JUNIORS BUSY

Annual to be Out Before May—Class Play First Semester
—Prom Dec. 3rd.

The class of 1912 is planning to improve the methods of publishing the Annual. Every member of the class is taking hold with great interest and there will soon be "something doing."

The Gem of the Mountains 1912 is to be on sale by the first of May or earlier. Class pictures and cuts of all organizations will be made before New Years if possible. This has never been done before but it should be successful and every student ought to help by attending to his or her part as soon as possible. "Always before pictures have been made in the second semester. In Geo. O'Donnell the Annual has an active editor.

Another innovation initiated by the Juniors is the giving of a class play before the publication of the Annual. This evidence of forethought is certainly worthy of note. Usually a class waits till it is in debt and then takes measures to raise money, but this year a play is to be given before the mid-year examinations. The proceeds are to be used for the annual. The play that has been selected is Rex Beach's "Going Some"

Committees have been appointed for the Junior Prom. The big class dance will take place on the third of December. Every member of the class is at work and a fine entertainment is being planned.

Banquet For Football Men.

The Athletic Board met last night and voted to banquet themselves and the football men. All men who made the trips with the team are to be included in the feed and also the graduate and student managers.

The date has not been definitely determined as yet, but it is to be before Thanksgiving.

No managers were selected at this meeting of the board. About the only other business transacted was the allowing of a few bills.

Prep Assembly.

The Prep assembly was held last Wed. in the Y. M. C. A. rooms of the Administration building. Prof. Soulen gave an interesting talk and instructive lecture upon the national capitol at Washington. The second business assembly will be held on Nov. 16, '10.

FOOTBALL SEASON CLOSES WITH VICTORY

Idaho Holds Championship of Inland Empire---Defeats Whitman 5-0--- Season Successful Financially

The Idaho football team closed its schedule with a 5-0 victory over Whitman College at Walla Walla last Friday afternoon. It thereby cinched its claim to the championship of the Inland Empire. Idaho has beat everything in this section while the two other teams have yet to win their first conference game.

It is no gloomy atmosphere that pervades the local football circle. While the team has lost to the big colleges on the coast, it has more than held its own with all nearer rivals. A successful season has been had financially and otherwise.

To manager Gwinn and Graduate Manager Larson is due credit for the successful business management which will leave the athletic board several hundred dollars to the good on the season's finances. To Pink Griffith and the team itself belongs the praise for the splendid showing made against other bigger teams. Idaho has the lightest team in the conference, yet she finishes well up toward the top.

The game at Walla Walla Friday was a hard fought battle from the first sound of the whistle. Idaho kicked off to Whitman who returned the ball by consistent gains. For the first two quarters the ball seesawed up and down the field with the advantage, if there was any, slightly in favor of Whitman. Twice the Missionaries got in striking distance of the Idaho line and attempted field goals, but the ball went wild each time. The ball was in Idaho territory for the greater part of the half and was on Idaho's twenty-five yard line when the second quarter ended.

The feature of the first half was Idaho's splendid tackling, and interference. Lundstrum, Changnon, Thornton, Hillman and Perkins demonstrated that they could bring down the men to stay. The Missionaries appeared to be in poor shape for the game. Time was repeatedly taken out for the Whitman players. In the first half not an Idaho man asked for time.

In the second half Idaho came on strong. Whitman showed some class in advancing the ball but nothing as compared with the few minutes' exhibition put up by Idaho. End runs with perfect interference carried the ball to Whitman's 25-yard line. There the home team made a determined stand but a neat forward pass gave Changnon the ball which he carried over for the only score of the game.

The second half was all Idaho's until, toward the end of the last quarter, when the Idaho team, weakened by the loss of Perkins and Edmundson, began to lose ground. Whitman advanced to Idaho's 8-yard line where she was held for downs. Idaho punted to the 25-yard line. Just as the whistle ended the game, Neill received a forward pass and was downed a few inches from the Idaho goal. The Whitman crowd claimed the ball had crossed the line but the claim was not allowed. Had Neill scored a touchdown it would not have been allowed as he was playing tackle and was ineligible to receive a forward pass.

The line-up was:

IDAHO	WHITMAN

Lewis replaced by Campbell in first quarter and Eresser in the second. Blomquist replaced by Hughart in the third quarter. Edmundson replaced by Sams. E. Perkins replaced by Knutson. Touchdown—Changnon.

Officials—Hockenberry, Cornell, referee; Calhoun, Chicago, umpire; Reser, Washington, field judge; Applegate, head linesman.

NOTES ON THE GAME.

The new game didn't appear to be altogether free from accidents. Captain Lewis of the Whitman team was put of the game in the first quarter with a dislocated shoulder. Perkins and Edmundson also sustained injuries and had to be relieved.

Pink seemed to have more good men than he could find use for. Favre and Proctor Perkins, who have been worked to the limit this year, were allowed to witness the game from the sidelines.

Banks Kinnison played his first whole game for Idaho Friday and did it well. He will be expected to fill Hays' place.

ABOLISH THE PREPS?

Animated Discussion at the Meeting of the Victor Price Debaters.

The Victor Price Debaters held the first meeting of the year in the Y. M. C. A. hall last Friday afternoon and debated the question, "Resolved, That the time has arrived when it would be good policy to abolish the Preparatory Department." The speakers were not as well prepared as they might have been and as they should have been, but the discussion was lively and interesting and brought to light some remarkable facts.

The affirmative held that the Preparatory Department is not necessary. It was established when there were very few high schools and its purpose was to furnish secondary education to those who were not in the vicinity of a high school. Now there are seventy-nine secondary schools in the state, twenty-two of which are fully accredited. It was shown that practically every student now in the Prep could attend some other secondary school as conveniently as the Prep; and many of them even more conveniently.

It was also pointed out that over 50 per cent of the preparatory students live in Latah county, 30 per cent in Moscow, and that about 20 per cent come from other states. It was argued that it is unjust to the rest of the state for the other counties to get only 30 per cent of the good of the school, while Moscow alone gets the same amount, and Latah county gets the benefit of over half of the entire value. In other words, the state furnishes the city of Moscow a good high school. When other cities provide their own schools, why should the whole state main-next year and we venture that he will give a good account of himself.

Vesser and Hays by changing places quite frequently in the line had their opponents up in the air (and down on the ground) most of the time.

The Idaho club at Whitman entertained in honor of the two teams Friday evening but the boys did not attend as they wished to catch the evening train for Spokane where they took in the Washington-Pullman game Saturday.

Knutson as usual was called into the game in the latter part. Sams also took a whirl at end. They appear to be worthy successors for our departing Seniors.

NAME THE ATHLETIC FIELD

Several years ago the Associated Students of the University of Idaho purchased an athletic field. Since that time, there have been more interested and loyal students than one who have requested that a name be given the field. It has not yet been done. We see the field referred to as "the Idaho Field," or as "Idaho Field." In fact some of the underclassmen and even the town people have made the mistake of thinking the name "Idaho" has been officially given to that particular piece of real estate. Such is not the case. No name has ever been chosen and it is time for the owners of this property, which is destined to become a historical land mark, to select a name for it which will be at once appropriate and desirable.

"Idaho Field" might be quite the proper title, but there are now enough places and organizations bearing the name. We are disposed to apply the name of our state to everything in honor of both our university and our home. Nobody will object to boosting for Idaho, but why not get a little variety and distinction into our methods. At least, if we wish to call the athletic field "Idaho Field" let us decide it in an official way rather than act so indifferently about it.

More than this, a name might be found that will keep alive the memory of some worthy pioneer of the state or of the institution of learning which we attend; a name that in the future will arouse recollections of pleasant associations of the old college days. These memories are what make loyal students and loyal alumni. They are what make the college days and the college camps so dear to every graduate. Such students and such graduates are the best boosters for their alma mater that can possibly be found. Let's begin boosting now. Choose a name—a good one. It's up to YOU!

An Appeal

The attention of the students should be called to something in which a large number are missing. It is assembly. At 10:20 each Wednesday, there are no classes held, so that the students may attend Assembly. Once a month the students have charge of this hour, but the rest of the time, a program is provided. These consist usually of some musical numbers and a lecture or talk by a prominent visitor or by one of our faculty members. This year the assemblies have been exceptionally good and it is certainly too bad that so many have missed them. If one were to judge the size of the student body from the attendance at assembly, he could honestly draw the conclusion that there are few students in attendance here. Study a little longer on Tuesday evening or a little extra on Wednesday morning or a little more intensely while you study and come to Assembly. Put aside all thoughts of study and listen to the interesting or inspiring addresses and excellent music for an hour. You will get more of the college spirit and feel better the rest of the week for having gone.

Attention should also be called to the infrequency with which we sing our college songs. How many Freshmen have heard our songs? How many knew we had any songs? We have never sung them at Assembly or the rallies yet this year. We could not have found a more appropriate time to sing the Step Song than at the last rally, but it was not sung. We have so few songs that every student should know every word of every song. Perhaps you think the songs and tunes are not popular, or are too slow. In that case write a new one to some stirring tune or persuade one of your friends to get at a new song for us.

Another word about singing. We have a trained teacher with us this year who knows how to sing and is anxious to form a glee club. Very few have responded. All seem to be affected with the "too busy" microbe. It is time that the students of the University of Idaho took an interest in some work other than their studies. Let glee club work be a part of your recreation.

These few suggestions will enliven the spirit of Idaho. Let's not let them say Idaho spirit is dead or even sleeping. Let's show them all that we are awake and wide awake at that. Three short sentences will express all that has been written.

1. Attend Assembly each week.
2. Learn and sing the college songs and write one if you can.
3. Join the glee club.

The Phi Deltis were entertained Monday evening, Nov. 7 by the Beta Sigmas at a chaffing-dish party. All sorts of good things to eat were made and a general good time was indulged in.

ATHLETIC "I'S" ARE PRESENTED

Presenting of the "I's" and "stars" to those students who had won them in the different branches of athletics was the feature of the student assembly Wednesday, November 9.

Having attained honor on the different college teams the A. S. U. I. awarded them "I's," which were presented by President MacLean, to the following:

IN BASKET BALL

Clifford Edmundson, '11.
J. G. Montgomery, '11.
Fritz Lundstrom, '11.
B. Reilly, '14.
Rex Curtis, '14.
Harry Chagnon, '13.
C. McWilliams, '14.

TRACK

J. G. Montgomery, '11.
Oliver Price, '11.
J. W. Strohecker, '11.
Harry Driscoll, '11.
L. J. Hunter, '13.
J. G. Watts, '13.
E. H. Buffington, '14.

BASE BALL

Harry Chagnon, '13.
Gus Appleman, '12.
John Hayden, '13.
W. P. Hillman, '13.
Enoch Perkins, '13.
E. M. Williams, '11.
H. Black, '11.
Rex Curtis, '14.
A. D. Kettenbach, '11.
Herbert Walker.
Fritz Lundstrom, '11.
J. M. Crom, '11.
J. Thornton, '12.

According to a clause in the A. S. U. I. constitution each man who wins "I's" in two different branches of athletics is entitled to a star, and an extra star for each additional "I" obtained after that.

Three stars were given to Montgomery, two to C. Edmundson, three to Lundstrom, two to Curtis, one to Chagnon, one to Thornton and one to E. Perkins.

Aggies Meet

The Agricultural Club held their second meeting Friday evening and a very interesting program was given. Prof. Nicholson gave a very interesting talk on the relation of Bacteria to the fertility of the soil. He showed vividly the use of the little fellows in converting the nitrogen of the air into soluble nitrates. The talk was very practical and was appreciated by all those who attended.

In the business meeting that followed the address, Mr. Kjosness, the new assistant business manager of the Idaho Student Farmer, gave a very entertaining and extended talk on the future business policy of the paper. He was very eloquent in his plea for its support by the college students.

The club is in a very prosperous condition this year. It has forty members on its roll, thirty of whom attend the meetings. This shows remarkable interest.

Mr. Elliott will be out of the city the latter part of the week.

Abolish the Preps? (Continued From Page 1)

tain one for Moscow and Latah county?

It was further shown that the collegiate departments are crowded for room and deprived of money because of the expense of the Prep department. The University needs several new departments, and these might well be provided with the $10,000 now expended for the Prep each year.

The negative held that the Preparatory school is needed to supplement the work of high schools whose courses are deficient and to enable college students to attend college and at the same time make up work in the Preparatory Department. They also declared that it is less expensive to students who have to leave home, to come to Moscow than to go to some high school. However their arguments failed to convince the judges and the decision was given for the affirmative.

It was voted to hold the next debate Friday, Nov. 19th instead of a week later, which is in the Thanksgiving vacation. The question for discussion at this meeting is "Resolved, That the field southwest of the gymnasium should have been chosen for the athletic field rather than the present site." It will be interesting.

Everybody is welcome to attend the meetings of this club and all collegiate students are invited to become members. The programs occur on alternate Fridays at 4:00 p. m. Take an hour off and come.

Oregon News

By George W. Shantin.

The last collegiate game of football for the University of Oregon this year was played last Saturday with O. A. C. at Corvallis. The game was close and spirited, the final score being 12 to 0 in favor of the University. Excursion trains were run from both Portland and Eugene. After the game a good natured scrap ensued between the students of the two institutions, and in the turmoil an Oregon man was knocked unconscious. The affair started as a result of stealing caps as souvenirs of the game.

A woman's council, composed of co-ed. representatives from the sororities and other organizations, has been instituted at Oregon for the general regulation of co-ed. affairs.

A challenge has been received from the University of Washington, asking for a freshman football game between the two institutions. It is hardly possible that the challenge will be accepted, however, since there are barely enough freshmen on the Oregon squad to form an eleven, and several of these are playing on the Varsity team.

A major course in the study of gymnastics has been opened at the University and has an enrollment of twelve co-eds. It is designed to prepare for the teaching of gymnastics.

DEBATE NEWS

Oregon and Utah have begun work on their fourth annual contest. Oregon has sent the question: "Resolved: That the establishment of a system of postal savings banks by congress was justifiable; it being mutually conceded that the question does not refer to the particular postal savings bank act recently passed by congress." Oregon should be well prepared to debate that question. It was the subject of the first annual debate between the women of the University of Utah and the women of the University of Washington. Oregon submitted the question in that case also. She made the question refer to any system of postal savings banks. Then she endeavored to have the question changed so as to refer only to the particular system adopted by congress. The Washingtonians refused to assent to the proposed change so the Oregonians assailed postal savings banks of any and every kind. Evidently they did not make a very bad job of it for they captured one vote.

It is an interesting fact but one with which the college world of the Pacific Northwest is not yet acquainted that practically all the things for which Idaho stood in the Triangular Debate League, the things that Oregon and Washington objected to have been included in the rules governing the Stanford-Oregon-Washington debates. It must be humiliating to our former opponents to have to swallow the things they once rejected. And it is a source of no little satisfaction to us at Idaho to know that the things we championed were successfully forced upon Oregon and Washington by Stanford.

The question which has been submitted by Whitman for her debate with W.S.C. this year is "Resolved: That the best interests of the American college justify the abolition of the present system of intercollegiate athletics." While such a move is radical the Whitman Pioneers say "the question of the abolition of intercollegiate athletics is one of no little importance today. The debate should be of interest not only because of this vital importance of the question, but also because Whitman last year defeated W.S.C. on their own platform. The Pioneers must submit their choice of sides within ten days from last Friday." The debate will be held in Walla Walla about the middle of January. The Whitman team is composed of Calvin Crumaker, leader; Otto Johnson, Chester Maxey, with Donald Campbell, alternate.

Washington is to choose the question this year for the Stanford-Oregon-Washington league debate. It is doubtless to doubtless that the subject will be ship subsidies. They are very partial to that topic on Puget Sound.

Influence and Activity of the College Professor.

Evidently not all college faculties are so reticent about public affairs as is that of the University of Idaho. In Montana President Dunway, of the University of Montana, actively championed a proposed amendment to the state constitution looking to reform in taxation. And several members of the faculty of the University of Washington spoke in no ambiguous terms regarding the proposal to extend the suffrage to women. In an editorial of the "Washington Daily" we read that "Dr. William Sivery, head of the department of philosophy, supported the right of women in the following way:

"I have never seen an argument against extending the suffrage to women which was a reasonable one, except such as are directed against democracy generally. The question of democracy is an arguable one, and all the arguable reasons against women suffrage are the anti-democratic ones. The main reason for women suffrage is the advantage to the women themselves. Self-development in women means that they shall take an intelligent interest in all vital social and ethical questions, that is, in all that is so supremely important for humanity. The suffrage will increase and even compel such interest."

And we read further that "Dr. J. Allen Smith head of the department of political science, and Professor W. C. Beach of the department of sociology endorsed the women's right to vote. They hold that extension of suffrage is an extension of democracy.

The economic and social condition of the country has developed in such a way that the women are serving as potent factors of our industrial life. And they should protect their interests by using their own ballot. Woman suffrage won in Washington with a vote of about two to one. Doubtless the voices of these three college teachers were something more than voices crying in the wilderness. Evidently Puget Sound produces something besides oysters.

The Freshmen girls are planning to give the Freshmen boys a feed at the gymnasium Friday night. Although this was a very secret affair it leaked out somehow. We wonder when they are going to entertain their patrons, the Juniors.

The management of the Prep basketball team has arranged for a four Thanksgiving week. They will play the Lewiston and Astoria High schools.

SOPHS HOLD FRESHIES

Excellent Playing of Real Football But No Score on Either Side.

The Freshmen out-played, out-rooted and all but defeated the Sophomores in the interclass game last Saturday afternoon. At least that was the story told by every Freshmen last Saturday night. But the Sophomores claimed to be the real heroes of the day. They had tamed the Freshmen, left them without a score, and they hoped, helped the Freshies to realize their real position of humility and homliness.

Such is always the result of a 0-0 game. Each side can point to its advantages and tell what might have happened "if our best men hadn't been hurt" or "if we had had a little more practice." For that reason the tie game is probably the most satisfactory that can be had under the conditions. But Saturday's game was real football. Those who had gone expecting a glass riot were tendered a surprise. The Sophomore team had been picked for the easy winner, yet only in the third quarter did they have a chance to win. In that period they laid the ball on the Freshies' 3-yard line but could go no farther. This was their only invasion of any length into the Freshman territory.

The greater part of the game was played between the center of the field and the Sophomore 30-yard line. In the last ten minutes of the game the Sophomore goal was continually in danger, but no score was made.

From the ambulance point of view the Sophomores furnished the only heroes of the afternoon, Watts and Loux being forced to retire from the game on account of injuries received. At the forward pass the Sophs also excelled, getting away with some good passes. The underclassmen's attempts in this department failed miserably. Bennett was the best ground gainer for the Sophomores. He seemed always good for gains of several yards. Jack Wheeler starred at returning punts, returns of 20 to 30 yards being ripped off every once in a while. The Freshman back field was a big surprise. Hughart, Griner, Burns and Driscoll were mighty classy for scrubs.

On the line the Sophs had an advantage of weight of about twenty pounds to the man which didn't seem to be any advantage at all. To describe the playing on the line might cause some hard feelings; so for further particulars ask either the Freshmen or Sophomores, which ever version you are the most interested in.

EXPERIMENT STATION AT DEARY

The Star-Mirror in its last issue states that some Deary men have given the Agricultural College some land near Deary. This is a mistake. The Latah Realty Company at Deary through their managers Messers Henry and McGowan, want to conduct a demonstration farm at their town for the benefit of the farmers living in that vicinity. They have asked the Experiment Station of the University to direct the work on the farm. The authorities of the Experiment Station agreed to assume the direction on condition that the company furnish the land for five years and all equipment, labor and other expenses in connection with its operation.

The Station will supervise and direct the farm thru the departments of Agronomy and Horticulture. It will also furnish all seeds, trees and plants that it may have for distribution, without cost to the Latah Realty Company. All other seeds and plants, which the station may not have will be furnished by the company. Expenses of supervision and visitation will be paid by the Station. And in return, accurate reports of all tests and experiments carried on will be made and sent to the Agricultural College at Moscow.

The experiment station will be glad to co-operate with any section of the state in the same way.

As an item of interest that might tend to show the extent to which the Idaho Experiment Station and its work is being appreciated, in one day's mail, there was received at the office a call for the bulletins on fruit from W. Krabbe, Hengelo Holland; from A. Truelle, member of the National Society of Agriculture in France for Bulletin 54, entitled, "Picking, Packing and Marketing of Apples"; another request from Mr. Konrad Eberhart, Speyeter a Rh., Germany, for Bulletin 54; and one from Chas. R. Highbee Hyde Park Mass., for Bulletins Nos. 47 and 54.

These are only samples of the calls that are coming in, if not daily, at least weekly, for the publications from the station. In fact, the demand for this printed matter is so great that the supply of bulletins on fruit culture is practically exhausted, and it will be necessary in the near future to publish revised editions, or entirely new bulletins covering these subjects.

Mr. Jesse Fuller has returned to his home in Wallace after a protracted visit at the Kappa Sigma House.

The Pasmore Trio was entertained Wednesday at dinner at the Gamma Phi Beta House.

FROM LISZT HALL

Excellent Program by Pasmore Trio—Out-of-Town Concerts by the Music Faculty.

The department of music of the University secured for the students and citizens of Moscow an excellent musical entertainment last Wednesday evening. The performers were the Pasmore Trio. A large and appreciative audience enjoyed the fine program.

Miss Suzanné Pasmore played the cello with wonderful technic and interpretation, which won for her the hearty applause of the audience. Miss Dorothy Pasmore charmed every member of the large audience with her skillful performance on the piano of the most intricate and difficult selections, yet her manner was very modest and attractive. On the violin, Miss Mary Pasmore proved her ability to make the strings "speak." The quiet and plaintive sadness of Dvorak's "Humoresque" was so beautifully and gently shown that she was twice encored. The concert selections that closed the program were as near absolute perfection as was possible. The trio furnished an entertainment that was certainly a rare treat.

Saturday evening the faculty of the music department gave a concert at Potlatch. It was highly enjoyed by a good-sized and very attentive audience. Next Friday evening they will render a program in Boise.

More Class Football.

The Law school challenged the underclassmen or either of the underclasses to a game of football to be played next Saturday. The challenge has been accepted and active practice has begun. Another close and interesting game is to be expected.

The Junior class has also challenged the Seniors to a game to be played some time before Thanksgiving. This has not been officially received by the Seniors nor officially accepted by them. It will probably be accepted however.

Clifford Weston, '14, has quit school.

Rev. B. E. Koontz addresses the Assembly to day.

Miss Ruth Annette has been ill the last few days.

"Ted" Vesser, '14 spent Sunday at his home in Coeur d'Alene.

Professor and Mrs. McCaffery entertained at cards on Tuesday evening.

The Junior Annual Staff met Tuesday afternoon to talk over business.

Miss Gretchen Zumhof entertained Mr. and Mrs. Griffith and Misses Hays and Bolgue at dinner Sunday.

We are all glad to see Miss Jewell Bothwell, '12, attending classes again. She has been quite ill for nearly two weeks.

The Bursar, Francis Jenkins, is able to be about again, after several days of illness caused by a serious abscess of the ear.

Louis Shields has returned from Oakland, California where he has been attending high school. He has registered in the Prep.

The Junior class held a meeting Tuesday at one o'clock. Plans for the Annual, Junior Prom and their class play were discussed.

The Glee Club meets today at 4:00 p. m. in Miss Van Osten's studio in the Armory. New members are most heartily welcomed.

Mr. James Watts who sustained a rather severe injury in the Freshmen-Sophomore game Saturday is in the Inland Empire hospital.

Dan Hannah, '12, took in the W. S. C.-Washington game at Spokane Saturday and stayed over for the opening of the big National Apple show on Monday.

Pres. MacLean was taken to Carither's Hospital yesterday with a sharp attack of appendicitis. He has been bothered several times before with the same trouble. The attack is not expected to be very serious.

The Gamma Phi Betas entertained the Kappa Sigma fraternity Monday, Nov. 7th. The entertainment was a rather novel one. It consisted in the first place of an auction sale in which the young ladies were auctioned off. Then each fellow was given charcoal and paper and was told to draw the silhouette of his partner after which all tried to guess who the pictures were supposed to represent. Then followed a fishing game in which each fellow caught a very suitable present for a fish. And last but not least refreshments were served.

New Memorial Tablet.

The faculty are arranging to order a new bronze tablet to take the place of the one which was destroyed by the burning of the old administration building and which contained the names of all the thirty-nine students and ex-students of the University who went to the Spanish-American War. The order has not been placed yet, but estimates and designs have been secured and it will soon be ordered. It will probably be placed on the second floor of the new building just opposite the landing of the stairs. This is a very appropriate place as it is about the center of the entire building and is near the doors of the library, where practically everybody passes frequently.
