IDAHO AND OREGON BREAK EVEN

Idaho Wins Second Game of the Season. First on Home Floor.

By a narrow margin, Oregon managed to nose out in the first game, played Wednesday night, by the score of nineteen to fifteen. Idaho made a strong bid in the second half running up ten points to Oregon's eight, but the lead was too much and the score ended with Idaho on the little end, nineteen to fifteen. It was nearly ten minutes until either side scored.

In the first half Bradshaw made two baskets, Walker, Boylen and Fenton each one for Oregon, while McNett made two and Jardine one for Idaho. In the second half McNett piled up three, Kinnison, Walker, Fenton and Rice each one. McNett came back strong in this game after laying out of the last two games on account of the injury to his head received in the last Washington game. Walker played the best game for the visitors. Fenton seemed to be badly off his usual form for he did not play near the game he did during the past two seasons.

Following is the way the two teams lined up:

Oregon		Idaho
Walker	F	McNett
Boylan	F	Kinnison
Fenton	C	Jardine
Simms(Cant)	G	Mitchell
Bradshaw	G	Keane

Summary: Field baskets—McNett 5, Kinnison 1, Walker 2, Boylen 1, Fenton 2, Bradshaw 2, Rice 1. Free throws—McNett 3, Fenton 3. Fouls—Oregon 5, Idaho 5. Referee—Edmundson. Timers—Brooks and Hoskett.

In the second game, Idaho was always in the lead. The team put up more scrap and played the best ball they have shown during the entire season. Every man on the team made one basket and McNett slipped in two. The first half ended nine to seven in Idaho's favor. The Oregon team played listless ball, most of the players being more or less used up, due to the long trip. Fenton did not start the game. Bradshaw played center for the first fifteen minutes until Bill Hayward saw the Idaho men were getting away with his team when he sent Fenton in. Fenton walked with a very perceptible limp and was unable to stave off defeat.

McNett made six out of the six.

W. S. C. Leads Conference.

Following is the standing of the conference basketball teams:

	Won	Lost	P.C.
W. S. C.	9	0	1.000
Washington	8	2	.800
O. A. C.	3	5	.350
Oregon	3	5	.375
Idaho	2	13	.154

Idaho is the first to complete her schedule, finishing up by playing W. S. C. here Thursday night.

McADAMS WINS DEWEY PRIZE

Idaho Debaters Chosen For Gonzaga, Willamette and Whitman Debates.

By capturing first place in the debate tryout last Saturday, Harry McAdams, '14 law, won the $25 cash prize given annually to this department by Mr. Edward Dewey of Nampa, Idaho. In winning this prize Mr. McAdams completed the list of debate prizes given for this year. Mr. McAdams has an easy and forceful delivery and his speeches always show that complete grasp of his subject which comes only by careful preparation. With such men at the helm Idaho has nothing to fear in debate.

Mr. Phillip Evans, also '14 law, was awarded second place. Blessed with an abundant flow of words and a convincing delivery and with a manner attainable only by much cultivation, Mr. Evans promises well as a debater.

The other successful candidates were in order: O. S. Johnson, Frank Osborn, B. Ellsworth Davis, Chester Minden, Jod M. Pond, R. D. Laefer, Homer Barton.

From this material four teams are to be chosen. Two teams meet Willamette simultaneously on the same night. The team that argues the negative of naval expansion goes to Salem while the one to uphold the strengthening of our navy will appear in Moscow. The other two teams will meet Gonzaga college in much the same way.

It is only a matter of a few weeks until the new auditorium will be ready for use. The stained glass windows have arrived and a large force of workmen are now employed putting them in. The opera chairs are already here, and the chandeliers are expected to arrive soon.

Professor and Mrs. G. E. Frevert entertained the short course dairy students with a delightful dinner Friday evening.

Geo. O'Donnell '12 spent the weekend at the Zeta Delta House.

Mrs. MacLean Honored.

Mrs. J. G. Eldridge and Mrs. W. S. Morley entertained about forty ladies of the university faculty Saturday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Jas. A. MacLean. The afternoon was spent with needlework and there were two delightful vocal solos by Mrs. Ph. Soulen, accompanied by her daughter, Marie, on the violin.

MILITARY BALL FRIDAY NIGHT

Big Dance to Be Held in Eggans Hall. Grand March at 8:30.

Major Louis T. Jessup, general chairman of the Military ball committee, is hard at work arranging for the big social event which is to be held this Friday evening at Eggan's hall. "It was the original intention to hold this dance in the gymnasium, but owing to the poor condition of the floor, and the fact that the canvas is not much advantage, it was decided that it would be better to hold the dance down town, where the hall, although a little small, has an excellent floor," said the major.

The decoration committee, headed by Captain Carlson of Company B, and composed of Lieutenants Gregory and Babcock, Sergeants Christenson, Beier and Mitchell have already begun to make arrangements for an artistic effect. "We have procured two large flags, twenty by sixty feet, one from the University and one from J. J. Dav. and also considerable hunting from the military department and from different fraternity houses," said Captain Carlson. We are also planning on having military tents on the stage, from which refreshments will probably be served. If it is practicable we are going to try to arrange to place the orchestra in the balcony," he continued.

Jack Adams, first lieutenant and adjutant, is chairman of the refreshment committee composed of himself and Sergeant Homer Lingenfelter.

Homer Youngs, captain of Company C, is chairman of the program and invitation committee composed of himself, Lieutenant Stone and Sergeant Major Theriault.

Captain Denning has charge of the music, and Lieutenant Holoday is at the head of the patronesses committee.

It is the intention of Major Jessup to start the grand march as near eight thirty as he can.

TRACK PROSPECTS NOT BRIGHT

Coach Edmundson Worried at Lack of Suitable Material.

Track prospects at the university are not very bright this spring. Of last year's "I" men only four are in college this semester—Phillips for the weights, Whitten for the quarter, Scott for the high jump and pole vault and Harris for the broad and high jumps. Not a single one of the sprinters, hurdlers or distance men are back. At present there seems to be a dearth of promising material to fill in the vacant places.

However, there are a few new men who are showing up well. Lockhart has shown good speed in the indoor meets during the winter. Morrison of Colfax, who ran Carlev a hard race in the fifty yard dash in the interscholastic meet last spring, and who took second in the broad jump and third in the 220, has entered college. He is expected to win some points even this season. Whitten, an "I" man whose regular event is the quarter, will probably enter the dashes as well.

In the hurdles Lockhart has speed, but not very good form. With proper coaching he may develop into a winner. The loss of Hunter and Watts will be felt keenly in this event.

Whitten seems to be the only promising man who will be out for the quarter, Youngs for the half, Rowell for the mile and Downing for the two mile. Whitten has proved his worth as a point winner. Youngs ran a game race in the Whitman meet last year but fell down on the last turn. Rowell is an unknown quantity, not having been out for track before. Downing would be a strong man if he would train and pressure will be brought upon him to do so this spring.

Scott can be depended upon to annex a few points in the high jump and the pole vault. His marks in the latter event are not very high, but he usually manages to place. He is a sure winner in the high jump. Harris will do the broad jump. He won this event and took second in the high jump in the Whitman meet last year. He has good natural ability and will ultimately round into form as a consistent point winner.

Phillips is a star weight man. On account of his ability in this line Idaho students regret that the hammer throw has been eliminated.

teen points made by the Idaho team. By the way, McNett seems to get better with each game. At the first of the season he looked to be slow and lazy, but Coach Griffith has brought him around and he is playing the scrappy kind of game now.

Walker threw three field baskets for Oregon, Boylen two, and Fenton made one free throw. Walker and Rice played the best game for Oregon.

The game was marred by considerable roughness and jangling. Fenton and Jardine insisted on mixing it up every few minutes.

Following is the lineup:

Coach Bohler was an interested spectator at both games. He makes it a point to come over and look over the visiting teams and then prepares for them accordingly.

NOTES

The games this year have been exceptionally well attended. Graduate Manager Larson figures on breaking even financially on the season. The average gate receipts, not including season tickets, have averaged about twelve dollars.

The following men have made their "I's" so far this year: Soulen, Kinnison, Mitchell, Keane, Ankorn, Jardine and McNett. Five out of the seven are freshmen.

Bradshaw, guard on the Oregon team, is an end and captain-elect of the Oregon football team. Fenton and Walker are also football men.

The new arc lights which were installed before the second game were far from satisfactory. The light at the east end of the gym was very poor.

The Idaho team has been without a captain all season. Ernest Loux, '13, who was elected last year failed to return to college. Soulen and Kinnison have been alternating as acting captain.

Soulen was unable to take part in the last two games on account of illness. He was out in a suit for the last game but was not in fit condition for playing.

By winning the game from Oregon, Idaho just doubled its figure in the percentage column. If we win from W. S. C. Thursday night our percentage will be .188. Idaho has a cinch on the cellar championship. Looks like it will be Oregon or O. A. C. for next to the bottom.

Graduate Larson looks for W. S. C. to drop at least four of the

TRACK PROSPECTS NOT BRIGHT

He can win or place in any of the meets in the javelin, the shot and the discus events. Bogart, a freshman has unusual strength, and will probably make good in the shot put.

To offset the lack of material Idaho has as track coach this spring Clarence Edmundson. While a student at Idaho he won no little fame as a middle distance runner. He is considered the best half miler the Pacific coast and the Northwest ever produced, his time in that event being 1:55 1-5. He took part in the Olympic games last summer, representing Seattle Athletic club. (He won the preliminary, took second in the semi finals, but lost out in the finals in the 400 and the 800 meter races) There he saw the world's best athletes in action and observed their form and training methods. He was under the immediate tutelage of the veteran trainer, Mike Murphy and has also had the benefit of coaching by Bill Hayward of Oregon.

Edmundson will have entire charge of track work at the university and will get the best possible results out of the material available. At present prospects are not very bright, but after the season begins more men will probably show up.

University extension lectures in relation to country life are being given by professors from the University of Idaho at Thutaba academy, which is becoming a sort of social center for the farming community near Viola. The first of the lectures was given Saturday night before a crowded house by Professors Kennard and Frevort, who discussed respectively "Farm Management," and "Butter Making."

Between now and April 1st here will be given on lectures by Professors Iddings, Baker, Shattuck, Nicholson and Ellington, with possibly others, upon the following subjects:
"Dairy Herds," "Horticulture," "Farm Sanitation," "Stock Breeding," "Poultry Raising," and "Domestic Science."

Great interest is manifested in the neighborhood in these lectures, and much good is expected to result from the series.

Sophomore Class Election.

The sophomores held a class meeting last week for the purpose of electing class and the '15 annual staff officers, as well as to clear up all old business. The president gave an itemized account of the expenses for the Sophomore Frolic, which showed that the class went behind $10.60. However, in spite of the Frolic deficiency, it has been possible for enough of the dues to have been collected so that the class treasury was not entirely empty. A couple of old bills which were contracted over a year ago were introduced and reallocated. The committee which was appointed to take up the matter of the sophomore pictures in the junior annual, reported that the necessary pictures and space would cost the class $31.55. The report was accepted and an assessment levied of 50 cents per member, which assessment is to be paid within one week, or the person failing to pay will have his picture held out of the annual. The resolution further provided that a committee be appointed by the president to collect the assessment and to impose the proper sentence upon the delinquents. After all business was transacted the election of officers was taken up, and the following officers were elected: Herbert Beier, president; Beth Soulen, vice president; Lesetta Lubken, secretary-treasurer; Harry McAdams, business manager of sophomore play; editor of 1915 annual, Robert Loth; associate editor, Gladys Collins; business manager of annual, Oscar Carlson; assistant business manager, Robert McGregor; athletic editor, Allen Kinnison; joke editor, John Phillips; art editor, Mark Anderson; assistant art editor, Gladys Nankervis; society editor, Gladys McFarland; organization editor, A. L. Johnson; kodak editor, Homer Youngs; literary editor Audrey Carr.

Dr. Hall Speaks At Assembly.

Dr. Hall, physical director of the University of Washington, spoke to the men of the college, on Tuesday afternoon and continued his lecture at the assembly period on Wednesday. The lectures were illustrated by stereopticon slides which of themselves prove the exhaustive research which Dr. Hall has made in preparing one of the best lectures ever delivered to the Idaho men. Dr. Hall is a man of forceful character and an impressive speaker. What he says is said in a way that leaves no room for doubt as to the authenticity of his statements. The Y. M. C. A. is to be congratulated in securing a man of Dr. Hall's ability to speak to the men of the university.

TREES FOR THE STATE OF IDAHO

Forestry Department Recommends Various Specimens.

The forestry department of the university recommends the following trees for various planting purposes in Idaho: black locust, Norway maple, silver maple, black walnut, box elder, white ash, red oak, purple and American willow cuttings, and Austrian pine. Four years ago the forestry department began an experiment to determine what trees are best suited to growing in Idaho and the species just named have been found satisfactory. About 3,000-000 trees and seedlings representing 150 species have been set out at the university. Thirty thousand young trees are now ready for distribution to residents of Idaho at a normal price intended to cover cost of raising.

The black locust is a hard wood, valuable for shade, for posts, fuel, or any purpose where strong wood is needed. This tree may be planted with success in almost any part of the state below an elevation of 4000 feet. It will grow without irrigation where there is fifteen inches of rainfall and will also respond wonderfully to irrigation. Water should be turned off about the first of August so as to permit the wood to harden up before hard freezes come on. The black locust may be grown in thickets for windbreaks, poles or posts, or spaced for shade trees.

The Norway maple is a handsome shade tree which will do well with twenty inches of rainfall or will grow rapidly under irrigation. It is generally frost-hardy. Water should be turned off about the middle of August.

The silver maple is a standard shade tree growing more rapidly but under much the same conditions as the Norway maple.

The black walnut is valuable as a shade tree and also for posts. It may be grown with twenty inches of rainfall or by means of irrigation. Water should be turned off about the first of August.

The box elder is rapid growing when young, but is apt to become ill-shaped unless well pruned when older. It should have equal light on both sides, as the tree will incline toward the stronger light. The box elder will do well in Idaho up to elevations of 4500 feet with as little as fifteen inches of rainfall.

The white ash is an excellent hardwood tree for shade, posts, poles, or fuel. Its wood is valuable where strength and elasticity are required. It is hardy up to elevations of 4500 feet, but requires good soil and plenty of moisture.

The red oak is highly ornamental in spring and autumn. It is hardy in all parts of Idaho, but requires good soil and plenty of moisture.

Purple willow cuttings require abundant moisture. They will grow from three to six feet a year and make excellent windbreaks for orchards, buildings or stock. The purple willow is hardy in all parts of Idaho.

American willow cuttings will grow from two to four feet a year in good soil with plenty of moisture. This willow makes good windbreaks for orchards, buildings or stock and is hardy in all parts of Idaho. Willows must not be set close to ditches, as the roots are apt to choke them up.

The Austrian pine is valuable as an ornamental tree or as a windbreak. It is rapid growing and hardy any place in the state and will thrive with twenty inches or more of rainfall or under irrigation. In transplanting, great care must be taken to keep the roots always moist. A few minutes in the sunshine will so harden the pitch in the roots of any evergreen that it is apt to die.

In transplanting, all trees should be placed from one to two inches deeper than they originally grew, the hole should be made large, roots well spread, and the earth packed firmly. If the soil is dry, the use of a moderate amount of water while filling the lower part of the hole is recommended.

The department of forestry has about thirty thousand trees for distribution to residents of Idaho at two cents each plus cost of packing. For each hundred trees, or fraction thereof, ordered and twenty-five cents for packing and drayage. Money must accompany orders.

Maximum number of each species that may be sent this spring (1913) to each person is stated in the list below, and not more than a total of two hundred trees in all may be sent to one person.

Austrian pine.....	3 to 6 inches	25
Black locust.....	24 to 48 inches	200
Norway maple.....	12 to 16 inches	10
Silver maple.....	12 to 24 inches	50
Black maple.....	10 to 16 inches	10
White ash.....	6 to 8 inches	25
Red oak.....	8 to 15 inches	5
Box elder.....	24 to 36 inches	15

Willow cuttings will be furnished at 1/2 cent each, packing and drayage extra 15c per hundred, maximum order to one person in 1913, 300, in addition to the 200 trees listed above.

If farmers and others show by their use of the trees now available that there is a demand in Idaho for forest trees the School of Forestry will offer a larger variety of trees for distribution in 1914.

The man who will hiss a visiting player is lacking in the first principles of common courtesy. His conduct is more than ungentlemanly: it is contemptible, despicable and disgraceful. It is impossible to condemn too severely the action of the few students who were guilty of hissing on three occasions in recent basketball games. The other spectators were indignant at such hoodlum conduct and shameful unsportsmanlike spirit.

The hissing is to be criticized all the more because there was no strong provocation for it. In the W. S. C game there seemed to be no reason at all and in the Oregon game the Idaho players committed as many fouls as did the visitors—two more, in fact. The Idaho players can take care of themselves, and it is the referee's duty, not the crowd's to punish deliberate fouls. If an opponent becomes neared on being beaten we should feel amused and not angered at his childness.

The referee can call fouls for unsportsmanlike action on the part of the crowd as well as on the part of the players. We hope that any repetition of the misconduct will be punished as it deserves.

If you are not enough of a gentleman to keep from hissing through self-respect, or if you lack regard for the fair name of the university, stay at home in the future. You, the man who hisses, are a disgrace to the college.

The only other animals that hiss are snakes and senseless geese.

The departmental drafting room of the civil engineering department was thrown open to the students Monday morning. This room is located in the front of the new wing, with light both from the north and east, and adjoins the office of Dean Little of the college of engineering and of Associate Professor Steinman of the civil engineering department. Drafting desks of the latest model have been installed. It is the intention to use this drafting room only for advanced courses and not for the freshman class in lettering and engineering-drafting.

University Scientists to Tell of Research.

The University of Idaho will be well represented in Spokane next week at a joint meeting of the Engineering and Scientific societies which will be held in that city from Feb. 19 to 21, inclusive. The program, which has just been received in this city contains a number of papers by the experts of the University of Idaho, covering a range of scientific and engineering subjects.

Those educators who will take part in the meeting and the subjects of their papers are as follows:

Professor F. B. Steinman, "Suspension Bridges and Cantilevers."

Professor R. S. McCaffery, "The Chemistry of a Lead Blast Furnace."

Dr. John A. Kostalek, "Chemical Industries in the Northwest."

Professor J. S. Jones, "What Shall We Teach in Soil Chemistry?"

Professor C. H. Shattuck, "Timber Conditions and Tynes Observed in the Northern Part of the Kani-ksu Forest in Washington and Idaho."

Professor J. M. Aldrich, "Recent Applications of Mendel's Theory to Heredity."

Professor C. H. Shattuck, "Some New Finishing Woods and the Processes of Their Preparation."

"Beer Bust" Buster.

Mr. Platz, the Pacific Coast Inter-collegiate prohibition Secretary will talk to all students interested, Wednesday night at 8:00 o'clock.

The class in the Economics of Booze will also meet in the mathematics room at 7:00 o'clock on Wednesday night. Dr. Steinman is leading this class and he reports that there is still room for two or three more fellows who desire to take up a systematic study of present liquor conditions.

Remember both meetings to be there---girls especially.

When your tailor?

Individuality

means everything in clothes, but you can't have it unless they are tailored to order.

If you want real character in your Spring clothes, let us send your measure to our famous Chicago tailors

Ed. V. Price & Co.

Clothes they tailor for you don't possess a lot of new fangle button-holes, fancy buttons and gingerbread flaps. They are along dignified lines such as are approved of by men who show refinement in dress—and the cost is reasonable.

Look at the 500 new wools and let us take your measure to-day

Dr. Baker Speaks.

Dr. Baker of the college of agriculture addressed an audience of college men that filled the room at Liszt Hall to overflowing last Sunday afternoon on the subject "How to Achieve Success After Leaving College." This was the first of a series of "Life Purpose" meetings that have been arranged by the Y. M. C. A. Dr. Baker dealt in his talk not so much on the attainment of material success as on the acquirement of happiness. For this purpose he stated that good health, character and compatibility were essential.

The next number of the series will occur on March 2, when Mr. Suen, a distinguished Chinese student of electrical engineering in the senior class will tell of the work of the Y. M. C. A. secretary in China. This is a special treat that everyone should take advantage of.

Next Sunday afternoon at three o'clock, the annual students' day of prayer will be observed. The second half of the meeting will be devoted to the annual election of officers.

The Y. M. post-exam stag last Saturday evening was very successful as a fun producer. Although only a small percentage of the men attending college were present, every one loosened up and good fellowship and wholesome hilarity ruled supreme. These socials deserve the support of all college men as they present an opportunity to the men of all departments of meeting each other on a common basis.

Sophomores to Give "The Magistrate"

Sir Arthur Penner's "Magistrate," a renowned farce comedy, which has been played with great success in nearly every country in Europe, will be presented here probably March 23rd, by the Sophomore class. Prof. Lehman has the staging of the play in charge but has not yet definitely chosen all the cast. It is probable, however, that Miss Collins will fill the role of Agatha Posket, the charming widow recently married to the "Magistrate." Dorothy Taylor has been slated for the part of Charlotte, Agatha's sister, and the Misses Himes and Stevenson as Beattie and Sophono. The selection of the men characters are not so certain, but it is likely that Herman Nuffer will take the part of the little old hoodwinked "Magistrate," while Stone, Phillips, Gerlough, Fjelstead, McEvers, Nisbit, Beckman and Leth are strong contestants for other parts.

Saturday evening, Mrs. Homer David entertained at a feed and dancing party in honor of Don David's birthday. Those invited were Elizabeth Hayes, Marguerite Means, Georgia Kaufman, Gladys Collins, Grace Bolgeb, Beth Squlen, Carl Lewis, Bob McGregor, Harry Soulen, Ted Watts and Buck Phillips.

Irvin Griner, '13, Law, spent the week end in Palouse.

Prof and Mrs. H. P. Fishburn had as a dinner guest, Sunday, Dean O. E. McCuncheon.

Mrs. Pitcairn arrived from Twin Falls Sunday afternoon to be with her daughter in her illness.

R. D. Leeper '13, was called to his home in Coeur D'Alene Saturday by the sickness of his mother.

Elizabeth Dunn '11 of Coeur D'Alene City arrived in Moscow Saturday to attend the Gamma Phi initiation.

Delta Gamma entertained informally for Miss Schermerhorn in honor of her birthday Friday evening after the basketball game.

Dr. Hall of the University of Washington and Dr. S. G. Patterson were the dinner guests of Kappa Sigma last Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Denning, Margaret Neuman, Mary Petcina, Penina Newlin and Hester Pettijohn were the guests of Phi Delta Theta at dinner Sunday.

Katherine Pitcairn was forced to undergo a very serious operation for appendicitis Saturday morning, but the latest reports are favorable.

Dorothy Canon Dodge, Ruth Brennan, Kathryn Smith, Ruth Annett and Elizabeth Hayes were the guests of Mrs. J. J. Day at luncheon Tuesday noon.

A jolly party from the university of Idaho attended the informal given by the Kappa Sigma fraternity of W. S. C. at Pullman last Friday evening.

Many college students took the opportunity to attend the double header basketball game Sunday night between the Moscow high school girls and the Genesee high girls and between the Moscow High boys and the Lewiston high boys.

Fritz Lundstrum, '11, "I" man in football, basketball and baseball, is coach of the Lewiston boys, while Hec Edmondson has had charge of the local high school basketball teams. M. B. Dunkle, ex-'12, principal of the Genesee high school accompanied the girls over.

Miss Edna Clark and Miss Amelia Brown were hostesses Thursday night at a very pretty five-course dinner party at the George Brown home on D street. A color scheme of red and white was carried out in the beautiful floral decorations, the hand-painted place cards and the favors, all of which suggested St. Valentine's season. Around the beautiful table were seated the Misses Muriel Leigh, Henrietta Alexander, Lillian Clarke, Edith Bailey, Edna Clarke, Amelia Brown, and Messrs. C. E. Watts, Marvin Mulkey, Merton Kennedy, Paul Ostroot, Carl Paulsen and E. W. Hedland. During the evening the guests enjoyed dancing
