LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE THE BORAH PRIZE DEBATE

Banqueted In Ridenbaugh Hall---Many Toasts Given---Promises Liberal Support of the University.

A dinner in honor of the visiting committee of the State Legislature was given Tuesday night in Ridenbaugh Hall, served by the young ladies of the Domestic Science department. More than eighty guests were present, including several townsmen who are most actively interested in the support of the University, and the University faculty.

After a delicious repast the speaking began at 11 p. m. The following toasts were called.

Toastmaster

Dr. James A. MacLean.

Idaho and Her Schools—Prof. Philip Soulen.

The Moral Atmosphere of the State University—H. R. Smith.

The University and Its Graduates—P. L. Orcutt.

The University and Her Affiliated High Schools—Dr. W. S. Morley.

Educational Publicity—George Fields.

Educational Extension in Idaho—Prof. E. E. Elliott.

The Legislature and Educational Institutions—State Legislative Committee: Messrs. Freehafer, Haight, McBratney, Miles, Schutt.

The Needs of the University—Hon. M. E. Lewis.

The University and Moscow speakers presented various phases more or less familiar to Argonaut readers. It was Wednesday morning when President MacLean called for the first response from Senator Freehafer, who answered in turn the pleas of the preceding speakers, pledging his loyalty to the University. "We will do our best as representatives of the state to remove the hardships that may still attend the getting of an education in Idaho, and give the students continually a more favorable environment." The senator called attention to the motto on the menu—"of Idaho, by Idaho, for Idaho—the University," saying, "We voice the sentiment of the people of the state when we say we believe in that motto." Senator Haight spoke enthusiastically of the conditions he had found in northern Idaho. "It is worth a trip across a continent to meet with you at this banquet this evening. We will take back a good report to those we represent." Representative McBratney, a member of the appropriations committee, spoke of the numerous calls that it was impossible for the legislature to meet, but said that his effort would be used to place the cutting of appropriations at some point less vitally important than the support of educational institutions. Representative Miles of Nez Perce county said that he came to us as to his own people, and Representative Schutt closed with the pledge "there is not a member of the delegation but is ready to give all in our power for OUR university." President Lewis spoke for the regents, on the needs of the university. "The University needs more than anything else at this time A LITTLE LESS POLITICS. Every time the University is made a political football and trading stock it is a distinct loss to the educational interests of Idaho. Another need is for helpers in every part of the state. I wish to recognize in this public way the hearty response of the alumni and friends in every part of the state when the University seemed recently to be in danger." Mr. Lewis spoke of the loyalty of the faculty to Idaho, and made the startling announcement that President MacLean had been called to the presidency of another great university, with much increased salary, but had remained at his post in the interests of Idaho.

President MacLean as toastmaster in closing made a very happy historical reference to Franklin's word concerning the sun at the back of the speaker's chair in the Continental Congress. During the debates he had been uncertain whether the sun was rising or setting, but at the close he knew that the sun of America was a rising sun. President MacLean called attention to the sunburst on the Idaho shield that formed the mantel decoration in the banquet room, and said "There has never been a time when there was any doubt that the sun on the shield of Idaho was a rising sun."

On Wednesday morning the regular Assembly hour was given over to the committee, each of whom assured the students all the support in their power. The band played several selections and the Kiefer Sisters sang a beautiful duet. The hour closed with an informal reception for the Legislators. The committee spent the remainder of the day inspecting the battalion and visiting the various classrooms and laboratories, and will depart for the South on Thursday.

Classical Club Program.

On last Friday afternoon Dr. Sage of the preparatory school gave an illustrated lecture on the "Unpeopled City of Pompeii." The Physical Laboratory of Science Hall was filled with students and faculty which shows the interest of University people in the the classics. The lecture on Pompeii was all the more interesting because of the recent activity of Vesuvius which has caused such great loss of life and property in Italy.

Dr. Sage first gave a historical narrative concerning Pompeii after which, aided by some magnificent views, he took the audience on a trip thru the unearthed city. He first showed the method of excavation and then described at length a Roman residence. The lantern was operated by Dr. Axtell and threw some bright clear views on the screen. The lecture was all the more interesting because of the first hand material which Dr. Sage gave.

Inter-Collegiate Teams Clash in Annual Contest for Prize Given by Idaho's Junior Senator.

The second annual Borah Prize Debate was held on Saturday, February 13. The question discussed was the same that is to be used next month in the Inter-Collegiate Debates with the Universities of Oregon and Washington: "Resolved, That, waiving any question of constitutionality, the federal government should impose a progressive income tax upon all incomes above a certain specified amount."

The affirmative team consisted of John Rock, Rowe Holman and Paul Clemens. The negative speakers were Ira Tweedy, Jewett Matthews, and Robert Jones. The judges were Professors Morley, Axtell, and Hulme.

The question is one of the most important and interesting ones that have been debated by the Triangular League. It went a long way in itself toward insuring an interesting and profitable debate. But the debaters themselves made a success of the debate. Both sides contested the various points with ability and with a full fund of knowledge. It was perhaps because the negative made so concentrated an attack that they won the decision.

The affirmative team will meet Oregon here. John Rock, the first speaker, has had no experience or an inter-collegiate debate, but he did excellent work last year in the first Borah debate. Rowe Holman is also a new man in the field of inter-collegiate debate, but he has had some experience as a debater in the Preparatory department. Paul Clemens, the leader of the team, is still another man who is without inter-collegiate debate experience. He has never witnessed an inter-collegiate debate. But he promises to win for himself a name in Idaho's forensic annals. These men will have to meet an experienced team from Oregon, led by their ablest debater and orator, Jesse Bond, and coached by their new debate instructor, Professor Samuel Eliot, of Oxford University, England. Yet Idaho is not afraid of the struggle.

The negative team, which won the Borah Debate, and which will go to Seattle to meet Washington, is an experienced team. In Ira Tweedy, Jewett Matthews, and Robert Jones, we have three men whose ability is well known. It will be a hard struggle over on the Sound. Washington's leader, Rex Roudebush, hails from the Inland Empire, where debaters are developed and where they flourish. And the trial and practice debates of our Seattle friends are being carried on in the utmost secrecy. All sorts of grips, signs and pass words are used for admission to the preparatory seances. 'Tis a fearsome thing, this business of inter-collegiate debate, and one must keep a wary eye upon one's neighbor.

To Senator Borah we wish once more to give our thanks in public. Without the additions to the library made possible by his generous gift we should be far less able to meet our rivals than we are. As it is we lack little that is of importance on the subject. In the years to come the "Borah Books" will form one of the most interesting and valuable parts of our library. They are books laden with memories of long weeks of hard study in well fought forensic contests, and bear the name of a man who holds in his heart a real regard for our University.

NEW BOOKS FOR AGRICULTURAL LIBRARY

Prominent Farmer and Stock Man Presents University With $300 Set of Books

Theodore Reed, the famous Agriculturalist and Stock man of the Palouse country, has just made the library of the Agricultural college a handsome gift of about fifty volumes of books valued at $300. The books contain bound copies of the American Sheep Breeder and the Breeder's Gazette for the last fifteen years, choice pamphlets and bulletins, and valuable collections of filed clippings. Together with some standard volumes on Sheep Breeding, and other topics of interest to agricultural students, the gift contains some of the most practical and rarest information available.

Mr. Reed has long been recognized as an authority on matters relating to Agriculture and has always shown a great interest in our college and the station work. In retiring from active farm life he now shows his continued interest in the work by this most practicable and valuable donation. The Agricultural college wishes to publicly thank Mr. Reed for this liberal addition to its library.

Institute Special on Southern Trip.

The Farmer's Institute car started on its southern trip early this week. The car was fitted out with fruit exhibits, samples of grain, grasses, soil, and dairy machinery in operation with mills testing apparatus. The series of institutes will begin at Weiser and continue on around the O. S. L. Railroad to the southeastern part of the state, including about thirty towns on the itinerary. Lectures and practical demonstrations will be given at each stop. Those who went with the car were: Profs. French, Shinn, Hyslop, Frandson and Mr. Maughan. The car will be joined later by Dean Elliott, Prof. Jones, and other members of the Station Staff. The whole trip will occupy about a month's time the party expecting to return to Moscow on March 12.

THE UNIVERSITY AND ITS NEEDS

We are assuming in this week's issue of the Argonaut that the measure to segregate the Agricultural college will be defeated in the legislature. The bills introduced in the House and in the Senate practically duplicated the charter of the University and provided for instruction in every department of human knowledge. Under the subterfuge of establishing an Agricultural college for Southern Idaho, it was proposed to establish a second state university, and it can hardly be supposed that this proposal, when thoroughly understood, would meet with much acceptance from the legislature. We are therefore confining our attention in this issue to the needs of the University for which the Regents are now asking for legislative appropriations, under the head of permanent improvements.

The most urgent need of course and one that is keenly felt by every student in the institution, is the completion of the Administration building. With an appropriation of $100,000 the whole building may be ready for occupancy by next September. Unless this is received the weekly assemblies must continue to be held in the gymnasium. The department of Physics and Civil Engineering will be obliged to remain in inadequate quarters. The young women have no cloak rooms, rest rooms or suitable lavatories, and a number of other departments are not provided for. Thus the first and most pressing need of the University is the speedy completion of the Administration building including a central heating plant.

Second in importance is a girls' Dormitory to hold eighty students, and if possible fire proof in character.

There are 153 women students at present in attendance at the University, and the Dormitory accommodates only 40. The parents of the state insist on Dormitory accommodation for their daughters. The correspondence of last year abundantly shows in dozens of instances that if a young woman can not be provided for in the Dormitory her parents will insist that she forego her University course and remain at home.

We believe that all the other state institutions have sufficient dormitory accommodations for their women students. The University has never asked for or expected a boy's dormitory, but the need of another girl's dormitory has become imperative, and without it our provisions for the higher education of the young women of the state are practically nullified. The second great need of the University is a new dormitory for women.

A third and most modest request of the Regents is the item of $10,000 for a men's dining hall, or Commons. We do not expect much from this appropriation—simply a large wooden building capable of containing kitchens and a dining room for 200 students. The present dining room is inadequate, the Student's Club has been dissolved, and the difficulties of male students seeking suitable boarding houses are greater today than ever before and if continued will seriously limit the attendance of the University. From the students point of view the third and immediate need is a Men's Dining Hall. We omit the Library, the Machinery Building, the Dairy Herd, Farm Barns, and other items for which appropriations are needed simply because we wish to stress and emphasize those needs to which the mind of the average student must frequently revert.

THE WHY OF THE PASS LISTS

In this issue of the Argonaut we are introducing a new plan,—that of publishing the names of those who made passing marks in their University courses. This is done further to carry out the scheme of scholastic publicity recently adopted by the Faculty.

In general we favor the plan in that it tends to give prominence to the proper side of college life. Too often college students are carried away by the spectacular events and forget that the fundamental aim of a University is to provide instruction rather than to maintain winning athletic teams or stars on the platform or even to develop social lions. In a recent issue of the Seattle P. I. the statement was made that college students spent far too much time on amusements or social activities. This, we believe, is in the main not true. And yet if the outside world holds this view of college life it is our business to correct it. This can be done partly through our college paper.

We must admit that at present more than half of the subject matter deals with the lighter side of college life. Rarely is any mention made of the scholarship. Whether the Seattle paper gathered its idea from this fact we do not know. There is at least some ground for such a supposition. If, then, by a system of publicity we can change the view of the outside world, if we can elevate scholarship to a position of greater dignity, we feel that we are justified in using Argonaut space for news of this nature.

Then, again, the superintendents of the various high schools from which we draw pupils have no way of knowing the progress of their student unless we adopt a more public system of announcing the results of our examinations. These teachers have a right to know the progress of their students both because of their interest in them and because it is a means of testing the results of their teaching.

It is a curious fact that the man who attends to his own business and does what he ought to do, is likely to receive no newspaper recognition. But the minute he commits some notorious act he is heralded to the skies. It is in the hope that in college we may give some notice to the man who does his duty—to him who most deserves praise—that we publish this list.

LOYALTY.

Now that we can once more breathe normally in the hope that the bill for segregation is killed, we wish to congratulate the students on the immediate and united stand they generally took against the effort to disrupt our University. When the students saw the harm that would result from a removal of a part of the University and when Dean Elliott called for a show of loyalty by definite organizations for the prevention of such a move, we are proud to state that they promptly responded and, whether from North or South, petitioned the various representatives not to permit the passage of such a bill.

In only a few cases were there dissenting views. And, as might have been expected, some of those saying most in favor of segregation were persons who had been connected with the University almost one whole semester, who were for the most part, not citizens of the state, and who, because of these two facts were in a position to speak with authority on the subject of the administration of the college. For the others, as to whether they were impelled by an innate desire to injure the institution or by the hope of a more lucrative position in a new school, we do not know. Whatever the motive, we are glad to say that it found favor in the minds of a very limited number.

The students are proud of University as it is and are ever ready to stand by it. They appreciate the action of the legislature in regard to the segregation bill. Whenever the students unite in any laudable object the patrons are nxious to comply with their wishes. From such unity and harmony between the students and taxpayers a great institution is sure to arise.

WASHINGTON-IDAHO GAME AT SPOKANE

Varsity Football Team Will Meet Sound Squad in Spokane Next Year.

Arrangements have just been completed for the Washington-Idaho annual football game to be played in Spokane next season. Managers Zednick and Smith think that both institutions will profit by such a contract. Washington has been unwilling to play Idaho on her own field for several years, in consequence of which, there was no game last season. By the new contract, while Idaho will not be on her own field, yet she will not be at the disadvantage of having a long trip to a lower altitude and the great probability of playing on a wet field each year. The game this year must either be played early or be a post season contest. The latter is always more or less unsatisfactory, so the date of Oct. 30 was agreed upon by the managers. A special train will be run from Moscow and all towns in the Palouse country, while Spokane through its papers promises hearty support and welcomes the game within its limits. Thus then the financial end of the contract seems to be assured and the many supporters of Idaho from the Palouse and Coeur d'Alene Districts should make the game a success from the "rooters" standpoint.

Administration Building as it will look when completed.

The first great need of the University is the completion of the Administration building. At present only the main part is under construction the wings on either end being left for further appropriations. The main walls of the building are up, the first two stories plastered and the roof and third floor will be finished as soon as the steel rafters arrive. When complete the building will house all the departments in the college of Liberal Arts, the Administrative offices, Association Rooms, and temporary quarters for the library. At present the regents are asking for an appropriation of $100,000 to complete the wings so that we may have appropriate assembly halls and lecture rooms. It is estimated that the University can accommodate at least double the present number of students at very little extra expense when this building is ready for occupancy.

Association Notes.

Miss French addressed the Young Women's Christian Association last Thursday afternoon on "The Mission of Woman." Liszt hall was crowded to the limit to accommodate the girls who attended the meeting. The young ladies speak very highly of the talk and say it was one of the best meetings of the year.

Mr. Vaughn addressed a joint meeting of Y. W. and Y. M. C. A. last Sunday afternoon. That being the universal Day of Prayer for Colleges, his topic was along the line of the development consequent to a prayer life. Dean Elliott sang a beautiful solo. Despite the rather frigid atmospherical surroundings those present enjoyed the meeting.

Mr. Weatherford, international student secretary for the South, is expected to visit the University on March 6 and 7. He will probably address several men's meetings during his two days' visit.

Law Lecture

Attorney Wm. Morgan is delivering the law lectures to the cadets this week. His subject is land laws. The lecture last Monday was unusually interesting as well as instructive. The speaker began by explaining very carefully and clearly how the state of Idaho is surveyed and divided into townships, sections, etc. Then, beginning with the homesteader's rights, he explained fully all the different kinds of land grants and the circumstances under which they are made. He told about grants for public buildings such as the University, railroad grants which are made to induce railroad companies to build extensions of their roads, forest reserves and Indian reservations. Mr. Morgan spoke again on the same subject on Tuesday.

A New Prep. Equation

The Preparatory Department of Mathematics has been increased by the addition of a new member. The new quantity arrived last Tuesday and can already repeat the binomial theorem to the satisfaction of his father and mother. To say that Prof. and Mrs. Beaulieu are proud is expressing it mildly.

Graham's hair cuts are always the latest, try one.

Debate News Here and Elsewhere.

The make-up of Idaho's teams in the Triangular Debate League is as follows: Affirmative team—John Rock, Rowe, Holman and Paul Clemens. Negative team—Ira Tweedy, Jewett Matthews and Robert Jones. Washington's team that will meet Idaho in Seattle consists of Glenn Hoover, Kenneth Durham and Rex Roudebush. The three men whom Washington will send to Eugene are Lloyd Black, A. S. Hyland and Herman Allen. The personnel of Oregon's team is not known as yet.

The Pacific-Willamette-Whitman Triangular Debate League will hold its debates on February 26. The question is: "Resolved, That in American cities of population under 200,000, city government by commission known as the Galveston or Des Moines plan, is advisable." Whitman feels confident of winning two victories.

Oregon Agricultural college has submitted the question of city government by commission to W. S. C. for their annual debate, which this year takes place in Pullman.

W. S. C. is to have a new debate coach—a man who has coached debates in a middle-western college and who previously did work at the Emerson School of Oratory in Boston.

Whitman does not like the question submitted to her by W. S. C. It reads thus: "Resolved, That aside from amending the constitution, congress should require all corporations doing interstate business to take out a federal license." As yet Whitman has not made public their reasons for objecting to the question. It would be interesting to know them. Certainly the subject is a vital one, and the question is well worded. Perhaps Whitman has forgotten that six years ago when Idaho requested her to send another question in the place of the one relating to woman suffrage she flatly refused to do so.

Easy Money.

Percy (who has recently visited the legislature)—Say, Archibald, I'm going to be a senator.

Archi.—Aw, come off! You're dreaming.

Percy—No joshing now. All you have to do is sit around with your feet on your desk and smoke two-fers. Oh, yes, and eat apples from Nez Perce county, and draw seven dollars a day.

Archi.—Hully gee! Lead mah to it.

WHITMAN TAKES SECOND GAME

Before a Small Crowd Whitman's Five Defeats the Idaho Quintet

Whitman won the last game of the series of two games with Idaho by a score of 17 to 13.

Whitman's lineup was practically the same as in the first game but Lundstrum for Idaho was forced to stay out on account of a sore leg. Idaho made three baskets and one foul in the first half to Whitman's four baskets and one foul, giving them the lead of two points. This lead they increased to four points in the second half.

Smith and Curtis at forwards played good games as did Montgomery at center and the Edmondson Bros. again held their forwards to one basket.

The playing of the Whitman team was much faster than in the first game. They are a plucky bunch of men and play good clean ball. The team plays together and every man can shoot the baskets accurately. They took some long chances and threw some pretty baskets from nearly the center of the field.

Neither of these games were attended as they should have been, in consequence of which the management went behind in finances. Both games were first class and the student body should have been better represented.

Cadet Lester Bowman has been assigned to the band.

The new gallery practice rifles are here and target practice with them will begin immediately.

At the last meeting of the faculty it was decided to grant no extended trips to the base ball team. This does not cut out trips to colleges in the Inland Empire, but pertains only to a long tour of the coast schools. At a recent meeting the faculty also granted a voice and vote in its meetings of all instructors of two year's standing.

Leslie Dodge and Arthur Gayle will leave college this week.

George Campbell has left college for the remainder of the year.

Cathryn Smith was favored by a visit from her father over Sunday.

Ernest Jewell has taken Tallman's place as janitor of the gymnasium.

Chas. Colver has taken Miss Wood's place as typewriter in the bursar's office.

Fabian Ream and Roy Tuttle, both preparatory students, left school last week.

Wayne De Voe, '11, has been out of college for the last week on account of illness.

Clyde Chaffins, '10, has been in the hospital for a few days suffering from stomach trouble.

We are requested to announce that Mr. Strohbehn accepted the invitation to dinner at the Dormitory.

Edna Price, '11, has left college for the remainder of the year. She expects to return to the University next year.

Dr. Kanaga left the hospital after a weeks struggle against typhoid fever. He is still weak and probably will not meet his classes for several days.

Prof. Sheldon assisted by George Cole has been installing two large arc lights in the gymnasium. These lights are placed above the large cross beams so that they will not be injured by the basket balls. With the several small lights already in use the gymnasium will be well lighted.

Prof. Frandson gave an illustrated lecture before the "Farmer's Short Course" students last week on "Milk and its Relation to Public Health." He has been asked to repeat the lecture before the townspeople and, if satisfactory arrangement can be made, will do so in the near future.

Dorm. Dance.

Saturday night, Miss French gave at Ridenbaugh Hall, which is fast becoming noted for its hospitality, a very pretty Valentine party. Four from each Fraternity and Sorority, and four from each class were asked besides the special men friends of the Dorm. girls. The guests were received up stairs where some remained to take advantage of the "stunts" prepared in honor of the occasion, while others went down stairs and danced in the dining room. Supper was served later in the evening. The entire hall and the tables were decorated very effectively in strings of red hearts and the affair was charming in every detail. The occasion for the dance was the success in scholastic standing of the Ridenbaugh Hall girls.

Gem of the Mountains.

Until lately not much has been heard about the "Gem of the Mountains," which the class of 1910 will publish in the spring. Last week, however, Flu-harty was in Lewiston and Griner in Spokane soliciting advertisements. They seem to have had better success than the managers of any previous annual have had. They are now after the business men of Moscow; and, inidentally, they are taking orders for their book. Last year those who had not subscribed were required to pay 25 cents more for their annuals, and the same rule may be applied by the 1910 class. The editors are all working hard and there is reason to believe that this year's Gem of the Mountains will equal others.

SENIORS BANQUET

Fourth Year Men Entertain the Ladies of the Class at Big Feed.

On Saturday evening at nine o'clock the senior men gave a banquet to the girls of the '09 class at the Moscow Hotel. Covers were laid for about forty on one long table going the length of the room. Red and white carnations, representing the class colors, and special place cards made the table attractive. The menu was as follows:

- |                        |                    |
|------------------------|--------------------|
| Grape Fruit            | Oyster Cocktail    |
| Roast Chicken—Dressing | Potatoes au gratin |
| Scalloped Corn         | Pickles            |
| Olives                 | Celery             |
| Cranberry Sauce        | Lobster Salad      |
| Wafers                 | Ice Cream          |
| Cake                   | Coffee             |

After the dinner Mr. Jones was informally appointed toast master and after some witty remarks called on Mr. Savidge, Mr. St. Clair, Mr. Vance, Mr. Mathews, Mr. Sheldon and Miss Caldwell, the chaperones, Miss Henderson and Miss Curtis for toasts, all of whom responded to the best of his ability. The senior girls have to thank the senior men for one of the pleasantest times in the history of the class. Not a single moment did time hang heavy or drag, the whole affair being most delightful. The girls expressed their sentiments in "nine rahs" for the men of the class.

G. A. R. Program

On last Friday evening the G. A. R. of Moscow held a Lincoln Memorial Service in the Presbyterian church. Excepting the introductory remarks by Commander Jameson, the program was given by University people. Prof. Cogswell gave several pipe organ selections while the University quartet appeared twice singing patriotic songs. The address of the evening was given by Dean Elliott of the Agricultural college. The whole program was most enjoyable.

Military Ball.

The Military Ball, one of the biggest dances of the year, comes off on next Friday. Special decorations are being planned and a new programme prepared by the orchestra, while the two-steps will be furnished by the Varsity band, the excellence of which we all know after last assembly. This dance is the only one of the year that is complimentary, which fact makes it an especially nice event.

There is talk of reorganizing the "Starvation" club under a new management and in new quarters.

The editor may scratch his pen Till the end of his fingers are sore, But someone is sure to remark with a jest— "Oh, rats! I've heard that before."

Husband (answering telephone): "Confound the dod-gasted, blankety-blank-blank service! Who are they trying to get on this line?"
 Wife (at the other end): "Thanks, Exchange."

SPECIAL PRIZE FOR POETRY

Argonaut to Give Weekly Prizes of One Dollar to Students Writing Best Verse.

Beginning with next week the Argonaut will offer a special prize of a dollar a week for a series of ten weeks to the student who writes the best nonsense poem. There are quantities of dormant poetical ability in the student body and the Argonaut is going to make an effort to rouse it from its lethargy. The conditions are as follows:

1. All productions must be mailed to the Literary Editor by Friday of each week.
2. The verse may treat of any nonsense subject with no limitations as to length.
3. The Literary Editor reserves the right to reject any or all poems submitted and all material sent in becomes the property of the Argonaut.
4. Contestants must be registered students in the University and must show that the production is original. These rules place practically no limit on the content or extent, the only restriction being that the verse be the student's own work. It is hoped that the Literary Editor may have much material from which to choose and that the students will avail themselves of the opportunity to wrest fame and fortune from the field of poetry.

The University has recently received fifty more folding chairs for use in the Assembly Hall. These with the two hundred already on hand will furnish ample seating capacity for all college students.
