SUMMER SCHOOL AT UNIVERSITY

Will Afford all Interested in Special Lines a Higher Standard for Expert Service.

The first joint summer session of the University of Idaho and the Lewiston State Normal school will be held at the University, beginning June 17 and closing July 27. The purpose of the school is to afford teachers, principals, superintendents and any who may be interested in special lines of educational effort and opportunity to better qualify themselves to meet the growing demand for a higher standard of expert service. The idea is consonant with the modern principle that the splendid equipment of the state educational institutions should be placed at the disposal of the public throughout the entire year.

No entrance examination is required for admission to any of the courses. The school is open to all who have a serious purpose of advancing themselves educationally. The courses will be of the regular standard of these institutions, and upon recommendation of their respective faculties, proportionate credit will be offered to all who satisfactorily complete the work.

All the material advantages offered to the regular semester students will be at the disposal of the students of the summer school. The registration fee for the summer session will be $5.00. Tuition is free in all courses. Board may be secured in Moscow at $3.50 up and rooms at $1.00 per week.

To ladies desiring accommodations at Ridenbaugh Hall, a club rate of $35.00 will be made, which will include the registration fee and board and room for the entire six weeks.

ENGLISH CLUB ENTERTAINS FRIDAY AT EGGAN'S HALL

Some Entirely New Features Will Be Offered to the University Students in This Program.

The final rehearsals of the acts featured in the English Club entertainment, scheduled for Saturday afternoon and night, promise an attractive show. Miss Margaret Stolle, recent star of a Boise amateur production and reader of excellent ability, is being trained by Miss French in a monologue "In a Streetcar." Miss Wold is training four dancing girls—Gladys Lessinger, Elizabeth Holaday, Clara Hockett, and Edna Clarke—in a Spanish dance which will be played by a mandolin quartet composed of Fred Record, Teddy Watts, Carl Loux and Raymond Gillespie. This dancing will be done in costume and the music is the real Spanish air. The quartet will also play accompaniment to Miss Maude Gregory's rendition of "Carmena," a beautiful waltz song. Miss Gregory's voice is well known and appreciated by Moscow audiences. The scenic and lighting effects of the Spanish act will be particularly notable.

The evening will conclude with the production of "The Kleptomaniac," a one-act comedy that is a delight. It depicts metropolitan life with fidelity, and presents many charming characters. The lines are witty and the action is natural. Charlotte Tuttle plays the role of Peggy Burton, a vivacious emotional young wife who wants to help her husband in business but pretty nearly ruins a big deal for him.

Marguerite Allen is Valorie Arndy, an airy somewhat cynical young widow who refuses to worry. Helen Chase, Mrs. Charles Dorer, a dainty wife who believes everything Charlie says; Gladys Nankervis is Miss Evans, the alert young journalist; Clara Query is Freda Dixon, the efficient, practical, executive woman who takes the initiative in solving the problems; Mary Cozier is Mrs. Preston Ashley, a somewhat snobbish woman who wants to be associated only with the elite; Laura Whitwell is Katie, the pretty Irish maid.

Lowell B. Judson.

In the State Journal of Lansing, Michigan, dated March 8th is an account of the death of Lowell B. Judson. Mr. Judson was Professor of Horticulture at the University of Idaho between the years of 1903—1907, and it was under his direction that the flower gardens and orchards were laid out behind the Engineering Building. The immediate cause of his death was an operation for appendicitis.

After a Fifteen Minute Tussle to Lower the Rival Colors, Freshies Defeated.

Yesterday the annual event of the "17th of Ireland" was pulled off on the Varsity campus. The event was delayed twenty-four hours since the calendar 17th of March this year fell on Sunday. At first committees from the two lower classes decided a push ball contest would be the proper stunt to pull off. Accordingly sophomores sent word by telegraph to Whitman to obtain if possible their pushball. The pushball contest had to be given up however as the push ball was not to be obtained—Whitman having sold it to Washington. Committees from the classes again met and decided to have a pole rush. The same committees then drew up rules which were to govern the rush. Their principal features were that the numbers were to be even on both sides, that no fighting was to occur before the hour of the pole rush—10:00 A. M.

That morning broke stormy and windy.—All kodak enthusiasts having their ardor dampened by the dark and stormy day. There seemed little hope of photographic records of the fight though intermittent flashes of light soon made matters look better. During the meantime the sophomores had carried a stout, pine pole, about nine inches in diameter to a mound on the campus and amid the sleet and snow triumphantly planted it with the verdant green around it about thirteen feet from the ground.

All classes were out. The sidewalks, the Gym and the Ad building were scenes of centers for freshmen, sophomores and interested onlookers. Co-eds here and there cut and hacked at pieces of green and yellow bunting to tie on their persons. Sophomores dressed

IN THE GYMNASIUM.

John Yantis, a first year Ag man, weighing 193 pounds, made a test of 5330 lbs. last week. This is an excellent test for a man of his weight.

Mr. Van Der Veer has arranged a handball tournament both singles and doubles for the afternoons of March 29th and 30th. The prizes will be Idaho buttons and chains. A great many students are out each afternoon playing this game, and the idea of a tournament is to stimulate still more interest.

It looks good for Idaho in the weights this year. There are five good men out working each afternoon. From such men as Gerlough, Phillips, Harris, Gribble and Keefe, we should expect to get something better than seconds and thirds.

Why doesn't Idaho have a pushball? A pushball weighing one hundred and twenty-five pounds and six feet in diameter costs only $125.00. In a contest like that held yesterday between the Freshies and Sophomores Monday, it would surely serve to good advantage. There is not nearly so much danger of injury connected with a pushball and it makes a better scrap.

Burying the Hatchet.

An innovation in college parties was the one given in the gym. Monday evening, by the Freshmen and Sophomore girls in honor of the boys of their classes, who had so valiantly fought for their colors earlier in the day.

The evening was spent in playing good old fashioned games and in dancing. When the party was in full swing the lights went out—probably due to meddlesome boys from the grade school. But all undaunted, the party was finished quite merrily by candlelight. At a little after eleven, all adjourned to the dormitory, where elaborate refreshments were served. Miss French chaperoned the party.

The party was as conducive to good spirit and such a jolly time is reported by all that it is to be hoped that a "burying the hatchet" party will be added to our college traditions.

Come to the Wednesday afternoon Musicales tomorrow. Something out of the ordinary may be expected. It will be worth the time and trouble spent to see what the musical department has been doing these days.

College Religion.

The religious life of the student will offer itself as a personal quest for righteousness. No one can come to have that which the world really offers...

The student who copies from another's examination paper and signs his name to it is thought to have his own. It is a cheat and a thief. The man who steals a book from some hotel or restaurant in the town for his personal use...

Amongst among the distinguished in literature, University this year are: William James, John, the mathematical master, and the youngest junior ever in college...

GENESEE HAS CHAMPIONSHIP HIGH SCHOOL TEAM OF STATE

Genesee Defeats Rathdrum in a Close Game in Idaho Gym by a Score of 18 to 16.

In the best basketball game played on the floor of the Idaho Gym this year, Genesee defeated Rathdrum in what was a tie game at the end of the second half by a score of eighteen to sixteen.

As far as to the merits of the two teams were concerned, "Pink" Griffith might as well lined the two teams up along the wall and said Eeny Meeny Miny Mo, to see who should win the game, for the winning of the game by either side was merely a question of luck.

Genesee felt pretty confident of winning the game, and as far as that goes the Idaho people thought it would be easy for Genesee, from what they saw of the Genesee team when they played here early in the year, and from the comparative scores of the two teams against different opponents. Over two hundred rooters came over from Genesee on the special train, each one wearing a ribbon labeled "Genesee Booster." From the fact that everyone was confident that Genesee would win, a number of the fellows organized a little rooting club for Rathdrum. It was merely a case of the Idaho people supporting the "under dog."

Genesee started out strong, as they made a basket in the first minute of play while it was about five minutes before Rathdrum got their first basket. There never was a difference of more than four points in the score during the game. First one side was in the lead and then the other. The first half ended with the score nine to eight in favor of Rathdrum.

In the second half both teams fought desperately. First one team was ahead by one point and then the other team would shoot a basket and lead by a point. There was not one time during the second half that the score differed by two points, except when Genesee shot the last free throw, and won the game.

When time was called at the end of the second half, the crowd went wild and many started to leave, thinking the game was over. But, according to the A. A. U. rules, a tie game is played off by playing until one side makes two points. Both teams tried long shots and failed repeatedly. Two fouls were called on Rathdrum and Gray threw both baskets, and you could hear the Genesee coterie for ten minutes as they started for the train.

McNett, the big Rathdrum center, was probably the star of the game. He made twelve out of the sixteen points made by the Rathdrum team. After McNett, probably came Keane and Gray of the Genesee team. Both teams were evenly balanced and there was not much choice between the players on either team. Rathdrum was inclined to fumble more than Genesee, but their team work seemed to be a little smoother. Both sides had hard luck with many baskets.

"Pink" Griffith refereed an excellent game, having no trouble with the men on either side. He took both teams down in the dressing room before the game and told them what was what and that he did not want to hear from any player except the captain of either team.

If Idaho could pull three or four men out of these two teams next year, and she stands a pretty good prospect, for three of the Genesee players are seniors in high and one or two of the Rathdrum men also, she could make a good showing in basketball next winter.

Following is the way the two teams lined up.

GENESEE—Gray, A. Wardrobe, forwards; J. Wardrobe, center; M. Wardrobe and Keane, guards.

RATHDRUM—Sylvester and A. Mitchell, forwards; McNett, center; Bourne, R. Mitchell, guards.

Summary—Field baskets, A. Mitchell 2, McNett 3; Gray 2, A. Wardrobe 1, J. Wardrobe 1, M. Wardrobe 2; free throws, McNett, 6; Gray, 6. Fouls, Rathdrum 12; Genesee 10; timkeeper, Larson; referee, Griffith.

NOTES OF THE GAME.

There were more people at this game than at any three college games played here this year.

The Rathdrum boys were entertained by the Theta Mu Epsilon and Phi Delta Theta fraternities and the Genesee boys with the Kappa Sigmas and Zeta Deltas.

Meryl B. Dunkel, ex-'12, is teaching in the Genesee High and coaching basketball. Some of his old classmates might be interested to learn that Dunk is a married man and has a little daughter about three weeks old.

The three Wardrobes on the Genesee team are brothers and Gray is a first cousin. J. and M. Wardrobe are twins.

A pleasant little informal dance was held after the game in honor of the visiting teams. A nice time was had but as usual in a case of this kind, there were too many boys for the number of girls. Dancing continued until eleven thirty.

The total receipts at the gate were $237.05, and the total expenses were $103.40 which is clear profit. Taking the whole basketball season into consideration, the books of graduate Larson show that there was a profit of $113.83, which is not bad considering the team Idaho had in the field.

Coach Guy Cheesman of the Lewiston Normal School called Graduate Manager Larson up over the long distance phone and asked if a game could not be arranged between the Normal and Genesee, but Gus did not think it advisable to stage this game, as there has been enough basketball played here this winter and the game Friday night was a fitting close.

Mr. Larson wishes to express his thanks through these columns to the different fraternity houses for taking care of the visiting teams in such an admirable manner.

Chemists Get Charter.

The local organization of chemists has recently been notified by the American Chemical Society that its petition for a charter in that society has been granted. The organization will henceforth be known as the Northern Inter-Mountain Section of the American Chemical Society. Membership of the local section is made up of professional chemists and men interested in the development of various manufacturing interests in the Inland Empire. The American Chemical Society is now rated as the strongest organization of its kind in existence.

The officers of the local section are: Prof. Geo. A. Olson of W. S. C., president; Prof. J. S. Jones, of Idaho, vice-president; and Prof. Earl S. Wooster of the Lewiston State Normal, secretary.
