SUNDAY TALKS TO STUDENTS

Gymnasium Filled to Hear the Noted Evangelist's Sermon to College People

Two hours before the time scheduled for Mr. Sunday's talk to students crowds of townspeople began to fill the University gymnasium on last Thursday morning. The gallery was thrown open and filled to its fullest capacity by people from Moscow and the surrounding towns. The main floor was reserved for students and faculty and a few rows for out-of-town people who had written for seats.

The Sunday party arrived on time and was immediately escorted to the front by ushers. As it entered the large audience broke into loud cheering which terminated with a rousing students' "nine rahs" for Billy Sunday. After a solo by Mr. Butler of the Sunday party Dean Eldridge introduced Mr. Sunday.

Characteristic to the man he immediately pushed aside the low platform and climbed on a table from which he spoke in part as follows:

"There is a difference between the children of God and the children of the devil. Man's inherent tendency is toward evil and only by the power of Christ can he be cleansed. A Christian is dogmatic and must be so. This is an age of dogmatism in which one must take a positive stand. I can positively state that Christ can save from sin even though I do not know how. It is sufficient for me to know the results and I do not doubt because I do not know the exact method used in attaining them. In fact we know very little of the "how" of anything in this world. Any fool can plant a tree but it takes God to grow an apple, and the wisest old guy that ever lived can't tell how he did it. God makes a rainbow out of a handful of vapor. We see it and admire it but cannot tell how it was made. There are a lot of mysteries and the biggest mind accepts things as they are. To be a doubter is not an evidence of intelligence; it is evidence of a pigmy intellect. When I know the results of Christianity I don't quit because I don't know how it happened.

There are a lot of theories advanced for the betterment of the world. A statesman says we should have a certain form of government. That will remedy the evils. Some claim that knowledge is virtue. Teach the people to be wise and they will be good. But some of the brightest minds our country have produced have been placed in the heads of some of the vilest characters known. Aron Burr, who graduated from Princeton University with highest honors at the age of sixteen and who lacked but one vote of being president of the United States, during his college course made a wager with a friend that he could ruin any girl in the school. The challenge was accepted, the girl named and a few months later a note on the breast of the suicide told of the success of his devilish motives. No, intellect alone does not produce virtue. I have the highest regard for education and you students are fools if you leave here without learning something. But remember that only the blood of Christ can save you from sin."

Mr. Sunday touched upon some of the practices of college students. Among other things he stated that there was more in an education than a college yell or a frat pin. In regard to smoking he said: "If you must smoke, get a pipe. Some of you little fellows will wake up some morning and find your brains out on your pillow, you cigarette fiends."

Mr. Sunday closed with an account of his baseball record and conversion. He told some blood curdling stories concerning the lives of some of his colleagues, the object of which was to picture the results of sin.

After the sermon he immediately slipped into his fur coat and went to the Methodist church where he addressed another crowded house.

Mrs. Muirhead spoke to an overflow meeting in the Baptist church. The party left on the four o'clock electric for Spokane stopping to make speeches at only a few places on the return.

SPECIAL PRIZE FOR BEST POEM

The New University Trophy, the Brass Seal Mounted on an Oak Shield.

The trophy will be awarded under the following conditions:

1 Competition open to all undergraduate students of the University of Idaho.

2 Length of poem not less than 14 nor more than 100 lines.

3 Theme must be one pertaining distinctively to Idaho—for example, the spirit, history, society, or natural beauty of Idaho.

4 Each contestant may submit as many different pieces of work as desired.

5 All verse submitted to become the property of the donor of the trophy, to be used as desired in University publicity work.

6 The verse will be referred to three judges chosen from the University Faculty.

7 Verses should be submitted without signature, but the name of the author written on the envelope containing them, and, on or before April 30th, handed to A. P. Vaughn.

The seal shield is one of the most popular form of University trophies in the eastern schools. The shield is on exhibition in Hodgkin's window. It would make an enviable piece of ornamentation for anyone's room.

Sociological Club Feed

Mr. Vaughan gave a banquet in the Dormitory at 6:30 Monday evening in honor of Dr. Ross. Those present were the members of the classes in sociology and the intimate friends of Dr. Ross from Moscow.

The color scheme was yellow and white, and the seal shield offered by Mr. Vaughan for the best poem, formed an attractive center piece. After dinner Mr. Ross and Mr. M. E. Lewis spoke. The affair was a most enjoyable one both from the standpoint of the dinner and the social hour.

We are glad to report that Marvin Mulkey of Salmon, who was taken ill with pneumonia last week, is slowly recovering. His father came last Thursday to remain till he is able to leave the hospital.

DR. ROSS AT UNIVERSITY

Speaks in Gymnasium to Large Crowd—Subject, "The Family"

The Idaho Sociological club had for its guest and principal speaker last Monday afternoon, Dr. Ross of Wisconsin University. Dr. Ross is one of the most eminent sociologists in the United States and is head of that department at Wisconsin. Besides being a lecturer of considerable note, Dr. Ross is also an author of a good many books, among them being "Social Control" and "Social Psychology." He spoke in the gymnasium to a large audience.

He chose as his subject for the afternoon that of "The Family," and paid considerable attention to the divorce problem. With figures from the census department he showed the remarkable increase in divorce in the United States in the last twenty years, and pointed out that in this country there is far greater proportion of divorces than in any other country. The reason for divorce in the United States is partially because of the increasing independence of woman. Today the industrial conditions are such that a woman can be independent—can if necessary, support herself. Then any marriage which proves distasteful can be annulled through the courts.

Dr. Ross stated that the increase in divorce doesn't necessarily indicate more evil in marriage today than formerly. In the days gone by the woman was more dependent upon the man and she suffered misery, etc., without having a means of freedom. The speaker stated that divorce today is not a disease in itself but rather a symptom of a disease. This symptom in the past was shown in other ways.

The inclination of some classes of speakers to hold up their hands in horror over the increase of divorces and speak about destruction of the "sanctity of the marriage sacrament," and "the easy escape from the marriage obligations," and "the breaking up of happy homes" was declared ridiculous. Divorce is not the "breaking up of happy homes," but the breaking up of unhappy homes; it is not an attack upon the marriage sacrament but looks toward union between the two parties as one to be based upon happiness.

Many efforts have been made to reduce the number of divorces by reducing the reasons for granting them. In New York state a divorce can be granted for six reasons, while in New Jersey a divorce is given for only one cause. Despite these efforts the divorces continue to come.

The library at Ridenbaugh Hall, Friday evening, held a jolly crowd. Those composing the party were: Messrs. Ferris, Thornton, and Campbell, Misses Carsow, Fissel, Pinney and Slane.

Quite a number of faculty and students from W. S. C. attended the lecture by Dr. Ross on Monday. Among them were: E. A. Kinkaid, R. C. McDaniels, Arthur Price, H. J. Leckner, Dana Murdock, Stanley Shaw, and Profs. Beach and Stangeland.

Willis Almond left for his home in Boise last Monday. He will lie out one semester and then return to finish his course next year.

ANOTHER VICTORY

Varsity Takes Fast Game From Whitman. Clean and Spectacular Contest

Idaho Monday night easily took the first of the two basketball games with Whitman by a score of 15 to 11.

The game was clean and fast and tho not as fiercely contested as some of the games seen on the Gym floor this season yet was full of brilliant individual and team work. Whitman started the scoring when Barns threw a foul. Idaho started throwing baskets and by the end of the first half had annexed four baskets and three fouls to Whitman's three fouls. Whitman was unable to throw a basket in the first half and made these three points on fouls of Idaho men. In the second half Montgomery replaced Smith at center and Felthouse replaced Belt at guard. No other changes were made. Idaho in this half, eased up a little and Whitman was able to score three baskets and, aided by three fouls, raised her end of the score to 11, while Idaho got one basket and two fouls. Curtis in his first game this year played brilliantly and made nine of Idaho's points. He is fast on his feet and keeps after the ball all the time. He also did good work throwing fouls. Lundstrom also played a good game and was after the ball all the time. Edmundson Bros. at guards kept their forwards to but one basket and were in the game all the time. "Herc" had the reach on any Whitman man and kept them worried. The game was poorly attended due possibly to the Dr. Ross lecture, but the next one should be better supported.

Seniors Entertained

On Friday at six thirty Prof. and Mrs. Morley entertained the Senior class at a delightful dinner. The table was arranged in a rectangle around the room which was doubly pleasant in that the guests were all seated together on both sides of the table. Little red candles furnished a soft light and also much amusement, since the possessor of the candle burning longest was to be old maid and of the one going out first, the first one to marry. After dinner the class spent a social hour during which Mr. Fuller and Miss Keifer sang solos and Miss Broman gave a piano selection. Making pigs from gum and singing college songs brought to a close a most charming evening.

"Pompeii—The City Without People."

A lecture on Pompeii, illustrated with many fine lantern slides, will be given by Dr. Sage on Friday, February 12, at 4 p. m. in the Physical Laboratory of Science Hall. Pompeii, excavated from the ashes and lava of Vesuvius, is the most complete and interesting of ancient cities and presents a vivid picture of the Italian life of the first century A. D.

SOME FACTS

A fact not generally known among the taxpayers of Idaho is that their state university has attained its rank among the high grade colleges of the nation, doing the most efficient and practical work in educating the young people of the state, and has done this at a less cost for maintenance per student educated than any of those other institutions. This shows the most careful and business-like use of the funds provided by the state for educational purposes. The per year cost per student in 102 universities and colleges of standard grade in North America is $255, and the per capita cost the smaller colleges is $187. The University of Kansas with over 2,000 students, and a careful administration prides itself in keeping the cost per student at $155. In the University of Idaho the expense for maintenance during the year 1908 was $76,506.77, and the enrollment of students was 450—which means a cost per student for maintenance of less than $170. More money could have been well used on equipment, but efficient work was done with the amount supplied by the state. Moreover this amount includes the salaries of a teaching staff that will not need increase until there has been a large increase in attendance. In the appropriations asked of the present legislature no increase was asked for by the regents under the heading of salaries. These facts are of special present interest, when the matter of separating the agriculture college and moving it to some other point is under discussion. This will mean at once increased expense for the duplicating of salaries, equipment libraries, etc. It will mean the doubling of the cost per student educated, and it will mean the inevitable deterioration of the quality of instruction offered by the state for generations to come, for the resources of Idaho are not yet developed to the point where she can hope to adequately support two schools of higher learning.

Profs. Hulme and Elliott were judges at the debate between Palouse and Garfield High schools on last Friday night at Palouse.

Bertha Wood, a graduate of Lewiston Normal, who has been teaching in southern Idaho, registered last Monday in the University as Freshman B. M.

Prep. Squall

The First Annual Prep. Squall occurred at the Gymnasium last Friday evening. The Preparatory students had gone to a great deal of work and the party was a great success. The decorations of Varsity silver and gold and Prep. blue was very effective. The walls were covered with evergreens and the cozy corners were filled with rugs, couches, pillows and pennants. The supper rooms were attractively decorated and a delicious supper was served. Mesdames Soulen, MacLean, and Misses French, Smith and Regan were patronesses.

Announcement Concerning the A. Y. P. Exposition Athletics

The committee in charge of collegiate athletics at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition wishes to hear from college athletes who may possibly enter the meets. The Exposition opens in Seattle, Washington, on June 1st and closes on October 16th. The main exhibit buildings are now finished; the several state buildings, the grounds and concessions on the "Pay Streak" will be ready in every detail on the opening day. Alaska, Yukon Territory, the Oriental countries and the various states will have very novel and attractive exhibits.

The athletic contests already arranged include a variety of special events, such as army, navy, militia and the Y. M. C. A. sports, Marathon race, equestrian events, tennis, 8-oared, 4-oared and single-scuil rowing, swimming, canoeing, lumbermen's sports and tugs-of-war.

The railroads have already announced extremely low rates to Seattle, giving a choice of routes both going and returning. Special rates will prevail from Seattle to Alaska, the Hawaiian Islands and the Orient. The cool, bracing summer climate and the pure mountain water of the Puget Sound region are considered very favorable for training. Viewed from all standpoints the coming summer offers the best opportunity that will be available for many years for athletes to see the Pacific coast and Alaska and at the same time to enjoy competition under the most favorable conditions.

A national meet open only to college men will be scheduled early in the summer at a time most convenient for a majority of the competitors. The committees in charge desire to hear as soon as possible from all those interested, in order to arrange dates which shall not interfere in the least with the proposed summer plans of students.

The individual medals and team cups to be offered will be of such character as to add considerably to the honor of winning place for one's college in a national meet.

The standard track and field events, relay races and cross-country runs will take place at the meet. In connection with it there will be a series of baseball, basketball, and tennis matches, besides boxing, wrestling and other features.

Relay races will be arranged between teams representing the Atlantic states, the Middle states, the Rocky Mountain states, the Pacific Coast, Canada and the western Indians.

Correspondence should be addressed to DEAN MILNOR ROBERTS, University of Washington, Seattle, Washington.

Victor Zednick, graduate manager of student affairs of the University of Washington and a prominent debater of that institution for several years, was in town Tuesday trying to arrange a football schedule with manager Smith. He also talked with manager St. Clair in regard to baseball and manager Gwin in regard to the triangular debate.

The Senior class will make merry at Palouse Wednesday evening. They have taken charge of the Inland Railroad and will buy up all the hotels in Palouse. The Seniors never do things by halves so will probably put in a full night—at least on the return trip.

Football Report Season 1908-09

Moscow, Idaho, Dec. 15, 1908—To the Faculty Athletic Committee & The Athletic Board of the University of Idaho.

Gentlemen: As manager of football for the season of 1908, I hand you herewith my report.

The report consists of an itemized list of the expenditures, each expenditure having a corresponding number that refers to a voucher that is attached hereto and made part of this report. There is also, where it was possible to get one, an itemized account of the articles for which the amount of the voucher was spent.

The season, financially has been a success in a small way, but the manager has been called upon to spend money, this season, that a manager has never, heretofore, been called upon to spend, namely: two hundred dollars for services of coach and one hundred and fifty dollars for the services of an assistant coach.

The money expended per this report was spent when in the judgment of the manager it was absolutely necessary and upon the advice and request of the captain and coach.

Respectfully submitted,
 Paul S. Savidge,
 Manager football for 1908.

The Great White Fair

Draws Immense Crowds

The selling is double that of any previous year--simply because stocks are greater, better, values without doubt the greatest ever known. Already the new spring merchandise is pouring in--two buyers now in New York--our milliner visiting the Chicago and eastern spring millinery exhibits. The coming spring displays of this store will rank with the best stores of the country.
