Whitman Aggregation Gathers in Well Played Contest By 26-14 Score

KEANE' VARSITY STAR

Coach Bleamaster's Men Battle Hard but Luck Breaks Fall to the Enemy.

BY FRANCIS BISTLINE.

Playing their best game this season, Coach Bleamaster's warriors were defeated by Whitman, at Walla Walla last Friday, the score being 26 to 14.

According to Walla Walla reports it was a great game, especially from the spectator's point of view. The teams were evenly matched, both showing wonderful knowledge of the game and playing great football.

The Game in Detail.

Here is how the teams scored: Whitman kicked off to Idaho in opening the game, and on the first down Idaho punted to Hoover. Line plunges by the Whitman backfield netted about 7 yards, Hoover punted and DeGrief recovered the ball on Idaho's 31 yard line. Two penalties for holding on Idaho's part put the ball on the one yard line, and two line bucks carried Hoover the line for the first touchdown of the game. Hoover failed to kick goal. Score Idaho, 0; Whitman, 6.

Whitman then kicked off to Idaho and the pigskin was returned 20 yards. Then, on a fake punt formation, Jim Keane carried the ball for a 50 yard gain. Idaho was again penalized 15 yards for holding. Two rushes through the line and Keane registered 6 points for Idaho. A goal kick added another point. Score Idaho 7, Whitman 6.

Idaho kicked to Whitman and the latter made yardage twice through the line and then a 30-yard gain was negotiated on a criss-cross run and forward pass, the quarter ending with the ball in Whitman's possession on Idaho's 12-yard line. After changing goals at the quarter period, Whitman carried the ball over the line for the second touchdown by line bucks. The goal kick was successful.

After the next kickoff Idaho carried the ball down the field on straight football, and scored a second touchdown by a forward pass from Purdy to Evans. Purdy kicked goal. The half ended Idaho 14, Whitman 13. All three of Idaho's backs did great work in making this touchdown, it being the best they have performed this season.

Second Half.

Straight football by the Missionaries was responsible for their touchdown in the third quarter. Idaho threatened to score several times in this period. In the last quarter the teams alternated in carrying the ball up and down the field, forward passes being effectively used by Idaho, until one was intercepted by a Whitman half for the fourth and last touchdown for Whitman. A goal kick made the score 26-14 in Whitman's favor.

The stars of the game for Whitman were Bloomquist at half, Hanson at end, Bain at center and Gensel at quarter. Capt. Hoover was not up to his standard of brilliancy.

As for the Idaho stars, the Walla Walla scribes are quoted: "Groniger, Carnahan, Jackson, and Martinson, Idaho's 200-pound linemen were the towers of strength. Keane was the real bright light of the northern eleven."

The Line-up:

Idaho	Position	Whitman
Evans	L. E. R.	DeGrief
Groniger	L. T. R.	Groom
Jackson	L. G. R.	Comrado
Bays	Center	Bain
Martinson	R. G. L.	Traut
Carnahan	R. T. L.	Busch
Frashear	R. E. L.	Bombasto
Dingle	L. H. R.	Cram
Keane	R. H. L.	Bloomquist
Purdy	Q. B.	Hoover
Gerlough	F. B.	Botts

Summary: Whitman scoring: Touchdowns, Hoover, Botts, Cram, 2. Goals—Cram 3.

Idaho scoring—Touchdowns—Evans, Keane. Goals—Purdy 2.

Substitutions: Idaho, Robinson for Evans. Whitman—Gensel for Hoover, Johnson for Comrado, Wylie for Cram. Referee—Varnell; Umpire—Stotts; Head linesman—Glossop.

1918 ANNUAL STAFF STARTS LONG HARD YEARLY GRIND

Several Changes in Board's Personnel Made; Eagleson Photo Editor.

The staff of the 1918 Gem of the Mountains met and organized Thursday evening. The personnel of the staff has been somewhat changed since the election last spring, signed officers changing positions and some new members taking appointments. Ernest Poe, former advertising manager of the Annual, has been elected editor. Raymond Pittenger, staff photographer, failed to return to school and Don Eagleson was appointed to fill the vacancy. Verna Johannesen will return the second semester to fill the position of associate editor. The staff is composed as follows:

- Editor in chief—Ernest Poe.
- Associate editor Verna Johannesen.
- Business manager—Ralph Largent.
- Advertising manager—Z. B. Parsons.
- Literary—Ada Burke.
- Assistant literary—Carol Ryrice.
- Society—Jennie Peterson.
- Artist—Jens Jensen.
- Assistant artist—Yesta Cornwall.
- Athletics—Tom Jackson.
- Organizations—Harold Ayers.
- Jokes—Edna Herrington.
- Photographer—Don Eagleson.

It is planned to have all class pictures taken earlier than last year in order that the Annual may be published on time. The co-operation of the students is earnestly requested in this respect, and when the photographers are announced, it will confer a great favor upon the staff if all will make it a point to get their pictures taken at the earliest possible date. A joke box will be placed in the lower hall to receive all offerings in the joke line that the student body may offer. Put 'em in the box, be they good, bad or indifferent. They'll be used if they're not altogether "impossible."

TWO-THIRDS OF SHORT AGS COME FROM SOUTH IDAHO

Startling Statistics Show North Feebly Represented in Practical School.

The School of Practical Agriculture which opened last week, boasts the largest freshman class in its history, a total of 36 young men and women having registered for the year course. While the number of new men is unusually large, the second and third year students have not returned in as large numbers as in previous years. The third year class numbers but nine out of 23, and only 16 out of the former first year class have reported for this school year.

Students Return Slowly. However, there are several of the old students who are staying out for a week or so to work, and some more are expected to enter the first year class, so that the registration will easily equal that of last year, and in all probability exceed it.

Of the 61 students it is interesting to note that almost two-thirds are from the southern part of the state; the remaining third having been drawn from the north and from other states. Four students are from Washington and one comes from Buffalo, N. Y. The Literary society, one of the Ag institutions, has been revived, and the annual reception will be held in Morrill hall Thursday.

New Engineering Assistants.

The engineering faculty is increased for the current year by the addition of two assistants, A. B. Coats and W. H. Eller. Mr. Coats took his degree in mechanical engineering from W. S. C. in 1907. He has since spent three years in the testing laboratory of the Bureau of Mines at Pittsburgh, Pa., and was employed by the Portland Gas & Coke Co., as cadet engineer. He is assistant in mechanical engineering.

Mr. Eller was graduated from the electrical engineering college of the University of California in 1914. He has taken up his work as assistant in electrical engineering.

ROOTER NUMBER NEXT

The next issue of the Argonaut will be largely devoted to the W. S. C. game and the instilling of "pep" therefor. Sport "poetry," football "fabrics" and like contributions will be appreciated. Drop your effusions in the Argonaut box.

SOUTH IDAHO IDEAS CHANGING

Dean Permeal French Reports Altered Mental Attitude With Regard To University

MARY NODLE ANSWERS TOAST.

"Home Ec" Representative is Popular Delegate at Convention of Women's Federation.

Dean Permeal French returned last week from a short trip to south Idaho where she was a delegate to the convention of the State Federation of Women's clubs which was held at Twin Falls, Oct. 10 to 12. The convention, Miss French declared, was an unqualified success, over 140 delegates being present from all parts of the state and many matters of state interest being brought up and passed upon. Dean French addressed the convention Tuesday evening, her subject being "Our Girls." In this address, Miss French endeavored to interest the delegates in outlining a program for bettering the condition of the young women of Idaho who do not attend high schools or colleges.

As Miss French believes, better civic conditions result from an interest in, and direction of the young women of the towns. The address met with hearty approbation, and assurances were given that the women of the clubs would be active participants in all movements for the betterment and happiness of girls.

The university had another delegate at the convention, Mary Nodle, a senior, who represented the Home Economics club. Miss French stated that it was a matter of keen interest to the women that the university co-eds should send delegates.

Mary Nodle Toasted.

On Friday evening, the last day of the convention, a big banquet was held, numerous toasts being given and responded to. Miss Nodle was complimented by being asked to respond to a toast of welcome to the north.

After the regular session of the convention had adjourned, the executive committee met, and decided that its particular task for the coming year would be the "boosting" of the state university by interesting prospective students in its work. It was also planned, to increase the loan scholarship fund as rapidly as practicable. This fund, which was created in 1906, is loaned, without interest, to students upon application with proper recommendations. Heretofore loans have been made only to upper classmen, but if sufficient funds are available, the offer may be extended to include under classmen.

Change of Attitude.

Another matter of interest which was noticed by Dean French was the general change of attitude toward the university on the part of the people of the south. Everywhere, she said, interest in the university is growing, people are desirous of learning more about it and the work it is doing.

There are several factors, she said, which have been instrumental in bringing this change to pass. Chief in importance is the record of Idaho's graduates. Everywhere they have gone they have made a strong impression both on account of their training, and because of their high character. The south realizes that an institution which turns out such men and women is a power to be reckoned with.

Another cause of the changed attitude Dean French said, was the work done by the Glee Club last year in its tour of the state. Many favorable comments were made, and according to Miss French, the people of the south are looking forward to hearing the club again this year.

Another feature noticed, was the hearty hospitality shown. The delegates were everywhere accorded the most cordial receptions. The demonstrations of hospitality reached a climax, when, on the last day of the convention, a group of Twin Falls business men volunteered the services of their autos, and took the delegates to view the Shoshone falls, which are a few miles out of the city. The view, always impressive, was rendered especially so by the favorable weather conditions.

Lunch at Filer.

From the Falls the delegates were transported to Filer, where they were the guests of the Rural clubs of Filer.

WOOD CRUISING WIERD PASTIME

Forest Sport Involves Plunges Through Heavy Thickets Followed by Instructor's Yarns

COAT ACCOMPANIES HIKER

Archer of Female Wearing Apparel Gets Rough Treatment From Assistant News-Editor.

About fifteen members of the hiking club celebrated the absence of a football game, Saturday by taking a half-day trip into the mountains. The expedition was under the leadership of Homer Youngs, and was largely devoted to the study of forestry. Plowed Through Cows. The party took the Inland Empire trail to Viola and hiked due east, through ploughed fields, fences, cows, and whatever else happened to be in its way. The pace set by the husky foresters was rather fatiguing, but was greatly relieved by the resourcefulness of Professor Burrill, who managed to discover a colony of interesting bugs every time he became tired.

At the top of the ridge the party divided. The ladies and their escorts took the trail to a place which for some mysterious reason is called "Idlers' Rest," where automobiles were waiting to take them home.

The forestry students tramped into the forest to do some timber cruising. As seats in the automobiles cost four moving picture shows apiece, the writer accompanied the foresters, together with a coat he had gallantly volunteered to carry for one of the feminine members of the party.

According to observations made in the course of the afternoon, the method of timber cruising seems to be as follows: First you climb to the top of the highest mountain you can find. Then the instructor tells you a story about trapping in the Black Hills of South Dakota. Then you hike to the bottom of the deepest ravine in the neighborhood, and the instructor spins a yarn about snowshoeing in Montana forty below.

Bitten in Yellowstone.

Then you wade through the thickest patch of brush in sight, leaving little hunks of your lady friend's coat on the bushes to mark your pathway. Then the instructor tells about a bear that almost bit him in the Yellowstone park. Then you make a toboggan out of your friend's coat and slide down a slippery, needle-covered slope.

Then the instructor tells you that those who study hard will get good jobs when they graduate. Then you extinguish with your friend's coat a young forest fire which results from an experiment by one of the party to see whether dry pine needles will burn. Then you climb another hill from which you can see the town and mill of Potlatch, miles to the north, and then you start home.

When the party reached Idlers' Rest the automobiles had long since departed. Consequently, the writer enjoyed the company of the lady's coat in the ten mile walk to town. The coat is at present holding down a job as part of a shoe-blacking outfit. The owner can have it on payment of a suitable reward.

LONG AND SHORT COURSE AS STUDENTS MIX FREELY

Irritators of Ms Earth's Complexion Mingle in Club Meeting.

The first meeting of the Agricultural club was held last Wednesday evening, when a large number of long and short course men met at Morrill hall, to outline the work of the club for the coming year.

Dean Iddings was the chief speaker of the evening. His topic was the College of Agriculture and its work. He mentioned the success of its graduates, who are following their profession in many states.

Praises Experimental Work. He also spoke of the work accomplished by the experiment station, and the benefit of the data distributed among the farmers of the state. Another point brought out by Dean Iddings, was the annual judging day which is held in the spring, when judging contests are held on the different branches of the work. This day is a feature to be found nowhere else, and is an innovation at Idaho.

Dates were fixed for the meetings of the club, it being decided that organization shall meet the second and fourth Wednesday each month. Short course literary society will meet on alternate Thursdays.

Here's Real Co-Education.

Equality between men and women is the ideal in co-educational institutions. This ideal has been realized to the satisfaction of the most ardent equal rights advocate in the matter of enrollment at Montana university. There are 275 men pursuing work at the university and the same number of women are enrolled, bringing the total registration for the semester to 550 students. This is the first time, the registration clerk says, that the division has been equal.

CHILE EXCHANGES LANGUAGE PROFESSOR WITH WASHINGTON

South American University and Seattle Institution Trade Instructors for One Year.

The first real exchange professorship ever entered into by the University of Washington was established last week when the board of regents authorized the exchange of language professors between the University of Washington and the University of Chile.

Will Teach English.

Professor Charles Strong of the Spanish department of the university will go to Santiago, Chili, February 1, to teach the English language and literature for one year in the Institute Commercial, a division of the University of Chile. Prof. Strong will hold a commission from the University of Washington directing him to investigate trade relations and the commercial possibilities on the southwestern coast of South America.

The University of Chile will send to this state, Prof. Benjamin O. Lorca, head of the department of English. While at the University of Washington he will hold the newly created San Fuentas lectureship in the Spanish language and literature. The lectureship was named after Juan Luis San Fuentas, president of Chile, who finally approved the exchange of professors.

Seabeck Yarns Spun—Those who attended the meeting of the Y. W. C. A. on last Wednesday felt that they took a trip to Seabeck to the Y. W. C. A. conference.

Leora Ostrom of the high school association told in a very entertaining way the details of the trip. Ada Rogers spoke of the great leaders of the conference. Miss Mildred France, of Pullman, who is a member of the Y. W. C. A. field committee, was present and told of the plans for more extensive work. A special musical number helped to make this meeting the best of the year.

ARGONAUT STAFF MEETING

A meeting of the Argonaut staff will be held in the rooms of Professor W. N. Collins at the Dr. Adair home, Sunday evening at 7:30. All staff members are expected to be present, as a number of rather important questions are to be taken up at that time.

RESERVE CORPS WORK OUTLINED

Captain Avery D. Cummings Writes Description of War Department Training Course

GRADS MAY BECOME "LEFTIES."

Commissions Granted to Students Who Complete Grind and Secure Recommendations.

By CAPTAIN AVERY D. CUMMINGS.

Under the act of congress passed June 3rd, 1916, the president is authorized to establish in civil educational institutions a reserve officers training corps which shall consist of a senior division at colleges requiring four years of collegiate study for a degree.

For Student Training.

The primary object of establishing units of the officers' reserve training corps is to qualify by systematic and standard methods of training, students at civil educational institutions for reserve corps officers.

Heretofore a course of two years compulsory training has been required at this university, as it came under the provisions of the Land Grant act, but there has never been any military office or inducement open to graduates who were particularly interested in military work.

Educated Men Wanted.

Now, the entire course is built-up with the idea that, if required to serve, a graduate, when properly qualified, will be used as an officer in the reserve corps.

The object, of course, being that the officers' reserve corps will consist of a body of highly educated men who have received a fairly efficient course of military training designed to fit them in leadership of men.

Under this new act the university of Idaho is entitled to an infantry unit of the senior division of the reserve officers training corps.

The strength of infantry companies under this law is established at not less than 50 or more than 80.

The members of the training corps may be trained and employed as members of the band but their prescribed military training must not be interfered with. In other words they must do as much military work as any body else.

Rules of Eligibility.

"Eligibility to membership in the reserve officers' training corps shall be limited to students of institutions in which units of such corps are established, who are citizens of the United States, who are not less than 14 years of age, and whose bodily condition indicates that they are physically fit to perform military duty, or will be so upon arrival at military age.

General Orders W. D. No. 49.

As the object of all training in the reserve officers' training corps is to bring the largest number of cadets up to the proper standard of proficiency permission to be absent unless under exceptional circumstances should be granted only for physical disability.

When any member of the senior division of the reserve officers' corps has completed two academic years of service in that division, i.e. freshman and sophomore years, and has been selected for training by the president of the institution and by its professor of military science and tactics and has agreed in writing to continue in the reserve corps for the remainder of his course in the institution, devoting five hours per week to the military training prescribed by the secretary of war, he may be furnished at the expense of the United States with "commutation of subsistence" (rations) at such rate, not exceeding cost of garrison ration prescribed for the army, during the remainder of his service in training corps. This amounts to about $7.50 a month.

Form of Contract.

The following is the form of contract which those taking advanced training will be required to sign:

(Place.)
191...
"In consideration of commutation of subsistence to be furnished me in accordance with law I hereby agree to continue in the reserve officers' train."

A FIGHTING TEAM.

"We gave 'em everything we had in us!"

This is the statement of an Idaho player who was unable to walk for more than hours after the Whitman game. Yes, he was uninjured. Sheer exhaustion was responsible for his condition.

When the final flash came from Walla Walla Friday afternoon most of us were ready to dig up the basketball, track and baseball schedules, but the bare score was a far cry from the story of the game.

A statement of a belief that Idaho would not be outfought again this season was made in these columns last week. Handicapped by playing on a foreign field, and missing every break in the luck, the eleven coached by W. C. Bleamaster outgamed the brilliant team opposed to it in every minute of four stiff quarters. When an Idaho back carried the ball his interference drove through the line to torpedo the secondary defense and when the Silver and Gold team made its tackles it made them en masse.

No less an authority than George Varnell said of the Idaho players rampant at Walla Walla, "I never saw such a remarkable improvement in a team made in two weeks. For the first time in three years an Idaho eleven really fought." If this were la belle France, George would be smacked on both cheeks for those heart-heating words.

As somebody remarked, "You couldn't get away from liking Bleamaster if you tried." The little coach has certain indefinable qualities that make him liked and admired by every student who knows him and idolized by his men. The drive of his personality is the best eventual success insurance university teams could have.

"We gave 'em everything we had." The writer hasn't the slightest idea what your sentiments actually are, brave undergraduate, but this he knows: a towering Pullman pyre, rally-racked nights, frayed vocal cords and utterly fanatical enthusiasm can never more than approximate the degree of student appreciation due an Idaho team playing just that particular brand of football.

Lawrence, Kan.—In an attempt to create a new football spirit at the University of Kansas, the Sigma Chi fraternity paved the way for a new movement that has proved a success at other schools, when it was announced this morning that none of its members would be allowed to escort women to the football games this season.

We print above a clipping from the University Daily Kansan, of the University of Kansas. It seems that "football fusers" are a problem at other schools than Idaho. The methods adopted at Kansas are efficient in so far as they reach, but of course such regulations can apply only to limited groups. But regulations and traditions can be formulated with the student body behind them.

The football fuser has not been present at the games this fall in very great numbers; neither has his stag brother been there. In fact attendance has been so small that we would welcome even football fusers, if that's the only way to get them out to the games.

CAMPUS BREVITIES.

Marden in Shop—A. A. Marden has succeeded Mr. Shadky in charge of shop practice. Mr. Marden held a similar position at W. S. C. for a number of years but resigned on account of ill-health.

Mrs. Davis Entertained.—Kappa Kappa Gamma entertained Mrs. D. W. Davis, wife of the Republican candidate for governor, at dinner, Sunday. Mrs. Davis is a member of the Kappa chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma at Hillsdale, Mich.

Center Visits U.—Professor O. D. Center, of Boise, director of the agricultural extension work visited the university last Saturday to confer with the agricultural college executives with reference to the extension work planned for the coming year.

Speak at Lewiston—Several members of the university faculty spoke at the Tri-County Teachers' institute, held at Lewiston last week. President Brannon spoke on Tuesday and Professors Lewis, Collins, and Soulen and Dean Shattuck filled later dates on the program.

Strong for Russ—The interest in the evening class in Russian which is being held at the home of Professor Lewis seems to be growing. Recent additions to the class are Professor Boethius, and Professor Burrill, which increases the class roll to ten.

Engineers at Work.—Last summer found the graduates of the engineering college, class of 1916, actively engaged in practical work. Frank Chapin and Rowe Holman, both of the civil engineering department, accepted positions as transitman under the general land office on the public land surveys. "Punch" Hallam is located in the drafting room of the North Point smelter.

Morgareidge Talks—Probate Judge Morgareidge was a dinner guest at the A. K. E. house Wednesday evening. Mr. Morgareidge addressed the fraternity in regard to some of the present political problems, pointing out the arguments being used in the present campaign and explaining some of the more important bills before congress.

Trying Home Ec.—To date five young women have registered for the short course in home economics, which again being offered after having been discontinued for two years. Several more are expected to register within the next few weeks. A large registration in this course was not expected this year, as it was not generally known that it was to be offered.

Vote on Amendment.—At a poorly attended meeting of the student body held Wednesday afternoon the proposed Argonaut amendment was defeated after a rather lively debate. A suggestion made by Will Bonneville that the matter be further considered and a new amendment be drafted by an A. S. U. I. committee seemed to meet with general approval and a motion to that effect was passed.

Report Made.—The biennial report of the university was made last week. The report consists of the number of students in the different courses, and will be incorporated in the report of the state board of education, which will cover all grade schools, high schools and institutions of higher education in the state.

Debaters at Work.—Debate teams are hard at work. Every available source of information which could possibly bear upon the question is being sought out. Professor Hulme, with his usual enthusiasm is urging on and helping every member of the squad in his work. The whole field is now being studied by each debater with the purpose of each getting a good view of the entire subject. It is planned to divide the question into its most convenient and plausible divisions at an early date.

Prom, Chairmen Named.—The following committee chairmen for the Junior prom have been appointed by Class President McCormack: General chairman, George Mullin; patrons, Velma Spaulding; programs, Adna Boyd; decorations, Jens Jensen; music, Don Eagleston; refreshments, Chas. Raney.

Welcome "Frats."—The Ridenbaugh hall freshmen produced the following "not so worse" parody in a recent burst of "spur of the moment" genius:

JUST BEFORE THE "FRATS" COME, MOTHER.

Just before the "frats" come, Mother,
 We are thinking most of you,
 As we nervously await them
 Wondering what on earth we'll do.
 How we'll ever entertain them
 So that they won't squirm and yawn
 Will they think that we're some "babies"
 Or just stare in haughty scorn?

Chorus.

Welcome boys, we're glad to meet you,
 Hope the feeling's mutual too,
 May friendships that are formed here
 Prove a pleasure ever new.

Southern Idaho Ideas Changing

at a splendidly appointed luncheon, returning in the afternoon.

Dean French states that Twin Falls has an unusual amount of civic pride as evidenced by the school system, one of the best and most efficient in the state, and the fine condition in which the streets and other public property are kept. Loyalty, she said, is the slogan there, all the residents uniting to make their city a pacemaker for the rest of Idaho.

Talks to Students.

Besides the address to the convention, Dean French spoke to several other gatherings. While in Boise she addressed the Columbian club, the Good Citizenship club, the Catholic Women's league, and the Boise High school. She also spoke at the Twin Falls high school. At both schools M. J. Sweeley was unanimously elected president for the coming year.

to come to Idaho. Dean French declared the State Federation to be the largest and most successful meeting of the organization she has yet attended. Mrs. Sweeley was unanimously elected president for the coming year.

Why Go To "Idaho"

The choice of a university or college to be attended by a student should be based upon four principal requirements: 1st, a high purpose and broad field of work; 2nd, a competent faculty; 3rd, a sufficient equipment; 4th, a student body of high ideals. The University of Idaho fully satisfies these requirements.

1. Purpose and Field—

Its purpose is to serve the people of Idaho in developing and training students; in advancing the entire State educational system of which it is a part; in assisting toward the solution of economic and social problems; in furnishing expert knowledge in Agriculture, Engineering, Forestry, Home Economic, and Educational matters not only to students in residence but also to all who desire it throughout the State.

2. Faculty—

The faculty is made up of eighty-three teachers of thorough training and efficiency attained by years of study and experience. They are deeply interested in the progress of each and all under their instruction. They know the State and its conditions and give their best efforts to its development. In addition there are fifteen workers in the agricultural extension division and six agricultural county agents.

3. Equipment—

Its equipment is ample. It has a library of over 39,000 volumes, excellent facilities for teaching Literature, Philosophy, and the Social Sciences, and well provided laboratories for the natural and applied sciences.

4. Students—

Its students numbered eight hundred and seven in the school year of 1915, 1916 and were earnest, wide-awake, and democratic. A large number of them earned their own way. Its alumni now occupy high positions and will be the future leaders of Idaho in professions, the industrial vocations, and in the building and maintenance of homes.

The four colleges and the central agricultural experiment station are located at Moscow; the main agricultural extension office, is located at Boise, and the agricultural sub-stations and demonstration farms at Sandpoint, Clagstone, Moscow, Gooding, and Aberdeen.

"BOOTS" PROVES REAL THRILLER

Professor F. M. Marshall's Rendition of Echoing Masterpiece Features "Home Talent" Assembly

Wednesday's assembly was featured by a program entirely composed of local talent. Professor Marshall, a new addition to the history department, was the main speaker, devoting his address to an interpretation of the works of Kipling.

Not Greatest Poet.
Professor Marshall does not consider Kipling to be the greatest poet, but he thinks him pre-eminent in portraying the character of the British soldier, and in expressing the spirit of war-time England. The speaker recited a group of poems to illustrate each phase of the poet's work, the selections ranging from "Danny Devers" and "Tommy Atkins" to the "Recessional."

"Boots" Popular.
The poem which probably had the greatest effect was the peculiar selection entitled "Boots," and quotations from it could be heard around the campus all the week, especially at drill. Professor Marshall showed thorough acquaintance with his subject, and made a favorable impression on his audience.

Glee Club Performs.
The musical part of the program consisted of two selections by the band and one of Kipling's songs, "Mandalay," delivered by the embryonic glee club.

The opening number by the band was one of the conventional da-da-da dum-dum quicksteps, played as well as such selections ever are played. The last number, however, was a composition of real merit, the finale to Saint-Saens' "Algerian Suite," and was given with a skill and dash which promised well for the quality of the band's work this year.

Spirits Plus Smoothness.
The melody was perhaps a trifle stronger than the harmony, and the tympani could have been more in evidence, but these defects were overshadowed by the smoothness with which the themes of the various instruments were fitted together and by the spirit which seemed to enliven the whole ensemble. The work of the male chorus was also highly satisfactory, the new members seeming to fit in very well.

OLD KANSAS TURTLE REMADE

Tortoise Infant of 50,000 Years is Shown in U. Museum.

Hundreds of pieces of crumbly shell have been glued together in the palaeontological museum of Kansas university during the past few weeks. The result is the reappearance after more than 50,000 years of a gigantic land tortoise in something like its original form.

The solving of a puzzle which goes back thousands of centuries has proven a tedious and nerve-wrecking job. But the effort is worth while from a scientific standpoint.

The reason is that the tortoise, of this age fully assembled is a rare specimen. It was found in a crumbly condition in Phillips county, Kas., in a strata known as the Loup Fork miocene, which was formed according to an estimate by H. T. Martin, curator of the palaeontological museum between 50,000 and 75,000 years ago. Not only is the shell complete but it is said to be the first specimen found in the miocene strata with the skull and cervical vertebrae also present in entirety.

Vote for Hughes in N. H.
A straw vote similar to the one held at a recent student body meeting was put on at the University of New Hampshire a week ago. Candidate Hughes received 222 votes against the 205 cast for President Wilson.

THE LOOTING OF A TREASURE SHIP

A Sea Episode in the Harbor of Rio de Janeiro.

We were lying at anchor in the harbor of Rio de Janeiro. The night was hot, but beautiful. To the north were the lights of the city. Above was the spangled dome, while southward blazed the constellation of the Southern Cross.

We were to sail the next morning for New York, and it was known among us that we were to carry $200,000 of gold coin to New York. No one should have known of this treasure except the officers. The secret came out in this way: The men wanted to go ashore for a final spree. The captain, who was a weak man, in order to excuse himself for not permitting them to go told of the treasure. But the weakest thing he did was to let them go after telling them the reason why they should stay. The captain, the first mate and I (second mate) remained aboard. The captain was smoking on the poop deck; the first mate was pacing the forward deck; I was leaning over the gunwale amidships looking down into the water. Slipping off my clothes, I descended by the ladder and plunged in for a swim.

I was some 200 yards astern when I heard the sound of oars and, raising my head, saw a dark object coming from the city. I did not doubt that it was the boat containing the crew coming from their spree. I was surprised, however, that they were so quiet. Usually on such occasions they were very noisy.

I started to swim to the ship, but they reached it before me. I heard the mate shout "Boat ahoy!" but did not hear the answer. The boat's crew climbed the ladder and went aboard. I heard a scuffle, and a moment later a heavy object dropped in the water. The tide was going out, but I kept ahead of it in the direction of the ship. Presently something floated by me. By the light of the moon, which by this time was well up above the horizon, I saw the upturned ashen face of the first mate. I soon heard a second splash and knew that the captain had met a similar fate.

It was now all perfectly plain to me. The men who had gone ashore had been babbling in their cups and had been overheard by some person or persons who had taken advantage of their absence to capture the treasure they had talked about. I knew the robbers had possession of the ship, and what to do myself I could not determine. Possibly I might swim the distance to the shore, but I didn't like the idea of leaving these men to make away with the treasure, there being no evidence of their identity. While I was deliberating I heard the anchor chain rattling through the hawse pipe and knew the captors were intending to make sail, or, rather, drift out of the harbor, for there was no wind. I listened, hoping to hear the sound of oars indicating the return of the crew, but heard no such sound. The ship drifted toward me stern on, and, not knowing what else to do, I clung to the rudder. But, realizing that there was nothing there to support me for any length of time, I let go my hold and, keeping close under the side of the ship, waited till the bow drifted to me, then grasped a chain under the bowsprit. There I was better protected from being seen and might cling for a long while.

When day dawned a breeze sprang up, and the ship hove away westward, keeping close to the coast. About sixty miles from Rio they ran her ashore, bow on. Knowing that I should be discovered where I was, I swam back to the rudder, keeping under water all except my eyes, with which I saw the robbers carry the treasure ashore. There were five of them, one with red hair and beard directing their movements. I noted his face and that of every one of them, so that I should know them again. As soon as they got ashore each man started off, staggering under a bag of gold. I gave them time to get a start, then swam to the ladder, climbed aboard and after getting provisions followed them. They were talking most of the time, which enabled me to keep at a safe distance. They moved eastward and after going about ten miles stopped at a deserted hut, went inside and when they came out had left the treasure. I knew they had hidden or buried it inside.

After a hurried lunch from a basket they had brought with them they started on to the eastward, walking rapidly. I felt sure they were going to Rio and wished to get there as soon as possible in order that they should not be missed. Striking a road, they hired a countryman to drive them and were thus lost to me.

However, I made my way to the city and hunted up the crew who had seen the ship sailing away. Soon after they had left the dock to return to her I took them to where the treasure had been placed; then after securing it we went on to the ship, which at high tide we managed to get afloat, and set sail for Rio. I assumed command, appointed two of the best men as mates and on arrival at Rio went ashore alone and to the office of the chief of police. For a week I walked the streets with a detective and visited the dives. On the eighth day I saw two of the men in a saloon. They were arrested, and subsequently the others were also taken in.

I took the ship to New York to her owners and told my story. The owners gave me permanent command, and we made a compromise on salvage at $20,000.

RULES FOR TREE PLANTING

Select the kind of a tree that will grow best in your location. Choose a variety from those already thriving in your vicinity.

A ten to twelve foot tree is considered the best size for ordinary planting. It should be free from scars and pests. The trunk should be straight, and it should have a long leader.

When digging trees in the woods be careful not to injure the roots, and secure as many of the fibrous ones as possible. Nursery grown trees are better because they have been transplanted several times and have better root systems.

Do not allow the roots to become dry. Keep them moist and covered until you are ready to put them in the ground.

Ragged ends of broken roots should be cut off with a sharp knife.

Stuffed Potatoes.

A nice way to vary baked potatoes is to cut a slice from the top of each and scrape out the inside. Mash, season with salt, pepper, chopped parsley and butter and heat in a little hot milk. Add two well beaten whites of eggs. Refill the skins, sprinkle with grated cheese and place in a hot oven for about six minutes.

Baked Indian Pudding.

Two-thirds cupful of cornmeal, two eggs, one cupful brown sugar, one teaspoonful salt, large one-half teaspoonful each of ginger, cinnamon and nutmeg. Mix together and add to one quart scalding milk. Bring to a boil, add raisins, pour in buttered pan, put small lump of butter over top and bake half hour or more.

WESTERN FORESTERS MEET.

Idaho Students Made Delegates to Conservation Congress.

Oscar Munson, Hugh Swan, Don Yates, Russel Cunningham and I. B. Cook left for Portland, Ore., Saturday morning where they will attend the meeting of the Western Conservation congress to be held Oct. 24 and 25. Delegates from all the western states will be present, numbering approximately 300.

The main feature of this convention will be the discussion of the lookout development work done during the summer months by the forestry department students of the University of Idaho. This work was done for the Potlatch Timber Protective Association of Potlatch and consisted of topographic and panoramic mapping covering the large forest areas in the Clearwater district. The extraordinary feature of the work is that it is the first of its kind ever produced before such a representative body of timbermen.

From Portland the Idaho students will go to Grays Harbor where they will attend the Pacific Logging congress. This is a meeting of the lumbermen of the Pacific coast.

Amendment Board Appointed.
Student Body President Aden Hyde has appointed the following committee which will draft a second Argonaut amendment: Gertrude Denecke, Ola Bonham, Lawrence Bonville, Harold Ayers, Charles Owens, Frank Sutherland, and A. J. Priest. A meeting of this committee will be held in room 205 of the Ad building at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon.

UNBIASED W.S.C. "DOPE" WRITTEN

Aden Hyde Pass Uncovered Story On Battle Between Metz Machine And Oregon Aggies

PIPAL'S TEAM NOT OUTPLAYED.

Vernon Brown Former Boise High School Star Shines for Pullman in Last Period.

W. S. C. meets Montana at Missoula this year, the result being that Idaho students generally have been robbed of the chance to see the rival traditional in action before the curtain is rung up on the November 4th conflict.

First hand "info" on the Pullman aggregation being a little scarce, the following breezy and "dopeful" account of the O. A. C.-Washington state affray is of timely interest.

By ADEN HYDE.

The over-confident galaxy of football stars representing W. S. C. went down to defeat before the onrush of Coach Pipal's fighting aggregation from O. A. C. at Pullman Saturday. The final score was 13-10.

Sensation-Crowded Minutes.

It was a beautiful game, watched by an enthusiastic, then depressed, then dogged crowd of W. S. C. supporters. Every minute was replete with sensations, the unexpected always happened and the enormous crowd was thrilled time and again by sensational plays, by beautiful drop kicks, by brilliant long runs or were disheartened when W. S. C., after showing some of her last year's drive and power, went to pieces and fumbled the ball at critical moments.

Pullman Outfought.

The Spokesman-Review to the contrary notwithstanding, W. S. C. was clearly outplayed and outfought at every stage of the game with the exception of two short periods at the ends respectively of the second and fourth quarters.

O. A. C.'s first touchdown, like the one of a week earlier against Idaho, came within the first few minutes of play. W. S. C. fumbled on the second down after Newman had punted to her ten yard line.

The effect was immediate upon the crowd and the two teams. O. A. C. had begun with determination, and doubled her efforts. The crowd was dumbfounded, and Coach Dietz's team, eager to offset the seven point difference, made fumble after fumble; costly slips which paved the way for O. A. C.'s drop kicks and victory for the Webfooters.

Durham Tries Kick.

Durham tried three drop kicks in the second quarter and missed two by such narrow margins that only officials' signals satisfied the crowd that the efforts had failed.

Late in the game, Coach Dietz sent in a number of second string men and of these, Vernon Brown, a former Boise high school star, distinguished himself with his capable manner of handling the team and sensational runs from the punt formation.

"Brownie" Stars.

Brown and Captain Bangs were easily the W. S. C. stars, though Bangs was erratic with the ball, fumbling continually. It was Brown who headed the attack in the last few minutes of play which brought the crowd to its feet and sent the W. S. C. backs over the Aggie goal for a touchdown, following a beautiful sprint by Boone and a perfectly executed pass, Brown to Boone.

But the sprint came too late, O. A. C. fought every minute of play, Coach Pipal substituted men continually and the fight and drive of the Aggie aggregation, coupled with the uncanny ability of Conn to recover slips and fumbles completely swept O. A. C. off their feet.

Conn Great Kicker.

The Pasadena boy booted six points across the bar for O. A. C. with a couple of beautiful drop kicks from the thirty and forty yard lines respectively, though the W. S. C. line smeared one sure goal when Conn was slow getting away with a drop kick from the 20 yard line.

O. A. C. showed more real football than she did against Idaho, opening up particularly in the third quarter and sweeping W. S. C. from one end of the field to the other with a series of well executed passes and trick plays which Pullman seemed unable to fathom.

One fake play in particular, from the punt formation yielded gains of 20 yards every time it was tried. Conn and Newman starred for O. A. C. though every man on the Aggie team played good, consistent football.

O. A. C. was penalized once for delaying the game when W. S. C. was coming strong, and offside penalties were comparatively frequent. Often the lines, in their eagerness, piled up before the ball was passed.

A few Idaho students raced up and down the sidelines, lending what support they might to the O. A. C. team.

FROSH REPAINT OREGON "O"

Eugene "Emerald" Gives Story of Aggie and Nocturnal Desecration.

"Attention; Rest pails," the straw bosses' voice snapped out.

The nine freshman volunteer painters drew up with a jerk.

"Squad ready. Forward, march," again the command and the paint squad was on its way, followed by 75 marching freshmen.

The great Oregon "O" had been painted orange and black, the colors of O. A. C. during the night. The nine were going to paint it back to yellow with the help of the moral and vocal support of the other members of the class.

The company, followed by a crowd of sophomores, upper classmen and coeds, proceeded down 11th street to Willamette and from there to the corner of Ninth. Here the freshmen drew up in a large circle and gave a big "Oskie." From here they went to the "O" on Skinner's Butte.

The paint cans were opened, and the "nine" fell to work with plenty of advice and gentle hints. The work finished, another "Oskie," and the students fled down the hill and home to supper.

It is thought by several members of the senior class that the painting was done by town "roughs" and not by students of O. A. C., though these were their colors.

NIGHT SCHOOL DRAWS CROWD. Many Townspeople Taking Advantage of Opportunities Offered.

The first session of the night school, which is being conducted by the university as a part of its program of extension work was held last week and judging by the number enrolled, it seems a pronounced success. A variety of courses are being offered, practically all of them dealing with business.

Faculty of Four.

The faculty at present consists of four, all from the university. Professor Drucker, head of the recently installed department of commerce is director of the school, and has charge of the classes in accounting, and advertising. Spanish is in the hands of Prof. Boethius. Added interest is taken in this course, due to the business opportunities found in the Spanish speaking countries of Central and South America. Professor Reed is offering a course in business psychology, and Professor Bond is giving two courses, one in sociology, and another in federal government.

Classes are held every evening in room 108 of the administration building, and on some evenings at the homes of the different instructors.

Hawley and Clements Picked.—The election of yell leaders for the ensuing year held Friday afternoon resulted in the selection of Harry Hawley and Verner Clements, both Sophomores. The balloting aroused but little interest, less than 150 votes being cast. Hawley led the candidates on the official ticket with 65 votes. Fifty-two students expressed a preference for Clements, Lawrence Hodgkin and Richard Ott were tied with 37 each, Z. B. Parson's name was marked on 29 ballots and Jason Carey's vote total was 13.

HUGHES OR WILSON?

Reasons Why Hughes Should Be Elected

- BECAUSE he stands for Protection, Prosperity, Preparedness and Patriotism.
- BECAUSE he will not permit partisanship to triumph over Patriotism.
- BECAUSE his speech of acceptance expresses his desire to cooperate with labor for its advantage, not to exploit it for his own.
- BECAUSE he will command the respect of Europe and Asia and win the friendship of Latin-America.
- BECAUSE he will never by proclamation deny the right of Americans to pursue their business in other lands under the protection of the American flag.
- BECAUSE he will not repudiate the American flag in any land.
- BECAUSE he will not put action into words, but words into action.
- BECAUSE, as Theodore Roosevelt well says, he has high sentiments of justice and dignity, is upright and straightforward, is an incontestable master of judicial matters, and always translates his words into deeds.
- BECAUSE he is a strong, sure, courageous man, with a clear-cut program before him and with the courage, intelligence and determination to carry it out and bring to our country self-respecting peace and world-wide respect.
- BECAUSE as Governor of New York he has already proved that he dared to do the right thing, and is prepared to further do and dare when called into a wider field.
- BECAUSE he is not a dreamer and not a quitter.
- BECAUSE he is a firm friend of preparedness for the United States and not for preparedness through political expediency.
- BECAUSE he will not burden us with war taxes in time of peace.
- BECAUSE we need a tariff not founded upon free trade, nor for "revenue only," but to protect American labor and American industry from the deadly competition of the foreigner.
- BECAUSE he is a red-blooded American. His policy will be "America first, America efficient."
- BECAUSE he will protect this country against being flooded with the cheap manufactures of Europe after the war.
- BECAUSE he is the chosen head of a party which has long fathered all great constructive legislation which experience has proved to be wise and which has invariably been opposed by the Democratic party.
- BECAUSE a business man is going to be especially needed in the next few years. In consequence of the European war a tremendous readjustment of the world's business is ahead. The United States must be economically prepared. It must not, as now, be left defenseless. It must not have a president with an untrained business mind, ever changing. Mr. Hughes made a remarkable record as a business governor of New York. He has extraordinary ability to see all sides of a question. Not from him, as from Wilson, will be heard any declaration that he will hang business men "high as Haman" if they do not agree with him.
- BECAUSE he is a man of forward vision, of practicability and firmness, not a mere rhetorician and theorist.
- BECAUSE he stands for the protection of American lives and property abroad as well as at home.
- BECAUSE through him the whole nation will be in the government. It will not be ruled by one section, nor by one man.
- BECAUSE he is for an effective, not an unsound and sham system of rural credits to help the farmer and for a wise conservation of natural resources.
- BECAUSE he is for a Federal workmen's compensation law suitable for the employees of the Government and those employees engaged in interstate commerce and subject to hazard of injury.
- BECAUSE he favors investigating before legislating.

Reasons Why Wilson Should Be Defeated

- BECAUSE, to cite Representative Fitzgerald, Democratic Chairman of the Appropriations Committee of the House, during his administration the Democratic Congress has been the most extravagant that has ever met in the capital.
- BECAUSE he insists on his shipping bill—an indefensible piece of folly which would destroy such merchant marine as we now have.
- BECAUSE, although he says "he kept us out of war," the story of Mexico, San Domingo and Hayti refutes him.
- BECAUSE he runs anti-climaxes. He marches in only to march out again.
- BECAUSE he signed the seamen's bill, which practically has wiped out shipping on the Pacific Coast.
- BECAUSE he attempted to scuttle from the Philippines and was defeated only by twenty patriotic Democrats who voted with the Republicans of the House.
- BECAUSE he appointed as Secretary of State William J. Bryan after denouncing him a pest who should be "knocked into a cocked hat."
- BECAUSE he made possible Villa, murderer of men and despoiler of women, and Carranza, the fatuous and futile "First Chief."
- BECAUSE Wilson's text book statesmanship and grape-juice diplomacy have made the United States an international laughing stock.
- BECAUSE he appointed "deserving Democrats" to the diplomatic corps, displacing experienced men at a time when it was essential to the foreign trade and honor of the United States to retain competent, experienced men.
- BECAUSE he is incompetent to lead, and veers like a weather vane whenever a zephyr of public opinion seems to blow against him.
- BECAUSE his "one-track mind" has too many turn-tables.
- BECAUSE he lifted the embargo of arms so that the Mexican desperadoes have used American ammunition to murder American soldiers and civilians.
- BECAUSE the promised "pitiless publicity" has been replaced by private, special, secret negotiations by personal agents and representatives appointed by President Wilson without "the advice and consent of the Senate."
- BECAUSE he reverses himself so rapidly that the entire country is seasick from the motion.
- BECAUSE he is for free trade, direct taxes and an empty treasury—the same old Democratic trinity.
- BECAUSE if the Payne-Aldrich law had been in operation in the last nine months of 1915 we would have collected $91,656,161 more than we did under the Underwood law. It would have met the treasury deficits and have avoided war taxes. The foreigner selling in our market got the entire benefit of the $91,656,161.
- BECAUSE DURING the first ten months of the Wilson-Underwood law there were more unemployed being fed by charity than during any ten months in our history, excepting under the Wilson-Gorman act.
- BECAUSE of his inconsistency on the immigration bill. In his "History of the American People," vol. 5, p. 213, he wrote: "The Chinese were more to be desired as workmen, if not as citizens, than most of the coarse crew that came crowding in ever year at the Eastern ports."
- BECAUSE he has not reduced, as he promised, the high cost of living, but has actually made it higher.
- BECAUSE he was pledged to a single term by the Baltimore convention, but before the type was cold he was building up his fences for another.
- BECAUSE, although posing as an advocate of civil service, every act of his as president in connection with civil service has been adverse to its principles, obstructive and destructive of its bonafide practice.

The past week end has been so crowded with social activities that we could almost oil our hands and chortle with satisfaction over "gute bishness." Next time you're wishing on a star, wish for another such. But, aside from the society editor's point of view, isn't it just as safe, sane, and informal and inexpensive to indulge in house dances and parties, as to go and yawn through a problematic movie? Of course it is!

Cackle, Fair Poultry!

Young ladies, it isn't nice to accept fraternity jewelry from young men. It is indiscreet and vulgar, and besides the young men can't afford it. Last week the campus was overrun with fraternity jewelers. How many nice young women said: "No, Willie, I can not tell a lie,—I am a nice young woman. I can not accept any rings, stick pins, or bracelets from you until we are engaged?" Please answer one at a time.

Sigma Nu House Take Dance.

The Sigma Nus gave a clever little house dance on Saturday evening. A colored (highly-colored) butler opened the door and helped with wraps as all colored butlers should. Each girl received a white program containing the first three dances, for which she had a privilege to ask. Enormous black pencils were attached to the white programs with gold cords, thus representing the fraternity colors. Raspberry ice and macaroons were served towards the end of the evening. The guests were the Misses Ola Bonham, Logan, McDaniel, Wall, Glinderman, Latta, Bodler, Nachtrieb, Smith Babcock, Barton, Ryrrie, Bowers, Marie Bonham, Adair, Coutts, Sholtz, Sullivan, Graham and Messrs. PPrestler and Morris.

Delta Phi Pledges Dance.

The Delta Phis gave their pledges a dance at the house Saturday evening. Japanese lanterns were used for decorations and the porch was converted into a cozy den. Splendid music was furnished by the "Beta Orchestra." Light refreshments were served at 11 o'clock, after which the Home Sweet Home waltz was played. Those present were Messrs. R. Jones, Booth, Anderson, Roy Smith, Ficke, R. Wood, Bowman, L. Wade, Fallquist, G. Johnson, Atwood, O'Brien, O. Johnson, A. Johnson, Carnahan, Burke, Horning, G. Miller, Gilman, Raney, Duff, Gowan, Boekel, Fredrickson, Darling, and Attie Turner of Herrington, Wash; and Misses Reed,

A. Povey, B. Povey, Turner, Cochran, Loomis, Leipsen, Campbell, Herrington, Keller, Freehafer, Strader, Hall Darling, Nodde, Carey, Stapleton, Richmond and Rawlings.

SOME POULTRY HINTS.

Do not despise well bred poultry. No territory has ever been noted for its poultry products unless well bred fowls were the rule.

About the best remedy for "scaly legs," which is the work of miniature parasites, is an application of sulphur and melted lard once a week.

A close study of any breed is not only interesting, but profitable. Get acquainted with your fowls and let them get acquainted with you.

It is more profitable to have the hens in laying condition for the period when prices are high than it is to attempt to preserve eggs until that time.

Let the poultry have a share of the sour milk.

Be sure to keep plenty of fresh water before the hens. A great amount of water is used to form the egg.

If you have windows in the henhouse keep them clean, as the hens need all the sunlight they can get these days.

ing corps during the remainder of my course in the University of Idaho; to devote five hours a week during such period to the military training prescribed and to pursue the course in camp training during such period prescribed by the Secretary of War. (Signed)

The instruction required will be coordinated with the college schedule and the hour or hours of instruction so far as possible will come before 4:30 p. m. each day.

Uniforms Required.

When a unit of the training corps has been established at a university there will be issued to such institution the following uniforms for each member of the unit:

One pair of breeches, woolen; one cap, one coat, woolen; one pair leggings, canvas; one cap and collar ornament set, one pair shoes, russet.

When the individual members of the unit have agreed in writing to participate in such camps of instruction as the secretary of war may prescribe there will be issued to such institution the following additional uniforms:

One hat, service; one cord hat, two pair breeches, cotton; two shirts, flannel.

Additional Equipment.

It is the intention of the war department to issue the latest model arms and equipment to all institutions as rapidly as they can be supplied.

As far as practicable each student will be required to care for his rifle and equipment during the first two years of military training, this instruction being considered an essential part of the course.

All text book manuals and maps must be purchased by the student or by the institution.

the upper part of the left forearm will be issued each student enrolled in the officers' reserve training corps.

Special insignia will be issued also for excellence in study and proficiency in target practice.

And physically fit made citizen who has completed a four years' course of military training before the passage of this act under direction of an officer of the army shall after completing a supplemental course of training to be prescribed by the secretary of war be eligible for appointment to the officers' reserve corps provided he is between 21 and 27 years of age.

May Become Lieutenants.

A graduate of the reserve officers' training corps who desire to undergo six months training as a second lieutenant in the regular army, at $100 a month, may make application for this at the war department. If approved, the applicant will be reported to the president as qualified for the officers' reserve corps and for appointment as second lieutenant.

A graduate may go into the officers' reserve corps if he so elects but it is not compulsory.

With reference to the camp training referred to, the following regulations have been drawn up. (a)—That the course in camp training shall consist of two camps of four weeks each. When any member of the reserve officers' training corps has attended one of more such camps during the first two years of his service in the senior division he may be given credit therefore; otherwise he will be required to attend one four weeks' camp at the end of his junior year and one four weeks' camp subsequent to graduation.

(b)—For those who are admitted to membership in the reserve officers' training corps during their senior or fourth year at the institution the course in training shall consist of one four weeks' camp subsequent to graduation: This, however, may be omitted in the case of any member who applies for and receives a commission in the officers' reserve corps and an appointment as a temporary second lieutenant, thus permitting the six months' appointment to begin immediately after graduation.

Junior Officers Stuck.

(c)—For those who are admitted to membership in the training corps during their third year at the institution, the course of training shall consist of two four weeks' camps, one at the end of junior year and one subsequent to graduation.

The latter camp may be omitted in case of any member who applies for and receives a commission in the reserve corps and appointment as a temporary second lieutenant.

Course Outlined.

The course as prescribed in practical and theoretical work will be for three hours a week during the first two years and five hours a week during the last two years in advanced work.

This instruction is intended to train a student in all the duties of a company commander.

Difficulties of J. Bull.

It has always been known that the greatest difficulty in organizing a large army has been to obtain sufficient officers with military knowledge to train the men.

This has been forcibly illustrated in England during the present war.

The English trained regular army was sent to France at the outset of the war and due to heavy casualties it was not long before the great majority of experienced officers had been killed or disabled. In the mean time it became imperative to organize a million or so volunteers into an efficient army.

Valuable Time Wasted.

Because of the loss of experienced officers in France and lack of a reserve of trained men it became necessary first to train new officers and then train the army, all of which took a large amount of valuable time and caused any amount of confusion due to lack of efficient organization.

It has taken nearly two years to overcome this handicap and no one knows how many lives have been lost due to ignorance of the first principles of military training.

50,000 Officers Needed.

It is to avoid this contingency that the reserve officers' training corps has been established by law in the United States and the training corps in colleges, is the means by which it is intended that the 50,000 officers needed shall be eventually obtained.

No "Free Doin's."

In connection with the supply of uniforms and commutation of rations, this department has been notified that no uniforms can be supplied this year and that no money was appropriated to cover commutation of rations for the advanced course.

The war department has however submitted a bill for appropriations for next year and also one to cover payment of commutation for this year. These bills will be acted on this winter and probably will be passed, in which case all who enter the advanced course will be entitled to commutation from the date of qualification.

Prof's. May Drill.

Some space has been devoted to details concerning the course to be pursued by students but as there has been some question as to how members of the faculty will be affected the following extract of the regulations is quoted:

"With the approval of the authorities of any institution, physically fit members of the faculty or the corps of instructors are authorized to take courses of training prescribed in these regulations for members of the reserve officers' training corps. However, it must be understood that participation in these courses does not entitle them to participate in any government expenditure therefor, nor does it in itself render them eligible for appointment as reserve officers, but they may qualify by complying with the law and regulations provided for the regular officers' reserve corps."
