JAMES GIBB

Idaho's Famous Half Back and Football Captain of 1901 Dies in Moscow.

James Gibb, a graduate of the class of 1902 of the University of Idaho, in the department of mining engineering, died at Carrithers Hospital in this city on September 8th, following an operation for peritonitis. He had been sick about two weeks and came to Moscow on the Thursday preceeding. He was taken ill at Burke, where he was employed as assayer in the Hercules mine. At Burke his ailment was diagnosed as lead poisoning, for which he was treated. When he reached Moscow, on account of his serious condition from the effects of the trip it was not deemed safe to operate. On the Wednesday following, however, he became so ill that his physicians decided that step was necessary to save his life. Immediately following the operation, which was performed by Drs. Cunningham of Spokane, and Carrithers and Asprey of Moscow, he died.

Buck Gibb, as he was best known, was raised on a farm near Genesee, in this county. He was a brother of W. N. Gibb, Idaho '03, and Miss Mary Gibb, Idaho '09. He entered the University as a prep. When the Spanish-American war broke out he started with company D to the front. He became ill at San Francisco, however, and did not serve with the University company. Instead, as soon as he had recovered his health he enlisted in a South Dakota Regiment and served throughout the war. He engaged in several of the prominent battles of the war, and in one engagement was wounded.

At the close of the war he returned to Idaho and entered the University where he remained until his graduation.

"Buck" was one of the best men in his line the University has ever turned out, and stood high in the esteem of mining men throughout the Coeur d'Alene country.

He was a splendid student. The records of the University will show the excellence of his work and training while in college.

It was primarily as a football player, however, that Buck Gibb was so well known. He played on the varsity team four years, being captain of the team in 1901. As a half back and line plunger he has never had a superior at the University, and in his football days he displayed that tenacity and determination that has been so noticeable since his graduation.

The death of no other alumni of the University could bring more sorrow to those who were associated with him in college. He was an ideal student and citizen. He loved the University, and

FOOTBALL AT IDAHO

With Only Four of the Old Team Back, the Prospects Are Not Bright.

Coach Grogan and Captain Stokesbury realize that in order for Idaho to put out a good football team this fall, they must work harder than they have ever worked before. Not only that, but each man on the team, or who expects to be on the team, must work hard and persistently and train conscientiously, or he will see the silver and gold go down in defeat.

We have four of last years team. Captain Stokesbury will hold down his old position as right guard, Lundstrum will play right half, Jewel is back for center, and Thornton for fullback. These four men are in excellent condition and are almost a team in themselves. Besides these there is a report that George Armstrong and Jay Jellick will both return to the university, which will mean a right end and a left tackle, whom our rivals have met before. In addition to the first team men of last year, we have Williams, Montgomery, Cook, Cooper, Hays and Edmondson, who subbed last year. Williams is trying for tackle, and will undoubtedly win his "I" this year. Montgomery, Idaho's famous sprinter, will probably not be out until next week, but he is in good condition, and much is expected of him. Cook is out for center or guard, Cooper for center, Hays for guard, and Edmondson for right half. This is all of our old material. Our new material, while some of them are very promising, are uncertain. They are new to one another and to the coach, and should have been here in training a month ago.

Hilman, who played left half for Blair Business college last year, is certain to occupy that position here. Shangnon, for end, is a fast man and should make good. The Loux brothers at tackle and left end are making a splendid showing. Graves is heavy and should make a good tackle. There are four men out for quarter—Curtis, Perkins, Denning and Dippel. Our quarterback will have to work for his place, and we are sure to have a good one. Farmer for end, Buffington for halfback, Carr for guard, and Gray and Stein for fullback, are all making a was always ready to respond to her wants. Since he left college he has attended the more important football games, and has always been on hand at commencement.

Buck Gibb died as he lived—game to the last.

He was a member of the Elks and his funeral was held under the auspices of that order. The pall bearers were selected from alumni of the University, and a squad of cadets fired a salute over his grave.

credible showing. There are a few other men who are trying for positions on the team, but not enough. There should be at least twice as many as there are. It is not three weeks until we meet the University of Puget Sound, October 16, and then a week later we play Whitman. Less than a month to get ready for what will probably be the hardest game of the season. Whitman has nine of her old men back and expected to put out a winning team. From then on there is just a breathing space between games. We play Washington on October 30, Gonzaga on November 5, Washington State college on November 6, and Oregon on November 13. There will be no game with Utah this year.

In setting forth these statements we hope that we shall not be considered pessimistic, for we are not. We see the conditions as they are and publish them, but we are not discouraged. We would not have our rivals think that we are afraid. We have a small squad, most of the men are new, and practice was begun late. Still they are Idaho men, thoroughly imbued with Idaho spirit, which has never yet been beaten. Not only the university, but the entire state will watch these games with breathless interest. We expect Idaho to overcome all these difficulties. We expect her to win.

Letter of Sympathy.

Moscow, Idaho, Sept. 29, 1909.

Mr. Ernest Jewell, Langley, Wash.,

Dear Sir: Having heard of the sad death of your sister, we the law class of 1912, wish to express to you our heartfelt sympathy. Signed: Fletcher McInturff, Jesse Fuller, W. E. Chambers, James Harris, Roy Johnson, W. A. Ricks, C. H. Buffington, Lester Hoobler, Harry Bond, Allan Stein, Le Roy M. Yanne, R. D. Leeper.

MANY NEW STUDENTS

The Registrar's Books Show That New College Students Are Coming in Faster Than Ever Before.

Some prophets have set Idaho's registration for this year at 700. While we always were hopeful, we at first doubted that any university could grow so fast. We find, however, that up to the present time over one third of the total registration has been by new students, two thirds of these being college students. The harvest season, which is just closing, is holding a large number of the old students, and with the present outlook we feel confident that before another month that seemingly wild prophesy will be fulfilled.

The main part of our administration building is finished and all of it occupied except the library, which will be in a few weeks, (as soon as the book cases arrive). This leaves Morrill hall for the exclusive work of agriculture which, from present indications, will soon be one of our strongest courses. The gymnasium is used for athletics and drill. The only class rooms there being those occupied by Lieut Smith and Dr. Kanaga.

The central heating plant will be in operation before cold weather sets in, and there will be no more freezing in the library. The Preps are safely housed on the third floor of the new administration building. It is a hard climb for some of the little tots, but some of them need the exercise.

Altogether the prospects are bright. Our faculty has been much improved, and everything points to a very successful school year.

College Orchestra Organized.

An orchestra composed entirely of college students has been organized. The members of the orchestra, although not exactly professional musicians, are men of wide experience in the music line. It is their intention not only to play for assemblies, but to play for all college dances, banquets and receptions.

The orchestra is here for business, and with that end in view the members have elected J. Russell Fox as business manager and director. Other officers will be elected later. At present the orchestration consists of two violins, two cornets, piano, trombone and drums.

Their initial appearance will be at assembly on Wednesday.

All the students should boost this college organization and dance committees, etc., should engage them to play for their dances.

A card from Tony T. Crooks, 09, expresses sympathy for the Argonaut editor. Mr. Crooks is now professor of science at the Mace High School.

Mr. John S. Grogan has been appointed instructor in athletics. He received the B. S. degree in Knox college in 1904, and has been instructor in mathematics and director of athletics in Fargo College, North Dakota, from 1905 to date.

Mr. Raymond W. Brink has been chosen as instructor in mathematics and physics in the preparatory school of the university. Mr. Brink comes highly recommended from the Kansas State Agricultural college of Manhattan, Kan., from which institution he took his degree in general science in 1908.

The Stag Social.

Last Friday evening the first social event of the college year was held in the form of a stag party under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. "Old Clothes and New Paddles" and the large delegation of college men came amply provided, to the discomfiture of all those arriving late who were compelled to run a gauntlet in much the same fashion as white men were obliged to do when captured by Indians in bygone days.

The gathering was a complete success in every way and the Y. M. C. A. officials are to be complimented on the able manner in which they arranged the program of entertainment, the novel idea of luncheon, and in fact upon every feature of the college fellowship and good spirit which they are promoting.

The social opened with a short address of welcome by President MacLean in which he welcomed the new students to the college activities, and extended a wish to them that they have a prosperous college year. He next spoke of the duties the college man owed himself and his university, and concluded his address with a proposal to form a club to be known as the "Idaho Fellowship," with a unique set of bylaws.

The remainder of the evening was spent in practicing the college yells and songs, and in participating in an amusing contest between the different classes, in which the Sophomore proved the victors.

A luncheon consisting of "Coney Island" sandwiches and coffee was served, and the party broke up about 10:00, everyone feeling that he had become more thoroughly acquainted with his fellow classmen, and that college fellows are of a most congenial sort.

Cadet Battalion Organized.

The battalion of cadets has been organized, with three strong companies and the band. Instruction will begin immediately, and the regular two-hour period will be taken up with outdoor work as long as the weather will permit.

The following appointments have been made to date:

To be cadet major and assistant commandant, cadet major, Paul S. Savidge.

To be cadet major, commanding the battalion, Cadet Captain Herbert A. Wadsworth.

To be cadet captains, Cadet First Lieutenant James W. Gwinn.

Cadet First Sergeant John A. Rock and Cadet Sergeant E. W. Ellis.

To be cadet first lieutenant and adjutant, Cadet Sergeant Joseph M. Adams.

To be cadet first lieutenant and ordnance officer, Cadet Lieutenant A. D. Kettenbach.

To be cadet first lieutenants: Cadet Sergeants Louis T. Jessup, Orville A. Farris and Clark B. Moon.

To be cadet second lieutenants, Cadet Sergeants Roy O. Johnson, Robert V. Hockett and Lester A. Albert.

To be chief musician and leader of the band, Mr. E. J. Carey.

To be principal musician, Cadet Sergeant J. Russell Fox.

Assembly.

The college orchestra, which was organized last week, made its first appearance at assembly yesterday. Needless to say, it was received with enthusiasm.

President MacLean gave an accurate account of what has been done during the summer. He explained minutely each improvement and its advantages, told why certain improvements have been delayed, and made every one feel that Messrs. Hutton, Savidge and Clark have done their best to prepare the University for us.

After the address there was a vocal solo by Professor Hulme.

Men's Meeting Sunday.

About 25 men listened to an interesting address by Reverend Dr. Hare, Sunday, on "Some reasons why a college man should identify himself with Christian work." As the association room on the third floor of the administration building is not yet in shape the meeting was held in the gymnasium. It is hoped that the new room will soon be ready in order that the association may have a permanent and comfortable place for its Sunday meetings. Every man in the University, faculty or student, is invited to attend and take part for the coming year.

Why Not Revive it?

While country life has gained socially in many ways it has also lost in large measure some social features which were the joy of young people, says an exchange. Thirty or more years ago, and less than that in some sections, spelling bees, singing schools, debating societies and other similar doings were numerous, affording untold pleasure and no small benefit. They made a needful break in the ordinary routine of farm life, and today many look back longingly to the times of their youth, when merry parties of young people, after the day's work was over, drove to the school house to hear or take part in singing, debating questions, or in spelling one another down.

 Country life today, socially and in other ways, is unquestionably better than it was, and books, papers and other material are now plentiful in the farm home as once they were scarce.
 Still it is doubtful if any of the young people of today get more genuine satisfaction out of the advantages they possess than their fathers and mothers got in their youth from the social doings which brightened many a long winter night.

New Members of Our Faculty.

Mr. Ida F. MacLaine becomes the head of the Law Department of the University. Mr. MacLaine took his B. A. degree at Yale in 1900, and his LL. B. at Minnesota two years later. For three years he was connected with the editorial department of the West Publishing Co. Since 1906 he has been engaged in practice in Idaho, and under the appointment of the supreme court was code commissioner and compiled the present code of Idaho.

Mr. R. S. McCaffery, professor of mining and metallurgy, studied at the college of the City of New York and did some teaching in the public schools. He entered the Columbia School of Mines, New York, and graduated in 1896, and was for a time assistant in the department of metallurgy. He then started out in practical life. He has been twice in South America. The last time he built and successfully managed a copper smelter in Chile. Later he was in charge of the Santa Fe Copper company's mine and smelter in New Mexico. Recently he was metallurgist of Knight's smelter at Tropic, Utah, where both lead and copper furnaces were in commission, and also did expert work of various kinds in mining and metallurgy, chiefly in Utah. Mr. McCaffery was strongly recommended by Prof. Kemp, Prof. Howe and Prof. Peele, of the Columbia School of Mines, and Prof. Derleth, of the University of California.

Dr. C. H. Shattuck, of Clemson college, South Carolina, has been elected head of the department of forestry. Dr. Shattuck was formerly a member of the faculty of Washburn college, Kansas. His graduate studies were taken at the University of Chicago. During the past summer Dr. Shattuck has been engaged in special research work in the Biltmore School of Forestry.

Mr. Carl C. Rice has been appointed associate professor in romance languages. Mr. Rice's university record is as follows: B. A., University of Texas, 1897; M. A., 1899; M. A., Harvard university, 1900; Ph. D., 1902; tutor in Latin, University of Texas, 1897-99; instructor in Latin, Sacred Heart Training school, Waltham, Mass., 1901; assistant professor of romance languages, University of Oregon, 1902-3; assistant professor of romance languages, Stanford University, 1903-5; assistant professor of romance languages, Iowa State University, 1907-09.

Mr. W. H. Wicks, M. S., professor of horticulture, Agricultural college of Oregon; B. S. A. 1904; M. S. 1906, assistant professor of horticulture 1906-07; post graduate student, Cornell University, 1907-8; M. S. A. 1908, New Hampshire Agricultural and Mechanical College; assistant horticulturist and professor of pomology 1908-09. Prof. Wicks has had large experience in horticultural affairs in the west and is well qualified for his present position.

Mr. John F. Nicholson has been appointed to the department of bacteriology. Mr. Nicholson received the B.

S. degree in the University of Wisconsin in 1900, and his Master's degree in 1902. For both degrees he majored in bacteriology with botany and chemistry as minors. Mr. Nicholson has occupied the following positions: In 1901-2, acting station assistant in bacteriology under Dr. Russell, at Wisconsin; in 1902-3, assistant bacteriologist in the Geneva experiment station, Geneva, N. Y.; in 1903-5, assistant bacteriologist in Oklahoma A. and M. college and experiment station; in 1905-9, professor in botany and entomology, same institution.

Mr. L. F. Childers has been appointed associate professor of agronomy. Mr. Childers received the degree of B. S. in the Agricultural college of the University of Missouri in 1906, and the Master's degree from the same institution in 1900. In 1904-5 he was student assistant in the United States bureau of plant industry, in 1905-6 special agent in the same department, in 1906-7 assistant secretary of the state board of agriculture of Missouri, in 1907-08 assistant in agronomy in the University of Missouri in charge of field experiments, in 1908 professor of agriculture in Maryville State Normal School. During the summer of 1909 Prof. Childers has been engaged in investigations in drought resistance for the bureau of plant industry. While in college Mr. Childers was very prominent in student activities, being center of the University of Missouri football team for three years.

Mr. C. C. Tull, Ph. B., has been appointed assistant professor of English language. Mr. Tull graduated in Depaw University 1905 and was assistant in rhetoric in his senior year. In 1905-6 he was principal of Monon, Ind., high school. In 1906-7 and 1908-9 Mr. Tull pursued courses of graduate study in Harvard university. In 1907-8 he was instructor in English language in the University of Idaho.

Mr. G. L. Larson has been appointed assistant professor of mechanical engineering. Mr. Larson graduated in the university with the class of 1907 in the department of electrical engineering. Since 1907 he has been in the employ of the General Electrical company, Schenectady, N. Y. Oliver M. Osborne, graduate of State Normal at Oshkosh, Wis.; principal of public schools in 1905 at Schofield, Wis., in 1906-07; B. S. A., Wisconsin university in 1909; appointed instructor in agriculture and assistant to the dean of agriculture in 1909.

Mr. G. E. Frevert has been appointed assistant in the dairy department. Mr. Frevert received the degree of B. S. A. in the Iowa State College at Ames, Iowa, in 1909, and during his senior year was instructor in butter making in that institution. During the summer of 1908 Mr. Frevert was engaged in special investigation work for the dairy division of the United States department of animal industry.

THE IDAHO DYE WORKS

MOSCOW, IDAHO

We have been in Moscow one year this month and have made good, for our business has increased 150 per cent in the last six months. Moscow is 25 years old; in the last 16 years there has been 21 Cleaning, Dyeing and Pressing Places opened up and none of them has ever lasted 12 months.

But there doesn't seem to be any likelihood of our leaving for want of business, for our business is increasing each month.

THE IDAHO DYE WORKS does all kinds of Dying, French Dry Cleaning, Up-to-Date Pressing, and repairs everything. We clean 4-tear Velvet, Silk Curtains, Sofa Pillows, Ribbons, Neck Ties, Silk or Kid Gloves, Block and Re-trim Hats—in fact everything that men, women and children wear, except shoes.

If it is made of cloth, send it to the Idaho Dye Works. They can improve its looks.

Marriages.

During the summer Professor Evan T. Sage preparatory instructor in classical languages was married to Miss Shanks, sister of L. P. Shanks, former French instructor. The Argonaut joins with their many friends in wishing them much happiness.

Miss Jessie Rowton, '08, and Bayard Morrow, '06, were married on June 15th at the home of the bride's parents in Kooskia. They are now living in Gem, Idaho, where Mr. Morrow is assayer of the Hecla Mine.

William E. Curtis.

In a recent number of the Chicago Record-Herald Mr. William E. Curtis had a very complimentary article on Idaho, mentioning especially the university. This shows that Idaho is being recognized in its true light as one of the best institutions of learning in the country.

Freshman Class Meeting.

On Friday afternoon, September 25, the Freshman held a class meeting. Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: President, Mr. James Watts; Vice President, Mr. Parker; Secretary, Margaret Keane; Treasurer, Nathaniel Carr; Sergeant-at-Arms, Franklin Edwin. Kiefer Denning was elected class representative to the Athletic Board.

Beta Sigma Entertains.

Tuesday evening, September 21, a very pretty dancing party was given by the Beta Sigma girls in honor of Misses Margaret Stolle and Ruth Annette of Boise. All guests report a most enjoyable time.

"Boola" Once Again.

At the spontaneous football rally on the bleachers one night last fall, the assembled multitude with uncovered heads sang "Boola" for what was supposed to be the last time on a California grandstand. But it seems that the famous old song will not down and the question of reviving it is one that is now agitating many of the student body.

When the song was officially declared dead last fall, the action called forth considerable comment, but at that moment popular opinion seemed to be against the song. Those responsible for the movement to abandon "Boola" were actuated by the fact that the piece is famous as the battle song of another great university and that the chances were better for California to find a great song of her own if the Yale favorite were out of the way. The supporters of "Boola" contended that the music was not written at Yale originally, but that it is a Hawaiian air and as such we are welcome to use it. They further held that it has for years been known on this coast as a California song, and out of all our University songs, it is the one that the alumni know best. Many Yale men on our faculty have expressed themselves as opposed to the discontinuance of the song and in favor of its revival.—The Daily Californian.

Socks Gave Him Away.

Deputy Sheriff C. C. Brown secured another confession from Gordon Estes, a few days ago, having first gotten the clue from the old lady who had mended the young burglar's socks. The lad admits that the socks are his, and the shoes he had swiped from the Boston Store. These shoes he had left in Bumgarner & Son's store the day before robbing it at night. Sheriff Robbins found where the shoes came from and who the socks had been darned for. Young Estes also confessed to having stolen a lot of revolvers from the Moscow Hardware Co. and from Swann & Co's grocery store the tidy sum of $28.00. Deputy Brown pushed the confession a little harder and then he told how he had been a pretty fair burglar at Nezperce, but was compelled to quit the city because it got too hot for him. His stepfather settled one case by paying a hundred dollars. Gordon C. Estes will be taken before Judge Steele at Lewiston next Monday for sentence.

Christian Church Celebration.

The one hundredth anniversary of the Christian church in America was celebrated at Culesac Sunday evening by an appropriate program in which a large number of visiting ministers participated and which was attended by a large number of people of Culesac and the surrounding country. An appropriate program, which included a number of addresses was rendered. The following are the subjects and the names of the persons making the addresses: "The present need of our plea," by Attorney John Green; "Restoration versus reformation," by Rev. J. B. Lister, of Sand Point; "Our plea and the communion," by Rev. E. R.

Black, of Moscow; "What we are," by Rev. G. H. Ellis, of Nezperce.

The Freshies' Imprint.

The freshies have placed their "13" imprint everywhere, and we are constantly being reminded that the 1913 class is the largest ever registered at the U. of I. They have already made their mark on everything on the earth, and it is believed that when the freshies of this year go out from the U. of I. their power will be felt in the world.
