IDAHO GETS DECISIVE SCORE

Bumps another surprise on her old enemy.

Lockhart, Brown and Knudson make a dashing backfield.

Idaho clashed for the sixteenth time with her old enemy here Friday on the football arena and added another scalp to her list of victories.

By 2 o'clock the grand stand and bleachers were crowded and a large crowd of enthusiasts were gathered along the side lines. The crimson and gray of W. S. C. decorated the bleachers about 1500 strong, while the Idaho force filled the grandstand and composed most of the crowd along the sidelines. Between three and four thousand people anxiously awaited the whistle which sent the respective warriors to the field of battle.

W. S. C., as usual, was confident of victory, while Idaho was less confident perhaps but more determined to fight to a finish. Hence when Bender's warriors failed to check the rush of the Idaho men or make yardage through "Pink's" line, they became worried and ill tempered even at one another, while "Pink's" men cheered one another on and fought with grim determination to give their college every ounce they possessed. A better exhibition of Idaho Spirit was never shown. It has been that spirit of fair and determined fight that has won for Idaho, the smallest institution of the two, eight victories and tied one out of the sixteen games played.

The game was called at 2:30 sharp with Captain Coulter of W. S. C. kicking to Idaho. The ball was received by Purdy and carried back for 15 yards. Lockhart's dashing end runs and Brown's line plunges completely swept the visitors off their feet and the ball was carried for yardage until the W. S. C. goal was in danger. With the back field to strengthen the line Bender's bunch succeeded in holding Idaho for downs, but soon lost the ball on a fumble. With a successful forward pass and an end run by Lockhart the ball was taken back to W. S. C.'s 25 yard line, from whence Lockhart kicked goal for the only score of the game.

Within the first few minutes of play two of W. S. C.'s men were taken out of the game because of injuries, Tyrer with a broken collar bone, and Smith with slighter injuries. The dash of the Idaho team at the beginning seemed to take the spirit out of Bender's bunch, and as Bill Lee had predicted, they appeared to be counting how much they were going to be beaten instead of by how much they would win.

After Idaho had scored Lockhart kicked to Schellabarger who returned the pigskin 15 yards. Alvord then went for 5 yards and then failed to make a gain. Coulter took the ball for 17 yards which was the best gain made for W. S. C. The State college was penalized for holding. A forward pass failed to gain the required ground and Coulter punted 40 yards to Purdy. The time was called with the ball in Idaho's possession on her 30 yard line.

W. S. C. looked dangerous for awhile in the first of the second quarter and it appeared as though the U. of I. line would not stand the rushes of the visitors back field. The ball was carried through the Idaho line to within 9 yards of the goal. Here W. S. C. had her only chance to score, but Duram chose to take a chance on getting a touchdown by trying for a field goal. They failed to complete a forward pass and Idaho kicked to safety. Coulter punted back and the half ended with the ball on Idaho's 9 yard line.

When the game opened for the second half Jardine was in the Idaho lineup in the place of Lockhart who was not able to return because of injuries. Phillips kicked to Foster and the second half started with the ball in the visitors' hands, but the Idaho line was invincible and Coulter punted to Purdy who carried it back 15 yards. The ball was given to Jardine for a good gain, and then for the only time in the game the Idaho spread was used but with little success. Brown, Jardine and Knudson was successively sent through the line for gains of from four to six yards. Foster of W. S. C. intercepted a forward pass, but the W. S. C. backs were unable to make yardage. Jardine intercepted an attempted forward pass from Foster for 6, Heg, and carried the ball for a 20 yard run. Brown was sent three successive times through W. S. C.'s line for a gain of 7 yards each time. With Purdy carrying the ball 3 yards, Jardine 6, Brown 4 and 5, and Jardine 8, it was taken to W. S. C.'s 5 yard line. Brown was sent around the end but was downed back of the line for a loss of 7 yards. This was followed by an incomplete forward pass, and "Red" Johnston was sent in to take Knudson's place and attempted to kick goal from a very difficult angle, the ball missing the required space but a few inches. The ball went into play on the 20 yard line and W. S. C. succeeded in carrying it back 5 yards before the quarter ended.

The last quarter was played mostly in W. S. C. territory and was featured by punting both by W. S. C. and Idaho. The W. S. C. aggregation attempted the forward pass time and again but was unable to make any consistent gains. There was considerable fumbling on both sides but Idaho's goal was never in danger. The game ended with the ball in Idaho's possession near the center of the field. When the whistle blew the crowd rushed over the field and the Idaho players were taken from the gridiron on the shoulders of the jubilant fans.

The game was close and hard fought from the start until the finish. However, with the exception of a few minutes in the second quarter the break was decidedly in favor of Idaho. A computation of the figures show that Idaho carried the ball 249 yards to W. S. C. 159. Idaho punted 7 times for 260, while W. S. C. punted 259 yards in the same number of times. Idaho was penalized 9 times for a total of 70 yards while W. S. C. was penalized but 4 times for a total of 45 yards.

Lockhart and Brown were beyond doubt the stars of the game. In an open field Lockhart is shifty, fast and as slippery as an eel. While Brown is a wonderful line plunger and can be depended upon for a good gain through a heavy line. Knudson is strong at interference, and with this trio working together Idaho has about as good a backfield as there is in the conference. Dingle and DeWald played a fine game at ends. The tackling of Dingle was especially good. Jardine showed up fine at half, and proves that the success of the Idaho team this year was not entirely dependent upon any one man.

For W. S. C. Captain Coulter did fine work, and Alvord and Schellabarger showed up fine for new men.

HOW WE WON

THE BIG GAME

More Pep Than Idaho Ever Saw Before.

Never in the history of Idaho did the spirit of the school flow with such enthusiasm and vigor as it has flown the last two weeks. A premonition of what was to happen Friday filled the hearts of all.

The thing that really did happen was not the result of mere chance or a trick play but the conscientious work of "Pink" and his squad for many weary hours. That the student body backed the men was shown by the attendance of large numbers of students during the practice hours this fall.

"Pink" commenced to lay the plan for Pullman's defeat in 1913 on the night of her defeat in 1912. He has worked at it ever since. Last summer he worked out plays and plans for a successful year. This fall our esteemed coach has given the boys everything that he could in the length of time allotted him. With the old and new material given him he welded the engine that left Pullman prostrate at our feet.

The men too, many of them, have been in training all summer long, that their foe might not be all powerful. Captain Favre took the strength of the mountain to himself that he might be invulnerable. Groniger played with Alaskan grizzlies that he might the more easily down his opponent. Brown, as well as many others of the team, took strength and courage from mother nature as they performed their daily tasks, never forgetful of what was expected of them on October 17, 1913.

School commenced and the giants commenced their training in earnest. The team whipped quickly into shape. Two men were ready for every play. The day approached. The Freshman spirit burst into a blaze so great was their enthusiasm. In Wednesday's assembly the contagion took one and all. From the auditorium the students serpentine thru the halls of the building, over the campus, each moment getting new Idaho pep. The performance was repeated in the evening to some extent.

That night the Freshmen raided the town gathering up boxes, barrels, side-walks and everything that would burn. This formed a gigantic pile. Thursday night white-robed and night-shirted figures gathered at the gym.

The rally opened here where an hour was given over to addresses by Graduate Manager Larson, Coach Griffith, "Bill" Lee, "Jimmie" Thornton and other old football veterans who returned to witness Friday's battle. From the gymnasium the rallyists marched in "serpentine" to the fair grounds where the big bonfire was lighted and the ghostly "shirt-tail"

SPLENDID PROGRAM AT THE INSTITUTE

SECOND DAY'S ATTENDANCE
LARGE AND SESSION WAS MOST INTERESTING.

Teachers Were Guests of University
Last Night at a Reception—
Tonight a Musicale.

In his usual forceful manner, giving salient facts and carrying his audience through nearly an hour of close attention, Professor E. J. Klemme delivered the principal lecture at the second day's session of the teachers' joint institute of Latah and Nez Perce counties, when he spoke Tuesday on "The Adolescent Youth." Mr. Klemme, who is head of the department of psychology and education at the Washington state normal at Ellensburg, is regarded as one of the best lecturers in the northwest and his address Tuesday showed his keen insight into the character of the youth.

"School Lunches" was the subject of Miss Hoover of the home economics department at the university, and her lecture was most instructive. Miss Ayer occupied a section on arithmetic and Miss St. John entertained the audience with primary numbers. Professor Clark, of the department of education at the Lewiston normal, another forceful speaker, addressed the institute on grammar, "Course of Study, the Essentials."

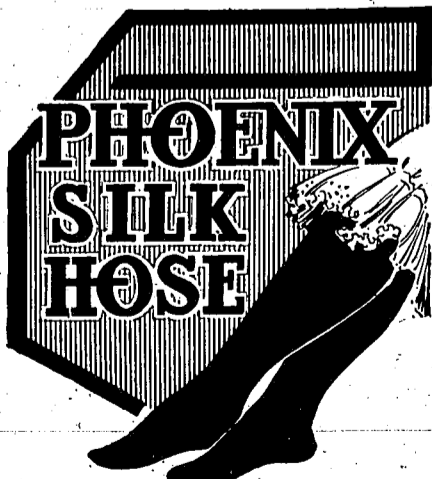

This afternoon the musicale numbers by Miss Kendrick were greatly appreciated and Mr. Soulen's address on "The Teacher and the Curriculum" was most instructive and interesting and was full of deep thought.

In the evening the teachers were entertained at a reception in the university gymnasium, a splendid program was carried out. The event of the evening that the teachers most enjoyed was the dance. The college men helped cheerfully to contribute to the evening's enjoyment. Punch and wafers were served.

Wednesday evening of this week at the university auditorium complimentary to the visiting teachers the musical faculty of the university will entertain with a recital. It is free to all and it is expected that a large audience will welcome the artists in order to bring the university musical life nearer to the teacher guests.

The program will be as follows:

PULLMAN'S ATTITUDE.

Those who have witness two or more of the annual Pullman-Idaho scraps and have become accustomed to the various forms of antagonism usually manifested, should have noticed in Pullman's attitude last Friday a distinct change. Was it less noise? Was it more reserve? Was it a presentment of defeat and lack of spirit or was it a different standard of sportsmanship in meeting their old rival? We do not pretend to say but we hope it was the last. We recognize the fact that the rivalry between the two schools is deep-rooted as life itself and is a vital part of each institution and we certainly would regret the day that a Pullman-Idaho game could not inspire more genuine spirit into a student than any other college event, but we also welcome the day in which that spirit does not extend to brick bats, fists, black eyes, hurried exits from town at the point of bayonets, etc. Rather should it be the spirit which can be subconsciously felt and heard.

If Pullman's spirit was a more sportsmanlike attitude toward us, which we would gladly believe, we heartily welcome it; if it was presentment of defeat, or cold feet, or disloyalty to its team, we advise a tonic of the "Idaho-Spirit," which fights fights, to the finish.

THE NEW IDAHO SPIRIT.

The Pullman game of 1912 saw the last great uprising of the Old Idaho Spirit. But it was aged. Its senile strength could not endure. So that after the great victory of Idaho over her ancient enemy the pep gradually weakened till at the close of school the old body was placed in the morgue. No burial took place. In the fall of 1913 an effort was made to revive the old corpse. But unavailing were the efforts. Yet from that withered form a new being full of life and spirit sprang forth to inspire, enliven and to lead Idaho's forces to victory. Thus came the new pep. Long may it live. A great future lies before us. Let the new spirit cheer our athletes to victory, lead the orator and debater to put forth his greatest efforts and give to those of the judging teams a sounder and calmer reason that Idaho may live as a power in our land.

THAT FRESHMAN PEP.

It is with a growing feeling of pleasure and pride that we observe the loyalty and patriotic spirit shown by the Class of seventeen. They have imbibed the new Idaho Spirit till they are drunk with it. At the Friday game the freshmen were loyal to the last. Their zeal and enthusiasm was as great even as that of the seniors. This is the right spirit. We are proud of it. For Idaho it means success in all her activities and victory in her conquests. Truly this pep shows great things in store for Idaho.

OUR NEW FACULTY MEMBERS.

Among the new men who have come to Idaho to teach we notice but one whose hair has succeeded in turning white before it disappeared altogether. Professor Angell, who comes to us directly from New Mexico, has attached about all of the English alphabet to his name to indicate some scholastic achievement and then has begun on the Greek to indicate other things. He graduated from Wisconsin with a B.A. in 1902; M.S. in 1904; and Ph.D. in 1911. He has taught in New Mexico where for five years he was dean of the college of science and engineering. On leave of absence from New Mexico he spent several summers in the University of Chicago. While in the south he also taught some subjects in the engineering courses as well as those of the "basic" science. Besides the memberships in some of the leading scientific societies of the nation, Professor Angell is a member of Sigma xi, the honorary fraternity of scientific men. Although a married man with white hair he avows it to be his definite aim to make his classes in physics especially interesting to the girls of the school. Or, as he said to our reporter, he proposes to take the "sting" out of the course. We cannot but wish him success.

Professor Wodsedalek.

Another of the interesting young men of the faculty, whose hair succeeded in disappearing before it turned white, is the new zoology man, Prof. Wodsedalek. He too is from Wisconsin. In three years he took his Ph.B. In 1910 he graduated; in 1911 he took his Ph.M. in zoology and entomology, and in 1913 took his Ph.D. in zoology, entomology, experimental breeding and genetics. He was assistant professor in zoology in 1910-11 and teaching fellow in 1911-13. Mr. Wodsedalek has written some eight papers on original research work. He too is a member of the Sigma xi and a member of the American Association for the Advancement of science.

In the new courses that are offered this year there is included all of the pre-medical work that so many of our fellows have often gone elsewhere to get. Prof. Wodsedalek is not a married man. So far, about the only knocking that we have heard that his lectures come a little too thick and fast for all those who really ever intend to read their notes after class.

THE SOCIAL WHIRL.

The social whirl is beginning. Dances, parties, more dances, more parties and still more dances are on the calendar. To the stranger it seems we overplay the social side of college. To the underclassman society is a maze of dates, dances and expenses. The upperclassman regards the whole business in a cynical light and attends to his society schedule when he gets around to it.

What is its meaning to you? Are you stepping into debt over your head? Are you borrowing money to get that old dress suit made over, or are you standing by and letting the other fellow—the poor student who has the money to burn—do the social stunts while you admire his nerve?

Every month the envelopes come around—envelopes from the recorder's office. Many a student has thought himself above the danger mark. Many a student has let things slide. Many a student has been called home to father after the first month.

Are you one of the social lions? Do you court the light fantastic exercise to the exclusion of your college work? Are you just a regular sluffer? If you are, you are in-line for a streak of hard luck. Don't wait until it is too late and then when your plea for mercy is turned down go away full of bitterness. It's your fault if you don't get "bumped" out of college via the "con" route. Sympathy won't help you then, but a little judgment and perhaps a little less of the social whirl may get you by the condition day safely.—Ex.

PLANS LAID FOR ALFALFA MEETINGS

FIVE MEETINGS WILL BE HELD IN LATAH COUNTY, FOUR IN THE COUNTRY.

Chamber of Commerce Will Give Dinner to P. G. Holden Tuesday Evening, October 28.

At the meeting of the chamber of commerce luncheon today the final plans for the Holden Alfalfa campaign here on Tuesday, October 28, were outlined and completed and the plans provide for five monster meetings, one in Moscow at 6:15 in the evening and four at points in the country at 4 o'clock in the afternoon at each place. The Holden party is made up of eight or ten prominent educators who are able and fittingly qualified to handle the subject and the lecturers will be divided between the various points.

At the Moscow session, the regular Tuesday luncheon will make way for a dinner at 6:15 in the evening at the K. of P. hall when members of the club and all citizens are invited. All members of the Farmers' Union and farmers who are not affiliated with the union are invited to the dinner. The cost of the service will be 25 cents. It was announced that there would be room for but 80 people at the banquet board.

The following points in Latah county have been selected for the meeting, outside of Moscow: Snow school house, Valley Vine school house, Gus Anderson school house, Estes station. On the arrival of the party in Moscow the various lecturers will be taken by Moscow people in automobiles to the several points.

DR. HALL SPEAKS TO UNIVERSITY MEN.

Men Inspired by his Words.

Dr. Winfield Scott Hall of Northwestern University addressed the men of the university Friday at 11:15. Dr. Hall is a man of marked personal magnetism. In his plain talk on plain life facts he won the heart of his audience who went away deeply considering his timely suggestions. Though his address was brief it was pithy and right to the point. His power of vivid description, coupled with a quiet manner and gentle delivery made him a friend of all present.

At Assembly.

The assembly, after a short business meeting in which Marvin Mulkey was elected yell leader to take the place of C. Perkins, resigned, broke up and took the form of a very rousing rally.

Mr. McConnell relates the incident with a feeling of regret that he could not be placed on the list of loyal town people who contributed in a measure at least toward erection of the big bonfire.

Professor Hulme Will Speak Sunday, October 26th.

Last Sunday Dr. Steinman delivered a very interesting lecture on "The Engineer's Opportunity." His topic dealt largely with the industrial service movement, which was founded by Professor Joseph W. Roe, of Yale, in 1907. It now has 3500 student members, and 3000 graduates, engineers, enlisted in the work of ameliorating the conditions of the workingman.

"We develop capacity to direct large affairs only as we learn to understand our fellowmen," said Dr. Steinman. These are the large factors in any work. We must know them, not only by superficial contract. The engineer should learn: The workingman's point of view; his strong points; his frailties; his real capacity; his sympathies, his prejudices. Such knowledge comes only by working side by side with, and for, men; rubbing shoulders; by being one of them.

The student engineer can do this by accepting vacation jobs that throw him in contact with men, rather than hold himself aloof from them. In return for the possible sacrifice, he will gain practical details, strong body and personal vigor, and a real knowledge of ment.

The engineer is the link connecting capital and labor. By using his position for the good of both factions, he can do much to remove the question of strife between labor and capital.

Work can be done for the men along educational, physical, social, religious, and protective lines. The men truly appreciate these attentions and respond better in their work. The benefit to the men themselves is very great.

What a wonderful opportunity for the engineer to help, not only others, but himself! For such work "blesseth him that gives and him that takes."

The Y. M. C. A. is planning a series of lectures on sociological and educational topics. The first of these will be delivered by Professor Hulme next Sunday at 5 p. m. in Morrill hall assembly room. Plan to attend this, as it will surely repay you well.

JONES BARS "EXCUSE ME!"

Football is Man's Game, Says Yale Varsity Coach.

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—"Excuse me" is one expression that will be barred from Yale field during the football season, according to Head Coach Howard Jones. Jones heard one of the back-field candidates apologize after having stood an opposing guard on his head in practice yesterday, and immediately called a halt.

"What are you excusing yourself for?" he inquired. "This is a man's game, and I don't want to hear any more of this 'excuse me' business."

The schedule of work for candidates this week, includes two-hour drills in both forenoon and afternoon. All candidates are reported in excellent condition.

Beside the name being placed upon the cup plus the chances to win the same, there will be given a regular bronze medal to the winner each time. Those who

IDAHO TO MEET VARSITY OF OREGON

Will Be a Harder Game Than Last Friday.

Idaho will meet the University of Oregon at Eugene the last of this week. Purdy will probably be out of the game because of injuries received in the game last Friday with Washington State college. However, the rest of the team is in good shape and are ready to avenge the defeat of last year at the hands of that institution. "Pink" Griffith looks upon this game as being the hardest one left in the schedule, and if Idaho wins this game it is not unlikely that she will have to play U. of W. at the end of the season. However, it is useless to predict what might happen, for dope is so often turned upside down when it appears to be certain. University of Oregon gave the Bremerton All Navy team the worst trimming that it has received either at the hands of U. of W. or W. S. C. Hence Saturday's game is likely to be a hard match for Idaho to get away with.

SCANDAL IN GERMAN CAPITAL

Trial Started Which May Bring Out Revelations of Degeneracy.

BERLIN, Oct. 21.—Sensational disclosures rivaling and similar to the details of the notorious "Eulenberg round-table scandals" were predicted today when Walter Steinthal, publisher of a local weekly went on trial here charged with criminal libel. Steinthal, in his paper, charged that Count von Hulsens-Haesler, director general of the kaiser's Royal opera, is a moral pervert of the Oscar Wilde type. Count von Hulsens-Haesler is an intimate friend of Kaiser Wilhelm. Steinthal, besides accusing the count of being a moral pervert, declared also that one of the best known actors in Germany, who is attached to the Royal Court theatre, of which Hulsens-Haesler is one of the directors, belongs to the Wilde category and belongs to a "second round-table" with the count who today appeared against him as a plaintiff. Steinthal today naively declared that "such persons need not feel insulted or libelled as the time is past when this moral perversion is taken as a symptom of degeneracy or mental deficiency." Because of Steinthal's repeated and calm accusations, the air is full of rumors that his trial will bring about a public sensation of moral degeneracy in high circles second only to the Eulenberg scandal which resulted in several princes, counts and high army officials being jailed or exiled. That case began with a charge of libel against Editor Harden who was only looking for an opportunity to make public his evidence.

Congressman's Birthday.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Congressman James Francis Burke, of the thirty-first Pennsylvania district, today received congratulations on his forty-fifth birthday anniversary. "Jimnie" Burke, as he is called by his intimates, is the Beau Brummel—the J. Ham Lewis—of the house.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Likens of Pocatello are in Moscow attending teachers' institute. Mr. Likens is superintendent of the Pocatello schools.

ATHLETIC BALL HUGE SUCCESS

Students, Faculty and Alumni Attend, Making It the Most Successful of College Functions.

Friday evening marked the passing of the last annual Athletic Ball, and one of the most successful college dances ever given. The assembly was a scene of beauty with its ceiling arched in yellow and white and the walls draped with streamers in the same colors.

In a yellow and white draped enclosure, in the center of the hall was Doyle's orchestra, which provided most delightful music throughout the evening. At one end of the hall was erected a huge "I" above which appeared the sign "I-O." When this was illumined from within during the Special, in which only "I" men and those who had participated in the day's game were allowed to dance, it marked an indelible impression on all present.

Many out-of-town guests were present. In all this was perhaps the largest crowd that had assembled for any formal college dance.

Punch and wafers were served throughout the evening by the little Misses Soulen and Frantz.

Miss French, Miss Stephens, Mrs. Griffith, and Mrs. C. S. Edmundson were the hostesses of the evening.

PURDY IS GRITTY

Determined to Whip Himself in Shape for Next Saturday's Game.

With the grit that has characterized his football playing from his first game in the Coeur d'Alene high school to the end of the game with Washington State college last Friday Quarterback Purdy climbed out of bed where his physician left him suffering from injuries which he received in the big game on the 17th and toiled up to the practice field yesterday afternoon to watch the squad working into shape for the match with the University of Oregon eleven next Saturday. He was at his classes also today and declares that if he is able to walk to the gym that leaves for Eugene next Thursday he will play in Saturday's game. Even should he be able to enter the line-up, however, he will be in a much poorer condition than that in which last Friday's game found him.

It is uncertain just now what the personal of the Idaho line-up will be next Saturday. "Red" Johnson is worked at quarter in practice this week so that he can be used at that position if Purdy should not be able to enter the game. Lockhart has been called to Vancouver by the illness of his brother and it is possible that he will not be able to make connections with the team for the Oregon game. If his brother's health improves, he will join the team at Eportland. Even then he will be in poor condition, having been out of training for an entire week. Jardine will likely be worked at half in Lockhart's place during much of the game at least. Oregon attitude toward Johnson's playing is lukewarm but with Washington University, O. A. C. and Whitman College agreed on his eligibility it is not probable that the Oregon management will persist in its objections to his use at right end. The balance of

Tariff Reduction Will Not Cripple American Industry

Rather help it, by infusing into its stagnant nature, crippled by monopoly the real elements of competition. American Manufacturers of every kind have built up huge fortunes at the expense of the American Consumer. You read of the fabulous wealth of a prominent manufacturer of such a staple article of wear as hosiery, and the twenty million estate left by a silk manufacturer. All these conditions are the result of a High Protective Tariff which allows a man to create a monopoly and force a price.

MEETING PASSED RESOLUTIONS

Taxpayers' League Recommends Timber be Cruised for Assessment Purposes.

Over the advice and protest of J. D. Robertson, secretary of the Idaho tax commission, the tax payers league met session in Moscow Saturday. At Saturday evening passed resolutions recommending that the timber area of the north Idaho counties be cruised and the timber estimated for assessment purposes. The following is the resolution which was passed:

"That it be the sense of the commissioners and assessors of all the counties represented here that we should have the timbered areas cruised, timber estimated, lands classified and permanent plans and topographic maps made for use of our respective counties as the best means of arriving at an equitable assessment, and that the same be done as early as possible."

Miss Jessie Corbin returned this afternoon to her home in Grandville after a week's visit at the Gamma Phi Beta house.

KEEP IMMIGRANTS MOVING

Missionary Society in Session at Boston Urges Some Reforms.

BOSTON, Oct. 21.—Under the direction of the Very Rev. Francis C. Kelly, D.D., director of the Home Mission Society, the second day's meetings of the second congress of the Catholic Missionaries association of America closed today in Symphony hall. The immigration problems which confront the government was the topic of an address this afternoon by Rev. F. Muldoon, D.D., bishop of Rockford. The immigration question is one of the most important problems of the day from the church point of view. Following the address, many members of the association, in informal discussions, declared in favor of more stringent laws which would limit the wholesale immigration of foreigners, which many of the laws enacted. They urged laws similar to those of Canada, and declared the law should contain a provision which would send the shipping of immigrants westward as colonies of developers of the soil rather than their remains in the overcrowded cities. It is now the case...

IDAHO REGENTS WIN IN SUIT

LONG STANDING SUIT OVER CONSTRUCTION OF UNIVERSITY BUILDING, SETTLED.

Federal Judge Deitrich Hands Down Opinion Adverse to the Construction Company.

The case of the Interstate Construction company versus the regents of the University of Idaho which has been pending in the United States district court for the past couple of years has just been disposed of by Judge Deitrich and a decision rendered in favor of the defendants.

The suit arose two years ago when the bond issue for the completion of the north wing of the Administration building at the university for which the plaintiff company had the contract, was declared invalid and the work was suspended. The plaintiffs prayed damages in the amount of $15,500 for the failure of the regents to perform specifically the contract into which they had entered for the construction of the building.

C. J. Orland was attorney for the plaintiffs while the regents were represented by Forney & Moore.

FRENCH INSTRUCTOR PEDDLES PEANUTS.

Illinois Professor Resigns Position to Buy Peanut Wagon—New Occupation More Congenial to Nature.

CHICAGO, Ill.—Professor A. E. Munier of the French department of Lake Forest college has resigned his position to buy a peanut wagon. Professor Munier says that he can make more money peddling peanuts than he can by teaching French. According to the professor, his new occupation is far more congenial to his nature than endeavoring to force knowledge into the heads of unwilling students. He also prefers the fresh air surrounding the popcorn cart to the stuffy atmosphere of the schoolroom. Dr. Munier, as a peanut vendor, is far more popular with the students than he ever was as a professor of French. His peanuts, popcorn, crackerjack, gum and candies are reaching far more people than his instructions in French ever did. Professor Munier has evidently decided that he can serve humanity better by ministering to the physical man instead of the higher, spiritual man. It is a question whether the assimilation of the professor's popcorn or his French is the more beneficial to the students.

BREAKS GIRLS' STRENGTH RECORD

Olive Buchanan Tests 4645 Pounds.

Miss Olive Buchanan, a freshman in college, last week made the finest strength test ever made by a girl at the University of Idaho. Miss Buchanan is 18 years old, weighs 121 pounds, stands 5 feet 3½ inches and tested 4645 pounds. "I consider that the best test I have ever taken" said Mr. Van der Veer and he broke out in a hearty laugh. On being questioned by the reporter as to the cause of his merriment he explained "Compare that with the test made by Paul Dury, who weighed 160 pounds, stood 5 feet 10½ inches and tested 4065." Here the physical director broke out in another peal of laughter and was understood by the reporter to say something about Mr. Dury being a candidate for the Rhodes scholarship on the strength of athletic ability, or something to that effect.

Miss Greg of the freshman class last year won the cup presented to the strongest freshman girl, with a test of 4345 pounds. But Miss Greg weighed 152 pounds, stood 5 feet 7 1-10 inches tall and was a year older than Miss Buchanan. Another excellent test was made by Miss Mary Nodde who is twenty years old, weighs 139 pounds, stands 5 feet 4 2-10 inches and tested 4505 pounds.

Ray Tingley of the junior class has completely demolished all tests based in proportion to weight, and age. Mr. Tingley is 22 years old, weighs 130 pounds, is 5 feet 2 7-10 inches tall and tested 6375 pounds. Collier Buffington who holds the record test was, at the time of the test, 22 years old, weighed 178 pounds, stood 5 feet 10 8-10 inches tall and tested 7650. Dividing the figures they show that Tingley tests 49 1-26 pounds to every pound of weight, Buffington 43 1-89, Miss Buchanan 38 47-121 and Paul Dury 25 13-32 pounds.

UNDERCLASS MEN ON THE GRIDIRON

PLAN FOR A LIVELY FOOTBALL GAME IN MOSCOW ON NOVEMBER 1.

The Contest Promises to be One of the Hardest Fought Battles in Many Years.

A game that will be a real game is the one which will be played on November 1 between the sophomores and the freshmen at the university if the latter accept the challenge which the second-year men have issued. By the terms of the written challenge that has been issued all men who were taken on the squad to Spokane at the time the varsity met Gonzaga would be barred from the coming contest. The freshmen object to this provision on the ground that it would exclude a number of their best men and some even who will probably not be played on the varsity line-up this fall.

The sophomores will enter the game with Harry Wheeler, the Nez Perce Indian who has a couple of years' experience at Carlisle behind him, playing the center position while the central post on the freshman team will be occupied by Johnstone, the big 190-pound star who has had former college experience and would have made the varsity line-up with no trouble at all this fall had his eligibility been beyond question.

Several other experienced players will fill the ranks of both teams and the game bids fair to be the hottest inter-class contest ever staged at the university. The two classes have not yet agreed on the eligibility of all of their candidates for the teams and as soon as this matter can be settled arrangements for the big fight will be continued.

Freshmen to Hold Party—Will be an Informal Affair.

The Freshmen class of 1917 are now planning to get acquainted. They feel that every man is good enough to know. The dope says that the party will be next Friday night at Ridenbaugh hall. The evening promises to unite the class of '17 in a bond of fellowship that no mortal power can sever.
