MOSCOW GETS STATE MILITIA

Movement Rapidly Coming To a Head—Former Cadet Officer Is Elected Captain.

Last Saturday, Gen. McCall, Adjutant-General of the State of Idaho, spent the day in Moscow signing up members for the company to be organized here. General McCall stated that the outlook for a fine company here was exceptionally good, and in view of the fact that the organization of new companies in the future in Idaho may be at a standstill after the state has a full regiment, Moscow is especially fortunate at this time to secure her company.

Among the enlisted men of the company are many former and present cadets of the University battalion. Two cadet majors, a captain, several lieutenants and a number of non-commissioned officers and privates of the cadet corps have already signed up. Accordingly the chances for the best drilled company in the state are looked upon as being pretty good.

Saturday evening a majority of the company signed up, met in the city hall and were sworn in. Wm. E. Lee, '03, was elected captain by a unanimous vote. It was decided that the new company would be Company "F" (of the 2nd Infantry, N. G. I.) After the full quota of men are sworn in, the uniforms and equipment will be ordered and the company will begin its active duties.

A trip, all expenses paid, is in store for the company in June on the annual encampment of the militia of the three northwestern states, Idaho, Oregon and Washington. The encampment will probably be held in the Klamath Falls country, or failing there, in the vicinity of Puget Sound.

Seniors Elect Officers.

The seniors have elected the following officers for the present semester; L. W. Jordan, president; F. L. Quinby, vice-president; B. Swain, secretary; Harry Redeker, treasurer.

Monday evening Professor Cogswell's former music students gave him a surprise party at Litz Hall. The girls prepared dainties on the chafing dish and after refreshments they sat around to enjoy the music furnished by Prof. Cogswell. Those present were the Misses Stevenson, Heer, Redway, Strohecker, Campbell, Hague, Rudesill, Hockett, Meeks, Jones and Howard.

Reception Tonight.

A reception will be tendered Dr. Cogswell of the Music Department this Tuesday evening at Ridenbaugh Hall. Dr. Cogswell will soon leave the University on his leave of absence. Besides the faculty, various representatives of the student body will be present.

IDAHO 13; WASHINGTON 34

Very Interesting and Fast Game No Change in Line-ups Throughout Game.

Idaho met Washington Thursday night in an interesting game. The first half was interesting because of Washington's excellent team work, and the second half was interesting because Idaho really got in and played.

Idaho expected defeat and got it, but they also expected to hold Washington down to a lower score than our friends across the line and again they were successful. There was some satisfaction in that anyhow.

Washington started off strong in the first half getting nineteen points to Idaho's two, both of which were made on free throws by Captain Loux. At the beginning of the second half the Idaho team settled down and played really excellent ball. Soulen played in better form than in any previous game. He seemed to be a sort of pivot for the team work. And by the way, Idaho has developed wonderfully in all stages of the game since that first disastrous game with W. S. C. Loux played a good game, but he was up against one of the best centers in the conference. Savage made but one basket in the first half, but in the second half he ran wild and made five, while Loux was making two. Buffington played a scrappy game at guard, using his big bulk to advantage more than once.

For Washington, Captain Staatz, Savage and McFee were the whole team.

Neither lineup was changed during the game. Time had to be called once when Buffington and his opponent ran together, which resulted in a double foul. Following is the way the two teams lined up:

Idaho—Soulen and Kinnison forwards; Loux, center; Buffington and Nuffer, guards.

Washington—Staatz and Tupper forwards, Savage, center; Keeler and McFee, guards.

Stringed Quartet Busy.

The Violin Quartet gave a series of numbers in Carither's Hospital Sunday evening; afterwards they went to the residence of Judge H. R. Smith where a number of phonograph records were made. A very enjoyable evening is reported.

U. OF I. MINING STUDENT INVENTS

H. J. Maguire Perfects Carrier For Ore Which is Sought By Big Manufacturers.

H. J. Maguire, B. S. (Mng. E.) '12, has recently improved the cup or bucket which together with the rubber belt to which it is attached form the carrier used in elevating and transferring the ore in a mine.

The wear on the corners of one of these trough-like cups is very great, and before long the old cup, or bucket, must be replaced by a new one. Inasmuch as all parts of the bucket are not subjected to the same degree of usage, Mr. Maguire conceived the idea of making a cup composed of two or more pieces, such that by replacing the part directly affected the bucket would be as serviceable as when new.

The result is a bucket containing an adjustable lip. This lip is attached with but very little difficulty, requiring less than half the time it would take to replace a cup of the old style.

In addition to being more easily repaired, the new bucket can be manufactured at a much less cost.

The main portion of the cup, on which there is no great wear, can be made of a cheap grade of iron, while the lip is made of the best manganese steel.

The life of the new cup is estimated to be about one year as against two months or less for the old one.

On February 17, Mr. Maguire has been asked to present the merits of his invention, known as the Gildden Elevation Bucket, to the local section of American Institute of Engineers, at Spokane.

AT ASSEMBLY

Commissioner Fassett Speaks Giving Details of Spokane's Government.

Owing to a lack of space in this issue of the Argonaut the assembly talk of Commissioner C. W. Fassett of Spokane is not reported. The report is quite full and too good to be cut down without spoiling. The next issue will probably contain the report.

"THE RIVALS" SAT. EVENING

Brilliant Production of Sheridan's Play Assured—Exceptional Costumes.

The "Preps" hold a high reputation in amateur theatricals, and at length they are to appear before us in "The Rivals"—a play which will tax even their traditional histrionic powers. "The Rivals" depends for its interest not only on its history and on well-known comedy of line, character and situation; its appeal lies largely in the picture of another era which it presents to us.

"The Rivals" is saturated with the romantic atmosphere of Bath, a favorite watering place of England during the second half of the eighteenth century. Mistresses, masters and servants spend their days and nights intriguing and acting out the characters with which their reading has made them familiar. The women flutter about under artificial light with powdered hair and beauty marks. The men strut and swagger and fill the air with obsolete oaths. The servants snub one another and deceive their employers. All this in an environment of brocade gowns of antique design—of satin knee breeches and silk hose, and of spindle legged tables and chairs.

To achieve a veritable picture of this society the management and coaches have been at infinite pains in the matter of setting and costume. Costumes are being brought from Salt Lake City; old fashioned dances have been learned; curteseys and other out of date gentilities have been revamped. In short an effort has been made to produce this famous play not only with an excellence in the matter of acting but with verisimilitude of setting.

And, to this end, not the least effective element has been the zeal of the cast. They have entered with spirit into the old time manners and oldtime clothes alike. As Mistress Malaprop, Miss Alta Taylor skillfully presents an ancient maiden lady with an "ingeniously missapplied" vocabulary and very firm notions on rearing young women. The young woman on whom she inflicts these notions—Lydia Languish—is a languid, novel-reading slip of a girl—and Miss Marjorie Zumbhof gives this character delightful being. Lydia's sentimental friend, Julia, is illustratively portrayed by Miss Carol Ryrie. Miss Lillian Carithers gives an experienced interpretation of the sly Lucy and Miss Charlotte

There is going to be a basket ball game at the Gym Friday night. Idaho's team is going to need support. Will you be there to support it? If you are how are you going to show your spirit?

When that team comes on the floor stand up. Show the men who are there to fight for the silver and gold that you are behind them. They will play a better game if you do.

We have spirit at Idaho and we are proud of it. What we need is a little more and some way in which to show it.

Now whether Idaho loses or wins when the game is over, do not at once make a grand rush for the door. Everybody stand up and there will be some one there to lead the varsity yell. Now suppose we lose the game, do what is suggested and when it is over ask yourself a question, "Has defeat not lost the larger part of its bitterness, its sting?" Your answer will be "Yes."

Try it and see.—A Student.

Professor J. Francis Maguire of Boston has taken up his work in the Music department as teacher of piano and pipe organ and harmony, theory and composition. He will be head of the department during the absence of Dr. L. J. Cogswell, who was granted leave of absence for one year.

Professor Maguire comes highly endorsed both as a performing artist and as a teacher. He has made an exhaustive study of the best known American and European systems. He is at present engaged in adapting for use in his class work at the University the most approved and latest ideas of piano technique and touch by Breinhaupt and Steinhausen.

Y. M. C. A. Meeting.

The Sunday afternoon meetings of the Y. M. C. A., which were discontinued during the past month on account of the meetings for men in the tabernacle, have been resumed. The meeting last Sunday was well attended and enthusiastic. Those who did not attend missed the discussion of a very important branch of Y. M. C. A. activity, that of personal evangelism.

The talks of Prof. Morley, Prof. Steinman and Mr. Caray were especially interesting and helpful.

We are expecting a treat. Mr. Hursey's visit to our college on February 20. We have not forgotten Mercer yet, and look for even more from Hursey. His visit will mean much to the men of Idaho.

The meeting next Sunday will be very important, as officers for the coming year will be elected at that time.

Come out and vote for the men you want to lead in this work. The following nominations have been made:

President—J. D. Davis, Frank Osborn.

Manager Boarding Club—John McEvers, B. E. Davis,

Secretary—Allen Anderson, Chester Minden, Roy Carmack.

Treasurer—Chester Smith, Ralph Foster, Oliver Nesbit.

Other nominations may be made at the time of the election.

Major Fenn Lectures To Forestry Students.

Major Fenn of the Selway National Forest, gave two practical, instructive lectures to the students of the Forestry department last Saturday afternoon and morning. In the first lecture, Major Fenn discussed our Federal laws relating to forestry, giving the history and nature of the successive acts passed by Congress from the beginning of such forestry legislation up to the present time. In his last talk Saturday morning, Major Fenn took the subject of state forestry laws, and dealt with them in a similar manner. In part, Supervisor Fenn said that the greatest obstacles that had been encountered by the Federal government were (1) in working out a forest policy were in the prescriptive rights of settlers, and (2) the jealousy of the states in submitting to national control of forests within their boundaries. In the first place, old settlers who had long enjoyed free and unlimited use of the forests without regard to timber and forest range laws were very reluctant to conform to forest rules and laws that were later imposed upon them. The second contingency, the opposition of the states, is merely another instance of the doctrine of state's rights, asserting itself, and is fast being humbled by the more powerful central government. "While the government has made rapid strides toward providing satisfactory forestry administration," says Major Fenn, "we are still far behind in our forest laws."

In speaking of the several states that have enacted forestry laws, he commended upon their protective policy in regard to fires, but was less favorable to their methods of administration and utilization of state forests.

The Major was very clear and thorough in his explanations and answered many practical questions put to him by the students.

JUNIOR PROM

Juniors Maintain the Prestige of the most Enjoyable Dance of the Social Year.

Probably one of the most beautiful college dances ever given here was the Junior Prom at Eggen's hall Friday evening. The entire ceiling was covered by festoons of red and black, the class colors, converging at the center from which hung a huge oblong lantern of the same colors. Fir trees were also used to good advantage around the hall. Many easy chairs and cosy corners were conveniently placed. The orchestra was hidden from view by screens and fir trees. Punch was served throughout the evening. Much credit for the success of this lovely party is due the Prom committee composed of W. C. Perkins, president; H. Foester, Kathryn Smith, General Hague, Clyde Cornwall and C. E. Watts. The patronesses were Miss French, Miss Hostetter, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Stevenson and Mrs. Denning.

"AS YOU LIKE IT"

English Club Play next Spring to Prepare soon. Cast to be Chosen soon.

The English Club play for the spring season will be Shakespeare's "As You Like It." In order to select a cast thoroughly on the basis of merit the English department has decided to use the "try-out" system. Every student interested, with or without experience, is urged to come out for the test.

Candidates should consult Dr. Moore or Professor Tull for dates for the "try-outs", which will be held Monday and Tuesday of next week.

The judges will be Professors Moore, Hulme and Tull.

Selections for "try-out" are these:

Candidates should commit to memory the following selections from "As You Like It":

For Girls:

Act III, Scene 5. Phoebe's speech, beginning "Think not I love him."

For Men:

Act V, Scene 4. Touchstone's speech, beginning "Upon a lie seven times removed."

THE UNIVERSITY ORCHESTRA.

The University Orchestra has accepted an engagement to give an orchestra concert in Potlatch, February 24, under the auspices of the public schools there, and is at present employing its two intervening rehearsals in preparation of the program. Sixteen numbers will be given, including, besides the regular orchestral numbers, vocal, violin, cornet, trombone solos, also selections by a stringed quartet and a stringed sextet. The full orchestra will make the trip. The following is the instrumentation:

Leader and solo violinist, Prof. E. Hellier Collens; 1st violins,

Thos. Doyle, Geo. O'Donnell; 2nd violins, H. Holiday, R. W. Brink, A. Anderson; 1st cornet, Floyd Quinby; 2nd cornet, J. D. Davis, Clarinet, Harry Soulen; Trombone, C. E. Melugin; French horn, Davis; Cellos, Raymond Gillespie, Maud Gregory; Bass and Cornet soloist, Prof. E. J. Carey; Piano, Mary Petcina.

ABOUT THE CAMPUS.

Dean McCutcheon, Professor Patterson and George Donart were entertained at dinner at the Theta Mu Epsilon house Sunday.

Theta Mu Epsilon was royally entertained at a smoker Saturday night by Kappa Sigma. The evening's entertainment was concluded in a serenade "around the circle."

George Donart who has been out of school for the past semester has returned to his work in college.

Rae Gist of Coeur d'Alene who visited Mary Petcina at the Delta Gamma house last week returned to her home Sunday.

Margaret Stolle, ex-'13, spent the week end at the Delta Gamma house.

Trix Howard, '15, spent last week in Lewiston visiting friends.

O. A. Faris, '12, and Vernon Fawcett, '14, visited friends in Pullman Sunday.

Harland Hoyt of Lewiston was a visitor at the Phi Delta Theta house Friday.

Miss French was a guest at dinner at the Phi Delta Theta house Sunday.

Supervisor F. A. Fenn of the Selway National Forest and Professor Shattuck were visitors at the Phi Delta Theta house Friday night.

Harry Marsh of Wallace returned to his home Saturday.

Professor Temple has just returned from an extensive tour of the southern part of the state.

Don't forget the Prep play Saturday night.

Dr. Kostalek was startled by the size of his class in quantitative analysis. Its the largest quantitative class in the history of the University.

The course in Mine Surveying has been transferred from the Civil to the Mining department, and is now in charge of Professor Livingstone.

Edwin Strate, ex-'13, has returned to Moscow and registered in school.

Fay C. Robinson, '14, has returned to school after a semester's absence.

John Hayden, ex-'12, has re-entered school.

Eva Anderson, '11, now instructor in the Palouse high school, spent the week end in Moscow, taking in the Junior Prom.

Hawthorne C. Gray, ex-'13, has again resumed his school work.

Chas. Fields will not be in school this semester.

Lucile Robards will not register in school this semester, but will go to her home in Portland, Oregon. Miss Robards expects to register in the University of Oregon next fall.

How about your attendance at the basketball game at the end of this week?

Dean C. N. Little of the College of Engineering is on the program at the Boise meeting of the State Engineering Society to be held February 22nd to 24th. Dr. Little will speak on "Roads and Pavements."

Francis Jenkins will deliver a Lincoln Memorial address before the Civic club of the city Tuesday night. J. Francis Maguire, the new head of the Music department is also on the program for a musical selection.

Carl Paulsen, ex-'12, has returned to college. Mr. Paulsen has been with the Reclamation Service for the past year. He will again take up the Civil Engineering course.

Miss Kate Sexton of Spokane is visiting at the Delta Gamma house.

Saturday evening the Delta Gammas entertained at dinner party in honor of Rae Gist and Kate Sexton. Those present were: Messrs. Wilbur, Curtis, Mitchell, J. G. Watts, Soulen, Whitten Rogers and Parker.

Gladys Wiley, '15, is visiting at her home in Spokane.

Thursday evening the Phi Delta Theta entertained at dinner Mrs. Denning, Rae Gist, Mary Petcina and Hazel House.

The De Smet club will hold its regular monthly meeting in Ridenbaugh Hall next Thursday evening.

Sophomores Elect Class Officers. Annual Staff Chosen.

At a meeting of the sophomore class last Wednesday the following officers were elected for the present semester: Geo. Scott, president; Joe Braham, vice president; Rose Sieler, secretary and Josephine Wayman treasurer. The following staff was selected for the '13 Gem of the Mountains: S. A. Regan, editor-in-chief; Gladys Lessinger, associate editor; Walter Scott, business manager; Roy Tuttle, assistant business manager; Mao Scofield, athletic editor; Mary Petcina, society editor; Chas. E. Horning, organization editor; Alice Cooper, joke editor; Fred Record, photo editor; Elizabeth Hays, literary editor; Bert Smith, art editor.

THE PIRATES OF PENZANCE

Juniors to Present Another and The Best of Gilbert & Sullivan's Comic Operas.

The juniors desire to announce the presentation of Gilbert and Sullivan's best opera, "The Pirates of Penzance" on May 3 and 4. A larger cast than that of "Pinafore" will be used, also the best available talent in college will be made available whether juniors or no. It is planned to make this the biggest event of its kind ever pulled off.

Victor Price Debaters Meet.

Last Saturday evening the Victor Price Debating Club held its regular meeting at Ridenbaugh hall. An attendance of thirty students showed the increasing interest in debate at Idaho, and was very encouraging to the officers of the club.

The question debated was, "Resolved That the arbitration plan submitted to the senate by President Taft should be adopted."

Affirmative: C. Smith, Warren and Swanson.

Negative: Ostroot, Nesbit and Rice.

The negative won by a vote of two to one. The feature of the debate was the excellent rebuttal work by Warren and Ostroot.

The club was then given a rare treat by a string trio, composed of Mr. Holiday; Anderson and Gillespie, and Miss Verna Smith pianist.

The next meeting of the club will be held February 24, at 8:00 o'clock in Ridenbaugh hall. The commission form of government will be discussed, and since it was recently explained in assembly by Commissioner Fassett of Spokane the discussion will be very interesting to hear. All are invited to attend the meetings and help boost debate at Idaho.

Amherst Star Quarterback Volunteers to Assist Griffith.

During Professor Patterson's visit at Spokane last week, he met C. P. Lewis, an old schoolmate of his at Amherst. Mr. Lewis, formerly captain and star quarterback of the Amherst football team, is now vice president of the Spokane Chamber of Commerce. "Mr. Lewis has practically given his consent," said Professor Patterson, "to aid Coach Griffith with the football team next fall."

He has no little reputation behind him, having played quarter on the Amherst team which defeated Harvard twice by five to nothing scores. Mr. Lewis coached at Allegany College the season after his graduation. His assistance in the backfield would no doubt be a valuable asset to our coaching facilities.

Miss Mary Belle Meldrum and Miss Ruth Broman were the guests of Gamma Phi Beta at dinner Sunday week.

AGRICULTURAL NEWS

Prof. Hamilton has received ninety lantern slides from the American Steel and Wire Company illustrating the manufacture and erection of wire fences. These slides will be used in class work.

W. H. Wicks, professor of horticulture at Idaho and consulting horticulturist for the Kootenai Orchard Company, left for Bonner County Monday on official business.

Prof. Jones' bulletin, entitled Milling Properties of Idaho Grown Wheat, is now being printed.

There is a constant demand for the College's pure bred hogs.

Prof Temple is conducting the new course in plant diseases.

Prof. Shattuck has the plans for the new forestry building in his office at Morrill Hall.

Prof. Carlyle says the movable schools are a great success this year. The registration at Jerome was 160, at Burley 300 and at Buhl 150 in agriculture and 160 in domestic science. Mr. Carlyle will be with the schools at Rigby, Aberdeen and Bancroft.

The Agricultural college and Experiment Station are receiving over 600 letters per month. The bill for postage and stationery last year was $380; for the two years preceding it was $54 and $58 respectively.

Unusual interest is being taken this semester in the stock judging courses.

Lectures on Dairying.

On Monday of next week Professor G. E. Frevert of the dairy department, will give a lecture on dairying to the farmers of Stites, Idaho, and will also give instructions relative to the ordering and installing of machinery in the new creamery erected by the Farmers' Co-operative Creamery company of that place.

Battalion Poses for Picture.

The cadet battalion took advantage of the sunshine Thursday and posed for a series of pictures which will be used in the '12 Gem of the Mountains. The pictures will also be used by Lieut. Cathro as a means of judging comparative soldiery merits of the three companies.

Juniors Choose Leaders.

At a junior class meeting Thursday the following officials were chosen for the semester: H. Foster, president; R. D. Loeper, vice-president; Jessie Coram, secretary treasurer, and B. E. Davis, sergeant at arms.

"Life" is offering a novel money making plan to men and women who are working their way thru colleges and professional schools. You can find out all about it by sending your name and address on a postal to Life's College Student's League, 17 West 31st St., New York City.

Strength Cups Awarded.

The silver loving cups offered to the freshman making the highest strength test has been awarded to John Phillips, a star track athlete from Lewiston. The girl's cup was won by Precious Ross of Moscow. Phillips' test on the dynamometer, which measures every group of muscles in the body, was 6780 pounds, and Miss Ross totaled 4770 pounds.

It is interesting to compare the records of strength tests made by 8000 eastern college men with those made by Idaho students. The eastern average is 4125 pounds, the Idaho average 5524. For eastern college women the average is 2900 pounds, while Idaho girls average 3294.

NEXT TUESDAY THE TWENTIETH

Prof. Chas. D. Hurrey will Speak in the Y. M. C. A. Hall at 7:30 p. m.

He is a 1900 graduate of the University of Michigan.

He was Continental secretary for the South American Y. M. C. A. for three years.

He visited the leading cities of Brazil Uruguay, Argentina, Chili, Peru, Bolivia, Paraguay.

He personally met the presidents of the three republics, leading educators and government representatives there.

He was a delegate to the International Student conference in Tokio, Edinburgh, Liverpool and Constantinople.

He has visited the Universities in England, Scotland, France, Switzerland, Spain, Portugal, Italy, Germany, Holland, Belgium, and Japan.

Toured Japan, China and the Philippines, besides all of South America.

He is now the Secretary of the Student Department of the National Y. M. C. A. committee.

Men, we all recognize that the greatest life for us is that of service, not to ourselves, but to our fellow men. There never has lived and there never will live a man of sober thought who does not recognize that the fundamental principal of all great lives is that of service. Our inner man our spirit believes it and incorporates it into our lives.

Mr. Hurrey is just such a man. He is filling his field with service to his utmost ability. Let us as men with the same ideals as his give him our heartiest support, give him a Godspeed by hearing his message to college men—that includes all Preparatory and Short Course men—next Tuesday evening at 7:30 in the Y. M. C. A. Hall. The musicians will show their spirit by rendering special music. Let us all be there and get an impetus for the pursuit of our ideals.

J. D. DAVIS.

Summary—Field baskets, Soulen 3; Loux 2; Stautz 7. Savage 6, Tupper 3; free throws, Loux 3 out of 9; Stautz 2 out of 6; fouls, Idaho 6; Washington 9. Referee Edmundson, timekeepers, Wand and Kennedy.

NOTES OF THE GAME.

There were 122½ paid admissions at the game. Idaho lost an even twenty dollars on the game.

Captain Stautz was registered at Idaho two years ago in the one year dairy course.

Stautz is only acting captain. Captain Olsen was out of the game on account of being back in his studies.

Washington did not employ a basketball coach this year. Olsen does all the coaching.

There is only one "W" man on the team. That one is Keeler and he won his letter two years ago. Not one of last year's championship team is playing on this trip.

Student Manager Wingfield accompanied the team. He was well satisfied with the refereeing, complimenting Edmundson on his fair and impartial work. Edmundson seems to have remarkably good success in his work.

Coach Griffith was feeling good at the showing of the Idaho team during the second half. The first half proved disappointing to the most optimistic supporter.

It looks as though Pink has at last picked out a first team. This was the first game that he has not switched the players around, two or three times.

McFee is probably one of the fastest men on his feet in the conference. He is small and does not look to weigh over one hundred and twenty. He was easily the most active man on the floor.

"THE RIVALS"

Lewis, only too few opportunities as the maid.

Nor are the gentlemen's parts less well taken. Mr. Carl Melugin is very effective as the irate, whimsical Sir Anthony Absolute. As the dashing, romantic Captain Absolute, Mr. Donald David, opposite Miss Zumbhof, plays dexterously; and Mr. Jack Adams, opposite Miss Ryrie, makes an excellent Moody Faulkland. Capricious little Bob Acres with his valor and his oaths is happily represented by Miss Alwilda Adams. Mr. Brink, thrust into a gap at the last minute, gives a deft interpretation of the thankless role of Sir Lucius O'Trigger. Mr. Harold Bourne and Mr. Calvin Smith carry off well the parts of Tag and David, the trusty confidential servants; and as the coachman, Mr. Curtis is, that best of things, natural.

Taken all in all—play, presentation and cast, it is not too much to expect another triumph for "Prep" School Dramatics.

EXCHANGES.

The University of Oregon has now an inter-fraternity league representing the twelve fraternities there, with the exception of the Beta Theta Pi, which has nearly absolute control of the inter-fraternity contests held at that institution. One permanent representative in each organization remains on the governing board throughout the year; the officers are chosen by rotation to avoid political dickerings.

Harvard's famous class day tree near Holden's Chapel is doomed. The noted old elm, the nucleus of the exercises for a century, is decaying and will have to be felled within a few months.

PROF. C. C. RICE NOW IN MEXICO

Writes Interestingly of the Present Situation in Mexico. Japan Implicated.

Dr. Aldrich recently received a letter from Dr. Carl C. Rice, former associate professor of romance languages in the University, who is spending the winter in Mexico City. The professor writes interestingly of life in the Mexican capital. An excerpt from the letter follows:

"The anti-Yankee feeling evident a few months ago is now being revived by occult political influences. These may possibly proceed from Japan in part but are largely due to the heartless exploitation of Mexico by American interests—scarcely deserving the name. The republicans of Arizona recently urged the confiscation by Uncle Sam of a strip of Sonora territory to make an Arizona seaboard. The confiscation was shamelessly advocated in so excellent a paper as the Christian Science Monitor, showing that the whole American people—in Mexico it is safer to say the whole Yankee nation—lacks the proper viewpoint in dealing with his neighbors. Perhaps I should not rashly say the whole Yankee nation either, remembering that the democrats are still alive and kicking up there.

"One influence now reviving anti-Yankee feeling—I expect to hear the harsher term 'oringo' again soon—is the presence of the Argentinian anti-Yankee agitator Manuel Ugarta, whom I heard deliver an address to the students assembled in front of his hotel yesterday. Contemptuously alluding to the diminutive men of today amid jeers and hoots (Madero is a little fellow nick-named 'Chaparrito'—shorty or scrub-oak, perhaps related to Pinito, vice-president) Ugarta urged the students to follow in the footsteps of Bolivar and other patriots who dreamed of Latin-America unity. I don't remember any offensive terms applied to 'the Colossus of the North,' as he calls the United States in his book on the Future of America. Two students also spoke, showing great vehemence and speaking in pointed terms of the Yankee peril. Ugarta shook hands with the students after they spoke embracing both in Latin fashion. Some members of the Government party or club called 'stickmen' (porristas) tried to disturb the meeting by whistling, but a few admonitions reduced them to Mexican obedience, i. e. obstreperous submission. Ugarta is scheduled to deliver his 'lecture' on February 3rd. The most exciting preliminary was held today, it being proper here to indulge in political passions on the Lord's day. The students organized a parade in honor of Ugarta and Latin-American union. Some banners carried in the long procession announced that one or two Mexican political parties had voted to support the idea of Latin-American unity. At the head marched twenty-one students bearing a flag of Spain and Mexico and the nineteen other Latin-American Republics. I suppose it was the first time most of the people in the vast throng attending had seen these flags. It was a thrilling sight. Farther on in the crowd a flag appeared, which, I was told later, was that of Japan. This 'manifestation' was a lively one, no dawdling. The long line marched very swiftly through the main part of the city from west to east, stopped at the Palacio national for a speech, and rapidly marched back again to a point in the narrow but very fine street called San Francisco avenue, where Senor Ugarta was to speak from a balcony. On the way I heard vociferated some interesting football hollaballos, for instance, Viva la America latina; Viva Espana; Viva Pijo Parado; numerous, stepped-eye being a nickname for one of the Madero brothers who is said to unduly influence the administration; Viva el Japon; Abazo el Gabinete; Abajo Calero; (this shiftily politician, slated for the American embassy, is suspected of being Avankado); Abajo Madero, abajo; Abajo la preuse chamula; Abajo El Democra-ta Chamula; (The Chamulas are a tribe of refractory Indians in one of the states now under martial law); Muera los Yankees; Muera la riza de los Chamulas; Viva la raza latino-americana!

"As there was a dispute about some of the yells in the papers yesterday, I thought it worth while to make a note of those I heard. On arriving at the point where Ugarta appeared in the balcony there was a terrific crush, and the stick-men again raised a horrible din. Fortunately, a good company of mounted policemen was on hand. Otherwise there would have been a riot. I was unable to hear the speech, but expect to read it in the papers tomorrow.

"Doubtless you will see something about the speech of February 3rd in the papers. I do not care to hear it. Madero has recently declared that neither he nor any of his cabinet can personally countenance it.

Yours sincerely,
CARL C. RICE.
