BOARD OF REGENTS MEET

New Deanship—Canvas Covering for Gym Floor Ordered.

The Board of Regents of the University held their first meeting of the year last week. Mr. E. H. Moffit of Wallace, a present member of the Board was elected President to succeed M. A. Lewis, recently resigned. The principal business of the session was the creation of a new Deanship in the Department of Engineering. Dr. C. N. Little, present head of the Engineering Department, was elected to the new position. Dr. Little has been in the Engineering Department at the University since 1901.

President MacLean presented to the Board a financial statement of the first ten months of 1911, and made reports on registration, the pay-roll for 1911-12, and on the classes of instruction. Departmental budgets were allowed for the University Library, the School of Music, the Law School and the Mining Department. In accordance with the petition of the A. S. U. I. committee, the Board of Regents ordered a heavy canvas covering for the floor of the gymnasium.

A committee from the Latah County Fair Association presented a plan under which the Athletic Field might be leased to the Fair Association for two weeks each fall. The Board of Regents ordered a survey of the field with a view to determining the practicability of the scheme.

Idaho Country Life Appears.

The first number of the "Idaho Country Life," has just come from the press, and it is only just to say that this number is the best that has ever appeared either under the name of the "Idaho Country Lite," or of "Idaho Student Farmer," as it was called for the greater part of the time last year. Mr. Earl Hall '12, who is editor-in-chief, deserves high credit and the congratulations of all his friends for the exceedingly good start he has given his paper. Not only are the topics wide and timely in their range and applicability but are absolutely first class in authority and substance. The number is neatly bound and has many fine illustrations.

The other members of Idaho Country Life staff to-date are: Carl E. Johnson, Business manager; H. C. Heard, Ass't Business manager; and Miss Edna Larson, Domestic Science Editor.

A class in social dancing will be begun by Miss Wold next Saturday. Those interested will convene in the Gym at 11 a. m. on that day. All University men are eligible for membership in this class.

U. OF W. WRESTLES VICTORY FROM IDAHO --- 17 TO 0

Dobie's Eleven Has Developed Fine Machine Work, Duplicating the W. S. C. Score.

In the football game at Spokane last Saturday between the University of Washington and the Idaho team, the latter succeeded in holding the heavier team from Seattle to a seventeen to nothing score, which, considering Idaho's green team this year is a remarkable showing. Last year the score between the two teams was twenty-nine to nothing, so everything being considered, the Idaho enthusiasts have no reason to feel disappointed.

The game was held at Natatorium Park. There was a good representation of Idaho's students present. Nearly the whole Kappa Sigma fraternity attended the game. The crowd was one of the smallest that has ever witnessed an intercollegiate football game in Spokane. There was no excuse for the small crowd as the day was as fine as could be wished for. Probably the fifty-nothing score two years ago scared the Spokane people out.

Washington made eleven of her seventeen points in the first quarter, practically before the Idaho team got started. The second and third quarters were about even. The Idaho team made a good fight during these two quarters, and prevented Washington from scoring. The fight against the uneven odds was too much and they were unable to keep it up during the last quarter with the result that Washington managed to push the ball across Idaho's goal line for the last six scores making a total of seventeen.

Muckelstone of the Washington team was the real star of the game. He was the best ground gainer on either team. Outside of Bill Main, the Oregon captain, he is probably the best man in the northwest in the backfield, and it is about a toss up between these two men. Coyle did the kicking for the Washington team.

For Idaho, E. Perkins probably played the most brilliant game. Kinnison also showed up well. E. Perkins is one of the best open field runners in the conference, and should easily make all northwest next year.

Score by quarters:

	1	2	3	4
Washington	11	0	0	6—17

Referée, Varnell; Umpire Allen.

Quite a number of Idaho students went over to Pullman last Friday to see the game between the University of Oregon and W. S. C. This game was probably one of the best that will occur in the conference this year, the game ending with a six to nothing score in favor of Oregon. This touchdown was more in the nature of fluke than an earned score. Main, the Oregon captain, carried the ball sixty-five yards for a touchdown in the third quarter. Idaho men say that with this one exception W. S. C. outplayed their opponents.

One pleasing feature of the game was the issuing of complimentary passes to the members of the Idaho team by Graduate Manager Jones of W. S. C. This favor will no doubt be extended to the W. S. C. team at the Whitman-Idaho game on the 11th.

The feeling between W. S. C. and Idaho is probably more friendly right now than for the past ten years.

To-Morrow—The Try-Out.

The debate tryout in which four men are to be chosen to meet Pacific University in debate will be held in the Ad building Wednesday afternoon. The question of compulsory arbitration will be discussed. Every student who can possibly do so should attend this tryout. It is not at all a personal matter but one which must have the interest of the student body as a whole. There will be but a mere handful of contestants so there will be no "boring" of those in attendance with a ceaseless repetition of ageing materials. The student body is under obligation to support the debate teams just as heartily as it does the football men. As the students take particular pains to know who is trying out and making good in football so should all take the same interest in debate. We cannot hope to defeat Pacific unless we support our team much better than we did last year. Pacific University has on the faculty a man whose only work is coach debaters and give instruction in oratory. We have no such man here at Idaho and for this reason are greatly handicapped. Unless we show appreciation for our debaters they cannot be expected to meet Pacific on equal grounds.

Owing to its enforced shortness a large attendance at the tryout tomorrow will be expected.

DEBATE COUNCIL REJECTS PROPOSALS

Refuses To Consider O. A. C.'s Offer of a Place In Formal League.

The Debate Council held its second meeting of the year last week. Bills amounting to $39.51 were presented and recorded. The Council considered the proposition made by Oregon Agricultural College of organizing an intercollegiate oratorical league. The plan as proposed by O. A. C. would include the University of Washington, University of Oregon, Washington State College, Whitman College, Oregon Agricultural College and the University of Idaho. The Debate Council rejected the proposition as impossible from Idaho's standpoint under the present conditions into which oratorical work has fallen. Idaho has no instructor in any line of public speaking and will probably have none before next year. For this reason, among others, the interests of students among oratory and debate has fallen into a miserable condition.

We regret that Idaho could not join the league, but feel that perhaps she may be in a position to join next year.

The Debate Council also felt it would be impossible to accept the University of Washington's invitation to join a co-ed's triangular debate league,—for the same reasons as above stated. The Council proposed however a men's debate with the University of Washington.

U. of W. to Celebrate.

From November 3 till November 7 the University of Washington will hold its Semi-Centennial celebration. Representatives from all over the country will be present. Addresses will be made by the official representatives of these institutions. The representatives from Idaho are President MacLean and Dean Eldredge. Dr. MacLean is scheduled to deliver an address in the course of this celebration on the topic of Future Problems in Development of Collegiate Education on the Pacific Coast.

A membership campaign has been started by the members of the college Y. M. C. A. The total present membership of eighty-seven is divided into two parts, one part wearing a blue ribbon and led by B. E. Davis, the other following the red and being led by Chester Smith. The side securing the fewest new names gives a banquet to the other.

It is reported that the "Dorm" girls will give a dance next Saturday night.

SELECT your fall and winter knit underwear carefully. Make sure that it possesses comfort—warmth—wear. Be doubly certain that it will fit your body smoothly—perfectly—without bulk.

ATHENA UNDERWEAR

For Women, Misses and Children

is made in firmly knitted elastic fabrics that do away with wrinkles under the cover—a great cause of discomfort in the ordinary underwear.

Athena underwear fits the figure with the smoothness of a silk stocking. It insures comfort without bulk—daintiness with wearability.

Here are some of its special merits:

A patented seat that gives extra room where room is most needed. A special stay that prevents the garment from stretching over the shoulder. An elastic cuff that holds the sleeve in place and keeps it from slipping up on the arm. Trimming put on in an improved way, giving exquisite daintiness that is not blurred by washing.

In all shapes and fabrics at the price we usually pay. Try Athena for the children. A perfect fit for all ages—from two to sixteen years.

The freshmen English classes were subjected to their first examinations of the year last week. Got quite surprised, they say.

W. N. Ellis '13 was confined to his rooms at the Zeta Delta house for the greater part of last week. He is now about and able to resume his work.

J. W. Gwinn '11 arrived for a brief stay at the Theta Mu Epsilon house, Monday. He will leave for Garfield to visit his home very shortly and will possibly then remain about three weeks before he again leaves our vicinity. His work this summer lay in the U. S. G. S. fields.

Irwin Griner, law '13, returned to Moscow last Friday and has again registered in the Law Department. Every man, except one, who was registered in the Law School last year has returned to resume this year's work. The one exception, Tom Driscoll, was prevented from returning by sickness. The Law School is certainly making a record for itself.

An automobile party from Sandpoint consisting of Mr., Mrs. and Viola Allen and Mr. and Mrs. Himes agreeably surprised Miss Vivian Allen '15 and Miss Maud Himes '15, members of these respective families, last Friday at the Dorm. The trip with its frequent delays occupied about six hours, but all concerned believed the trouble attendant more than amply repaid.

A new feature in the Modern Languages Department will be a course in Italian offered during the second semester of the present year. The course will be of an elementary nature leading to a study of Italian classics next year. Only students who have had work in Latin or French will be admitted to this course.

AT ASSEMBLY.

more fortunate than most of the others and secured a room on the campus the first year, living with the same roommate for four years. At the head of the dormitory is a proctor whose business is to curb rough-housing. He is aided in this rather difficult task by seniors whose word is law. In Mr. Eldredge's senior year at Yale, there were only three per cent of the men in college who lived off the campus. Even those whose homes were in New Haven lived at the Dormitory in order to keep in touch with its powerful influence. Mr. Eldredge related several amusing little incidents in connection with his Dormitory experiences.

"The old Yale Fence", said Dean Eldredge, "affords one of the most pleasant memories that I cherish." It was a community center of student life, and made much for solidarity and democracy among the students. The fence consisted of three sections, one for the Seniors, one for the Juniors, and one for the Sophomores. All of the little informal class gatherings were held at the fence, and in front of it the campus games between the classes took place. In June, the Sophomore fence was always formally transferred to the Freshmen. Fence orators were chosen by the two classes long before the ceremony was to take place. Their orations consisted in the main of jokes, altho the actual ceremony by which the fence was transferred was of a serious nature.

Another feature of the student life at Yale was her college papers. A special paper was devoted to each and every phase of the college life. There was the "Funny Paper" which specialized in wit and humor gathered about the campus. Another paper was devoted to fiction, another to news, etc.

Dean Eldredge spoke also of the Yale Commons—a large dining hall which was capable of accommodating regularly a thousand men. When Mr. Eldredge attended the big Yale Alumni Re-union in 1909, eighteen hundred men, among whom was President Taft, Yale '78, dined at the Yale Commons.

Some of the other Yale traditions with which Mr. Eldredge dealt briefly were similar to those adopted at Idaho. The Seniors only were permitted to appear bare-headed upon the campus. Another prerogative in favor of the Seniors was the privilege of spinning tops on the campus. It was considered a certain indication of spring when the Seniors were seen on the campus with their tops. Washington's Birthday was a big day for the Sophomores. This was the first day of the year in which Sophomores could wear silk hats on the campus. It was the custom for Sophomores to appear on Washington's birthday adorned with silk hats of some sort. In this custom however the other classes participate in as much as it was their duty to remove the sophomore hats with snowballs.

Yale is the only large university in the United States that has compulsory chapel. The daily Chapel at Yale has become one of her best established traditions. Every out-going class votes for the continuance of the custom.

Yale's secret society system, as described by Dean Eldredge, emphasizes the perfect unity that exists in the student body. Five or six different kinds of secret societies exist at Yale, tho none assume the name of Fraternities, and do not set themselves apart from the rest of the student body. The lack of oblique feeling is the key to the traditional Yale loyalty, which has almost been adopted as a common name thruout the country.

Dean Eldredge's talk was followed by a cornet solo by Professor E. J. Carey, which was heartily received and encored.

Kappa Sigma Hold's Conclave in Spokane.

Thursday afternoon all Kappa Sigma's except the six men on the football team left Moscow for a meeting in Spokane of the members from the U. of W., U. of O., U. of I., and W. S. C., and of the alumni of the various institutions in the West, of this fraternity.

Thursday evening the Kappa Sigma's convened in Pacific Hall to become acquainted and talk over topics of common interest. Light refreshments were served during the evening.

Friday was occupied with a business meeting of the fraternity at which certain measures were discussed and voted upon. That meeting, also, Mr. Fred Record of Idaho was initiated into the mystic bonds of the brotherhood, and the right hand of fidelity was extended to him by all the members present.

After the initiation a ten course banquet was served in in the Stone room of the Silver Grill. This closed with the formation of an alumni Kappa Sigma in Spokane.

Saturday afternoon the conclave adjourned to the football game.

Saturday all the members joined by this time by the football Kappa Sigma's from the U. of I., U. of W., and the U. of O. attended a box party at the Orpheum.

At the end of the conclave, D. G. M. A. K. Allen, announced that this conclave would be held in Seattle next year.

Orchestra rehearsals and violin lessons begin again this week.

Men's hats can be had here for less. The regular $3.50 hat for only $2.25. Why pay more? Come to the Hub and get one.

ABOUT THE CAMPUS.

Probation Officer W. H. Mason made an official trip to St. Anthony's last Saturday, taking a youngster to the reform school there.

Sophomores are making inquiries as to how far the freshmen drove in their automobile last Friday night.

The freshmen English classes were subjected to their first examinations of the year last Friday. Got quite surprised.

The Whitman-W. S. C. game this year has been transferred to Spokane. The financial arrangements were taken care of by members of the alumni of the two institutions. This game is called for November 7.

Classes in Agricultural Engineering were opened Monday. The work will consist of a study of farm machinery and farm motors.

Miss Lulu Greenwood ex'14, who is teaching not far from town, yesterday departed for Lewiston to attend the teachers' institute there.

Evelyn Meeks '15 and Lorena Dartt '14 spent the week-end in Palouse.

November 17 will see the Whitman-W. S. C. football game pulled off in Spokane. Alumni of the respective institutions are handling the financial matters in connection with it.

How about the lack of social functions? What has become of the booster clubs, and other kindred organizations, about college last year? Whose turn is it to get busy? Start something if you please.

Professor Collens, who was confined to his home for the last week or more, is again able to be about and will soon start things in the musical circles.

Walter Scott '14 is prevented from attendance from his classes on account of a severe cold.

A business meeting of the Agriculture Club was held last Wednesday evening. Reorganization was discussed, and a committee appointed to confer with the short course students relative to the uniting of their club with the college men's.

The Preparation of Logged-off Land for Agricultural Purposes was the subject discussed in the horticultural seminar last Thursday.

Mr. Starring, assistant in horticulture, is taking advantage of the fruit shipments from Moscow to instruct his classes in loading cars.

Prof. Osborne's bulletin, entitled Weed Pests of Idaho and Methods of Eradication, will appear in about two weeks.

Mr. Hamilton, Assistant Professor in Agricultural Engineering, has arrived and will meet his classes in Farm Motors and Farm Architecture this week.

The class in English 103 enjoyed a test in Shakespeare's "Othello" last Thursday. The class will now study "King Lear."

Mrs. Samuel H. Hays, secretary of the Board of Regents, of the University, was in town last week attending the meeting of the Board. While in Moscow Mrs. Hays was a guest at the Gamma Phi Beta house. She returned to her home in Boise, Saturday.

Professors Storer and Cogswell drove over to Pullman, Saturday.

Miss Margaret Means '15 was visited by her mother, from Lewiston, over Sunday.
