FOUR GAMES, THREE VICTORIES

The baseball team returned Sunday morning from Lewiston after winning three games and losing one. On the whole the showing made was as good as could be expected. On Friday the first game of the year was played against the Spokane Leaguers and resulted in a score of 17 to 5 in favor of the league.

The game opened with Jensen in the box for the "Indians" and Burns for Idaho. Not a hit was registered against Jensen. He walked one man and struck out three. The Idaho team was badly excited when it took the field and Burns completely lost his control. He passed five men, allowed a three bagger and three singles all of which netted seven runs for the Spokane professionals. Burns pitched four innings when he was relieved by Appleman. At this time Jensen was relieved by Killilay. In the sixth with two out Lundstrom drew a pass and made third on a single by Barrett. Curtis rapped out a single and before the smoke cleared away both Lundstrom and Barrett had safely crossed the rubber. In the seventh Johnson started things with a single, followed by three passes. Appleman got hit with the ball, and a sacrifice by Barrett, resulted in three more runs.

The score is as follows:

Saturday morning Clarkston was taken into camp by a score of 11 to 6. The wind blew and Capt. Hansen had a hard time keeping the ball over the plate. The score by innings was as follows:

Innings	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	Total
Idaho	0	7	1	1	1	0	0	11
Clarkston	1	1	1	1	0	2	0	6

Everybody hit the ball during the game with the Normal and in seven innings the score stood 20 to 0 for Idaho.

The third game Saturday opened with Ralph Williams in the box for Idaho and Weisegerber for Lewiston. The fun started in the first inning for Idaho. Johnson got hit with the ball, Lundstrom drew a pass, Curtis, Barrett, Williams and Walker each got a single and altogether they netted four runs. The remaining four came scattered

ASSAY BUILDING, UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO.

The accompanying cut is a view of the Assaying Laboratory of the University of Idaho. In the central part of the building there are at present ten double-muffle coal-fired furnaces with the coal bins, five gasoline assay furnaces and one gasoline melting furnace, and desks and lockers for sixteen students. This part of the building is so arranged that at any time eight more coal-fired furnaces and their coal bins can be added.

The east end of the building has three rooms; one is a large supply-room, the middle one is a change-room and lavatory with lockers for working clothes, and the other one is a small chemical laboratory and has twelve desks and lockers.

The west end of the building also has three rooms; one is a small recitation room and office and has the department library, the middle one is a laboratory for the parting of the gold-silver beads, and at present also contains part of the equipment and working collection of the Geological department, and the other one is the balance room, and contains four balances for weighing the ore, five fine assay balances for weighing the small gold and silver beads, and two good analytical balances; all of the balances are on a bench that is supported on a foundation that is separate from the floor.

A person familiar with the necessary equipment of such laboratories will at once see that this one has the best equipment that is possible, and has a capacity of sixteen men in each class, and with this capacity has two coal furnaces and all the gasoline furnaces in reserve.

through the nine innings. Williams pitched a steady game for seven innings when he was relieved by Appleman who allowed no hits to be made against him. The score was 8 to 5.

The next game will be on the Athletic Field next Thursday. The game will be called at 4:00 p. m. and the University will again meet the Spokane Leaguers. The team is practicing every night and they expect to show a different score after the next game. They do not expect to win, for that would be almost impossible against such a team but they do expect to hold the professional players down to a much lower score. This will be the only chance for the fans of Moscow to see any of the Northwest League teams in action on the local field. This team will furnish the highest class baseball that the Northwest has and the college team will try to make it interesting for them.

Prof. Eldridge returned from a weeks tour of High Schools in Nez Perce county last Saturday. Prof. Morley who also visited in that section returned Tuesday evening.

Miss Sonna is suffering this week from a severely sprained thumb.

"HER OWN WAY."

Clyde Fitch is ranked as the cleverest of American playwrights. He has done nothing better than his brilliant and moving comedy, "Her Own Way," which the University English Club will present at the Armory on Thursday evening, April 8th. The English Club is to be commended for going into a field which will show the emotional powers of the actors.

The plot, which is fascinating throughout, deals with the old but always captivating situation of two men in love with the same girl. In this case the complications are introduced by the weak and vacillating character of the girl's brother whose passion for gambling in Wall Street forces the whole family into a critical situation, the only relief for which appears to be the marriage of the girl to the richer but more undesirable of her two suitors. How this calamity is avoided and how the heroine by getting "her own way" is able to extricate them all from their embarrassment is the business of the play to show.

The villain of the piece, Sam Coast, as played by that experienced amateur, Frank Magee, is a splendid study of the likeable, half-good, wholly-human villain of the modern play. The patient forgiving spirit of the often tried Georgiana and her long unrecognized love for the hero are delicately and subtly done by Miss Palmer, a Freshman. Herbert Walker merits very favorable comment in his difficult part of the weak but well intentioned brother who can never quite resist the temptation to gamble away any money that he may have at hand, even when it is not his own.

This is the first time the English Club has had a cast requiring children. Marie Soulen, Vaughn Lewis, and Masters Gerald and Bayard Hodgins are receiving splendid training from Mrs. Hodgins and will make the older actors look well to their honors.

Every one who goes to the Armory on the 8th to see the English Club will see a splendid American comedy played in a thoroughly creditable manner. Students should be there in full Classical Club Lecture.

President MacLean addressed the members of the classical club and their friends last Thursday on "Latin Law Manuscripts." Roman law began with a few simple rules for city government. These were made for Romans alone. But when the growing commerce brought a great influx of foreigners to Rome new laws had to be devised. These were known as the Praetorian Laws and are the basis of the great civil code for which the Roman people are famed. In the ancient days these laws were expounded by jurists, whose works have come down even to our day as models of judiciary sagacity. The study of Roman law is much neglected and should have a greater place in our schools.

Assembly

Professor Hulme addressed the assembly last Wednesday on the subject of History. He first defined history as the account of the deeds, thoughts and dreams of men and institutions of the past. He then defined very carefully the lines which separate history from its various neighbors; geography, chronology, sociology, ethnology, economics, psychology and many other sciences are very nearly related to history and the boundaries have to be marked off very carefully.

The speaker then took up the educational functions of history. According to the modern interpretations, history does not mean merely an account of the battles, sieges and expeditions of the past. History is concerned with these only as they affect the development of human institutions or the advancement of civilization. But it is also concerned with the peaceful thoughts and ideals of men and with the quiet evolutionary development, social and religious, of mankind. In this new meaning it has the greatest educational value. The study of history in this light gives the student the power to think and to come to conclusions for himself. It also strengthens a student's imaginations. It enables him to transplant himself into all countries and into all ages. But this is not its only inducement. It gives the student ideas. It places before him the lives of great and good men who are worthy of being looked up to and followed. This alone ought to be enough to prevail on a student to study history.

In addition to the address Miss Kiefer gave a very pleasing piano solo and a quartet consisting of the Misses Kiefer and the Messrs Fawcett and St. Clair sang a new Idaho song entitled "The Gem of the Mountains". The words were written by Mr. Vaughn and the music composed by Prof. Cogswell.

To Complete Third Floor

The regents have decided to complete the third floor of the Administration Building during the summer so that the three stories of the building will be ready for occupancy at the opening of college next September. The original contract called for the completion of only the first and second floors but in the minds of the regents this plan seemed impracticable. So on their own authority they have ordered the contract let for this work.

Open Letter

Editor Argonaut:
 With the opening of the spring athletic season, is it not time that our new field should receive a name?

The matter has been in my mind occasionally since the tract was acquired, and I expected to see it taken up by the Associated Students before this time.

It is very desirable that the game chosen be one which represents something, not only to our present student body but to former students. It might be well to hold the matter open till about the first of May for suggestions and to get expressions of preference from the alumni, and after that have a vote of the student body on the name.

To start the ball rolling, I will suggest a name associated with the best traditions of the University; the name of a man known personally to more students than any other who was ever connected with our school, and held in warm and lasting regard by all of them who have known him; a name synonymous with loyalty to Idaho, enthusiasm for athletics, and devotion to duty. I would call it Chrisman Field.

Yours truly,

J. M. Aldrich

Freshman Glee.

The third annual freshman glee which occurred on Friday, the second, was a great success. The freshmen had, as predicted, gone to a good deal of work, and the gymnasium looked as pretty as it ever has. The whole building was robed with yellow and white bunting, and pennants, hung from the balcony, gave a very pretty effect. The patronesses were Messdames Smith, MacLean, Eldridge, Lewis, and Miss Moore.

Mrs. Caldwell entertained at luncheon and a theatre party last Saturday in honor of Robert Eldridge. Those present were: Messrs. Robert Eldridge, Francis Eldridge, Frederick Bowers, and Miss Helen Morley.

News of the Battalion

Headquarters Battalion of Cadets University of Idaho, Moscow Idaho April 5, 1909.

General Orders No. 12.

1. The Battalion will go into camp at Moscow, Idaho, on the 12th of April, 1909, and will remain in camp until April 17, 1909.

2. The Camp will be named Camp Chrisman and will be located on the University Campus.

3. The Battalion will be formed on the University Campus at 7:00 a. m. Monday, April 12.

Companies will be formed at the Armory.

First call 6:45 a. m.
 Assembly 6:55 a. m.
 Adjutants 7:00 a. m.

4. Arms will be stacked, a guard being placed over them by the Major of the Battalion, and the company commanders and the commander of the Band given supervision of the tents for their organizations on ground previously designated.

5. Tentage and camp equipment will be distributed by the Quartermaster to the different organizations from the Annex Building. All the tents of each organization will be placed on the ground on which they are to be pitched before any are pitched.

6. The Ordnance officer, Lieut. F. P. Stewart, will have charge of pitching the tents for Headquarters.

For this purpose the commanding officer of Co. "A" will detail one non-commissioned officer and eight privates to report to Lieut. Stewart as soon as the companies fall out.

7. Cadet Color Sergeant Cook and Cadet Quartermaster Sergeant Fern are detailed as police Sergeants during the encampment and will be responsible to the Quartermaster that the camp is kept properly policed. Color Sergeant Cook will have charge of the pitching of the kitchen tent and for this purpose the commanding officer of Co. "B" will detail a non-commissioned officer and six privates to report to Color Sergeant Cook as soon as the companies fall out.

8. Quartermaster Sergeant Fern will have charge of pitching the Guard and Visitors tents. For this purpose Commanding Officer of Co. "C" will detail a non-commissioned officer and five privates to report to Sergeant Fern as soon as the companies fall out.

9. Guard mount will take place as soon as the camp is pitched, those taking part in the Guard Mount on April 8, being detailed for the first guard.

General Order No. 13.

The following orders governing during encampment are published for the guidance of all concerned:

1. The Khaki uniform is the prescribed uniform for all drills except ceremonies. The Blue uniform will be worn at the daily guard mount and parade and after 7 p. m., except as hereinafter prescribed. Cadets will at all times appear in uniform in and about camp. After 6 p. m., civilian clothes may be worn out of camp. Civilian overcoats may be worn with the uniform during cold and inclement weather.

2. Each Company Commander and the Commander of the Band will detail a non-commissioned officer in their organization to act as police Sergeant during the night. At police call each day all cadets will turn out to clean about the tents and align the tents. The police Sergeant of each company will be held responsible for the policing of his Company Street.

3. The rubbish from each tent must be thrown into the company street before or at police call, and each tent put into order ready for inspection before drill in the morning. They will be kept ready for inspection until 11:00 a. m. At least one non-commissioned officer must be assigned to each tent and the senior in rank will each day detail a private who will be responsible for the condition of the tent and whose name will appear on a piece of paper or card board, and tacked on the tent pole. In tents occupied by officers only, the name of the one responsible for the condition of the tent will be posted on the tent pole.

4. All persons except cadet officers will be required to enter and leave camp by the guard tent. All sentinels will instruct visitors that they can enter camp by the guard tent.

5. Each cadet will keep his rifle in his tent during the day time. After Parade each night the rifles will be placed in the lockers in the armory and taken out at reveille in the morning. All are cautioned to take the greatest care of their rifles, preventing any damage to them by keeping in a dry place to prevent rust. It is required that rifles be perfectly clean at all inspections. By order of the Commandant. (Signed) C. S. Edmunson. 1st. Lieut. and Adj. Batt. of cadets Adjutant.

Lecture on Divorce.

The fifth open meeting of the Sociological Society was addressed by Judge H. R. Smith on Friday afternoon, April 2nd, in Morrill Hall. Beside the students in the sociology courses several visitors were present. Mr. Smith is a trained instructor, as well as barrister, and his lecture presented the facts relating to his subject, "Divorce," in such form that they could be easily retained by his hearers and easily taken by those who were making notes.

Mr. Smith first defined the marriage relation, as a basis for understanding the divorce laws. Marriage is a civil contract, with this marked difference from other contracts, that the law enters and directs the parties to the contract in their relations immediately on the completion of the contract. All divorce legislation is based on this fact. The end striven for in all divorce legislation is social harmony and the good of the community. Mr. Smith believes that there may be added new causes for divorce to the present list, and also believes that the point at which to lay the emphasis is in the restriction of ill-assorted marriage rather than in stricter divorce measures.

Prof. Wm. Worthington, of the chair of economics and sociology in Whitman college, will be the next speaker before the society, and will visit the university soon after vacation.

Prize Poems.

Attention of the students is called to the fact that the Idaho poem contest for the University shield offered by Mr. Vaughn closes April 30th so that the time is close at hand when all competing Mss. must be submitted. The trophy is attractive, and more than that the publicity that will attach to the winning of it should be a stimulus.

Agricultural Club.

At the regular semi-monthly meeting of the agricultural club Friday night Professor Elliott gave a very interesting address upon "Among the Farmers in Holland." Professor and Mrs. Elliott went abroad in 1904, on their wedding trip, spending several weeks in the land of the Dutch. Professor Elliott touched upon many phases of farming in Holland, giving a large portion of his time to the discussion of the cheese industry and particularly to the manufacture of Edam cheese. At the close of his talk many questions were asked him pertaining to what he had seen in Holland, which he was ready to answer. His talk covered a period of one hour and a half, but interest was shown from the beginning to the end.

Association Notes.

The regular meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association was led by Mr. Maughn last Sunday afternoon on the subject of the Student Volunteer Movement. A history of the movement since its organization, the significance of the pledge, the means of propagation, and the explanation of the watch word, were discussed by various members of the organization.

Mrs. Hare addressed the Y. W. C. A. at 4:40 last Wednesday on the "Moslem World." She spoke of the life and character of Mohammed, of his idea of God, and the evils of that religion. She also read two very interesting letters from missionaries among the Mohamedans, one from Persia and one from Assyria. The meeting was well attended.

Last Saturday evening a merry group gathered in the spacious kitchen of the dormitory. The nature of the occasion was an old fashioned candy pull. Those present were Misses Leighton, Bothwell, Tracy, Tuttle, Thomas, Clark; and Messrs. Key, Fiske, Albert, and Jessup.
