SECOND TEAM VICTORIOUS

Scrub Eleven Defeats Wallace Athletic Club

New Style Football Against Heavy Team and Old Time Tactics—Score, 5 to 0.

Saturday afternoon the University second team met the Wallace Athletic Club at Wallace and defeated its heavier opponents by a score of 5 to 0. Although outweighed 15 pounds to the man, and playing on a wet, slippery field, the light second team completely outplayed and outgeneraled the Wallace eleven. The University especially showed up in the use of the forward pass and trick plays, which seldom failed, while Wallace resorted to the old time football. No scoring was done in the first half and it ended with the ball in the middle of the field.

Early in the second half Idaho scored on a forward pass. Devoignes made the pass to Curtis which was fumbled. Perkins grabbed the ball and carried it over. This score was disputed by the head linesman for Wallace who was under the impression that the end must catch the forward pass hence a penalty. After some wrangling Referee Jack Simpson held that the score was valid. DeVoigne failed to kick goal. The game ended with the ball in Wallace's territory.

Jewell at center for Wallace played a great game, breaking thro the line and destroying plays before they were started. He was the strongest player for Wallace. He has announced his intention of entering the University next fall. He will be a strong addition to our next year's football team. Early

All the Idaho team were in the game all the time. The work of Numbers, Coffin and Desvoignes was excellent. Perkins was probably the strongest man on the line.

The officials were Jack Simpson referee; J. H. Little, timekeeper and John Rogers, head linesman.

A large number of Idaho graduates were at the game and rooted enthusiastically for the University players. A team from Mullan consisting almost wholly of old Idaho stars has been organized and is scheduled to beat Wallace Thanksgiving.

Adopt Class Sweaters

The class of 1910 met last Tuesday and decided to have class sweaters. These will be black with orange trimmings.

The class decided that all those who represent 1910 in athletics or debate shall have the right to wear the class numerals on their sweaters.

A committee was then appointed to make arrangements for the Sophomore Frolic, after which Ernest Griner was elected captain of the class basket ball team which will probably meet the freshmen next month.

TEAM LEAVES FOR THE COAST

In Good Condition For The Game With Washington

Washington Eleven is Heavy and Plays Up-to-date Tactics—Expect Hard Contest

The football team will leave for Seattle over the Northern Pacific at 12:05 today to play the annual game with the University of Washington on Thanksgiving day. Despite the fact that when Washington plays Idaho in Seattle, she invariably finds herself clothed with horse-shoes, the Idaho team are confident of breaking the "hoodoo" and winning on the former's grounds.

Idaho will be in the pink of condition. Stein is the only man who is not without bruise, and he will be in first class condition by the time the game comes off. The team has been practicing hard since the Whitman game and Middleton has developed some new plays from the "spread formation" which he expects will bring victory to Idaho. The last practice will be held this morning after which the team will go directly to the train.

Coach Middleton is very optimistic over the chances for victory. He has set the Washington game as the all-important contest of the season and has gradually worked his team up to its present efficiency, and declares that the team which goes against Seattle will represent our fullest strength. Middleton says that Washington plays more up-to-date football than any team Idaho has met this season and that Idaho will have a harder fight next Thursday than she did with either W. S. C. or Whitman.

Washington has a heavy team and will outweigh Idaho thirteen pounds to the man. The line is composed of veterans and her backfield is fast. The Washingtonians had a bruising contest with W. S. C. last week while Idaho has had ample time to recuperate since the Whitman game. Washington has the advantage of weight and should the field be wet will undoubtedly win. They also will have a large delegation of partisan rooters to cheer them to victory.

Idaho expects to win by playing faster, headier football. Idaho's defense has not been battered down this season, and she expects to keep Washington from nearing her goal by her ability to solve and stop all styles of attack.

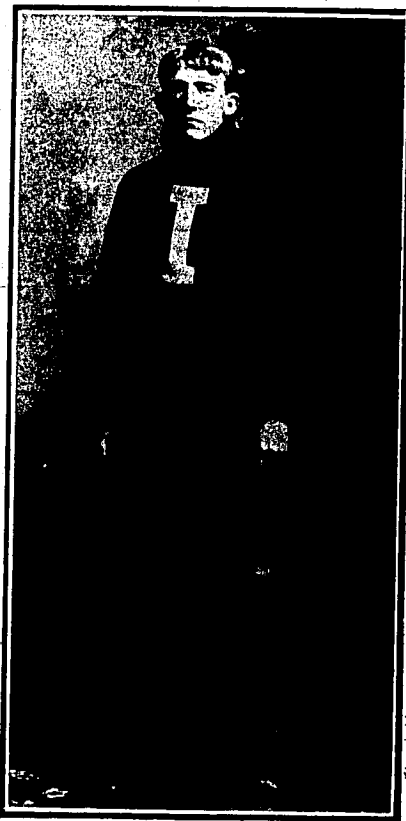

A number of rooters will accompany the team.

Idaho Union

A goodly sized crowd of enthusiastic members of the Idaho Union waded through mud and water to the gymnasium Saturday and presented an interesting program. The session opened with a pleasing solo by Miss Anna Kiefer. Then followed a debate on the question, "Resolved, That Japanese laborers should be excluded from the United States." T. E. Smith and Willord K. Gwin were in favor of keeping all the little yellow men out of this country, but Harry Daus and Ray Peebler were still more determined that, if necessary, we ought to move the sunny isles over here on the coast some place. The three girl judges were struck with the feasibility of this last idea and brought in an unanimous decision for the negative. The concluding number was a reading from James Whitcombe Riley by Hazel Morrow which was done effectively.

MINERS ORGANIZE

A new club, the Associated Miners of the University of Idaho, was brought into existence Thursday afternoon at one o'clock. This organization will consist of junior and senior miners as active members, of freshmen and sophomores as associate members, and of alumni and instructors as honorary members. The object of this association will be "to give to the members a broad view of mining work and kindred subjects, and to develop a community of interest in the work of the mining department of the University." This object will be accomplished by periodical meetings of the members for discussion, especially of practical subjects and for social intercourse.

With the adoption of the constitution and by-laws the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President, Estel Hunter, '08; vice president, Walker Young, '08; secretary, F. R. Smith, '09; corresponding secretary, Cart Coffin, '09.

WANTED—COPY

Announcement was made in last week's issue of the prize offered for short stories for the holiday number of the Argonaut. It is hoped that many students will enter this competition, not because of the intrinsic value of the prize, but rather out of a desire to make the holiday issue a creditable one. Besides short stories, the editors wish contributions in verse, serious and gay. If any student wishes to write an essay which shall present evidence of careful thinking on any topic of serious interest to the Idaho students his work will be given publicity in the columns of the Argonaut. All copy should be in the hands of the editor within a week or ten days at the farthest.

Any effort to publish a creditable literary issue of the Argonaut must depend for its success not so much on the regular staff as on students who are not connected with the paper. If Idaho students are so absorbed in the classroom routine or in athletics and other forms of amusements that they are unwilling to devote a little time to supporting the literary magazine idea, then the idea must fail. It is incumbent on the students to show by their attitude towards these special issues whether or not this phase of college journalism can be a success at Idaho.

A NEW ERA IN FOOTBALL

The Whitman College Pioneer in its latest issue calls attention to one feature of the football season now closing which is deserving of notice. There has been a spirit of utmost friendliness displayed throughout the season by all the important institutions meeting on the gridiron. Oregon and her old rivals from O. A. C. met and fought a battle that was as courteous as it was strenuous. Idaho and W. S. C. cheered each other with a readiness that would have been entirely impossible a few short years ago. The other important games have resembled these in the friendliness with which they were played. For the most part the college scribes have been fair in the accounts of their victories and sportsmanlike when they were forced to chronicle defeat. It would be difficult for instance, to find a more generous acknowledgement of the merits of successful rivals than was made in the Pioneer's account of the Whitman-Idaho game. It was in harmony with the excellent spirit shown by the Missionary excursionists in the face of defeat. These conditions have not always existed. There has been in the Northwest a rather different spirit, the memory of which serves to make the present good feeling especially appreciable. Of old there was a disposition to be arrogant in victory and disgruntled in defeat. A better understanding of the rightful place of intercollegiate football is coming to exist. The college world is beginning to realize that the real function of the game is above all else, to provide a clean sport for which the undergraduate can have rational enthusiasm.

BURSAR HOLDS FUNDS

President McLean and the university faculty are this year seeking to inaugurate a new method of disbursing the fund raised for the A. S. U. I. by the $2 registration fee required of all students. Under their plan the money is to be in the hands of Bursar Jenkins, who will pay it out on requisitions made by the executive committee of the associated students, and approved by a representative of the faculty.

The former method has been that provided for in the A. S. U. I. constitution, under which the funds are held by the treasurer elected by the students, and paid out by him upon requisitions from the executive committee. Under this plan the treasurer of the A. S. U. I. is required to furnish a $200 bond when he assumes the duties of his office. The present treasurer, F. E. Lukens, '08, has procured the bond, in accordance with the constitution, but finds himself with no money entrusted to his care, unless the policy of the faculty is modified or entirely changed. If the Bursar continues to hold the fund, treasurer Lukens' only duties will be those of book-keeper to the associated students.

The reason for the change, as given by President McLean, is, that inasmuch as the money in the A. S. U. I. treasury is there by virtue of a requirement of the regents, the university authorities have the right and ought to keep a closer watch than heretofore on the management of the finances. No action has been taken on the matter by the executive committee. Some of the members of the committee have stated that they dislike the new policy. All of them recognize the justice of the assertion that the faculty has the right to watch more closely the distribution of the A. S. U. I. funds, but, as one member of the committee stated last week, this right could be fully secured by the simple act of appointing a faculty member to audit all bills presented to the treasurer for payment. They consider that the appointment of such an official and the requirement that his approval should be necessary to make any requisitions on the treasury valid would settle the problem without resort to any further steps.

Prep Tryout

The preparatory department held a tryout Saturday afternoon, for the purpose of selecting a team to meet the Lewiston State Normal School sometime in January. Oakey Hall, Chester Mindon, Rowe Holman, J. D. Davis and B. Davis tried out for places. The question discussed was the same as the one to be debated with Pullman next month: "Resolved that the senate adopt the closure rule." The result of the contest was the selection of Hall, Holman and Mindon in the order named. Hall and Holman have already done considerable work in preparatory debates. This is Mindon's first experience.

Professors Hulme and Tull and Victor E. Price, '06, acted as judges.

Whitman's Opinion

The Whitman College Pioneer has the following to say in its write-up of Idaho's 11 to 0 victory:

"Idaho has a fast but by no means a light team, and they play football every minute of the time. Idaho's men are adapted to the new game, and they have developed a style of their own in playing it. The much heralded 'Idaho sweep' again worked just as it did against W. S. C. Their team work was perfect. The whole team worked together and every man worked his best in every play.

"Whitman had a sort of an off day. The forward pass was nearly always disastrous, our drop-kicks went wild, and the team did not seem to 'get into the game' the way it has in other games this year. Whitman could not work open football against Idaho, and had to resort to the old straight football."

Minister Talks

Rev. A. A. Luce, of the Moscow M. E. church, addressed the assembly last Wednesday, on "The Power of Association." He argued that character is influenced much more strongly by association than by heredity, and urged the importance of forming wise friendships in college. In such friendships, he declared, there is the duty to give, as well as the privilege of receiving benefits.

The assembly was opened by a vocal solo by Olive Perkins and was closed by a short yell practice.

Biologists Meet

The Biology club held a meeting Friday night at the home of Prof. J. M. Aldrich on west Sixth street. Three new members, W. K. Gwin, Mabel Sweet and M. V. B. Barney, were taken into the organization. A varied and interesting entertainment was provided. W. K. Gwin showed a number of photographs illustrative of his two weeks stay last summer at the Marine Laboratory of the University of Washington at Friday Harbor, Wash. Mabel Sweet played the piano, Prof. Aldrich rendered some selections on the violin and a reading was given by Mrs. G. H. Maughn. A sumptuous feed was served before the party broke up.

T. D. Matthews, '07, is visiting relatives and college friends in Moscow. While in college Mr. Matthews was prominent in athletics, being for several years a member of the track team.

Miss Ruth Hess, after a three weeks' siege of typhoid fever at the hospital, has recovered sufficiently to be removed to the Dormitory. She will attend classes in a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Linden, who are in charge of the cooking department of Ridenbaugh Hall, spent several days of last week in Sprague, Washington, where they attended the funeral of Mr. Linden's brother.

Special attention paid to the student trade by Hegge, the barber.

The sophomore cookery class is preparing a huge banquet for the Moguls of the University, to be given on the Saturday following Thanksgiving. Florence Sprague has been given charge of the arrangements.

W. F. Zumhoff, one of Idaho's staunchest supporters, has made a beautiful souvenir to be presented to the football team just before leaving for Seattle. It consists of a shoe worn by "Nancy Hanks" at the time she made her record. Enclosed by the circle of the shoe are the letters U. of I.

Some of the old pioneers of the city were somewhat surprised Thursday when they saw a large crowd of boys and girls congregating on Third street. On investigation it was learned, however, that the fourth year preps were having their pictures taken for the '09 Annual, so that no serious complications were brought about.

One bad phase of the faculty's little innovation by which the Bursar holds and deals out the funds of the A. S. U. I. is that it will make it difficult to secure candidates for the A. S. U. I. treasurership. There was little enough competition for the office under the old regime but, now that the privilege of guarding the shekels is removed from that office, there is much doubt whether anybody can be induced to take it.

The Czar sprang one of the surprises of the season Wednesday morning at assembly period when, acting under the Dean's instructions, he made a raid on the Ag. building for the purpose of creating a movement toward the assembly room. He was eminently successful in his work and succeeded in bringing forth from the dark corners of the building quite a number of students who were yearning to study. Many couples, happily lodged in some favorite nook, were rudely awakened from their dreams and sent hurrying over to the gymnasium. Now if we had somebody to see that the faculty attended occasionally all would work well!

The Kappa Phi Alpha fraternity gave a smoker Wednesday evening in honor of William E. Lee, '03, who left for Washington, D. C. on Thursday, where he will resume his duties as private secretary to Senator Bacon of Georgia. While in the University Mr. Lee made an enviable record as a debater and orator. He was one of Idaho's representatives on seven different debate teams—a record unequalled by any student. He was on two teams against Whitman, two against W. S. C., two against Utah and one opposed to the University of Washington. Most of these contests resulted in victories for Idaho. In oratory Mr. Lee represented Idaho in the Inland Empire League and in the Inter-State League.

Scholarships For Women

The Society of American Women in London has offered two scholarships in English Universities to American Women. The holders of these honors will be appointed under the auspices of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. One of these is worth fully $1500 and lasts for two years. The successful candidate may study in the University of Oxford, Cambridge or London. Candidates from the District of Columbia are given preference in obtaining this. The other scholarship which is good for three years, is also worth $1500.

Any student who has completed her sophomore year in a recognized college is eligible. The committee of selection of the General Federation of Women's clubs determines the University where the scholarship shall be held.

The examinations will be those given in January, 1908, by the Rhodes scholarship trust in Latin, Greek and Mathematics. The purpose of these examinations is qualifying, the element of competition being barred. From those who qualify, the above named committee will select the successful candidates.

Classical Club

The regular fortnightly meeting of the Classical Club was held in Morrill Hall Wednesday night. The program consisted of papers on Roman Architecture by Frank P. Stewart and Daisy E. Mason. Mr. Stewart treated the characteristic styles of Roman public buildings and Miss Mason the plans of dwelling houses. A general discussion followed. Dr. Axtell and Mr. Sage, the prime movers in the work of the society, have both spent considerable time in Rome and are able to give many interesting facts about remains of classical Rome.

Team Working

The Varsity debate team which will meet W. S. C. is working hard on the question, delving into the books on the subject and holding practice debates. December 13 has been finally decided upon as the date for the contest. One judge has been selected and correspondence relative to the other two is now being carried on.

Notice

The business manager of the "Gem of the Mountains," '09, announces that all class pictures for the annual must be taken by December 1. Individual pictures will be required of members of the sophomore, junior and senior classes, and groups of the freshmen and the preparatory school,

ABOUT STATE UNIVERSITIES

Carnegie Foundation Issues Interesting Bulletin

State Universities Have Had Remarkable Growth. Idaho's Showing

The first bulletin of the Carnegie foundation, which is concerned with the admission of state university professors to the retiring allowances from the fund provided by Andrew Carnegie, presents some interesting facts about the growth and importance of state universities. The total number is thirty nine. Of these Ohio has three, so that there are thirty seven states supporting universities.

The oldest of the thirty nine universities is the University of Georgia, which was established in 1785. In an adjoining state, Florida, is the youngest, the University of Florida dating only from 1904. Five of the state universities rank as among the largest educational institutions in the country. They are Wisconsin, with an enrollment of 3571; Minnesota, with 3955; Illinois, attended by 4074 students; Michigan, with a registration of 4136; and California, which leads with an enrollment of 4173. These figures and the others in the bulletin are for the college year 1906-7.

Comparison of Idaho's standing with that of others on the list brings out some interesting facts. With an instructing staff of 45 Idaho is ahead of fourteen of her sister universities. She outstrips seven in her total enrollment, which was last year 363, and twelve have less students in the college department. Idaho's annual receipts in 1906 ($96,537) were greater than those of thirteen other state universities. No state university sets any higher entrance requirements than Idaho, while twenty five of the thirty nine admit students to the freshman class for a less amount of high school credits.

Idaho's faculty and instructors numbered 45 in 1906-7 while there were 363 students in attendance and 231 in the college department. The following are the figures for neighboring universities: Montana—instructing staff, 23; total enrollment, 289; college students, 145; Utah—instructing staff, 92; total enrollment, 1063; college students 203; Oregon—instructing staff, 79; total enrollment, 506; college students 369; Washington—instructing staff, 79; total enrollment, 925; college students, 709.

W. S. C. SOPHS' BIG COUP

Class of 1910 Springs a Surprise On the Pullman Freshies

Vol. '11, No. '11 of the Evergreen, the Washington State College student paper, appeared November 15 with a table of contents that made the State College freshies sit up and look around with tears in their eyes. The issue is published by the sophomore class. It is of regular eight page size. From cover to cover its pages are devoted to sophomoric tributes to the first year students. The editorial column purports to be written by the freshies, but it is difficult to believe, in the light of the following extract, that the class of 1911 had much to do with it: "It's no more than right that us freshies be walked upon and kicked. We know we can't learn no sense unless it is kicked into us and we want the co-operation of all wise sophomores to kick sense into us. If they will line up, we will give them club rates at kicking. They tied us up in fine shape the other night, and we know they can wind us around their fingers."

Bostonia Sextette

The lecture course to be conducted this winter at the M. E. church will open tomorrow evening with the appearance of the Bostonia Sextette Club accompanied by Melva Clemaire, soprano. The single admission for this program is $1.00. Students securing season tickets now will be able to hear this and the other four numbers of the course for $2.00, and this will include also the right to reserve a seat for the entire course. Season tickets are selling very rapidly, so that it will be practically necessary to secure tickets now in order to be assured of a good seat.

The Bostonia Sextette Club is expected to furnish an evening's entertainment of the highest order. Mr. Staats, the director and clarinet virtuoso, is an artist of international reputation and experience, having played in the leading musical organizations in Europe and America. He has filled the position of first clarinet in the Royal Italian Opera, Her Majesty's Theatre, London, at the "Jardin d'Acclimation," Paris, and at the great Casino in Ostend, Belgium. Here in the United States he is the most noted clarinetist on the concert stage, having played solo clarinet in Sousa's Band and for years been a prominent member of the Boston Symphony Orchestra. As a soloist he is today without a rival and is the only clarinetist devoting his time to solo playing in high class concerts.

The members of the Club are all artists of wide experience and great ability, making the organization today without a rival from an artistic standpoint and the program, which is both novel and interesting, consists of solos for clarinet, violin and cello, numbers for strings alone, as well as brilliant selections by the entire Club. Mme. Melva Clemaire will appear with the Club at every concert.
