IDAHO BREAKS EVEN.

Loses First Game to O. A. C. but Takes Second—Team Goes Abroad Next Week.

Idaho won one and lost one in the intercollegiate baseball series played with O. A. C. last Wednesday and Thursday. The visitors from Corvallis did not play up to the expected standard in either game and some of the home boys made use of the occasion to fatten up their batting averages.

The first game was all Idaho's until the eighth inning when two hits and two costly errors let in four runs for the Aggies and gave them the game. The visitors early in the game exhibited the spirit that has broken off athletic relations between them and the University of Oregon, and throughout both games there was a constant kicking on decision which spoiled what otherwise might have been two first class games.

O. A. C. scored one run in the first inning. With one down, Poff got to first on Crom's error, stole second and scored on Keek's three-bagger past second base. Keek died on third. Idaho came back for two runs in her half of the inning. Wheeler went first on Poff's error. Lundstrum repeated the act, but Wheeler was caught out going third. Crom hit to right, advancing Fritz, and stole second. Kettenbach got to second on Poff's error scoring Crom and Lundstrum. "Ketsey" was put out trying to go home.

O. A. C. took another in the third when, with two down, Keene hit to Barrett. Keek again came up for a two bagger scoring Keene. In the last half of the fourth Crom drove out a three base hit to center and scored on Kettenbach's sacrifice. In the sixth Crom again slammed out a hit and scored on a drive to center by Kettenbach. Crom's hitting was a feature of the game. He got three hits out of that many times at bat and scored three of Idaho's four runs.

In the unlucky eighth the Oregon crowd took a brace and sent four men over the plate. Keene the first man up struck out, Keek made first on Wheeler's error and scored on a pass ball. Turk sent a two bagger into center field. Cooper went out, but Siemens hit to left field, scoring Turk. Reed hit to right scoring Siemens and Hinkle got first on shortstop's error, scoring Reed. Mocre made the third out which retired the side. In the ninth, a two base hit by Poff, a single by Keene and

PLANS FOR INTERSCHOLASTIC MEET ARE NOW COMPLETE

Final Program is Arranged---University Will Have Many Visitors---Entertainment Biggest Problem.

The faculty committee which is managing the annual interscholastic track and field meet have now completed their program. Over two hundred high school students are expected to visit Moscow during the two days of the meet. Teams are coming from practically all over the state. It is not yet certain but Tekoa and Garfield are also planning to be represented and will probably send several men.

The cups and medals for the meet are now on exhibit in the window of Griffin's the jeweler.

The hardest problem the committee has to face now is the accommodation for these athletes. "Pink" is working at the perplexing question all the time and it has been predicted that unless there is a remarkable change pretty soon, he will be a raving maniac before Friday. All students who can entertain one or more of the visitors are urged to make the fact known to the committee as soon as possible. There is a large number to be cared for and every one must do his part.

Tickets are now on sale. Committees from each college class and from the preparatory department are selling them. Every student should have one or more. Don't fail to get them.

ANNUAL SOPHOMORE FROLIC. VARSITY SOLOISTS HONORED.

Underclassmen Have Successful Dance—Music By The College Orchestra.

Last Friday night the class of 1913 gave the annual Sophomore Frolic in Eggan's hall. The dance was successful in every way. The crowd that attended was not so large as it might have been, but it was just big enough that every one had a fine time. There were about sixty couples present.

Dancing began at about 8:30 and continued till after midnight. The music was furnished by the college orchestra under the leadership of Prof. E. Hellier-Collens. The orchestra has established a reputation for itself. Whenever it plays, it furnishes the best of music. It is coming to be recognized as the best orchestra in the city. The music for the dance last Friday evening was of the kind the college orchestra always provides.

The hall was decorated with evergreens and several cosy corners attractively arranged added much to the comfort and beauty of the room. The ceiling was completely covered with pine and fir boughs and the electric lights were dropped thru and suspended below this network of dark green. The orchestra was concealed behind more evergreens and punch was

Seniors Will Produce Farce Comedy—Two Rehearsals Being Held Every Day.

The annual Senior play promises to be one of the most interesting entertainments given in Moscow during the year. The play, "Why Smith Left Home," is a comedy and is funny from beginning to end. It is full of life and abounds in embarrassing situations, attempted deceptions and mistaken identity. There is humor in every scene. Everywhere the play has been presented it has caused a sensation. It is sure to please a Moscow audience and especially the young people.

The members of the class who are taking part are making rapid progress. Each one is being drilled by Dr. Moore and Mrs. Hutton to fill his or her place to perfection. Rehearsals are being held every afternoon and evening this week, and the last two or three have gone off smoothly enough and with enough life to be almost satisfactory. But still more training will add a great deal to the present ability of the actors who are already becoming stars.

The play will be given on both Friday and Saturday nights of this week. On Friday night the point winners in the interscholastic meet will receive their medals. They will be presented by President MacLean. Seats have been reserved for all whose expenses are paid by the management of the meet. These boys are all prospective University students and they will appreciate the college spirit which is to be a distinctive feature of Friday's performance.

Music will be furnished by the college orchestra and the Kappa Sigma quartette. Prof. C. C. Tull has written a new Idaho song, which will be rendered by the quartette. Copies of the song will also be on sale at the theatre on the evenings of the play. Everybody knows what kind of music the orchestra produces. That organization has become the most popular orchestra in town. They need no introduction to an audience from the University.

Manager Daus says that over one hundred and sixty reserved seats had been sold for Friday's performance up to last night. This is beside the eighty or more that have been reserved for the high school athletes. This shows that the house will be crowded the first night.

Tickets are now on sale at Hedin's Drug Store in the afternoons and evenings and at Bursar's office in the mornings. The prices are 75, 50 and 25c.

Play Before Big Musical Club of Spokane—Press Comments Very Favorable.

The School of Music of the University has been signally honored by the engagement of two of its faculty members as soloists at the Mendelssohn Club concert at Spokane last night. Prof. E. Hellier-Collens, instructor in violin and Miss Fay Hostetter, assistant instructor in piano, left Moscow on the electric train yesterday noon and played before the musical club last night. Prof. Collens played two groups of solos and Miss Hostetter accompanied him and also rendered two piano solos. They will return today.

The Mendelssohn Club is the largest and most important musical club in Spokane and Prof. Collens and Miss Hostetter are to be congratulated upon the opportunity of making their debut in Spokane musical circles under the auspices of this organization.

Clyde Oakes, a former student at Idaho, is a prominent member of the Mendelssohn Club and is largely instrumental in securing the two Idaho artists for the occasion.

The concert was one of the largest of the season. Admission was by invitation only. It was held in the Central Christian church of Spokane.

CO-OPERATION

In order to accommodate the very large crowd that will attend the senior play next Friday evening, some extra chairs must be put in the theatre. The crowd will be greatly increased by the high school students, a large number of whom are to be admitted without charge. In view of this fact, the management of the interscholastic meet has decided to furnish part of the necessary extra chairs. They asked to be allowed to use the folding chairs from the gymnasium and were informed that they would have to pay rent for them.

Can anyone justify this requirement? University property is for University use. The interscholastic meet and the entertainment of the visiting high school students is certainly a distinctively University matter and is being managed by a committee of the faculty. The student body is not asking them to pay rent for the use of the athletic field. Then why should they be asked to pay for the use of the chairs from the gymnasium?

Something is wrong. Somebody has a badly perverted idea. These chairs are here to be used by the University and not to be rented either to faculty or to students. The University has no more reason to charge for their use on this occasion than to require rent for the use of the space on the campus used by the students for the tennis courts.

The interscholastic meet is held for the benefit of the entire institution. The management is having difficulty in making ends meet financially, and a little co operation on the part of the authorities, would be quite fitting.

ENTERTAIN OUR VISITORS.

The second annual interscholastic track and field meet which will be held tomorrow and Friday is being managed largely by the faculty committee. But the faculty do not make the University and they cannot entertain the visiting high school teams as the students themselves can. It is up to every really loyal member of the institution to help show these visitors a good time.

It is possible that the reception which is given to our guests this week will determine in many instances whether or not they will come back to Moscow and take a college course in our school. If they are made to feel that they are welcome and that the student body would like to have them join us as students, they will want to return, but if on the other hand they are not entertained and little or no consideration is given them by the undergraduates, the faculty committee alone cannot make them feel the welcome that will cause them to want to become University students.

Let us not allow our visitors to wander about the campus simply exploring, but let us all act as guides and show them around. They will appreciate it and will see that we want them to become interested. The natural attitude formed by this little attention may be worth a great deal to Idaho. And YOU are the one to look for the opportunity to act as a guide. If YOU are ready and willing the opportunity will not be lacking. And it must be remembered that a single student in showing a half dozen high school boys over the campus and buildings can give those boys an active interest in and a favorable attitude toward the entire student body and the University as a whole.

It is important to entertain our guests, for they are the coming University students and we want them to be interested in the U. of I. But there is another little matter that must be considered. The management is paying the expenses of a large number of athletes. It takes money to pay these expenses and the admission charges have been placed low enough that every one can go, in the hope that enough will attend to make the undertaking successful financially. Both afternoons will be holidays and YOU will be expected to be on hand at the meet. Furthermore students can purchase tickets which will admit them to both the preliminaries and the finals for the price of a ticket to the finals alone. This is an advantage for students and should be appreciated. Therefore support the meet with your interest, your presence and your money.

We must all boost for Idaho. If each one does his own little part, the whole will be well done. Do YOUR part.

NEW FRAT FORMED.

Recently a new organization has made its appearance here at Idaho. The appearance of several bachelor buttons in conspicuous places on the wearing apparel of some of our less socially inclined friends led to an investigation by an Argonaut reporter which resulted in the discovery of the following, which is an excerpt from the by-laws of this august body:

"We, the undersigned bachelors, in order to promote the appreciation of single blessedness, to assist our members in avoiding the iniquities of married life, to afford protection against the wiles and snares of matrimonial vultures, do ordain and establish the following rules and by-laws, to-wit:

"Article I.

Section 1. Officers shall consist of First High Mogul, Second High Mogul, First Mighty Scribbler, Second Mighty Scribbler, First Money Jingler, Second Money Jingler, Official Hothander, Official Stenographer and Guard of the Holy Sanotum.

"Article II.

Section 1. The official song of this organization shall be "Any Little Girl That's a Nice Little Girl."

Section 2. The official insignia of this organization shall be a bachelor's button.

Section 3. The motto of this organization shall be "Votes for Women."

Article III.

Section 1. Meetings shall be "eto." The attention of different people about our institution is respectfully called to the pernicious effects of such an organization in our midst. Co-eds are warned to be on the lookout for buttons and to see that this organization does not continue to grow (there is already one pledged to the bunch, but for obvious reasons we do not feel at liberty to disclose his name.)

A peculiar accident occurred at O. A. C. a few days ago. It was the result of a friendly wrestling bout between representatives of Chicago and Michigan. The scuffle ended when track coach Steckle, who is from Michigan, fell to the floor with baseball coach Walker, a graduate of Chicago, and the former fractured his leg. The track men seriously miss the services of Dr. Steckle, but he will be on the field again on clutches in a few more days.

A team of two men from the U. of W. law school recently won a unanimous decision over a team from the Oregon law school in Portland in a debate on the question of compulsory arbitration.

Plug.

You Freshmen who weigh 14 pounds to the foot, and who can't run fast enough to catch cold, don't get discouraged if a Senior runs rings around you. He wasn't as fast as you are when he bought his first chapel ticket. If you don't believe it, go and ask him, and when you have learned the truth, why—

Just Plug!

The fellow who, by iron logic, strung up a victory for the old school, or won the fellowship of the U., may seem to be, intellectually, on an accessible peak to you, but four years ago his pegs shook so that he could scarcely stand up in society and address the chair, and he was unable to connect two things logically to save his neck. You've got him beat a yard on the start, so—

Just Plug!

Yes, the Senior did make a cracking good speech at Y. M., Sunday. It certainly did make a fellow feel like being better. But four years ago that fellow looked like a forked stick scantily clothed, and his voice sounded like the tune the plumber plays with a back-saw. Yes, he did do much better than you could have done yesterday, but when he was a Freshman he couldn't speak in the Y. M., as you did so—

Just Plug!

That fellow who wears the track medal will be out next year. If you "pep up," you will wear a better one four years from now. The pigeon holes in your cranium may be filled with a wad of isolated facts. Get them hooked up some way, and it will be you who will, four years from now, convince three judges that there is only one side to the question. Get into that Bible study class and learn how to live, and in four years you will be able to convince others that such work is worth while. You can't discover and get rid of your provincial togs by watching the other fellow. DON'T stand on the side lines and wish that you could do it. Get busy! "There is no genius but the genius of hard work." Therefore,

Plug! Plug!! Plug!!!

The Chemical Club will hold its regular meeting next Tuesday evening in the chemistry lecture room in the engineering building. C. E. Watts, '13, will read a paper on antiseptics and disinfectants. This will be very interesting and appropriate just at the present time when there is so much contagious disease in evidence. Mr. Shuey will also speak, telling of his trip to the Royal Saxony Porcelain Works at Meissen in Germany.

Berkeley is Coast Champion.

The University of California took first place in the big track meet held at Berkeley a week ago Saturday. Both Oregon and Washington sent teams, each hoping to come back as champion of the Pacific coast. But when the contest was over California had sixty points, Stanford stood second with 42, Washington came third with 17, and Oregon had captured 12.

The only first places the northern universities took were in the 440 yard dash and the javelin throw. Gish of Washington took the 440 yard in 51 seconds, and Neal of Oregon threw the javelin 145 feet. Captain Bowman of the Washington team also tied Miller of Stanford in the pole vault, the height being 11 feet.

O. A. C. to Try New Plan.

The authorities at Oregon Agricultural College are planning a new method of advertising the institution. Instead of printing and distributing a very large number of catalogues, a very attractive little booklet will be published and sent out as widely as possible. This will contain many cuts showing the campus and the buildings and various phases of student life. These cuts will be printed by the new duo-tone process which insures beautiful reproductions. Over one-third of the booklet will be devoted to illustrations.

The regular catalogue will also be printed but only a limited number and in an abbreviated form. It will be sent out only upon request. Its purpose will be to give detailed information concerning the school and the courses offered.

This plan will reduce expenses very materially and will also very widely and very attractively advertise the school; while all who wish more specific information can obtain catalogues upon request.

Don't neglect to entertain our visitors from the high schools.

Prep Play Moving.

Translations and completed type-written copies of Terence's play "Phormio" are now distributed among the members of Prof. Sage's third year Latin class and rehearsals will begin next week. It is definitely decided to stage the play on the afternoon and evening of Saturday, May 27.

Election in Two Weeks.

The A. S. U. I. elections will be held on Friday, the nineteenth of the month. Officers of the student body will then be elected for next year. It is planned to have a student assembly a week from today for the nomination of candidates for this election. These officers assume their respective duties the first Monday in June, which will be the fifth.

A Word of Appreciation.

With this issue of the Western Farmer we present an able article from the pen of Prof. J. H. Frandson, head of the department of dairying in the University of Idaho. There is no one in the northwest that has given a greater impetus to the dairy industry than Prof. Frandson. Mr. Frandson is a product of the middle west, having been born and raised on an Iowa farm. A graduate of the Iowa State Agricultural college, at which institution he ably filled a responsible position on the faculty staff, and was granted a degree of Master of Scientific Agriculture in 1904. Shortly after he accepted a position as dairy chemist for one of the largest commercial creameries in the west, which position he held for three years, at which time he took charge of the department of dairying in the University of Idaho. Since engaging in his work at Moscow the dairymen of Idaho and adjoining states have drawn much information from his methods and writings.

His services last year were recognized by the National Dairymen's association when he was selected as a judge of dairy products during the deliberations of the association. The strength of Prof. Frandson's abilities lie in his practical information on dairy topics and his resourcefulness in developing the dairy industry of the northwest as suited to the dairymen of this section.

In a forthcoming issue of the Western Farmer will be found a comprehensive article from his pen on "Dairying in the Northwest." Watch for it.—Western Farmer.

Pan-Hellenic Meets.

Tuesday evening the Pan-Hellenic Council met at the Gamma Phi Beta house and discussed some of the fraternity questions now receiving so much attention at Idaho, especially since the so-called three-year rule was passed by the faculty. There has been a very strong opposition to this rule on the part of fraternities and sororities because it will prevent the initiation of all Freshmen into a fraternity or sorority until they have received Sophomore standing in the University. It is the endeavor at present of the Pan-Hellenic to secure an annulment of this rule.

Botany Club Will Picnic.

The Biology Club will go to the summit of Moscow Mountain a week from next Saturday, May 13, on their annual picnic. This is a regular affair with the students of Prof. Aldrich's department and each year a trip is made to the mountains usually about the middle of May. The day will be spent collecting and studying plants and engaging in the usual pursuits of picnickers.

Chester Smith, '14, is quarantined with a severe case of small-pox.

From O. A. C.

O. A. C., Apr. 27, 1911.—Baseball is of course the center of attraction here now. Although hard hit by our double defeat in baseball at the hands of the U. of W. team, there is plenty of hope left among our loyal fans that it was just a streak of hard luck and that we will soon be on the upper side of the question again. While our Varsity team is away we are kept excited at home by a series of inter-class games. Yesterday our "Babics" wiped up the Sophs to the tune of 13 to 9, and some more good games will follow soon.

As today was selected for the annual "Junior Flunk Day," that class carried out the usual program of a morning of work about the campus and an afternoon of enjoyment and "eats" furnished by its "fair members."

There is a general hustle around the Military department now, in preparation for the big Inspection Day, May 25, when a large crowd of spectators is expected.

Former Commandant Promoted

Idaho's first military instructor, Captain E. R. Chrisman, who was well known here, having served two terms as commandant of the cadet battalion, has recently been promoted to the rank of major and assigned to the eighth infantry, which is under orders to go to the Philippine Islands in August.

Major Chrisman was formerly Captain in the sixteenth infantry. For the last two years he has been military instructor at the South Dakota State College, where his work was very highly appreciated. The cadet battalion at that place is in the best of condition, better it is said than it has ever been before.

Major Chrisman's regiment is now on the Mexican border.

Forrest Sower, '11, who was suddenly called to his home at Caldwell last week by the serious illness of his father returned to Moscow last Monday. His father is improving rapidly and is thought to be out of danger now. Mr. Sower has again taken up his part in the senior play, "Why Smith Left Home."

Show your interest in the University by attending both the preliminary and final field and track meets tomorrow and Friday. The boys who will take part are our future students and it is they who make Idaho what it will be in a few more years.

CONDITION IN INDIA

Missionary From India Talks to Student Body—Problem is Serious in Orient.

Mrs. Eddy addressed assembly last Wednesday at the special request of the Y. W. C. A. girls. Mrs. Eddy, who is returned missionary from India, based her talk on the "Political Situation in India," and spoke in defense of the British governmental policy. Mrs. Eddy stated that England is not using funds derived from India as a means of enriching the home country, but that all the money received from India she invests in that country for the purpose of maintaining a standing army there, erecting governmental buildings, constructing roads, and defraying the general expenses of the government.

England maintains schools in India for the education of the natives, and the enlightenment thus received has caused many of the younger men to feel dissatisfied with their lowly condition, so that a feeling of unrest pervades the lower classes of society. The officers appointed by the British government for the administration of affairs are, in general, the best that she can get, but they often become degenerate and do not act for the best interests of the people. The result is continual animosity between the ruling classes and the large, general class of people. For this reason England is justified in maintaining a standing army there. Were it not for England's close control the friction existing between the classes would undoubtedly develop into a decided outbreak, as occasionally happens now when the two classes are unexpectedly brought together.

Mrs. Eddy said that she would not be surprised to hear of a general uprising any day, but that she did not doubt England's power to get it under control soon. If this should occur the lives of the missionaries would be in great danger, because when the natives are armed they do not stop to discriminate, but are satisfied to wreak their vengeance upon any white face that may be in their power. Of course the officers in control would suffer greatly in such an event.

Mrs. Eddy closed by making a special appeal to college graduates to spend their lives as missionaries in foreign fields should the call ever come to them, saying that she had never regretted the step she had taken. She explained that the great work of the missionaries was educating the masses, and thus raising them to a higher plane, and she firmly believes that the problems that exist in India today can never be solved rightly until this uplifting of the people, both morally and intellectually, has been brought about through the efforts of the missionaries. When this has been done India will be capable of selfgovernment, and England will then hand the reins of government over to India, as she has done in the case of her other colonies.

a sacrifice by Keok gave the visitors their seventh score.

Idaho tried hard to win in the eighth and ninth innings, each time getting the bases full, but lacking a cleanup hit to score the needed runs.

In the second game Idaho returned the favor in a decisive manner, running away with the game by a score of 10-3. Robinson was in the box for the locals and pitched gilt-edged ball, allowing but five hits, all of which were well scattered. Keene was again on the slab for the farmers, but was removed in the seventh. Maxmyne finished the game and held the locals to one hit.

Idaho took four turns around the bases in the first inning, after two were out. Williams, who had made first on Wheeler's out went third on Crems's two bagger down the third base line. "Ketsy" walked and Perkins sent the ball out to the left fielder, scoring Williams, Crom and Kettenbach. Perkins scored on Hillman's hit.

Again in the fourth Idaho got a couple of scores. Barrett hit to Short, Robinson went first on Turk's error. Wheeler beat out the throw to first. Lundstrum was caught out on a fly, but Williams drove a two bagger into the center garden, scoring Barrett. Robinson was tagged out at the plate but Wheeler was safe at third from where he scored on a pass ball. In the sixth with three on bases Wheeler hit to right scoring Perkins and Hillman. Lundstrum followed with a hit to center, scoring Robinson and Wheeler.

A bunch of errors in the fourth gave O. A. C. two of her runs and the other came in the next inning, when Moore drove out a three bagger and scored on a wild pitch.

The Idaho team will leave next week for the trip around the circuit. The boys are playing better ball and they hope to take their share of the games while away from home.

Prof. Harold L. Axtell, of the department of Latin and Greek has been visiting high schools in the central part of the state. He returned last Tuesday and is again hearing his classes.

The assembly today is a student assembly for the purpose of boosting the interscholastic meet.

Spokane Cartoonist Coming.

Prof. Clyde Tull has made arrangements with Mr. Morris, the well known Spokesman-Review cartoonist, to come to the University on the evening of May 19 to lecture on "The Cartoonist and his Work." The lecture which will be illustrated, will be given in the Y. M. C. A. hall in the Administration building. The English classes which have made a study of current events this year have been much interested in the work of Mr. Morris and it is primarily for their benefit that the lecture has been arranged. The price of admission will be merely nominal—twenty-five cents, as the affair will in no sense be a money-making venture.

Tennis Very Popular.

The game of tennis is becoming very popular at Idaho just now. The courts are always occupied. The girls from Ridenbaugh hall even play before breakfast in the mornings, sometimes getting out on the courts almost before day-break. Several courts have been made by students who do not live very near the campus and these too are in use a large part of the time. Lewis court, the new gym, is the scene of daily games, regardless of the weather. The ground floor of the building makes it ideal for this game, and many girls are learning to play tennis in this big room.

Boys get your hat at the Hub. The price is only half.
