ANNUAL A. S. U. I. ELECTION.

Electioneering Very Much in Evidence but Election Quite Orderly—Buffington Pres.

The annual student election of A. S. U. I. officers was held as usual on the third Friday in May. Nominations of candidates were made at the student assembly a week ago today. There was no opposition for office for five of the positions to be filled, only one candidate being named for each office.

The election was very orderly and systematic and was quite ably handled by the executive board. The polls were in Dean Eldridge's recitation room instead of in the main hall as has been the custom heretofore. This plan greatly relieved the congestion and confusion which usually accompanies the election. No talking was allowed in this room. But the halls were filled with the buzzing of the most animated of electioneering. This shows great interest in the administration of student affairs or at least in the candidates themselves.

The officers elected for the next year are:

Pres.—C. H. Buffington, '12 (law); V-Pres—Clinton Bessee, '12; Sec'y—Ruth Annette, '13; Treas.—C. E. Watts, '13; Argonaut Editor—G. O'Donnell, '12; Associate Editor—Jewell Bothwell, '12; Business Manager—J. R. Wheeler, '13 (law); Asst Bus Mgr—Walter Scott, '14; Debate Council—Ralph Foster, '13; Chester Minden, '14; Chas. ### A Classical Play.

Next Monday a new departure in the dramatic world of the University will be inaugurated. Latin students of the Preparatory Department will present Terence's well known play, Phormio, in Eggen's hall.

The members of this cast have looked forward to this presentation the whole semester and have laid their plans carefully for the work. They have made and perfected their own translations of the play and will use this in the presentation. Severe coaching on the part of Dr. Sage has made them quite proficient as Greeks

W. S. C. TAKES TRACK MEET.

"Monty" Star Point-Winner---Two Varsity Records Broken---Idaho Leads Till Near End---Score 78-62.

W. S. C. won the annual Idaho W. S. C. track meet held on Idaho Field last Saturday afternoon. The points stood 78 to 62. Idaho's team made a hard fight for the meet, but lost it in the last four events of the day. It was the same old story not enough men to hold out for the entire meet. After the first event Idaho kept the lead until the two-mile run when Pullman went to the front and carried off highest honors in all remaining events.

Idaho got seven firsts while the visitors took nine, including the relay. Of Idaho's firsts Montgomery contributed three in the 100 yard dash, 440 yard dash, and 220 hurdles. The others were made by Strohecker in the high jump, Ream in the shot put, Denning in the half mile and Buffington in the javelin. Montgomery, Strohecker and Ream are Seniors in the University and won their points for the school Saturday.

For the visitors Love was the individual point winner with a first, second and third to his credit. Welch, Cooke, Powell, Dalquist, Monroe and Williams also won firsts for the visitors. The W. S. C. relay team composed of Lowery, Graves, Ritter and Cooke won that event. Idaho's team was Hoobler, Whitten, Denning, and Montgomery.

Cooke ran the 220 yard dash in 21.4, beating both the Idaho and W. S. C. records of 22. Dalquist also set a new record in the pole vault, going over the bar at 11 feet 10 inches.

On the home team two men won their first points for Idaho. These were Downing and Scott. Downing ran the mile in less time by seventeen seconds than he has ever done it before, winning second. Scott in the fourth attempt tied Strohecker's high jump of 5 feet 10 inches.

The records of the meet are as follows:

Mile run—Welch, W. S. C., 1st; Downing, I. 2nd; Clarke, W. S. C. 3rd; time, 4:46 1-5.

ington in debate. But as there was no debate with Washington this year, Mr. Vollmer agreed to award the prize to the contestant winning the place of leader of a team to meet Whitman college.

While we are sorry to see the prize discontinued, we are very grateful to Mr. Vollmer for offering it for the past eight years. It shows his interest in the University and especially in debate.

Miss Sweet and Miss French were entertained at dinner at the Gamma Phi Beta house Sunday.

Vollmer Prize Withdrawn.
Word was received the latter part of last week from John P. Vollmer of Lewiston that the annual debate prize which he has been giving to students of the University, will not be offered after this year. The Vollmer prize of $25.00 has been given annually for the past eight years, beginning with 1904. It was awarded originally to the student who secured first place in a trial debate held for the purpose of selecting a team to meet the University of Wash-

DOUBLE DEBATE VICTORY.

Varsity Teams Win In Forensic Contest At Both Ends Of The Line—Decisions Close.

In the dual debates held last Saturday evening, one in Moscow and the other at Walla Walla, Idaho made up for the double defeat at the hands of Pacific University during the winter. The debates Saturday were held simultaneously. The visiting teams in both cases held the negative side of the discussion. The question debated was: "Resolved, That it is undesirable to compel employers in railroading to pay compensation to their employees for industrial accidents."

In the debate at Moscow, the Whitman team was composed of Bayard Muehette, Stanley Yates and Edmund Milne, all three of whom are juniors at their college. Of these three Mr. Yates seemed most at home on the stage and had the most pleasing delivery. In fact he was the most pleasing if not the most effective speaker of the evening. The Idaho team was led by Ira Tweedy, '11, who presented the third affirmative speech and who was also the speaker in refutation. The other members of the team were J. R. Wheeler, '12 (law) and Chester Minden, '14. The Whitman boys were somewhat handicapped by being thrown off their regular plan of arrangement. They had expected to have a five-minute rebuttal after the six main speeches were completed. This is the general custom, but the contract under which these dual debates are held was modeled after that of the triangular league of last year, in which only the affirmative has a rebuttal speech. This made it necessary for the negative team to change their plan of presentation and get all their argument into the three speeches. As a result the debate was not as systematically arranged as it should have been.

The decision of both debates was rendered by only one judge. This is a new plan and seems to be perfectly satisfactory. The judge at Moscow was Judge Frank S. Dietrich. After the debate had closed he announced his own decision. He spoke for a few minutes about the contest and expressed some very valuable ideas on debating. There was some contention in the debate as to the definition of terms of the question. This Judge Dietrich denounced as worthless and a waste of time. He also expressed wonder that the

REFORMING EDITOR TOTALLY SQUELCHED.

A rumor has leaked out that the editor of a college paper must not be a reformer. At least such was the statement made in the little address delivered at the student assembly last week when the Argonaut editor for next year was nominated.

We do not mention this because we feel at all hurt by it, no, indeed, for the orator himself assured us that he meant to "cast no reflections upon anyone." And more than that, even if he had entertained such a malicious purpose, the damage to our feelings would have been very light, for we positively refuse to be moved by the bold assertion of an underclassman, absolutely unsupported by any kind of proof.

But we disagree most emphatically with our orator. And furthermore we are willing to give him the entire editorial page of the next issue of the Argonaut in which to prove his statement. (He will need all the space too!) And we defy him to attempt it.

What is there so objectionable about reform that it must not get into the college paper? We certainly hope that college students are not expected to be devoid of all progress. And how can they progress without reform? The truth of the matter is that progress and reform go hand in hand. The object of a college education is improvement. If we cannot do what our forefathers did not do, we cannot improve. Then reform is not only very desirable but is absolutely necessary.

But the Argonaut or any other college paper cannot instigate general reforms. The most they can do is to suggest them. And we would remind our orator that as the paper is published by the student body, every student may submit his views on any proposed reform. Discussion can do no harm. Indeed it may do much good. If the editor is a reformer and urges a change which is not best, it is up to those enlightened students who oppose his views to come out and give their reasons for differing. Our orator may have his chance to produce actual argument also.

If a reforming editor is dangerous, he is dangerous to certain interests that are afraid to have the truth exposed—afraid of the resulting action of the student body after their attention has been called to the facts. If the editor is mistaken as to facts, misrepresents facts or draws a wrong conclusion from them, it is a simple matter to point out the error. And other members of the student body can express themselves as well as the editor. Then where is danger? Clearly there is none, unless it be to the interests which are not "on the square." And the more danger to them the better.

We still disagree with the statement that the editor of a college paper must not be a reformer. In fact we actually believe he should be. We have given some reasons for holding this opinion and we refuse to be moved by the mere assertion of any underclassman. Let him show proof. We are open to conviction and we invite argument. Can you produce it? You'll have to SHOW us.

Donated Wire.

In the report on Lewis court no mention was made of contributions received early this spring from the Empire Hardware company and Collins and Orland. At the beginning of baseball practice it was necessary to screen the windows before the building could be used. The firms mentioned contributed wire for this purpose amounting to about $15 each.

 of the type found in the year 161 B. C. in Athens.

The play itself is a society drama having its scene in Athens in the year 161 B. C. Its attractiveness lies in the ingenious art of its plots which weave themselves into the Grecian life of that day in the closest manner. Its scenes, its costumes, its gestures—in short its presentation—will be exactly as it appeared in Rome—with one exception—the English translations made by the class will be used by the actors, translations in the hands of the audience being that to cumbersome and inconvenient. The cast is as follows:
 Davos—A. J. Lewis; Geta—F. H. Thomas; Anthipo—F. H. Ream; Phaedris—Mildred Waterman; Demiphos—Carl Melugin; Phormio—J. D. Davis; Hegio—Geo. O'Donnell; Cratinus—Lucy Horton; Crito—Josephine Wayman; Dorio—A. J. Lewis; Clremes—Josephine Wayman; Sophrona—Lucy Horton; Nausistrata—Marjerie Zumhof.

The play is being managed by George O'Donnell.

Miss Lucy Hopkins, the Y. W. C. A. secretary, visited Idaho University Sunday and Monday of this week. This is Miss Hopkins last trip here, as she is to be married this summer and leave directly for India, where she will engage in active mission work. Miss Elizabeth Fox will succeed her as the Northwest secretary.

THE CHILDREN IMITATE.

Infants From The Prep. Organize Frat—Send In Account Of Success—Great Hopes.

To the Editor of the Argonaut:

We, a few members of the prep department, wish to inform the public that we have met and formed an organization which we have decided to call the Kappa Flush. This seemed to be the best name the extensive and diligent researches of our philosophical members could bring to light. The vote upon the name was at first a tie, but the Kappa Flush won by the vote of the chair. The only other name suggested was Wantu Fuss, but the chief objection to this name was that it was suggestive of one of the secret principles underlying the organization.

We have spent a few weeks at our happy home on South Main street, where all members are taught the principles of fraternizing by one of the members of a big men's frat. He seems to be favorably impressed with us and says that if we keep improving we will make the best of frat men when we grow up.

Our time however is not all spent in learning these principles. We have had some fine parties and social events, one of the greatest successes being a birthday party given recently in honor of the 15th anniversary of one of our members.

We wish now to inform you of our past success before taking up our hopes for the future. We consider our organization almost a glaring social and financial success thus far. All our members have been to the 10-cent show twice in the last month and we have had 15 cents' worth of peanuts here at once, two days in succession. We think we have become about the greatest fussers in Moscow. Our most striking success however, was in landing the "hurry-ups." But why tell our business?

So much for the past; now for the future. We hope to all be able to get a girl apiece next year. We shall petition for upholstered seats in Prep Heaven. We shall attempt to make the flunks of the Kappa Flush tally 100 per cent. We want to be college frat men sometime, but above all our present desires we want to run the Prep and shall bend all our energies to that end.

Your loving hopefuls,
Wood B. Fussor, clerk.

Cartoonist Morris Sat. Night.

W. C. Morris, the famous cartoonist of the Spokesman-Review, will be here next Saturday night and deliver an illustrated lecture in the Y. M. C. A. Hall at the Administration building. The date for Mr. Morris was first set for Friday the 19th, but as the cartoonist could not leave his work in Spokane except on Saturday, it had to be postponed till the 27th.

Mr. Morris is one of the leading cartoonists of the country. His work is reproduced and published by the largest magazines in the east. His lecture will be most interesting and instructive. He will talk on the subject, "The Cartoonist and His Work."

Only a limited number of tickets will be sold. Mr. Morris makes no charge for his service and all the management of the house will need to cover will be the expenses of his trip to Moscow. The price of admission is only 25 cents.

Report on Men's Commons Campaign.

At the student assembly last week, Mr. Barrett, chairman of the Men's Commons committee made a report of the condition of the treasury. The campaign seems to have waned very quietly and easily. The proceeds of tag day were $92.40. Of this sum $8.50 was expended for printed blanks to be used for subscriptions, typewriter paper and postage. This leaves a balance on hand of $83.90.

Popular Senior Girl May Queen.

Miss Elizabeth Dunn, '11, was elected May Queen at the election held for the purpose immediately after student assembly last week. It is the custom to choose the queen from the girls of the senior class. The voting at this election was very animated. Within a few minutes after polls were opened, the crowd was so dense that a large number were kept waiting.

WHAT

Daily appointments of the conference consist of: The Morning Watch, Bible Class, Method Conference, Mission Class, Platform Address, Recreation, Life Work Address, Vocational Institute, Delegation Conference, Study Period.

WHERE

Columbia Beach (Oregon side mouth Columbia) with its stately, big trees, luxuriant ferns and mosses, beautiful "Neacoxie" creek, quiet lake for boating, interesting and historic places for hikes, many secluded spots for study and meditation, and best of all, its great, broad sandy beach stretching for miles, is unexcelled for a Conference meeting place.

WHO

Any student of good moral character in the Colleges of the Northwest is most cordially invited to be a delegate representing his institution.

The Association officers, members of standing committees, other leading students, and at least one professor from each institution should plan definitely to be at the Conference.

A limited number of High School seniors and preparatory school students are also invited.

WHY

This annual student gathering is held in order that representative college men from the institutions in Washington, Oregon, Montana and Idaho may meet to develop the spirit of brotherhood and unity, to clarify and vitalize personal religious experiences, to discuss practical problems relating to life work, and to receive training for Christian service.

After having been a delegate at our four camp-life and athletic two Columbia Beach Conference aspects of association with a picked for the collegiate students of the crowd of college men of the four northwest, held at Columbia Beach, northwest states as well as other Oregon, in 1910 and 1912, I can college men of strong personality, truthfully say that I am very glad all in, hobby yet serious mood, that the experience has entered and, finally, with an appreciation into my life. The many pleasant and of the deeper things in life recreations, the inspiring religious and a desire for his own best development, and above all the reason-fulness in whatever occupation, time with some of the finest men, that the ten days of intimate from practically all the colleges of wholesome fellowship and mutual Oregon, Washington, Montana and typed out to be obtained at the Idaho, all combine to make this a Pacific Northwest Conference. I conference which is, would you certainly an enthusiastic about any Christian young man to attend the one I attended in 1908. It is and. Paul C. Duma, 1908.

I have gained as much personal and benefit from my attendance at two conferences as from any one semester of my college life. I have met there the most dynamic gathering of college men in the northwest. I have mingled with leaders responsible in politics and business, who are devoting their lives to unselfish service for humanity. I have enjoyed such unexcelled days of jovial fun. Surely such a treat does not wait on around every corner.

A. P. Beckner

I have had the privilege of attending four of the northwest student conferences similar to the one which is to be held at Columbia Beach and without hesitancy I can say that they have been the strongest incentives to association work that I have ever experienced. For men such spendings are around Christian fellows and if for no other reason than this the conference would be worth while.

H. A. Dabney

I can hardly wait for a day to meet at any representation of the world and its unique measures.

During the summer of 1908 I attended the Southern Student Conference at the Asheville School for Boys near Asheville, N. C. The school is within sight of Vanderbilt's famous nose, and surrounded by some of the most beautiful scenery in the world. As is usual at these meetings, which are primarily for religious training (and guidance) everything is done to make the time pass pleasantly and profitably and half of each day was given over to all sorts of recreation and amusements. Among the speakers were John E. Matt and Robert E. Spear men of well deserved international reputations. These conferences almost invariably leave a wonderful impression upon all the fellows that attend whatever might be their prospective college. They are governed by the strictest regulations and the most purifying influences and give a deep insight into the religious thought and needs of the world.

Y. M. C. A. "Bean Feed" and Lecture.

The stereopticon lecture given by Seaman and Dalzell last Friday evening was attended by about forty men. The lecture was very interesting as well as the views. Scenes of the ocean shore and general surroundings of Columbia Beach were thrown upon the canvas. Also pictures of groups of college men in attendance at the conference last year, in which several Idaho men were recognized. Views of the leading colleges and universities of the northwest and California were also placed in the lantern. Not the least interesting were the views setting forth the athletic side of the conference. Baseball, tennis, canoeing, track stunts and bathing in the ocean were all represented. These, more than any other one feature, are responsible for the larger part of the crowd at the conference every year. Many of the delegates are leading men in the colleges of the northwest and seek the Columbia Beach conference for the recreation it affords.

After the lecture came the "bean feed." Sandwiches, pickles and buttermilk were served with the pork and beans. Mrs. Morley and Mrs. Eldridge cooked the beans and it was very well done, judging from the way they disappeared.

Dr. Cogswell Honored.

Dr. I. J. Cogswell, head of the department of music, has recently received word of his election as a colleague to the American Guild of Organists. This is an organization of church organists founded in 1896, authorized by the Board of Regents of the University of the state of New York. All the prominent organists of this country and Canada belong to it. Its purpose is to forward the cause of music, raise the standard of church music etc.

Dr. Cogswell has been at the head of the school of music at the University since 1898 and has worked hard and consistently for Idaho. He has been quite successful and his courses are very popular. He received his doctor's degree from Idaho last year.

The issue of the Oregon Emerald of two weeks ago was edited by the coloreds. It was a very attractive number of fourteen pages with a very artistic cover design in colors.

Miss Lucy J. Hopkins, traveling secretary of the Y. W. C. A. for the northwest, visited Idaho from Saturday afternoon to Monday morning of the past week. She spoke to the Y. W. C. A. cabinet and had personal conferences with a number of the girls. She left for Pullman yesterday morning. This was her last trip thru the northwest. She will go to India in September.

question was stated as it was—in a negative way. He disapproved of it, remarking that the natural way to look at it is from the affirmative side.

The crowd which heard the debate was ridiculously small. It was the poorest crowd a debate has yet drawn. This was due in part at least to the other attractions of the week-end. The track meet in the afternoon was probably the strongest factor in detracting from the interest of the debate in the evening.

But those who failed to attend missed an interesting and beneficial discussion. Judge Diertich's remarks alone were worth coming to hear. Prof. E. Hellier-Collens favored the little audience with a delightful violin solo, accompanied on the piano by Miss Fay Hostetter. Everybody knows how excellent Prof. Collens' playing is and there is no need to remind our readers what they missed.

Men's Tennis Tournament.

The men's tennis tournament is not as far advanced as it was planned to have it at this time. The weather has been unfavorable, and up to the present only the preliminary matches have been played. The present plan is to play the last finals the afternoon Monday, which will be Campus day. No matches will be played Friday and Saturday, on account of the girls' tournament which will take place on those days. The results up to date are as follows:

Monday, May 22.

E. Loux won from F. L. Sower.
Hunter won from H. Foester.
C. H. Buffington won from Ruth Garber.
Garber won from C. Loux.
C. Wood won from McCann.

Tuesday, May 23

Kettenbach won from Kennedy.
Jordan won from David.
Hoobler won from Thompson.
Hunter won from Harris.
McClintock won from Garber.
E. Loux won from C. Wood.
H. Soulen won from Webster.

Mrs. Lewis entertained very pleasantly last Saturday evening in honor of the Gamma Phi Beta and the Phi Delta Theta fraternities. She was assisted by Mrs. Soulen. Dancing and cards formed the entertainment, and the most delicious refreshments were served.

IDAHO AND WASHINGTON TIE.

Score 3-3 In First Game—Rain Stops Second Game With One Inning.

Of the two games scheduled with the University of Washington last week, neither team was able to score a victory or a defeat. Owing to the bad weather the first game was called at the end of the ninth inning with the score tied, and the second game never got past the first inning.

In spite of the storm, the first game was one of the best played on the Idaho diamond this year. Both Robinson and Johnson, the opposing pitchers, were in fine form and allowed but seven hits each. Idaho scored in the error column three times while Washington was given five. A heavy downpour of rain in several innings made the game rather disagreeable, but the small crowd of spectators stayed until the end.

Idaho scored first, getting two runs in the third inning. With one down Kettenbach hit out a single, Wheeler went out, but Lundstrum sent a drive out into left field, scoring Ketsy. Lundstrum stole second and scored on Cron's hit.

Washington evened up the score in the seventh inning when two hits and two errors sent Arney and Hickingbotham over the plate. In the last of the eighth Idaho again took the lead. Lundstrum got to first on four balls and scored with the assistance of a wild pitch and a hit by Cron. In the last of the ninth Hickingbotham, the first man up got a hit, Sturgis got to first on an error, and Hickingbotham scored on Johnson's out. The grounds became too wet for play and the game was called with the score tied.

On the following day one inning was played before the rain again drove the players from the field. In the one inning Washington got one man on the base on a walk, and Idaho put two on the bases, Lundstrum being hit by a pitched ball and Williams getting a hit.

The baseball season is over with the exception of three more games to be played with Washington State College. The first of these games will be played tomorrow. The University of Washington leads the conference, having clinched the championship by winning the second game with Whitman. The University of Oregon and Oregon Agricultural College have finished their schedule and are tied for second place with a percentage of 583. Whitman has secured the cellar position.

At present Idaho is just above Whitman in the list, with W. S. C. just above Idaho. If Idaho can win all three remaining games, she will crowd W. S. C. out of the fourth position. If we lose one and win two, Pullman will keep her place at the head of the second division by the smallest kind of a margin. It's up to us to make it three straight and the crowd can help a lot. Be sure of the first one by turning out for tomorrow's game at four o'clock.

Y. M. C. A. Half-way Meeting.

Fifty men attended the "half-way" meeting of the W. S. C. and Idaho Y. M. C. A.'s last Sunday afternoon, between Pullman and Moscow. The meeting was distinctively a booster for the conference at Columbia Beach from June 16-22. Fourteen men are going to the conference from W. S. C. Idaho will have twelve.

Agricultural Club Lecture.

Professor Frandson gave an illustrated lecture before the agricultural club last Wednesday evening. The views were of modern dairying in Denmark and show conclusively that the Danish people are far superior to the American in the dairy industry. This lecture was one of the best the club has had the privilege to hear this year.

Professor W. L. Carlyle returned yesterday from Southern Idaho, where he had been the past week determining a location for an experimental dry farm.

The Gamma Phi Betas entertained Miss Fay Hostetter, Miss Ruth Broman, Mr. Wilbur and Mr. Durfee at dinner Tuesday evening.

A dinner was given Thursday evening by the Domestic Science club in honor of Supt. Meek of Boise, who spent the last week in Moscow. While here he gave several lectures on administration and supervision for the benefit of the classes in education.
