NEXT FRIDAY

W. S. C. Game Pivotal One in Series—Idaho has Fighting Chance to Win

After all Idaho's football season is a success if she can defeat W. S. C. in the annual game, and this game is the next one on the schedule, to be played Nov. 13.

The game is called for 2:30 on Roger's Field in Pullman and the special train will leave Moscow over the Northern Pacific promptly at one o'clock Friday afternoon.

This game means much to Idaho. It means that she will either foot the list among the colleges of the Northwest or that she will rank among the leaders. To win this game every man, woman and child that has the Idaho spirit or the Idaho interests at heart will be there and help the team.

Excursion tickets over the Northern Pacific and admission tickets to the game will be on sale at Hodgins' drug store all day Wednesday and Thursday. Those who can should buy them on one of these days as they will avoid a long delay at the depot and after they arrive in Pullman.

On paper W. S. C. should win this game. She won from Spokane Y. M. C. A. 33-0 as compared with Idaho's 31-0. She defeated the Navy team 44-0 as compared with Idaho's 34-0. W. S. C. played the U. of W. a 6-6 game and Washington won from Whitman 6-0 who in turn defeated Idaho 11-0. So from comparative scores the contest this year rightfully belongs to W. S. C. But no supporter of the Silver and Gold ever did or ever will grant a victory to our friends across the line before the contest. Idaho has had two hard games within a week of one another together with a hard trip to Walla Walla. Some of her best players are in poor condition having received injuries which may keep them out of the game. But despite these facts we feel that Washington State College will have more than a practice game next Friday. Idaho spirit has won and can win again. Moscow will be stirred up and transported bodily to Pullman next week and we doubt not will come back with a plum or two.

Fraternity Smoker

Kappa Sigma was entertained by Theta Mu Epsilon on Tuesday last by an informal smoker and feed. The evening was spent in a delightful manner—cards, songs, and yells all having a turn.

The election returns were phoned to the house as soon as they were received in town. A unique feature of the refreshments was a typical frontier bar over which cider was served.

The subject for the Bennett Prize paper this year will be "The work of the Second Hague Conference." The prize money in the interest occurring from the gift of Mr. Bennett with W. J. Bryan as administrator, which has been placed at interest by the University and the proceeds are devoted to stimulating the study of government. The competition is open to all students.

WHITMAN DEFEATS VARSITY TEAM

Over Confidence Gives Annual Contest to Missionaries. Idaho Playing was ragged.

In a game that clearly illustrates the effect that over confidence can have on a team, the University of Idaho went down to defeat to the team of Whitman College at Walla Walla last Friday. The score was 11 to 0 in favor of Whitman and they earned every point of it. The game was free from flukes.

The Idaho team, the Idaho rooters, and in fact the entire Pacific Northwest believed that Idaho had a walkaway and the Whitman team itself went into the game resolved to keep the score as low as possible. They went into the game with the same spirit that the Idaho team went into the Pullman game with last year. Though Whitman won, it was not through especially brilliant playing on her part, but on account of the lack of team work and ordinary football sense of the Idaho team.

Eye witnesses of the game remarked that Idaho's team played as if they were drugged. No one man can be blamed for the defeat. The whole team was to blame with the possible exception of Pauls, Stokesberry and Elton. Elton replaced Hays at tackle shortly after the game started and stopped all line plunges through his side of the line. Stokesberry was playing the game as was Pauls, and Jewell showed better form than in the game of the week before. Johnson fumbled four punts in the deep field in the first half but redeemed himself by his brilliant returns of those he did catch. Savidge played the game, brilliantly at times, in fact the whole team was playing the game but playing it individually with an utter disregard for team work.

Whitman made one touchdown in the first half after twelve minutes of play by means of a well executed forward pass and line bucks and kicked the goal. The balance of the game was almost entirely in Idaho's territory.

At the beginning of the second half everyone looked for a change. They expected to see Idaho wake up, and she did for a time, and right here was seen what Idaho could do. By means of a long forward pass to Savidge and line bucks Idaho carried the ball to Whitman's nine yard line and in two attempts had it on her one yard line. Thornton was called upon to carry it over but fumbled and Whitman recovered the ball and kicked out of danger.

Whitman made her other score from an onside kick, their left half recovering the ball and carrying it 25 yards for a touchdown. They failed to kick goal.

Idaho again showed a burst of what she could do and carried the ball to Whitman's thirty yard line. Montgomery was called upon for a place kick but the ball missed the upright about six inches. It was a hard one to kick, being at a difficult angle. Neither side had another chance to score and the half and game ended with the ball in Idaho's possession on her own 15 yard line.

Idaho Club at Whitman

The football team is loud in its praises of the reception received at the hands of the Whitman Idaho club. The boys were given a royal welcome in the dormitory after the game, which fact helped the bitter pill of defeat to go down more easily. The Club members about 50 or 60 and has an enviable ability at entertaining.

Faculty Ramble

About twenty members of the faculty took advantage of the vacation last Tuesday and journeyed to Moscow Mountain for a little outing. A dozen or more rode horse back while the more sedate went in a carry all. On arriving at the foot of the mountain all dismounted and climbed the wooded hill, some claiming to have reached the summit. After a hearty supper they returned home, all reporting an excellent trip.

The preparatory Students gave a reception and dance for the Lewiston High school football team at Eggan's hall last Saturday night. About fifty couples attended and report a fine time.

Faculty Frolic at Joel

Of late weeks the city of Joel has gained such a name as a pleasure resort, that a hay rack load of faculty went thither last Friday night for an informal dance. Songs, yells, and speeches, kept things lively going and coming, while the renowned Joel orchestra furnished entertainment at the other end. Anyone who doubts that Idaho has a live faculty has but to witness one of these social events and even the most pessimistic will be converted.

IDAHO'S GREAT SCHOOL OF MINES

New Equipment Now Installed Department Plans Exhibition Day

The University of Idaho can well be proud of its mining and metallurgy buildings, which with their equipment represent an outlay of about $50,000.

The metallurgy building is one of the best of its kind in the country, and altho it is large enough to hold several times as much equipment as is now in it, nearly all of the machines commonly used in the mills of the northwest are represented by the present equipment. The twelve storage bins will together hold several car-loads of ore, and there are belt-conveyors, crushers, and elevators for delivering the ore to the two-thousand-pound stamps and the concentrating machines. The latter include a Wilfley, and a card table, a Frue vanner, and two sets of jigs.

The seniors in mining have been working hard this fall to get all of the mill in running order. This work is nearly completed now, and a visitor's day is planned for some time this semester when students and townspeople may see the mill in operation. This ought to be a very interesting sight, especially to any one who have never been in a mining camp.

Be an Orator

The debate council has definitely decided on December 18 as the date for this year's Watkin's Oratorical. Heretofore all of these contests have been held in the spring, and as a result not enough preparation has been put in on the oration. It is thought, then, by changing the date to December that there will be more thorough, earnest work on the part of the contestants and consequently a better representative in the inter-state contest. Idaho's record in oratory with the universities of Oregon and Washington has been woefully weak when compared with her brilliant work in debate with the same colleges. It is rather painful to note that in the last ten years the men representing Idaho have won but one first, two or three seconds and have brought up the rear in all the rest of these forensic battles. Oregon and Washington have maintained their high position in oratory by having their representative spend months and months in hard work on the themes. It has been demonstrated again and again that a week's study means a weak oration.

It is hoped this year that a good, hard tryout will be held in which there are several contestants and plenty of competition. As yet, however, but one or two men have signified any intention of entering. This doesn't look favorable and don't indicate that there will be any change in the old, old program when we meet Washington and Oregon next May. Hunt up some subject and get busy—there is time enough yet. Talk the problem over with your favorite professor, get his ideas, go to writing let your thoughts run to sentences and paragraphs. We MUST have more students in the Watkin's Oratorical this year!

THE BIENNIAL HOWL

The biennial student voting howl is in the air. In as much as both parties looked for student support before the election, no protest was made. But now when a certain candidate is defeated and surmises that the students voted for his rival, an alumnus of the University, he immediately begins action to prohibit college men and women from exercising their rights as free, thinking citizens. It would be just as logical for Mr. Bryan to prosecute the American people because they voted for Mr. Taft, and much more appropriate in view of the relative importance of the two offices, as for the unsuccessful candidate for county surveyor to attempt to keep the students of the University from casting their ballots.

Our politics need men big enough to take defeat gracefully, and not persons whose only qualification is an unlimited capacity to howl when unsuccessful.

A Communication

Editor Argonaut:

There has been much said on college spirit lately in our assemblies and rallies. I have repeatedly heard it said that we have no college spirit. Is that correct? I think not. There are few, if any, of us who do not love the school which we attend. There are few of us who are not willing to give of our time and our money to her. Is this not clearly demonstrated by our labor day of last fall, by our turning out one and all to gather wood for the fires, by our voting two extra assessments in two years toward the upbuilding of our institution. Did you ever hear any one make a remark of any kind, to Senior or Freshman, about another school being a better institution and see whether our student body is not loyal? Is there one of us that does not feel proud that he is an Idaho student when he reads or sings that beautiful and familiar Step song:

"By the moonbeams touched with beauty,
Stands our hero true,
Emblem strong in faith and duty,
Gazing toward the mountains blue."

This is an Idaho song and it will ever live in our hearts. It means much to us because we are acquainted with that statue and its history. We grieve for those whose lives were lost; but do we not rejoice that they were our older classmates? I think we have college spirit and plenty of it. Truly we have little factional differences at times, but all in all are we not working to the one end; to "make good" and to uphold and honor that beautiful pennant which stands for Idaho?

Mr. Editor, I believe truly that what we need is not more college spirit but unity. A few days ago I had the pleasure of listening to the Metropolitan Quartette at Pullman. While waiting for the performance to begin I saw a united student body. They did not sing anything very classical. In fact, the most classical selection was "The bear went over the mountain." It was not what they sang but what they ALL sang. Someone sang "Baby dear," and no fewer than a hundred voices sang the remainder. "Listen here, I'm afraid to come home in the dark." This illustrates what I wish to say. Let us have leaders. Let us stay with them. If one person suggests a course that will unify us, let us take it up and not wait to see if it will be popular. Let us make it popular by going into it with all our souls. Our president at last assembly suggested a plan that might be well to use. Perhaps there are better plans for a smaller institution. If you have them, let's hear them. We might adopt Oxford's plan of Commons, or we might have one night a month to meet at the "gym" or on the campus in spring, and have a college rally, sing songs, hear some of the unwritten history of the past or our school, hear of our athletics and debates. Let us become acquainted and be one united body. Let us not hear "Our set and your set." Let us know that "In unity there is strength." I am

Respectfully yours,
Arthur R. Thomas.

Freshmen Lose to Blair

The freshmen lost their opening game of football to Blair Business College at Spokane last Saturday by a score of 10 to 0. This was the first game by them this year, but considering the small amount of practice they have had, they played an exceptionally good game.

During the first half of the game the ball was in Blair's territory for a large portion of the time. Time after time the freshmen would plough through the heavy Blair line for long gains, but they seemed to weaken when close to the Blair goal and could not force the ball over for a touch down, at one time being held for downs on their opponents' two yard line.

In the second half the better condition of the Blair players told against the Idaho team and it was during this half that Blair made both of her touch downs but failed to kick goal either time. Although defeated, the team is well pleased with the showing made and intend to practice hard in the following two weeks for the game with the W. S. C. freshmen at Pullman on Nov. 21.

Association Notes.

Last Thursey afternoon Prof. Vaughn addressed the Young Women's Christian association on "Japan". The lecture was illustrated by lantern slides which Mr. Vaughn collected during his recent years of teaching in that country.

The Young Men's Christian Association discussed the topic "The place of prayer in a college man's life," at its regular meeting last Sunday afternoon. Price lead the meeting and chose this subject in view of the meetings to be held this week in connection with the "Worlds Week of Prayer Movement."

Both associations will observe the "Week of Prayer" during the week of Nov. 8-15 by special meetings each day. The Young Women will meet each afternoon in Liszt Hall at two o'clock for a half hour, and the Young Men in the same building at 6:30 p. m., for a forty five minute meeting. Both organizations extend a cordial invitation to all students.

Classical Club

On Monday night of last week the members of the Latin and Greek classes met at the home of Dr. Axtel to reorganize the Classical club of last year. Owing to the fact that election was so near, many were kept away by attendance on political speeches. Nevertheless quantity was substituted by quality and those present formulated some interesting plans for the winter's work. The club plans to give about six public programs thruout the year, the first to be given in about three weeks. The election of officers was postponed till the next meeting.

Dr. and Mrs. Axtel served light refreshments to the members.

Miss Caldwell acted as matron of the Dormitory while Miss French spent a few days in Spokane.

The parlors were tastefully decorated with the fraternity colors into which about sixteen guests gathered with Prof. Chedsey as chaperone. Prof. Eldridge celebrated a birth day last Sunday by a neat little dinner party to Dr. and Mrs. Axtel.

Cards announcing the engagement of Miss Rosa Forney to Mr. Harrison of Alberta were sent out last week. Miss Forney has been instructor in German and French at the University for several years past and Mr. Harrison was registrar at the U. for one year. He is now a very successful practicing lawyer in Alberta.

Miss Rosa Forney, Instructor in modern languages, has resigned her position with the university, and the matter will be acted upon by the Regents at their December meeting. Miss Forney was one of the popular instructors of the university, and was given a year's leave of absence by the Regents, intending to spend the time in Europe.

In the organization of the State Grange which took place recently at Caldwell, Professor Elias Nelson of the University staff was elected lecturer. This position will give Mr. Nelson considerable influence as advisor in the planning of all literary and educational programs of the Grange. Dean Elliott of the Agricultural college has been working in the interests of the Grange movement through the state, and expects as deputy organizer to organize several new Granges in this part of the state.

Dr. E. T. Sage of the Preparatory Department addressed the Agricultural Club on Friday evening. The subject was Italian Agriculture. He discussed crops and methods and went into rural economics thoroughly, taking up the various methods of land rental, etc.

The number present was not as large as it should have been but there was enough enthusiasm to make up for this lack.

Committees were appointed on program, membership, and to attend to the proper celebration of the first anniversary of the club on Dec. 18.

News of the Battalion.

Last Friday occurred the second parade of the year and everyone did well. The best line was that of Co. "B".

The method of choosing non-commissioned officers was certainly a successful one as is shown by the drill and general efficiency of the battalion.

Active work is being done at target practice in order to decide on the medal before bad weather interferes. Most of the practice work is over and a few have done record shooting. The scores are as follows: At two hundred yards, Ream, M. A. 21; Henley, 20; Armstrong 20, Mulkey 19, Quinley 19, Stewart, 18. At three hundred yards: Armstrong 21, Stewart 17, Davis 16, and Ream M. A. 15.

Preps. 32—Lewiston High 0

This score was the result of the football game between the Idaho Preps and the Lewiston High teams, played on the local grounds last Friday. The game was one sided, though the first seventeen minutes was a pretty exhibition of football, neither side being able to make consistent yardage through the opponents lines. At this time Claypool, Lewiston star full-back, was forced to retire on account of injury and the game was decidedly one-sided to the end.

Farmer, Denning and Williams of the Preps carried the ball like veterans, making 10 to 15 yards on nearly every down. Daniel and Pauls opened great holes in the High School lines, where the Preps back field were sent through, often reaching the opponents safety. Curtis, of the Preps, successfully executed several forward passes to Tate for good yardage.

For the High School, Hill, Shaw and Fleekinger played good ball and Von Arsdale's tackling was spectacular.

The Preps. team was somewhat heavier than the Lewiston team and showed evidence of better coaching.

Farmer, the Preps left half, was a star ground gainer, played good interference and returned punts in a remarkable manner. 25 and 20 minute halves were played. Coach Lowery of the high school acted as referee. The line-up was as follows:
