UNITED EFFORTS AT SPECIAL ASSEMBLY

IN ONE OF THE MOST STIRRING ASSEMBLIES OF YEARS FACULTY AND STUDENTS MET TO JOIN FORCES FOR COMMON CAUSE

Speeches Full of Enthusiasm—Selections by University Band, and Assembly Singing Full Spirited

We have enjoyed the effects of a genuine fright this week! The idea that we were about to lose Pres. Brannon was very slow to sink into our complacent skulls. But once on the inside, that very idea did more stirring than some of our pessimistic friends thought possible. When word reached here, Monday noon, that Dr. Brannon had filed his resignation with the board of Education the students and faculty were stunned. As soon as the faculty heads could collect their wits measures to prevent the resignation being accepted were at once begun.

The formal protest, signed by all the heads of departments and all of the faculty that could be found in the city limits, was wired to the Board of Education, which is now meeting in Boise, Monday night. But as the real results of such a disastrous course began to be realized from all points the faculty decided that it would not be safe to rest the case there; and consequently a special assembly of the faculty and students, where the whole thing could be threshed out, was called.

The assembly, which, by the way, Dean Eldridge vows was the biggest in the history of the institution, met at ten o'clock Tuesday in the auditorium. After singing "America" with almost enough vigor to satisfy Prof. Storer, Dean Eldridge explained the purpose of the meeting and briefly stated his own feelings of sorrow and regret that such a meeting should be necessary at all. The rest of the time was occupied by speech making. Dean Little, of the college of Engineering was the first to follow Mr. Eldridge. Mr. Little treated his theme in such a sincere and sensible manner that all saw at once the real gravity of the occasion. He was followed by Dean Iddings of the college of Agriculture, who explained the needs of the State University and named the qualities that go to make up the competent executive. All of those qualities he showed were collect in the person of Pres. Brannon.

At this point resolutions were introduced in which the students asked the Board of Education not to accept the resignation. The resolutions were adopted, upon the motion of J. Phillips and ordered sent to the Board at once.

John McEvers, a senior of the college of law, made an excellent talk in which he attempted to point out the grave responsibility of the students and also their influence if exerted at the right time. John did not hesitate to say that he did not approve of the method of allowing politicians to "lord it over us" without a protest on our part.

Coach Griffith spoke of the fine quality of loyalty which we should exhibit now. He was followed by Dean Ayers, Prof. Patterson, Rev. Watson, and others. "Hump" led in giving some cheers for Prexy and for Idaho.

Of course we are more than delighted with the turn of events at Boise. We are not in a position to state accurately whether our action here had any influence with the Board or not; but we do know that they did the best thing that was possible. Pres. Brannon wired his appreciation and gratitude to the faculty and the student body Wednesday, and we feel sure that he meant it.

One thing that ought not to be forgotten is the thing mentioned by Prof. Patterson; that we should all get busy and tell the people of the state of Idaho what the needs of the University really are. This will be the quickest way of informing our legislators that they did not burden us with too much money for the next two years. For surely the legislature ought to know! "Hurray for Prexy!"

AYERS LAW CLUB

In the First Year Law Court the Assumpsit for March 23 was by Messrs Dingle and Hays. Dean Ayers discussed some of the principles underlying the subject. On March 30 Trover and Replevin by Emmett and Chandler with explanatory remarks by Dean Ayers.

On April 6 a case of much interest and importance will be under consideration. The case is known as Dimple vs. Pryor. Attorneys Owens and McDougall will act for the plaintiff, Martin and Williams for the defendant.

This same case, Dimple vs. Pryor, was considered on April 2 in the Second Year Court. Attorneys Purdy and Bowers appeared for the plaintiff, Creason and Bonneville for the defendant.

FORENSIC EDITOR WRITES OF TRIP

HOSPITALITY AND GREAT RESPECT SHOWN TO IDAHO REPRESENTATIVE WHEREVER THEY TRAVELED—FORENSIC RELATIONS BETWEEN COLLEGES ENCOURAGED

Lofty Mountains, Barren Deserts, Magnificent Lakes, Resplendent Sunsets and Rippling Mountain Streams Added to the Ever Changing Panorama of Nature's Handiwork

In responding to the request of our editor that I give an account of the recent debate trips which Mr. Beckman and I took, I can say that I enjoyed the trip very much, but I do not so much enjoy the writing of these things, and I am sure that the reader will obtain even less pleasure out of the reading of them. Anyway we felt greatly honored in being privileged to represent the U. of I. on this trip, and we found that the good name of our University found for us a ready welcome wherever we went.

The first two days landed us in Pocatello. This part of the trip was made interesting from the fact that the warm spring sunshine had covered the hills with grass and flowers, and had set the towns humming with industry in preparation for the spring work. I could not ask for a happier day than the one spent in Blackfoot, with my folks, and I am sure that Mr. Beckman enjoyed equally as well his visit, with his relatives in Ontario.

At Logan we were cordially received by Mr. Bearson and others, who made our visit there most agreeable. The attendance at the debate was large and showed genuine college spirit. The audience was enthusiastic, but quite impartial. Judge Fulson of Salt Lake City acted as judge. The opposing side, Mr. Nelson and Mr. Starley, who were polished and vigorous speakers, accepted our outline of the case, and fought us fairly and squarely. After the debate a most refreshing banquet was served to the debaters, judge, and others. The toasts were unanimous in a desire to further continue and promote the friendly relationship between U. A. C. and U. of I. Our esteem and admiration for our Utah neighbors was greatly increased by the many kindnesses which we received at their hands.

We arrived in the inter-mountain metropolis, Salt Lake City, Saturday morning and saw many of the interesting sights of the far famed city. We saw the wonderful L. D. S. Tabernacle, and Temple. We also saw, but did not hear the magnificent tabernacle organ.

After leaving Salt Lake City, we crossed the vast Salt Lake Desert and traversed the Sierra Nevada Mts., which presented many magnificent views. Our eyes opened with wonder when we beheld the vast orange fields, which surround Los Angeles. The oranges were hanging ripe and heavy on the trees. Neither were they growing in boxes as Mr. Beckman had led me to believe they were.

We spent many pleasant hours viewing the beautiful city of Los Angeles. Dr. W. C. Brigham, a former resident of Moscow, and student of the U. of I., was to blame for most of our fun in Los Angeles. Dr. Brigham wished to be remembered to his Moscow friends. He is a doctor of considerable prominence in Los Angeles. Arthur Lyon, who attended the U. of I. last year, and is now attending the U. S. C., wished to be remembered to Idaho friends. Mr. Lyon is making rapid progress and has represented U. S. C. in one of her debates this year. Mr. Oleson treated us very cordially.

The large crowd that gathered to witness the contest showed that U. S. C. is imbued with the proper debating spirit. Our opponents, Mr. Collins and Mr. Ames, were skilled, vigorous, and intelligent debaters, who accepted our interpretation of the question and it was upon this point, as in Logan that won the debate.

After the debate we were feasted and toasted, and shown every courtesy that our hearts could desire. We left Los Angeles with a strong feeling of friendship for our California neighbors, and a desire to see more of them in the future.

The two days spent at the exposition were perhaps the most instructive and interesting days of our lives. In spite of Mosaic economy Idaho can boast of a respectable representation at the fair. We spent one day visiting Leland Stanford and Berkley University. We were very favorably impressed with the Leland Stanford University, and no longer marvel that it should occupy such a high standing in the educational world, and that it turns out such great men as our own Professor Hulme.

The trip from San Francisco to Portland took us through some very fine scenery. Among other things we drank out of the famous Shasta Springs. Our stay in Portland and the remainder of our trip was exceedingly delightful. Our arrival in Moscow and the way in which the students and faculty seem to appreciate the victories won is no less gratifying.

Harvard

At Harvard an effort is being made to have the laboratories open at night so that afternoon lab work will not interfere with participation in athletics by science students.

Harvard's best debaters are enlisted for the second annual forensic competition for the Lee Wade Prize for public speaking in Sanders theater tonight. Sophomores, juniors and seniors are competing. Prizes of $25, $15 and $10 are the smallest part of the honors at stake.

LUMBER INDUSTRY GROWING STRONG

FORESTRY CLUB AT UNIVERSITY HEAR TWO ABLE ADDRESSES AFFECTING TIMBER INDUSTRY

History of Lumber Association Given— Prominent Timber Man Discussed the Tax Problem

At their regular meeting, Monday evening the Associated Foresters were again favored with a program especially interesting and valuable to those at all interested in forestry and the lumber industry. A very able paper on "The Association and Its Relation to the Lumber Industry" was read by A. W. Cooper, secretary of the Western Pine Manufacturers' Association and was followed by a brief discussion on "Tax Matters of the Lumber Industry" by C. H. Fancher of the Milwaukee Land company.

Mr. Cooper took up the history of the lumber association in general, showing the need for co-operation among individual concerns because of increased competition as a result of larger mills, rapid settlement of new lands, modern methods of communication and transportation, and consequently more distant markets. This increase in competition made evident the lack of a standardized product and it was to remedy this that the first association of lumbermen was brought together. From then on the functions of the association have increased in number and importance. This first attempt at a standardization of grades expressed or classified them in dollars and cents, based upon price-lists obtained from experience.

The next step was an attempt to stabilize the actual selling price of the product, but these efforts proved abortive because of the inexorable law of supply and demand. Later the character of lumber associations has changed. Sherman Anti-trust laws and other such agitation have made such attempts at regulating prices rather dangerous and lumbermen have conceived the idea of improving prices by remedying the fundamental causes, he said. So one chief function of the association now is to gather statistics relative to all such causes. Transportation matters, protection of standardized grades by use of inspecting machines, stimulation of demand of the commodity and many other minor functions now comprise a large part of lumber association activity.

Having thus discussed what associations have done and are doing, Mr. Cooper went on to say that the possibilities of the association are only beginning to be realized. The so-called "war of the substitutes," or the invasion into the fields where lumber was once supreme by all other building materials, partly due to natural progress but mostly to the inertia of the lumberman, offers a vast field of work to the association which the individual concern could not attempt to cover. The general lack of knowledge of the lumberman of his own final product opens a field of research to the association; processes of manufacture should be standardized; the product itself has yet to be standardized; the public should be educated to the possibilities of wood; the association should be a well organized employment department; a trade-mark should be established and many other such functions which the association does not exercise, Mr. Cooper believes it should and will do.

Mr. Fancher's topic was that of one of the greatest, if not the greatest problem before the lumberman today the tax question. In his thorough study of the statistics for the past five years relative to the tax matters of the lumber industry, he has uncovered convincing proof for the reasons for high taxes. He stated that taxes could be reduced only through economic handling of expenditures, and that high valuation, while it should mean low expenditures, always means high expenditures, because the maximum allowance is always spent. He also pointed out that it is not only wrong in principle but wrong in public policy that standing timber should be taxed every year, thus forcing the owner to cut before the timber has reached maximum growth. As it is with the farm products, no value is received from the timber crop until it is cut.

This is but one of the very interesting and practical programs held by the foresters this year and all others have been as valuable as well as vital, not only to forestry students but to everyone, for the study of forestry covers a large field.

Y. M. C. A. WILL CONDUCT MEETINGS

The Young Men's Christian Association will have charge of the Young People's meetings in the Methodist, Baptist, Presbyterian, and Christian Churches next Sunday evening. The meetings will begin at 6:30.

The leaders will speak on "The American Undergraduate." Many people have various notions of the undergraduate. Some are based on erroneous ideas, such as the notice which appeared in Horace Greeley's paper a number of years ago to the effect that college students and other horned cattle need not apply for positions. The leaders will discuss very frankly the college man's ambitions. His religious aspirations. Does he take life seriously? And other kindred subjects, with particular reference to our own University life.

The Christian Association is very desirous of making these meetings practical and helpful. All young people are most cordially invited to be present. There will be special music.

THE FACULTY LADIES ENTERTAIN

On Tuesday of this week the ladies of the faculty gave the second of a series of parties for the town ladies at Ridenbaugh Hall. A delightful program was arranged, in which the girls of Miss Stephen's fancy dancing class took an active part. Louise Clamby and Mildred Brown gave a Scottish sword dance, Charlotte Lewis, Lillian Carithers, and Florence Richardson appeared in a graceful dance of Spring, and Flora Loomis and Marjory Zumhof did a pretty tomboone dance. Miss Fuller played a solo with her usual charm of interpretation, and Mr. Humphries sang two of his most spirited songs. After the program the faculty ladies served their guests with fruit salad and sandwiches. Everyone had a genuine good time.

Helter—"What sort of town is New York?"

Skelter—"Judge for yourself. Two of its boroughs are named after cock-tails."—Judge.

ASSEMBLY

When the news of President Brannon's resignation reached us, the heart of every University man and woman protested that it must not be so. In response to the call of Dean Eldridge for a special meeting on Tuesday, every student and faculty member was present, and never in the history of the present generation of students has such a unity of spirit been shown. A telegram to the State Board of Education asking that the resignation of our President be declined, was read. It was signed by all the heads of departments. Faculty and student representatives there spoke, all filled with the one thought, our President must not leave us.

Dean C. N. Little

We want to say in as vigorous a way as possible what the results would be of the leaving of President Brannon. It is a difficult thing to be an ideal University President, but in all things pertaining to such an office Dr. Brannon is a remarkable President. It would be a distinct calamity if he left us and we want to let the people know.

Dean E. J. Iddings

There is one thing for us to do, to prevent the President from leaving the University and the state. Many of us do not realize the extent of the University activities. It requires a scholar and an executive to oversee Colleges of Letters and Sciences, Law, Engineering, Agriculture, and Extension of the University to the homes of the state. We have been astonished at the ready grasp with which President Brannon has taken hold of and mastered the problems here, and our future success depends upon us keeping him here.

J. M. Pond, Senior Class

President Brannon has all the qualities necessary to manage the many interests here. His greatest attribute is his insight into human nature and his understanding of the problems of each one of us.

Coach J. S. Griffith

What would become of us if the President should leave us? If at any time we need spirit, we need it today, just as we need the Idaho spirit before a game. We are all for the President. He is a man who says "no" when he thinks "no" should be said and "yes" when he thinks "yes" should be said. We have become to grow more now and we cannot afford to take a back step.

John McEvers, Senior Law

In one year the President has brought such solidarity to our body that the call of the Dean has brought every student and faculty member here to protest against the removal of our President. Where we have a good man we must treat him square, else he will move where there is gratitude. The ingratitude of a Legislature to this man has resulted in his resignation. Leaders from this body can be of great power and legislators will not disregard our attitude. The resolutions of this body should be sent to every part of this state in order that people may know what we think. If we and the state get behind our President he will be of untold value to the state.

Francis Jenkins, Bursar

He has proved his ability. He has brought peace and harmony out of chaos and not only should the Board of Education not accept his resignation, but they should give him more power.

Rev. Jonathan Watson

It is with sincere regret that such an occasion as this should fall. Dr. Brannon could not do otherwise than he has done. I have grown gray in public service, mingled with men in politics and education, but never have I met with a man as near the ideal man as Dr. Brannon. His resignation is the most constructive piece of work Idaho has seen, for it will mean whether Idaho is to be ruled by politics or by men. Our slogan must be, "Politicians must decrease, the University increase." We must stand together. Dr. Brannon should definitely understand our loyalty, our love, our friendship of leadership. His removal would mean the disintegration of the University.

S. G. Patterson

A year ago there was a great deal of tension. No one knew what was going to happen. The Board of Regents, Faculty, and students accepted Dr. Brannon as our leader. Bitter tongues started but were silenced, men after the mighty dollar sprung up, veiled snarling attacks have arisen and things have come to a pass where we must either deny our President and our Alma Mater, lie down while peanut politicians in the name of economy walk over us, or we must stand up and say, "This is my Alma Mater." We must get behind Dr. Brannon to make him greater in power and bring order out of the present condition. Support a great man with an active support (Every person in assembly rise to support the movement to get men rather than politicians into our legislature and to support the President in his efforts.)

Dean Eldridge

The echoes of this spirit should be heard over the entire state. No other executive ever put in the hours that Dr. Brannon has done. Everywhere he has the right word and I have never left Dr. Brannon's office without gaining something and feeling that I have met a man.

Dean Ayers

Get busy. Write to all your friends and let Boise and everyone in the state know and feel that Dr. Brannon must stay in the state. Let them know that the cause of higher education has come to stay.

There have been times again and again when the forces of evil have arisen. Again and again men have arisen to snatch the victory from their hands. Let us arise now and snatch victory from defeat and this day will mark the beginning of the fulfillment of our desires.

NEW FOOTBALL RULES

Changes in the football rules made by the Rules Committee in New York, February 5 and 6, 1915.

By pasting these various paragraphs in your 1914 Rule Book at the pages indicated you will have your book revised to date. The 1915 Rule Book will not come out until July.

PARKE H. DAVIS.

Page 98, Rule III, Sec. 2.—Substitutes must report IMMEDIATELY to the Referee or Umpire. Communicating with members of their team before so doing will be regarded as coaching.

Page 98, Rule III, Sec. 2.—Players withdrawn from play may be returned to play only during an intermission between two succeeding quarters. (This return to the rule of 1912 has been made necessary by the abuse made by coaches of the privilege of returning players at any time during the last period.)

Page 99, Rule II, Sec. 3.—The Rules Committee recommends that all players upon each side be conspicuously numbered, no two numbers upon the same team being the same.

Page 102, Rule VI, Sec. 2.—The ball is not snapped back until it has left the possession of the snapper-back. (This change is aimed to prevent a questionable class of plays in which the snapper-back put the ball in play but retained possession of it by concealing it momentarily between his legs.)

Page 106, Rule VI, Sec. 13, (d).—This section is re-worded for clearness as follows: "When a kicked ball (except when one scoring a goal) strikes the opponents' goal post or bar before being touched by a player of either side, or when a kicked ball, except one from a kick-off, or free-kick, goes over opponents' goal line before being touched by a player of either side." (This defines one of the instances in which the ball is dead.)

Page 107, Rule VI, Sec. 15, Par. 3.—The Touchback which arises when a player, being off-side and within his opponents' 10-yard line, touches the ball, may be declined by the offended side. (Such declination obviously would occur when the offended side on the play had succeeded in running the ball beyond their 20-yard line, upon which the Touch-back, if not declined, would place the ball.)

Page 108, Rule VI, Sec. 16.—Insert the following: "It is a safety if a team puts the ball in play and commits a foul behind their goal and the distance penalty ensuing would necessitate their putting the ball down for the next scrimmage at a point behind their goal line." (This new declaration of a safety is designed to cover a rare but possible occurrence.)

Page 118, Rule XII. Add to this Rule the words, "or the player punting out." (This rule defines the players who may be out of bounds and heretofore did not include the punter out, thus making the written rule now conform to actual practice.)

Page 127, Rule XVIII, Sec. 1.—Omit from this rule the words, "before touching a player of either side." (This is the rule covering accidental passing of the ball backward out of bounds by the snapper-back.) To this rule also add a note as follows: "This play shall count as a down if recovered by the passer's side."

Page 127, Rule XVII, Sec. 7.—If the ball having been touched by an eligible player of the side making a forward pass is touched by a second eligible player of that side, while the ball still is in the air, the play shall be deemed an incomplete forward pass. (Heretofore such a play has been penalized as provided in this rule, but as such a play usually is accidental, such penalizing is unduly severe and so has been abrogated.)

Page 130, Rule XVIII. Add a new section: "If an incompleting forward pass and an off-side play by opponents, occur on the same down, the off-side play shall be penalized, and the incompleting forward pass shall not count as a down."

Page 130, Rule XVIII, Sec. 8.—If the ball after having been legally passed forward goes out of bounds it shall be an incomplete forward pass. (This change is intended to prevent a team from intentionally throwing a forward pass out of bounds in lieu of making a punt and it applies to any forward pass whether upon the fly, or bound, or having been previously touched. Heretofore the ball if on the fly went to opponents at the point where the ball crossed the side line. Hereafter it will merely go as an incomplete forward pass but on the last down will go to opponents at the spot of the down.)

Page 130, Rule XVIII, Sec. 8.—Add a note: The position of the feet of a player catching a forward pass, and not the position of the ball, determine whether or not a forward pass is caught out of bounds.

Page 130, Rule XVIII, Sec. 2.—Running into the player who has kicked the ball shall be penalized by a loss of 15 yards. "Roughing" the player who has kicked the ball shall be penalized by disqualification as heretofore. (This change recognizes that the kicker occasionally is run into unintentionally and without flagrant roughness. Heretofore this was penalized by disqualification under "roughing." This penalty was believed to be too severe and so a distinction has been made between "running into" the kicker and "roughing" him.)

Page 134, Rule XXIII.—Add a new section: If a player of the side in possession of the ball unnecessarily runs into a player of the other side, after the whistle has blown, the offender's side shall be penalized by the loss of 10 yards measured from the point where the ball was declared dead. (This is intended to meet a practice which has recently arisen of unnecessarily running into the secondary defenders, immediately after the cessation of play, thereby inviting roughness.)

Page 134, Rule XXIII, Sec. 5.—If a player "in the open" raises his foot higher than his knee and thereby strikes an opponent it shall be regarded as unnecessary roughness and shall be penalized by the loss of 15 yards. (This is intended to prevent an end rush from pivoting upon one foot and swinging the other leg around in an outstretched position so as to strike the tackle or an opposing back coming thru; and it also is intended to prevent players while lying upon the ground, "in the open," from swinging their feet about in the air for the purpose of interfering with opponents who happen to be within reach. The distinction of "in the open" has been following the analogy of hurdling, so as not to penalize the players in the center of the line who unintentionally and helplessly are occasionally thrown into the same position.)

Page 134, Rule XXIII, Sec. 7.—The penalty for unsportsmanlike conduct shall be the loss of 15 yards by the offending side, in addition to which in flagrant cases the offending player or players may be disqualified. (This is intended to recognize varying degrees of such conduct and to provide suitable penalties. Hitherto offending players have been suspended for the remainder of the game, which in some instances has been regarded as unduly severe.)

Page 136, Rule XXIV, Sec. 1.—The Rules Committee strongly deprecates the use of substitutes for purposes of sideline coaching, as this is against the best interests of the game and sport.

Page 139, Rule XXVI.—The officials of the game shall consist of a Referee, an Umpire, a Field Judge and a Linesman. (The use of a Field Judge thereby has been made compulsory on a count of the growth of forward passing and the inability of three officials to cover the present game.

TRIBUTE OF STUDENT BODY

In view of the fact that we, students of the University of Idaho, recognize the splendid qualities of President Melvin A. Brannon; his zeal and faithfulness as chief executive; his sagacity and far-sightedness as an organizer, and above all, his honesty and impartiality as a man and a friend;

In view of the fact that we are all pleased with the excellent reforms he has begun, with the real spirit of Idaho he has helped to make manifest, and with the harmony he has brought about throughout all departments of the institution and all phases of student activity and organization;

Therefore, Be It Resolved, That we express to the Board of Education our sincere sorrow and anxiety caused by the news that President Brannon has placed his resignation in their hands;

And we respectfully petition that our feelings be considered before it is determined whether the resignation shall be accepted, for we feel that the loss of such an excellent executive as Dr. Brannon has proved himself to be would be a very great set-back to the progress of education in Idaho.

The University of Idaho

PURPOSE—To render service to all of the people in Idaho all of the time and in every possible way.

EQUIPMENT—A faculty of men and women of high ideals and thoro training; laboratories and a library which make modern and exact training in languages, sciences and philosophy possible.

ORGANIZATION AND WORK — There are four colleges in the University of Idaho: Letters and Sciences, Agriculture, Engineering, and Law. Special opportunities for research are made possible by the Agricultural Experiment Station and other science laboratories; particular and state-wide service in Home Economics, Boys' and Girls' Clubs, Field Demonstrations in all subjects pertaining to the widely diversified agricultural Extension staff. Instruction and demonstration has been taken to more than twenty thousand people in Idaho during the past year by means of the Extension work. If all of the people cannot come to the University, then the University wishes to go to all of the citizens of the state.

WHY ALL IDAHO COLLEGE STUDENTS SHOULD ATTEND THEIR OWN UNIVERSITY:

1. It is their own University. It belongs to every man, woman, and child in Idaho. No tuition is charged. The state appropriates approximately one hundred dollars annually toward the education of every student enrolled in the State University.

2. The cost of living is modest. It should not exceed $350 to $400 per year for a student coming from any part of the state.

3. It is democratic. Many students earn their own living while attending the University. A recent survey shows that over $16,000.00 were earned by students while in residence this year.

4. It is the best University in America for men and women who expect to engage in the business and civic life of Idaho. Here is the group of men and women who represent state loyalty. Here is the place for "plain living and high thinking." This is the people's University. Here are being trained your associates for future state leadership in business, in state development and in right living.

An unusual photoplay attraction is the main feature at the Casino, Monday and Tuesday. John Emerson in Charles Frohman's recent successful production, "The Conspiracy," described as a detective comedy-drama of modern New York. The four-part Famous Players-Paramount film version of this thrilling subject is a faithful reproduction of the original play presented before metropolitan audiences for two entire seasons. Appearing in the star's support is Lois Meredith, individually worth more than ordinary consideration, having been the star of the recent dramatic success, "Help Wanted." The production promises a greater number of thrills and laughs than the usual photo-comedy dramas. adv
