

STAGS HAVE GOOD TIME!

Men of the University Enjoy Pleasant Evening at Gym.

TWO HUNDRED ARE PRESENT

Time Passed in Games, Songs, Yells, and Speechmaking by Students and Professors

It is doubtful if any stag social has been a greater success than the one held last Friday night at the Gym. Perhaps 200 men were present and all were taking part in the fun making. Games of all sorts that always make the stag socials merry occasions, were played during the first part of the evening. A pillow fight was among the innovations that found favor. After the games, the crowd gathered round the piano and sang the Idaho songs. The University Quartet also sang two songs.

This part of the program was followed by the speech making. K. Keyes, president of the Y. M. C. A., acted as chairman.

W. M. Myers, president of the Associated Student Association, was the first speaker. He said that there were two sides to college life—the one is represented by the course of studies, the other by the activities in which the student engages. We should not forget the college activities. All men should turn out to foot-ball practice. They could also attend the literary societies. It matters not which society you join, you should join one and work. Literary works of value to any student. I know of no college in all the United States that has better records in athletics and debates than the University of Idaho.

As Dr. MacLean arose to speak the band began to play. He said that he had seldom had the pleasure of having the band turned out to greet him. But in reality the band was only girls who had rushed the guards and were exercising their vocal cords to their fullest extent for the first time during the present school year. President MacLean spoke of first aid to the injured. "By injuries I refer to the injuries of the feelings and heart, not the physical injuries alone. The Young Men's Christian Association is capable and does render first aid to the injured."

Gus Larson, foot-ball captain, was the next speaker. He said that our registration has been increased, but our football squad has decreased. Last year we had a championship team. This was due to our efficient second team. There are seven new positions to fill in our foot-ball squad. We have some good new material, but there are some old players who have not turned out for practice. All men should turn out. It is upon the foot-ball field that one forms the closest friendship. It is here that one makes friends that will stay with him through all difficulties.

Robertson, captain of the basket-ball team, said that basket-ball is a new game at the University. Last year we had a fairly good team considering that it was our first year at the game. Four of last year's players will be back this year. All new men should turn out when the time comes.

In speaking of foot-ball Robertson said that he was sorry that there were not more men out to practice. Robertson was quarter on the second foot-ball team last year.

Mathews, captain of the track team, was the next speaker. He said that full training would begin next Monday. All new and old men should turn out. First make up your mind to make the team, then keep regular hours and properly diet yourself.

Goble spoke of the athletic field. He said that we could have an athletic field if we wanted it. We have the necessary ground. It would take about two years to put the field in good condition. We should dedicate one or two days to our track field. By doing some work this fall we could use the field for track and base-ball next spring. Our success in athletics depends upon this athletic field.

Rev. Fry, pastor of the M. E. Church, said that he was glad to see so many new students and that he was proud of the fact that he was to stay in Moscow another year and associate with University people.

"Pink" Griffith, football coach, spoke of his trip East during the past vacation. He studied the new rules very thoroughly. He said that foot-ball had passed through a period of reform. All foot-ball coaches are somewhat at sea. It took some twenty years to perfect the 1905 rules. This year we start out with a new set of rules. The game will be more open this year. It will consist principally of punting and open plays. Coaches are watching each other very closely lest the one may perfect some new plays and thus get the advantage of the other coaches.

Lieut. Stuenenberg spoke of the great work which the Y. M. C. A. is doing. He said that the Y. M. C. A. was a friend of the American soldier. In the Phillipines they put up tents and furnished stationary for the soldiers. Their work has not been confined to the army. They have buildings in nearly all the large cities and are doing good work under the flags of all nations.

Prof. Janes said that when he returned to the University and saw the amount of work that had been finished during the summer and the great number of new students, he knew that we would have a very successful year. Our college spirit is stronger than ever before. In conclusion he said the Y. M. C. A. is the place where all can come together and have a good time.

After the speech making two big boxes of apples were brought in and a barrel full of orange cider was placed on tap in reach of any body who felt dry. About fifty smothered the cider barrel and those who could not do that laid siege to the apple boxes. The Idaho yells, given with old time zest, closed the social.

Floyd Angel, '05, is employed in the reclamation service at Rupert, Idaho.

PERSPECTS NOT ROSY

Capital Chosen by New Men on Football Team

Football is the all absorbing topic for discussion among the athletes of the University at present. Since the first day of school work a small squad has been out daily. The practice thus far has consisted of light work such as punting, tackling the dummy, and a small amount of track work. Twenty men were in suits Saturday and the coach expects to have twenty more on the field before another week has passed.

To the casual observer, it must be confessed, that prospects for a championship team are not so encouraging as in former years. The magnificent team of 1905 is shattered to pieces. With only two of last year's first eleven on the line and only two in the back field, Coach Griffith has to build up an entirely new line and develop a quarter back to take the place of John Middleton, a task which will call forth his every energy.

On account of the superhuman task that has been placed upon the shoulders of the coach, the management has secured the services of John Middleton to assist in the fall coaching. Middleton will spend most of his time with the backs while Griffith will look to the line men. Especial attention will be paid to the candidates for quarter and center, since these are regarded as the most difficult positions on the team to fill.

Among the candidates for center Nesbitt and Ross appear to be in the lead. Both are heavy men well supplied with grit and energy. The former has had more football experience and will make a strong fight for the position. Merrill, a 230 pounder from South Idaho, appeared on the field last week and received a warm welcome from the enthusiasts. He has never played football but is willing and the coaches predict that in him they have made a valuable acquisition.

For the positions of guard there will be a battle royal. Pauls, H. Smith and Stokesberry of last year's second team are out for the positions but from the looks of some of the men who are turning out for practice and from the nature of their work, it is evident that new faces may be seen in this year's lineup.

Captain Larson will play one tackle. The veteran "Swede" was Idaho's greatest ground gainer in the big games last year. This year he is faster and mightier than ever and has vowed to close his career by leading another Idaho team to victory. Adamson, who played sub tackle in 1904, is the most likely candidate for the other tackle. Adamson is big and fast and has demonstrated his ability to adapt himself to any style of play. Adamson is expected to return to college this week.

Oakes is out again for his position at end. Thomas, the other end, has not returned to college and a pretty race between the new men is anticipated.

Babb, who played quarter on the Albany college team in 1904, has entered college and will try for

BOARD OF REGENTS MEET

New Administration Building is Located. Excavation Will Begin at Once

It Will Be One of the Finest Buildings Yet Erected by Any University in the Northwest

The Board of Regents met last week. Those attending the meeting were Mrs. S. H. Hays of Boise, George C. Parkinson of Preston, James F. McCarthy of Wallace, and Edward S. Sweet of Grangeville. One of the most important matters to come before the board, according to the students' point of view, was the location of the new administration building.

In locating the new building the central tower was located almost where the earlier tower rested though slightly to the east and north. The two main exposures of the new building will be due east and due north.

The new location will be nearer the semi-circular plan than the old one. One of the reasons for locating the new building square with the compass was that most of the buildings in Moscow are faced in a similar position.

FINEST IN NORTHWEST.

The plans chosen by the board of regents for the new administration building call for a structure which, when completed, will be one of the finest university buildings in the north-west. It is estimated to cost $225,000 and will stand on the site of the building recently destroyed by fire.

The building will cover a ground space of about 270x130 feet and will be three stories high. The exterior will be of granite brick and buff colored cut stone trimmings. The style of architecture will be Tudor Gothic, which is the style that has been adopted by the foremost universities of the county.

It will be absolutely fire proof. Special attention will be paid to proper heating, lighting, and ventilation. A heating plant will be built in the rear of the building, which will be used in heating all the university buildings, and also to generate power for the School of Mines and College of Agriculture.

Athletics

Coach Mortimer of the football team of Blair Business College will be assisted during the remainder of the season by Mr. Hawkins, a player from Kankakee College.

"Jack" Wright has joined the Spokane Amateur Athletic Club. He played guard on the University of Wisconsin team several years ago. He has had much experience and weighs 193 pounds.

J. Austin Baird has been chosen coach of the Whitman foot ball team.

The physical department of Whitman College has been placed upon the same basis as the other departments. Gymnasium work has been made compulsory for the students in all classes except the two upper ones.

The heating will be accomplished by coils of pipe under the heating, through which fresh air will be forced by fans to all rooms, eliminating the use of radiators.

The unilateral system of lighting will be used. Light will only enter the rooms from the left of the students. Adjustable shades will be attached to the lower portion of the windows, while the upper portion will be glazed with crystal prism glass.

The entrance tower will be thirty-five feet square and one hundred and thirty-five feet high, finished with battlements.

Besides the auditorium, which will have a seating capacity of 800 on the ground floor and 300 in the balcony, there will be a large lecture room with a seating capacity of 160 which will be used by all of the departments.

The library room will be 62x67 feet in size.

WORK WILL BEGIN AT ONCE.

Advertisements have been issued for bids on the concrete work and stone foundation and this work is expected to begin at once and continue through the early winter. It is thought that the new building can be finished by next September.

REGISTRATION FEE RAISED.

On petition of the executive committee of the Associated Students the Students' Societies Fee was raised from one to two dollars per semester whenever the purpose of the committee shall have been approved by a two-thirds vote at a regular meeting of the Associated Students called for that purpose.

The reason for the executive committee petitioning the regents for this raise in the registration fee was that certain departments of the Associated Student Association are in debt and that by this slight raise all debts and obligations might be met.

APPOINTMENTS RATIFIED.

Appointments to the faculty made since the June meeting were ratified by the board of regents. It is also announced that a physical director may be appointed. His term begins about January first and continues until June.

MORE SPIRIT!

What Idaho needs at this time is a little more football spirit. Some of our old players have been to practice and are working like "Trojans," but we are sorry to say that others have not as yet turned out. If we are to maintain the reputation that Idaho has made in the past all old men must turn out and bring as many new men as possible.

We have a heavy schedule and if Idaho is going to win all these games, or any number of them, it is necessary that we have a larger football squad to select our team from.

There are several vacant positions and so far not more than sixteen men have been out on any one night.

Last year we began practice several days earlier than we did this year and by this time we had three strong teams.

Captain Larson has truly said that the efficiency of last year's team was due to the excellent work of the second team. All this goes to show that we must have more men out for practice and a little more of last year's football spirit.

W. M. Myers spoke truly at the stag social when he emphasized the great importance of every student joining one of the literary societies. It is vital to the maintenance of Idaho's old position in debate. Last year's graduating class took with it three experienced debaters. While Idaho still has among the lower classmen a number of members of inter-collegiate teams, her schedule is, as usual, heavy, and demands that there shall be some new material. In this connection one can not resist voicing the time-honored hope that some sweet day may see a literary society for girls in the University. But for the present, the hope is vain. No move of any such sort has prospered recently and Idaho girls will probably go on letting the boys do the arguing.

Miss Bertha Hill will leave Moscow Friday for Anderson where she will teach a term of school. Miss Hill was a graduate of the Preparatory department last year.

Of the western schools the University of California, on the completion of her magnificent Hearst mining building, will have a more elaborate though no more efficient equipment. The only other western school having a similar equipment is the Colorado school of mines, whose building furnished the idea for the general plan of the Idaho building. While the two buildings are similar in ground plan, Idaho has a much handsomer and better arranged building. Care was taken to have the building well lighted and fire proof, and to proportion the working space so as to handle a large number of students without confusion.

The building is of brick, one story, 110x80 feet, on the ground plan. The plan has the shape of a letter "I." The central or main portion, 60x70, is the furnace room. In the east end is a store room, including a small dark room, a lavatory, and a wet assay room. In the west end is the office and weighing and parting room. The furnace room and lavatory are floored with concrete and the balance with Oregon fir. The furnace room will ultimately accommodate 26 double muffle furnaces, which are arranged in two rows, with a work table between and coal bins behind along the walls. About half of the full equipment is being put in at the present time. More will be added later as it is needed.

The assay laboratory is fully equipped for assaying and the small scale metallurgical experiments. Several fine assay and analytical balances, bullion rolls and other assay and chemical apparatus will make a very complete equipment. There is no need for mining students to go to California or Colorado, when an institution like the assay building at the University of Idaho is at their doors. Professor Byron E. Janes, late of the University of California, is at the head of the mining department.

The work of the mining department classes will be done in the new assay building for some time, or until the other structures in course of erection are completed.—Spokesman-Review.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

Debate Council Meets and Transacts Important Business.

The following officers of the Debate Council were elected at the first meeting of that body last Thursday. President, Norman B. Adkison, '07; vice-president, Jewett D. Mathews, '08; secretary-treasurer, O. P. Darwin '09; representative to executive committee of the A. S. U. I., Guy Holman '08. Professors Edward M. Hulme and O. N. Little were chosen faculty members of the council.

A one year contract with the University of Montana was read and signed. It provides for a debate between the two institutions to be held at Moscow on the second Saturday (or the Friday preceding) in December. The contract was made out by the Montana debate committee. Two of its interesting features are the prohibition of the speaker from reading any paper or book in any of the institutions, and that there shall be no coaching from any one except the debaters while the contest is in progress. The speeches are to be fifteen minutes in length and there will be two rebuttals of six minutes each.

The council voted to request the library to purchase complete sets of the Forum and of the North American Review as soon as possible, because of the fact that in the preparation of debates these two magazines are all important.

MANY HEAR HUTCHINSON.

Well Known Speaker on Bible Study is Accorded a Good Audience at Yesterday's Rally.

Reno Hutchinson of the Spokane Y. M. C. A., spoke yesterday afternoon to a large number of the men of the University at the Bible Study Rally. His remarks were listened to with the best of attention. He presented the claims of Bible Study on college men in a variety of ways. The Bible as literature, as an agency that 'makes great thoughts habitual,' and as a powerful force in the building of character, demands the study of college men. Furthermore, Mr. Hutchinson called attention to the fact the courses offered in the Y. M. C. A. classes are the most adapted to the college man's desires. They are regular and systematic. They start the student at the beginning, cover the ground, and finally get him somewhere. A man who has faithfully studied Bosworth's 'Life of Christ' knows that life when he finishes the course, as he has never known it before.

At the close of the address Goble outlined the courses that will be offered. Classes will be organized wherever a group of men can be brought together. A large proportion of those present signed up for Bible study, and personal canvass during this week is expected to double the number already enrolled.

SEEK BETTER NEWS SERVICE.

Plan to be Tried Which May Give the Argonaut Fresh Exchanges.

A system of correspondents at each University of the Northwest and of regular news letters between them—this is the way in which it is hoped to provide the readers of the Argonaut with news from other colleges in more interesting form than ever before. Doings at Pullman, Whitman, the University of Washington, and the other Northwest institutions have always come before Idaho readers by the slow exchange method. It was necessary to wait 'till the other college papers reached Moscow, then to clip what was of interest, and print it in the next issue of the Argonaut. Thus the news of sister institutions was very stale when it reached the subscribers of the local weekly.

It is hoped by the new method to get the exchange news three or four days quicker than before. The correspondents can mail their letters just in time to reach the local office soon enough for its publication. As soon as possible the Argonaut will seek to establish this system with at least three or four of the other colleges of the Northwest, and if it succeeds, a better news service will be assured.

Military Notes.

Thursday the cadets turned out for the beginning of nine months drill and military routine. Many of the old faces were missing on account of the large size of the present junior class, but there were more than enough new men to fill their places.

There will be three full companies this year. More than one hundred men were out Thursday, eighty of whom were new recruits.

The "awkward squad" will not be as large as at first expected, for many of the new recruits have had military instruction in the High Schools of the state and the colleges of other states. Everything points forward to a very successful year for the cadet battalion.

 C. O. Trumbull, '08, visited the University Thursday. He expects to take a special course in Forestry at the University of Michigan, this year.
 L. G. Peterson, '05, left today for his school at Wallula, Washington. He is driving across the country in a buggy. He intends to make his home in Washington, where he is teaching.

J. J. Schick, of Caldwell, who has been in the newspaper business there, has moved to Moscow to send his three daughters to the University.
 The Y. W. C. A. gave its annual reception for all University girls, at home of Mrs. Morley, Saturday afternoon. Several of the faculty ladies were present.
 Miss Bennet and Miss Morrison have left college for their respective homes in Mountain Home and Blackfoot. Homesickness was the cause of their early departure.
 W. K. Roosevelt, '07, came into Moscow Saturday. He will probably start to school within a week. The rooters learn with regret that he is not going to play football.
 A number of boxes arrived at the Gym last week filled with the books secured for the University library by the enterprise of the Boise University Club. The fund raised by the Club is also at the disposal of the library committee.
 Architect J. E. Tourtellotte, of Boise, was in Moscow a few days last week. He met a committee to settle on plans for the new university building and to receive bids for the foundation.
 The residence formerly occupied by President MacLean has been moved to West Sixth street and placed on the property of Mr. Bolles. The Theta Mu Epsilon fraternity will occupy the house this winter.
 Fall training for track work begins today, when Matthews and Edmondson and whoever else desires will commence the work which it is hoped will turn out a team of winners for next spring. Hardly any men were lost by graduation and some new material of promise will undoubtedly appear.
 Albert C. Saxton, '03, was last year a student in the Divinity School of the University of Chicago. He graduated from the University here with honor. During his college course he was prominent in student activities, especially debate. After graduation he was pastor of the Baptist church of Colville, Washington.
 Y. W. C. A., Sunday, Sept. 30, 1906, at 4:00 p. m.—All girls are cordially invited to attend this meeting and hear the report of our delegates who attended the Y. W. C. A. Northwest Conference at Gearhart Park. Last year the meeting, at which a similar report was given, was one of the most interesting of the year. It is hoped that this one will be just as interesting. The delegates are Margaret Lauder, Orah Howard, Ruth Fogle and Phoebe Smith. Remember the place, Ridenbaugh Hall, and the time, 4:00 p. m. on Sunday.
 Louis Fogle, '06, and Reginald Leonard, '06, have just been honored by having their joint graduation thesis published in the leading mining magazine of the west. The subject of their thesis was the stamp mill. The Mining and Scientific Press, of Sept. 15th, which is published at San Francisco, contained the thesis written by Fogle and Leonard. Idaho mining men have long had confidence in the work done by the Mining Department of the University and now the publication of a graduation thesis by a noted mining magazine shows that people outside the state are beginning to realize that the University of Idaho is turning out some expert mining engineers. Messrs. Fogle and Leonard are to be congratulated upon the splendid work which they have done both in and out of college.

The Employment Bureau conducted under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., and in charge of Jay Jellick, is confronting the singular situation of frequent opportunities for work for students and no one applying for the jobs.
 This bureau was organized last year and even then succeeded in rendering considerable assistance to students in need of employment. This year the opportunities for work are even more frequent, and Mr. Jellick has thus far been unable to keep up with the demand. Merchants are looking for help, private families often need some one to mow lawns, split wood, and work at other such jobs, while, very often, at the University farm there is a call for several hands at once. Those to whom such odd jobs will be an aid in paying expenses through school will confer a favor by leaving their names with Jay Jellick, secretary of the Bureau,
 Alumni and Old Students.
 Burton L. French, the present incumbent and Republican nominee for Congress, is a graduate of the University of Idaho.
 M. Reese Hattabaugh, the Democratic nominee for Congress was a class mate of Mr. French's. Mr. Hattabaugh left the University in his senior year to take a course in the Columbia Law School, from which he graduated two years later.
 Mr. Clem Hanna, ex '09 of the Varsity has been elected by the directors of the Grangeville Y. M. C. A. as secretary and physical director for the following year. His many friends wish him success in this great work.
 Arthur M. Swartley, ex '07 will not return to school until Jan. 1.
 Miss Cora Spedden, ex '08 is teaching in the Grangeville Public Schools.

Y. W. C. A.
Every girl when entering college has the desire to become an "all-around girl." The "all-around girls" are the ones who are sought after in this world, and where can one find a better place for development than in college. We get mental development from our studies, physical from our athletic and social, in part, from college social life. The Young Women's Christian Association recognizes another need as important as these, so it has stepped in to meet the spiritual requisites of an "all-around girl."

The outlook for this year's work is very bright. The devotional meetings are held each Sunday at 4.00 p. m. Plans are being made to introduce a new and interesting feature in these meetings this winter but they cannot be announced just yet.

Last year about thirty girls were enrolled in Bible Study. We hope to increase the number greatly this year. Watch for the Bible Study announcement.

The social element of the work is to be more prominent this winter. Of this we shall hear more later.

It is the aim and prayer of the Association to make the work so interesting and helpful that every girl will find in it something that she cannot get along without. So we extend to each girl a cordial invitation to help us in carrying out our plans.

Dormitory

All the rooms at the dormitory have been assigned. Mrs. Young has received more applications for rooms than she could accommodate at the dormitory.

The Bartley cottage in the rear of the dormitory is being fitted up for a domicile for all the young women who were unable to get rooms at the dormitory. Miss Sweet, the librarian, will room at the cottage and look after the young women.

Miss Perkins Receives Position

Miss Zella Perkins, '03, has been appointed instructor in chemistry in Stout's Training School at Menominee, Wis. Miss Perkins will teach the girls in the domestic science department and will also teach industrial chemistry for men and boys. Miss Perkins has been taking post-graduate work at the University of Chicago.

Grant Gets Good Position

Dr. F. B. Gault, of Tacoma, has been elected president of the South Dakota University. Dr. Gault was the first president of the University of Idaho. Since leaving Moscow he has been at the head of Whitworth College, a denominational school at Tacoma.

TOM JONES HONORED

Former Graduate of University, Successful in Politics

Scores of Idaho students who were in college when the class of '05 was yet an undergraduate organization will be glad to hear that at the recent Republican convention of Shoshone county, one of the nominations to the state legislature went to Thomas R. Jones, '05.

Tom Jones, as he was known, was universally popular at Idaho. He was more than once a member of a victorious Idaho debate team. During his senior year he was editor of the Argonaut, and he held many other offices of responsibility in the student body.

Rhodes Coming

Ivan B. Rhodes, state secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in Oregon and Idaho, is to be at Idaho next Sunday and will address the Association meeting on Sunday afternoon. All the men of the University are invited to hear Mr. Rhodes, who is a man of extraordinary power as a public speaker. The Sunday afternoon meetings of the association are held at 2:45.

quarter. Babb weighs 170, is of splendid physique, and has had considerable football experience. The coaches look upon Babb as first class material for a quarter and if he comes up to expectations Small will play in his old position at full-back. With Babb, Small, Armstrong and one other fast back in the lineup Idaho will have the fastest back field she has had for years.

There are other men now upon the field who promise to surprise the critics and it can be safely said that never before was the position of a first team man so insecure.

Football enthusiasm is at its highest this year. Although the Idaho cohorts do not expect a championship team, they do expect a team that will win the majority of the games. The students have faith in the coaches; they are standing behind the team to a member, and it may not be surprising to see the University of Idaho again down their rivals of neighboring colleges.

WEBSTERIAN SOCIETY

Meeting Held Last Night at Washington, D. C.

The question of putting down the Cuban insurrection by U. S. troops and war ships was discussed before an interested group of both old and new members at the Websterian Society meeting last Saturday night. Holman and Hopper had the wrong side of the argument, in advocating U. S. interference, or lost by some lack of logic which was pointed out by their opponents.

The society admitted four new members. Officers were elected for the ensuing semester. The following men will conduct the society work for that time: President, Guy Holman; vice-president, Gustav Kroeger; secretary, Myers; treasurer, F. E. Lukens; chairman program committee, M. F. Morrow; sergeant-at-arms, Bennett L. Williams.

A committee appointed to confer with the proper authorities of the Amphictyons and to arrange with them, if possible, for the holding of the Heyburn debate which was postponed from last spring.

Annual Staff Will Meet.

The editor of the "Gem of the Mountains," 1908, will call a meeting of the staff early this week and desires that the staff editors watch the bulletin board for a further announcement of the exact date. Some work has been doing this summer, but the greatest task of the staff is yet before it. Immediate plans must be laid, inasmuch as the editors want that all the copy shall be in, so far as possible, before the end of the first semester.

D. S. Whitehead, business manager, is waiting for more definite specifications as to the size of the book, etc., before making a contract for the cuts and the printing. He will make a trip to Spokane and hold personal interviews with the printers and engravers there before letting the contracts.

Guy Sigman, a graduate of last year's preparatory department, has gone to Fremont, Nebraska, and will not enter the University this year.

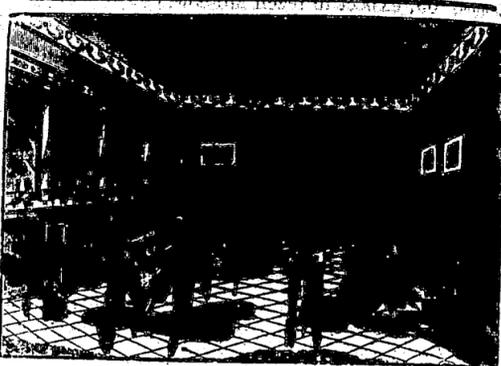

Bayard Morrow, '06, who has been employed at the Standard Mine, at Wallace, is visiting in Moscow. He will take the position of assayer when he returns to his work.
