IDAHO BEATS W. S. C. AT TRACK

IDAHO 66, W. S. C. 65—BIG SUB-PRIZE IN 100

Relay Decides Meet—Track Meet With Whitman Saturday Afternoon

"The meet now stands," said the announcer, "W. S. C. 65—Idaho 61. All out for the relay!"

All afternoon the lead had see-sawed back and forth between the two teams. Pullman athletes had made a clean sweep in the mile and the two mile but they winged "I" jerseys had flashed across the line in order in the 100-yard dash. Sam Morrison's great work in the broad jump and 220 had given Idaho a much-needed 10 points and the meet hung on the relay.

Hedley Dingle started the race for Idaho running with McClung, a crack sprinter. For the first 220 McClung stepped in sensational style but Dingle stayed with him, and finally, in the last 100 yards, passed his rival by putting forth every ounce of strength he had.

"Ding" touched Clay Parr's hand and fell in a heap. Parr ran with Miller, another sprinter, and held the lead Dingle had given him. It was Parr's first Intercollegiate quarter but he could hardly have performed in any but sensational form after Dingle's inspiring finish.

Turk Gerlough ran the third lap against McCroskey, probably the best man W. S. C. had in the race. McCroskey started with as much speed as had McClung but Turk out-thought and out-gamed him, giving Captain Massey a safe start on Schachter, paired with him for the final 440.

Schachter had been touted as having gone a quarter in less than 50 seconds but Massey ran away from him. The Idaho Captain finished a full 30 yards to the good, was caught by a dozen arms, and carried off the track on the shoulders of Idaho's near-frenzied rooters.

Such was the last and deciding event in one of the best contested meets ever run in the Northwest. Exciting at the start, it became nerve-racking before the relay was called and for pure thrills entirely eclipsed any athletic event Idaho enthusiasts have witnessed in the past two years.

Eash team seemed unusually strong in certain events and quite weak in others. W. S. C. had the two-mile and mile all to herself, the great little Smith winning the former 10:9 and a fifth and Woodruff the latter in the first time of 4:35 and three-fifths. Oliver Campbell, game to the core, fainted in the third lap of the two-mile. Oliver was upbraiding himself for "quitting," while as a matter of fact he doesn't know what the word means. As one spectator expressed it, "he just stopped."

The 100-yard was one of the surprises of the meet. Morrison won with Jack Richmond right on his heels and Betty following Jack. Three Pullman men trailed in after Betty. It looked from the stands as tho the time was faster than the 10:1 announced.

Captain Massey ran true to form in the 440, triumphing Schachter in 50:4.5. The Pullman star ran a nice race but Massey was not to be denied, his distance-devouring stride rather outclassing what opposition he had. Turk Gerlough astonished the crowd by winning the half-mile in 2:01 3/5. Turk's strong finish made him breast the tape two strides ahead of Massey, running second.

Russ Cunningham's perfect form over the high sticks won for him in 16: 3-5, and his speed over the lows made McCroskey step in the remarkably fast time of 25 flat to beat him. Cunningham's win was another race that looked faster than it was announced.

All of Idaho's weight men put up classy performances. Bill Bohm took the shot easily; Tom Lommason broke the Idaho record with his heave of 125:9 in the discus; and Betty upset a world of dope by winning the javelin at 159 feet.

Sam Morrison, with his 15 points garnered in the 100, 220, and broad jump was the star of the meet. The 220 was probably the greatest race of the afternoon. A win for W. S. C.

would have meant the meet and Morrison took his marks fired with the determination to give the relay team a chance. The last of the field to start, he caught Miller in the last 30 yards and won in 22 flat.

Zack Cassidy vaulted beautifully. He lost at 11:10 1-2 but broke his own college record by going 11:8 to take second place.

The summary:

100—Morrison, Richmond, Betty. Time, 10:1.

220—Morrison, Miller, McClung. Time, 22 flat.

440—Massey, Schachter, Dingle. Time, 50.4.

880—Gerlough, Massey, Horn. Time, 2:01:3.

Mile—Woodruff, Schlaefer, Phillips. Time, 4:35:3.

Two Mile—Smith, Schlaefer, Phillips. Time, 10:09:1.

High Hurdles—Cunningham, McCroskey, Witt. Time, 16:3.

Low Hurdles—McCroskey, Cunningham, Witt. Time, 25 flat.

Shot Put—Bohm, King, Brooks. Distance, 40:3 1-2.

Discus—Lommason, King, McClure. Distance, 125:9.

Javelin—Betty, L. Smith, McCroskey. Distance, 159.

Pole Vault—P. Thompson, Cassidy, L. Smith. Height, 11:10 1-2.

High Jump—McCroskey, McClure, Ralph Jones. Height, 5:7.

Broad Jump—Morrison, Price, Betty. Distance, 21:11.

Relay—Idaho, W. S. C. Time, 3:26:2.

Whitman will appear on the varsity field Saturday afternoon. The "dope" seems to favor Idaho but Captain Massey may be unable to start and there is a possibility of a win for the Missionaries. Be out to root for the team that utterly wrecked the Pullman jinx. The meet will start at 1:30.

VESPER RECITAL

The University of Idaho String Quartet appeared in a charming program at the Auditorium, Sunday afternoon and was greeted with much appreciation from some five hundred music-lovers of the University and city.

The Schubert Quartet which opened the program was given with splendid ensemble, and the vivacity of the Scherzo was well contrasted with the thoughtful and well rounded tones of the Adagio. The second number for three violins and piano was received with the enthusiasm which must respond to its surge and animation. In the Danish Song the simplicity of treatment brought out the homely comfort of the Danish peasants, and sent the audience away wishing for another such musical treat in the near future.

The following was the program:

Quartet op. 125, No. 1.....Schubert

Allegro Moderato

Scherzo

Adagio

Allegro

Marche Nuptiale.....Papini

Three violins and piano

Danish Song, Rosell.....Sandy

HENRY LAWRENCE SOUTHWICK TO LECTURE

One of the biggest features of Commencement Week will be an interpretative recital of "King Lear" by Henry Lawrence Southwick, President of Emerson College of Oratory, Boston.

Professor Southwick is a thorough Shakespearean scholar and a master in the art of expression and oratory. He is considered to be one of the most powerful exponents of Shakespearean philosophy in the country.

At the present time President of Emerson College of Oratory, Boston, Henry Lawrence Southwick was for some years Master of English in the William Penn Charter School of Philadelphia, and for several seasons has been a prominent and brilliant figure on the lyceum platform. He has lectured before leading colleges and prominent women's clubs, and his services have been in constant demand at teachers' institutes and educational gatherings.

GONZAGA PLAYS IDAHO TODAY

GAME TODAY—IDAHO LOST TO W. S. C. LAST WEEK

Too much Hartman Caused Idaho's Defeat. Scores 5-1 and 5-0

Gonzaga University baseball team will meet the Idaho nine this afternoon at four o'clock. The game had to be postponed yesterday because only five of the Gonzaga men arrived on time. The team came from Spokane by automobiles and owing to breakdowns some of the cars failed to arrive. The men have all arrived and this afternoon the Idaho team is hoping to retrieve itself for its former defeat.

W. S. C.'s two stellar moundsmen, Captain Al Hartman and Norman Moss, twice mauled Idaho's championship hopes quite severely during the past week, Mr. Hartman administering the first "clawing" at 5-1 on Thursday and Mr. Moss the second at 5-0 on Saturday morning.

In the first game the count was even up at one all when Pullman's last clouting turn came. Hartman, first up, cracked out a single, a death intended sent him to second, a clean steal left him on third and he came roaming in when Jim Keane threw uniquely after picking up Root's hopper. Hartman's run was enough to win but Bohler's men refused to be satisfied, Passmore's homer to deep left and three more blows, one of them a scratch, accounting for an additional three counters.

Hartman pitched beautiful ball throughout the game. Idaho's one healthy looking chance to score came in the eighth, and Charlie Gray drove in a single run with a clean blow to center but the Pullman captain proceeded to apply the screws and, with two on, he struck out Jones, Barger, and Purdy in a row.

Norman Moss, helped by the tendency of Idaho's sluggers to stand with their bats on their shoulders and scrutinize perfectly good strikes, got away in good shape on Saturday morning. He allowed but four hits and was magnificently supported.

Earl Brockman, on the hill for Idaho, hurled his usual clever, heady, strong-in-the-pinches game. Limberger backing at critical stages accounted for all the runs made from his delivery.

Vic Jones made a big hit in this second game with his sensational fielding. He pulled down one drive from Bohler's bludgeon that looked like a sure four-ply affair.

The whole team did not appear to us good advantage against Pullman as it did against Montana. Several idiotic "politeness" stunts were pulled in the first game and each converted, what should have been an easy out into a Texas leaguer. The breaks in both games appeared to be for W. S. C., but Rade's men did not seem to grab the breaks that came their way.

The Whitman games are scheduled for Friday afternoon and Saturday afternoon after the track meet. The team needs some genuine Maggie Calhoun and family support to put it back in the running for the Conference gonfalon. Wallop Whitman twice and then back into the battle to imprint a brace of shriners on the phiz of that self-assured youth, Pullman Pennant Prospects.

The scores of the games of the week:

First Game.

	R.	H.	E.
Idaho	1	2	3
W. S. C.	5	8	2

Batteries: Rettig and Barger; Hartman and Schroeder.

Second Game.

	R.	H.	E.
Idaho	0	4	2
W. S. C.	5	8	1

Batteries: Brockman and Barger; Moss and Schroeder.

PROGRAM FOR CAMPUS DAY

MAY QUEEN WILL BE CROWNED, BAND CONCERT, FOLK DANCING, AND SPEECHES

Seventh Annual Event—Ivy Planting And Basket Supper—Dance in the Gym in the Evening

The Seventh Annual Campus Exercises will be held on May 22. This will be a day of good times for everyone. A good program has been arranged and if present weather conditions hold, the day ought to be one of the best of the whole college year. Everything has been arranged for the pleasure of the whole student body. A band of sixty pieces under the direction of Professor Carey will give a concert, after which the class orators will be delivered by the class orators. The most spectacular event will be the processional of the May Queen from the University Gardens. The Queen will be escorted by her retinue of maidens. A chorus of two hundred Moscow school children will sing a greeting to the Queen and furnish three other numbers of the program.

After the ivy planting, a basket supper will be held on the campus, after which everyone is invited to attend a dance in the gymnasium. The dance is to be a very informal and inexpensive social gathering. The admission will be only fifty cents so that everyone can attend.

The following is the program for the dances and choruses. Below is given a general program of the day:

Greeting to May Queen

Morning Glory Chorus

Court Dance:

The Galliard

The Canary

The Coranto

Folk Dances

Pop Goes the Weasel

Money Musk

Children's Games

Here we come gathering nuts in May

Cornish May Dance

Folk Dances

Trenchmore

Marguerite Chorus

Children's Games

Cobbler's Jig

Looby Loo

1:30—Band Concert, under direction of Mr. Cary.

2:30—Class Orations, from the steps of the Administration Building.

3:15—Procession of the May Queen and her attendants from the University Gardens to the Campus where Old English Songs and Dances are given in her honor.

4:45—Ivy Planting.

5:00—Basket Supper on the Campus.

7:30—Social Dance in Gymnasium. Remember that the big thing begins at 1:30 P. M. next Monday and be there prepared to enjoy the events of the occasion.

SIGMA NU INFORMAL

Thirty-five couples danced at the Sigma Nu fraternity informal at the Gymnasium last Saturday evening. "Bill" Bailey's orchestra, down from Spokane for the first time, played a program of the peopliest dances one could wish for. The fraternity's chaperoning guests were Dean and Mrs. Shattuck, Dean French, Mr. and Mrs. Boghold, Mr. and Mrs. Downing, and Miss Leiby. The other guests were the Misses Constance Gyde, Dorothy Wenz, Mary Burke, Ada Burke, Florence Richardson, Carol Ryrie, Byrd Wall, Esther Swan, Frances Bailey, Dorothy Addy, Helen Bowden, Helen Denecke, Tress McMahon, Gladys Johnson, Grace Eagleson, Anne Mullin, Louise Clamby, Myrtle Sampson, Lillian Sample, Mary Nodde, Frueks of Pullman, Shott, Barr, Gretchen Appel, Esther Pearson, Bonnie Lemon, Bernadine Adair, Anna Glindeman, Camille McDaniel, and Oella Schuyler, and Messrs. Glindeman, Salt, Tulafson, McDougal of Pullman, Micklewaite, Hudleson, Groniger, Jones, Purdy, Ambrose Johnson, Clarence Johnson.

WATKINS ORATORICAL CONTEST

The annual oratorical contest for the Watkins medal will be held in the University Auditorium the evening of Saturday, May 27. The contest is a little later this year than usual, but it promises to be one of the very best. Indications are that orations of a high order will be delivered and that they will thoroughly sift some of the vital problems of the day.

Each year sees some advance of interest in public speaking among college students, both in that which is purely argumentative in character as well as that of a more oratorical type. Students realize that training in this line is of great value to them in life, and many people have discovered that their chances for advancement depend largely on this ability. Here at Idaho, however, we have been somewhat slow in appreciating the value of excellence in public speech, and our students have consequently not given this form of activity the support that it so well deserves.

We had a good contest last year and the orations were timely, instructive, and interesting. One of the commendable features was the participation by one of the young ladies of the University. This was a good precedent and it is to be hoped that others will follow the example this year. There is no reason why we should not have as many young women as men in these contests. Here at least they stand an equal chance of winning, a thing which is not true of most other contests.

We hope then that a large number of our students who have any talent in public speaking whatsoever will come out this year and compete for the beautiful gold medal which is given to the one making first place, and that this important event will get the loyal support of every student in the University.

FORMER IDAHO INSTRUCTOR BECOMES COLLEGE PRESIDENT

The news of the election of Mrs. Aurelia Henry Reinhardt to the presidency of Mills College, Oakland, California, is of peculiar interest to the residents of northern Idaho. Mrs. Reinhardt, then Miss Henry, was identified with educational work here for eight years, having been an instructor in the English department of the University of Idaho from 1898 to 1901, and head of the English department in the State Normal School at Lewiston for five years. In both Moscow and Lewiston she has hosts of friends who extend to her heartiest congratulations and good wishes.

Mrs. Reinhardt is well known throughout California as a university extension lecturer on English literature, and also, for three terms, as state chairman of literature of the California Federation of Women's Club.

Mrs. Reinhardt has a national reputation also, as a scholar of distinction. After graduating from the University of California in 1898, she taught in the English department of the University of Idaho. In 1901-3, she was a scholar and fellow in English in the Graduate School of Yale University. While at Yale she edited and translated The De Monarchia of Dante Alighieri and this publication is now a college textbook.

Later she held a European fellowship. While in residence at Oxford University in England she edited and published "Episcopoene or The Silent Woman," by Ben Johnson, for which she received the degree of doctor of philosophy from Yale University in 1905.

The new president of Mills College is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, of the Dante Society of America and of the Concordance Society of America.

A Californian by birth but of New England ancestry, she is interested in the Daughters of the American Revolution, of which she is a chapter regent.

Her marriage to Dr. George F. Reinhardt, professor of hygiene of the University of California, took place in 1909. The exceptionally useful career of Dr. Reinhardt came to an untimely end with his death in 1914.

FRESHMAN GLEE SATURDAY NIGHT

BILL BAILEY'S ORCHESTRA WILL FURNISH GOOD MUSIC

Frosh Claim It Will Be The Best Dance of the Season

The Freshmen, that rollicking collection of good natured humanity which speckles our campus with various hues of green, have taken it into their young heads, as they did the evening of the Stunt Fest, to furnish the students and faculty one of the best surprises of the year, in the form of the Freshman Glee. They promise us that they will live up to their standard of furnishing the best, and will provide a dance which will outshine any social function of the year.

Bailey's orchestra, that much touted musical organization from Spokane which did such excellent work at the Sigma Nu informal last week, was considered by the Freshmen, and "Gov." Hawley, to be hardly good enuf to furnish music for the Freshman Glee. Lacking, however, better available music and more available funds, the Frosh were compelled to accept the services of the orchestra. It goes without saying tho, that Bailey is enough to make any man, woman, or child in the Inland Empire wish they had the necessary funds to journey to Moscow for the evening of May 19th.

The second essential of a good dance, according to "Gov." is punch. "That," he says, "will be the best ever served in Idaho's Gymnasium."

Many students from our neighboring school, Washington State College, will be in Moscow to attend the dance, and help to fill up the vacancy left by our track men, who meet with Whitman the following day.

Don't forget on Friday evening to walk bravely up to the ticket seller, dig deep into your jeans and fork over the necessary admission fee for the Glee. Don't have cold feet. If you do you shall always regret that they were not warned by those jingling tunes of Bailey's orchestra and the tingle of that punch.

RALSTON ADDRESSES ENGINEERS

On Monday evening the members of the Associated Engineers and a number of visitors had a rare treat in the form of an address by Mr. J. C. Ralston, consulting engineer of Spokane. The subject was the Catskill Water Supply of New York City and the lecture was illustrated by a large number of fine lantern slides. Mr. Ralston needed no introduction to Idaho students as he has given engineering lectures twice before. He is an unusually interesting speaker and the talk Monday evening was doubly interesting because of the subject and because of the fine lantern slides with which it was illustrated.

Mr. Ralston first gave a brief review of the most striking features of the Catskill aqueduct. When the need for an additional water supply was first foreseen a complete survey was made of the Horsac River watershed which seemed the most feasible source. It was estimated that it would cost $70,000,000 to construct an aqueduct from this source to New York City. For political reasons, however, nothing was done for several years and at the end of this time the Horsac River watershed was no longer available. The Catskill supply, which was then the only remaining source, cost the city about $177,000,000. Politics was the means of the city losing $107,000,000.

After this brief review of the circumstances leading up to the construction of the Catskill aqueduct Mr. Ralston gave a running talk descriptive of the slides shown. These slides included details of construction, views of the large dams and bridges on the Catskill system, and several striking diagrams showing the magnitude of the undertaking.

ANNUAL INSPECTION

Next Monday, May 22d, federal officers will inspect the University Battalion of Cadets. A thorough examination is expected. In order to make the day a success the "Old Guard" should be in all prominence for the event. Let us have a real "Old Guard." What do you say?

THIS ISSUE

We are not going to start a weekly column, "Why This Issue Is No Good," but we claim to have a real excuse this week. It is with regret that we state that the Editor is ill with the measles, so don't blame him as he has enough trouble as it is.

THE ARGONAUT

In order to avoid the present unsatisfactory method of acquiring a staff for the Argonaut, the staff has been in correspondence with several of the university papers. The difficulty at present is to secure men who have ability and to reward with better positions, those who have done faithful and meritorious work. About the most practical system that has been so far discovered is that used by "The Daily Maroon" of the University of Chicago. We give the details of this system with the hope that a similar system or one practically as good, may be instituted here.

"The Daily Maroon is a closed corporation and is run without any supervision of the student body. The faculty and officers of administration of the University exercise some authority under their broad powers of student control, but in reality have little to do with the activities and policies of the paper.

"The board of directors, which controls the paper, consists of the managing editor, the news editor, two day editors, the night editor, the athletic editor, and two business managers. This board chooses its successors at the annual meeting every June.

"Competition for places on the staff is open to all students. Cub reporters are promoted to reporterships by appointment of the managing editor after they have exhibited ability and industry. The associate editors are appointed by the managing editor from the list of reporters, and the members of the board are picked from these associates.

"The business department is run on a financial basis, the candidates selling the most advertising space automatically receiving the positions.

"This institution has never had a paper the editors of which were elected by the student body. The year book, the Literary Monthly, and all other publications are closed corporations. The plan has been very successful, has made efficiency the basis of election and removed politics from fields where it has no place."

STUDENT ELECTIONS

Next week the University student elections will be held. It is the duty of every student in the University to vote and to vote intelligently. This is part of your college training. In order to become a worthy citizen in the state and nation, you must be able to handle your ballot discriminately and now is the time to learn. You are to choose the officers who will direct the student affairs for the next year. It is for you to realize the importance of these offices and fill them with men that will have the interest of the University at heart and have will-power and backbone enough to promote those things that will be for the good of the University and to discourage all that will tend toward harm. These officers must be men chosen not because of their popularity, but because they are the best men in college for their respective positions.

It is of vital interest to the University that these offices be filled with good men. Our success in athletics, glee club, and the student paper largely depends upon your choice of men. The University depends largely on the student affairs for its advertising. If our student affairs are well arranged, they will be a drawing card for many new students.

Therefore, it is up to you to vote and to vote intelligently.

A prize of $1000 and a guarantee of a Broadway production has been offered by Grace George, a prominent New York actress, for the best play written by a college student. The contest will close June 1, 1916. The author must be a bona fide college student, the object of the play must be American and modern, and the work must be original. It must have at least three acts and be suitable for an entire evening's entertainment. In addition to the prize the successful author will receive regular royalties for his play.

The Alumni Memorial Library committee of the College of the City of New York, is seeking to raise a building fund of $150,000 to erect a City College Memorial Library. Nearly $80,000 has already been pledged by members of the alumni association. The committee is considering ways and means for raising the remaining $70,000.

Unless the money is raised by July the college may lose the grant of land, which is valued at $10,000 and which was made on condition that the alumni association erect the building.

This story comes from the University of Cincinnati: A man representing himself to be a pledge of another chapter of Phi Kappa Alpha fraternity called up the chapter house at that college and asked if he could get a room there, as the hotels were full. The boys all gave him the glad hand, and he retired early to catch an early morning train. When the fellows arose the next morning they found that the "pledge" had indeed gone, and had also taken all their valuables with him.

Art Rogers was a dinner guest of Phi Delta Theta, Thursday.

Torenson and Torpen spent Wednesday at the Phi Delta house.

Lorraine Selby, who is teaching in Boville, was in Moscow for the Gamma Phi dance.

Clarence A. Scott, who was forced to leave school on account of ill health, was a week-end visitor at the A. K. E. house.

Messrs. Salt, McDougal, Tulafson, Henley of W. S. C., and Kelly of Spokane were guests of Sigma Nu during the week-end.

Dr. Padelford and wife and the Misses Martin, Mullen, and Swartwood were dinner guests of Phi Delta Theta Sunday.

Mrs. Bassett and Miss Florence Bassett, mother and sister of Miss Delia Bassett, were week-end guests at Ridenbaugh Hall.

Beta Theta Pi initiated Guy Holman '08, Tony Crooks '09, Jens Jensen '18, and Lake Hill '19 Tuesday night. Mr. Holman and Mr. Crooks were charter members of Theta Mu Epsilon.

Mr. Dan Hana of Spokane came down last week for initiation into Delta Omicron chapter of Sigma Nu fraternity. Mr. Hana is of the class of ex-'12 and he is now teller for the Exchange National Bank of Spokane. Mr. O. F. Carlson, '15, was also here for Hana's initiation.

On Sunday evening the Ridenbaugh Hall girls were hostesses at a charming luncheon in honor of the girls of Chi Delta Phi. The tables were arranged to form a delta and a May-pole of yellow and lavender occupied the center. A basket of apple blossoms formed the center-piece of each table. The place cards were in the shape of the Chi Delta Phi pin with a spray of apple blossoms.

Beta Theta Pi held its second annual picnic in the mountains Sunday. The guests were Misses Bonham, Johannesen, Rylie, Cox, Hays, Mallon, Nodie, Turner, Chapman, Barr, York, Gould, Pearson, Bowden, Spaulding, Green, Dorothy Wenz, Frances Wenz, Tess Koane, Dow, Lemen, Anderson, Clamby, and Messrs. Shaw, Christ, Ambrose Johnson, and Frank Wood. Mr. and Mrs. Beghold chaperoned the party.

Mr. and Mrs. Morley entertained Beta Theta Pi at dinner Tuesday evening in honor of Mr. Crooks and Mr. Holman. Mr. Holman had just returned from the Canal Zone and was on his way to Hong Kong, China, in the interests of the International Banking Corporation. Mr. Crooks recently returned from the Philippine Islands and will take up the study of medicine at Columbia University this year.

During the Interscholastic track meet Kappa Kappa Gamma had as house guests the Misses Carrie Shaw, Wannie Rogers, Norma Stout, Ada St. Peter, Florence Frazier, and Grace Taggart of Colfax; Faythe Pollette, Norma Jackson, and Adeline Bressler of Genesee; Ruth Hahn, Katherine Thomas, and Evelyn Nelson of Coeur d'Alene; Virginia McRae of Spokane; Gladys Putnam of St. Maries, and Frances McDorman of Kamiah.

Saturday morning Kappa Kappa Gamma entertained at a four-course spring breakfast in honor of her Interscholastic guests. The rooms and tables were very prettily decorated with huge bunches of blossoms and small clusters formed the favors at each plate. Those present besides the house guests were the Misses Jean Kendall, Amy Watson, Ethelyn Nankervis, and Myrtle and Marjorie Ziegler. The breakfast was followed by a theater party at the Strand.

Last Friday the A. K. E.'s gave a moonlight picnic. The weather man held them in suspense all afternoon but finally agreed to all plans and the evening was a perfect one. Transportation was by hay-racks, three of which were necessary to carry the merry-makers to "Tarry-a-While." The guests were: Misses Mellison, Gould, Gregory, Taylor, Morgan, Addy, Mullen, Boland, Forbes, Schott, Bassett, Beamer, Thomas, Beamer, Duggan, Loomis, Douglas, Elliott, Brannon, Anderson, Schuyler, Bailey, Stevens, and Mr. and Mrs. Gill, Dean Ayers, Henry Christ, and Lieutenant Fooks.

PRIZES FOR ESSAYS

$2000 in prizes for essays on economic subjects has just been offered for the 13th time, by Hart Schaffner & Marx.

This yearly offer of four cash prizes is designed to stimulate the study of economic topics affecting business as a profession. Two prizes are open to all Americans and two are for college students only.

The largest award is $1000 in the "open class." A representative board of University professors determines the awards. Particulars are obtainable from Professor J. Laurence Laughlin of the University of Chicago.

ASSOCIATED ENGINEERS
ELECT OFFICERS

Last Friday morning the Associated Engineers held a regular meeting. A short program was given and a business meeting called for the election of officers for next year. Orrin Phillips gave an exhaustive discussion of the Economic Effects of the War. He had the subject well in hand and gave some very interesting figures, especially on the effect of the war on American industries.

The officers elected by the society for next year are as follows: A. T. Schick, President; H. B. Seigh, Vice President; Orrin Phillips, Secretary; E. C. Simpson, Treasurer.

NOMINATIONS FOR A. S. U. I. OFFICES

ELECTION OF MAY QUEEN HELD TODAY

Nominations for A. S. U. I. President and Argonaut Staff

Nominations for the A. S. U. I. officers were made this morning at the Student Assembly. Competition for most of the offices seems to be very keen as many good men were nominated. The following is the result of the nominations:

- President—A. Hyde, Elnhouse, Booth.
 Vice President—Hudleson, Burke.
 Secretary—Misses Spaulding, Johnson, Beamer.
 Treasurer—Munson.
 Athletic Board, seven to be elected—DeWald, Bohm, Grey, Campbell, Martinson, Hays, Nielson, Barger, Groninger, Massey, T. Gerlough, Richmond, Carnahan.
- DEBATE MANAGER
 B. Dingle, Koch.
- ARGONAUT STAFF
 Editor—McDougall, Phillips.
 Associate Editor—Priest, Woods, Ficke.
 Business Manager—Thomas, Owens.
 A. Boyd, R. Cunningham.
 Assoc. Bus. Mgr.—Ayers.
- The May Queen was not nominated but will be elected by ballot.

ASSEMBLY

The assembly last week was presented with a reading and, except for lack of time, would have received an interpretation of the lines of "Hiawatha." In opening the reading Dean Ayers expressed his opinion that man was not a descendant of the monkey but that the monkey is a degenerate of the human race.

He bases his conception of the lines from Hiawatha on his belief that the Indians were degenerates of a better and a nobler race. He expressed the idea that civilization moves in cycles and that we are able to learn much of value from the ancient peoples. "In fact," he said, "Archaeology has already begun to disprove the stone age." He brought out the fact that in order to have progress we must have spells of brooding. The inventor has a spell of brooding in which he conceives and plans a new machine and, coming from this spell proceeds to put it into shape for the human race. But there is also danger of brooding too long in which case we become indolent and useless.

Dean Ayers read several parts of Hiawatha with a force and emphasis much appreciated by the audience. Their only regret was that there was no remaining time in which to hear his interpretation of these lines.

The hour was opened with a reading from "Quo Vadis" by C. B. Michlewalt.

PEACE

By WILLIAM BURGE BUZZELLE.

We thought at last that twenty centuries
 Of Christianity their fruit would bear;
 That love would rule and nations all would cease
 In hateful strife and bloody war to tear
 Each other. But before we know the cause,
 All Europe groans beneath the weight of war
 And all of God's and Man's most sacred laws
 Are disregarded, and with blood and gore
 Are strewn the fields where once the gentle kine
 Did graze and all was peace and calm content.
 Oh can it be, as many now opine,
 Progress is stopped and we are backward bent,
 And Christ's great mission has been all in vain;
 The guiding hand of God does not direct
 This universe, but brutal force does gain
 Ascendancy o'er mind and intellect?

Hampton—"Dinwiddie told me his family is a very old one. They were one of the first to come across."
 Rhodes—"The grocer told me yesterday that now they are the last to come across."—Judge.

 To slay his fellow-man like unfamed brute?
 No more of war. The long expected day
 Of everlasting peace shall come; and then
 As dawns the rosy light of better day,
 We'll sing "There's Peace on Earth,
 Good Will to Men."

A broader vision we must have if we
 Would clearly see the meaning of this war,
 Its true effect on this world's history.
 For when the awful carnage all is o'er,
 And those once more return—whom death has spared—
 Back to their homes and loving families,
 Who through the years of awful strife have shared
 Their cruel privations—who can doubt that these
 Their energies devoting, will devise
 More peaceful means of settling all dispute,
 And human kind no more in arms will

PREP STAR, 16, TO BE A GIANT; HURLS SEVEN NO-HIT GAMES

WAITE HOYT

This future great of the pitching slab, 16 years of age, now is working miracles for Erasmus Hall high school, Brooklyn. Last season he performed the remarkable feat of twirling six no-hit games. This year he went 15 consecutive innings without yielding a swat. That's why he's wanted by John McGraw and the lad, already signed by the Giants, will don big league spangles as soon as he leaves the temple of learning.

The week ends are well taken up from now till the end of school, so it will be necessary to play off these games during the week. So get busy managers and captains and get the schedule up to date.

Owing to the bad weather of the past two weeks the Interfraternity and Interclass Baseball Leagues have somewhat of a setback. Nevertheless two games will be played on

TENNIS TOURNAMENT

The tournament for the David cup is now on. All of the first round matches have been scheduled for some time but only a few of them have been played.

Coach Axtell urges the following men to get together to play off their matches as soon as possible: Hays and David, Cox and Seiler, Eckloff and B. Dingle, Holaday and Bentley, and Carver and Spofford.

The coach is running this tournament thru for the purpose of getting some line on the men he will send against Montana in a tourney scheduled for May 26.

A tourney will probably be played with the town tennis club some time during the week.

Ancient Farming

Herodotus, in the year 450 B. C., said that good cultivation yielded two-hundredfold in the Valley of the Euphrates. Even in that land of Eden, poor cultivation yielded but fiftyfold.

In 1898, the average Wheat yield per acre in New York State was 21.2 bushels; in 1907, 17.3 bushels per acre; in 1912, but 16 bushels. This does not speak very highly for our Fertilizers.

Average American yield per acre of Agricultural Produce is at present about Eleven Dollars. European yields are more than double. Isn't it time for our farmers to get down to business methods? Home Mixed Fertilizers will help.

PATRONESSES ENTERTAIN GAMMA PHI BETA

On Friday evening Mrs. Little, Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. Truitt, and Dr. Moore, the patronesses of Gamma Phi Beta, entertained the active and alumnae members and their friends with a dancing party at the Guild Hall. Huge brass bowls of delicately tinted apple blossoms formed the chief decorations, and the punch table was presided over by Helen Frantz and Pearl Doyle.

The dainty silhouette programs and delicious little supper added much to the pleasure of the evening.

Those present were the active and alumnae members of the sorority, and the Messrs. Huddleson, Blackmore, Decker, Lommason, Hawley, Dewold, McMullan, Owens, Einhouse, Manhard, Humphries, J. T.
