JUNIOR CLASS TO PRESENT PLAYS

WILL BE GIVEN AT AUDITORIUM FRIDAY NIGHT, MARCH 17—NOW BEING REHEARSED

Three Short Plays to Be Presented—"Spreading the News," "Op o' Me Thumb" and "A Flower of Yeddo."

The much-buzzed junior plays are now under rehearsal. They will be given Friday night, March 17, at the Auditorium, under the direction of Dr. Moore. Miss French and the Junior Play Committee. It is co-incidental rather than planned that of the group of three-plays one is Celtic in dialogue and another is Celtic in name.

"Spreading the News," by Lady Gregory, the "mother" of the modern Irish dramatic movement, is the most openly humorous one of the three one-act plays. Free from elaborate scenic effects, it depends largely upon its dialogue and the effectiveness with which the Irish brogue is handled by the cast. Miss French, who has this play in charge, is especially insisting that the Celtic characteristics of speech be not overdone. The juniors' cast for "Spreading the News" are: Magistrate, Ronald Wood; Policeman, Tom Lomanson; Jack Smith, Will Bouneville; Bert Fallon, Oscar Knudson; Shawn Early, Walter Thomas; Tim Casey, George Granger; James Ryan, Norman Holden; Mrs. Tilly, Ola Bonhan; Mrs. Tarpey, Anne Mullin; Mrs. Fallon, Ada Rogers.

"Op-o'-Me-Thumb," a play in one act by Frederick Fenn and Richard Pryce, is the second of the group. This charming thing Maud Adams selected for an important season and made it one of her greatest successes. And aside from being regarded professionally as a competent money maker, it has been accepted by thousands of Americans as a really genuine bit of life. Perhaps the wistfully sweet Armanda Affich, "Op-o'-Me-Thumb," has won a larger circle of friends than any other similar heroine, unless it is "Peg o' My Heart." Miss Lottie Works will play the part of Armanda. She will be supported by Louise Clamby as Clem, Mary Mellison as Celeste, Margaret Rowlings as Rose, Ethel Richardson as Madame Didier, in whose laundry in Soho the scene is set, and John Dooth as Horace Greensmith.

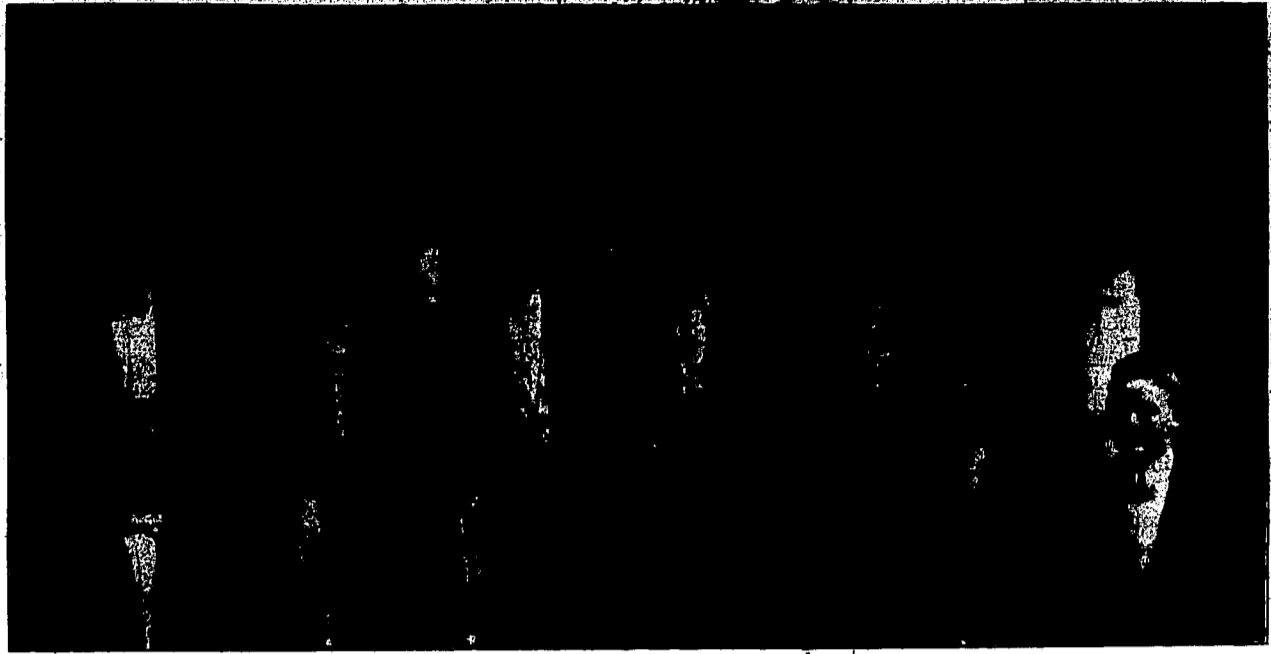

The third play is Japanese altho it was written in French. It has been adopted from the French by the English stage by Mr. Victor Mapes. The principal charm of this play is its quaintness and daintiness. The stage will doubtless be a bit of the island of cherry blossoms which poets love to rhyme about. Indeed, the play is written in verse and the scene is the studio of the poet Kami. The players in "A Flower of Yeddo" are: Kami—MacKinley Helm; Sainara—Charlotte Lewis; Musme—Lillian Carithers; Talphoon—Burd Wall.

Dr. Moore, who is in charge of the last two plays, has a reputation for always putting on successful plays, and Miss French, whose work in dramatic reading has been extensive, knows how to accomplish results in efforts of this sort. The junior class is fortunate in having such competent and enthusiastic coaches in charge of their plays. Charles Owens is business manager. This office is a thankless but most necessary one. Eunnis Massey is in charge of the musical program which is being arranged to supplement the dramatic program by providing prelude and interludes.

AGS AND LAWYERS AS EDITORS

Next week the Agricultural department is to issue the Argonaut, following the precedent established by the Foresters recently. C. F. Johnson is to edit this particular issue and it undoubtedly will be replete with many items of interest to those who pursue the great plebian vocation.

Altho the date of its appearance has not been definitely settled, the Annual Law Argonaut is already in the process of making. Many contributions have already been received by Harold Purdy and A. J. Priest, who propose to make this issue one of extraordinary timeliness and interest. The college students are already looking forward to the appearance of this humorous and critical classic.

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO GLEE CLUB

BOOSTING INTEREST IN TENNIS

Coach Rademacher is endeavoring to interest more students in tennis. To further this move, matches have already been scheduled with Montana under a two-year contract which will bring Montana's representatives here this spring and Idaho will meet Montana at Missoula next year. A triangular meet between Whitman, W. S. C., and Idaho is being arranged. Idaho will play W. S. C. at Pullman, and, if possible, will meet Whitman at Walla Walla. If the annual Lewiston tournament is held before the expiration of the school year, it is probable that Idaho will be represented there. Idaho has a number of men in college who have had considerable tennis experience and the facilities offered for practice are of the very best. Idaho should have strong representative teams in this branch this spring.

Coach Rademacher has also in mind the organization of an interclass, interfraternity baseball series this spring to supplement the regular intercollegiate games. Final plans for the organization and schedule have not been definitely worked out, but if enough interest is shown, the project will be formulated immediately and actual work begun as soon as the weather permits.

TAX ASSOCIATION

The executive board of the Idaho State Tax Association met in Boise last week for the purpose of appointing a permanent secretary and adopting rules for future activities. They voted to divide the state into two districts in each of which some member of the association would represent it. Those present were: H. T. Lewis and President J. J. Day of Moscow, J. C. White, Coeur d'Alene; Senator E. K. Hayes, Emmett and P. H. Smith of Twin Falls.

The committee voted funds to provide for issuing 100 copies of 150 pages each of the proceedings at the meeting held in Boise during the holidays.

The following are the resolutions adopted:

"Resolved, That the executive board authorize an official representative of the association in each county of the state.

"Resolved, That inasmuch as the information contained in the special report of the Idaho State Tax Commission is of inestimable value to the people of the state, that it be the sense of the board that the information tabulated in that special report serve as a basis for further action and that it be brought up to date.

"Resolved, That inasmuch as a program is impossible without comprehensive data that steps be taken to develop a system of uniform accounting for the state and local units.

"Resolved, That it be the sense of the board that the association should keep a representative in Boise during the legislative session to keep members informed thru the press on all revenue measures proposed and as to the action thereof; that this information should be disseminated without criticism favorable or unfavorable by the association's representative.

Judge Standrod of Pocatello was chosen permanent secretary.

A negro student conducting prayers at one of the great missionary colleges said: "Give us all pure hearts, give us all clean hearts, give us all sweet hearts," to which the entire congregation made response, "Amen!"

MERIT OF BOOK RECOGNIZED

That the book "The Renaissance and the Reformation," written by Edward M. Hulme, Professor of History in the University of Idaho, is rapidly gaining noteworthy reputation is evidenced by the list of institutions which have adopted it as a text book. This list, which consists of forty-two colleges, and which includes some of the largest institutions in the country, is as follows: Cornell; University of Idaho; James Milliken University; University of Maine; Ohio State; University of North Dakota; University of Montana; Grinnell College; University of Pennsylvania; University of Utah; Colgate; Oberlin; Indiana University; Southwestern University; De Pauw University; Illinois Wesleyan; Illinois College; University of Cincinnati; Fargo College; Macalester College; Sweet Briar College; University of Oregon; Columbia University; University of Southern California; Municipal University, Akron, Ohio; University of West Virginia; Beloit College; Centre College; Milwaukee-Downer College; Northwestern University; Western College for Women; Winona College; St. Olaf College; Cooper College; Grand Island College; State Normal School, Kirksville, Mo.; Northwestern College; College of Wooster; University of North Carolina; Kalamazoo College; University of Tennessee and University of California.

Professor George Lincoln Burr, of Cornell, in a recent letter to Professor Hulme, has this to say of the second American edition of the book: "I have just been going thru your bibliographical appendix to order such books as we lack at Cornell, and I am struck afresh with the thoroughness and good sense with which, against great odds, you have accomplished the task."

The first English edition was published in London last September. The British reviews have been quite favorable.

NEW INSTRUCTOR COMING

The new instructor in shop work in the University of Idaho, Mr. Paul Sladky, gives every promise of being a very valuable man for this position. He has followed the machinists' trade for eighteen years, seven of which were spent as instructor in mechanical practice at the University of Wisconsin. The men in the engineering college there, including Professor G. L. Larson, former head of the department of mechanical engineering in the University of Idaho, recommended him very highly. He comes to the university from practical work in Milwaukee.

STUNT FEST

The annual Stunt Fest will take place in the future on the evening of the interschool track meet. This will bring the activities of the university classes directly before the members of the high schools of the state that are represented at the meet and will provide a more definite date than was had heretofore. Most of the classes have appointed their committees and active work has already begun along this line.

Most women are curious, but the most curious thing in the world is a woman who isn't.

RALPH FOSTER HAS NARROW ESCAPE

According to word just received by Professor Axtell, Ralph Foster, who is a Rhodes scholar from Idaho, recently passed thru a thrilling experience. He was on board the Maloja in the Straits of Dover enroute to Egypt where he had been assigned to Y. M. C. A. work, when the ship struck a mine evidently planted by German submarines. As is always the case when such accidents occur, the ship sank almost immediately, even before the life boats could be cleared. Mr. Foster procured a life belt and threw himself into the water when the ship had listed so far as to make further efforts with life boats useless. He spent over an hour in the water, clinging to wreckage from the ship until he was finally picked up by a British trawler.

Mr. Foster graduated from the University of Idaho in 1913. While here his scholastic work was of the highest order. In 1912 he won the Watkins medal for oratory and after graduation he received the Rhodes scholarship appointment. At Oxford he was studying modern languages at Lincoln College until the university nearly disorganized during the past year, when he obtained a year's leave of absence several months ago and enlisted in Y. M. C. A. work with the British army. The assignment to take up his work in Egypt was the first given him. Apparently, from all evidence, Mr. Foster is a regularly commissioned lieutenant in the English army.

GAMMA PHI BETA RECEPTION

Saturday afternoon the members of Gamma Phi Beta received the girls of the upper classes and the ladies of the faculty and town. The front rooms were simply and beautifully adorned with bowls of spring flowers, while the dining room was lovely with pink carnations, the sorority flower. The soft music of violin and cello made a pleasant undercurrent for the murmur of voices. During the afternoon Bernadine Adair and Evelyn Cox sang several charming solos. The reception line consisted of Marjory Zambot, Constance Gyde, Byrd Wall, Mrs. Truitt, Miss French, Mrs. Little, Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. Angel, and Mrs. Kenyon. The alumnae members of Gamma Phi presided over the daintily arranged tea table.

THIRTEEN TOWNS IN GLEE SCHEDULE

AMBITIOUS SOUTHERN TOUR IS NOW CERTAINTY—CLUB MEMBERS TO LEAVE APRIL 12

Eleven Idaho and Two Oregon Cities to Be Made—Reception and Dance At Pocatello

Thirteen towns will be made by the Glee Club on its southern tour, two of them in Oregon, and eleven in Idaho. The club will leave on April 10, making Pendleton that evening, going on to Baker on the eleventh, jumping to Weiser on the twelfth, making Payette on the thirteenth, Nampa the seventeenth, Gooding the eighteenth, Twin Falls the nineteenth, Blackfoot the twentieth, Idaho Falls the twenty-first, St. Anthony the twenty-second and winding up at Pocatello on the twenty-fourth.

There is a peculiar significance in the number of towns to be made. Thirteen has always been a lucky number for the club and its name should be Willie R. Billiken for this trip. A nice alibi is ready, however if the trip proves a flivver. "Wot can you do against a jinx?" will be the plaint that should completely salve a failure.

Assistant Business Manager Priest found the people of the southern end of the state uniformly cordial and enthusiastic in their interest in the club and there is every reason to believe that the trip will be a success.

Two matinees will be given, running the total number of performances up to fifteen. The club will make Boise on a Saturday and appear there afternoon and evening at the high school auditorium, the Pinney Theatre having been leased for a two weeks' run of a big movie. The next stop will be at St. Anthony, where an afternoon concert will be given at the Industrial school.

The trip finale will come in Pocatello. The University club, a young but peppery organization, will handle the concert there and arrangements have already been made for a reception and dance in honor of the club members.

In certain communities to be visited ignorance as to Idaho's strength and greatness is said to be almost appalling and the trip could not be made at a more opportune time. The club is sure to make a strong impression and will undoubtedly pull many students Moscowward.

SINGERS TO APPEAR HERE

On April 12 the Royal Gwent Welsh Singers will appear before the Moscow public for the first time. The company carries a chorus of fourteen voices, many of them of big merit. Three of the members have sung in the Royal Opera Company in London.

The chorus was induced to appear here by special effort of the university. This was done to bring the better things before the people of Moscow and students of the University. The chorus is said to be the best ever brought here and it is hoped that the movement will be well supported.

IDAHO LOSES TWO HARD-FOUGHT GAMES

WHITMAN WINS IN TWO CLOSELY CONTESTED SPECTACULAR GAMES

Idaho Quintet Puts Up Best Ball of Year—Capt. Gray and Jim Keane Star—W. S. C. This Week

Last Wednesday and Friday evenings Idaho and Whitman staged two of the fastest games seen on the local floor in many a season. They were closely contested throughout, the result in either game being doubtful until the final whistle blew. Whitman was fighting out her last chance for the Northwestern championship and went into each game with a determination that could not be beaten. Coach Beggold's quintet staged a real comeback and only lost the games by the narrowest margin and because of a little hard luck shooting baskets. Time and again, particularly in the first game, the Idaho forwards broke thru Whitman's defense for shots only to have them go wild. The support accorded the team, in spite of the unsuccessful season, was enthusiastic in the extreme and helped materially to keep up the fighting spirit of the players.

The game Wednesday night, while hardly as spectacular as the Friday battle, was cleanly played and closely contested. Idaho got away early for a substantial lead, but was unable to hold it and the half ended 9-8 in Whitman's favor. The students staged a rally between halves but the fight was fruitless. Whitman increased their lead in the early minutes of the second half by annexing three field goals in rapid succession, giving them a lead which Idaho was unable to overcome. This game was marked by the really extraordinary playing of Jim Keane, both offensively and defensively, fast work by the Whitman forwards and Kinnison's work in holding Dement to one basket game.

Confidence was freely expressed that with a day's rest the Idaho team would win the Friday game. Again Idaho broke away for an early lead when Stillinger scored a couple of pretty baskets. As before, Idaho was unable to maintain the lead, and the half ended with the score several points to the good for Whitman. Charley Gray, who was substituted late in the half for Hyde, played a marvelous game, scoring five field goals during the remainder of the game, some of them being sensational, long shots. Jim Keane's work was again a credit. But the long shots by Clerin and Dement could not be offset and the game ended with a score of 26-22.

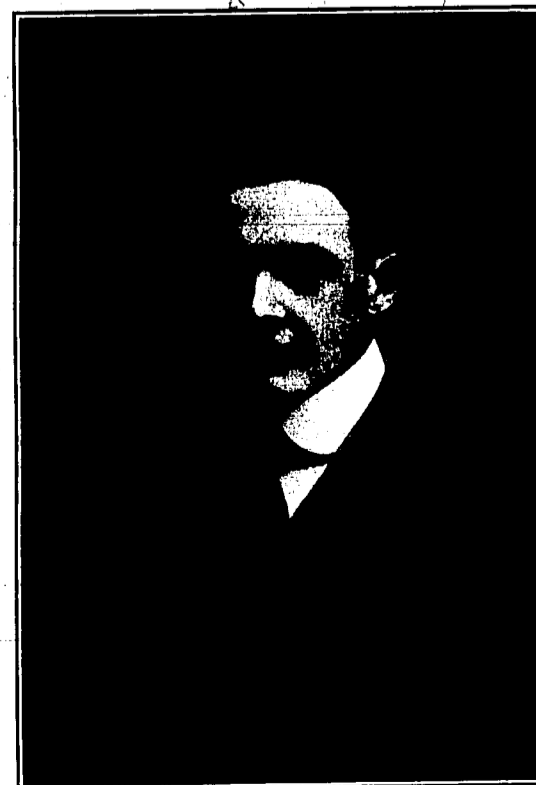

This week Idaho finishes the season playing W. S. C. here Friday and at Pullman Saturday. If W. S. C. wins both of these contests, Doc Bohler's quintet will have the undisputed championship of the conference, but losing one game to Idaho would tie the O. A. C. and W. S. C. Altho Idaho has yet to win a Conference game and Pullman is going better every day, Idaho can win in spite of the poor prospects if luck will break for her. At any rate the games will be worth seeing.

THE ALL-NORTHWEST TEAM

Altho the basket ball schedule is not yet completed, Coach Bohler of W. S. C. has already chosen his All-Northwest basket ball team. O. A. C. is represented by Sieberts, forward and Mix, guard; Whitman has one man on the mythical quintet, Dement being honored at center; Davidson from Washington is the other forward and Bohler from W. S. C., guard. Owing largely to the fact that Idaho has not won a game, no Idaho men were considered. But had Keane played the style of game throughout the season that marked his work in the Whitman games, he would demand recognition. Altho most Idaho fans have no recollection of Davidson's work, yet if he maintains the standard set by the other four, Coach Bohler's quintet, if assembled, would be an aggregation hard to beat in any conference.

ARGONAUT STAFF MEETING

Next Sunday evening the Argonaut staff will meet at the Beta house. A number of matters of considerable importance will be presented for consideration. Be there promptly at 7:30 o'clock.

MISS EVELYN COX

THE PETITION

The quick and timely death of the petition of last week renders unnecessary extended adverse editorial comment on the matter. But it may be well to point out the significance of such a petition both as to its bearing upon the athletic department and upon the student body.

We choose to deal quite briefly with the petition as it affected the athletic interests of the University. It seems too obvious now that such action was initiated when only two basketball games remained on the schedule could not easily be made to appear the result of genuine concern, on the part of the authors of the petition, for the welfare of the indoor sport. The fact that the captain of our basket ball five recently deserted the team on the eve of a battle hardly warrants such an eleventh hour expedient, ethical considerations waived.

A petition of this nature would hardly be possible if we had an efficient men's union because we would then more thoroughly understand and appreciate the faculty's attitude in matters concerning student conduct and it would be more generally seen how the stringent rules laid down by the scholarship committee most vitally relate to our welfare. This article is written in no spirit of bitterness but in full appreciation of the fact that to palliate or in any way make exception to a faculty ruling would operate to undermine the whole groundwork of scholarship rules and regulations. It is only fair to state that doubtless this was not the intention of those petitioners but it can readily be seen that such would have been the inevitable result had the signers succeeded. The punishment may appear severe but the sooner it becomes clear to every student that no irregularities in college work will be tolerated the sooner we shall have done with them.

Again we urge a men's union which shall cooperate with the administration in building up a recognized standard of student conduct. We shall then better understand the necessity and worth of such a standard. We shall then better appreciate the seriousness and permanency of that standard. There must be no loopholes, however—no exceptions because of ability in the "minor shows" of college life. Rather let us look to the elimination of these irregularities thru the unbuilding of a strong "public opinion" shared by faculty and students alike. That some such sentiment exists was plainly evident last week. There was a gratifying lack of signatures on the petition blanks which really constituted a new-old stamp which might be labeled "not allowed."

POOR SPIRIT

Last week at Idaho's athletic contests the Idaho rooters assumed an attitude toward the work of the referee which was anything but sportsmanlike. We are glad to be able to say that this occurrence is indeed a rare one, but the fact that it did occur is no less regrettable because of that fact, and no less to be condemned. Idaho has always stood for the best in her athletic contests, her athletes are universally known and recognized as clean sportsmen, and the attitude assumed last week can only sully and tarnish this reputation. In the main, the work of Mr. Harmeston as an official was of high order; even his interpretation of the rules stricter than onlookers were accustomed to, he was absolutely impartial. Everyone will admit that he made the games extremely fast and interesting. Let us be careful in the future.

ENGINEERING PROFES-

SOR TO LEAVE
 It is with sincere regret that the students of the University note the leaving of Mr. Winslow of the Engineering faculty. Altho he has been with us only a year, he has impressed us as being one of the big men of the faculty. He is a true scholar, and an engineer of no mean ability. Mr. Winslow is not one who has confined himself to one line of work solely, but has shown interest in every phase of college work. Every effort should be put forth to keep Mr. Winslow with us. If we are to have a great university, we must offer inducement to such men to stay with us. They are the men whom we need and whom we must keep.

THE FORUM

Mr. Editor:

The last issue of the Argonaut stated that the Forestry department has just adopted the honor system and claims the honor of being the first department to adopt such a system. We wish to call attention to the fact that the honor system has been in successful operation in the Law School for the past three years. The College of Law at this time wishes to extend a hand of welcome to the Forestry Department, which now realizes the great possibilities of the honor system.

A LAWYER.

AMENDMENTS TO CONSTITUTION

GIRLS DEFECTIVE

Eugene, Ore.—Prints just taken in the physical culture department of the University of Oregon of the feet of 23 second semester girls, show that but three have good feet, and but one a perfect toe line. These students are the first to undergo a new test being tried out by the department to determine the condition of the feet of girls entering the university.
 Most of the girls were found to have flat feet, caused by wearing high heels and pointed toes.
 "When one wears high heels the muscles in the arches and the muscles in the back part of the foot are weakened and gradually the arch breaks down, causing a flat foot as well as many physical disorders," said Miss Frieda Goldsmith, physical director, who has just completed the first set of prints.

The method of taking pictures of the feet is similar to taking the thumb prints. The foot is painted and an impression made on a card. The print is then painted with a solution which makes the lines more distinct. In the future all freshmen will have foot-prints taken upon registering and defective foot classes will be organized.

AGRICULTURAL NOTES

Professor Hickman returned Monday from a trip to southern Idaho where he has been on institute work for about two weeks.

H. B. Carroll, Jr., who assisted the Animal Husbandry department in their judging contest on Friday, March 3, the "big day," returned to his work on Sunday afternoon. Mr. Carroll's work was greatly appreciated by all concerned. He was deeply interested in the work of the Agricultural department and was greatly pleased with the judging contests. He said: "To me this is something entirely new and unique and it will without doubt be of great benefit to all your agricultural students."

Mr. Carroll is employed by the large Day & Rothrock farming concern of Sprague, Wash. He was superintendent of the Inter-collegiate contests at both Yakima and Lewiston and is experienced in such contests.

ENGLISH LITERATURE PROGRAM

The Freshman class in English literature was much impressed by an illustrated lecture by Miss Tuller assisted by a number of the music students. After a short explanatory lecture, the artists took the floor and also the advantage of an audience that was compelled to listen and appreciate all the numbers.

Miss Root illustrated the compositions of Mrs. H. H. Beach with "Good Night, Good Night" which was a very appropriate theme for opening such programs, this one not being an exception for, tho the Ag. students were missing, the Engineering students held the fort and were lulled to slumber by Miss Root's characteristically sweet rendition of the selection. To complete the work of the first number and to amuse those students who had escaped the first time, Miss Gregory sang Miss Gaynor's song, "My Dear, Jerry." Then the Freshmen felt right at home and were fully prepared to enjoy the concert in order not to disappoint the youngsters, Miss Rollins sang, "Bay's Boat, the Silver Moon," which was received by a large outburst of applause from the Frosh. But in order to complete the work so nobly started by Miss Root and to insure a quiet audience for the last number—which was posted as high-blow number—Miss Valborg Kjosness sang "His Lullaby" by Carrie Jacob Bond. Now that the children were fully quieted and silence assured, except occasional restlessness of the dreaming youths, Miss Evelyn Cox and Miss Tuller "rendered" "From the Land of the Sky Blue Waters" which was a good illustration of "The Parting of the Ways" as either Miss Cox was going, the right way and Miss Tuller the wrong, or viceversa, we are unable to say which.

As a windup, Miss Bernadine Adair gave a selection entitled "I Love You." The Freshmen knowing the effects of "happy love," fully appreciated this song. As the gong in the hall sounded the end of the period, Miss Adair sang her second selection, "I Hear a Thrush at Eve," and the audience arose to their feet as a tribute to Miss Adair. This tribute was attributed to the whole concert, as the Freshmen were under the impression that it was really "Eve" and they had overslept their classes.

FORESTRY NOTES

Mr. A. W. Cooper of the Western Pine Manufacturers Association, will address the Forestry Club this evening in room 304, Morrill Hall.

The trip to Kendrick which some of the Forestry students had planned for last Saturday, was postponed on account of unfavorable weather conditions.

The returns from the rangers' examination which a number of the Foresters took last October have been coming in. Those who have received favorable reports are Malmsten, Johnston, Gilman, and Cunningham. These men will be put upon the eligibility list for the appointment to a ranger's position in the employ of the government.

Y. W. C. A. HOLDS BIRTHDAY SERVICE

CELEBRATE THE FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF THE FOUNDING OF THE SOCIETY

University and High School Girls Unite in Services Program, And Banquet

With one hundred and ten members and friends in attendance, with a program of great interest, and a subsequent "feed" that satisfied every pang of hunger, the members of the university and high school Young Women's Christian Association last night successfully carried out their plans for the celebration of the founding of the national society fifty years ago.

The meeting was presided over by Miss Mary McClenahan of the university, assisted by Miss Marian Byrns of the high school. Miss Dabb was the principal speaker. Her address was on "The Relation of Independent Societies to the World Association." Devotional exercises were conducted with the assistance of the Reverend Mr. Hare and the Rev. Mr. Watson. The program followed a form of service prescribed by the national organization and was chiefly a memorial in honor of Miss Dodge, the late secretary.

The high school members, attired in white, formed an impressive processional. Accompanied by Miss Margaret Byrns they sang the Hymn of the Lights, the Y. W. C. A. song.

Attractive musical numbers were a double trio by the Misses Adair, Rhodes, Schumacker, Brown, Longstreth, and Morris, accompanied by Miss Kendrick, and a vocal duet by Mrs. Arnold and Miss Root, accompanied by Mrs. J. G. Eldridge.

After the services a buffet luncheon was served, the supper being the gift of the advisory board, which is composed of Miss Benton, Miss Brashear, Mrs. Axtell, Mrs. Aspray, Mrs. Byrns, and Madam Augusta Eldridge.

The Guild hall was elaborately decorated in the national colors, light and dark blue.

The supper was served in six booths which represented the work of the six principal committees of the organization and high school chairmen. The conference committee booth was in charge of Miss Ola Bonham and Miss Leora Ostroot; the membership, Ernestine Brown; the meetings, Miss Margaret Byrns and Miss Venna Patterson; the social, Miss Mabel Johnson and Miss Mayme Stepleton; the missionary, Miss Mary Van Tillburg and Miss Agnes Bailey; the publicity Miss Isabel Richards and Miss Mary Nodde.

In the opinion of Miss McClenahan, the meeting was the biggest and the best in the history of the organization and the free-will jubilee offering very creditable.

ANNUAL JUDGING CONTESTS

AGRICULTURISTS BANQUET

The third annual banquet of the college of agriculture held in the Guild Hall on Saturday evening was attended by 125 students, faculty members, and friends, and was a conspicuous success in interest and the loyal good will always evident in regard to the college of agriculture. This get-together banquet has been the means of binding the agriculture students closely to one another and to their instructors and is regarded as a very important event in the college calendar.

Following an excellent dinner, Dean Iddings, whose skill as a toast master satisfies every demand, introduced in turn a number of speakers whose responses were well worth hearing.

C. F. Johnson spoke with admirable effect on "The Age"; A. Gorton spoke sensibly on The Gardening class of the practical school of agriculture; Miss French's subject, "Boys," was one which she showed herself well equipped to handle in a masterly manner; Dean C. N. Little made a fine talk on the relation of engineering to agriculture; President Brannon and Mr. Watson made characteristic addresses. Mr. E. E. Hunt spoke well for the second year class; Mr. Chris Hagan, one of the college's most loyal friends, expressed his faith in the college and his readiness to serve it; Mr. Harry Carroll of Sprague, Wn., complimented the agriculture students very highly.

Mr. Carroll officiated in the contests on Friday last and took occasion at the banquet to declare that it was the best contest in which he had ever participated. Mr. Carroll was superintendent last fall in the stock judging contests in Lewiston and North Yakima and thus became acquainted with the university students, for whom he formed a strong liking.

Excellent music was furnished by the college of agriculture quartet, composed of Mr. C. F. Johnson, O. W. Johnson, P. P. Peterson, and Paul Wenger, supplemented by J. M. Booth.

The awarding of prizes offered by the heads of the department of the college of agriculture succeeded the delivery of the speeches.

WINNERS IN THE JUDGING CONTEST

Dairies—First prize, R. C. Smith, silver loving cup given by Chris Hagan; second, Carl Harder, book; third, Homer Hudelson, subscription to paper.

Grain Judging—First, Eugene Ralph, silver loving cup given by Mr. Meeker; second, F. A. Griswold, books; third, L. W. Ketch, text book; fourth A. W. Johnson, subscription; fifth, O. W. Johnson, subscription.

Apple Judging—First, Mr. Kent, cup given by Mr. Veatch; second—W. H. Booth, book; third, Mr. Bowman, subscription to "Better Fruit."

Poultry Judging—First, B. A. Wenger, cup given by Oscar Nelson of Coeur d'Alene; second, L. S. Plato, book, "The Call of the Hen;" third, George Hardin, subscription to "Western Poultry."

Stock Judging—First, L. S. Plato, cup given by Nordby Bros. of Genesee; second, W. H. Booth, book; third J. M. Booth, book; fourth, R. E. Wood, book; fifth, P. A. Wenger, subscription to "Breeder's Gazette."

PRESENT PROGRAM AT LEWISTON

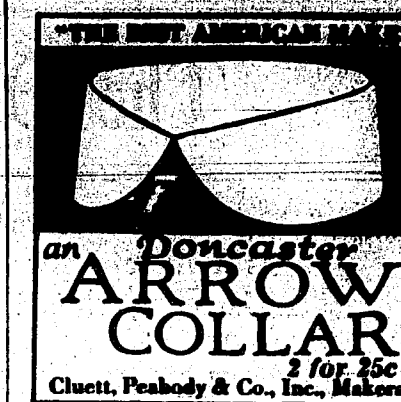

After hearing the Glee Club in Lewiston last week the Shriners, who were holding their annual "good time" roundup, decided that the U. of I. students were some entertainers, and as a consequence seven students from the Music Department were sent down to assist at the celebration. Those who went were Doris Gregory, Evelyn Cox, Bernadine Adair, Tress McMahon, Donald David, Jean Gerlough, and Harry Hawley.

A number of new things were offered among which were, the mixed quartet which sang a "Spring Song," David and Hawley in a duet called "Poor Pauline," and the University quartet in a medley of college songs, Miss Cox and Mr. David in a new duet, "Drucilla," and a duet, Miss Cox and Mr. Gerlough assisted by the mixed quartet. All the numbers were received enthusiastically.

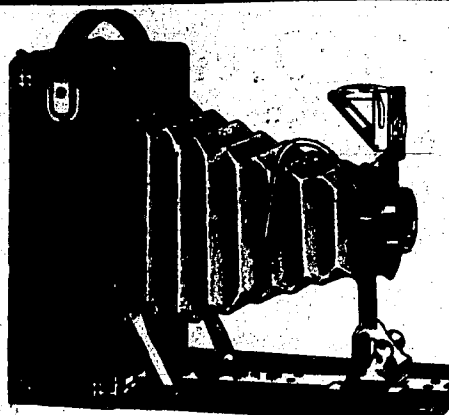

WINSLOW LEAVES

The startling news that the engineering department will lose Professor Winslow within two weeks' time, has been recently announced. Mr. Winslow is one of the best men in the engineering department and his loss will be a severe blow for this department. He leaves in two weeks for newer fields.

Two gentlemen met recently. One inquired, "Do you believe in a higher power?" The other said, "Yes, I married her."

Why Go To "Idaho"

The choice of a university or college to be attended by a student should be based upon four principal requirements: 1st, a high purpose and broad field of work; 2d, a competent faculty; 3d, a sufficient equipment; 4th, a student body of high ideals. The University of Idaho fully satisfies these requirements.

I. Purpose and Field—

Its purpose is to serve the people of Idaho in developing and training students; in advancing the entire State educational system of which it is a part; in assisting toward the solution of economic and social problems; in furnishing expert knowledge in Agriculture, Engineering, Forestry, Home Economics, and Educational matters not only to students in residence but also to all who desire it thruout the State.

II. Faculty—

The faculty is made up of eighty-three teachers of thoro training and efficiency attained by years of study and experience. They are deeply interested in the progress of each and all under their instruction. They know the State and its conditions and give their best efforts to its development. In addition there are fifteen workers in the agricultural extension division and six agricultural county agents.

III. Equipment—

Its equipment is ample. It has a library of over 39,000 volumes, excellent facilities for teaching Literature, Philosophy, and the Social Sciences, and well provided laboratories for the natural and applied sciences.

IV. Students—

Its students, numbering eight hundred and seven in the present school year, 1915-1916, are earnest, wide-awake, and democratic. A large number of them earn their own way. Its alumni now occupy high positions and will be the future leaders of Idaho in professions, the industrial vocations, and in the building and maintenance of homes.

The four colleges and the central agricultural experiment station are located at Moscow; the main agricultural extension office is located at Boise, and the agricultural sub-stations and demonstration farms at Sandpoint, Clagstone, Caldwell, Moscow, Gooding, and Aberdeen.

Student Self Help at Yale

A report of the department of student self-help at Yale just made public, shows in comparative figures what that department accomplished last year during the period between September 1 and January 1. Whereas in 1914 a total of $8,526.70 was earned by 359 students representing 615 positions secured, the same four months in 1915 brought $16,087.27 to 427 self-supporting students, who accepted 1,438 positions.

Montana Has All University Luncheon

University of Montana, Feb. 18.—
For the first time in its history, Montana has held a get-together luncheon for all the men of the university. The luncheon was given at a large hotel of Missoula, where plans were made to accommodate 200. The affair was strongly advertised among the students, and was enthusiastically successful. Those responsible for it hope by such means to give the men a greater sense of unity and fellowship.

Montana Has Heavy Schedule

The University of Montana will meet Washington State College, the University of Idaho and Gonzaga University in a series of twelve baseball games, two to be played in Pullman, Wash, two in Moscow, Idaho and two in Spokane. The six return games will be played in Missoula.

An effort will be made to have the Montana team meet the Butte team of the Pacific Northwest league in a series of practice games.

Dartmouth

Because he believes that his field is science rather than administration, Ernest Fox Nicols has resigned his position as president of Dartmouth to accept a professorship at Yale.

Field Battery at Colorado

Ninety-six students of the Colorado Agricultural College recently organized a corps of field battery and were officially installed and given the oath of allegiance to the state and nation by Governor Carlson.

The equipment for the battery cost $100,000. The students will spend ten days in an encampment at the close of the college year.

Keeping the Money in the Country

The Agricultural College, the University, and the Normal Schools of Kansas have installed motion picture machines and are giving shows composed of educational films and a few good comedies. The machines are also occasionally used in connection with class work.

Drop "Daisy Chair"

Believing that the annual custom of choosing the twenty-four prettiest girls of the sophomore class to carry the "daisy chair" on Senior day had reduced itself to a vulgar beauty contest, the Seniors at Vassar this week have voted to abolish the practice.
The women of the University of Wisconsin stopped the various beauty exhibitions at the college exhibitions and in the college publications.

Staff is Rewarded

A rule has recently gone into effect at Texas University whereby members of college publications will be suitably rewarded for their services. Editors are to receive gold medals, associates silver and reporters bronze.

U. C. and O. A. C. Tied

By breaking even in their two-game series, the Oregon Agricultural college and California fives left the basketball championship of the Pacific Coast Conference undecided. As the California team made its northern invasion in January, and the northerners have completed their southern trip, the tie will not be played off.

Must Swim to Graduate

Every woman graduate from the University of Kansas must be able to swim. A student may do perfect work in all of her studies, but if she cannot take care of herself in the water, she is not prepared for life in the eyes of the university and her diploma will be held up until she demonstrates that she can swim twice across the pool in Robinson gymnasium.

Utah to Retain Athletics

By an almost unanimous vote, the student body of the University of Utah decided to retain intercollegiate athletics and secure an athletic coach to succeed Coach Norgren. Lack of interest among the students to support athletics brought the question up and also caused the resignation of Coach Norgren.

Cornell Loses Valuable Apparatus

Fire destroyed one of Cornell's valuable chemical laboratories filled with scientific equipment. The loss is estimated at $300,000 and is partially covered by insurance. More than 2500 students will be compelled to rearrange their schedule as every course except that of law requires the study of chemistry.

Fencing has been added to the athletic training of women at the University of Missouri.

Johns Hopkins University will be removed from Baltimore to Homewood, next fall. At this time every department will be moved into a new home. New buildings will be erected there as fast as funds permit.

PHI ALPHA DELTA DANCE

On Saturday evening the legal fraternity so far forgot Coke and Blackstone as to trip over the "Way to Dublin Bay" and glide along the "Long, Long Trail." The formalities of the law and evening conventions were dashed aside to make room for vanity and joyous laughter. The fun soon filled the hall till the once spacious room was cozy and congenial.
The hall was as Purdy says, "designed to represent a gymnasium," and to convey the impression of freedom for all healthful exercises. The effect was nicely carried out and thirty-five couples and patrons and patronesses indulged to their heart's content.

While there was nothing brilliant to dazzle the eyes, everything combined to make the dance "just right," even to the pretty mistress of the punch bowl.

Prof. and Mrs. Arnold and Professor Gill were the patrons and patronesses of the evening. Messrs Miller, Bowers, Hyde, Gerlough, West, Bonneville, and Thomas and their ladies were the guests of the fraternity.
