IDAHO WINS AT TENNIS

Defeats W. S. C. in their Annual Meet—Take Five out of Seven Matches.

Last Saturday Idaho and W. S. C. hooked up in their annual dual tennis meet, which Idaho won easily. Several of the matches were close and hard fought. Wright and McCull put up a pretty battle in their match of the singles. The men were evenly matched and were by far the best players on the court. McCall of W. S. C. won by the scores of 6-4, 6-3. David, Soulen, Sakuma and Hockett won their matches handily. In the doubles, Soulen and David won out after a fierce tussle.

Folger and McCall of W. S. C. defeated Wright and Sakuma by the score of 6-4, 6-3.

AT ASSEMBLY.

At assembly last week one of the most important amendments ever adopted by the student body was adopted without a dissenting vote. By this amendment the registration fee for the semester will be raised to five dollars and season tickets to all athletic contests will be issued to the students.

This has been adopted by practically every university in the northwest and has proven most successful wherever it has been tried. There is a larger attendance at all games and the amount received for athletics amounts to approximately the same as under the old system. Nothing could have been done which will do more to better the spirit at Idaho and to arouse interest in athletics. Gus Larson was the moving cause in the adoption of the amendment and he is very much pleased at the way in which the students took up with his suggestion.

The speech at the assembly was given by Miss Johnson of W. S. C. and was on the subject of social conditions. It was very much enjoyed by the large crowd in attendance.

Debate.

Idaho has made arrangements for their debates for next year. Prof. Hulme has recently signed up a contract for a triangular series with W. S. C. and O. A. C. for debates to be held in December and January. We will also meet Gonzaga in a dual debate.

Maude Himee was a dinner guest of Kappa Sigma last Sunday.

Summer School at the University

This year the university will conduct a regular summer session which will run for about six weeks. The work will be carried on by the regular professors and will be modeled after their regular courses. Instruction will be given in all branches and the object of each course will be to furnish a rather rapid but thorough review of the subject. The summer school is maintained primarily for the benefit of the teachers of the state but anybody may attend who desires.

Among the courses which will be of special interest will be those given by Professor Nicholson of the department of bacteriology. He will offer several courses at the coming session. One of these courses will be on school sanitation and communicable diseases, which will be of special interest to teachers. Professor Nicholson will also give a course on general research work in bacteriology.

From all indications at present there will be a large attendance at this session and many applications have been made for rooms and board for the summer.

The Idaho Alumnus.

The first issue of the alumni magazine, "The Idaho Alumnus," will be out in a few days. The magazine should receive the support of the alumni of the university, every member of the faculty, every senior, and many members of the other college classes. If the University of Idaho is to support an alumni magazine now is the opportunity to show its intentions. The magazine is not depending upon advertising, but upon subscriptions to maintain itself.

The work of publishing an alumni magazine means considerable work and worry for the editor and business manager, and they receive no financial returns for their labors. They are perfectly willing to engage in the work if properly supported. Every one should subscribe for the magazine at once, and demonstrate to the management of the publication that Idaho can support such a magazine. Aid the new enterprise, so that at the coming session of the convocation it can be said that the magazine is starting out with loyal support.

Beware.

Miss French is on the trail of some fiend in human form who has been shooting the lights out on lover's lane.

Lucas Wins Watkin's Medal.

In the annual oratorical contest held last Thursday evening in the auditorium, Parker V. Lucas, a senior in the law department, won first place with an oration entitled, "The Menace of Socialism." The other contestants were Theron Warren and J. Pond. Warren spoke on the "Sin of Wages," and Pond on "The American Standard." J. H. McEvers had submitted an oration but withdrew from the contest.

It was an excellent contest in every respect. The orations showed much thought and care and were well delivered. Mr. Lucas won two firsts on thought and composition and two firsts on delivery.

The judges on thought and composition were: Dr. Moore, Prof. Wilson and Mrs. E. Hellier-Collens. The judges on delivery were Prof. Axtell and Roy Eichelberger.

At the close of the program Mr. Lucas was presented with the Watkins' Oratorical medal, which is given each year in memory of Dr. Watkins, who started the custom.

New Instructors.

In an interview with President Carlyle he stated that only two instructors for next year had been decided upon at this time. There are many applications on file for every vacancy and the board will act on all of them at its next meeting. The two who have been elected are:

Miss Amy Kelly, who will have charge of the field work of the Home Economics Department.

Mr. Robert A. Lamson will be assistant in Dairy manufacturing. He will graduate from the dairy department at the University of Wisconsin this year and will arrive July 1. He has been very prominent as a student and was editor of one of the college papers this year.

Bench and Bar Association Holds Election.

Last week the Bench and Bar association of the law school held its annual election of officers. The officers elected for the ensuing year are: Arthur Heer, chief justice; George Donart, associate justice; James Hawley, clerk.

It was determined at this meeting to have the association take up the work of securing jobs for the outgoing classes, and to keep in close touch with all members of the state bar.

Miss Harriet Bolger was a weekend guest of Gamma Phi Beta.

WASHINGTON WINS CONFERENCE MEET

Oregon's Showing a Surprise—Idaho Pulled Out of Cellar in Relay.

The conference track meet was a surprise to all the "bookmakers" not only on a total of points but in nearly all the races as well. McClellan, of Washington, in the two miles was the only favorite who won his race.

Before the meet Oregon was conceded first place by all. But the best that the bunch of stars picked by the famous Bill Haycock could do was to finish fourth. Clyde, the freshman of Washington, defeated the Oregon hopes in both the mile and the half. In the former he set a new coast record. McClure of Oregon, set the pace in the mile for three laps and then gave way to the Washington youth who held the lead to the tane. McClure was about two feet back. Windnagle of Oregon lead all the way in the 880 and was "nosed" out in the last foot. Dingle was fourth in this race.

The hundred was called a tie between Turenne of Washington, and Kinder of Whitman. Cooke of W. S. C. was third, Morrison was fourth. He defeated the 9 4.5 man, Baker of O. A. C., who won the race last year. Moulton, the Stanford, coach has been coaching the "Aggies" and picked him as a sure winner.

Phillips' throw in the javelin may be a surprise to some, but none of the men did as well as was expected of them in this event, due no doubt to the fact that it was not called until six o'clock and the men were tired from standing so long, watching the meet.

When the relay was called, Idaho had only seven points to her credit, O. A. C., eight and one-third. W. S. C. lead all the way and set a new record. Whitten started for Idaho and came in third. Morrison went in as second man and came in second, passing the flying Clyde who had a five yard lead. Ankorn "came home" fifteen yards ahead of Washington and Dingle still farther increased the lead giving us three more points and fifth place in the final count. Whitman succeeded in passing Washington in the last lap. Oregon was last. The showing of Idaho in this event was a surprise to all.

The office of The Argonaut is in the publicity office, next door to the bursar's office. A member of the staff may be found in the office any afternoon except Tuesday. All contributions gladly received up until Monday noon of each week. Paper goes to press Tuesday.

This is going to be a hog editorial. Do not misconstrue this title, for it does not signify what its literal meaning might convey. We do not intend to dissertate upon the hog proper, nor to compare and elucidate his good and bad qualities. The hog is all right as a hog. But when it is decreed by the powers that be that the hog is to dwell and carry on his life work in close proximity to human beings we believe that it is time to call a halt in the onward progress of affairs. We do not blame the hog, for he is doing the best he can under the circumstances, but we do blame those who have been instrumental in placing the porker where his good qualities cannot be appreciated and where his bad qualities are most painfully evident to the senses, especially when the wind blows from the west.

Some may enjoy the entrancing odor which emanates from this highly essential element to civilization; some may delight in the harmonic medley of grunts, groans and sighs with which his highness, the porker, expresses his innermost feelings; but there are others around this university who do not partake of these forms of delight with any noticeable degree of enthusiasm.

We, as a student body, object to the building of a sanitarium for sick hogs in the immediate vicinity of our new athletic field. This will practically ruin the field as a show place, will render it unsightly to the eye and offensive to the nostrils. The university has plenty of other ground for such buildings and it seems to us that it would only have been courtesy to have consulted the wishes of the students in the matter. It might as well have been placed on the front campus as where it is, and we wish to express our hearty disapproval of the building of said sanitarium where it now stands.

The school year is practically at an end. By this time next week the Seniors will be graduated and will depart from this familiar campus, never to return. Many of our underclassmen have left already and within a few days at the most, the university will be devoid of collegiate students and abandoned to the summer school seekers after knowledge.

When we look back over the past year, we see that it has been a year of many changes. Doctor MacLean, our president for many years resigned in the middle of the year. Many members of the old faculty are leaving and new ones will take their places next fall. Our new auditorium has been built and the campus is being rapidly improved.

We have bought a new athletic field and the work of grading has already commenced.

But it has been a most successful year from every standpoint. Our athletic teams have won their share of victories in the various lines of sport. It was one of the most successful years that we have ever had in debate and oratory. Every student function was well attended. The interscholastic was the best ever held by Idaho. Very few students have been compelled to drop out on account of studies. Altogether, this was a bright year in the history of Idaho.

With this in mind, let every under classman go out this summer resolved to come back next year with some new students, with enthusiasm for his work and for Idaho. This is the spirit that will build up Idaho.

Summer Session Agriculture.

The courses in agriculture which will be given at the summer session of the university, which opens on June 16 and continues for six weeks, will appeal especially to the teachers of the state. In addition to work for those engaged in the teaching profession, however, regular college credits may be secured by any who desire them during the summer session.

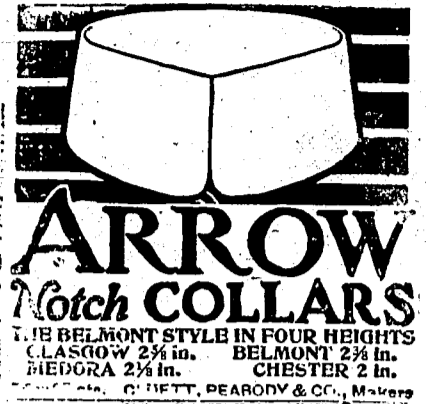

The courses to be offered in Agronomy by professor Kennard are of interest. These will be courses in field crops, cereals and general farm management. The course in field crops will comprise a study of the principal farm crops. A combined lecture and laboratory course is here designed to give teachers a working knowledge of the various crops as well as the methods of presenting such a course in the public schools.

In the course on cereals, the cereal crops will be taken up, and their production, improvement, classification, culture, uses, harvesting, history and geographical distribution will be discussed.

In the course on general farm management, the selection, laying out, and the general management of farms, systems of farming, planting rotation schemes and kindred subjects will be treated.

GIRLS ON THE LADDERS.

Their Rapid Work in Coaling Ships at Nagasaki, in Japan.

Coaling at Nagasaki, Japan, is done entirely by girls. Big coal barges bear down upon the ship as it approaches the shore, and as soon as it comes to anchor a rough ladder is placed between the liner and the foremost barge.

On each rung of it a girl takes her place. Men in the barge quickly shovel the coal into shallow baskets holding half a bushel each to the sound of a monotonous chant, and these baskets then pass from hand to hand up the living ladder with marvelous celerity.

Each girl seizes one and swings it straight up in front of her, above her head, when it is caught by the next girl. Down a second ladder, likewise packed with girls, the empty baskets pass in similar manner back into the barge to be refilled.

Barge after barge is emptied in this way. The monotonous chanting never ceases. The living elevator goes on hour after hour with its never ending stream of baskets until the last bunker is full, when the ladders disappear as if by magic and the ship is ready to proceed on her voyage.

A Pacific Mail steamer will "bunker" 2,300 tons of coal in six and a half hours, an average of 353½ tons per hour, or nearly six tons per minute, an almost incredible record.—Wide World Magazine.

FORESTS AND HYGIENE.

The Value of Trees From the Standpoint of Human Health.

We hear much of the importance of the conservation of forests from an economic standpoint, but little is said as to the hygienic value of forests.

Forests contribute to the general health by breaking the force of steadily blowing winds. They mitigate the heat of summer by the vast amount of evaporation from their leaves that occurs by day. They also promote rain-falls. Thus they check the tendency of the earth to desiccate, which is almost as injurious to health as it is to vegetation.

Cholera often passes a wooded district and revels in a treeless one. A certain road in India leads for sixty miles through a dense forest. Farther on it runs for ninety miles through a barred plain. Hundreds of persons travel the entire road daily. Now, in the first or wooded section cases of cholera seldom occur, while within the latter it has been of frequent occurrence. One year cholera raged in Allahabad.—Soldiers whose barracks were on a hill suffered the most from the epidemic; those in barracks surrounded by four rows of trees much less. But not a single case occurred among the soldiers whose barracks were in a thicket. It was the same the next year.—Harper's Weekly.

Movie Operator Saves Audience.

Seattle.—Anton Melin, a moving picture operator, is recovering from partial asphyxiation from celluloid fumes here, following his heroic action in shutting all the port holes in the operating room of the Washington theatre, when a film exploded, thus preventing a panic among the spectators. Melin says that the film broke and exploded when one end fell against the arc light. He rushed to the port holes and closed them, turning to find his pathway to the door cut off by a jet of white fire from other reels.

Staggering to a closet, he shut himself in. Smoke pouring from the ventilators attracted the police, who cleared the theater and turned in an alarm. Melin was found unconscious by firemen and removed to the city hospital where he was revived.

Mr. McEvers departed yesterday for Wallace, where he intends to work during the summer.

Prep Commencement Saturday Night.

Thro an error, the Prep commencement has been announced for Friday night. It should be Saturday night. The program will be one that the public will enjoy and one that all former Preps should attend. Prof. J. A. Torney, of Spokane, will deliver the class address and reminiscent talks will be given by prominent Preps of former days.

This program closes this department of the university and all are invited to attend the Round up of the Prep department, U. of I. Auditorium, Saturday evening at 8 o'clock, prompt.

Professor Francis W. Shepardson will be entertained by the Theta Mu Epsilon during his stay here.

Last Saturday, Delta Gamma entertained some of their friends with a hay rack ride to the mountains.

Claude Heard has returned to school to take his examinations and graduate with his class. He has accepted the position of manager of a farm in central Oregon.

Miss Mary Petoina has been chosen to represent Idaho at the National Convention of the Delta Gamma sorority. The meeting will convene sometime in August and will be held at Niagara.

George Donart has left school to accept a position with the forestry department for the summer. He will receive his B. A. degree with the present graduating class by special dispensation of the faculty.

The contract has been let for the grading of the new athletic field and it will be ready for use by next fall. By recent action of the athletic board the field has been named MacLean field, after ex-President MacLean.

W. N. Ellis and George O'Donnell, former students of the University were guests at the Zeta Delta house last week. Mr. O'Donnell left Monday for Washington university, where he will attend the summer school.

Under the direction of Professors Temple and Pratt, the botany classes made an excursion into the Kendrick country for the purposes of investigation. About thirty students attended. The party went down Thursday on the noon train and returned Saturday. They camped about 1 1/2 miles from Kendrick on Potlatch creek. A few stayed over until Sunday evening. Special credit is given to Mr. Pratt for the able manner in which he handled the commissary department. The girls are particularly enthusiastic over his executive ability.

ACQUIT ALLEGED SMUGGLERS

Missing Inspector McArthur Mentioned As Member of Opium Ring.

Seattle.—Charlie Louie and James A. Ralston, accused of conspiracy to smuggle opium, were acquitted by a jury in the United States district court after a trial lasting three days.

During the trial testimony was given that Ralston, when arrested, charged that customs officers in Seattle were "crooked" and on the stand Ralston said some of the customs men were in the opium ring, but mentioned no names. Ralston admitted carrying large quantities of opium from Seattle to other cities in the northwest, but said he had nothing to do with bringing the opium into this country, this being done by a mysterious Henry Wellman, who was his employer.

The name of Earl MacArthur, a customs inspector, who disappeared a week before the trial began, was frequently brought into the case by the government, the district attorney alleging that MacArthur and Louie were on intimate terms and producing witnesses to show that MacArthur had passed the opium trunk, found in Portland when Ralston was arrested.

Lumber Tariff Removal No Cause for Worry, Says Weyerhaeuser.

Spokane, Wash.—In an interview at Sand Point, Idaho, Charles A. Weyerhaeuser, member of the world's greatest family of lumbermen, declared that the removal of tariff on lumber would have little or no effect on the industry in the United States.

"I can see no reason why the lumbermen of the United States cannot easily adjust themselves to the removal of tariff without any apparent effort," stated Mr. Weyerhaeuser. "The tariff, as it stands, is so low that the removal will not seriously affect the industry. We are not worrying."

Borah May Be President.

New York.—Harper's Weekly makes the following editorial forecast:

"We predict that the next republican candidate for president of the United States will be William E. Borah of Idaho."

More than a year before Woodrow Wilson's nomination Harper's made a similar prediction, which fact is referred to editorially by the New York Sun.

Grays Harbor Wants Light and Power

Aberdeen.—Recommendations of Mayor France that the council take steps towards building a water pipe line to the headwaters of the Wynoochee, 30 miles north, have been supplemented by petitions, which are being generally signed, favoring also the building of a municipal lighting and power plant at the same point to supply the cities of the harbor with light and power and all manufacturing plants. The cost would be $2,000,000. The cities of the harbor now pay about $40,000 annually for light alone.

The persons in the gallery who were most impressed with the J. Pierpont Morgan collection of pictures were two small girls, one eight and the other ten years of age. Uncertainly they spelled out the names of the paintings, which conveyed very little, and they were truly moved, of course, by the dashing Duchess of Devonshire and the small princess by Velazquez, and the wonderfully engaging young lady by the unknown Spanish painter. Lastly they came to the portrait of Mr. Morgan himself, and from this they appealed directly to the attendant on guard.

"Please, sir," they asked, "did Mr. Morgan paint all these pictures?" The guard was a true gentleman. "Not all," he answered.—New York

PLANS TO UTILIZE WASTE TIMBER

Plant Will Be Installed at Idaho University to Extract Oils.

University of Idaho, Moscow, Idaho, May 31.—(Special.)—Professor C. H. Shattuck, head of the department of forestry at the university, announces that within a short time there will be installed a plant at the university a plant for utilizing timber by-products. The professor has just returned from the inspection of several plants in the middle west and southeastern part of the United States. He was most impressed with the plant at Wilmington, S. C., where pitch, tar, turpentine and oils are extracted from the wood by a chemical process.

The national government is making extensive experiments along this line and according to Professor Shattuck the northern portion of Idaho, where no effort has been made to profit from by-products, should be greatly benefited. The plant to be installed at the university will be modeled after the Wilmington plant, but will be constructed on a smaller scale.

For Foreign-Born Women.

A foreign-born unmarried woman may become a citizen by being naturalized. To do this she must be 21 years of age, and have lived five years in this country, one full year of which has been lived in the state in which she makes her application. Or she can marry a man who is a citizen, for the wife's citizenship follows the husband, and she continues to retain her citizenship if she continues to reside in the United States, unless he renounces the sovereignty of the United States.

A foreign-born woman living in the United States whose husband is a foreigner, who refuses to become naturalized, cannot become a citizen unless separated from him by divorce or death.

A native-born woman who marries a foreigner loses her citizenship during the time of the married relation, but upon the death of her husband, or divorce from him, she may resume her citizenship by registering, within one year, with the American consul, in the country of her residence, a declaration that she desires to do so; or she may resume it by returning to the United States to reside.

Professor Storer will put on the "Chimes of Normandy" on June the 20th and will be assisted by university talent.

D. M. Buffington, Arthur Heer and Russel Adams, juniors in the college of law have completed their year's work and left for their homes.

TREASURERS ARE TAX COLLECTORS

Supreme Court Holds Amendment Became Operative Second Monday in January.

"Every county treasurer in Idaho is the tax collector for his county, and has been such since the election last fall because of the adoption by the voters, of the amendment providing that the treasurer shall be tax collector by virtue of his office. The constitutional amendment on this point adopted by the voters was self-executing; it required the enactment of no act of the legislature to put it in operation; and therefore the statute enacted by the legislature last winter to put the constitutional amendment in operation the second Monday in January, 1915, is null and of no effect whatever."

This is the purport of a decision rendered by the state supreme court on Friday, a decision that will be of vital interest to every county in the state. It is of far-reaching importance, because it holds that "constitutional provisions are self-executing when there is a manifest intention that they should go into immediate effect, and no ancillary legislation is necessary to the enjoyment of the right given or the enforcement of any duty."

Professor E. J. Iddings, of the college of agriculture, will give several interesting and important courses on animal husbandry at the coming summer session of the university. These will include a course in animal husbandry for teacher, a course on the market types of live stock, and one on the feeding of farm animals. These courses are so arranged that they will be of special benefit to the teachers of the state who attend the session.

Everybody is admonished to swat the fly. It won't hurt. Swat 'im. He is a no-good citizen, a breeder of disease, a source of worry to the bald-headed man, a torment to the housewife, a menace to the baby, a contagion-peddler and disseminator of filth, an agent for typhoid, tuberculosis and other diseases, a pest to the dog, and not worth a fiddler's cuss to himself. Aim ahead when you go to swat him, and you will materially increase the list of fly fatalities.

Prof. Shattuck has returned from the east, where he was investigating plants to work up the by-products of lumber. He spent most of the time in South Carolina.

Doctor Baker has been appointed assistant state veterinarian by the state live stock and sanitary board. He will have the North Idaho district and will maintain headquarters in Moscow.

Graduation Week Program

The graduation exercises will be held next Saturday and will continue until Wednesday of the next week. Several changes have been made in the scheduling of the various exercises and the programs have been printed in the form of a booklet instead of the old way on cards. The program for the week is as follows:
