IDAHO GETS DELTA GAMMA

Is The Second National Sorority To Place a Chapter at Moscow.

The installation of Beta Sigma, to whom a chapter of Delta Gamma was granted early in the summer, took place Saturday the 16th. The officiating Delta Gammas were the Misses Elsie and Theo Child, Kate Sexton, Edith Jackson, Imogen Mitchum, of Beta Chapter, University of Washington, Mrs. Ramöge of Lambda Chapter, Minnesota and Miss Francis Butterfield of Omega, Wisconsin.

After the initiation service a banquet was served at Rindenaugh hall.

Beta Sigma as a local sorority was organized in 1899 and has had in all about seventy-three members. Only those were installed who were active in the sorority during the inspection by the Grand Council last spring. These were Minnie Kiefer, Beryl Johnson, Lillian Clarke, Eva McFarland, Beth Redway, Mattie Heer, Lydia Lahtinen, Beatrice Swain, Louise Sebree, Jewell Bothwell, Geneal Hague, Margaret Neuman, Alice Cooper, Hazel House, Lucile Roberts, Mary Petoina.

The chapter here which is the twenty-first granted by Delta Gamma, will be recorded as the Mu Chapter of Delta Gamma. It is the second national sorority placed at Idaho, and the fourth national Greek organization. The congratulations of the Argonaut and of their many other friends are with them in their new acquisition.

Swope-Sower Wedding.

Forest L. Sower and Miss Lillian Swope were united in marriage at Pendleton on Wednesday, September 13. Miss Swope left Moscow for that town on the previous day, and met Mr. Sower at Pendleton. She had been back to Moscow for only a couple of weeks after visiting in southern Idaho when a telegram from Mr. Sower called her to the Oregon city.

Mrs. Sower was a student in the Preparatory department last year. Mr. Sower graduated in June with highest honors, and is now residing near Caldwell. He is a member of Theta Mu Epsilon.

A dance will be given by the Ladies' Historical Club of Moscow, for the benefit of the University Loan Scholarship Fund, Friday evening, September 22.

MANY NEW ADDITIONS TO THE UNIVERSITY FACULTY

Get Next and Know Who's Who, and When — Registration Continues.

The twentieth year in the history of actual instruction at the University of Idaho opened on the 18th with a very gratifying enrollment for the first day. Thirteen counties were represented in Idaho among the new students, and the number of old students returning was unusually large. Dean Eldridge is much interested in the fact that a surprisingly large number who had left college before on account of financial difficulties are registering this year. Registration still continues and students will be dropping in for a week or more. It is too early for summarizing, but already it is evident that the College of Law and the College of Agriculture will show distinct gains.

The faculty now numbers fifty-eight, including the following valuable additions made by President MacLean during the summer. Some of their academic history follows:

D. C. Livingston, associate professor of mining, was graduated from McGill university, Montreal, as mining engineer. He spent four years in various mines in British Columbia, was engineer and superintendent for several companies operating in Sonora, Mexico, and at the time of his appointment was engineer for the Moctezuma Copper company, one of the large Phelps-Dodds properties in that district.

Charles A. Stewart, associate professor of geology, has received the degrees of A. B. and A. M. from Columbia university, and will receive his Ph. D. from that institution this fall. He spent one year as instructor in the department of mineralogy at Columbia in charge of the work for mining engineers, and for the last four years has been instructor in economic geology at Cornell.

Miss Laura Breese, instructor in domestic science, graduated from Carroll college, Wisconsin, in 1896 for two years taking special training in domestic science at Pratt Institute, Brooklyn. She taught in the Milwaukee training school for one year, and at the time of her appointment was supervisor of domestic economy in the Pocatello public schools.

Lyman P. Wilson, associate professor of law, was graduated from Knox college in 1904 with the degree of B. S. In 1907 he was graduated from the University of Chicago as doctor of law. Before coming to the University of Idaho, Mr. Wilson served two terms as city attorney of Galesburg, Ill.

Dr. Shirley Gale Patterson, associate professor of romance languages, received the degree of B. A. from Amherst college in 1906; M. A. from Cornell in 1909, and Ph. D. in 1911. He taught Spanish, German and French in the New York City high school from 1905 to 1908, and at the same time was a graduate student of romance languages at Columbia. In 1908-09 he was a resident fellow at Cornell, and in 1909-10 Cornell traveling scholar in Madrid and Paris. The next year he spent at the University of Chicago as instructor in French and Italian.

F. S. Kennard, of Delhart, Texas, instructor in farm crops and assistant agronomist of the experiment station, received his bachelor's degree at the South Dakota Agricultural college, doing his major work in farm crops and has spent his time since graduation in this field. He was for four years connected with the U. S. bureau of plant industry and had charge of one of the dry land experiment farms located in the Great Plains region.

Karl J. Thiege, assistant bacteriologist of the experiment station, took his B. S. degree from the University of Wisconsin in 1907. After graduation he accepted a position as chemist and bacteriologist with the Beatrice Creamery company in Denver. Later he was dairy bacteriologist with Morris & Co., Chicago.

L. J. Corbett, associate professor of electrical engineering, was a student at the University of Idaho from 1896 to 1900, and while there was awarded the Kauffman scholarship for two successive years. In 1900 he went to the University of California, and, by taking extra work, completed his course in 1902. He then entered the employ of the General Electric company of Schenectady, N. Y. In 1904 he was

FOOTBALL OUTLOOK IS PROMISING

Over Twenty-five Men Out at First Practice - Rugby on the Schedule.

The first football practice of the year was held on Idaho Field Tuesday evening. Coach "Pink" Griffith gave the men a light workout consisting mostly of dribbling the ball up and down the field. Little more than the giving out of suits has been arranged for before this; but work has now begun in real earnest. Snits have been given out to about thirty men already and, from time to time, more will be given out.

Coach Griffith is up in the air about the prospects. He says "I don't believe in sending out bear stories, for I believe in sending out reports that are true to the best of my knowledge, but from what I have been able to see of the men so far this season, I think we will put out as good a team as we did last year and probably a little better. Most of the men are new to me, though, and I haven't yet been able to get a line on them."

Graduate Manager Larson is more optimistic. He says "We are going to have the heaviest team we have had since I have been connected with the school, either as a student or a member of the faculty. The team is going to average 175 pounds."

Student Manager Roy O. Johnson has been busy all week passing out suits to the men. The following "I" men are back in school: Enoch Perkins, Clarence Favre, Bill Hillman and Proctor Perkins.

Captain Harry Changnon will return to school the latter part of this week. By last year's graduation or by the four year rule, Idaho loses Edmundson, Thornton, Lundstrom, Hayes and Williams.

Among the new men who show promising might be mentioned "Buck" Phillips, the individual point winner in the Interscholastic meet held here last May; Chester Loomis of Portland, who has played football on the Hill Military Academy team, and the Multnomah club team of Portland; Ernest Loux, who is a junior in college, but who has never played any football since coming to the university, except in the inter-class games played last year; Harold Hughart, who played three years on the Pocatello high school team with Loux, will probably go out this year for a place on the team, as will Bobby Ryan of Payette.

Another college year has opened; a broad field of student activity is now lying open to our University students. College life will be animated, events crowding thick and fast upon one another. Things will be done. And how? And by whom? That the future will decide. But the important point is their authors are as yet undecided. Loyalty to one's self—to his best interests personally—as well as to his school, demand that each and all spring to grasp and hold every opportunity that comes along. The intensity of the work of each individual is the measure of what he is worth to himself, and to his college; and the application of this principle though extended to freshmen, applies with equal appropriateness to other students.

Then do things. One cannot do too much; and don't hesitate to accept more work, no matter what it is, that falls in your way. Seize it as an opportunity to develop your inherent manhood or womanhood—to show the stock from whence you grew by "showing the things that you can do." Get busy—active. Show that you're alive by moving—doing things. Judgment is passed on what you have done—not on what you can do—and will be. No one cares a rap for that. Get the Idaho Spirit—do things—for yourself, too, but most—for Idaho!

The remainder of the Argonaut staff will be appointed in time for the issue printed two weeks from today. Since prominence in student affairs is the only standard coin of measuring students among students, here's your opportunity. Take it. Every department of the University will be represented, even if additions to the staff have to be made. Representatives will be wanted from every student quarter. If the applicant proves valuable a place will be created for him.

Speed in obtaining copy, its completeness, reliability, and neatness will be the points specially noted in the awards. Copy need not be typewritten, but a smooth, legible hand is required. Place all copy in an envelope addressed to the Editor of the Argonaut, and leave it in the publicity office,—the first door down the hall (north) from the Bursar's office.

Knutson, Dipple, Kinnison and Samms, all of whom played as subs last year are back and out for a place.

Idaho has one of the heaviest schedules in her history. The first game will be played October 7th with Lewiston Normal and every Saturday, up to and including Thanksgiving, is scheduled—with the exception of one. Idaho will meet Lewiston Normal, either Gonzaga or Bremerton, W. S. C. and Whitman at Moscow, Washington at Spokane, Oregon at Eugene and Utah at Salt Lake

A new feature this season will be a game of Rugby with W. S. C. at Pullman. This will be the first attempt at rugby made by this institution.

T. T. Crooks, '09 of Moscow, is the other Idaho Rhodes' scholar who is at present at Oxford, George H. Curtis having returned to Boise a short time ago after completing his course at the English university.

Professor Steinman received his Ph. D. from Columbia university last June. He did his doctor's work in civil engineering fields.

Paul M. Clemens, '11, editor of last year's Argonaut is again in town. Mr. Clemens spent the summer with a party of engineers in the northern part of the state, but will shortly return south to assist his father in the management of his farm.

The first lady university professor in Germany has just been appointed to the chair of physics at the University of Leipzig.

with the Union Iron works, San Francisco. For the last five years he has been engaged in independent work as consulting engineer.

Dr. John Kostalek, instructor in chemistry. Dr. Kostalek took the degree of B. A. and M. A. from the University of Wisconsin and Ph. D. from Illinois, making organic chemistry his major work. His practical experience includes work with the Oliver Mining company of Eveleth, Minn., the city asphalt repair plant of Milwaukee, and the Goodrich Rubber company of Cleveland.

C. V. Schrack, a graduate of the horticultural department of O. A. C., is gardener for the horticultural department here. This department also has a teaching fellow, Clyde Heard, '09.

The department of bacteriology also has a teaching fellow, C. L. McArthur, a graduate of the Oakland Agricultural and Mechanical college.

Besides the above appointments there have been a number of promotions among the last year's faculty members. Among these are: C. C. Tull from assistant professor to associate professor of the English language; G. L. Larson from assistant professor to associate professor of mechanical engineering and Justin DeLury from assistant professor to associate professor of geology and mineralogy. Professors J. F. Nicholson, William Hale Wicks and L. F. Childers occupy full professorships instead of associate professorships, as during last year. Dean Elliott's place in the school of agriculture is taken by Prof. Carlyle; Professor Iddings is professor of animal husbandry and principal of the practical school of agriculture. In the law department Otis Eddy McCutcheon takes the place of Judge MacLean as Dean of the college of law and professor of law. Professor Wilson takes the post of Professor Durfee. C. H. Wilber is assistant professor of law and secretary of the college of law.

ABOUT THE CAMPUS.

The first Executive Board meeting of the year will be held next Tuesday evening in the Ad building.

Henceforth the Argonaut will be printed on Tuesday and delivered on Wednesday.

Chas. Fields, '14, has left school and gone to Genesee. His return to school this semester is doubtful.

Bruce D. Mudgett, '08, spent the summer vacation months in Moscow visiting his parents. Since his graduation, Mr. Mudgett has attended Columbia and the University of Pennsylvania. He is now an instructor in the latter institution, and is working for the doctor's degree.

Misses Margaret and Nellie Keane left last Saturday for Lewiston where they will register at the State Normal School.

Misses Gretchen Zumhof and Margaret Stolle, both members of the Gamma Phi Beta sorority, left Saturday for Kendrick. They will teach schools in the city schools at that place during the coming winter.

Captain Stuenenberg, a former commandant of the university cadets, spent a few days in Moscow preceding registration. He reported a pleasant time in renewing old acquaintances and memories in and about town.

George H. Curtis, the fourth Rhodes scholar from Idaho to complete his course there, has arrived in Boise. He has not yet definitely decided what line of activity he will follow in the future, but is confident that the inspiration and impetus derived from his work there will carry him far in any field for his coming work that he may choose.

A massage given by an expert workman will remove all that summer dust from your face. Visit Russell's shop and be convinced.

Columbia university is to become the possessor of a model of the Fortune Theater, which was built in London about 1600. The building is to be erected from specifications which have been preserved from Dulwich college. Shakespeare is said to have acted at the Fortune Theater.

The colleges of California, which for several years have played the English game of rugby, are this year changing the rules so as to make it more like the American football. The outcome of the experiment is awaited with much interest by the college world. Instruction in rugby has been made compulsory at the Universities of Kansas and Michigan. Idaho students will have an opportunity to see the English game played this fall by teams from Idaho and W.

The women of Stanford university are now ready for complete control of their own activities. A judicial board, consisting of five members elected by the women of the university from among their own number, has been recently organized. This board will have practically complete power to deal with problems of student government and discipline among the women of the university.

"The University Missourian," an up-to-date city newspaper is the daily publication of the students and the faculty of the school of journalism at the University of Missouri. It is issued in connection with a practical course in newspaper work given by a corps of newspaper men. Both local and telegraph news are included, and the whole field from college activities to Paris fashions, from police news to social events, is covered.
The college football game is sent to the back page and the wheat crop in Russia given a place on the front page.

The "College World" has figured out the leaders in the different branches of athletics for the year 1911. There are sixteen different sports taken into consideration, and of these Cornell holds five championships, giving her first place. Yale comes second with four and a half, Princeton third with two and a half, followed by Harvard, Columbia, Haverford, John Hopkins and the Naval Academy, with one each. Cornell takes first place in track, rowing,
cross-country, hockey and fencing.
Princeton is conceded the baseball championship, while Harvard ranks
first in football.

What the Right Clothes Mean to a Man's Success

The young man who is dressed correctly bids for influence and the respect of others, and he gets it.

And when he possesses those assets he is successful. In showing that he is particular about this important matter, he also shows that he will be particular about others.

In selecting our showing of Fall and Winter garments this year we have gathered together brands from the world's most famous makers.

Principal among these are The L System Clothes---conspicuous for their exclusive fashion, fabric and superb tailoring.

The "L" System CLOTHES

are based upon an exclusive idea to fit a man's character.

There is a "something" about these renowned garments that make them harmonize with a man's personality---that gives him an individuality---set him aside favorably from other young fellows. It's in the careful hand-tailoring, the superb fit, the drapery and the fashion.

We will be glad to show you the many new models for this season---show you what a difference The L System Clothes make in a young fellow, and what a saving this store makes for your purse.
