WASHINGTON BEST IN MUD

Clam Diggers not Bothered by the Palouse Mud

Take Farical Game After Nine Slow Innings on a Wet and Slippery Diamond

The Washington baseball team took the one game to be played between the two Varsity teams last Saturday. The weather man, who seems to hold the fate of the Idaho team in the palm of his hand, tried to "slip one over" on the Sounders, but he handed out just what suited them. They took to the mud like a duck to water and proved to be the best wallowers.

The game although slow had a few interesting features. One was the way the Idaho boys clouted the ball. They secured fourteen hits off Hughes' delivery and nearly every one was a clean, hard drive. Appleman and Magee did the best sticking for Idaho. Gus secured three corking singles, while Captain "Doc" had a single, a sacrifice and a three sacker to his credit.

For Washington Teats and Tegtmier were the consistent wielders of the club. Most of Washington's hits were the result of the muddy field; seldom did they secure a clean single.

Hansen pitched the first six innings for Idaho and struck out seven. Burley finished out the game and made a promising debut. Kettenbaugh caught a nice game and came in with two timely hits. The infielders had difficulty in throwing the slippery ball and insisted on beating Curtiss' shins to a pulp.

Washington's stars were Ellis, Teats and Hughes. Ellis had five assists and two putouts without a slip, and Teats had six putouts in center field. Hughes was as cool as a northern iceberg, in spite of the greasy day. He walked only one man and his steadiness was responsible for the victory.

The lineup:

Washington	position	Idaho
Rihl	c	Kettenbaugh
Hughes	p	Hansen, Burley
Clementson	1b	Curtiss
Hammerland	2b	Slack
Brown	2b	Lundstrum
Ellis	ss	Sempert
Tegtmier	lf	Appleman
Teats	cf	Magee

Idaho Men in Carving Scrape

A short time ago Homer Tilley, an old Idaho student and athlete, was operated on for hernia by Dr. Carrol Smith, an Idaho graduate. Tilley was for many years a famous football player at Idaho and since leaving college has made quite a record as an amateur wrestler. Dr. Carrol Smith graduated in 1901. He then received his M. D. and located in Spokane. He was manager of Idaho's first championship football team.

It is gratifying to the friends of both Mr. Tilley and Dr. Smith to learn that they are doing well and coming into close touch with each other after college days.

Miss Tessie Simpson, '06, arrived here from Boston Sunday evening.

Students Labor on New Athletic Field Next Monday

Next Monday morning at 8 o'clock every able bodied man in the University will be due at the new athletic field near the junction of W. 6th street and the railway tracks, for the student labor day. Special action by the faculty made this day possible and it will be unjust to shirk the duty of putting in the required amount of labor in an effort to fit the field for the Montana meet. The athletic field committee will have complete charge of all arrangements, provide tools and direct the work. It is rumored that the coeds will provide some form of refreshments for the workers. Whether they do or not, no student should stay away from the field next Monday.

Edmundson Wins

Clarence Edmundson, Idaho's premier distance man, won the eight hundred meter race and received second in the 400 meter, at the Olympic tryouts last Saturday. Edmundson beat Glarner, the Olympic Athletic Club star, holder of the coast record in the 800 meter. In the 400 meter the southerners entered a host of candidates and boxed him so that the best he could do was second. Glarner took this race. The 800 meter is 5.6 yards short of one half mile. This was run in 1:59. The 400 was won in the slow time of 51.1.

By winning Saturday Edmundson becomes a member of the western team that tryout in Chicago for the Olympian team. Winners of first and second places go to Chicago, but after college is closed he will train only for the 880, since this is considered his best race.

MUSICAL PROGRAMS

Preliminary and Graduation Recitals to be Given Within Next Three Weeks

A musical treat is in store for students and patrons of the university during the next two weeks. Under the management of Prof. Cogswell several artistic programs will be rendered.

On the evening of May 13 will be given a junior preliminary recital by Miss Ruth Broman, pianist. Miss Broman will be ably assisted by Walker R. Young, violinist. Miss Broman is an able and brilliant performer and gives promise of being among the best performers that have graduated from the Idaho Department of Music. All lovers of music are cordially invited to attend. At the gymnasium at 8 o'clock.

On Wednesday evening, May 20, Miss Anna Kiefer will give a junior recital, assisted by her sister, Miss Minnie Kiefer. Both young ladies are favorably known for their musical ability in Varsity circles. A pleasant and entertaining evening is in store for all who attend.

A novelty in the way of musical programs will be rendered on May 23. The program will be given by four sophomore girls.

Miss Sadie Stockton will give her graduation recital on Wednesday evening, May 27.

Donald S. Whitehead, '07, of Boise, is visiting university friends for a few days.

Pacific Northwest Conference.

The local Y. M. C. A. is now beginning to look forward seriously to the matter of working up a delegation to attend the annual Pacific Northwest Conference of the Y. M. C. A.. This year the conference is to be held at Hotel Breakers, Long Beach, Washington, June 13-21, 1908. It has formerly been held at Gearhart Park, Oregon, a short distance down the coast from Portland, but this year the old place was unavailable. The new place, however, is said to be even a more pleasant pleasure resort than the old.

A special conference committee has been appointed in the University Y. M. C. A. composed of all the men in college who have been to Gearhart in former years, and they are making a canvass for men to go this year. The Association has a good fund to begin working on and with this and what they may collect they hope to have money enough to lend to all who may wish to go. Plans are being laid for bringing the matter before the student body. Mr. Neil McMillan, student secretary of the International Committee is to be in Moscow in a couple of weeks and will address an open meeting of students. It is also intended to have an informal feed some night while he is here, at which any and all who are in any way interested will be welcome. This feed will come shortly after six and will take the place of dinner for all who attend.

This conference is famous among the students of the Northwest for its leaders. Many men in no way connected with Y. M. C. A. work have attended for the purpose of meeting men who have a world wide reputation. The students of the University of Idaho have had the pleasure of meeting one man who will be among the leaders this year, Rev. John M. Dean, of Seattle, and they know what to expect from such a man. Besides Dean, the Conference will this year have Rev. W. H. Faulkes of Portland, and three men from the International Committee at New York, City.

Prep. Field Meet

The preparatory department will hold a track meet with the Colfax High team Saturday, May 16, at 2:30 p. m. at the new athletic field if possible; otherwise it will be held at the Ball Park. Colfax won second place in the Whitman county meet and will make the Preps. hustle to win. This will be the only Prep. meet here this season. A large patronage is hoped for.

Meet your friends at the Hotel Moscow Barber Shop.

W. S. C.'S WAIL

State College Finds Fault With Triangular System of Track Meet

The May 5 issue of the Washington State College "Evergreen" contains a surprising account of the triangular track meet of May 2. The State College paper is dissatisfied with the triangular meet idea as it worked out, at Pullman week before last. It is averred that in dual meets W. S. C. could have defeated either Whitman or Idaho. Taking the places made by W. S. C. and Whitman and leaving Idaho out of the calculation, the "Evergreen" contends that the Pullman athletes would have defeated the Missionaries by a score of 64 to 58.

The write-up of the meet is headed "Stars of Whitman and Idaho Work Together and Prevent Washington State Winning big meet." Part of the article reads: "Johnson for W. S. C. could easily have spruced up and taken first in the 880 run, so far as Whitman was concerned, but Edmundson of Idaho did not see it that way. He claimed first in this event in the not very remarkable time of 2:01 4-5; and this makes the W. S. C. track contingent with that Thomle, the "Old Faithful" had been there to repeat his record of 2:01 1-5. The mile was as much of a frost as could occur on a day in May. Edmundson of Idaho trotted across the chalk-line in 4:46, with Johnson in his rear, the latter already having a record of 4:35 in this event.

"Where Idaho was not present to stop the W. S. C. athletes from winning over Whitman, Whitman protected the former. Idaho's sprinters were not in it when the 220-yard dash was run, but Martin for Whitman was, and Heinie Meyer had to accept second place... Early in the meet it became evident that where Idaho was weak Whitman was strong, and where Whitman would have lost to W. S. C., Idaho could win. So the local athletes were 'boxed in' in a manner so aggravating that at times it was almost funny."

English Club in Benefit Performance for '09 "Gem of The Mountains"

The English Club is preparing to present a play "The Right Idea," on Wednesday, May 20, in the city opera house.

This is a musical comedy in two acts written by Constance Henderson, '09, and is given for the benefit of the junior annual. There are five full choruses as follows: Tennis, Muckers, Senior, Return to College, and Cadet.

Dr. Moore is training the actors and Mr. Tull is leading the choruses and Robert St. Clair, '09, business manager of the annual, is looking after the financial end.

As a result of a successful operation on his foot which was suffering from a threatened case of blood poison, L. A. Hunting of the University track squad, is able to resume training for the mile.

BRANCH OUT IN ORATORY?
 "At the annual conference of the intercollegiate oratorical association, held at Pullman May 2, the following officers were elected for the coming year: Miss Fern Healy of W. S. C., president; Mr. Peddicord of O. A. C., vice-president; Mr. P. P. Brainard of Whitman, secretary.

A request from Willamette to be admitted to the association was considered. Before it was acted upon, however, the Whitman representative proposed that an effort should be made to unite the two present organizations, the State University league and our own. This would make a "big six" league, including the large institutions of the northwest. The matter was thoroughly discussed and the secretary was instructed to negotiate with the State Universities in regard to such a league. In case it were formed, Willamette would apply to the new organization for membership and if the combination fails, Willamette would be admitted to the present association."—Whitman College Pioneer.

Idaho was formerly a member of the oratorical league now composed of Whitman, W. S. C. and Willamette. The University withdrew chiefly because it was believed that the task of participating in two annual intercollegiate contests was too great, considering the small amount of interest displayed in oratory by Idaho students. Another reason for withdrawing was the trouble connected with negotiating with six institutions for the selection of judges every year etc. It is not known what action the debate council will take regarding this proposed "big six" in oratory, but the members of the council are likely to be influenced by the reasons just stated, which have lost little of their force. Oratory as a field of intercollegiate competition, seems to be decidedly on the wane in popularity, and it is very inadvisable to continue or increase our responsibility along a line in which there is little or no undergraduate interest manifested.

A STATE UNIVERSITY CREED

Whitman College has recently sent out to presidents of many universities throughout the country a set of questions designed to throw light on the advisability of a movement to multiply the scope and efficiency of Whitman's work. It is the design of the ones who sent out the questions to get the support of business men throughout the Northwest and launch a campaign for a $2,000,000 endowment for the Walla Walla institution. Everyone interested in higher education in the Northwest will hope for Whitman's success, since the raising of such an endowment will place one of the Northwest's private institutions in a position of sufficient financial strength to enable it to fulfil much better than at present its proper mission.

One of the questions sent out by the promoters of the "new Whitman" is of special interest to state university students. It is discussed here, of course, without special reference to conditions in the Northwest. It is "Are the educational needs of a community best served by (a) state institutions only; (b) privately endowed institutions only; (c) both types in conjunction? Why? It is difficult to say that, at present, either type should monopolize the field. Certainly the state institutions should do so, unless the private institutions approach a respectable degree of efficiency in their work. State universities have an assured financial support and are able to guarantee effective work, while many private colleges and so-called universities are in the opposite position. It is an educational crime for an institution with a puny financial support and a miserable handful of professors working for charity to set itself up as a college or university. It is doing something far worse than obtaining money under false pretenses. It is obtaining live boys and girls as students under false pretenses, starving their minds through four or more years of mediocre instruction, and finally foisting upon them a degree that is a hollow mockery. In a territory where the private institutions are consistently of this type, certainly the state universities and colleges deserve a monopoly of the field. But in many sections of the country privately endowed colleges of worthy rank make a revision of this judgement necessary.

In such cases,—where the two types are so nearly on the same level as to permit of accurate comparison—which does the better work and is he more likely to survive? If we consider the chief aim of popular education, under a republican form of government, it seems likelier that the state universities and colleges will excel. The aim of popular education is to create an efficient citizenship and so conserve the government's welfare. In achieving this aim, the state institution has two advantages. First, its endowment and maintenance by the state compels it to pay constant attention to the promotion of the public welfare. The professors in a state university realize acutely that they are not the servants of any sect or any portion of the people, but of the whole public whose taxes pay their salaries. The graduates of a state institution realize acutely that their education has been given to them not by some philanthropist or combination of philanthropists, but by the state itself. To the state, therefore, they owe an immense debt which it will take a lifetime of unselfish public-service to repay. Second, the state university is essentially unbiased and has but one point of view in its work—that of the public welfare. This is not always so of private institutions. In their positions regarding the great questions of industrial combination, capital and labor, etc.—questions which do and will for some time dominate public interest,—many private institutions must have an eye for the convictions of their wealthy friends. Chicago keeps discreetly silent concerning the industrial crimes of Standard Oil, and Syracuse, in the person of her chancellor, takes up weapons of doubtful logic and sallies forth boldly in Rockefeller's defense. When the warfare for industrial righteousness reaches its height, the brunt of the states' battle is likely to rest not upon men educated in the shadow of such equivocation but rather upon those whom the state has trained in its own institutions for its own preservation.

The W. S. C. "Evergreen" predicts some hard nuts for Idaho to crack in the meet with the University of Montana on May 23. Malcolmson of the Missouri squad is slated to give Ed-son the race of his life in the 440 yard dash. The "Evergreen" believes that Idaho's captain will have to break a record to win the half-mile from Montana's star, Maloney, who is an ex-Michigan runner with a record under 2 minutes.

No-Ball Trip

The baseball trip which was to have been taken by the team this week was called off on account of not being able to make satisfactory arrangements. The team was disappointed after its month of planning, but will take its spite out on the next team that comes to Moscow.

The boys are in fine fettle now and are playing excellent ball. The lineup has been materially changed. Lundstrum has been sent to third, Slack placed at second, and Sempert at short. This combination seems much stronger. Slack's throwing arm is better for second while "Dutch" does not get so excited in the short field. Fritz seems to be at home any old place while Curtis couldn't play rotten if he wanted to. Case's knee is nearly well and with his return to the game the team will be stronger than at any time this season.

A. S. U. I. Election

The date for the election of A. S. U. I. officers and debate council members has been changed from Friday to Thursday. The change is made on account of the difficulty that would be experienced in getting out a full vote on Friday, when most of the students will be busy at the athletic field in student labor day activities.

Enthusiastic Rally

A large number of enthusiastic students gathered at the Gynnasium Wednesday evening and took part in a rally that made the upper classes think of old times.

Prof. Cogswell had charge and in his request Estel Hunter acted as yeo leader. Everyone did his part well. Music was furnished by the University band; the men's glee club, the mandolin club and the male quartette; and short speeches were made by Prof. Soulen, Edgett, Lukens, Hunter, Curtis, Burley, Jellick and Capt. Horton. These speeches were full of enthusiasm and showed that Idaho spirit is of the lasting variety.

These rallies do a great deal of good to everyone who attends them and the student or professor who can't "take out time" for a rally had better retire from active life and go some place where they don't "do things."

Students' Assembly

The first feature of the assembly was the nomination of officers for the A. S. U. I. for the year 1908-09. All of these nominations show careful consideration and Idaho is sure to have good officers again next year.

The question of revising the constitution was brought up and discussed by Hunter, Burley and Holman. It was decided that all the changes in the constitution should be posted and voted on at the next meeting of the A. S. U. I.

In order to hasten the preparation of our new athletic field a students' labor day was deemed advisable and the students petitioned the faculty for one, to be allowed next Friday.

 W. W. Stokely, '10, was elected manager of the Club Boarding House last Saturday.

The junior annuals were shipped from the bindery in Spokane Tuesday of this week.

Prof. E. M. Hulme delivered the commencement address at the Kellogg High school graduating exercises last Friday.

Prof. Eldridge returned Thursday evening from a tour of the secondary schools of this and Nez Perce counties. The principal schools visited were Genesee, Lewiston Normal and Lewiston High School.

Prof. Philip Soulen was in Pullman on Saturday, May 2, as judge in the oratorical contest between Whitman, W. S. C. and O. A. C. The winner of the contest was J. G. Schroeder of O. A. C., who spoke on the "Call of Nature."

Committees have been appointed for the senior ball which is to be given June 5 or 6. The chairmen are as follows: music, W. R. Young; refreshments, Peter Bryden and C. R. Burley; decorations, F. E. Lukens; patronesses, B. D. Mudgett.

The '09 annual is expected from the bindery this week. Both as to general appearance and contents it surpasses any that has yet been published at this institution. The jokes and cartoons are all original and well selected. The other departments also show that the editors have been determined to give to the students a high class publication. The volume deserves the united support of the students and no one should feel satisfied until he has added one of these annuals to his stock of college souvenirs.

Dance Saturday Night

The third year preparatory students will entertain at a dance next Saturday night at the Elks' Temple in honor of the members of the graduating class of the preparatory school. Dancing will begin at 8 o'clock. The party has been thrown open to all members of the university. College students are invited to attend. The price of admission will be $1.

Elect A. S. U. I. Officers

The annual election of officers of the Associated Students and of six members of the University debate council comes next Friday, May 15. The polls will be open in Morrill Hall from 10 a. m. until 2 p. m. All students are entitled to vote. The nominees, as named at the student assembly last Wednesday are as follows: For officers of the A. S. U. I.—president, Frank Magee, S. L. Savidge, J. D. Matthews; vice president, R. O. Jones, Frank Noble; secretary, Oran Howard, Edna Dewey; treasurer, L. Arthur Hunting, Charles Colver. For members of the debate council (six to be chosen)—R. O. Jones, W. K. Gwin, J. D. Matthews, Charles Colver, Herbert Wadsworth, Ira Tweedy, Charles Watts, Quinn Wilson, Rowe Holman. All of the nominees for officers of the A. S. U. I. will be seniors next year with the exception of Edna Dewey, candidate for secretary. Four juniors are nominated for the debate council, in addition to one sophomore, two freshmen, and two fourth year seniors, who will be freshmen next year.

THETA MU BANQUET

Fraternity Entertains in Honor of Senior Members and Rhodes Scholar

Theta Mu Epsilon gave its second annual banquet at the Hotel Moscow last Friday evening. The banquet was in honor of R. W. Claye, Guy Holman, F. E. Lukens, B. D. Mudgett, and B. L. Williams, the senior members of the fraternity, and G. H. Curtis, '09, Rhodes scholar elect for 1908. Twenty-one active members, Donald S. Whitehead, '07, representing the alumni, and Dr. C. A. Peters, the faculty member, were the hosts.

The dining room of the Moscow was decorated with a profusion of college pennants, flowers, streamers of the fraternity color, Yale blue, and appropriate emblems. Sterner's orchestra provided excellent music. In the course of the evening there were a number of toasts. F. R. Smith served as toastmaster.

On the day of the triangular track meet in Pullman, May 2, J. M. Simpson, '08, and Miss Linnie Jeffries, ex-'08, were united in marriage. The license was procured at Colfax on the morning of May 2 and the ceremony was performed in Pullman. The couple are at present living at the home of Mr. Simpson's parents, on Deakin Avenue. Mr. Simpson is one of the leading members of the present senior class, having served the student body as football manager last fall and as chairman of the committee which consummated the deal for the new athletic field. Miss Jeffries' home is at Weiser. She was with the class of '08 until this winter, when she left the University to teach school near Palouse. She was a popular member of her class while in college. To both persons the Argonaut extends congratulations.
