AGAIN

Another white star has appeared on the Idaho service flag, and another name has been placed on the roll of Idaho students who have given their lives for their country.

"WELL DONE"

The interscholastic tournament is over, and to judge from the statements of those in charge, of the visiting coaches and of the visiting men themselves, the affair was a success from start to finish.

The concrete example which they were given means more in attracting students to the University than any amount of work done by speakers, or by the sending of catalogs or printed matter.

Credit goes to Coaches Edmundson and Bleamaster and others who were in active charge of the work.

But as much as the tournament has done, we can do as much more by following up the impression made. Write to these men, send them catalogs and literature about the work here, and when you go home this summer, talk "Idaho" to them.

"KEEP OFF THE GRASS"

One of the chief beauties of the University is its campus, and right now, when the sod is soft and easily cut, is the time to look out for it.

THE FORUM

Moscow, Idaho, March 20, 1918. Editor of the Argonaut:

Yesterday the battalion had parade and an officer from Fort Riley watched it from behind the reviewing stand and after it was over complimented the battalion, but what did he think of the students behind the reviewing stand who stood on one leg, with their hats on, and talked, while the band played the Star Spangled Banner?

courtesy and ignorance on the part of college students? If those students had been among the men in the battalion after the parade was over they would have heard very emphatic expressions concerning their actions.

They are either of that ignorant type which you always see stand when America is played or sung and who sit when they ought to stand when the Star Spangled Banner is played or sung, or grossly discourteous.

Enclosed you will find a copy of Secretary Lane's, "The Flag," which I hope you will print, as it indicates that we stand at attention and salute the flag and our national anthem, not as a mere piece of bunting, nor a selection of good music, but that it stands for all that America stands for.

A CADET OFFICER.

THE FLAG

(By Franklin K. Lane) Let me tell you who I am. The work that you do is the making of the real flag. I am not the flag, not at all. I am but its shadow.

I am strong with pride, when men do an honest work, fitting the rails together truly. Sometimes I droop, for then purpose has gone from me, and cynically I play the coward.

I swing before your eyes a bright gleam of color, a symbol of yourself, the pictures suggestion of that big thing which makes this Nation. My stars and my stripes are your dreams and your labors.

RESOLUTIONS

Whereas Captain Stewart Hoover, the brother of Miss Phyllis Hoover, our friend and fellow-student, has laid down his life on the battle fields of France in his country's cause;

Be it resolved by the Faculty of the University of Idaho that we convey to her and the members of her family our participation in the sorrow of their bereavement and our sympathetic pride in the glorious example afforded by his heroic death.

By standing vote of the faculty of the University of Idaho, the foregoing resolution was unanimously adopted.

Whereas Lloyd Alvin Ellington and Howard Wesley Holaday of the class of 1916, and Dudley A. Loomis of the class of 1920, have made the supreme sacrifice for their native land;

Be it resolved by the Faculty of the University of Idaho that we express to their relatives our deep sorrow at the loss of these loyal sons of their Alma Mater, and our heartfelt sympathy in this hour of poignant grief and separation;

Be it also resolved, that we express our pride and gratitude for the examples of devotion they have given us, examples inspiring the whole university community with a more ardent determination to serve and defend our country to the utmost.

By a standing vote the foregoing resolutions were unanimously adopted by the faculty of the University of Idaho.

F. JENKINS, Bursar.

BARBED WIRE

When you describe a grenade you say its like a lemon. Lots of Idaho co-eds are like grenades.

Somehow the battalion didn't appreciate the idea of two days vacation.

Bill Carder got a place on the all-star team. We'd like to see the man that can hold his own with Bill.

The trenches haven't any terrors for the cadets after their two days of work. They've been thru the real thing.

Sprig has cub. Fussing is no longer an indoor sport.

If the "Home Guards" fight like they drilled in Lewis court last Monday, the home folks will stand a bigger chance of getting hurt than the enemies.

Burke and Whelan got a taste of the horrors of modern war in the cadet maneuvers the other day. Burke got stung when charging a beehive, and Whelan fell into Paradise.

PRESIDENT LINDLEY TALKS TO MOSCOW PEOPLE ON "WAR"

Addresses Gathering at Methodist Church on Duties of Citizens in Conserving

President Lindley delivered a patriotic address before the people of Moscow at the Methodist church last Sunday evening. In the speech he told of the spirit prevailing at Camp Lewis, of the enthusiasm that made itself apparent upon the faces of the soldiers, and of the intense desire of the boys to get "over there" and "mix it" with the Boches.

Wednesday President Lindley will go to Spokane to address the Spokane Ad Club on the subject of "War and Advertising."

Next Friday he must be at Lewiston to deliver a lecture before the Methodist church there on the "Control of Emotions and Dispositions." This is one of the series of lectures conducted by that church.

THE UNIVERSITY of IDAHO

- Established in eighteen hundred and eighty-nine. THE COLLEGE OF LETTERS AND SCIENCE THE COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE THE COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING THE COLLEGE OF LAW THE SCHOOL OF MINES THE SCHOOL OF FORESTRY THE AGRICULTURAL EXPERIMENT STATION THE SUB-STATION OF THE BUREAU OF MINES THE EXTENSION DIVISION

MOSCOW Sandpoint, Caldwell, Aberdeen

Why Go to "Idaho"

The choice of a university or college to be attended should be based upon four principal requirements: 1st, a high purpose and broad field of work; 2nd, a competent faculty; 3rd, a sufficient equipment; 4th, a student body of high ideals.

- 1. Purpose and Field— Its purpose is to serve the people of Idaho in developing and training students; in advancing the entire State educational system of which it is a part; in assisting toward the solution of economic and social problems; in furnishing expert knowledge in Agriculture, Engineering, Forestry, Mining, Home Economics, Law, and Educational matters not only to students in residence but also to all who desire it throughout the State. 2. Faculty— The faculty is made up of eighty-three teachers of thorough training and efficiency attained by years of study and experience. They are deeply interested in the progress of each and all under their instruction. They know the State and its conditions and give their best efforts to its development. In addition there are fifteen workers in the agricultural extension division and 15 agricultural county agents.

3. Equipment— Its equipment is ample. It has a library of over 40,000 volumes, excellent facilities for teaching literature, philosophy, and the social sciences, and well provided laboratories for the natural and applied sciences and for the technologies.

4. Students— Its students numbered one thousand and nine in the school year of 1916-1917 and were earnest, wide-awake, and democratic. A large number of them earned their own way. Its alumni now occupy high positions and will be the future leaders of Idaho in professions, the industrial vocations, and in the building and maintenance of homes.

The six colleges and the central agricultural experiment station are permanent station and the cooperative work with the U. S. Bureau of Mines are located at Moscow; the main agricultural extension office is Boise, and the agricultural sub-stations and demonstration farms at Caldwell, Sandpoint, Moscow, and Aberdeen.

The Hoedown

The big affair has come and went, and now sashy can sit down with folded hands and wait for the Sophomore Frolic. But say, Bo, it was some dance, a full dollar's worth and then some. The foresters did themselves proud, and altho it couldn't be expected that the high water mark of last year's hoedown would be reached (the war, you know) nevertheless, the wrist watch gang and the rough neck gang and all the other gangs were all there from 8 till 11:35 and they ALL had a good time. The punch and music were as usual, which means they were good, but nobody would have noticed it if they hadn't been—they were having too good a time. Now they're saving themselves for the next affair, the Soph Frolic.

AG SCHOOL GETS BIG PRICE FOR LAMBS

Armour & Co., of Spokane Purchase 217 Head at $16 per Hundred-Weight

What is believed to be the record price for a carload of lambs was paid to the university recently for 217 lambs fed at the fair grounds for experimental purposes by the animal husbandry department. The price paid was 16 cents, live weight, and the lambs brought $12.85 per head. The lambs were bought by Fred Stanton, sheep buyer for Armour & Co., Spokane, and were shipped over the Northern Pacific to Spokane.

The sheep were selected from a large band held by Ross Howard here last fall and were divided into three lots to test the relative value of silage and other feed for fattening purposes. Lot No. 1 was fed on barley and alfalfa; lot No. 2 was fed on barley, corn silage and alfalfa, and lot No. 3 was fed on barley, alfalfa and oats and pea silage.

Students in Charge
The work of feeding was under the supervision of C. W. Hickman, assistant professor of animal husbandry and the feeding was done by Alvin McCormack, a senior from Lewiston, and Ambrose Johnson, a junior in the department of animal husbandry, who comes from Idaho Falls. McCormack plans to use the results of this feeding experiment for the basis of his thesis at commencement.

The lambs were fed on alfalfa for two weeks and weighed into the feeding lots at between 60 and 61 pounds, each, there being less than one-third of a pound difference in the average weight of the three lots. After being fed 81 days they were sold and the lots averaged from 83.3 to 85.3 pounds each. Those fed on corn silage, alfalfa and barley had made the greatest gain and the increased weight cost about 7-10 of one cent per pound less than the gain for the other two lots, the cost of which were about equal, those fed on barley, alfalfa and pea and oat silage making practically the same gain at the same expense, as those fed on barley and alfalfa, without the silage.

There were 254 sheep in the original lot but 37 of them were killed by dogs on December 26, which left 217 to be sold today.

Fred Stanton, sheep buyer for Armour & Co., who received the sheep, pronounced them an extra choice lot and so even that he found but one rejection in the entire double decked carload of 217 head.

THIRD FACTOR IS NECESSARY

Religion is a "Stimulant"
"Religion is the greatest stimulant ever discovered. Alcohol and religion are twin stimulants of humanity. Every race of man has found an artificial stimulant. This demonstrates the need of a 'third ingredient.' There always has been a blind struggle to find some means to stimulate their powers. Alcohol proceeds to stimulate by destruction, while religion constructs as it revives the lives of men. Enthusiasm is noble, and any man who is enthusiastic over bacteriology, mathematics, electron theory or any other line of work, is religious.

"It has been found that certain emotions are depressing. A man is paralyzed with fears, and one cannot eat during sorrow. Other emotions are exalting. At certain times a man is a larger edition of himself. This is why cheerfulness is encouraged.

"There is a relation between emotions and the secretions of certain ductless glands. There are certain ductless glands which produce toxins which are poured into the blood during extreme emotion. A Harvard professor made a study of the football team just before the big game with Yale, and found that in response to the high pitch of emotion, the blood contained a higher percentage of sugar, this being the best form of concentrated energy. That team played the game religiously because they were brimming with mental and physical enthusiasm.

"Religion is a good stimulant because its central idea is a supreme being. This supreme being, or God, represents all that is good and desirable to the individual. No man was ever successful who had no idea of God.

Religion is more than a stimulant. It is a unifier. There must be unity. If there were no drill in the army what would it amount to? What is more requisite than unity at the present time. As Lincoln said, we must adapt ourselves to the changing order.

"Finally, prayer is vital. It is a reality, not a hazy imagination, and any prayer that is selfish, or unpure in the smallest respect, is mean and vile."

GRADUATION EXERCISES HELD FOR S.P.A. STUDENTS

Ceremonies Held in Morrill Hall When Seven Receive Diplomas

Last Thursday the graduating exercises of the Senior Class of the School of Practical Agriculture were held. The exercises took place in Morrill Hall in Room 34. The first number on the program was a song by Mrs. Naomi Liberty, following which J. O. Rasmussen, captain of D company of the cadet battalion, read the class history. The valedictory address was delivered by George Cowgill. Miss Esther McGinnis then rendered a song, and the commencement address was delivered by President Lindley. The meeting was closed with the presentation of the diplomas.

Those receiving the sheepskins were Charles Cochrane, George Cowgill, Clarence McCullough, Donald Hardin, Samuel Hill, Dewey Patton and Oscar Rasmussen.

The class has now broken up, most of the members leaving for their homes on Saturday, altho Hill remained until Tuesday. Rasmussen is taking special work, and will remain in the university for the time being.

School closed for the other S. P. A. classes last Friday and all left in high spirits, expressing their intention of returning next year and of

CINDER STARS LIMBERING UP

Distance Men Taking Daily Jog Around Campus and Weight Men Work to Improve "Form"

With the last of the snow off the campus, the track men are forsaking Lewis Court, and are developing their stride with outdoor practice. Tho still far from bright, the season is not so gloomy as it seemed for a time. Clay Parr, quarter-miler and relay man on the 1916 team, has turned out, and is fast swinging into his eight-foot stride. If he can get his wind into condition by the time of the first meet, he will be a sure point winner in the middle distance runs.

Quarter Men Out

Bistline is also turning out, and Sandberg is making preparations to do a few things in the 440 and 880. None of this new material, with the exception of Parr, has had experience in intercollegiate meets, but in the seven weeks between, before the first encounter, they may round into championship form.

In the pole vault, Cline of Spokane is working out. He boasts a record of 10 feet 6, and if he is able to better this a few inches, should be good for a first in the dual meets.

The sprinters are still minus, and the prospects are that few points will fall to Idaho in the 100 and 220. Hurdlers and jumpers, both broad and high, continue to be scarce. The mile and two mile, with Campbell and Luttrupp, are not in as bad a fix as might be, but neither man has had any college competition.

Weights in Good Shape

The weights, as before predicted, are on easy street compared with the track events. Perrine is improving his form with the shot, and promises 40 feet before the season is over. The javelin will be taken by Irving Barber, a former Boise H. S. weight man, has now turned out, and should prove a valuable addition to the artillery section. He heaves the shot and discus. Form is his chief difficulty, and if he succeeds in perfecting it so that he can put all his weight behind the missile, Idaho fans can realize some more points for the Silver and Gold team.

The relay team is at present only a myth. Of the redoubtable quartet of Gerlough, Dingle, Parr and Massey, only Parr remains. Three more men with the ability to negotiate a quarter in about 51 will have to be found, and this job will not prove easy. With the other conference teams also suffering from a drouth of material, the track and field events will be pretty evenly balanced, and a fast relay team may be the deciding factor in the meets this spring.

He is still making the call for more material, and with a view to getting the men out a series of inter-class and interfraternity meets are scheduled, with a sliding system of points, such as is used in grading the contestants in the "all-around." Every man jumping a certain height or putting the hot a certain distance will receive points regardless of the place he takes. These intramural contests will be staged soon.

IDAHO PRESS ASSOCIATION HOLDS MEETING IN MOSCOW

President Lindley Presides as Toastmaster at Evening Banquet: Iddings and Jenkins Speak

Friday and Saturday of last week the North Idaho Press Association held its first annual convention at Moscow. A large number of the newspaper men of northern and central Idaho were present, and Saturday morning they made a tour of inspection of the University plant. A special review and parade was staged for their benefit by the University cadet battalion.

In the evening a banquet was held at the St. Mark's Guild Hall, at which President Lindley presided as toastmaster. Among the speakers were two from the University, Dean Iddings, and Bursar Jenkins. Dean Iddings spoke briefly on the work of the College of Agriculture, and Bursar Jenkins made an explanation of the manner of accounting of the University funds. He showed how the system of government supervision made any mistake in the accounts out of the question, and the fact that the audit of the University books by the Reinhardt Co., accountants, last year, showed a clean record was adduced as further proof of the statement.

The banquet broke up at eleven. P. M.

teams time to season. None of the debaters on these two teams have had previous experience, with the single exception of Gochnour. The home team, composed of Miss Dorothy Forch and Alvin Denman, will support the affirmative, while the team of Gochnour and Burke, which goes to Walla Walla, take the opposite side of the question.

Miss Forch is the first co-ed to make a Varsity debating team. Coach Miller is gloomy over the prospects. His work in the English department keeps him too busy to devote much time to the work of training the speakers.

The green speakers are giving further trouble, and the two contests on foreign forums add some more clouds to the dark prospects.

Miss Hoover's new work will keep her busy for the remainder of the school year, and thru a part of the summer. She has been granted a leave of absence until July 1. While she is absent, her work in the department will be taken on by the other members of the Home Economics faculty.

This is the second call to service which Miss Hoover has received in the present year. The first was received last fall, but departmental work caused her to refuse it. This call, however, was more urgent and acceptance was unavoidable.

In the last of the semi-finals, Coeur d'Alene lost to Nez Perce. Coeur d'Alene was clearly outclassed. Rough play again marked their work, 25 fouls being called. Fox was the Nez Perce star with 20 points. Fike made four.

Moscow Wins

In the final game Moscow came thru with a 26-16 win over Nez Perce. The Clearwater team started strong, and at one time had a score of 9-3 in their favor. From then on, however, the game was Moscow's. The score at the end of the first half stood 11-10 for the locals. Fox was the whole Nez Perce team, making 14 points. Had his eye been as good thru the game as it was the first 10 minutes, Nez Perce would have won. He converted six fouls straight.
