FOOTBALL PRACTICE IN FULL SWING

BIG SQUAD OF MEN RESPOND TO INITIAL CALL OF COACH GRIFFITH

No New Heavy Weights But Return of Veterans Make Prospects Bright

In spite of the bad weather conditions prevalent, and the rush of the first few days of college, about fifty men have drawn suits and are appearing on the campus for the first regular practice. This number will be increased for a while and then of course will drop away as candidates give up hope of making the team. Few heavy weights have been added to the squad, hence the team that will represent Idaho this year will be no heavier than the one of last year if not considerable lighter. W. S. C. will have an edge on us of over two weeks in point of practice. Bender is putting forth every effort to fill the loss of the Harter boys and others who were graduated, and to reap vengeance for the defeats of the last two years which he has suffered at the hands of Pink's warriors. He made an attempt to secure a post season game with Idaho, as he said "for financial reasons" to be played in Spokane last fall. It is well known that such a game played in Spokane would be a financial loss, but Bender had all to win and nothing to lose. Now that he has a lot to win, and probably something to lose, he is putting forth every effort to secure victory. It is simply up to him to put out a winning team, and if it is in him and his material he is certainly going to do so. The question with us is: "can Idaho repeat her successes of the last two years and add another victory to her credit column in our balance page with the 'Farmers?'" Though our team will be light, we probably have more experienced men to draw from than Idaho has had for several years. In fact a full team of veterans can be put into the field. These with the strong candidates from last year's second team, and the freshmen who are dead certain to make places on the team, ought certainly to put out a better winning machine than that which represented Idaho last year. However it is less than a guess to attempt to state the relative strength of the opposing teams. It looks as though Bender would have a hard fight to put out as strong a team as the one of 1913. What it will do cannot be told until it has been done. And then how she and Idaho will come out cannot be told until after the game. Dope is easily upset, specially in a W. S. C.-Idaho game. The veteran team that is now at work and could be put into the field is made up of: Hays at center, Kipp and Johnstone, guards; Captain Phillips and the giant Groniger at tackle; Dingle, Dewald, and Till Gerlough as ends; Purdy at quarter; Burns, Ross and Jardine at halves, and Brown who will probably be shifted from half to full this season. This year Idaho meets: Gonzaga at Moscow, October 10; Montana at Moscow, October 17; Oregon at Moscow, October 23 or 24; W. S. C. at Pullman, November 7; O. A. C. at Portland, November 14; Whittman at Walla Walla, Thanksgiving.

GEORGE HALL MISSING

University Instructor Believed to Have Drowned in Snake River Thursday

Word was received here Thursday of the mysterious drowning of a man in the Snake river near Almota, Wn. Thus far no details have been received but reports from Almota and partially confirmed in Moscow indicate that the victim of the unfortunate affair was George Hall, instructor in wood working in the University. His horse has been identified and a derby hat found bearing the trademark of a local firm was recovered later. The river is being dragged in an effort to recover the body.

George Hall has held the position of instructor in machine shop practice and wood working in the university since the fall of 1910. Before coming to Moscow he was an instructor in wood work and pattern making in the Washington State College at Pullman. He was of English birth and education and was trained in Technical College, Sunderland, England. It is supposed that he has a family in England.

Mr. Hall was considered an excellent instructor and he was extremely skillful in the use of tools, being an expert in cabinet making and in mechanical work of all kinds. He was a tireless worker, and lived a very busy life. His classes were large and enthusiastic.

A year or so ago, Mr. Hall purchased an acre of ground just south of the University campus and built upon it an attractive bungalow in which he lived for the past year. He was devotee of horse-back riding and was in the habit of taking long solitary rides.

GERLOUGH RETURNS HOME

Comes From Oxford Where He Completed a Rhodes Scholarship

Ludwig Gerlough, who recently returned from England where for the past three years he has been one of Idaho's Rhodes scholars, is considering the offer of a position in the Junior College in San Diego where he has been elected to the position of instructor in history.

Mr. Gerlough left England before the war broke out. War was declared just one day before he landed in Boston. Previous to that time, although the papers said little about the critical nature of the situation it was generally known in England that trouble was feared.

While in England Mr. Gerlough frequently saw Guy Holman, who now is in the banking business in London. On his way home Mr. Gerlough stopped in Philadelphia to visit Bruce Mudgett who will this year be an instructor in the University of Pennsylvania in insurance and statistics.

BETA THETA PI ENTERS IDAHO

THETA MU EPSILON BECOMES GAMMA GAMMA CHAPTER OF BETA THETA PI

Ceremonies Were Impressive and Were Followed by Banquet—Idaho Was Voted in Without Opposition.

The impressive installation service by which the local fraternity, Theta Mu Epsilon, became the Gamma Gamma Chapter of the great and famous national fraternity, Beta Theta Pi, was held on Saturday afternoon, September nineteenth, in Odd Fellows' Hall and was participated in by a large number of persons, thirty-six men being taken into full membership on that occasion, and Beta Theta Pi's from other universities being present to assist in carrying out the beautiful and formal ritualistic services.

Professor F. W. Shepardson of the American History department of the University of Chicago, and at present general secretary of Beta Theta Pi, was designated as Installation Officer and bore his part with dignity and grace. He was assisted by F. W. Ensign of Boise.

The installation exercises were succeeded by an informal but a delightful banquet held on Saturday evening at the fraternity house on Elm street. There were a number of excellent toasts, and a jolly time was enjoyed until the early morning hours.

To say that the local fraternity, Theta Mu Epsilon, enjoyed the transformation into a national fraternity and appreciated the honor conferred upon them and the compliment to them and their university is to state only the exact truth. Beta Theta Pi is one of the oldest and largest of the national fraternities, its total membership now numbering more than 20,000, and its origin dating as far back as 1839.

Not the least gratifying circumstance in connection with the winning of the national is the fact that when the charter was granted at the St. Louis convention the first part of September, there was not a dissenting voice, the vote in favor of Idaho being unanimous.

Those initiated were:
Faculty members—Francis Jenkins, E. V. Ellington, J. G. Eldridge.

Seniors—E. K. Humphries, St. Anthony; L. F. Stone, Boise; H. H. Beier, Council; E. J. Coram, Grangeville; W. W. Gowen, Caldwell; C. E. Horning, Grangeville; C. R. Buffington, Denver.

Juniors—J. P. Gerlough, Boise; Robert Gerlough, Boise; L. A. Ellington, Howard Holaday, Victor Lanes, and Carl Melugin, Moscow.

Sophomores—D. E. Hamill, Juliaetta; Tillman Gerlough, Boise; Harry Einhaus, Kellogg; Ennis Massey, Kellogg.

The alumni and former members initiated were: Louis Jessup, '13; Forest Sower, '11; James Harris, '12; C. H. Buffington, '12; J. W. Gwin, '11; McKen F. Morrow, '08; Lee Fluharty, '10; Sam Vance, '09; Clyde Chaffins, '10; Gilbert McCormick, '17; A. B. Chapman, '17; Henry M. Smith, '10;

The Beta Theta Pi's here to assist in the installation and to be present at the banquet were:

Ralph Bickell, Boise; D. J. Needham, Lewiston; J. W. Carey, Spokane; W. N. Burgard, University of Oregon; Charles J. Powell, University of Washington; B. S. Gerard, University of Oregon; F. G. Ensign, Boise; and Professor F. W. Shepardson of the University of Chicago.

REGISTRATION

Registration has not been completed by any means as yet but a hurried calculation on the fourth day of registration shows a very marked increase in registered students.

The figures should not be taken as they stand for between 1912 and 1913 there appears an increase of but seven admissions while in fact between 1912 and 1913 by the elimination of the last year of the preparatory department a class of thirty-two was dropped which could not be entered the next year. A similar difference is found between the years of 1911 and 1912, due to a like condition when another class of the preparatory department was dropped.

The table below will show a comparison of registration by years:

	1st day.	2d day.	3d day.	4th day.
1912.....	156	313	320	323
1913.....	135	309	324	330

THE UNIVERSITY GLEE CLUB

Voice trials are now in progress for those students desiring to become members of the University Glee Club and the Treble Clef Club. The prospects are better for these organizations than for several years past and special efforts particularly will be made to have an excellent University Glee Club. There are some vacancies existing which the director desires filled. Application should be made to Eugene H. Storer, Room 14, Gymnasium Building.

Professor Sheldon Honored.

Friends of S. R. Sheldon, formerly of the engineering department of the university, will be interested to know that at the commencement ceremonies at Nan Yang University, Shanghai, this summer, he was given the Decoration of the Order of the China Hu (Excellent Crops), as a token of appreciation of his services to education in China.

STAG PARTY BIG SUCCESS

Y. M. C. A. HOLDS BIG REUNION IN GYM—ATTENDANCE LARGEST IN YEARS

Boxing Contest Main Event—Freshmen Awarded Honors—President Brannon Talks

The annual stag social which is given under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. was held with an enthusiastic attendance on Saturday night of last week at the University Gymnasium. Despite the fact that many of the boys of the university were necessarily absent from the social, there was an attendance of about 100, who participated in the various exciting sports.

The evening program was opened with a "Rooster" fight between champions of the sophomore and freshmen teams, with the result that two victories were awarded the fresh while the sophs got away with but one.

A contest of boxing in barrels was next indulged in resulting in even honors to either class. However the barrels being considered an impediment to the real sport, it was decided that a three-round bout for a knock-out should be held between the middle weights of the respective under classmen. In the contest which followed, Betty, the well-known middle weight pugilist, was matched against a freshman dark horse, named Post. The first round was awarded the representative of the Sophomore class, and he was also given the second round by a shade. The third and last round opened with Betty aggressive, forcing his opponent to take the defensive. But in the last of the round Post caught Betty on the jaw with a right swing and put him down for the count, thus being awarded the contest on a knock-out.

The Freshmen having won the honors of the evening, speeches were given, by President Brannon, Graduate Manager Favre, Coach Edmundson, and Rhodes, Field Secretary of the Y. M. C. A.

Refreshments served in the basement of the Gym concluded the evening's entertainment.

LIEUTENANT FOOKS RETURNS

Battalion Commander of University Cadets Enjoyed a Summer Vacation.

Lieut. Herbert C. Fooks, commandant at the university, arrived the latter part of last week to resume his duties in connection with the military department. He will again take up the study of law on which last year he spent all of his leisure hours.

Lieut. Fooks reports that he had a delightful summer, six weeks having been spent in a students' military camp in California, two weeks in maneuvers in Utah, and the rest of the time at his home in Salisbury, Maryland.

Just before coming west, Mr. Fooks went to Baltimore to be present at the great Star Spangled Banner centennial celebration. Owing to the early opening of the semester in the university, Mr. Fooks was unable to remain in Baltimore until Friday, the day of the great military parade.

With regard to the enrolment at the university, Mr. Fooks said he expected to have as many cadets this as ever before and the chances were good for an increased number. There will as usual be three companies.

When asked about Major Chrisman, a former commandant in Moscow and a warm personal friend of Mr. Fooks's, the lieutenant said that Major Chrisman, who is now with troops at Fort Niagara, is still deeply interested in Moscow. In a very recent letter to Mr. Fooks, Major Chrisman said that as soon as he returned from the army he hoped to carry out his long-cherished plan of coming to Moscow to live. Major Chrisman made an indelible impression upon the university and town life here and has a host of warm friends who would be glad to welcome him back.

GREAT WORK BY E. M. HULME

"The Renaissance and Reformation in Continental Europe," Will be in Great Demand

The Century company of New York, have just published a history of "The Renaissance and Reformation in Continental Europe" by Professor Edward M. Hulme of the University of Idaho. The work was undertaken several years ago at the suggestion of Professor George Lincoln Burr of Cornell University, who was one of Professor Hulme's teachers. It has been known for some time that Professor Hulme was engaged upon a history, but he has always declined to speak about it until now. When asked for some information about the book the other day he said:

"The story of the book can best be told, I think, by three or four extracts from letters sent to me by Professor Burr. He was the most helpful and inspiring teacher I ever had. It was his faith in men and his encouragement that made the book possible. In his remarkable 'Autobiography,' Andrew D. White, who was the first president of Cornell, and who was the American ambassador to Germany in 1879-81, and our ambassador to Russia in 1892-94, has this to say about Professor Burr: 'Of all the historical scholars I have ever known. Professor Burr is among the very foremost, by his powers of research, his tenacity of memory, his almost preternatural accuracy, his ability to keep the whole field of investigation in his mind, and his fidelity to truth and justice.' It was owing to Professor Burr's great ability as a historian and to his unrivalled skill in diplomacies that the American commissioners in the Venezuelan boundary dispute with Great Britain were able to conclude their labors so successfully.

"All their work depended upon the masterly skill with which he unravelled the historical mystery. 'Never did a report,' says Andrew D. White, 'give more satisfaction.' It is this man who urged me to write the book. It was to be a book upon lines essentially new. Its characterizing feature was to be its emphasis upon those events and forces in the past that bear upon the permanent elements of civilization and help to explain and illuminate the life and problems of today. In place of the endless accounts of diplomacy, war, and politics, it was to give a larger attention to the deeper forces of history, to the life of the people, their occupations, habits, and mental outlook, to industrial and social conditions, to the rise of world ideas, of art, of literature, to geographical sweep of nations and races, to the growth of governments and religions, of freedom and of tolerance. In addition the book was to have a distinct literary value. That was my task. I have done my best to fulfill it. Fortunately I had accumulated a good deal of material relating to the Renaissance and the Reformation in the course of my studies at Harvard, Cornell, and Europe. Yet it was often difficult, and sometimes discouraging, to work on such a book at so great a distance from the big libraries of the East and from those of Europe.

"The first letter from Professor Burr is dated August 8, 1908. In it he says, 'I am greatly interested in your dreams of bookmaking. Why not? I know of nobody whose call to write is clearer. Why not give us a book on Renaissance and Reformation? I know no other young scholar so well suited to the task.'

"The second letter is dated July 15, 1913. In it Professor Burr says, 'At last I have been able to get at your manuscript. I have just finished the chapters dealing with the Renaissance. They have been a great delight to me. They are characterized by great depth of thought and notable originality of treatment. You need no help from me—merely a commendation.'

"A third letter, dated January 22, 1914, speaks of another chapter. 'They are capital pages,' says Professor Burr; 'that matter of fides implicita you handle finely.'

"In a fourth communication Professor Burr said: 'It is because I have found your manuscript, in general, one of the most careful and, conscious I have ever had in hand that through long stretches I have made not so much as a query. The book will nobly open the way to the proper study of the Protestant Reformation. I am proud of its courage and its eloquence. May it go speedily into print.'

"The last letter is dated September 3, 1914. 'Your published book arrived today and fills me with joy. Accept my very warm thanks for the dedication. But accept, too, my warm congratulations on the book itself and on its tasteful dress. It is a beauty, and I am proud of it for you. My class will use it as a text-book.'

"I am very happy that the book has met with the approval of so great a scholar as Professor Burr. The publishing company seems to think it will prove a financial success, for they have asked me to undertake for them a history of England on the same lines as my present book. This I have promised to do, and several chapters of the second book are almost completed. If the books should help to make the name of Idaho somewhat more widely known it will be a real happiness to me."

THAT SOPH-FROSH. PARTY

Details bearing on the recent Soph-Frosh. social are extremely scarce, scattering and contradictory. The Sophomore posters were put out on schedule time and if reports are reliable the green children appeared about the same time; the Frosh. president even went so far as to take a little ride into the country—presumably to pick up any stray Sophomores fleeing for their lives. A reliable source states that said prex became so enamored with the rich stubble fields that he could not be persuaded to return to Moscow until sometime during the next day. Strange, indeed.

No announcement for the next social has been posted but all the children are manifesting much interest in the meetings and another will doubtless follow shortly.

IDAHO STOCK IS BLUE RIBBONED

UNIVERSITY LIVE STOCK REAP
RICH AWARDS AT THE SPOKANE
INTERSTATE FAIR

Almost Make a Clean Sweep in the Cattle Division on Classes Shown

The University of Idaho cattle exhibit at the Spokane Interstate fair walked off with signal honors in a highly strong competitive field when awards were made that gave to the university practically a clean sweep in prizes on cattle. To the animal husbandry department of the university is due great credit for the splendid showing made and while the results were not known this afternoon, it was expected that the university would capture first honor in the sheep division. Vice-Dean E. J. Iddings returned from Spokane, where he attended the first three days of the fair, last night, highly elated over the success achieved.

The university has been represented at the Spokane fair by several members of the agricultural faculty, the senior students in animal husbandry and exhibit of live stock from the animal husbandry department. The students work with the classes of animals on the fair grounds as a required part of their course in a similar way the work is done on the university campus. The number of animals available is large and the experience gained under actual show ring conditions is very valuable. The class present at Spokane this year consisted of A. L. Johnson, Idaho Falls; J. E. Nordby, Genesee; F. H. La Franz, Coeur d'Alene; H. E. Lattig, Nampa; Eugene Hawley, Moscow; Wilfred Walters, Nezperce.

The live stock exhibit was shipped to Spokane last week and consisted of 10 head of beef cattle and 10 head of fat wethers. It was practically the unanimous opinion of experienced live stock men that the stock shown at the Spokane fair this year is by far the best ever assembled there, said Dean Iddings today. In this kind of company the university made practically a clean sweep with its cattle, winning one championship, first in every prize competed for except one and in several cases won first and second. The prizes won are as follows:

First on senior Shorthorn Hereford calf.

First on junior champion on senior Aberdeen Angus heifer calf.

Second on junior yearling Hereford bull. This bull was fitted by the university and shown by Platt Bros. of Genesee to whom the bull was recently sold.

First and second on two-year-old steer.

First and second on yearling steer.

First and second on steer calf.

First and second on herd of three steers.

The steer prizes were won in competition with the Washington State College and Henry Thiessen of Sweetwater. The university fat wethers shown today at Spokane against the exhibit of the Oregon Agricultural College have excellent chances for further prizes for Idaho.

The University of Idaho stock exhibit will be shown the coming week at the Washington State Fair at North Yakima and the following week at the

A BIG WEEK FOR THE Y. W. C. A.

The members of the Y. W. C. A. have planned a very busy week from September 23 to September 29 during which time Miss Elizabeth Fox, general student secretary of Y. W. C. A. in the northwest, will be the guest of the local association.

Miss Fox will give her time to private conference with the Y. W. C. A. girls and to pupils addresses in the interest of the association work. A number of social functions have been planned for this week.

To the Y. W. C. A. girls of the University, President Brannon has opened his home and on Friday, September 25, from 3:30 to 6 p. m. they will hold an informal reception for the women students of the University.

To the ladies of the advisory board, the women of the faculty and to all the University girls, a cordial invitation to be present is given.

Delta Gamma and her rushees were entertained at tea by the Pi Beta Phi girls at Pullman Saturday afternoon.

REPORTERS

The office of The Argonaut is in the publicity office, next door to the bursar's office. A member of the staff may be found in the office any afternoon except Tuesday. All contributions gladly received up until Tuesday noon of each week. Paper goes to press Wednesday.

A STATEMENT

At this time no statement can be made setting forth the policies of the Argonaut for the coming year. The editor has not returned to the university and until he does so any such statement issued by a subordinate would amount to little more than a hypothesis.

The college paper should be thoroughly representative of the best sentiment and activities of the student body. It should be constructive and careful lest it fall into the habit of wholesale criticism and censure. He who cannot construct something better to replace that which he has torn down has accomplished very little. It is only to be hoped that this idea will be incorporated in the policy of the Argonaut for the coming year. This attitude carries with it neither the suggestion of weakness nor of condescension. Rather does it indicate an intelligent perception of things—and the whole-hearted support of the faculty and student body will not be lacking.

A LOSS

In the sad death of Professor Charles A. Stewart, the University has lost a true friend and one of her most able instructors and investigators. Thoroughly versed in the details of his chosen field of education, he brot to his students the benefits of a trained and a well ordered mind. His career was characterized by uniform kindness, and his abilities as a teacher no less than his genial personal qualities, endeared him to the hearts of all.

THE ARGONAUT OFFICE

The Argonaut office seems to be as far from a reality as ever. It was hoped that room might be found to accommodate the office in the old publicity room, but such a good fortune is plainly out of the question. There is no doubt that the publicity room must be used for other and more important purposes. Lack of space in the Gym presents the same difficulty. If a room cannot be obtained in the School of Mines it becomes perfectly obvious that the Argonaut must worry thru another year without suitable headquarters. However we hope this will not be the case. The President has done his best to better conditions and we appreciate the efforts he has put forth in behalf of the establishment of a real Argonaut office.

THE ENROLLMENT

The strong enrollment this year would indicate that the booster meeting held last spring by President Brannon was by no means a failure. Not only is the present freshman class larger than ever but the number of students returning this year to complete work exceeds that of former years. Figures showed last year that the sophomore class had suffered most from class mortality. This year's junior class consequently is numerically below the average junior class.

Nevertheless it would require the darkest pessimism to foresee anything but the realization of our goal, namely, "A better, then a bigger university." Every freshman should feel that he has started to college for a four-years course and if his staying power is half equal to his resolution, he will be graduated with his class. The sad phase of it all is that many of the green capped variety do not realize what they are here for. Fraternity, life, good times, athletic prominence, etc., Mean very little if we lose sight of the bigger reasons for our presence here. If we catch the spirit of President Brannon's counsel on this subject we shall have done much toward the realization of our hopes.

FOOTBALL

"Football," said the Wise Guy, "is the greatest mixture of men, morals and manliness that the good old U. S. A. ever boasted or ever will boast. It is a glorious potpourri of all the most virile qualities of the Anglo-Saxon race and it is bound to live forever.

"The gridiron game will always hold forth as the King of College sports for the college man is altogether red-blooded and nothing speeds up the red corpuscles as much as football whether participated in as a player or a spectator.

"A fast half back gets away from the bunch; he has one man between himself and a touchdown; the score is 0 to 0 and the fourth quarter is almost finished. Will the back get by or will the defensive warrior make his tackle good?

"Now what if that speeding back was a Pullman star and what if the honor of the Silver and Gold was to stand or fall with that one tackle. Where would your heart be? Pursuing a tranquil course in its accustomed place or up among your molars where it should be?

"Of course everybody likes football but if there happen to be some few who don't they would do well to get the habit, for a real football bug is blessed among men.

PROF. HULME A STRONG SPEAKER

Under the above caption the Pend d'Oreille Review prints a two-column report of two of the addresses given by Professor Edward M. Hulme at the annual Kootenai-Bonner County Teacher's institute. The report is concluded with the follow paragraph:

"The addresses of Professor E. M. Hulme of the University of Idaho, both before the general session and in the high school sections, were highly appreciated by the teachers. No matter what his subject, moral uplift was the warp and woof of it all. Professor Hulme was intensely interesting and without his inspiring address the work of the institute would not have been complete."

NEW REGULATIONS PROVIDED IN THE UNITED STATES AFFECTING A NUMBER OF STATES

Idaho Cannot Send Candidate to Oxford in 1916 But Will Have Privilege of Sending One in 1917

President M. A. Brannon of the University of Idaho, has received a letter from Geo. R. Parkin, trustee of the Rhodes scholarship trust fund, with headquarters in London, to the effect that a considerable change in the election of Rhodes scholars in the United States has been made which includes the elimination of any candidate from Idaho in 1915, those passing the examination being eligible for 1917. The letter follows:

"You will see from the revised memorandum, which is being forwarded to you under separate cover by this post, that the trustees have decided to make a considerable change in the system of electing Rhodes scholars in the United States. It is expected that by spreading the election of scholars over three years the men may be more easily placed in the colleges of their preference at Oxford.

"I regret that in making this change it has been necessary to exclude your state from the election for 1916, as the re-arrangement has been based on the amount of competition in past years. You will note, however, that candidates who pass the qualifying examination in October, 1915, will be eligible, providing they fulfil the other conditions for appointment in 1917, when a scholar will be again elected from your state.

"While this change in the regulations may cause temporary disappointment to a few students who are looking forward to compete for the scholarship of 1916, the trustees have felt bound to overlook this in view of the permanent administrative advantages arising from the alteration. After next year the new routine of election will proceed in the ordinary way for all the state.

"I think that I should also point out to you a further change in the regulations indicated by the memorandum. Hitherto, in making application for the scholarship, competitors have been required to choose between the state in which they have their regular domicile, and the state in which they have received a large part of their education, and they were not allowed to compete in any other state than that originally chosen. This restriction is now removed and a man may, should he wish, compete in alternate years in the state in which he has his domicile and the one where he has received his education. It is hoped that this change may increase competition in states which have hitherto furnished very few candidates.

"The memorandum is being sent to all the institutions of your state of which I have knowledge, but I shall feel greatly obliged to you if you will do anything you can to make the changes in the regulations known as widely as possible."

RESOLUTIONS

Whereas, our beloved colleague, Charles Arthur Stewart, has been taken from our midst, be it

Resolved by the Faculty of the University of Idaho, that we express our admiration of his sterling character, his great scholarly attainments, and his power and success as a teacher; our deep appreciation and gratitude for his devotion to our university and his unfailing aid and counsel in the welfare of students and faculty; our keen sense of personal loss and bereavement from one so dear to us as co-worker and friend.

Resolved also that this resolution be sent to Mrs. Stewart and a copy be spread on the minutes of the faculty, and printed in the University Argonaut and public press.

STEINMAN LANDS BIG POSITION

FORMER FACULTY MEMBER OF
THE UNIVERSITY PROMOTED TO HIGH POSITION IN NEW YORK

Is Associated With Great Engineering
Firm and in Less Than Month
Jumps Into a $300 Position

D. B. Steinman, formerly of the university faculty, has received marked promotion in one of the greatest engineering companies of the world, according to a letter received by a friend from him and is now drawing a salary of $300 monthly. Extracts of his letter which follow may be interesting to his many friends and former students here:

"NEW YORK, Aug. 4. — You, and my other friends, may be interested in hearing of my success in my new work. I have been very fortunate in every way. This week, Mr. Ammann, our chief engineer, has been called to Switzerland on account of the war, and I have been promoted to his place. It is a $300 position, and carries with it the title of assistant chief engineer of the New York Connecting Railway. I have charge of a force of over 50, including engineers, draftsmen, inspectors, stenographers, etc. I never expected to be promoted so rapidly, having worked here only one month. But Mr. Lindenthal, my employer, thinks very highly of my work.

"Mr. Lindenthal was formerly bridge commissioner of the city of New York. He is now a consulting engineer and, at the same time, chief engineer of the New York Connecting Railway. Our office has charge of over $20,000,000 worth of construction for this railroad, including viaducts, bridges, and a big arch over Hell Gate of 1000 feet span, the largest in the world. The erection of this bridge will soon be commenced, as the piers are nearly completed.

"I have also worked on the design of a bridge of 245 feet span we are building for the Washington Southern Railway.

"I now have complete charge of a new project—an 1800-foot bridge for the C. & O. Railway across the Ohio river near Portsmouth, O. This is the work for which Mr. Lindenthal called me to New York. It will be a new type of bridge, on account of certain special conditions, and will be by far the largest truss span in the world. It will have a clear span of 1050 feet, nearly twice the previous record.

"I am very fortunate to be located here, because our office does the most interesting work in the field of bridges in the entire country. We have some very brainy engineers working here. Dean Fuller of the University of Washington, worked here a year ago.

"I enjoy my work immensely and feel that it would be too big a sacrifice for me to return to teaching. * * *

POPULAR IDAHO GRADUATE DEAD

"Chick" Johnson of Class of '09, Passed
Suddenly Away at Chicago

Dr. C. M. Johnson, who was most popularly known in Moscow throughout the student body of the university as "Chick," recently passed away at Chicago. A letter from James Montgomery of Chicago, to William E. Lee relates that the promising young student of medicine came to his death by blood poisoning contracted in a laboratory at the Michael Reese hospital.

Mr. Johnson lived ten days after the inoculation and was rational to the last. His mother and sisters arrived before his death.

The deceased was one of the most popular students at the university and was a graduate of the 1909 class. In athletics he was exceptionally strong and was a football star of no mean ability, having made the All-Northwest half back. He was a member of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity. He graduated from Rush Medical college with high honors and at the time of his death was an interne at the Cook county hospital.

If you desire to purchase a copy of the "1915 GEM OF THE MOUNTAINS" call at the Bursars' Office with $2.50 and receive one of the most handsome College Annuals that has ever been published at the University of Idaho. First to come will be served as there are only a few remaining.

NOTICE

To the Editor University Argonaut: The 1915 "Gem of the Mountains" is one of the best if not the best college annual that has ever been published by a Junior class of the university. This is a statement that was frequently made when the book came out, and as a matter of fact there can be no doubt about the value of the book as a souvenir of the university. There are a few left and these can be obtained at the Bursar's Office for $2.50 which is far below the cost of printing. Those students who made deposits should call for their Annual immediately. The remainder will be sold to whoever wishes one.

RESOLUTIONS READ AT ASSEMBLY

PRESIDENT BRANNON PAYS HIGH TRIBUTE TO THE WORTH OF THE LATE C. A. STEWART

Miss Fox Y. W. Secretary Delivers Principal Address—Count Shows Record Attendance

The second weekly assembly of the college year was attended by 327 students and faculty members, actual count, there being about 140 not present. This would be a good attendance when compared with the percentage that has been accustomed to attend the weekly assembly, but it is the intention of the present administration to make attendance at these meetings practically include every student and faculty member of the University.

The assembly program was opened by a vocal solo given by Professor Storer, head of the Vocal department. A tribute was paid the late professor of Geology and Minerology of the University of Idaho, Charles A. Stewart, by President Brannon, who spoke of the high qualities of the deceased, and read the following resolutions of tribute made by the State Board of Education and the Faculty of the University.

Board of Regents Pass Resolutions

Whereas, Dr. Charles Arthur Stewart was head of the Department of Geology and Minerology in the University of Idaho from 1911 to 1914, and

Whereas his work as instructor, investigator and teacher was characterized by directness, diligence, mastery and devotion. Be it

Resolved that the Board of Education and Board of Regents of the University of Idaho place on their minutes an appreciation of Dr. Stewart as gentleman, scholar, and friend of students and faculty in the University, and valued worker for the entire state of Idaho.

The Board further desires to express its keen feeling of loss and great sorrow because this sturdy scholar and strong man of high character and most excellent service has been removed by death from the faculty of the University of Idaho. It is further

Resolved that a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to the wife of Dr. Stewart.

Dr. Stewart was born in New York on December 1st, 1885. He was educated in Columbia University, from which he received the degrees A.B. in 1906, A.M. in 1907, and Ph.D. in 1912. He was assistant in mineralogy at Columbia in 1907-8, instructor in geology at Cornell 1908-11, associate professor at the University of Idaho 1911-13, and professor of geology from 1913 until his death in New York, August 29th, 1914.

The speaker of the hour was Miss Fox, student secretary of the Y. W. C. A. for the Northwest, who is here helping to organize the local branch of that organization for the coming term. As Dr. Brannon said at the close of the meeting, "Of all subjects, things of human interest are most interesting of all." Miss Fox in her speech certainly dealt with things of human interest, describing the work which she as a member of the Y. W. C. A. of Columbia University helped to carry on in the East Side district of the City of New York. She depicted from real experiences the uncleanly, unsanitary conditions in which the children of the slums are permitted, simply to exist. She described the work which the college students as members of the Christian society were carrying on in those districts and the wonderful results that were being realized through their efforts. She also described the work that is being carried on by the Y. W. and Y. M. C. A. at other universities, and showed the movement of the often called, "Living Religion" that is being instilled into these organizations, and the success with which they are meeting. In this, altho she did not say as much, she certainly pointed out the fatal defect, that is making these organizations at the University of Idaho, merely nominal affairs. So long as a religious organization strives only to save itself by religious meetings, in this day and age of the world especially among college students, it will be wrecked by its own workings. It is the things of human interest and the actual accomplishment of results in life, that calls big men and big women to the standard of Christianity.

Miss Fox is an interesting speaker and a personage with a magnetic influence which has doubtless been gained by her experience in the active practice of Christianity. It is to be hoped that her efforts will place the Idaho organizations on a plane equal to that of the Columbia University of which she gave so interesting a description.

JOINT RECEPTION

Y. W. and Y. M. Hold Annual Event in the Gym.

Friday evening, September 25, in the Gymnasium the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A.'s will hold their annual reception for all college students.

This is the first opportunity the new student has to meet the rest of the student body in a social way, and every one should make an effort to be present.

A pleasant evening and a better realization of what college life really means are a part of the benefits received from attending the joint reception. Therefore, Come!

The Y. W. C. A. cabinet of W. S. C., has been invited over for the occasion; and Miss Elizabeth Fox will be present. Toasts will be given, the purposes of the Y. W. C. A. set forth and the principles of membership in it will be explained.

Every girl in college whether a member of the association or not is invited and expected to attend.

The Y. W. C. A. association has received much encouragement this year. A special room for Y. W. C. A. purposes, which has long been needed, has been promised to the girls, and they are very happy at the prospect of a permanent room for their own use.

The association this year is well organized and began the new school year right by having an information bureau for the new students, where they handed out neat little folders containing their schedule of meetings for this semester and a copy of "Alma Mater, Idaho."

STRICTLY BUSINESS

"At 10 o'clock tomorrow morning I will be prepared to answer your proposal of marriage."

"Why the delay?"

"It gives me time to play fair with another suitor. If he doesn't come across when he hears of your offer I'll take you."

"Under the circumstances I must withdraw my offer."

"Must you? Then under the circumstances I waive the other chance and take you."

Oregon promises to have a winning team this year. Coach Bezek has not yet arrived but Captain Parsons and Quarterback Cornell are putting the squad thru preliminary workouts.

Gonzaga promises one of the heaviest teams in the history of the school.

With two weeks training before actual registration, W. S. C. promises to put out a well drilled team this fall. Many of the old men are in the game, while much is expected of the new material on hand.

Mrs. E. W. Ellis and Miss Dorothy Richfield; Helen Davis, Malad; Gladys Ellis were guests of the Kappa Sigma fraternity Tuesday for dinner.

Mrs. E. W. Ellis, Anaconda, spent several days at the Gamma Phi Beta house this week.

Miss Elizabeth Fox will be the guest of Gamma Phi Beta sorority at dinner Thursday evening.

The Misses Edna and Mary Mellison have returned to school after an absence of a year and a half.

Madel Rudesill, '14, who is teaching in Kendrick, came up for the Omega Pi luncheon Saturday afternoon.

Miss Ella Woods, graduate of the class of '01, is taking a degree in Home Economics. She is house mother of Omega Pi.

Mrs. Wm. Balderston of Boise, is house mother for Delta Gamma. They count themselves very fortunate to have such a charming and well-known woman with them.

The pledges for Omega Pi are: Miss Boland of Wendell, Ida.; Miss Mullin of Pocatello, and Miss Vesta Cornwall of Moscow, and Miss Helga Anderson of Payette.

Delta Gamma has pledged the following girls: Camille McDaniel, Moscow; Dorothy Addy, Minneapolis; Helen Bowden, Sandpoint; Dois Bowden, Sandpoint; Florence Mayne, Sandpoint; Coral Morgan, Coeur d'Alene; Fredrica Jemerson, Payette.

The new pledges of Gamma Phi Beta are the Misses Tress McMahon, Dittmore and Marjorie McCrea, Coeur d'Alene; Gladys Johnson, Joyce Jenness and Nora Ashton, Nampa; Angelina Burns, Payette; Verna Johannessen, Rupert; Evelyn Cox, Wardner; Permelia and Gertrude Hay's, Boise; and Kathleen Carlyle and Katherine Franz, Moscow.

Carter Wood of Boise, has been elected republican nominee for probate judge in Ada county. The contest was close, Mr. Wood winning over his opponent by only two votes. Mr. Wood is one of the youngest attorneys of the state having graduated from the university only last June. His father is Judge Fremont Wood, prominent for thirty years at the Idaho bar.

UNDERCLASSMEN FIX TRUCE

Freshies Have Suffered All Kinds of Indignities But Both Classes Will Arbitrate Disputes

The hazing spirit at the University of Idaho has been broken and a truce has been called which will probably hold good until March 17, the date when the annual fracas is pulled off. Sophomores and Freshmen have been having a merry time at the University almost nightly since the University opened and last night the climax came when the forces of the Sophomore and Freshmen classes clashed on the campus in what was regarded as one of the most exciting scrimmages of the season.

All kinds of indignities have been suffered by the "freshies" at the hands of the "sophs" and the former have not always come out second best. Ducking in ponds, the water cure, jaunts to the country in which students were forced to make long walks home late at night, tied to trees and other harmless sports have been indulged in. President Brannon called an emergency meeting in which the two classes were represented and the grievances will be submitted to the president later and arbitrated by committees. The campus fracas Thursday night was halted by a message from President Brannon. The Sophomores buried the hatchet and acted as hosts to the Freshmen in refreshments down town.

Through a Madison (Wis.) newspaper received here, the sudden death of Herman Root, formerly an instructor at the U. of I. is reported. He was a resident of Viroqua, Wis., and had just gone to Madison to do some further work at the state university. He was carrying a trunk to his lodgings when he suffered a hemorrhage. He expired shortly afterwards. The young man was known to many people in Moscow.

UNIVERSITY AIDS FAIR

Many Faculty Members Donate Their Time to the Success of the Fair

The university exhibits are exceedingly interesting and instructive. The charts and samples of fruit explaining the results of spraying and the advantages of summer pruning over winter pruning are most startling. The exhibit of canned goods is particularly fine and will amaze many visitors who do not know that the university runs a canning factory. The live stock department is well represented.

The interest taken by the university in the Fourth Annual Latah County Fair has been marked and the administrative officers are to be congratulated on the splendid showing that has been made. The exhibit of live stock under direction of E. J. Iddings is composed of horses, sheep, cattle and hogs. The dairy exhibit has been placed under direction of Prof. E. V. Ellington. Prof. C. C. Vincent has brought out a very splendid display of canned products, while the agronomy exhibit under direction of Prof. Robb is excellent. Miss Hoover, of the domestic science department, is judging work of the children's contest clubs in sewing and cookery and is being assisted by Miss Leiby, both working in conjunction with Miss Dewey of the high school. Prof. Hickman is judging the live stock and the domestic science department will entertain the school children tomorrow with a luncheon at the university.

FINE EXHIBIT OF RELICS

J. W. DeWitt Contributed Splendid Collection Now on Display at the Fair.

The historical relics exhibited by J. W. De Witt will well repay the careful inspection of every visitor to the fair. The relics were brought from Maryland by Mrs. DeWitt's family and from Ohio by Mr. De Witt. They include furniture, fancy work, and books more than 200 years old; and some of the articles are as interesting as any seen in large and famous collections. The bureau dating from 1810 and the chest from 1780, both of black walnut, are lovely. A box made in Norway in 1824 is extremely interesting. That is the property of Mrs. Dolsat but is shown with the De Witt collection.

A French sword, a mirror from 1817, a Holland cooking vessel from 1760, a patent to land signed by Martin Van Buren in 1838, a Bible of 1794 and one of 1818, quilts, pictures, and other curios make up this most entertaining and instructive collection. The De Witt family, one of the most substantial in the county, may well be proud of these mementoes of a long and honorable lineage.
