NINTH ANNUAL DEBATE WITH WHITMAN COLLEGE

Colleges Resume Debating After Several Years—Employers' Liability To Be Discussed.

It has been several years since Idaho and Whitman have met in debate. These two institutions were the first in the northwest to hold intercollegiate debates. They were held annually for a period of eight years. The ninth debate will be held next Saturday evening. According to the new contract, dual debates are to be held annually, beginning with this year. Teams of three men will represent Idaho on both sides of the question, the two debates being held in Walla Walla and Moscow on the same night. The home team will uphold the affirmative.

The question to be discussed next Saturday night is, "Resolved, That it is undesirable to compel employers in railroading to pay compensation to their employees for industrial accidents." This is one of the live questions of the day. It has been before the Idaho legislature several times and is one of the coming problems of our government.

The team which will go to Walla Walla is composed of Chas. Horning, '14, leader, Paul Darrie, '11 and Tom Driscoll. The home team will consist of Ira Tweedy, '11, leader, J. R. Wheeler and Chester Minden, '14.

The debate will be held in the M. E. church next Saturday evening, May 20th. Admission will be 50c.

FRIDAY IS CAMPUS DAY

An Elaborate Program Being Prepared—Folk Dances by Girls' Gym Classes.

For some time it was planned to have Campus Day on Decoration Day and thus combine two holidays. But the committee which is preparing the program, the members of which are Prof. Tull, Dean French and Miss Wold, are now arranging to have a very elaborate program on next Friday. No classes will be held that day.

The day will be opened with cornet solos by Prof. Ed. J. Carey from the tower of the Administration building. After this there will be a procession starting from the Armory, of all the girls of the University, led by those who will take part in the folk dances. This will end with an Irish reel by Miss

NORTHWEST Y. M. C. A. CONFERENCE

"Bean Feed" Friday Night—Mental and Physical Phases—Twelve Idaho Men Will Go.

Bean Feed Friday Night.

An illustrated lecture by Gale Seaman, the northwest student secretary is to be given in the association room in the Administration building Friday night at eight o'clock. After the lecture a "bean feed" will be served.

From a Spiritual Point of View.

By Joseph M. Adams, '11.

The influence within the atmosphere of the Columbia Beach Conference will always stay with a man thru life, domestic or business. A man having once been there goes back to his friends a different man to what he was when he came away from them. He becomes more responsible and more is expected of him. There is an invigorating strength in this mountain top experience for a man. God takes a fellow to this mountain top where the hurry of life does not bother. He speaks to one in "the still small voice" where it is quiet and the breath of His voice can brush a fellow's face and penetrate a man's heart. God calls one up to tell him what he is and what his duties in life are. On the summit one sees Faith still alive. It is a privilege for a fellow to climb this mountain of vision in order to view the Heavenly City and to sketch the shore line. The conference is the place to go in order to gain the "faith of our fathers." A man can go back to his friends and truly "launch out into the deep" as Christ has commanded. There one is brought to realize as no where else that the joy of service is the supreme joy and as Bishop Scadding said that "God's power is limited by you and by me; that service for the Master is not a task assumed but a duty assigned."

What Men Say About the Columbia Beach Conference.

A college man above all others should become acquainted with great movements of the present day if he is to consider himself a well rounded man. There is but one way to become definitely acquainted with the Student Young Men's Christian Association work and that is to attend a Student Conference. The student who attends the Columbia Beach Conference can't help but bring away with him (1) definite knowledge of Christian fundamentals (2) of the various problems that are agitating or may soon agitate, the students in our college, (3) of association methods tried out in various parts of the field and (4) a broad vision of the whole student movement in America and around the world. These are the bare facts of the actual returns which are well worth seeking by any college man.

Athletics.

By A. P. Beckner, '11.

Afternoons from 1 to 5:30 are devoted entirely to recreation at the conference. Some of the fellows go canoeing and come back to camp dripping and shivering

SENIORS WILL PRESENT PLAY AT POTLATCH

Arrangements Made to Play on Saturday the 27th—Cast Rehearsing Once A Week.

Final arrangements have been made by Manager Daus to present the Senior class play, "Why Smith Left Home," at Potlatch a week from the coming Saturday. The opera house has been engaged for that night and tickets will soon be placed on sale at the Potlatch drug store. Special scenery will be provided for the occasion and with this aid and the advantage of the two previous performances the play will no doubt be even more successful than when given in Moscow.

The trip to Potlatch will probably be made by automobile. The cast will have one rehearsal on the opera house stage with the new scenery.

Rehearsals are being held once a week now to keep the players familiar with their lines and to enable the cast to keep their parts well in mind.

W. S. C. TRACK MEET SATURDAY

Only Meet of Year on the Home Field—Last Time Some of Idaho's Stars Compete.

The only intercollegiate track meet to be held on Idaho field this year will be pulled off next Saturday afternoon between Washington State College and Idaho. The meet promises to be close from start to finish. The teams appear to be evenly matched. If the weather is nice Pullman promises to send over a crowd of rooters to assist the visitors. Pullman has lost some of her best men this year, but Idaho has done the same and will have to have all kinds of sup-

A Word From the Management.

Moscow, May 8, 1911.

To the editor of the Argonaut:—

On behalf of the Interscholastic Committee I desire to express our appreciation of the support we received from the University as a whole, and to congratulate the University on the splendid exhibition of Idaho spirit, which can usually be counted upon in an emergency. The visitors were given every opportunity to see and know the University, and we can most effectively reach the high school students through this first hand acquaintance.

It would have been difficult, or even impossible to manage a meet of this size without the help of the entire University, and we desire to thank the members of the University who acted as officials, as ticket sellers and takers, the band, the members of the faculty who assisted in the purchase of the medals, and particularly the students, faculty members and citizens of Moscow, who helped in the entertainment of our guests. The satisfactory advance sale of tickets was due to the efforts of that committee, of whom Miss Gladys Nankervis, prep., Mr. Roy Johnson, '12 and Mr. S. K. Denning, '13, were the most successful.

The hardest problem was the securing of accommodations, and this would have been incapable of solution without the hearty and willing assistance of the various fraternities. The chapters as wholes and the individual members put themselves to great expense and personal inconvenience to see that the visitors were well taken care of, and a large part of the credit for the good impression which our guests got is due them.

Field Manager Stoner merits our thanks for his efforts to get the track in good condition, and the good records testify to his efficiency. Mr. Mac Scofield, '14, the publisher of the program, deserves thanks and congratulations on his success. The enterprise of the Moscow Tel. and Tel. Co., in putting a phone in at the field should be commended, and finally we wish to congratulate the management of the Argonaut on their successful "extra" after the meet.

This is not the least useful advertising the University receives.

Yours truly,
EVAN T. SAGE.

JUNIOR ANNUAL APPEARS.

Class of 1912 Got Out "Gem of The Mountains" Earlier Than Usual—Very Attractive Book

The "Gem of The Mountains '12" has appeared. The first copies were here Saturday. Monday morning active sales began. The book is very attractive. It is beautifully bound with flexible leather backs of a deep red color, with the title printed in silver.

The printing is much superior to that of last year, tho it could be improved upon very materially. The work was done by the Shaw-Borden company of Spokane. The half tones are excellent, especially those showing views of the campus. The book is dedicated to Lieut. A. W. Smith and a fine sepia toned photograph of him is mounted among the front pages.

The cartooning is very good indeed. Every member of the Junior class is favored with an individual cartoon, a feature that was omitted in the annual last year. Some of these cartoons possess remarkable merit. The write-ups of the individuals are also good, many of them showing great cleverness on the part of the writers, but they are not all strictly accurate. This may be excused however, since it is the first attempt of the editors to put out such a work.

Another slight fault found in the annual is defective proof reading. Names are misspelled and even spelled in more than one way and typographical errors are not altogether uncommon. But it must be remembered that the undergraduate editors are not professional proof readers and could not be expected to have it perfect anyway.

The edition of the "Gem of the Mountains" is certainly very attractive and is ably edited and managed. It is a credit to the class. The management is to be congratulated for getting the book out for distribution as early as this

The Biology Club picnic which was scheduled for last Saturday was postponed on account of the unfavorable weather.

ORCHESTRA CONCERT AT OROFINO

Musical Entertainment by Members of Varsity Orchestra Highly Appreciated.

The concert given by selected members of the University orchestra under the direction of Prof. Hellier-Collens at Orofino, Saturday night, was a financial and artistic success. A large crowd was in attendance and was highly appreciative of the whole program. The soloists were E. Hellier-Collens, violin; Miss Edna Campbell, piano; and Prof. E. J. Carey, cornet, and their work was heartily applauded. By special request, Prof. Collens played an extra solo—"Souvenir," by Drdla.

The concert was given under the auspices of the local high school and was managed by W. Roy Smith, a graduate student of the University, who is finishing the term of school there, allowing Miss Maude Mix, an alumna of Idaho, to take up the duties of the county superintendent of schools in the new county. He was aided in the management by Miss Mix and also Miss Abbie Mix, a former student here. After the concert the party was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Torsen, formerly of Moscow, in their new drug store and enjoyed some delightful refreshments.

Those making the trip were: Professors Collens, Tull and Carey, Miss Edna Campbell, Forrest Sower, George O'Donnell, Thomas Doyle, Ray Gillespie, Harry Soulen, and Carl Melugin. Miss Sylvia Smith went with the party as chaperone

RUSSIAN SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA AT PULLMAN

Feature of W. S. C. Music Festival—Company of Noted Singers With Orchestra.

The concert in Pullman will be the big feature of the Musical Festival held under the auspices of the State College on May 18 and 19. The program will commence at 2:00 p. m.

The vocal quartette which accompanies the orchestra is composed of singers of national and international fame. The soprano, Mme. Dimitrieff, will sing the Jewel Song from "Faust," and the quartette will be heard in Tchaikowsky number

Mme. Nina Dimitrieff, the distinguished Russian soprano who is to be one of the soloists at the approaching concert of the Russian Symphony Orchestra, of New York at Pullman on Friday afternoon, May 19, is a woman of rare presence of mind as well as a singer of international reputation. Mme. Dimitrieff once quelled an angry mob that had assembled in an Italian opera house to wreck the performance.

In that country, it appears, the rivalry of opera managers frequently results in one hiring an unruly mob to pack the gallery of his adversary's undertaking to interfere with its progress in hopes of causing an enterprise to be permanently abandoned. On one occasion Mme. Dimitrieff was to sing the leading soprano role in a great opera, but before the time came for her to appear for the first time on the stage the house was in an uproar.

The rough element in the top balconies had first hissed the tenor then shrieked at him and the stunned man had retreated to the wings for refuge. Her mind acting like a flash Mme. Dimitrieff dispatched a messenger to her hotel across the street for a Russian and Italian flag, and, with these in her possession, prepared for a bold move.

In the face of the pendulum the brave soprano advanced before the footlights. Seeing her, the crowd in its fury, seemed only to increase its howling. But the prima donna went calmly on with her aria though the leader of the orchestra looked at her appealing, several times, to stop. Finally, with the climax of her number reached, Mme. Dimitrieff advanced to the front of the stage and waving the Russian flag quickly produced and whirled that of Italy. In an instant the hooting was changed to cheering and the opera proceeded to success, with Mme. Dimitrieff the heroine of the night.

The following program will be rendered:

I. The Crusaders.—At the trumpet call horsemen and foot soldiers assemble. Their forceful leader fans the flame of their courage by a martial appeal. A procession advances before them, singing, and the priests bless the army about to depart upon its perilous campaign. Now and again a dark foreboding comes to trouble the hearts of the warriors, but the beating of drums renews their brave resolution. Sounds of a march unite with the sacred chant, and, little by little, lose themselves in the distance, while the populace accompanies the army with joyous acclamations.

II. Troubadour's Serenade.

III. Scherzo.—On the stage of a street theatre the "Dance of Death" is performed. Death appears fiddle in hand and invites the people to take part in the gruesome measures.

IV. Love scene. (Prelude.) In a chateau on the coast, the sea rolls up its gray tears. The young couple, unmindful of the tempest, abandon themselves wholly to the peaceful joys of love.

6. Variations on a Tchaikowski Theme.....Arensky

Seats will be on sale at Watts' pharmacy, Pullman, commencing Tuesday, May 16. Out of town orders will be filled in the order of their receipt, and the tickets will be mailed to the purchasers after May 16. port from the bleachers to win the meet.

Captain Montgomery will be entered in his usual events and will probably be the best winner for Idaho. Strohecker will also be depended on for a number of points. These two Idaho stars will take part in their last meet on Idaho field next Saturday and will win points for Idaho for the last time. Besides this chance to see these athletes' last performance, the meet will give the students the first exhibition of some of Idaho's new material on which we must depend for points in the next three years. Scott will be entered in the high jump and is expected to place. Whitten will run the quarter as well as the sprints. A number of other new men will also be entered in the various events of the day.

As there is little possibility of the Whitman meet being held, it is safe to say that this will be the only meet here this spring. Pullman is always a good drawing card and the conditions which accompany this meet are expected to bring out a record crowd. Come out and give the track men a little assistance.

SENIORS HAVE NOVEL PARTY.

Mrs. Hutton Takes Class to Moving Picture Show—They Spend Remainder of Evening At Her Home.

Last Monday night the Senior class enjoyed a very novel party. Mrs. S. E. Hutton entertained the members of the class in a unique way. They met early in the evening down town and went in a body to the Crystal theatre, where seats were reserved for them and where a special program of moving pictures had been prepared for their especial benefit. Between acts (or pictures) the class gave class and college yells and sang college songs. The regular music of the program was changed at these times so as to provide an accompaniment to the singing. The pictures selected by the manager of the theatre were most appropriate for the jolly crowd and Manager Potter deserves praise for showing such good judgment.

After all the pictures had been shown once and the series began to appear on the curtain for the second time, there was some discussion as to whether or no the show was over. The majority seemed to think it was and the party left the theatre and went together to Mrs. Hutton's home on Van Buren street, where the remainder of the evening was spent in conversation.

Refreshments were served late in the evening, consisting of excellent hot chocolate and an abundance of various kinds of sandwiches, and ice cream and cake.

Miss Perneal French, matron of the girls' dormitory, accompanied the party as chaperone.

This novel and informal party was one of the most pleasant social events the class has had during its four years of college life.

Idaho Takes Third in Meet

Idaho took a poor third of 17 points in the tri-state meet held at Eugene last Saturday. Outside of the relay which was conceded to Idaho, the Idaho team got but one first and placed in but six events. Monty won the 220-dash in 22 3-5 and was second in the 220 hurdles. This event went in 25 1-5 which is a new northwestern record. Strohecker was third in both the pole vault and high jump. Denning finished in the half mile and Whitten took third for Idaho in the 440.

Idaho sent a team of only five men and a manager. As there was no chance of winning the meet with such a small team Coach Vandy thought it best to go in for the relay. The men who made the trip were picked with this object in view. That Idaho would have won the event is shown by the action of the other teams. Washington refused to run in the final event, and Oregon conceded the race to Idaho.

Wold's gymnasium classes.

At about 11:00 a. m., Wm. E. Lee, president of the Alumni Association will deliver the address of the day. This will be followed by speeches by representatives of the four college classes and of the preps. The next thing on the program will be the presentation of a money gift from the three lower classes to be used for the purchase of a present given to the University in the name of the Senior class.

Miss Wold's classes will then give exhibitions of folk dances, which will be followed by the May pole dances, three of which will occur simultaneously. These will close with a May day song by the girls.

This completes the program for the forenoon. Lunch will be served on the campus. The dormitory will serve coffee and sandwiches and ice cream. All who can are expected to bring lunches, but they will be spread on the campus and all will eat together.

After the lunch there will be a band concert. The cadet band has been preparing several new pieces and will be able to furnish music for the college songs, including the new song "Alma Mater Idaho."

Just before the tennis tournament which is expected to close the day, the different classes will pull off some entertaining stunts.

It is planned to play some of the finals of the tennis tournament to complete the program of the day. The prize for the tournament is a handsome silver cup offered by Homer and Earl David, both of whom are graduates of the U. This cup will be kept in the trophy room and the names of the winners will be engraved on it each year.

Half-way Y. M. C. A. Meeting.

The Y. M. C. A. of W. S. C. and Idaho will hold a "half way meeting" next Sunday afternoon. Gale Seaman, the northwest student secretary will address the two associations. The meeting will be held just north of the "half way" school house.

MEN'S TENNIS TOURNAMENT

Homer and Earl David Cup Offered to Winner of Singles. Finals End This Week.

A men's tennis tournament has been arranged. On account of the ladies' tournament next week it is necessary to complete this contest by the end of the week. It is hoped to have the last final on the afternoon of Campus day, which will be Friday, the 19th.

Homer and Earl David, both of whom are graduates of the U., have furnished a handsome silver cup to be presented to the winner of the men's singles. It will be kept in the trophy room and the name of the winner each year will be engraved upon it. This valuable prize together with the cup Mrs. Hays furnished a few weeks ago ought to stimulate considerable interest in tennis. A comparatively large number have now entered the contest.

Whitman college has asked for an intercollegiate tournament. The teams chosen to represent Idaho in this contest, if it is held, will probably be chosen by the scores won in the men's tournament this week.

The Preparatory Play.

Owing to a change in the schedule for the appearance of Mr. Morris, the Spokesman-Review's famous cartoonist, it has been necessary to change the date for the Prep. play, the "Phormio" from Saturday the 27th to Monday the 29th. All who are to take part are hard at work and it is safe to say that the management will be able to present a very creditable Roman play, which will be a valuable item in the education of any student. A list of the members of the cast will be given in the next issue of the Argonaut. As has been said before this play is to be nearly as possible a representation of the Roman play as it was actually given in the days of Terence, its classic author.

Pullman Fraternity Entertains.

Professor Elliot, Ray Lyman, Earl Hall and Alfred Wicher attended the annual banquet given by the Alpha Zeta fraternity in Pullman last Friday evening. The Alpha Zeta is the agricultural fraternity at W. S. C. The party of "Aggies" from Idaho went over in an automobile, returning the same evening.

Boys get your hat at the Hub. The price is only half.

E. J. Carey, director of the cadet band, has bought the first edition of the new Idaho song, "Alma Mater Idaho," and has it on sale at his music store. The song can be secured only at this store.

All kinds of fine dress skirts can be had for much less than regular price at the Hub.

Members of the Zeta Delta fraternity entertained a number of their lady friends Sunday afternoon at a dinner.

from unexpected baths;—others stroll up and down the sand, look longingly out westward and strive to attain the poetic mood; and still others in bathing suits, track suits, or suitless, brave the cold and briny deep—especially the cold deep—some of them venturing to the very dangerous depth of waist deep. Such plunges usually last at least five minutes and sometimes arouse straggling comment about baths at the north pole. But it's fun and a fellow always goes back again the next day. The big attractions however are the baseball battles, the tennis tournaments and the track meets. It might not be interesting to a real, live fan to watch some of the playing that is done, but that's the joke. The scrub player—the fellow who lost in the tryout at his college—gets his chance at the conference. He stands far out in right field with his hands on his hips and dreams of Gretchen and wonders what she'd think if she could see him now. Then some one shouts and he springs high into the air. When he comes down again he realizes that the excitement is over the little round ball that has dropped 20 feet in front of him is boring itself into the earth while three men go home.

Tennis is not so much of an amateur affair; for there are some close and interesting matches.

In track the Inland Empire schools won the cup in 1910. Idaho won the running broad jump and had one man in the winning relay team. No college records are ever broken but the men enter into the events as earnestly as tho they were winning real glories for their alma maters. Thus the afternoons break the monotony and relieve the nervous strain incurred in the real business of the conference.

Supt. Meek of Boise Here.

Superintendent Chas. Meek of the Boise schools is visiting the University this week. He is lecturing to the classes in Education on school management and administration. He is scheduled for five lectures, the first of which occurred yesterday morning. All students in Education are required to attend these addresses and all others are invited to attend.
