Ridenbaugh Hall Girls At Home

Saturday afternoon the Dormitory girls gave an "at home" to their friends in the pleasant rooms at Ridenbaugh Hall. The reception hall and parlor, softened by yellow lights and brightened with carnations and plants, presented an exceptionally attractive appearance. Sterner's orchestra afforded delightful entertainment during the afternoon. The guests were shown through the several corridors and with many exclamations of delight, passed from one girl's room to another. Delicious refreshments of coffee, cake and mints added still more to the afternoon, which was pronounced by all a decided success.

The members of the football team have received an invitation from the Domestic Economy Department to a "feed" to be given in their honor on Wednesday night at Ridenbaugh Hall. It is needless to say that the team will all be there. Football players make it a point never to miss a good dinner.

W. S. C. WINS DEBATE

Annual Debating Contest With Pullman Results in Defeat One Judge Dissents

Last Friday evening, in the Washington State College Auditorium the debate trio representing the University was defeated, the decision of the three judges being 2 to 1 in favor of W. S. C. The question under discussion being that proposed by W. S. C., "Resolved, that a federal law should be enacted requiring all national banks to establish a guarantee fund for the prompt payment of the deposits of any insolvent national bank." Idaho chose the negative and W. S. C. supported the affirmative.

The debate was opened by Mr. I. J. Putnam, who pointed out the evils of the present system.

He was followed by Ira Tweedy of the Idaho team. Mr. Tweedy admitted the evils of the present system but maintained that there was a better remedy than the one proposed by his opponents. He presented considerable evidence to prove the inadequacy of the affirmative plan. Mr. Tweedy showed marked improvement over his work in the tryout. He spoke in a conversational, thoughtful manner and one which carried conviction.

Mr. Newhouse continued the affirmative case by arguing that the remedy proposed would eliminate the evils. Mr. Newhouse made a good impression. There was an emotional tone in his voice which added to his effectiveness as a speaker.

Matthews came next for the University. After attacking the arguments of the preceding speaker, he continued the negative side of the issue, by showing the impracticability of the plan proposed. Mr. Matthews spoke with force and vigor and showed a good knowledge of the question.

Mr. A. E. Price then concluded the constructive argument of his side by discussing the affirmative remedy in a more detailed manner. Price has a rich voice and a splendid delivery. For thorough and complete mastery of the question he was unsurpassed during the evening.

Ralph Williams finished for Idaho by presenting the plan of voluntary insurance as a remedy for the evils in the present banking system. He concluded by giving a comparison of the two propositions advanced, showing the superiority of the Idaho plan. Although suffering from sickness, which once caused him to stop talking, he made a creditable speech.

Price concluded the debate in a good seven minute rebuttal talk.

Of the two cases, Idaho had the most definite and concrete. However she failed to follow up her advantage in several instances which might have meant a victory. The Pullman argument, while not as explicit, was not touched materially by the rebuttal work of the University boys. This factor, combined with Price's refutation, won the second annual contest of the present series for W. S. C.

Before the debate the splendid State

GAME IS OFF

Barrett Cup Remains Unawarded Because U. of W. Cannot Play Post Season Game

The question as to which of the three state universities of the Northwest, Oregon, Washington or Idaho, was entitled to the Barrett cup, given to the state university whose football team has won from the other two, will this year remain undecided.

The University of Washington management wanted to know from Idaho what she desired to do to settle the matter and the answer was returned that Idaho desired to play a post season game in Spokane on December 12th. For several days nothing was heard from Washington, but Saturday the football management received a telegram from the Washington management saying that they would be unable to play the University of Idaho team a post season game this fall. This decision leaves the cup unawarded this year, for Washington to have a clear title to it would have had to play the Idaho team and won from them.

Assembly

Last Wednesday was the regular student assembly. Mr. Tormey of Spokane spoke during the first part of the hour. He gave a most practical talk on the use of faculties and was enjoyed by all. After his address some business matters were taken up. A petition asking the regents to bank and pad the running track was read and signed later. After an account of the Utah trip by Manager Savidge and a talk on basket ball by Manager Edmundson, football "I's" were awarded by Dr. McLean to the following men: Savidge, Elton, Stokesberry, Jewell, Pauls, Smith, Armstrong, Montgomery, Small, Johnson, Thornton and Lundstrom.

Local Fraternity Gets National

Kappa Phi Alpha is rejoicing over the fact that it has been granted a chapter by Phi Delta Theta, National. Kappa Phi Alpha is the oldest fraternity at Idaho, having been organized in 1899.

This is the second national fraternity to come into Idaho, Kappa Sigma also having a chapter here.

Phi Delta Theta is one of the oldest and most conservative of national fraternities and the establishment of a chapter in the university by such a fraternity indicates the growth of the university, and a confidence by college men all over the United States in its future as a prominent educational institution.

There are seventy-two chapters of Phi Delta Theta in the United States. There are only three chapters on the Pacific Coast,—one at Stanford, one at U. of C. at Berkeley, and one at the University of Washington.

HIGHLANDERS THURSDAY NIGHT

Popular Company Presents Novel Program at Rink Theatre

The Highlander Entertainers will appear at the Rink Theatre on next Thursday night Dec. 10. This company is under the Spokane Lyceum Bureau and comes with the highest recommendations. There are seven performers in the company—three singers, a violinist, piper and dancer, reader and accompanist.

Miss Dickinson, reader, is probably the most entertaining of the artists, having been engaged in some of the best schools of our country as teacher in elocution. Dan MacDonald the Scottish Bag Piper and Sword Dancer, has almost a national reputation. He always is a favorite with the audiences. The Strangs, tenor and contralto, in their Scottish melodies are unsurpassed. Miss Taylor soprano, has a voice of marvelous flexibility and compass, and Miss Hurlburt violinist, is always well received.

The company appear in several different costumes the most popular being the "Kilties" when the ladies appear in Scotch Kilts and sing the sweet old melodies of the Scotch people. Another attractive feature is the Colonial Choir when the three singers appear in colonial costumes and sing the early songs of our fore fathers. Taken all together the company cannot be too highly recommended and all who attend will feel well repaid. Chairs are being ordered for the theatre and a stage constructed. The entertainment is given under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. Admission 50 cents.

Vocal Program Wednesday

The usual Wednesday afternoon program held in Lizst Hall will be in charge of Miss Caldwell on Wednesday Dec. 9.

She will present the following students in a song recital.

Fred E. Lukens, '08, came up from Grangeville to attend the W. S. C. Idaho debate. Mr. Lukens is coaching the Grangeville High school debate team, which discusses the Bank Deposit question with Cottonwood in the near future. He was accompanied by Chas. Horning, the leader of the Grangeville team, and the two will spend a few days at the university working on the question.

WHERE?

There are several things around the University that should be looked up. The first is the Watkins' Oratorical Medal. As yet the winner of last year's contest has not received the prize. Who is responsible?

The baseball report of last year is long since due. Into what dark pigeon hole has it disappeared?

Where is the report of last year's business manager of the Argonaut? A few issues ago Mr. Burley made his statement. Why does the assistant business manager delay the game?

These facts are not spoken of in a spirit of criticism but simply to remind the ones responsible that they are delinquent in their duties.

The Old Story

As usual W. S. C., tries to explain the fact that she did not win the Northwest Championship by attacking the members of opposing teams on grounds of professionalism. In the last issue of the Evergreen, the editor devoted four columns to a long list of charges against the faculty committees, managements, officials, or players of Washington, Whitman and Idaho. He has absolute proof that these institutions either played professional men, or that the officials rendered unfair decisions. What other reason could there have been for W. S. C.'s not winning? It is certain that W. S. C. has had the best team in the northwest for the last two seasons, but, somehow the scores do not show it. There can be no other explanation than that other colleges did not play fair with the innocent school in eastern Washington.

If it would not be too presumptuous, we would suggest that the editor should have made this "purity howl" before the games, when some actions could have been taken. However we can excuse him on the grounds of lack of news. We know how it is to be short of copy and to be forced to use fiction to fill the paper.

Agricultural Club

An open meeting of the Agricultural Club was held Friday evening, December 4, for the benefit of visitors to the State Corn Show. Several prominent farmers attended and took an interest in the meeting. The president outlined the history of the Club, its plans for the future, and told the work undertaken by it through the "Idaho Student Farmer." Short talks on agricultural subjects were given by members, and the plans for the first anniversary were discussed. The visitors were invited to address the meeting, and Messrs. L. K. Strong, Thornton, and Theo. Reed responded, considerable enthusiasm being manifested.

DEBATE COUNCIL AT WORK

Oregon's Wording of Income Tax Question Accepted

On Monday afternoon the Debate Council met and transacted considerable business. The first thing to be decided upon was the wording of the triangular debate question. Both the Washington and Oregon statements of the federal income tax question were investigated. The council finally decided to give first place to Oregon's wording, second place to Idaho's and third to Washington's. The Oregon wording is the clearest and most definite of all. It reads "Resolved, that, waiving constitutionality, the federal government should impose a progressive income tax on all incomes above a certain amount."

Then the date of the Watkins Oratorical contest was set for December 19. This year homegrown judges and members of the faculty will act as judges on manuscript and delivery for the local contest. This is a somewhat new departure but will undoubtedly give satisfaction. The judges chosen were Profs. Hulme and Little, and Mr. Vaughn. S. E. Vance '09 was elected manager of the contest and was instructed to make arrangements for the purchase of the medal.

After deciding to hold the tryout for the triangular debate a week earlier than last year, the council adjourned.

The Prep girls gave a Leap Year Dance to the boys on last Friday night in Hodgins' Hall. About thirty couples attended and all report an excellent time.

Association Notes

The Young Women's Christian Association was addressed by Prof. Terril last Thursday afternoon on the subject, "Why I believe in Missions." A large number listened to the most interesting discussion.

Rev. Mr. Koontz, Pastor of the First Methodist church, spoke to the Young Men's Christian Association at Liszt Hall last Sunday afternoon. He chose the rather queer topic of "The Bill of Fare on the Devil's Table and the Bill of Fare on the Lord's table." All present were interested in his novel treatment of the subject.

Thanks to Boise People

The football team especially, and the student body in general wishes to thank the Boise people for their hospitality toward our representatives during their short stay in that city.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hayes procured the stop over for the boys and entertained them at a delightful luncheon at the Commercial Club. Howard Stein, John Regan and J. Ross Goode kindly furnished the automobiles to show the team the town, and Miss Sonna had them up at her home for tea in the afternoon. The football manager, Mr. Savidge, gave the men a banquet celebrating their arrival in his own home town. And the fellows insist that Mr. Barney F. O'Neil should come in for a large share of thanks although they won't tell what for. Judge McCutcheon endeavored to arrange a concert at the Tabernacle which is also appreciated. It was through the efforts of these people that the trip was made so enjoyable, and in extending these courtesies, they not only paid honor to the team but to the institution from which they come.

Dr. McLean attended the University Club Annual Banquet in Spokane the evening of December 5th in the hall of the Davenport restaurant, with 100 members present. The president was among the speakers after dinner. The names of several members of the Idaho faculty have been suggested for membership in the University Club, as non-residents, and it is quite certain that they will be elected.

Miss Sonna entertained the faculty and her friends among the towns people at Hodgins' Hall last Thursday evening. Part of the guests danced while others passed a delightful time at cards. Sterner's four piece orchestra furnished the music which was excellent, and the informality of the party was increased by the variety of entertainment. Towards the end of the evening an elaborate supper of—

Chicken salad—White and Brown bread sandwiches
pickles, olives, salted almonds

was served, to which each man took someone else's partner. In this way the new faculty were permitted to meet the older residents and become better acquainted, while a charming evening was enjoyed by everyone.

President MacLean in meeting Roosevelt's commission on Country Life presented a recommendation to be in turn presented in their report to the President. It embodied practically the plan proposed by Dr. MacLean to the council of the National Association of State Universities and calls for the appointment of an Educational Commission to sit for a term of 5 years; that it consist of from 10 to 30 members chosen from the chief educational leaders in different fields and serve without remuneration; that they shall be selected on account of previous educational service, skill and experience in handling economic statistics and facts and represent public character. The commission will consider and report on the relation of the educational systems of to day with present economic conditions in the U. S., and recommend educational adjustments which have been rendered necessary by the revolutionary economic changes of the last 30 years. Sections of the commission's report may be published annually.
