller fanned. Numbers struck out. Roosevelt walked and took second on a balk. Johnson fanned and Jelick went out on a fly to Nissen.

Sixth.—Myer made first on Robertson's error. Thompson went out on a fly to Wyman. Myer made second on Worley's sacrifice and went to third on a passed ball. Halm made first on Middleton's error, and Myer scored. Halm went to second on a passed ball. McCully struck out. Magee was retired Weller to McCully. Middleton hit but was put out at second when Wyman reached first on fielder's choice. Wyman stole second and made third on a passed ball. Small struck out.

Seventh.—Brown made first on Small's error and stole second. Triplett went out Roosevelt to Small. Brown made third and reached home on Jelick's error. Nissen was retired by Small. Weller made first on Robertson's error. Myer made first on Jelick's error. Thompson went out, Roosevelt to Small. Robertson hit. He went to second and Numbers reached first on Worley's error. Roosevelt made first when Robertson went out at third. Numbers went to third but was caught off the bag. Johnson went out, McCully to Weller.

Eighth.—Worley hit but went out at second Middleton to Robertson Halm making first in the same play. McCully hit and JOURNEY TO TROY.

"As You Like It" Troupe Plays Before Good House.

The "As You Like It" troupe left on the noon train Friday for Troy, to present their play in that place. They were accompanied by Prof. Allen, Dr. Moore, Miss Fountain, Misses Dewey and Curtis, and Messrs Chaffins and Shepperd.

The performance was given in the I. O. O. F. hall. The hall was provided with a small stage fairly well suited to the purpose of the play. A very good crowd which gave the play close attention from start to close greeted the players. Nothing marred the performance and the audience went away well pleased.

Financially the trip was a success. After all expenses were paid a neat sum was left to be added to the library fund.

TALKS OF FRISCO

Lieut. Steunenberg Talks of Sights in the City Stricken by Fire and Earthquake

The Thousands Camping in Tents on the Hillside Are in Fair Comfort Except for Rains.

Lieutenant Steunenberg got back from San Francisco Friday. He hurried back to be here for inspection, but he arrived only in time to meet the inspector at Fullman. The Major told him, however, that the inspection was highly satisfactory.

The Lieutenant found Mrs. Steunenberg's relatives all safe, though badly scared. He said they fled to the heights and camped out all night and were thunderstruck when they found that the fire had stopped just one block before it reached their home. Although the house was safe he dared not enter it for fear of being shot.

He says that the story has all been told before, there is nothing new. But as he was an officer, he was allowed to pass through the lines and traveled around for two days, covering about forty miles. He says it seems funny now to call the "Ad" building a great loss; that in San Francisco there are miles and miles of ruins just like it, no matter what direction you look.

"The people are getting along alright except when it rains," he added. "Of course it is rather tiresome standing in line, to stand in the bread line an hour, the meat line an hour, and then in the milk line an hour. But they don't have anything else to do but to stand in line and eat."

"All of the people write their names on their tents so their relatives and friends can find them and all the camps are named. As I went along in Union Park a man was painting a sign in big black letters, "Camp Shook Well."

Morrow-Rowton Dinner.

Last Thursday Hazel Morrow and Jessie Rowton assisted by other members of the second year Domestic Science class gave the third of the series of dinners the class are giving to their friends. Each one seems to surpass the other in menu and decoration, in this the color scheme, red and white was prettily carried out. The dinner was ably managed and well served. Margaret McConnell and Ellen Anderson served. The following ladies were guests of the class: Mrs. Young, Miss Ryan, Mrs. French, Mrs. Creighton, Mrs. Curtis, Mrs. Steunenberg, Mrs. Fry, Dr. Moore, Miss Weinderlich, Miss Sweet, Miss Forney and Miss Fountain.

The next issue of the Wave will be edited by the Junior class.

The Argonaut reaches its readers this week a little late. We are glad that generally the paper has been ready to go out on the Tuesday morning mail, but it happens now and then that pressure of other work on members of the staff makes it impossible to bring about such a result. Verily, the life of a newspaper man is beset with difficulties.

The sentiment has been advocated from an influential quarter that the number of members of the debate council be reduced to seven or five. It is argued that a stronger body will thus be secured, and that quicker and more decisive action can be had on important questions. It is a fact—whether observable in other student boards or not—that the attendance at debate council meetings is generally poor. During the past year has not been more than six, at the best. But there may be other reasons against a smaller council. Discussion at tomorrow's assembly would be a good plan. The Argonaut presents the idea for what it is worth.

Y. M. C. A. Meeting.

The Sunday afternoon meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association was given over chiefly to reports from the Oregon-Idaho Association Convention at Portland to which Ray Peebler and Leon G. Nichols were delegates. In addition D. S. Whitehead gave a report condensed from a Y. M. C. A. magazine of the great Volunteer movement convention recently held at Nashville, Tennessee.

The tennis court has recovered somewhat from the effects of the crushing weight of the street roller. Members of the tennis club worked on it nearly all day Saturday. The 100 yd. track still shows where the roller was too heavy for it.

Mr. Neuman Tobias of Kingston, Jamaica has invented a lock whose combination involves twenty-four letters of the alphabet and four sets of letters. Assuming that the lock is set to a figure in the number of 3,030, 303,030,303,030, it would take any one who undertook the job of unlocking the safe 96,090,278 years, 269 days, 80 minutes and 30 seconds, working at the rate of 60 numbers a minute to arrive at the proper "combination." During this time he would have no time for eating, drinking or sleeping.

ARGONAUT IN LIME LIGHT

Amendments to Regulations of A. S. U. I. Constitution.

Two amendments relating to the student paper will come before the student body for final consideration at the assembly tomorrow. The first, which was proposed by Orlando P. Darwin, concerns the election of the Argonaut editors and managers. It is sought to combine the Argonaut elections with the student body elections which are held in May. The amendment reads as follows:

That Art. 4, Sec. 2 of the by-laws which now reads as follows: "The Editor-in-chief, Associate Editor, Business Manager and Assistant Business Manager shall be elected by the members of the Associated Student body on the third Friday of March of each school year. All other editors shall be appointed by the Editor-in-chief," to be amended to read thus: "The Editor-in-chief, Associate Editor, Business Manager, Assistant Business Manager shall be elected by the members of the Associated Student body on the third Friday of May of each school year and shall hold office during the ensuing school year. All other editors shall be appointed by the editor-in-chief."

The second proposed change was put into form by V. E. Price. It is quoted below. The amendment represents a feeling that faithful work, experience and demonstrated ability shall be required of those who get out the Argonaut.

Amendment to Article 4, A. S. U. I. constitution: (Section 2) The elective officers of the staff shall be, an Editor-in-chief, two Associate Editors, Business Manager, and Assistant Business Manager. A candidate for editor-in-chief must have served as Associate Editor. A candidate for Associate Editor must have served as staff editor for at least three months. (Section 3.—The words "The Associate Editor shall assume the duties of his office—he shall—to be changed to read "The Associate Editors shall assume the duties of their offices—They shall—" (Sections 2,3,4,5, to be changed to Sections 3,4,5,6.)

After a Gearhart Delegation.

The first announcement of this year's Gearhart conference of the college Y. M. C. A.'s of the Northwest has been received. The conference this year promises to be as much of a success as formerly. Mr. E. J. Colton of New York City, Pres. Penrose of Whitman, prominent clergymen and Y. M. C. A. men from the coast, will, under the leadership of W. A. Teer, Secretary of the Student Volunteer Movement, conduct the work of the conference. The following quoted from the printed announcement, explains partially the plan of the conference.

The plan of group Bible classes which was so successful in the conference last year will be continued. On this plan, the entire conference divides into small groups for Bible study under men experienced in conducting Bible classes.

A normal mission study class will be conducted on foreign missions and a similar class on home missions. Practical discussions will deal with the most important problems of a student association. Life work addresses will be given each evening on "Sunset Orest." Special conferences will be arranged for those looking forward to the Christian ministry, foreign missions and other callings.

The afternoons will be devoted to athletics and other forms of outdoor recreation. A series of athletic events between the delegations will be arranged by a committee of college men.

The time of the conference is June 16 to 24. This is unsatisfactory to many Idaho and W. S. O. students, since it extends so far into the summer vacation, and an effort is being made to change it. The Idaho Y. M. C. A. is now busy working up a delegation to represent Idaho. Last year eight men went from Moscow.
