SOPHOMORES VS. FRESHMEN

Horning ('14) Hung in Effigy—Denning ('15) Takes a Ride.

A bunch of ambitious freshmen got busy one night last week and hung in effigy the president of the sophomore class, Chas. Horning. The effigy stuffed with straw and rags was suspended from its head from a telephone wire near the campus. Two large cards bearing the words: "President Horning—Sophies Beware!" were pinned to the dummy. The effigy was discovered by some sophomores at about seven o'clock in the morning and was pulled down before it was seen by many students.

The sophies retaliated Friday night by kidnaping S. L. Denning, president of the freshman class. Mr. Denning was seized as he was returning home from the Athletic Ball. He was hustled into a waiting carriage, blind-folded and driven rapidly about fifteen miles southeast of Moscow where he was left to plod his weary way back to town. He arrived in a semi-conscious condition about noon, Saturday, vowing vengeance on the sophomore class and ready to make the next play in the antics of the two classes.

Short Course Studies Reception.

Last Saturday evening a reception was given to the short course students in the gymnasium. This was done under the direction and initiative of the Young Men's Christian Association. The festivities began about 8:00 o'clock, concluding at 9:45. Various sports, among which were pillow fights, hurdling, clearing-the-mat and stand-as-stand-can, made the evening enjoyable. At its close, ice cream and cake were served; the gathering broke up hilarious and well pleased with the evening's entertainment.

The School of Practical Agriculture shows a substantial increase. Up to date thirty-six first year students, including five girls, and fifteen second year students have registered. In another week the total will be about double that of last year.

Prof. Carlyle returned last Saturday from the National Dry Farming congress at Colorado Springs. Mr. Carlyle, who was on the program, had for his subject, "Live Stock in Relation to Dry Farming."

Miss Lorena Dartt '14 spent the week-end in Palouse.

W. S. C. AGAIN CAUGHT UP IN HER GAMES WITH IDAHO

By a Score of 17 to 0, W. S. C. Wins The Field of Friday's Game. Hard Playing. Varnell Referees.

By a score of 17 to 0, W. S. C.'s heavy team took Idaho's lighter team into camp last Friday. Idaho played the best football and with the exception of one touchdown, Pullman clearly earned their victory. Pullman made this touchdown in the third quarter on a bad pass from Kinnison to Perkins when Kienholz picked up the fumbled ball and ran twenty-five yards for a touchdown.

The game was called promptly at 2:30 by Referee George Varnell, the sporting editor of the Spokane Chronicle, with Bently as umpire and Chiesman as field judge.

W. S. C. kicked off to Idaho, and Kinnison punted back to the center of the field, and Idaho regained the ball on a fumble. The first quarter was as pretty an exhibition of football as could be desired. Mosier, quarter-back for W. S. C., attempted a drop-kick from the thirty-five yard line, but failed. The quarter ended with the ball in Idaho's territory.

It was the second quarter that Idaho's hopes were crushed. Within the first minute of play, Mosier placed a drop-kick between the Idaho goal posts, and then within five minutes of play W. S. C. by two long end runs placed the ball on Idaho's five yard line, and the ball was taken over on a couple of line bucks. This finished the scoring for the first half.

In the third quarter, W. S. C. again kicked off to Idaho, and Kinnison punted forty-five yards out of danger. At this point Idaho tried a forward pass and Kinnison in passing the ball to Perkins, threw it a little low and to the right and "Perk" was unable to hold it, with the result that Kienholz broke through the line and made a touchdown. This was really the only fluke of the game, although both teams tumbled once or twice. During the third quarter, Hillman tried a place kick, but the line did not hold and Harter and Coulter broke through and blocked the kick, and had Coulter not stumbled, W. S. C. would no doubt have made another touchdown. By a series of line bucks, Pullman carried the ball down the field far enough so that Mosier could again drop kick it over the goal posts.

The last quarter like the first was a good exhibition of football. Neither side was able to score. Idaho played on the defense the whole quarter. The game ended with the score 17 to 0 in favor of W. S. C. and with the ball on Idaho's thirty-six yard line.

Following is the way the two teams lined up, and their weights. It will be seen that in the original line-up the W. S. C. men averaged 12 pounds heavier to the man. In fact Enoch Perkins and Knudtson were the only Idaho men who weighed more than their opponents:

A. S. U. I. TO HAVE NEW CONSTITUTION

Draft of New Constitution, With By-Laws, Will Appear in Our Next Issue.

Owing to a lack of space the new Constitution submitted last week to the Executive Board is not printed in this week's Argonaut. But next week we hope to publish it complete, including the by-laws and accompanied by comparisons between the new and old constitutions.

Several loop holes have been well filled in. In the financial system, however, lies the greatest crudity of the old Constitution. Under its system it is not possible, even now, to know exactly how much money is spent, who spends it, or how much more someone is going to spend. And with a student debt of nearly two thousand dollars it is clearly evident that a remedy for this defect must be found.

WITH THE U. OF W.

By FRED A. WOELFLEN, (Special correspondent for the Argonaut at the U. of W.)

University of Washington, Seattle, Wash., October 21.—Coach Gilmour Dobie, will this week bring his squad of husky gridironsters into final condition to depart Thursday for Spokane where they meet the University of Idaho squad in their initial game. Without an injury, with every man in superb condition, so far, Dobie will go to Spokane with the best team he has put up for some time, yet he is far from pleased at some conditions.

The greatest lamentation that Washington's peerless coach has to bring forth this year is the slowness of his backfield. Despite the fact that he has four of the best men he has ever drilled, it seems that they are slower than any he has turned out for several seasons. With Coyle at the helm, in the best shape he has ever been, the backfield is being put through hard work every night.

Mucklestone, who was the 1909 captain, but who did not play last year owing to injuries, is back this year in great form for carrying the ball. He has been sadly deficient in defensive work and it is doubtful whether Dobie will give him a chance at Spokane or not. Wand at left half has been playing gilt-edge ball and will put up a game this year that will eclipse his splendid work of 1910.

The score was 17 to 0, and against us; still we have but one regret—that Idaho didn't win. The team to a man played ball to the last limit of its strength. The game was certainly hard fought and our opponents can testify that it was anything but a walk-away.

Outweighed over twelve pounds to the man, with several of their large men extraordinarily fast on their feet, the Idaho boys played at a great disadvantage; but they played pluckily, and gave them all they had. Consequently we have no regrets and are proud of them.

When sanely looked at, Idaho could hardly expect victory in the face of such odds; nor yet could she expect to be victorious over W. S. C. forever. She won last year. Evenly paired off it is infinitely more honor to Idaho to gain a victory over W. S. C. than for W. S. C. to gain a victory over Idaho.

In recounting the games played between the institutions we believe the scores from 1894 to the present time are as follows: 1894, 16-10; '95, 10-5 W. S. C.'s favor; '96, '97, and '89 had no games; '99, 11-0 W. S. C.'s favor; 1900 no game played; '01 0-5 Idaho's favor; '02, 17-0 W. S. C.'s favor; '03, 0-32 Idaho's favor; '04 and '05, 0-5 Idaho's favor; '06, 10-0 W. S. C.'s favor; '07, 4-5 Idaho's favor; '08, 4-4; '09, 17-0 W. S. C.'s favor; '10, 5-9 Idaho's favor; '11, 17-0 W. S. C.'s favor.

To date, then, Idaho has won as many games from W. S. C. as W. S. C. has won from Idaho. Besides these, two tie games were played. Those games in which Idaho has won were played since '01, when W. S. C. was larger and grew more rapidly than we. Yet in football the best they can say is that they have broken even with us—and they four if not five times larger than we. But we'll beat them next year—we'll eat them up and wipe out any blemish we may feel clings to us now.

We'll beat them. She doesn't count on the force of the old Idaho spirit. It is with us still and it grows. Friday, when the game was about over, two W. S. C. rooters standing on the sidelines and listening to the din from the Idaho bleachers were overheard speaking; and one said: "Just listen to that old Idaho spirit, they haven't given up yet!"

That was the spirit that carried us through last year; and it shall do so next.

Idaho-W. S. C. Spirit.

The change in spirit that has taken place between the student bodies of Idaho and W. S. C. is indeed remarkable. The sideline "rough-houses" which formerly were of annual occurrence between the two student bodies are a thing of the past. A few years ago we expected a fight every time we went over to Pullman, and sometimes when W. S. C. came over here. But that feeling of hatred no longer exists between the two schools. It has given place to a sharp but, nevertheless, friendly rivalry. The spirit of the rivalry is, perhaps, stronger now than it has ever been before, but it free from its former element of bitterness.

There is no stronger argument for higher education, perhaps, than the evolution in spirit that has taken place between these two rival institutions.

NOTES OF THE GAME.

"Cap" Horton, of the 1904 team was on the side lines. He also made a speech at the big rally at the fire Thursday night.

The Spokesman-Review seemed to give W. S. C. all the best of it in their write-up. They claim the game was won by the individual efforts of the members of the W. S. C. team. It looked more like machine work, the way those end runs were carried down the field.

Rod Small, all-northwest quarter for the year 1907, came up from Colfax to take in the game and incidentally act as linesman.

W. S. C. has a good man in Mosier. Not only is he a good heady man to handle the team, but he excels as an open field runner. This is his first year, too. He made two nice drop-kicks, but missed one from the thirty-five yard line.

Laird was probably the individual star on the visiting team. He is surprisingly fast on foot for his huge bulk. He enters the class track meets at Pullman, taking part in the sprints. It looked several times though like he was playing rougher than necessary, and was once warned by Varnell to out it out.

Kinnison is coming up strong as a kicker. It seldom happens that the center does the kicking.

Idaho's team is in good physical condition. Not a man had to be substituted during the entire game, which is remarkable considering the teams playing against each other. Even at that Idaho was outweighed 12½ pounds to the man. W. S. C. was forced to make five substitutions, all of which were caused by injuries.

Hillman and E. Perkins did most of the work in advancing the ball for Idaho. Knutson and Burns were only run once or twice.

Last year during the rally when the serpentine went through the Crystal they shouted for Margie Kemp. This year they would have no rest until the college quartette came out and sang a couple of songs, and then they howled for a speech from Hillman and Perkins. Funny, ain't it?

Y. M. C. A. Growing.

There must have been sixty men at the Y. M. C. A. meeting last Sunday afternoon, when Professor Morley spoke with a convincing argument for "Wholehearted Service." Dr. Cogswell officiated at the piano. After the main meeting, ten men were voted into membership. Discussion followed concerning a prohibition league. This resulted in a motion to create a prohibition department in the Y. M. C. A., and have a chairman appointed to take charge of it, under the supervision of the president of the association. This motion was unanimously adopted.

Our state is alive on this question, having over twenty out of twenty-seven counties "dry" by local option, and a fight is on for state wide prohibition. Meetings every month and an oratorical contest in the spring will be held by this department.

Mr. Storer has been asked to help in the selection of a quartet for the Y. M. C. A. At the close of the meeting handbooks were distributed and a few Idaho songs were sung to the tune of "We Must Whip Pullman Friday." The meeting then adjourned.

Prof. Collins Ill.

Last Monday Professor Collins was ordered by his physician to give up his work and submit to a proper course of treatment for stomach trouble he has been having for some time. Mr. Collins' condition grew worse than at first expected and he was not only prevented from attendance at his duties for last week but will be for this week as well. Meetings of the college orchestra and the violin quartet have been dispensed with until further notice. Mr. Collins expects to be with us again next Monday. He is under the care of Dr. Carithers.

OF INTEREST TO COLLEGE MEN.

What is China doing with the opium traffic? What are the primary motives of the young Turk movement? What is the only real solution for the Yellow Peril? In short, what are the great world problems of today? These are questions of vital importance to the world, and of special interest to well-informed college men.

These topics will be discussed next Sunday at 8:00 p. m. in the Y. M. C. A. hall. Two of the leaders are Professor Nicholson and Rev. Hare. A rousing meeting is assured.

The Sunday afternoon meetings of the Y. M. C. A. are exceptionally interesting and helpful this year. Why? because a larger number of men turn out and make them so. It is up to the men of Idaho to make this organization what they would like it to be. Will you help?

AT ASSEMBLY.

The most enthusiastic assembly of the year was held Wednesday. The big game was approaching and everyone was filled with the "rally" spirit. The only business brought up which did not pertain to the game was the report of the committee on the construction of a dancing floor in the gym. The committee found it to be inadvisable to lay a hardwood floor as had been planned, because of the great cost. A maple floor could not be laid for much less than one thousand dollars. It was advised that the present floor be smoothed and covered with a canvas for dancing. This plan, if adopted, would incur the expenditure of about two hundred and fifty dollars.

Following the committee's report was the election of a yell leader for the present year. A unanimous vote was cast for Jack Wheeler. Those other men nominated for the try-out were made assistants to Wheeler. The new football songs were given a trial under the leadership of Professor Storer and proved to be very valuable additions to Idaho's rather short store of songs.

A committee of ten was appointed to arrange for the spelling of I-D-A-H-O on the bleachers Friday. The plan was rather hard to work out on account of the bleacher's being too low for a well proportioned letter.

After the adjournment of assembly the entire student body gathered in front of the Ad building, coming down in the serpentine formation, and assembling about the grassy plot in the center of the driveway, in front of the building, they gave the old Idaho yell repeatedly and worked up the "spirit" to a high pitch.

That Rally.

Thursday night witnessed one of the really good rallies ever held at Idaho. The major portion of the student body was out and a goodly portion of the faculty. The evening program began with fifteen or twenty minutes of song rehearsal in the Y. M. C. A. hall, whereupon the assemblage broke up and forming a serpentine with the band at its head adjourned to the Athletic Field. About the time of its start the material for the fire had been ignited and when the serpentine arrived on the scene it was burning brightly. After twisting about the fire several times and twisting about the crowd, the gathering which now numbered five or six hundred, assembled in a close mass not far from the fire, and called for those it desired to hear speak on the big topic of the evening—the football game on the morrow. Among the speakers were "Bill" Lee, "Cap" Horton, "Coyote" Johnson, Fritz Lundstrum, and Professor Tull. After the speaking came the serpentine down town. This was several blocks in length, being composed of a column of "threes" and "fours." After doing the customary amount of yelling and singing the next feature, of traditional custom, was the visiting of all the public places of amusement in the town. A year ago this consisted of the Latah County Fair but this year it was limited to two picture shows. The serpentine went through them—part of it taking possession of the stage in each case, giving the old Idaho yell and darting off again. At the Crystal, becoming impatient at the continuance of the show and the slowness of the quartette's coming, they took possession of the stage and then brought out the quartette. After a few words by some of the players, who were present and dragged forth, Alma Mater was sung and the serpentine, again consolidating outside, gave a few more of the good old yells and disbanded.

DEBATE NEWS.

From the University of Washington Daily we take the following paragraphs:

"The University of Idaho will be asked to join with Washington and Oregon in the establishment of a co-ed's triangular debating league. The Board of Control last night acted favorably on Manager Zednick's recommendation that an effort be made to build up women's debating activities on as sound a basis as the men's. Manager Zednick suggested Idaho in order that the three Northwest state universities be represented.

"I can see no possible objection to the establishment of a woman's triangular debating league this year, if it is possible to interest another Northwestern college in the project," said Manager Zednick this morning. "The only possible opposition that could be raised to a plan of this kind would be on the ground of expense. This would be no barrier this year, since we already have the Oregon debate to pay for, and the expense of a team for a debate with Idaho would be paid by that institution."

The clipping will surely provoke many a smile among our readers. Idaho to be asked to join a triangular debating league, why, not one of them was ever known even to contemplate such a thing as participation in a debate.

The sole editorial in the last issue of the Pacific Index is devoted to debate. Here it is entire:

"The question recently chosen for the Idaho-Pacific debate reads: Resolved: That state boards of arbitration, with compulsory powers, should be appointed to settle all disputes between employers and employees.

Now that the question has been agreed upon we are brought to a realization that we will soon have to lock horns on the forensic platform with our neighbors in Idaho. Last year we met them for the first debate in our three year contract and defeated them both at home and at Moscow. Of this victory we are justly proud, yet a decisive victory one year will not win us the championship, and the very fact that we were so successful last year should serve to spur us on to a more determined effort to take advantage of our lead and win again this year.

It is needless here to do more than recapitulate a few of the reasons why every man should interest himself in this coming event. If we but refer to the meritorious debate record of Pacific we, as loyal supporters of the crimson and black, will strive to continue the good work and make our record read seventeen victories out of twenty-four contests instead of fifteen out of twenty-four. Furthermore a contest of this kind is almost invaluable to the partici-

Dobie has found a real fullback again this year in Ben Koehler, formerly of Wenatchee. Koehler promises to develop into a second Rex Hosely, who was the phenomenon of the season last year.

At Spokane Saturday the face of Max Eakins, who is considered by veteran sport writers to be the best pigskin kicker in the West and rivaling with Wallie Eckersall, will be absent from the place of right tackle. This leaves the purple and gold in a critical condition, as it has been unable to produce anything like old "Eak" this year. Jack Patton, however, formerly of Broadway, of Seattle, is showing up in splendid form.

Dobie will take a squad of twenty men to the Power City Thursday night. If present conditions prevail he will have a team that will be in great shape to do "battle royal" for the Sound university.

pant. Limited space prevents us saying more in this connection but we trust every man is cognizant of the importance of the facts previously alluded to and we trust that a good list of names will be handed to the secretary of the debate council before Friday evening.

This is quite different from the way we are preparing for the dual debate at this end of the line. Nine of those who signified their intention of entering the trial debate have dropped out. It is scarcely to be wondered at, however. We have no courses in argumentation here. In that respect we are unique among the colleges of the Pacific Northwest.
