JUNIOR PROM GREAT SUCCESS

Third Year Class Enviably Host at Annual Dance. Novel Decorations.

The Junior Prom given last Friday night was one of the most enjoyable social functions of the college year. The gymnasium was made cozy with pennants, couches and pillows. Black and orange streamers furnished a part of the decorations. The orchestra was placed on a platform in the center of the room and was attractively concealed by orange and black bunting. Delicate refreshments were served from small tables placed behind a row of fir trees at one end of the hall.

Although the attendance was not as large as usual, the affair was thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

The patronesses were: Mesdames J. A. MacLean, M. E. Lewis, E. M. Hulme, C. N. Little, J. G. Eldridge and Miss Permeal French.

Idaho Gives a President to the University of Nebraska.

It will be of interest to many of the older of our students and to many of our faculty to know that if Dr. Samuel Avery, who was formerly the Professor of chemistry at the University of Idaho, pleases the regents with his work as the head of the University of Nebraska during the next few months, he will be made the permanent chancellor of the University. Regent George Copeland made a statement to this effect. He said that the acting chancellor-elect will be given a chance to show whether he is capable of making a strong executive officer, and that in case he proves to have all the qualities necessary to give the University a good chancellor, he will be made the permanent head.

"We consider," explained Regent Copeland, "that conditions in the East and West, and even in the various schools in the West differ greatly, and it would be really an experiment to bring a new man here. We do not know whether he could adapt himself properly to the conditions, and it would be more or less of an experiment."

"We know the broad mindedness of Dr. Avery, and consider that he is one of the greatest scholars in scientific lines in the country. He is a product of our own state and understands conditions here very thoroughly."

"Consequently, we decided to try him, and if he 'makes good,' as we expect he will, he will remain as the permanent chancellor."

Law Lectures Begin

Last Monday the first of the series of law lectures began with an address by Judge Forney on Martial Law. These lectures are given gratis by the lawyers of Moscow and are designed to cover the state laws of Idaho.

Judge Forney's lecture was very instructive and was attended by the entire battalion in addition to many upper classmen with whom attendance is optional.

The Grangeville High School is the only secondary school in this section that puts out a weekly paper. The School Reporter is a live sheet full of up-to-date news.

LOS ANGELES 28 IDAHO 21

Professional Team Defeats Varsity Five in East Game. Few Rooters.

The Los Angeles Athletic Club Basketball team defeated the University quintet last Thursday evening in one of the best games ever played in the gymnasium.

The L. A. A. C. has a good team, the best team that has been seen on the Gym. floor this year but they were not entitled to the score they took; not because they didn't earn it but because the Idaho team did not play the game in the first half and let them get a lead that it was almost impossible to overcome.

Dutton, center for L. A. A. C. did most of the scoring for his team and Montgomery for Idaho made thirteen of the points made by the Idaho team. The L. A. A. C. team showed excellent team work but its men instead of getting within a fair range of the basket would try long passes trusting to luck that it would hit the goal. On the other hand the Idaho team while lacking in team work endeavored to get the ball within good passing distance before trying for a basket.

Both teams passed poorly at times, the man passing seeming to want principally to get rid of the ball with no idea as to who was going to get it.

Idaho had clearly the better of it in the second half and showed what she could do. The Edmondson Bros. at guard played good games and were after their man all the time. Smith and Lundstrom at forward are credited with one goal a piece. They both seemed to have hard luck with their passes, the ball rolling around the rim of the basket and then falling out. Montgomery's passing was the best of the Idaho team and if he would keep after his man closer he would show great improvement.

The attendance was small and Manager Edmondson has a good cause to believe that he is not getting the support that he is entitled to.

Varsity Grad. Makes Good.

Most favorable reports are coming in of the work of P. S. Darlington, assistant Horticultural inspector of Washington. He took up the work last summer with headquarters at Wenatchee and since that time has been making good his bluff with the fruit growers of that section. Just lately the Fruit Growers Association of Chelan county endorsed the work of both Huntly and Darlington which is an index to the value they place on the work. Darlington's annual report published in the Wenatchee Daily World a few days ago would be interesting material for any student looking forward to that line of work.

DEBATE TRYOUT SATURDAY

Triangular Men to be Chosen--Fifteen Contestants Entered

On Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock the tryout for the purpose of selecting six men to represent Idaho in the triangular contests will be held at Morrill Hall. Each of the fifteen debaters will have twelve minutes to discuss the question, "Resolved that, waiving Constitutionality, the federal government should impose an income tax on all incomes above a certain specified amount."

Among the men in the tryout are Gwin Matthews, Jones, Rediker, Clemens, Tweedy, Hunting, Peebler, Johnson, Holman, and Campbell. Gwin has had considerable experience in debate both at Idaho and at the Lewiston State Normal. Matthews is a Senior and has been a prominent factor in more than one Idaho debate. Jones has been the leader in four debates against the State Normal, Washington, Oregon, and Washington State College. Rediker and Clemens are Freshman hailing from the South Idaho Scholastic League.

Williams and Tweedy did good work in the recent debate against Pullman. The rest of the contestants have had no experience but are working hard on the question.

The judges will probably be Prof. Hulme, Dr. Little and Dr. Axtell.

J. E. MOODY OFFERS PRIZE

Moscow, Idaho, Jan. 2, 1909.

Dr. C. N. Little,
Professor of Civil Engineering,
University of Idaho.

Sir:—

Believing that many engineering students do not realize the importance of the course in "Engineering Contracts and Specifications" and wishing to stimulate the study of that course, I have the honor and very great pleasure of offering a copy of Wait's "Engineering and Architectural Jurisprudence" and a copy of his "Law of Operations Preliminary to Construction in Engineering and Architecture" to the most meritorious student, during the coming semester, in that course.

The details as to how these books are to be awarded I wish to leave with you. I respectfully request to be informed as to the success of the plan.

Respectfully yours,

(Signed) J. E. Moody.

Mr. Moody graduated in 1901 from the Civil Engineering Course of the University. After a varied experience in railroad work following graduation, he went to the Philippine Islands where his advancement has been rapid. Now he is at the head of the government light-house service there. He is responsible for the design, construction and management of all the light-houses in those islands. He has always kept up his interest in Idaho State University and now shows it in a very practical way as the above letter explains.

The Crystal theatre has made arrangements for a ten piece orchestra to give a Concert every other Wednesday evening, starting this evening.

WE ARE exceedingly glad to see the mandolin club being re-organized. Last year this club was one of the most successful of our musical organizations and we bespeak the same for it this year.

We hope that the glee clubs will follow this lead and that the same interest in music will be shown as has been shown in the past. These organizations in connection with the band will help make the rallies that are being planned for next semester the most enjoyable yet held.

of the fall semester to the close of the spring semester.

AMATEUR RULES

10. No student shall compete in any athletic contest in this conference who is not an amateur.

11. An amateur is a person who has never competed for money or other valuable consideration, under a false name, or with or against a professional, or who has not at any time taught, pursued or assisted at athletic exercises for money or other valuable consideration. Nothing in this definition shall be construed to prohibit competition between amateurs for medals or trophies of a similar nature. It is hereby expressly declared that this definition is not retroactive prior to date of Commencement, 1908, at the several institutions.

12. Nothing in this rule shall be construed to prohibit the acceptance by an amateur of his necessary travelling expenses incurred as a contestant or official in going to and from any place for an amateur contest.

13. The disposing of any medal or trophy for a consideration shall be considered evidence of professionalism.

14. No student shall be eligible to participate in intercollegiate athletics who has taken advantage of any reduction of fees, scholarship or other financial advantages, except upon the basis of competitive examination or other basis upon the same terms to non-athletic students.

15. Any student who, at any time, has lost his amateur standing, may be reinstated by the faculty committee on athletics of his institution after the completion of one year of satisfactory college work subsequent to the date of such loss.

ENFORCEMENT

16. All questions in regard to eligibility and amateur standing or reinstatement of an athlete are to be referred to his own faculty committee on athletics, whose decision shall be final.

SECRETARY.

17. A secretary shall be elected by the conference to serve for the period of two years. He shall, giving two weeks notice, call a meeting of the conference to be held between December 1st and December 31st, 1910, at such a place as the conference shall designate. A special meeting may be called at any other time upon the written request of three of the institutions of the conference.

18. In the event of the failure of the secretary to issue any proper call, the chairman of the athletic committee of the institution which he represents shall issue the call.

REPRESENTATION.

19. Each institution shall be represented in meetings of the conference by a person or persons authorized to act with authority for both faculty and student body. Each institution shall have one vote in such meetings.

MEMBERSHIP.

20. Any institution may become a member of this conference by making application to the secretary and subscribing to the articles of agreement, upon the unanimous consent in writing of the members of the conference.

CERTIFIED LISTS.

21. Certified lists of the players who are eligible for any contest shall be prepared and forwarded by the chairman of the athletic committee of each institution participating, to the chairman of the faculty athletic committee of each of the competing institutions at least ten days prior to date of such contest.

AMENDMENTS

22. A change in the articles of agreement of this conference shall be declared adopted by the secretary upon the filing of written approval by each institution in the conference.

DATE OF TAKING EFFECT.

22. Except as otherwise provided in the articles themselves, this agreement shall take effect in each institution immediately after its signature and filing with the secretary.

INTERPRETATIONS AND DEFINITIONS.

24. PARTICIPATION. The term "participation" as applied to a student shall mean the representation of his institution in an intercollegiate game or contest or any part of such game or contest.

26. INTERCOLLEGIATE CONTEST. The term "intercollegiate contest" shall mean an athletic game or contest between teams representing institutions granting a bachelor's degree and offering work beyond 16 Carnegie units or high school grade.

26. COLLEGE YEAR. A "college year" shall be interpreted as meaning two full semesters of attendance.

27. DELINQUENCIES. A "delinquency" shall be defined as any subject in which either a report of "conditions," "failed" or "incomplete," or their equivalents, has been made.

The fact that a student is repeating the work of a delinquent subject shall not be considered as removing the delinquency.

A passing grade must be obtained in that subject before such delinquency can be considered as removed.

In the case of a student changing his general course of work and having delinquencies in the former course in a subject not required for graduation in the new course, such delinquencies shall not effect his athletic eligibility, provided that the faculty athletic committee of his institution approve his change of course and that he has done satisfactorily one semester's work in all the subjects assigned in the new course.

28. PLAYING PROFESSIONAL TEAMS. It shall not be considered as a violation of an amateur rule for a conference team to compete against a professional team provided that the faculty athletic committee of the institution sanctions such game or contest.

Preps Defeat Normal

The fourth debate between the Preparatory Department of the University and the Lewiston State Normal school was held in the Baptist Church on Saturday evening, January 16. The question was "Resolved, that the states should cease to levy taxes upon personal property." The Preps upheld the affirmative of the proposition and the Normal debaters defended. He negative.

The debate was an interesting one from the moment it began, and it continued to increase in interest steadily until the close, reaching its culmination in the really able and telling rebuttal speech given by Chester Minden.

The Normal debaters made a strong defense of the weaker side of the question. The material used gave evidence of a familiarity with the best economic authorities, and of considerable study on the question.

The first speaker of the evening was Ellsworth Davis. He outlined the entire affirmative case and then took up the first contention. He spoke easily and distinctly.

The negative case was opened by Miss May Willard. She is a very pleasing speaker. The evils of which the affirmative complain, she argued, are not inherent in the taxation of personal property. They can be remedied.

Dewitt Davis devoted his entire time to the contentions of the preceding speaker. He was well supplied with material that bore directly upon the point of contention of the negative and it was used in an effective manner. He is a real debater, able to think upon his feet and to give effective utterance to his thought.

Miss Gladys Whiting continued the line of argument begun by her colleague. She is a bright, intelligent girl who made the audience feel that she thoroughly understood what she was talking about. She spoke rapidly, yet distinctly.

The constructive case for the affirmative was closed by Chester Minden. He was the best speaker of the evening, both in delivery and in argument. He gave a vital emphasis to the important parts of his work in refutation which was well directed and effective.

The last negative representative was Ernest Bashor, a vigorous and aggressive speaker, whose quick intelligence enabled him to seize upon what seemed to be a very damaging admission by the affirmative. He spoke, perhaps, a little too rapidly, but his vivacious manner was always informed with a good spirit. He made a most favorable impression.

There was important work to do for the affirmative when Chester Minden began the rebuttal speech, and it was done in a far better way than such work is usually done in secondary school debates. No time was lost over the many minor matters. There were three important contentions that had to be destroyed. When the speech was ended the Prep cohorts were able to lean back and breathe easily. Although the debate was a close one there was then no doubt of the result.

The judges were Prof. Stangeland, of the Department of Economics of the Washington State College; Superintendent Charles Henry of Palouse, and Attorney A. J. Green, a well known personage in the politics of Nez Perce county. Their verdict, by a vote of two to one, was for the affirmative. Professor Soulen was the chairman, and Willard K. Guin and Ira Tweedy were the time keepers. Two piano solos were given by Misses Beryl Bolles and Verna Smith; Miss Sams sang a melodious song in good style.

Assembly.

The attendance assembly at last week was so poor that the president took occasion to talk about the records of attendance of the different classes. The Freshmen, he said, have the best record.

The address was by Rev. Koontz of the M. E. Church who spoke on the ever interesting subject of success in life. Among other things he said that success is not given to those who work solely for themselves, nor to those who are always hunting a soft snap. "To be successful in life," the speaker said, "A young man should have great confidence in himself and should believe that he has a mission in life. Believe that you were born to do some particular work." Mr. Koontz closed with an appeal to the students to take more interest in the work of the Christian Associations.

After the address Miss Caldwell gave a delightful vocal solo.

Agricultural Club

A special meeting of the Agricultural Club was held on the evening of January 16 to take the place of the one which should have been held a week ago. The following officers were elected to serve for the second semester: president, E. A. Markham, vice-president R. J. Lyman, secretary, E. A. Hunting, treasurer, J. W. Thometz.
