Triangular Meet

W. S. C. Wins a Very Spirited Contest in Which Idaho and Whitman College Are the Other Competitors

A Meet Full of Surprises. Several New Records. Two North-West Records Broken. Idaho Loses the Mile and Wins the Shot. W. S. C. 51, Whitman 36, Idaho 35

When the fastest relay of the North-West was finished last Saturday at Pullman, then ended the First Annual Triangular Meet between Washington State College, The University of Idaho, and Whitman College. Idaho took third place, Whitman College second, and W. S. C. won that great relay and doubly cinched the meet already won.

The weather was superb for the meet. It was one of those hot, greasy days that Coach Van Der Vere used to love. It was a day for records. The track was in excellent condition, with the single exception of a portion of the 220 yd. straight-away.

Early before 2 o'clock the crowd began to gather and in half an hour the whole hillside was covered with a cheering, enthusiastic crowd of students. The ladies were there in abundance and their lighter colored dresses, united with the Silver and Gold pennants and Crimson and Grey streamers and a touch of the Whitman colors gave a tinge to the grass that was worth looking at. Many students and residents from Moscow drove down in carriages to see the great meet, and they were not disappointed.

Some after 2 o'clock the three-sided contest started with the 100 yd. dash. W. S. C. expected to take first in this race but were contented with fourth, while Cox, Myers, and Wheeler were a little faster. For the first two or three events Idaho led, but after the mile lost chances of first and bent all energies to win second place in the meet.

The 880 Yard Run

The 880 yd. was, as usual, one of the great events of the day. Edmundson, the crack long distance man of the North-West, won first with a brilliant sprint, beating Maloney of W. S. C. who was slated for this event, by several feet.

Idaho didn't get a look in on the discus. Why should she when Thayer of W. S. C. broke the N. W. record with 119.6 feet?

Idaho didn't take anything in the high hurdles nor in the hammer, but we never expected very much in either of these.

The Shot Put

Gus hadn't lost the shot put to W. S. C. in quite a while so when they had him skinned 2-100 of a foot he got sore and took first place with nearly a foot to spare with the best record in these parts—40.91 feet.

In the pole vault our boys lost out on account of the absence of the usual vaulting block, which is customary and which our boys had been at work on. The ground was quite soft at the take off and Frazier did well to take third.

The mile run may have been a disappointment to a few, but not so to true supporters of the Silver and Gold. Matthews ran a hard, fast race, but without his running mate Edmundson to alternate in breaking the wind and setting the pace, his chances were few against three W. S. C. and two Whitman men. It was no slow race, being in 4 min. 39 sec. Captain Matthews has better time than that, however, but was not in good shape for the terrible strain of running three long, hard races. He will show up a great deal better in the meet at Seattle soon.

The High Jump

Philbrook was scheduled to take this but was contented with second when "Here" Smith got safely over 5 ft. 7 in. without once knocking down the line. Smith was in excellent condition and when needed was there with the goods and delivered them all in a bunch.

The 440 Yard Dash

This was the heart breaker; the one great and startling feature of the whole day's program. Thomle and Cowgill of W. S. C., Cox and Graham of W. C.; Edmundson of Idaho, are without doubt the best quarter men in the Northwest. Either Thomle or Cox, according to old records should win this race. Still everyone was afraid of Edmundson. They all got a good start. Clear around the track one could see that it was a fast pace that Thomle was setting. Cox was close behind; and then Edmundson. They reached the farthest turn in the track and began to sprint. Gradually "Hec" pushed by Cox. It was a battle of the giants. Cox was in good turn and knew if he ever fell behind, he would never see first place. Still he could not stay the fearful pace of the youth from Idaho. Slowly, it seemed too slowly, the space between "Nordski" and "Hec" began to close up. They were at last on the straight-away. A great sprint it was, and between men who could sprint. Five feet from the tape Thomle was still leading. Another yard more and the red jersey with the white "I" was even. Two thousand people stood up and yelled, cheered, waved their pennants and hats; the air, was full of a terrific medley of horns, drums and human voices as Edmundson touched the tape—first. The race was over and as they carried the men off to the training quarters, the time was announced 51 2-5 sec. One judge had less than 51 sec. Which probably is nearer correct than the other.

The Broad Jump

Frazier with a badly swollen and aching foot won first in this event. He is good for more than the distance made and will be a point winner in the meet at Seattle. He was pitted against several good men but did not fail to materialize. Frazier is one of the few men who do better in a meet than in practice in his events.

In the 220 yd dash Wheeler won second. Myers, who did very pretty work in the 100 yard dash ran a

Horticultural Report

Dr. Aldrich of the Biological Department Edits Issue

State Board of Horticultural Inspection Gives Interesting Information—Discussion by University Students

The State Board of Horticultural Inspection has just issued its Fifth Annual Report, under the editorship of Prof. Aldrich of the University of Idaho. The articles in the book are well chosen and are of exceptional interest to students and fruit growers.

The Board consists of—
Dr. H. P. Ustick, President, Boise
A. McPherson, Sec., Twin Falls
J. H. Shawhan, Payette
H. T. French, Moscow
J. M. Aldrich, Moscow
A. F. Hitt, State Horticultural Inspector.

The book in seventeen contributed articles, by members of the Board and others, discusses physical and climatical features of Idaho, soils, irrigation, the raising and packing of different fruits, spraying materials, and the work in general, of the Board.

Besides articles written by members of Board, the following persons have contributed to the success of the publication:— Prof. L. F. Henderson—"By products of Orchard;" T. B. Judson—"Commercial Apple Production;" Chas. and Roy Eichelberger, '07—"Commercial Prune Raising;" Elias Nelson—"Principles and methods of Irrigation;" Phillip Darlington, '07, has a report in the book, in his official capacity as Inspector for District No. 1 A.

The book is well prepared with illustrations and maps. The maps are of the State of Idaho showing:—the lines of 5000 ft. elevation; geological history of principal arable regions; normal annual isotherms; normal annual precipitation; and the principal regions of natural vegetation.

A few interesting facts culled from these maps and elaborate tables of precipitation, frost, etc., taken from U. S. Geological Survey and Government Station. Officials are: that Lewiston is the lowest point in the State being only 887 ft. above sea level; that Murray, Shoshone Co., is the wettest town in the state with a mean average precipitation of 38.27 in.; that Garnet, Elmore Co., is the driest, where the wettest month in the year gave a precipitation of only 2.25 in.

The book was arranged and edited by Dr. Aldrich who made minor corrections in submitted articles, read proof and caused its issue in its present neat and practical form.

In a rapid review of the book we find that it is clear and concise in its statements, quite accurate in its tables and information, and a book of considerable importance in the particular line of Horticulture. Considerable credit is due the Board and especially Dr. Aldrich for the issuance of such a book, in reality a Horticultural hand-book.

EXCITING RALLY

Students Gathered on Campus Friday Evening to Warm Up for Triangular Meet.

Friday evening saw the first of the much heralded weekly "sings" which are to be held during the rest of the spring. Perhaps, since it was the first one of the meetings, it would be unfair to criticize the size of the crowd. To say the best of it, there was a number of boys and several girls present. The band passed out a few selections on the campus, after which the crowd adjourned to the Gym. There the new song book was passed out, and a half hour was passed in singing. Yells mixed in helped to arouse frenzied enthusiasm. Some of the new songs in the book made a hit with the students; and will probably become generally popular. A procession down town, yelling and music by the band on Main Street, wound up the rally.

HALF-WAY MEETING

Y. M. C. A.'s of W. S. C. and Idaho Meet on Hillside Between Moscow and Pullman

The second "half-way" meeting of the Young Men's Christian Associations of Washington State College and Idaho was held last Sunday afternoon. The parties started from Moscow and Pullman at 2:30, walking down the O. R. & N. track, met about 4 o'clock, and held the meeting on a green hillside, near where it was held last year. President Collins of the W. S. C. Association took charge and, after some singing, introduced Mr. John Lyman, of Whitman College, who talked very earnestly for a few minutes about the importance of Idaho and W. S. C. sending good delegations to this year's Gearhart Conference. Other students present, who had been at Gearhart in former years, told of the benefits to be derived from the Conference. A very pleasant hour was spent in discussing this and other problems which are common to the Y. M. C. A.'s of the two institutions. The men from each college enjoyed very much the opportunity of getting acquainted with fellow students in the neighboring institution.

On May 10 and 11 representatives from thirty high schools of Eastern and Western Washington and Northern Idaho will meet in Pullman, where they will participate in an interscholastic track and declamation contest.

Nominations Made

Candidates for A. S. U. I. Officers and Debate Council Nominated at Assembly

Two New Amendments Relating to the Athletic "I" Are Proposed

Nominations for officers of the Associated Students and for the debate council were made at the regular student assembly held last Wednesday. No keen competition developed in the nominations, and the election, to be held May 17, will probably be quiet.

T. E. Hunter and W. R. Young were entered in the race for president. The vice-presidential aspirants are Elmer Armstrong and Robert W. Claye. Hazel Morrow is the sole nominee for secretary. Fred E. Lukens is without competition in his candidacy for the treasurership. Without exception the nominees are members of the class of 1908, so that, unless the athletic board, Argonaut, or debate council elects some '09 man for representative, next year's Executive Committee of the A. S. U. I. will be composed entirely of Seniors.

The nominees for the debate council are as follows: J. D. Matthews, '08; T. E. Smith, '09; R. O. Jones, '09; Charles Colver, '09; Ray E. Peeller, '09; Frank Noble, '09; W. R. Solibakke, '10; P. K. Perkins, '10; Henry Smith, '10; G. W. Stephens, '11. Six members are to be chosen from this list.

Two amendments to the constitution of the A. S. U. I. were proposed. One is a provision that any man pitching a winning baseball game for the Varsity shall be awarded his "I." G. H. Wyman, '07, who proposed the amendment, stated that its justice lies in the fact that, owing to frequent changing of pitchers, it is hard for the man in the box to win his "I" under the present rule, that he must play in three inter-collegiate games. Clarence Edmundson, '10, proposed an amendment providing that any man winning three points in a triangular track meet should be awarded an "I." Mr. Edmundson explained that the greater number of competitors in a three-cornered meet makes it very difficult for many men to

PREP. FRATISM

At last a prep frat has been organized with six or seven members. We see no good that could come from such a society. We do believe on the contrary that much injury may be inflicted by it. There is absolutely no need for a frat in the preparatory department. And if there is no need for it we believe that the best interests of the students demand its abolition before it is to late. There are numerous examples of city high schools that have been almost ruined by the organization of such societies. The standard of work done has been lowered and discord, the result of cliquism, has separated the student body. A high school student does not, as a rule, know the rudimentary principles for which a fraternity stands. They fail to see that it is for mutual helpfulness and not to have a number of students join hands merely for a unanimity in political affairs. All students must be disciplined. This is especially true of high school students and probably the first year or so in college. Infantile fratism is a sure preventative for such training and should not, therefore, be allowed to get its parasitic clutches on the younger and unappreciative students.

DEPARTMENT OF DEBATE AND ORATORY

One of the most urgent needs of the University the coming year will be a department of debate and oratory. We lack such a department. Our debate and oratorical relations with our sister institutions of the northwest are becoming of more and more importance. They are already of such magnitude as to demand the serious attention of a special instructor. The college and preparatory debates as well as the inter-state oratorical contest between Oregon, Washington, and Idaho should be merged into a special department. Then and then only can a just amount of attention be given to this important branch of our college activities. At present there is no department in the University which has been organized for the purpose of giving aid to our inter-state orator. He is thrown upon his own responsibility to battle with Oregon and Washington in any way that he may see fit without any aid whatever. Idaho has won the inter-state contest only once during the eleven years that she has been a competitor. This is only one of the many reasons why we need a regular organized department of debate and oratory.

A MISSING LINK

We wonder where our college spirit has gone. Very little of it was lurking about the gymnasium at our last so called rally. About one hundred and twenty-five students gathered to work up some college spirit. At least half of these sauntered up in the gallery and sat down very stoically expecting to be entertained by those who had assembled on the gym. floor. They wanted to be seen and not heard. And verily they got their wish to their hearts content. Mother's advice couldn't have been followed better. She said, "go home I'm going to have company today, so you must be seen and not heard." What did such actions contribute toward enlivening the spirits of our track men? You all know. You don't need a slide rule to figure it out.

ATHLETIC FIELD

The longing for an athletic field has burst forth once more in sonorous sounds, and amendments galore have been offered to our constitution in vain attempts to get a few dollars from the registration fund to construct an athletic field which is conservatively estimated would cost about $3000. A few hundred dollars would surely start the ball rolling but could never complete the work. Why not appoint a committee of one or two energetic students whose duty it shall be to prevail upon Idaho's millionaires for at least half the amount necessary for the construction of a good up-to-date field. We believe the students and members of the alumni would be equal to the occasion and furnish the balance. Let us get down to business.

It occurs to one who listens, in a student assembly, to the proposal of all manner of new amendments to the A. S. U. I. constitution, that that precious document is in danger of being soon overloaded. A number of the amendments recently brought up for consideration relate to the granting of the 'Varsity and other such minor regulations. Why not transfer such rules to a constitution of the athletic board? If that board and the debate council would each form a set of rules governing its own affairs, the A. S. U. I. constitution would be spared a cumbersome lot of comparatively trivial regulations.

We would be pleased to invite discussion in our next issue upon the following subjects: "What's the matter with our college spirit and how can it be resuscitated?" "And how can our college attendance be increased to the greatest possible number the coming year?" Any one connected with the University who is so disposed is at liberty to contribute to the solution of either or both of these momentous questions.

Last week a cross was marked in the small circle at the head of the editorial column notifying those who had not paid their subscriptions to do so at once. A few mistakes were made, however, by marking some of the papers that had already been paid for. This was an unintentional oversight and we hope will not occur again.

We take pleasure in publishing this week an account of the rally held Friday evening in the campus. It is believed that the large number of students who were not present, will be glad to learn something of what happened.

good race but was not in condition to finish hard. Armstrong won third in the low hurdles which was won by Philbrook in 57 sec.

Hunting, Williams, and Driscoll showed up well for the first season. Davis in the low hurdles ran a good race and finished hard.

As a general rule our men finished harder and in better shape than their opponents.

The meet was intensely interesting and even exciting.

The Relay

The relay closed the meet. Small, Wheeler, Mathews, and Edmundson entered for Idaho and put up a beautiful exhibition of racing and pushed the other teams until the record was cracked. Edmundson made an awful hard race for the finish, but Thomle and Cox had too much of a lead to start with. It was just a short time after the swift 440 and Edmundson surprised the natives by his speed and endurance.

The Records

If you pick the winners in this meet and pit them against any middle western college, the champions of the Inland Empire would give them a good contest in every event. Philbrook of Whitman was the greatest point winner, with 14 points. Edmundson of Idaho took 10 points. Frazier took 6. Smith and Larson tied with 5 points each. It was a good contest and the feeling between the three colleges was one of harmonious, friendly rivalry.

The events, winners, and records in their order are as follows:

100 yd dash—Cox (W. C.) Myers (I.) Wheeler (I.) Time 10 sec.

Discus—Thayer (W S C) Dutcher (W C) Halm (W S C) Distance 119.6 ft.

880 yd. run—Edmundson (I) Maloney (W S C) Chase (W S C). Time 2 min. 5 1-5 sec.

120 yd. hurdles—Philbrook (W C) Hammer (W S C) Putman (W S C) Time 16 1-5.

Shot Put—Larson (I) Halm (W S C) Philbrook (W C) Distance 40.91 feet.

Polé Vault—Cowgill (W S C) Felthouse (W S C) Frazier (I) Height 10 ft. 3 in.

220 yd. dash—Cox (W C) Wheeler (I) Meyers (W S C) Time 23 1-5.

Mile Run—Welsch (W S C) Johnson (W S C) Matthews (I) Time 4 min. 39 sec.

Women's Club

Quite a little activity has been noticed about the tennis court the past few days. The membership list is still open. Those who at present belong to the club and are, therefore, allowed to play on the courts are: Campbell, Jones, Oakes, DeLury, Small, Wyman, Balderston, Eldridge, Griffith, Roullard, Axtell, Peebler, Whitehead, Smith, Gagon, McKinley, Gurney, Nichols, Mason and Jones.

Members are requested to wear tennis shoes when on the courts. If both courts are being used when new players arrive those using the courts must play their set-out and yield the courts to the new arrivals. All those wishing to join are urged to do so at once by giving their names to Roullard or Campbell. The membership fee is one dollar.

Local Color Generalized

"To many a sky blue river,
On many a saffron shore,
Where the pearl-gray shadows
quiver,
And the mouse-green breakers roar.

The rose-hued maid is going
To spend a week or two;
Where the brick-red kine are lowing
And the meadow breeze is blue.
She'll leave the frosh, green fellow
At work in the grim, gray town,
And read romances yellow
In the forests vandike brown."

Talk Summer Conference

The meeting of of the Y. M. C. A. next Sunday afternoon, will be given over to a discussion of the conference of Northwest Student Y. M. C. A.'s to be held at Gearhart Park, Ore., next June. The association men hope to secure a large delegation to attend the Conference from Idaho, and the meeting next Sunday is the first move toward that end. Any students who are considering going to Gearhart would do well to attend the meeting which will be at the Gym, at 2:30 p. m.

High School Frat Enters Prep School

A chapter of the high school fraternity, Beta Kappa Epsilon, has recently been organized in the University preparatory school. It includes in its membership a number of the boys who lead in prep. activities. It is understood that the fraternity has also installed a chapter in Spokane High School, although the authorities there have been, until recently at least, vigorously hostile to "high school frats" in any form whatever.
