U. OF W. DEFEATS IDAHO

A Spectacular and Sensational Game

A LARGE AND ENTHUSIASTIC CROWD WITNESSED THE CONTEST

In the presence of the largest, most brilliant and enthusiastic crowd ever seen at an intercollegiate football match in this city the purple and gold of the University of Washington scored a spectacular triumph over the fighting bulldogs from the University of Idaho. Score: 16 to 9.

Dazed by an entirely unexpected play at the kickoff, which gave Washington a touchdown, Idaho went to pieces in the middle of her line for a brief space of time, but gathering courage as the battle progressed, and led by the mighty Larson, she developed an attack that was as fierce as it was cunning. Spurred on by the desire to wrest victory from threatened defeat, the boys from Idaho opened up a variety of plays that astonished Washington, and called for every bit of reserve energy in them to stem the tide.

Although defeated Idaho was not disgraced, and can return home with the satisfaction of having lost in a battle free from roughness, and marked by playing that aroused the wildest enthusiasm.

Washington played the most brilliant game she has displayed this year, and gave evidence of a thorough understanding, if not complete mastery of the new style of play. Coach Place has accomplished wonders in the last two weeks, varying the repertoire of his team until it includes both the forward pass and the on-side kick.

In passing comment on Place it is only fair to add that Coach Griffith of Idaho, has shown his appreciation of the possibilities of the new game, and startled the critics by springing a play that appears to be entirely new. In the middle of the second half, with the ball on Washington's 35-yard line, and in possession of Idaho, the team was suddenly deployed in a most scattered condition. Washington had no time to figure on what was coming, for the ball was put in play with lightning quickness. A short pass and then the ball was kicked forward on the ground, the twisting kick being used. As it bobbed along Washington solved the plan, for the simple reason that a nod had shown the direction in which the ball was to go. There was a massing of the purple and gold and the Idaho ends, although very fast, were unable to make connection, and Washington had the ball. A punt by Willis shot it back down the field and the danger was past. In a sense the kick was in the nature of an on side kick, but it was evident from the way it was handled that Coach Griffith had figured out something new, and that Coach Place's men had been able to block it through the nod which gave away the point at which to look for danger.

Washington scored her first five points on the very first kick-off, and Idaho has only herself to blame for being caught napping. It was Idaho's lack of knowledge of the rules, according to the final decision of the officials, and Boggs' thoughtfulness that resolved the play.

Wills, of Washington, kicked the ball from the center of the field straight over the goal. Idaho did not follow the ball and touch it down, which would have made a touchback. In such a case the ball would have been brought out the usual distance and been put in play by Idaho. While Idaho stood irresolute Boggs went after the ball like a jack rabbit, touched it down, and the officials allowed Washington a touchdown. Five points for Washington.

Washington's second touchdown was made after getting the ball near the center of the field and carrying it by a variety of plays down the field until straight line bucking gave the touchdown.

The third time that Washington scored was as spectacular as any thing ever seen on a football field. Washington punted to Idaho's forty yard line, where Robertson made his first fumble of the year. The giant Sample, with both stockings down to his ankles, and his hair flying in all directions, was coming down the field like a tornado. The moment Robertson let the ball get out of his hands Sample leaned over, grabbed it and was away for the goal with all his might. Idaho players came from all directions, and yet they looked like flies in their efforts to catch the giant. He tore along irresistibly and amid the wild shrieks of the now thoroughly maddened crowd, passed across the chalk line. Puffing and smiling he received congratulations from all sides. This was not the only brilliant play he did. On one other occasion he got through and grabbed the ball in a fumble, and had he not stumbled his great feat might have been repeated. Sample's touchdown now goes down in history along with that of Capt. Balliet, who did the same thing while playing center. Sample was at guard. The reason there was no try for goal was that the kicker touched the ball, forfeiting his chance, while getting ready to kick.

Idaho scored one touchdown after brilliant carrying of the ball in the first half. Small was sent through between Sample and Bragdon on a straight line buck. Small also scored Idaho's field goal by a pretty kick from the 35-yard line.

Boggs played a magnificent game for Washington at right end, as did Jarvis at left tackle. Crim had to go center as Tegtmier was ruled out at the last moment on account of condition. The team did not suffer by the change, center being strong all the time. At the same time it appeared that generally speaking Idaho had the better line. Bagshaw

Ladies vs. Athletics

A Few Hints on Physical Training for College Girls

Standing on the principle of a sound mind in a sound body for all college graduates, we see the alarming deficiencies of different students in one or both of these respects. It is not natural that one with an otherwise attractive personality should fail on account of some physical defect. A person with a big brain and an amazing amount of long hair should be able to make a shadow with the rest of his body without leaning up against a wall or a telephone post. Still on the other hand it is far from natural for a person with a huge form, with muscles standing out in alarming proportions to be lacking in the common ethical requisites and a primary education. These are extreme cases. The compound representing the University man or woman's life should be a happy medium between the intellectual, physical and moral elements found in the age in which he or she lives.

We must start in early developing and creating this kind of a life. Exercise to produce good health is of more value than study to make the master mind. Of what value is a high education in a body fast decaying and losing its vitality. The leading men and women holding the attention of the world in any particular line have all been creatures of versatile pursuits and accomplishments. Twentieth century ideals demand the well balanced body and mind.

With the efficient trained group of instructors that Universities afford the educational life for the young lady student shall not in the least suffer. Home training and the strong Young Women's Christian Associations serve as proper social restraints. The physical side of life, however, for the ladies is generally neglected in most large co-educational institutions. The men of the college have in the fall of the year, football; in the winter, basketball, shinney and polo; and in the spring, baseball and track. The girls are sometimes encouraged to play basket ball, and sometimes not. And are generally not, encouraged to take part in the other branches of athletics, although we occasionally see a girls' baseball team. The gymnasiums were not made wholly for boys as a few students in other colleges seem to think. The ladies' should be permitted the use of the Gym at regular-stated hours and should not in the least be interfered with. These periods of gymnastic work, by rights, should be of a sufficient length of time to permit a majority of the student femininity the use of such exercises that tend to build up the system. A certain amount of physical development work under the head of a lady instructor, thoroughly capable, should be made a requirement for the first two or perhaps three years classes in athletic muscular exercise should be

Y. W. C. A. COUNCIL

LARGE DELEGATIONS FROM L. S. N. AND W. S. C. WILL MEET WITH THE LOCAL ASSOCIATION ON DECEMBER 7, 8, 9.

Preparatory girls!

Senior girls!

You are all invited to attend the Y. W. C. A. Council, Dec. 7, 8, 9.

Friday evening, at 7:30 at Ridenbaugh Hall, will be held the opening meeting of the Y. W. C. A. Council. On Saturday, sessions will be held both morning and afternoon which will be of practical help to the three Associations represented. On Saturday evening a reception will be given at the home of Prof. French. The visiting delegates and the Y. M. C. A. will be the guests of honor. Two services will be held on Sunday, a devotional meeting at three o'clock and a union vesper service at 6:30.

Miss Katheryn Sisson of Spokane and Mrs. S. B. L. Penrose of Whitman will be the very efficient leaders of this gathering. The meetings are open to all ladies and a large attendance is expected. There will be large delegations from Lewiston and Pullman. Let us show them what Idaho is girls by a good, big attendance.

A special feature has been made of the music. The soloists are Miss Cannon, Miss Jensen and Mrs. Nichols. A quartet consisting of Misses Ott, Case, Keifer and Reeser will sing at several of the meetings.

Every effort possible has been made to make the Council successful, profitable and interesting. What is needed now is the support of the college.

EX-GOVERNOR HUNT IS DEAD

FRANK W. HUNT, GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF IDAHO FROM 1898 TO 1900, PASSED AWAY AT GOLDFIELD, NEVADA, SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 25th.

Ex-Governor Frank W. Hunt after a short illness died at Goldfield, Nevada, one week ago last Sunday. Gov. Hunt contracted a severe case of la grippe in an open air political meeting in Nevada, the latter part of October. This ailment and a weak heart were the direct causes of his death. He leaves a wife and daughter. His remains were taken to Boise, the old home, for interment.

Frank W. Hunt was born at Newport, Kentucky, December 16, 1861. When still a young man he, with other members of the family, moved West. He was united in marriage to Miss Ruth Maynard of Boise, November 10, 1896. Frank Hunt served with distinction and merit throughout the Philippine campaign of the Spanish-American war. He was twice decorated for bravery and sacrificial conduct. In 1898 he was highly honored by the people of Idaho, being chosen by them as their Chief Executive. His name goes down in history as an able and fearless officer of the law.

He was defeated for re-election in 1900 by Hon. John T. Morrison. Mr. Hunt has spent the last few years amidst his mining interests of Nevada.

The students of the University of Idaho keenly feel the loss of a staunch, true supporter of the Silver and Gold, and extend to the bereaved ones our sincere sympathy.

DEBATE WITH MONTANA

Idaho's First Contest on the Rostrum Fast Approaching.

Within two weeks Idaho will be in her first intercollegiate debate of the present year, when a team from the University of Montana will come to Moscow. The question will be that of government ownership of railways. Montana's team has on it one girl, who is an experienced debator. The other two members are also worthy representatives of the Montana institution. Mason, Smith, and Holman, for Idaho, have been working steadily, and expect to put in their every spare moment on the question from now to the day for the contest.

The expenses for the contest will be heavy, so that a large attendance is needed. The presence of every Idaho student at the contest would also be invaluable encouragement to the Silver and Gold's representatives. The debate will be at the Methodist church. Admission will probably be 50 cents, as usual.

Freshman Debaters Chosen

Last week a tryout was held for the purpose of selecting a debating team from the Freshman class to meet the debate team from the Lewiston State Normal school. Several contestants entered the tryout. The successful candidates were Clifford Edmundson, William Solibakke and John Wheeler. They received places in the order named above. The debate which is upon one phase of the municipal ownership subject, takes place in January,

In another column is published an article calling attention to the need for Idaho spirit in the coming Idaho Montana debate. At the close of a football season which has not been in itself productive of an enthusiasm, but through which Idaho has shown continuously good college spirit, we feel that the call for support for debate will be liberally answered. Idaho students will put forth every effort to keep the colors high in this intercollegiate activity.

WEDNESDAY'S ASSEMBLY

Dr. McKinley Delivers an Interesting Address.

The weekly assembly of last Wednesday was made interesting by the first public appearance for this year, of the University Band, and by a talk from Prof. McKinley, of the Latin and Greek department.

The band surprised many of those present by its proficiency. Pres. McKinley remarked after the opening selection, that prosperity for the band is urgently to be hoped for, in view of the many obstacles it has had to meet heretofore.

Prof. McKinley's address might have been entitled, "How to go to Europe for Nothing." With as small an amount as $100, said the professor, one can safely venture to set sail from Boston or New York, and count on two months stay in Europe. This does not allow for any passenger fare on the way over. It was on the method of securing one's passage across the Atlantic by working on a cattle ship that Prof. McKinley spoke chiefly. The outfit for such a trip should be an old suit that can be discarded when the other side is reached, a pair of gloves and a pair of rubbers. The college man must be careful to wear his oldest clothes and look his huskiest, in order to get a job. When the job is secured, the only thing left to do is to get together a few necessities for the tramp thro' Europe, get a bicycle, and go aboard the ship.

With his 'bike' smuggled into some dark corner to avoid costs of transportation, and his $100 stowed away in his pocket in the form of an American Express check, (cashable any place in Europe,) the traveller goes below to the scene of his labors for the next 10 or 12 days. There the work consists in getting out corn or shorts for the cattle and watering them regularly. The work, said Prof. McKinley, is pleasant, except when seasickness makes it somewhat difficult. It is greatly preferable, in the mind of the active man, to take a trip across as a regular passenger with nothing to do.

When the ship arrives at Liverpool, the worker has only to help unload the cattle, and is then free to begin his journey through England and the continent. Such a trip as this is growing popular among collage men, and according to the speaker, has come to be a requisite for a Harvard diploma.

Another excellent selection from the University Band brought the assembly to a close.

LETTER FROM CAPT. CHRISMAN

Former Commandant of Cadets Wishes University Argonaut Sent to Him.

The following letter from Captain Edward R. Chrisman, who was formerly Professor of Military Science and Tactics at Idaho, and who is now serving with his regiment in the Phillipines, will interest all who knew him.

Campus, Troops in the Field/
Dagami, Lyte, P. I. Oct. 10, 1906.
The Editor Argonaut,
My Dear Sir:

Will you please send me the Argonaut beginning with the first issue of the present year. We have been in the mountains here for some time operating against the Pulajanes, and away from civilization. Please address me at Wm. McKinley, Rizal, P. I., where my family now is. I am anxious to get the news—especially of the Football.

Very Sincerely Yours,
EDWARD R. CHRISMAN,

Message from Gov. Gooding

(Boise, Idaho,
Nov. 28, '06.

James A. MacLean,
President State University,
Moscow, Idaho.

It is my desire that flags be half-masted on all state institutions throughout the state Friday, November 30th, in honor of the late F. W. Hunt, former governor of Idaho, whose interment occurs that day. I respectfully suggest holding memorial services at two o'clock that afternoon in all educational institutions. F. R. GOODING, Governor.

Upon receipt of the above telegram the following notice was issued by the President: On account of the death of Gov. Hunt, flags will be halfmasted Friday, November 30th, from sunrise to sunset, and the regular exercises of the University will be suspended for the day.

Signed, JAS. A. MACLEAN.

Merchant Addresses Y. M. C. A.

The Association meeting at the Gym Sunday afternoon was addressed by W. E. Heard, a leading business man of Moscow, who spoke on "Christianity in Business." Mr. Heard's talk interested all who heard it. He cited as examples of the upright man in business such successes in the commercial pursuits as John Wanamaker, Fields, Claffin and A. T. Stewart. After his talk, a general discussion open to all present was held. In the business meeting Toney T. Crooks was elected as a second delegate to the Y. M. C. A. Conference at Eugene, on condition that financial difficulties can be arranged.

Webbs Choose Team.

Saturday afternoon at 2:30, in the Gym, the Websterians held their tryout to choose a team for the next interesting debate. Those who entered the tryout were Oakey Hall, F. P. Stewart, Fred Lukens, Bennett Williams, R. O. Jones, Joseph Adams, and Ray Mason. The question was, "Resolved, that the disfranchisement of the Negro in the South is justifiable." The judges who were Prof. Peters, Eldridge and Axtell, voted in favor of Jones, Lukens and Hall, in the order named.

Resolutions

Whereas, It has pleased God to remove from this life, very suddenly, the youngest sister of our friend and classmate, Ollie Darwin, thus bringing a great trial and much sorrow upon our friend and his family, Be it Resolved, That we, the class of 1909, extend to Mr. Darwin at this time our heartfelt sympathy and through him to his family, also

Be it further resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be given Mr. Darwin, a copy sent to his family, and that they be printed in the Argonaut.

Signed:

RUTH BROMAN,
J. G. MARTIN,
Committee.

Gym Opens Dec. 1st.

After December 1st the main Gymnasium rooms in which the library is now located, will be open for athletics from four to six on week days, except on Saturday, when it will be open from three to six.

Regents Are To Meet

The board of regents will meet in Boise on the twelfth of this month. This is one week later than the regular date of meeting. This will be the last regular meeting before the legislature convenes and will therefore undoubtedly be a very important session.

Exchanges

The "Evergreen" contains a beautifully imaginative and descriptive poem entitled "Frost Work." It is one of the best we have seen in our exchanges.

There was a young lady—Tyre,
Who sank down knee-deep in the mire.

Why didn't she shout
For help to get out?
Because her two feet were the higher
No one is defeated until he gives up.

It is a pity that when people reach the age of discretion they do not stay there.

It is all right to dream of the great things you are going to do, but don't forget to wake up in time to begin work.

At Harvard this year the two teams come on the field together, and the players who are to play opposite each other are introduced to each other before the game.

State Items.

In the vicinity of Sandpoint, Idaho, there is put on the skidways daily about 750,000 feet of logs. About 500 men are employed in four of the larger camps. A large share of the enormous product is shipped to foreign markets.

The electric road from Lewiston to Grangeville is now assured. The right of way has been purchased and considerable grading has already been done. This road will not only facilitate traveling between the two towns, but will tap one of the richest wheat and stock producing sections of the state, and it may in time be a part of the railroad from north to south Idaho.

According to recent statements furnished to the Idaho state bank commissioner, the combined resources of the four Lewiston banks amount to $4,362,387, and the increase since April is $349,864. The banking business in any city is always a fair idea of the general prosperity of the community, and in this respect Lewiston is certainly to be complimented.

Lewiston is to have a new $40,000 church in the near future. Rev. W. T. Euster formerly of Moscow, who was the prime mover in building the $40,000 Methodist church edifice, is the pastor of the Lewiston church, and the leader in the laudable proposition.

If I do not have the ability and facilities to sell your property, I certainly could not afford to pay for this advertisement. This "ad" (like all my other "ads") is practically sure to place on my list a number of new properties, and I am just as sure to sell these properties and make enough money in commissions to pay for the cost of these "ads," and make a good profit besides. That is why I have so large a real estate business today.

Why not put your property among the number that will be sold as a result of these "ads"?

I will not only be able to sell it—some time—but will be able to sell it quickly. I am a specialist in quick sales. I have the most complete and up-to-date equipment. I have branch offices throughout the country and a field force of men to find buyers.

I do not handle all lines usually carried by the ordinary real estate agents. I MUST SELL real estate—and lots of it—or go out of business. I can assure you I am not going out of business. On the contrary, I expect to find, at the close of the year, that I have sold twice as many properties as I did the past year, but it will first be necessary for me to "list" more properties. I want to list YOURS and SELL it. It doesn't matter whether you have a farm, a home without any land, or a business; it doesn't matter what it is worth, or where it is located. If you will fill out the blank letter of inquiry below and mail to me today, I will tell you how and why I can quickly convert the property into cash, and will give you my complete plan and terms for handling it. The information I will give you will be of great value to you, even if you should decide not to sell. You had better write today before you forget it.

played the poorest game of his career. Bragdon was in every play until he retired. Forsythe finished the game, but had little to do. Clark, at right half, deserves much credit for the way he carried the ball. He has a twisting move that is hard to stop.

Johnson, Small and Keyes made a powerful backfield for Idaho. Oakes and Savidge at ends were whirlwinds and many times were better than Washington in getting down the field. The star of the Idaho team is Larson, left tackle. He is nothing less than a wonder. It seemed almost impossible to stop him. He would go tearing along with three or four Washington men trying to stop him. In fact Idaho had terrific force in her plays, especially in the latter part of the first half, and the latter part of the second half. They simply ripped through Washington, and massing or no massing, they walked along.—Seattle P.-I.

Ovation to Idaho's Team

The playing of Idaho's team in the face of defeat aroused the wildest enthusiasm. When the first half had ended and the team left the field, the entire section of non-partisan rooters arose en masse and gave Idaho an ovation that has never been equalled in the northwest. Until the last man had left the field, the entire throng of enthusiasts stood up and cheered the gallant team. No visiting team has ever received such consideration by the home crowd and the whole affair speaks volumes for the people of Seattle and the students of the State University. The rooters, while expressing loyalty to Washington, were courteous to the visiting team and applauded them as well as their own team whenever a good play was made.

developed. Each class should and could have a ladies' basket ball team. The college would then have a first team and other teams to practice against. These teams could play inter-collegiate games and thus increase the spirit of the college, and in particular the girls part of it. Bodies would become more erect, more supple and lithe, faces would be colored naturally and the life of growing womanhood under mental toil would be rendered more and more worth living. Let us give our college girls the best education we can, not one-sided but all-sided and complete. Of course we can get considerable exercise from numerous college dances. That is good exercise, but as the rule is, indulged in to excess causes fatigue and un-rest. An embracing system of light physical training seems to be the only just solution for this problem.

Let those who desire, and we hope there are many, get out soon for basket ball. Lets have a good team. Elect a manager, a good business head, and schedule a few inter-collegiate games. Show the world that Idaho's girls are not, by any means, incapable of consistent athletic effort, and are willing to try their luck in a new field of endeavor. Help the good work along, show the girls that we are all behind them with wishes for a victorious year in basket ball.

ENJOY EVENING AT DORM.

Girls of Ridenbaugh Hall Entertain a Number of their Friends.

On Thursday evening the girls of Ridenbaugh Hall gave an informal dancing party to a number of their friends. About twenty-five couples were present. Mrs. Young, Miss Maynard and Miss Sweet chaperoned the merry makers.

The music was furnished by the hostesses. Punch of Ridenbaugh Hall manufacture, and of unimpeachable quality, was served. With Virginia reels, cakewalks and Tucker, as well as other mirth-provoking stunts, the party was brought to a close. No formal affair of the year, it is safe to say, has given so much pleasure.

A Sumptuous Feed

On Thanksgiving eve a very sumptuous banquet was given by George Tolman and Ray Peebler. The courses consisted of oyster soup, fried oysters, cake and coffee. The honored guests were Darlington, Merrill, Cole and Manghan. At a late hour and after an evening of mirth and jollity the guests returned to their respective homes pronouncing the banquet one of the greatest ever attended by them.

It is the train of little luxuries... hot baths, barber's services, library private smoking compartment; clothes pre-pressing service, all the little things that add to the comfort of a journey. Its beautiful observation car is a revelation. The dining car service is superior, the menu varied and satisfying. From end to end it is pleasing, comfortable and beautiful—a train which makes friends and keeps them.
