W. S. C. BREAKS THE SPELL

State College Wins From Idaho First Time in Four Years

A Wet Field, Greater Weight and Rich Patches of Luck Are Factors in Winning the Game By a 10 to 0 Score.

Before a crowd of two thousand rooters, last Friday, after a hard-fought struggle in which every nerve was strung to its highest pitch, the football team of the University of Idaho lost to W. S. C. For the first time in four years Pullman rooters saw their team score against Idaho. They had witnessed three games in succession in which Idaho had won; in 1903, 32-0; in 1904, 5-0; in 1905, 5-0. Therefore when their team, through their heavy weight, were enabled to score in the mud, the very town went mad. They had a right to celebrate for it isn't every day that one can give the Silver and Gold the count.

The opinion is prevalent among students and Idaho supporters that on a dry field Idaho would have had a walk-over. Even on Friday if the Idaho team had made that touchdown it was so near to, W. S. C. would have never recovered and the final score would have been, Idaho 5, W. S. C. 4.

Nothing can be said against Idaho's playing. Clean manly sport characterized the Idaho player. Individual glory was not for one instant thought of or expected. Team work and strong heady playing for the honor of Idaho—the Silver and Gold—tells the tale of the twelve pounds to the man, on a strange muddy field. The question was, "how did you die?" The spirit of the team was shown by a remark made by the captain before the game. Gus said: "If they beat us bury me at Pullman."

The game was practically free from dirty playing, although one man tried hard to put Curtis out once, by kneeling him. Off side plays were quite frequent by both teams.

made on account of the inability of Idaho's light team to pierce the line of interference of the heavy team of W. S. C. and on the slippery field the heavy team had a decided advantage. The fact that the ball was so close to W. S. C.'s line so many times, and at the end of the half was on W. S. C.'s 30 yard line, shows that on a dry field Idaho would undoubtedly have won.

Keyes had the best of the punting by several yards.

Idaho was penalized 25 yards, while W. S. C. was penalized 40 yards. Idaho made first downs six times with W. S. C. three times to their credit.

Trials for field goals, Halm two, Keyes one. Field goals, Halm one. Touchdowns, Nissen one.

The game was called at three o'clock sharp. Idaho won the toss and chose the west side and received the kick. Almost the entire half was played in Idaho's territory. W. S. C. made three downs and Idaho one. Idaho lost the ball twice through fumbles. W. S. C. was penalized three times for off-side plays and Idaho once. Halm tried for two field goals, being successful in one from the 30 yard line. Stokesbery in his initial game deserves special mention. The first half ended with the ball on W. S. C.'s 40 yard line. Score; 4-0.

Second Half

In the second half the ball was in W. S. C.'s territory all the time except the last few minutes of play. Idaho was strong and heady. Keyes missed a field goal. By hard line-plunging and punting the ball was twice on the 1 yard line of W. S. C. and once only one foot separated Idaho from a touchdown. At these critical moments W. S. C. would brace up and hold Idaho for downs. The second half was essentially Idaho's, and W. S. C. rooters held their breath for fear she would score. The sensational play of the day was made when, with only a few minutes to play, Nissen got the ball on a punt and ran with a heavy, fast line of interference 70 yards for a touch-down. W. S. C. went wild. Halm kicked a goal. Score 10-0. In this half Idaho made first down five times. W. S. C. failed to make a first down. The long run was Surprise Popular Senior.

On Wednesday evening, at the home of Miss Ruth Fogle '07, a little surprise party in honor of Miss Fogle's birthday, was held. Those present were Misses Gibson, Shaff, Howard and Fogle, N. B. Adkison, Rodney Small, F. E. Lukens and C. C. Oakes. Nobody would tell for publication how many birthdays the hostess had celebrated before, but those present report an evening very much enjoyed.

Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. meeting Sunday afternoon was led by Ray E. Peebler, '07. It was on the subject, "Thoughtfulness in Fighting One's Battles." The usual large number of students was present at the meeting.

Excavation for the foundation of the new administration building is proceeding as rapidly as possible, when the weather will permit work at all.

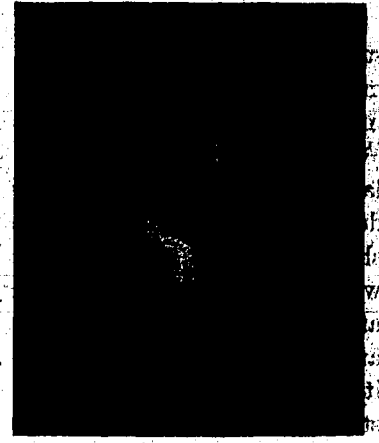

THE RIDENBAUGH PRIZE

A Brief History of This Prize and Its Four Recipients.

On Saturday, October 27, the fourth Ridenbaugh Annual Debate Prize of twenty-five dollars was won by Guy Holman, '08. The prize was established in the autumn of 1903 by Mrs. Mary E. Ridenbaugh, who was then a member of the Board of Regents of the University. For the first two years the prize was awarded to the leader of the team that represented Idaho in the annual debate with Washington State College; but since the debate relations were severed with the State College the prize has been given to the leader of the team in the annual debate with the University of Montana.

The first Ridenbaugh Prize was won by R. W. Overman, '04. Overman is one of the best debaters ever developed at Idaho. He has fine analytical powers, an unusual capacity for work, and his delivery is excellent. He was a member of the team that overwhelmed W. S. C. in January, 1903, in the first debate between the two institutions. "The Evergreen" spoke of his work in refutation in this contest as being "unusually brilliant." In March of the same year Overman led the Idaho forces in the third annual debate with the University of Washington. In this debate the decision went to U. of W. but so favorably impressed was Judge Garretson, of Tacoma, with Overman's work that he wrote a letter to Professor Hulme in which he said: "Mr. Overman was by all odds the star of the debate." In December of the same year he led the Idaho team in the second debate with W. S. C., which was the Pacific-northwest as able as Overman. The debate coaches of the University of Washington and Washington State College have both testified to his ability.

VICTOR E. PRICE.

The second Ridenbaugh Prize was won by Mr. Victor E. Price, '06. Price was a member of the Whitman College team that was defeated by Idaho in the sixth annual debate between the two institutions in April, 1903. Being impressed by the evident superior advantages of Idaho, Price left Whitman and came to the University. His debate record at Idaho is two defeats and four victories. Price is a really remarkable debater. He is an indefatigable worker. His mind is highly analytical. He is quick and incisive in refutation, and his delivery is full of force and fire. He helped to defeat Washington's famous team, that had defeated Stanford, in 1904, and thus to win for Idaho the debate championship of the entire Pacific coast. He led the Idaho forces in the last debate with Washington State College, when Idaho won a unanimous victory. He was Idaho's leader in the last debate with Whitman when the Missionaries, led by the best debater they ever had, Mr. Gaius Greenslade, were swept from the platform. His last victory was over the University of Oregon in 1906. In its comment upon the Triangular League debates, The Seattle Post-Intelligencer said that Price was the greatest debater in the Pacific Northwest.

R. W. OVERMAN.

won by the latter institution. In this debate Overman did good work, but he did not attain the standard of which he is capable. The last debate in which Overman took part was the seventh annual debate between Whitman College and Idaho, in April, 1904. The question was that of woman suffrage. Idaho advocated the granting of the suffrage on equal terms to men and women. She clearly out-classed Whitman at every point of the contest in both argument and delivery. There were only two judges at the debate. Both voted promptly for Whitman. Overman was at his best. He was greatly superior to Hugh E. Brown, Whitman's much lauded debater in every way. His record of one victory and three defeats is, on the surface, misleading. There have been few intercollegiate debaters in team in black jerseys. Every man went in the game with the determination to stay until he was carried off. What has been said of Idaho was true Friday—"Idaho is not beaten until the whistle blows." Defeat under such conditions was no disgrace but an honor against a team that out-weighted them at least Three weeks ago the Argonaut staff was changed. Three new members were appointed. This made a total of eighteen members. When the Editor appointed this large staff he desired that every department of the University should be represented. The staff was selected regardless of society affiliations. The Editor was ignorant of the fact that the staff is limited by the Associated Student Constitution. Article 4, sec. 1, which limits the membership of the staff is as follows: This department (Department of the Argonaut) shall be under the control of the staff of the Argonaut which shall consist of ten members of the Association and one member of the faculty. In accordance with this section of the constitution the staff had to be reduced from eighteen to eleven members before it could be considered legal.

The Editor reduced the staff for two reasons. First, because the staff appointed by him was illegal in that it exceeded the number prescribed by the constitution. Secondly, because he believed that such reduction would secure a more harmonious staff. The members who were compelled to resign were not in harmony with the policy of the paper and its Editor, and therefore they could not efficiently perform their duties as members of the staff. Article 4, sec. 4, which gives the Editor power to remove members of the staff is as follows: The Editor-in-Chief shall assume the duties of his office at the beginning of the school year and shall have general supervision of the subject matter of the paper, shall have power to remove from office any appointee not performing his or her duty.

Again the Editor of the Argonaut desires to state that he shall give his undivided time to the paper. He will continue the broad and conservative policy that has characterized the paper in the past. The paper must represent the best interests of the entire school and it shall be his duty to see that it does.

The students of W. S. C. and Idaho are to be congratulated upon the successful effort which they put forth last Friday to put down all rowdyism. There was practically no color snatching and no rowdyism at all. For several days before the game, leading students of both institutions asked their fellow students to prevent all actions that would lead to unfriendly relations between the two schools. The consensus of opinion is that the best of feelings existed between the two student bodies during the game. As the train which brought Idaho home rolled out of Pullman, the W. S. C. students gave three cheers for Idaho, to which the Idaho students gave responding farewell cheers. The Argonaut extends its thanks to those who have been instrumental in bringing about this good feeling, and hopes that such friendly relations may continue to exist in the future between these two great rival schools.

MISSIONARY TEAM

Whitman Will Meet Idaho With a Great Football Eleven.

EIGHT OLD STARS IN LINE-UP

Coach J. A. Baird, a Former Northwestern Man, Has Evolved a Powerful Machine for Whitman

The following article relative to the Whitman football team was written for the Argonaut by the Athletic Editor of the Whitman College Pioneer:

Notwithstanding that Washington held Whitman down to a no score game at Seattle, still the student body regards this year's eleven as one of the strongest that Whitman has ever put in the field. Eight men of the 1905 team are in the line-up again, the new men being Camp and Matthews at the guard positions, and Borleske at half. But in the loss of Jim Hill, Whitman misses one of the greatest half-backs she has ever had, and his absence is greatly felt.

The team is working this year under the direction of J. A. Baird of Northwestern. In about two days he had made himself solid with everyone, and the whole student body is behind him and the team to the last. At the opening of the season in a talk to the candidates he said: "First, Whitman will have a team of gentlemen, and then may be they can play a little football too." And it is with that spirit that work has gone on all fall.

Whitman hopes for a victory on the 17th. But everyone maintains a feeling of wholesome respect for "Pink" Griffith and his bunch. The big game of the year in Walla Walla is expected and the indications are that there will be several hundred people present. There's going to be lots of spirit behind the team when it faces Idaho, but its going to be the kind of spirit that's good to see.

The line-up cannot be definitely given yet, as the experience of the Washington game may result in a slight shifting about.

The general make-up, however, is pretty evident. Gilbreath is at center, Camp, Matthews, Graham and L. Peringer will furnish the guards, Philbrook and Dimick, tackles, and Spagle and Ligman, ends. Behind the line, Schmidt and Brainard are working at quarter, Borleske and R. V. Peringer, halves, and Rigsby or Dutcher full. The team averages about 168 pounds.

JONES ELECTED.

Popular Graduate of University is Popular With Voters of Shoshone County.

Thomas R. Jones, a graduate of the class of 1905, and a candidate on the republican ticket of Shoshone county for member of the state legislature, has been elected to that position by the voters of that county. Tom Jones, as he was known to all university students, was very popular among his fellow students. He held many important positions during his college course. He was editor of the Argonaut during his senior year, president of the Websterian Debating Society, member of Debate Council, and many other positions of honor were held by him. In 1903 he was awarded one of the Kaufman Scholarships for the high marks which he received in the class rooms.

In debate he won the Watkins medal for oratory, the Heyburn, the Vollmer and the Dewey Memorial prizes in debate. Mr. Jones was very successful in all lines of student activities in which he engaged while at the University. In him the University has a strong supporter at all times. The Argonaut extends its best wishes to Mr. Jones and bespeaks much success for him as a member of our next state legislature.

Part Assigned

The English Club of which Mr. Darwin is chairman, is making good progress in the preparation of Twelfth Night, which will probably be presented about Thanksgiving. This play is one of the best comedies among the classics, and with the well selected cast of characters now working on it, under the efficient direction of Dr. H. E. Moore, head of the English Department, its production will surely be a success.

The following is the cast:
Orsino—Thos. Galloway.
Sebastian—Mr. Norton.

No Matter What Your Property Is Worth, or in What Town, City, State or Territory it is located

If I do not have the ability and facilities to sell your property, I certainly could not afford to pay for this advertisement. This "ad" (like all my other "ads") is practically sure to place on my list a number of new properties, and I am just as sure to sell these properties and make enough money in commissions to pay for the cost of these "ads," and make a good profit besides. That is why I have so large a real estate business today.

Why not put your property among the number that will be sold as a result of these "ads"?

I will not only be able to sell it—some time—but will be able to sell it quickly. I am a specialist in quick sales. I have the most complete and up-to-date equipment. I have branch offices throughout the country and a field force of men to find buyers.

I do not handle all lines usually carried by the ordinary real estate agents. I MUST SELL real estate—and lots of it—or go out of business. I can assure you I am not going out of business. On the contrary, I expect to find, at the close of the year, that I have sold twice as many properties as I did the past year, but it will first be necessary for me to "list" more properties. I want to list YOURS and SELL it. It doesn't matter whether you have a farm, a home without any land, or a business; it doesn't matter what it is worth, or where it is located. If you will fill out the blank letter of inquiry below and mail to me today, I will tell you how and why I can quickly convert the property into cash, and will give you my complete plan won by Mr. Charles A. Montandon. The first inter-collegiate debate in which Montandon took part was the Whitman-Idaho contest of 1903 in which Idaho won. The second was the one in which Idaho defeated Washington in 1904. The third was the one in which Idaho defeated W. S. C. in 1904. The fourth was the first Montana-Idaho debate in which the unanimous victory for Idaho was due largely to Montandon. The fifth and sixth contests were those in which Idaho was defeated by Washington and Utah.

GUY HOLMAN.

Mr. Guy Holman, who has just won the fourth Ridenbaugh prize, and who will lead Idaho's team in the second annual debate with Montana, has had quite a notable career as a debater. In 1904, as a student in the Preparatory Department, he led the Idaho team to a unanimous victory over the Colfax High School. Later on, in the same year, he led the Preparatory team in a notable victory over the Walla Walla High School. The Walla Walla Union said: "Guy Holman proved a tower of strength to the visitors, making the speech that should be credited with the decision." He was a member of the team that defeated W. S. C. in 1904. Thus far he has never met defeat.

This, then, is the present list of Ridenbaugh debaters. All of them are men of marked ability. It will be interesting to watch their careers in the wider fields in which their work will be done. Already the three who have graduated are making themselves felt in the commonwealth of Idaho. One is a city superintendent of schools, one was a candidate for the national House of Representatives in the election of last week, and one is an instructor in a high school. It is to such men as these that the University of Idaho looks for support in the coming years. It is such men as these who will bring the people of the state to realize the importance of the work of the university in the general uplifting of the commonwealth.

L. H. S. 17, Preps O.

It Was a Hard Fought Game.

Last Saturday the Lewiston high school ball team defeated the Preps by a score of seventeen to nothing, in a hard fought game. The game started at 2:30 o'clock. Shortly after the game was called Irwin made a brilliant end run for 45 yards. Then after a series of plays Pierstorff carried the ball over tackle for a touch down. The rest of the first half was played in the center of the field.

Second Half.

In the first part of the second half Irwin made a second touch down. Capt. Edmison made the last down. The rest of the game was in Lewiston's territory. Pierstorff and Edmison were the stars for the Lewiston team. McKinley, the star end for the Preps, was forced to retire from the game on account of injuries sustained during the same. Pierstorff was also forced to retire. The final score was 17-0.

The Prep line-up was as follows:

- Cooper, center.
- Nail, l. g.
- Crum, r. g.
- F. Tate, l. t.
- Stevens, r. t.
- McKinley, r. e.
- Leuschell, l. e.
- Curtis, q.

NEW INTER-SOCIETY CONTESTS

Debates Between Webs and Amphics to Be Resumed—Oratorical Contest Discussed.

A movement to set on foot a new annual inter-society debate between the Websterians and Amphictyons has resulted in the decision to hold a debate each year on a plan somewhat different from the Sweeney contests. Committees appointed by the two societies have made all arrangements, and the complete set of rules will soon be drawn up and presented to the members.

The new inter-society debate will be a more interesting and profitable contest than the Sweeney debates, since one contest in a year will be much better prepared than when three debates are held in each nine months. The Sweeney contests were, however, more beneficial in that they gave the opportunity for more students to participate. The committees hope to offset this disadvantage of the new arrangement by stipulating that no inter-collegiate debater (or not more than one, at least) shall be allowed to represent either society.

Those who have the matter in hand, are also hoping that some event in the nature of an oratorical contest can be arranged between the societies. It is believed that such a contest would stimulate interest in oratory at the University, to a great degree.

My Mary

My Mary lieth in her bed,
 So drearly, so drearly;
 She lies with lowly bended head,
 So wearily, so wearily.
 Her laughing eyes are closely shut,
 So early, so early;
 Her lips so red are parted, but
 Not cheerily, not cheerily.

The golden hair is streaming now,
 So duly, so duly,
 It glistens on a cold, cold brow,
 So truly, so truly.

Her bosom rests, there is no breath,
 And wearily, and wearily,
 The watchers whisper "this is death,"
 So drearly, so drearly.

It is the train of little luxuries... hot baths, barber's services, library private smoking compartments; clothes pressing service, all the little things that add to the comfort of a journey. Its beautiful observation car is a revelation. The dining car service is superior, the menu varied and satisfying. From end to end it is pleasing, comfortable and beautiful—a train which makes friends and keeps them.
