OUR ATHLETIC DEPARTMENT

COACH RADEMACHER MAKES A STRONG IMPRESSION

Idaho Students Looking For Big Returns This Fall

The athletic department of our University has undergone a complete change during the year. Coach Rademacher and Mr. Beghold have assumed the positions occupied last year by Coaches Edmundson and Griffith, Physical Director Van der Veer and Graduate Manager Fayre.

Mr. Rademacher is a graduate of the University of Chicago, where he played football three years under Stagg, and was selected as an all western tackle on that mythical organization. Since graduation, Mr. Rademacher has been coaching at Roswell, Arizona, where he has turned out some successful teams.

At Idaho, he has already made a real impression, perhaps the more particularly on his football squad, but also upon the entire student body. From all corners of the campus come reports of confidence and approval in the man and his work. And he is working, too. If you doubt it, try to interview him just once and see for yourself the 20 things he has in mind simultaneously. Being coach, graduate manager and head of the athletic department, he is somewhat the busy man.

On the football field, he has no use for a quitter and he is no respecter of persons or athletic reputations. His men are all men to him, he plays no favorites and he demands full return from every individual for his time on the field. The men train because they have to, in order to stand the pace he sets, and he is teaching them football. Men like Purdy, who have played at the game for ten years, frankly admit they are just beginning to learn it.

Mr. Beghold comes directly from the Springfield, Massachusetts, school for men who specialize in athletics. He has taken hold as an assistant football coach, and has already proved his worth as a valuable adjunct to the coaching staff. Taking a light second team string of men, he has rounded them already into a sufficiently well organized unit to give Coach Rademacher's huskies some occasional surprises.

Mr. Beghold has charge of the physical culture work for men and will probably coach Idaho's basketball team this winter. In passing, it might be well to remark that Idaho's basketball prospects at the present time look particularly bright. Mr. Beghold will have material to work with.

Idaho's football team has not an exceptionally hard schedule this fall, games are not numerous and cover a considerable period of time. Saturday's battle with Montana is really the only objectionable feature, since Coach Rademacher is by no means satisfied that his team is sufficiently well drilled to be thrown against such an aggregation of all-stars as Montana possesses. At Pullman, "experts" frankly concede the game to Montana on a 30-0 basis. At Idaho, the students are solidly aligned behind our coach and his team, and, victory or defeat, they will be there still. We shall see what we shall see.

The Evergreen remarks that Idaho has only five old men returned for football this fall, Captain Brown, Groniger, Martinson, McCormick and Bowers. They seem, somehow, to have overlooked Dewald, Hays, Dingle, Ross, Purdy, and Gerlough. Add the two and the array looks rather formidable, doesn't it?

Y. M. C. A. STAG RECEPTION

At Gymnasium—Evening Spent in Sports, Boxing, Wrestling, Etc.

The annual stag reception of the Y. M. C. A. was held in the Gymnasium on the evening of September 24. 200 men turned out to enter into the sports and form the acquaintance of new students.

The first part of the evening was spent in getting acquainted and singing school songs, after which President Brannon and Coach Rademacher were called on for short talks. President Brannon laid stress on the value of Christianity and Good Fellowship for which the Y. M. C. A. stands. Coach Rademacher told of his plans for promoting athletics. He urged every student to enter some form of athletics.

After the coach finished, some mats were placed on the floor and R. B. Felton representing the Freshmen, was pitted against A. J. Priest, representing the Sophomores, in a rooster fight. Mr. Priest, by virtue of his longer spurs, proved victor.

Wrestling and boxing contests were then staged between representatives of the classes until Clarence Johnson announced that the remainder of the evening would be spent at Prof. Morley's. All present left the Gymnasium at once for the Idaho Club where refreshments were served. Throughout the entire evening there was a noticeable spirit of freedom and good fellowship. The Y. M. C. A. plans several other social affairs for the year.

SOPHS ARE ACTIVE FRESHMAN ELECTION

Last Monday night, or more probably early Tuesday morning, the Sophomores managed to decorated the town with their posters, and never a Freshman's dream was disturbed.

At any rate, the Freshmen decided they had better organize. Tuesday afternoon they held their first semi-annual election of officers. Perhaps it is to be regretted that the Freshmen always seem to have the unhappy faculty for selecting their officers before they really become acquainted. This time, however, they seem to have selected a group of individuals fully capable of handling the affairs of the class.

Officers—President, Jennings; Vice President, Blächmer; Secretary-Treasurer, Grace Eagleson.

IDAHO STUDENT IS KILLED IN ACCIDENT

ROSS CARTEE, '16, VICTIM OF UNFORTUNATE ACCIDENT—WAS WELL KNOWN HERE

Member of Phi Delta Theta—Prominent in Student Activities

One of the most unfortunate accidents which has overtaken a student of the University of Idaho, occurred August 16, when Ross Cartee and a Mr. A. L. Sparling, leaving Salt Lake for Odgen, Utah, in a powerful Packard automobile, endeavored to cross a railroad track. It appears that the dust was particularly heavy, and the fact that the rails stood some eight inches above the level of the road was not observable. Mr. Sparling evidently ran the car on a turn onto the tracks without slackening the speed of the car, which overturned and rolled with its occupants into a ditch at one side of the road.

A few minutes later, both Ross Cartee and Mr. Sparling were extricated from the wreckage and rushed to St. Mark's hospital, only a few moments' drive from the scene of the accident. Both men were seriously injured, Mr. Cartee, it proved, mortally so. He was very badly bruised about the head and body, and was operated upon immediately. But the most heroic efforts were of no avail, and after suffering most intense pain until he was relieved by opiates, he died Monday morning at 9 o'clock.

The funeral services took place in Boise, and were completely at the direction of Phi Delta Theta's, both active and alumni. Mr. Cartee was buried in the Masonic cemetery.

Ross Cartee was indeed very well known at the University of Idaho. He was a member of Phi Delta Theta of which he was to have been this year president and various other clubs and student organization as the Pre-medical club. He was preparing to continue his work at an eastern medical institution after having completed his pre-medical work here. He was student assistant instructor in Professor Wodsedalek's zoology department and stood equally high in the estimation of faculty and students. The University, collectively and individually, unites in extending most heart-felt sympathy to the relatives and many friends of the fine man and student, who has been so untimely taken from us.

Social at Guild Hall

Saturday evening at 8 o'clock, the St. Mark's church will give a social for faculty and students at the Guild Hall. Reverend Watson, the well-known and loved rector of the Episcopal church, is always a friend of our college and its people and every year gives some pleasurable entertainments for college members.

"All the world loves a lover." "Yes, except the gas companies."—Life.

FOOTBALL TEAM TO MONTANA

The U. of I. football team leaves Friday at noon for Montana. Coach Rademacher will be accompanied by 17 men and instead of going directly to Spokane, will take the O.-W. R. & N. to Colfax thence to Spokane and Missoula, returning Sunday at noon.

The men who are to make the trip are Dewald, Keane, Gerlough, Carnahan, Groniger, Hays, McCormick, Martinson, Brown, Dingle, West, Morrison, Purdy, Betty, Ross, Jackson, and Largent. Of these, the coach did not intimate who would be used in the first line-up. Undoubtedly the majority of these men will have the opportunity to prove their ability. Needless to say, Coach Rademacher is looking forward to a hard game. The Montana team has seen fit to strengthen its aggregation of all-stars by the addition of some athletes of pre-eminent ability in Northwestern football circles, who according to the Spokesman-Review, have been attracted to Montana by the "climate." This list includes Sam Cook of Oregon and Blackwell of O. A. C.

Jennings, president of the freshman class, seems to have started a precedent by using his influence to induce his proteges to be at the train when Idaho's team departs. We only hope his personal influence is sufficient to get them there, and then continue it as a good practice.

BENDER AND GRIFFITH TO CLASH AGAIN

The historic W. S. C.-Idaho grid-iron rivalry will be injected into at least one football contest in the middle west this fall when, on November 19, the Kansas Agricultural College team, with John R. Bender as coach, will meet the team from Oklahoma University, coached by "Pink" Griffith, at Manhattan, Kan. Bender, as W. S. C. coach, and Griffith, in charge of the Idaho team, figured as coaches in the Idaho-W. S. C. contests of the last three years, and in two of these contests Griffith emerged the victor. Bender and Griffith are both entering upon their first year as coaches at Kansas Aggy and Oklahoma University, respectively, and Northwest Conference fans will take an unusual interest in the clash between the two former Northwest mentors.—Ex.

WHITMAN FRESHIES DUCKED

Taken by surprise, before they had time to complete an efficient organization for self-protection, Freshmen at Whitman College were attacked by members of the Sophomore class Monday evening and nearly a score of the first-year men dumped into the college lake. The ducking caused so much excitement in the neighborhood that the police were called.

There are a large number of football huskies in the Freshman class this year and it is expected that revenge will come when the annual class scrap is held on Ankeny Field Friday afternoon.—Ex.

GRIDIRON HARMONY SAYS NEW COACH

RADEMACHER HAS INTRODUCED
MUCH NEW FOOTBALL—MEN ARE ENTHUSIASTIC

Game Scheduled With Montana This Coming Saturday—New Material
Looks Good

"Gridiron Harmony," sung by C. M. Rademacher is the head-liner of the new show being staged on the varsity field. There are other performers, to be sure, some of them fast in both bean and feet but the big noise, the big particular and important act is the one Coach "Rade" is putting before the footlights himself.

The man Alonzo A. Stagg, Chicago's great mentor, has styled the best ever produced in the middle west has pulled nothing but new stuff since his arrival. The ante-bellum "tricks" and Nile league methods of other coaches seem unknown to him and he has relegated the bear story to the land of the dodo and the trustworthy alarm clock. He has had no chance to scatter any alibis but the writer's private hunch is that he will be about as free with them as G. C. Alexander is with passes in the pinch.

Coach Rademacher knows football and he will have his charges knowing it before the season is over if he is forced to perform a few operations with a cold chisel. He is a hard worker himself and his men have already learned to put their noses to the stone.

Some of the new material looks good. Carnahan, a burly youth with an underslung, fighting jaw has been showing up well and Robert Robinson, a former Boise high-school satellite, known to southern pigskin followers as the "Dynamic Dane," is making a strong bid for a line position. Groniger is showing his usual good stuff and working harder than ever. Jack Hays seems to have added a dash of aggressiveness which may carry him to an All-Northwest position. "Tiny" Martinson looks like a young Gibraltar at guard and Stanley Brown at tackle looked like a whole team in himself in scrimmage Friday night.

Turk Gerlough has been working at full and J. T. Ross looks like a real bright light with the w. k. oval nestling in his affectionate grasp. Marion Betty has been showing some bona fide speed and the battle Harold Purdy and Sam Morrison are putting on for the team general job is the subject of every campus fat-chewing fest.

The team leaves Friday for Missoula to tackle Montana's highly touted aggregation. Prospects to cop do not seem particularly bright but the coach refuses to cut loose any advance walls. It is not yet known how many men will make the trip.

The Book Exchange

Realizing the possible need that exists here of a place to dispose of and secure second-hand books, the Y. M. C. A. has this year established a book exchange in its office in the engineering building. It is the hope of the association that students will take advantage of the exchange and bring their second-hand books to the office. There are many inquiries for books of every description and perhaps you have just the one which is wanted.

This newly-established field of Y. M. C. A. work, should, if it is properly supported by the student body in general, give rise to a source of profit, both to new and old students. But like so many other branches of student activity, it cannot succeed unless properly supported. The plan is to post a list of second-hand books on the bulletin board which are offered for disposal, and also a list for which there is a demand and no immediately available supply.

IDAHO AND THE COMING DEBATE PROSPECTS ARE NOT VERY BRIGHT

This year Idaho will take part in a dual debate with our neighboring institution, the Washington State College. One debate is to take place here, and at the same time another debate is to be held in Pullman. This will be one of the most important of all our student activities in the present college year. And yet it seems to have made scarcely any impression upon the student body. Six of our inter-collegiate debaters were graduated with the Senior class last June. They are Rowe Holman, Julius Nordby, Joseph Pond, Charles Horning, John McEvers, and Ernest Beckman. In addition to this unprecedented large loss, three of our inter-collegiate debaters, Melvin Ison, Laurence Huff, and Charles Chandler, have not returned to college this year. And to make a trying situation still more difficult, five inter-collegiate debaters now in college, A. J. Priest, Will Boekel, Clarence Johnson, Floyd Bowers, and Theron Warren, are so crowded with studies or are endeavoring to make the football team, that they were unable to register for participation in the trial debate that is to be held for the purpose of choosing the teams to meet the Washington State College. Still further deficiencies in candidates help to make the prospect for success next December far from encouraging. Not a single member of our large Freshman class has registered for the trial debate. What is the matter with 1919? Only six men were present at the meeting of candidates and coach last Saturday morning. That is exactly the number of men needed to fill the places on the two Idaho teams that will represent us on the debate platform next December. There is, therefore, no need of a trial debate. The six faithful ones can each be presented with a place.

It is not too late to sign up for the trial debate. To all who feel that they have any debating ability we make any urgent appeal to get into the game. It is just as glorious to win a victory for Idaho on the platform as to win one for her on the gridiron. Shall the banner of the Silver and Gold, that, more frequently than any other college in the Pacific Northwest, has floated aloft after so many inter-collegiate debates remain folded next December on the two platforms where our men are to speak? It is up to every man who can do anything at all in debate to come out and try for the teams. We say nothing of the women of the University. No woman has yet represented Idaho in debate. And few of them attend debates. They seem to be interested in other things. Too much can not be said in regard to the services of Professor

ATTACK ON DRILL AT U. OF W.*President Does Not Oppose Movement,
But Commandant Calls Acts
Untimely

Terming compulsory military drill "a great college menace," a body of underclassmen at the state university have launched a campaign to abolish the drill at the state institution. Pamphlets have been distributed, the University Daily and the Washingtonian having contained bitter denunciations of the system of training and meetings have been held to urge action looking to the abolishment of military training at the Seattle school. It is charged in the publications that "deliberate attempt is made to break the student spirit" and that he is denied the "sacred right to question or to reason."

Commandant Denounces Movement

Captain Wm. T. Patten, commandant, left no doubt as to his attitude toward the movement when he made the following statement:

"The enemies of drill have chosen a very poor time to agitate its abolishment when the whole country is at least aroused to its danger and is doing everything possible to make up for the neglect of our defenses."

President Suzzallo, on the other hand, took a middle position in the matter and granted permission to the students to hold a meeting for the purpose of considering further action. His position was stated in the following words:

"I am greatly in sympathy with every movement that aims at the permanent establishment of peace. Sincere men differ as to the means to be employed. I believe in a military training for every youth. I believe it is an open question whether or not the University is a proper place or whether we have the right kind of preparation; at least, the matter is in controversy. That controversy must be settled by rational discussion on the part of all persons concerned. I am in favor of such rational discussion, but stand opposed to propoganda which is primarily emotional.

Friends of both parties in the movement are watching developments with considerable interest, though it is conceded that little relief can be secured for the backers of the movement this year.—Ex.

CHICAGO MAN COACH AT IDAHO

If one is to believe the stories that are coming from the Idaho camp just across the state line, Idaho is this year deserving of sympathy. Coach Rademacher, secured from Chicago to take the place made vacant by "Pink" Griffith's resignation, has secured five veterans around which to build his team, but the coach is by no means satisfied with the results secured in the practice held to date.

Captain Brown, Groniger, Martinson, McCormick, and Bowers are the old players who have returned and if Rademacher can secure their equal among the new men he will have little cause to worry. Sam Morrison, the famous sprinter, is turning out for football for the first time and he is expected to make good at end. Morrison has speed to burn and has developed wonderful accuracy in passing.

Idaho is seriously handicapped this year by having but two weeks in which to prepare for their first game.

The team takes on the powerful Montana eleven on Saturday of this week and the men have been practicing but two weeks. The dope is all in favor of the Montana huskies, but the game will give a good line on the Idaho team and it is expected that many will go from Pullman to witness the scrap.

The coaching force at both Idaho and W. S. C. is entirely changed this year and this fact is expected to add to the interest in the annual W. S. C.-Idaho game. Both of the coaches are beginning their first season in the Northwest and that both are particularly eager to make this a record season for their teams goes without saying.

C. E. Beghold, a graduate of the gymnasium department of the Y. M. C. A. training school at Springfield, Mass., has been selected assistant director of physical education at Idaho and has reported at Moscow to assist Coach Rademacher in training the football team for the present season.—Evergreen.

AGRICULTURAL CLUB

The Agricultural Club held its first meeting Wednesday morning in Morrill Hall, President Wm. Booth being absent, his place was filled by Vice President O. W. Johnson. After several business matters were disposed of President Brannon addressed the assemblage, followed in turn by O. D. Center, the head of the Agricultural Extension Department. The speeches emphasized strongly the importance of the club and the possibilities it carries for the betterment of both students and institution. Time did not permit the conclusion of the program, which included an address by Mr. Hochbaum, who is head of the department of County Commissioners in the Extension Department.

The club is looking forward to the best year in its history. A special hour is set aside on the schedule of all agricultural students for the meeting, and a full attendance will be expected at every meeting. This is a great improvement over the old system of night meetings, which has proved quite unsatisfactory.

WASHINGTON STATE COLLEGE
ENJOYS LARGE REGISTRATION

According to the Evergreen, our Washington neighbor has broken all registration records. There are more than a thousand students registered in the regular college courses, exclusive of special students and others unclassified. Indeed, so great was the crush, that many courses and schedules had to be completely revised before satisfactory class work could be accomplished. Everything indicates that the popularity of the college has taken a great bound. Districts of the state which usually send delegations to other Northwestern colleges, turned an unexpected tide toward Pullman, Spokane, Portland, even Seattle, sent large numbers of students to W. S. C.

One of the contributing causes to this influx was, very probably, the adoption of the tuition policy at the University of Washington. Particularly would this influence the number of students from western Washington to come to the eastern institution.

"You say he has untold wealth?"
"Hasn't filed a tax statement for years."—Washington Herald.

EDWIN S. HERMAN

Edwin S. Herman, '09, died last Saturday at La Grande, Oregon, following an operation—the preceding day. Last June he was operated on at the same hospital for appendicitis and apparently he never fully recovered from the effects of the operation.

Mr. Herman left Idaho in his junior year of work in the Mining Department to take special work in coal mining at Pullman. Since leaving our neighboring institution he has worked in Alaska, Montana, Idaho, Washington with mining men and has more recently been affiliated with the copper interests at Ely, Nevada. At the time of his death, he was head of the Contact Mining and Milling Company of Lostine, Oregon.

Mr. Herman married Miss Carrie Horton of Moscow, U. of I. Prep. '09, and ex. '13, who as well as a four-year-old son, survive him.

He—Now, don't you bother to help me on with my coat.

She—It's no bother. It's a pleasure.—Town Topics.

Meeting of Debate Council

The A. S. U. I. Debate Council met last Friday evening for the annual election of officers. Vernon Creason was elected president, Bert Dingle, vice president; Floyd Bowers, secretary, and Vernon Creason was chosen to represent the Debate Council on the Executive Board.

The old members returned are Bert Dingle, Bowers, Owens, and Creason. Charles Chandler, the fifth member, did not return to college this fall and Clarence Johnson was selected to fill the vacancy.

Foxy Gil Dobie again demonstrates that he is "crazy like a fox." When everyone in the Northwest was wondering why he didn't accept a berth as coach of some eastern college the lanky mentor went calmly ahead arranging another schedule for the "U." secured games with the two California colleges just entering the field, and now is preparing, in case of victory, which seems assured, to claim the all-coast championship. Crazy, my dear Watson, absolutely crazy.

REPORTERS

THE ARGONAUT, THE COLLEGE AND THE EDITOR

It is a great privilege and a great honor to be entrusted with the editorial charge of the college paper. It is also a great responsibility. Of these things we are well aware. And we are aware, also, of the great opportunity the position affords. To the best of our ability we shall endeavor to prove worthy of the honor, to make the most of the great opportunity that presents itself to render effective assistance in carrying on the work of our University. To chronicle the important and characteristic events of the college year in an adequate and attractive manner, to serve as a means of publishing the opinions and plans of any member of the college community who has such to offer for general consideration, and to act, as far as lies within our power, as something of a leader in our college life—these, we take it, are the chief duties that devolve upon us as the editor of our college paper.

Our first word is one of hearty welcome to the members of the Freshman Class. You have cast in your lot with the University of your own Commonwealth, with the University supported by the taxation of your parents. That will mean a great deal to you as future citizens of our state. It will mean a common set of memories and a common set of ideals that will bind you to the great majority of the leaders in the life of our state. You were not induced by propagandists to go to some sectarian institution with the specious plea that only there can be found a Christian life. You believe that a fine, manly, wholesome, helpful Christian life is the ideal and the practice of your own state University. You were not led to go to larger institutions by social aspirations or by the thought, often mistaken, that better instruction can always be found in the larger colleges. Nor were those of you who are athletes induced to go to institutions in nearby states with the promise of "positions." You came to us because, in the first place, you believe in the ability of your state University to "deliver the goods"; and because, in the second place, you believe that your life in Idaho can be made happier and more effective with an education obtained within the borders of the state than with one obtained elsewhere. In all these things you are not mistaken. You are welcome here, Freshmen, heartily welcome. This institution is yours. It was built for you. It is maintained for you. The professors are yours. The whole place is yours. Enter into possession and make the most of it.

How shall one make the most of a college life? That is a question you and your parents have pondered many times. It is a question upon which President Brannon will have good things to say in other talks than the one he gave to us on Wednesday morning. Just one or two words here. The first duty of one who goes to college is to be a real student. That is the prime reason of your presence on this campus. Be a student first of all. Keep ahead of your work; then if you give time to athletics or any of the other features of student-life (and every one should engage in these things) you will not fall behind in your college work. Learn to do things right the first time. Much time can thus be saved, and the ability and habit of accurate work can thus be cultivated. Let your fun be manly and wholesome fun. Fun made at the expense of someone else, or fun that has for its foundation only a beer-bottle, is not real fun. It is only a weak imitation of the genuine article. A proud tradition has been established here. We have neither hazing nor drinking. Let it be your grave duty and high privilege to cherish that tradition and hand it on down to your successors, not only unimpaired but strengthened with the sanction of increasing years. In speaking of the college students of his own country Bismarck said there are three classes of students: One that study themselves to death; one that drink themselves to death; and a third set that do neither of these things, but that lead a well-ordered life and afterwards govern the nation. Your place is in the class of the future governors of the commonwealth of Idaho and of our American nation. See that you keep in it.

CO-OPERATION

The task of editing the college paper is by no means a small one, as we have already discovered. We hope and expect to assemble the most efficient corps of assistants which the University has to offer in an endeavor to put out a really representative paper.

But simply the selection of a capable staff, however efficient it may be, is not sufficient to warrant the assumption that the production will represent our entire student body. What we wish to call to your attention is that, in order to have a truly representative paper, we must have the co-operation of the entire student body, individually as well as collectively. It is your privilege to read and criticize these columns; it is your duty to see that they measure up to your idea of what should constitute a properly regulated and thorough publication. We will value your criticisms if you make them to us, we will carefully weigh your suggestions.

But more than these, we need your hearty co-operation in providing good live, meaty material for every issue. The campus is over-run with available material, it is to your interest as well as ours, to see that it comes to our attention. Provision has always been made for the disposal of just such items, we will thankfully receive them either from the Argonaut contribution box in the Administration Building, at the Argonaut office or by personal transmission.

It is our aim to have every coterie of students, whether fraternal or otherwise represented by a special reporter. See that your group has its representative.

THE ASSOCIATE EDITOR

The resignation of William Boekel from the office of associate editor left a vacancy in the Editorial Staff by no means easy to fill. Mr. Boekel has assumed a position of prominence in many college activities, he is Editor of the Gem of the Mountains, and President of the local Y. M. C. A. Owing to the amount of work involved in these two positions, he felt compelled to lighten the load and gave up his work on the Argonaut staff.

Mr. William Hunter, who was selected by the remaining elective members of the staff after due deliberation, seems to be the right man for the place. He is new at Idaho, having spent two years as an undergraduate at the University of Chicago, but he is in a position to be of valuable assistance from the English Department since he has assumed the position left vacant by Mr. Horning as an assistant in that department. We consider ourselves fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Hunter.

And every time the cable jerked, She sat in a young man's lap.

At Twenty-second street she caromed about,

And finally gasped with a smile, "Will somebody kindly tell me please How many laps to the mile?"

Coach Rademacher, when asked if he had any particular statement to make in regard to the football prospects, replied: "They are not bad, such material as we have is all right. What we need is more of it."

CHANGES IN THE FACULTY PERSONNEL

SEVERAL DEPARTMENTS HAVE BEEN STRENGTHENED AND FURTHER EQUIPPED

In general, changes in the faculty personnel for the coming year, were not numerous. But some departments have been enlarged, revised and a few new courses are offered. To those faculty members, who are either new to us and the University of Idaho, or who have returned from a period of preparation to be better equipped to conduct their work, to these, the students of the University of Idaho extend most cordial greetings, and wish that their sojourn with us may be long and prosperous.

Of course, pre-eminent in the interest of the general student body at this particular time of year, is the athletic department. Coach Rademacher, an extremely well recommended man from the University of Chicago, who has acted in the successful capacity of coach at a secondary Arizona school, has been appointed head of this department. Mr. Beghold has direct charge of the gymnasium and will introduce courses in physical culture, elementary and advanced and a course in hygiene. One has only to submit to their coaching one afternoon to be thoroughly acquainted with their efficiency.

Lack of space will not permit a detailed discussion of each change or addition to the faculty. Briefly then, Mr. C. B. Wilson has assumed the responsibilities of the position of principal of the School of Practical Agriculture, replacing "Hec" Edmundson, who resigned last spring. Mr. Edmundson's work with Idaho's track teams will pass into the hands of the athletic department.

Mrs. Isaacson and Miss Moore have returned from leave of absences, to resume work in German and English respectively.

Miss Permelia Allen supercedes Mr. Parmelee in the music department.

In engineering, Assistant Professor Du Priest has been added to the faculty of mechanical engineering. Mr. Conwell is a new assistant in mathematics. Associate Professor Goodrich in metallurgy. Assistant Professor Soper in mining engineering have been added to the faculty of this department.

In the Agricultural Department, several assistants to the existing force have been added including Mr. Singleton in animal husbandry, Mr. Ray in farm crops.

Assistant Professor Boethius has the courses in romance languages, and Swedish has been added to the curriculum.

The Educational Department has undergone a considerable change. Professor Soulen is away on a leave of absence, and his work is being conducted by Mr. Bond, Professor Erickson, and Assistant Professor Reed, the latter having enlarged the courses of psychology and philosophy.

Mr. Williams is a new assistant in agricultural chemistry.

In addition to these there are a number of teaching fellowships and some number of student assistants in various departments.

The changes on the campus are too obvious to need comment. But they certainly reflect credit on the executive administration of our University, which has made such improvements possible in spite of material reductions in the state appropriation.

Battalion of Cadets

The battalion of cadets is once more an actuality. Lieutenant Fooks is looking forward to a successful year, every commissioned officer with the exception of Cadet Captain Morrison, has reported for duty and the number of men who compose the battalion has increased considerably over the number at this time last year. Captain Morrison is expected to resume his military work at the close of the football season.

Lieutenant Fooks is planning on a revival of the somewhat neglected work on the outdoor rifle range. A number of years ago this was an important element in the military work here, but at present only an old, bullet-battered, crumbling pile of rocks back of the athletic field marks the scene of past activity. The equipment for its re-establishment is provided by the federal government and it is only a matter of ordering and installing the three targets which Lieutenant Fooks plans on utilizing.

An immediate tryout is planned, to fill existing vacancies in the commissioned staff, and several promotions are in order.

The list of officers and their present rank are: Cadet Major, Sherman Gregory; Cadet Captain, C. B. Mickelwait; First Lieutenants, R. R. Miller, W. R. Schofield, R. Everly, H. Hudson; Second Lieutenants, O. Knudson, C. McCormick, R. Montague.

Building Activities of Idaho's Fraternities

The past summer has seen many activities in Idaho's fraternal field. The newly installed Sigma Nu's are just completing a fine frame home near the college campus where they will presently be comfortably located.

Alpha Kappa Epsilon, Idaho's only local fraternity at the present time, has purchased the Lewis home near the court house and altho a considerable distance from the campus, are much more satisfactorily housed than they have been in the past.

Beta Theta Pi, with generous assistance of last year's graduates, enlarged their home and remodeled the old interior until they have one of the most comfortable fraternal homes on the campus. The addition of a large fire place adds to the charm of a nicely appointed parlor.

Registration

The increase in the number of students enrolled this year over last year's number, is sufficient to base many hopes upon for a greater Idaho. Taking as the best means of accurate comparison a similar date for each year, we find the general University student body has made an increase of 12.6 per cent, while the freshman class outnumbers the freshman class of last year by a fraction over 14 per cent.

Tuesday morning 428 had registered, against 380 last year in the general student body. The Freshmen show 188 as opposed to 156 of last year's class.

The gross attendance will undoubtedly increase as new students are registering every day.

Washington and Football

The University of Washington has practically championed herself off the Northwestern football map. Even Oregon and Washington cannot come to terms and as yet no game has been scheduled between these institutions. As always, Coach Dobie has been breaking into print with his "bear stories" but anyone who has taken note of his material, both old and new, can scarcely credit them.

In Seattle, they are deriving considerable satisfaction from the prospects of a Washington-California game. Since the University of California's severance of athletic relations with Stanford, the former has adopted the American football game again, to supercede the Rugby game which they have used for a number of years past. Evidently the time was ripe for the change; much interest is already shown in the American game and an enormous crowd is expected to greet the Washington eleven when they line up at Berkeley. 25,000 tickets have already been printed for advance sales.

Our Neighbors and Registration

In glancing over the registration reports of other Northwestern colleges, two things stand out strikingly. Montana had a registration of 455 students early in the week and the prediction was confidently made that the number would reach 500. This is a wholesome increase over last year and things look bright for our eastern neighbor. At Washington, however, owing chiefly to the tuition rule which was recently declared constitutional and goes into effect this year, the registration has been lighter than for a number of years past. At that, there are something in the neighborhood of 2500 students enrolled. If we only had so many! Nevada University reports a heavy registration and prospects for an unusually successful year are exceedingly bright.

FOOTBALL STAR IS KILLED

Louis Barrett, a student and football star at Gonzaga University, was killed Saturday night in an automobile accident near Spokane, and his death has caused much gloom in the Gonzaga football camp. Barrett was counted on as a sure winner of one of the end positions, he having held that position for the past two years. Coach Coyle was loud in his praise of Barrett's work on the field and stated that he had expected Barrett to be Gonzaga's sole representative on the All-Northwest eleven for this year. Football practice was suspended at Gonzaga for two days out of respect to the memory of the unfortunate young man.

Athletic Board Meets

Last Wednesday night, the Athletic Board held its first meeting for the purpose of electing officers for the school year. Harold Purdy was chosen president, Stanley Brown is the representative to the Executive Board and Jim Keane was elected secretary. The other members of the Athletic Board are Wade, Kinnison, Hedley Dingle and Groniger.

FINE PROGRAM
CARRIED OUTIDAHO DAY CELEBRATION AT THE
SAN FRANCISCO FAIR WAS A HUGE SUCCESS

Special Writer for the Exposition
Press Bureau Sends Report on Yesterday's Celebration

By JAMES A. BUCHANAN

(Pan-Pacific Press Association.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—(Delayed in transmission.)—Today was an event in the exposition period because it was Idaho's day and from the moments that the crowds began to gather before the Idaho building until the end of the ceremonies there was an unusual interest displayed in the ceremonies which had been arranged for the commonwealth which had given so many interesting and instructive exhibits to the Panama-Pacific International exposition.

Governor Moses Alexander, who has been accorded a reception of which the chief executive of any state might well be proud, left the Palace hotel this morning escorted by three troops of United States cavalry and other branches of the service, to the exposition grounds where he was entertained as the guest of honor by President Moore and the other officials of the exposition.

This afternoon at 2:30 Idaho's building was formally presented to the exposition and the United States and from the moment that Chairman Harry L. Day and Executive Commissioner Jay Cizek had told the assembled throng that the governor of their commonwealth was to speak until the end of the ceremonies, the vast audience which had gathered to do honor to Idaho sat in their seats and listened eagerly to the words of the governor of the great state.

When it is said that Idaho day was an event, it means that this day, September 29th, was a date which will long be remembered not only by the citizens of California but by the people of the world who had congregated to pay honor to Idaho which state has done so much toward educating the people of the vast storehouse of wealth contained within its borders.

The Program as carried out at the Idaho building was as follows: Music by the band; Chairman of the day, Hon. Harry L. Day, Wallace, Idaho; Members of the Panama-Pacific exposition and the Idaho commission, assembled; Address, M. H. DeYoung, official of the exposition; Planting of Idaho fir tree. Hon. Moses Alexander, Governor of Idaho; Music by the band; Presentation of a box of tower jewels to Governor Alexander by an official of the exposition; Address, Hon. James H. Hawley, ex-governor of Idaho; Address, Marshal Stimson of Los Angeles, on behalf of Governor Hiram Johnson of California; Address, Hon. George R. Barker, secretary of state, Idaho; Address, Hon. James Rolph, Jr., Mayor of San Francisco; Music by the band; Informal reception followed the ceremonies; Song, "Idaho, the Gem State," sung by Pauline Turner.

The citizens of Idaho may well indeed be proud of the part their commission has played at the exposition, for the gentlemen who have had charge of Idaho's displays have been constantly toiling to bring to the minds of a people a realization that Idaho today presents the greatest opportunities for the homeseeker of which any state may advance.

Governor Alexander from the moment he arrived in San Francisco with his staff and other state officials has been the recipient of invitations from leading citizens, mercantile institutions, civic bodies, social leaders and other sources and it has been beyond the physical power of the governor to accept anywhere near the invitations which have been extended to him and Mrs. Alexander. Not only San Francisco but the rest of the country and the nations which are represented at this exposition, realize today that the great commonwealth of Idaho offers opportunities unsurpassed by any other state in the union.

Alumni Notes

A recent communication from "Hec" Edmundson, who is well known to students at Idaho as a track man and coach of exceptional ability and a fine type of man, states that he is doing well in the coal business in Alberta. He enquired concerning athletics, football prospects, etc., and wished to be remembered to his Idaho friends.

Ex-Editor Nordby writes from Urbana, Illinois, that he is registered in the graduate school of the University of Illinois and is looking forward to a very successful year.

Albert Knudson, who is well remembered on the campus as a football man of unusual fighting spirit and determination, is coaching the local high school football team, and acting as an instructor in manual training. Last year his success as coach was unqualified and he will very probably keep up the good work.

James Lockhart and "Buck" Phillips, two of Idaho's graduates who each won fame as athletes of exceptional ability on the football field and in track work, are at the University at present. Each night sees them on the athletic field watching and assisting Coach Rademacher mold his material into an efficient football machine.

Miss Hopkins Visits U. of I. Miss Eleanor Hopkins, the new field secretary of the Y. W. C. A., who takes the place of Miss Fox, visited the U. of I., September 21-24. Miss Hopkins and Miss Brashear spoke at a rally meeting Thursday afternoon at which about 65 girls were present. The girls were invited to join the association. The membership as a result at present is 58. The membership committee gave bouquets of flowers to the new girls Sunday morning. Our next meeting will be reports from our summer conference delegates.

PURPOSE—To render service to all of the people in Idaho all of the time and in every possible way.

EQUIPMENT—A faculty of men and women of high ideals and thoro training; laboratories and a library which make modern and exact training in languages, sciences and philosophy possible.

ORGANIZATION AND WORK—There are four colleges in the University of Idaho: Letters and Sciences, Agriculture, Engineering, and Law. Special opportunities for research are made possible by the Agricultural Experiment Station and other science laboratories; particular and state-wide service in Home Economics, Boys' and Girls' Clubs, Field Demonstrations in all subjects pertaining to the widely diversified agricultural Extension staff. Instruction and demonstration has been taken to more than twenty thousand people in Idaho during the past year by means of the Extension work. If all of the people cannot come to the University, then the University wishes to go to all of the citizens of the state.

WHY ALL IDAHO COLLEGE STUDENTS SHOULD ATTEND THEIR OWN UNIVERSITY:

1. It is their own University. It belongs to every man, woman, and child in Idaho. No tuition is charged. The state appropriates approximately one hundred dollars annually toward the education of every student enrolled in the State University.
2. The cost of living is modest. It should not exceed $350 to $400 per year for a student coming from any part of the state.
3. It is democratic. Many students earn their own living while attending the University. A recent survey shows that over $16,000.00 were earned by students while in residence this year.
4. It is the best University in America for men and women who expect to engage in the business and civic life of Idaho. Here is the group of men and women who represent state loyalty. Here is the place for "plain living and high thinking." This is the people's University. Here are being trained your associates for future state leadership in business, in state development and in right living.

ASSEMBLY

Perhaps the most outstanding feature of the first college assembly was the attendance. The auditorium was much more comfortably filled for the usual college assembly than is generally the case.

Miss Paulsen sang a vocal solo to the evident delight of the audience. She has a soprano voice of considerable compass and pleasing quality and she sings with ease and skill. Her voice was not in so good condition as it was when she sang at one of last year's assemblies, but her high notes displayed not a little of their vibrant power and in the pianissimo passages her command of the mezza voce gave pleasure to her hearers. Needless to say she had to respond to a hearty encore.

As was fitting, President Brannon was the speaker for the first assembly. He was enthusiastically received as he always is by Idaho's students. He welcomed the Freshman class, and expressed a wish that this year be the biggest, the finest Idaho has seen. Regarding the registration, he made some numerically interesting statements. In general, numbers convey but little but to the loyal student body who are interested in a bigger Idaho, President Brannon's words carried a strong message.

He reminded all students to regard Idaho's new non-hazing tradition as sacred, and promised a half holiday for regulated contests between the Freshman-Sophomore classes. In connection with this, President Brannon, by the use of some convincing figures, reminded the students of the cost of such an undertaking, but stated that he felt a properly conducted contest and the clean reputation which will accompany it to be worth any financial outlay.

Preceding President Brannon's informal address, the assembly was turned over to the students for the purpose of giving the Freshmen their first taste of college spirit. It is to be regretted that they should receive such an extremely poor impression of the "Idaho Spirit" as that exhibition of college yelling must have given them. It was, of course, inadequately led, but the support given the leader was just as bad. Idaho has a real spirit, we do show it sometimes, but why can't it just come bubbling out at every old time?

As was the case last year, Mr. Hulme is again directing the assemblies and it is to be sincerely hoped he can maintain the high plane which he established for them last year.

Bench and Bar Association

The Bench and Bar Association held its first meeting last Friday afternoon for the election of officers. Floyd Bowers was chosen First Justice; Evert West, Associate Justice; Vernon Creason, Clerk. Since one year's pre-legal work is now required of all students who contemplate taking up the law course, a motion was passed admitting these legal aspirants to the Bench and Bar Association as associate members.

Hopeful—Dad, what is meant by the mother tongue?

Parent—S'sh my boy. Don't start her!—Stray Stories.

FOOTBALL SEASON STARTS

Multnomah 13, Oregon 7

A spectacular 90-yard run by Francis and a kickoff which was fumbled by an Oregon back gave the Multnomah club 13 points in the first quarter of its game with the University. The first touchdown came within a few seconds after Beckett's kickoff, and a few minutes later a fumbled kickoff allowed the Multnomah team to score again. The varsity settled down in the second quarter and held its opponents scoreless thereafter, but were unable to do more than score one touchdown.

Whitman 13, The Dalles H. S. 0

Outweighed and outplayed The Dalles high school football team proved easy victims of Whitman College in the opening football game of the season. Score: Whitman 13. The Dalles 0. Short quarters were played and the whistle was blown at the end of 10 minutes, which helped to keep the score down.

The Whitman attack was rather listless and indifferent or the varsity could have scored at least once more. Borleske kept his men at the old style game. No scoring was done in the first half. Borleske made only two changes in his line-up. The Multnomah club, which beat Oregon today, will be Whitman's opponent Saturday.

Close Call for O. A. C.

The Oregon Agricultural College football team had its first taste of gridiron strife at Corvallis last Saturday, meeting the strong alumni aggregation of the institution. The final score was: O. A. C. 3, alumni 0.—Ex.
