NUMBER 16

STATE BASKET TOURNEY SET FOR MARCH 13-14

High School Athletes to Assemble at University for Annual Championship Struggle.

SOUTH IDAHO TO SEND ENTRIES

Two, or Three Sectional Winners From Below the Mountains Will Battle For Pennant.

The second annual state high school basketball tournament will be held at the University on Thursday and Friday, March 13 and 14. The hoopfest will be conducted upon the same plan as last year, with open enrollment from north Idaho towns, and two or three of the sectional winners from the southern portion of the state.

Coach Bleamaster and his assistants are already at work upon the details of the meet. Special preparations are being made for the entertainment of the visitors not only so far as room and food is concerned, but for an inside look into the University life.

Get Hand in Receipts.

The financial end of the meet will probably be handled much the same as previously. This means a definite guarantee of a certain amount of expense money to the south Idaho teams, and the division of a large per cent of the profits from gate receipts among all the entries. Satisfaction with this system was expressed among high school athletic managers last season. If the tourney nears the success of previous ones in attendance, the panhandle teams will not be out of pocket for travel money.

Room and board for the visitors will be provided by the fraternities. An agreeable plan for allotting the teams is being devised by the various Greek-letter heads.

First Round Thursday.

The preliminary rounds of the tournament will be played Thursday afternoon and the second round Thursday night. The two semi-final contests are scheduled for Friday afternoon, and the cup-match for the evening of the same day. The Idaho varsity will probably stage an exhibition performance with the Freshman five on Friday afternoon.

The exact placing of teams on the dummy schedule will not take place until Thursday morning, when the high school mentors will meet to draw for positions. Several assemblies of the visiting coaches are expected to occur, in order that the yearly business of the State High School Athletic Association, which was organized last year, may be transacted.

To Award Two Cups.

A silver loving cup will be awarded to the winning outfit. A cup will be given also to the team making the best appearance. The trophies will be awarded after the final game at the last social gathering of the athletes.

Applications for entry blanks to the state meet have been coming into Coach Bleamaster all winter. A large number of teams from all parts of the state have signified intention of entering the fight. The problem of selecting the two or three below-the-mountains teams is being simplified by reports of games frequently received by Coach Bleamaster.

DEAN THOMSON ATTENDS MINING ASSN. MEETING

F. A. Thomson, dean of the school of mines, will return Thursday from Boise where he attended the sixth annual meeting of the Idaho Mining Association. Dean Thomson delivered an address on "The School of Mines and the State."

Addresses were also given by President E. H. Lindley on "Human Engineering" and by D. C. Livingston, professor of geology at the University of Idaho, on the "Physiography of Idaho."

Kinney Mobilizes R. O. T. C. Mitten-Wearers for Business

Another class in boxing is being organized, to meet Tuesday and Friday afternoons at four o'clock. The new course is intended primarily for members of the R. O. T. C. and will bring no credits.

The original all-university class, which meets on Tuesday and Thursday from five to six, is increasing in size steadily. Half of the hour is devoted to physical exercise under the direction of Leslie Moe. Alfred Kinney is instructor in boxing for both classes.

Miss French was a dinner guest of Zeta Chi Alpha Wednesday evening.

FROLIC TO BE STAGED SAT.

Sophomore Dance to Follow Game at 8:30—Valentine Affair.

In spite of the basketball game being scheduled for Saturday night, February 15, the Sophomore Frolic will be given as planned.

There has been some little discussion as to whether the Sophomores would be able to run a full program, but Coach Bleamaster has arranged this by promising to stage the game at 7:15 sharp. In this way the dance can easily start by 8:30 and a little extra "time" is said to be in store after the 11:30 mark.

There are even some wild rumors to the effect that the Sophomores have been able to originate a few new ideas in regard to staging a dance. Be there with your dollar right after the game.

MEMORIAL SERVICES TO BE HELD MAY 30TH

Committee Needs Time to Prepare Booklet On Idaho Men Who Gave Their Lives in War.

May 30th will probably be the day set for the memorial services which are to be held in honor of Idaho's men who have died in service. This rather distant date has been decided upon in order to give the people in charge an opportunity to prepare the memorial booklet which is now under way. This booklet is to contain the names and photographs of all men who have died in service, along with all data which can be obtained about them. It will include not only men who died in service in France, but in training camps, and in the S. A. T. C.

Miss French, Dean Thompson and Dean Hulme were appointed to constitute a committee which should send resolutions of condolence to the parents of all Idaho men who died in service and to obtain biographical data concerning them.

Miss French has charge of all S. A. T. C. men who died at the University and reports that she has been successful in obtaining photographs and data concerning them.

Dean Eldridge is also working on the booklet, collecting what information he can. He states that any information which others may be able to contribute will be welcomed.

"JUNIOR SPECIAL" BIG HIT AT "PROM"

At last, after about two hours of eager expectancy (on the part of some), the stage was set for the Junior Special at the Prom—dim lights, soft music, etc. It truly was a great sight from the side lines and at the end of the first half there were faint murmurs of "Fine!" "Hooray!" "Great!" and a few enthused Freshmen clapped their hands. At the end of the first encore there were faint murmurs of "let's dance" and "what's the idea?" Also there was an emphatic and significant absence of applause—from the side lines. At the end of the third encore the three visiting alumni were permitted to share the joys of the dance and after the nth encore everyone was invited to join in—the following dance.

After the crowd was nicely mixed up again and the dances were being cut short on account of the proximity of zero hour some one had a happy hunch and the result was a special put-on for the Muslin Draper Union. Everyone was glad that the gymnasium rafters had been camouflaged, but it was generally conceded that the reward for service rendered was a wee bit too great. If the treasurer of the M. D. Union had possessed a keen sense of business, the Junior class would have been on easy street from that time on, because the audience rudely stepped out on the floor and tripped the light fantastic in the wake of the I. W. W.

However, everyone had a mighty good time and many resolutions were suggested regarding "when we give OUR dance." It's a darned ill wind that doesn't blow a little good.

Dean E. J. Iddings spent Monday afternoon in Pullman, conferring with members of the faculty of Washington State College.

DEDICATE Y. M. HUT TO GREATER RELIGION

"Religion Stripped to Reality" and "Social Good-will" Keynote Ideas At Services Sunday.

DOORS MUST REMAIN OPEN

"Y" Must Serve Impartially, Warns President Lindley, if it is to Be University Institution.

The dedication of the new Y. M. C. A. building at the University of Idaho occurred last Sunday afternoon. The structure was well filled with an appreciative audience despite the bad weather conditions.

Dean Eldridge in introducing Mr. S. J. Chaney, the secretary, spoke of Idaho's good fortune in securing such a man of initiative, power and boundless friendship toward young people as Mr. Chaney.

Secretary Chaney expressed his appreciation for the cooperation of the men and women of Idaho and especially of Moscow. In briefly reviewing the history of the Christian association, Mr. Chaney said: "In a little room in London, George Williams organized the first Y. M. C. A. He became personally acquainted with one who changed his entire life and it was his desire that other men should find this One. The main thing for which the 'Y' stands is Christian character which comes through the up-reaching and out-reaching of one man's life to other lives.

Reconstruction Needs Great. "This building was started under war conditions, but was completed by the National War Work Council of the Y. M. C. A. in view of the fact that its need would be greater in the period of reconstruction than in the period of the war itself."

Secretary Chaney expressed his appreciation to all those who had made the building possible. Rev. Dean Hamilton emphasized the fact that a new religious view had come into the world. "Any institution imbued with mind of the Master cannot fail," he said. "The Y. M. C. A. has this spirit."

Social Good Will. Walter E. Sandelius expressed his appreciation on behalf of the students that the "Y" had been possible. He felt that while started in the interest of war it would serve as well in the interest of enlightened democracy. "A spirit of altruism has seized the world. The students have a common cause, a united social feeling and have long felt the need for the conveniences which the 'Y' offers."

Stands for Best. Dean Permeal J. French expressed the sentiment of all the women of Idaho. The women are interested in the Christian Association for the sake of the men, she maintained. Dean French expressed the hope that the men would find in the building what they need. "Faith builds for Hope. With Faith and Hope comes Charity. The 'Y' building stands for the best."

Mr. W. F. Morgareidge spoke for the city, whose interests are with the University. He expressed a desire that every man leaving the University should take with him manhood, education, the spirit of God and a world view. "It is the hope of Moscow," he said, "that the institution will measure up to everything expected of a new and enlightened age."

President Chief Speaker. Dr. E. H. Lindley, president of the University, gave the dedication address of the afternoon. He said: "I have looked forward to the full orb of vision of Christianity in the Universities. I hope that it may be expressed by such a building as this on every campus.

War Strips Life. "Fifteen years ago the Y. M. C. A. was a substitution for a prayer meeting; then it became a place for the study of the scriptures, a narrow study rather than the real spirit. Later other phases were emphasized and it grew to a sect—another little group. Then came the war. The 'Y' put itself into the war, daring to go to the front to see that the men might have the power which comes only from deep religious contact. The passion for the best which is in the Y. M. C. A. flowered on the battle field. Then came reality. It took the war to strip life and religion from everything but reality. The war hastened the union of the 'Y'."

Fundamental Qualities. "The fundamental qualities are unselfishness, honesty and truthfulness. The 'Y' helps to develop these in connection with the four great phases of Vandals Only Undeclared Five in Northwest Basket Circuit—O. A. C. Beats Pullman.

COAST TEAMS SPLIT SERIES

Oregon, Washington and O. A. C. Deadlock in Seaside Games—Oregon Invades Next Week.

NORTHWEST STANDINGS
Team	Won	Lost

W. S. C.	6	2
U. of O.	3	3
U. of W.	2	6

O. A. C.	3	6

Idaho tops the title race in the Northwest Conference, but her position is a precarious one. The hardest part of her schedule is ahead with W. S. C., U. of Oregon and the U. of Washington on the warpath.

Heavy Playing Ahead. Five conference games are scheduled for Idaho during the next nine days. Two will be played with Whitman, at Moscow, one with the U. of Oregon at Moscow, and two with W. S. C., one at Moscow and one at Pullman.

Conference Games. Oregon Agricultural College jimmied the dope sheet by coming from behind in the last two minutes and winning from Washington State College, 36 to 31 in their second game at Pullman. W. S. C. won the first game 31 to 20, her men playing slack ball, however.

Oregon Dangerous. On the coast, the University of Oregon team continues to play a strong game. They defeated the University of Washington at Eugene, in a clean, fast contest, score 37 to 19. The Oregon men look fully at good for future scraps as Washington State College, the teams splitting a two-game series.

The University of Washington is still a dangerous contender. Her rapid improvement may result in a top upheaval by the time she tours the east side in March for her W. S. C. and Idaho battles.

TOURNAMENT LEADERS HOLD FAST TO PLACES

Light Schedule of Last Week Leaves Betas' and Akes Still Undeclared.

Three more games pulled off in the intra-mural league leave the Beta and A. K. E. teams still on top, and the Zeta Chi flingers out of the cellar. The two 1000 per cent teams promise a hard fight for the title, altho they are not the only teams on board for honors.

A. K. E. Top Zeta Chi's. The "Ake" team won one of the hardest-fought games of the series when they slipped an 18-to-12 score on the Zeta Chi quintet. Fox and Burke played best for the winners.

Lineup: A. K. E. (18) Zeta Chi (12) Burke C. Thompson Ott F. Gaffney Fox F. Bartley Rettig G. Thompson Friedman G. King

Betas Take Short Ags. The Short Ags were an easy prey for the strong Beta team, and took a 37-to-7 beating. Scott, McCrea and Miller starred for the ribbon takers.

Lineup: Beta (37) S. P. A. (7) McCrea C. Bailey Scott F. Radenmacher Miller F. Hunter White G. Black Wright G. McCormick

Sigma Nu's Eat Barbs. The Sigma Nu's wended their way into a more secure position by pouring a 22-to-14 chapter on the Barbs. The game was fast.

Lineup: Sigma Nu (22) Barbs (14) Emerson C. McDewitt Hunter F. Wieve Paten F. Hyland Nagel G. Gorrough Heckver G. Toevs

REGISTER AT PARIS CLUB

University Union Greets Six Idaho Men Between December 10 and January 7.

Dean Eldridge is in receipt of a letter from the University Union at Paris, informing him of the registration of six Idaho students there, between the dates December 10 and January 7.

The University Union is established at Paris, London, and Rome, and all university men are invited in these respective cities. It furnishes recreation, a home, and in short, all the comforts which can be provided for these men.

Following are the men who recently registered at the Paris Union: George N. J. Anselm, known here as George Johnson, ex-'19, 2d Lieut.; Ellis Bates, ex-'17, 1st Lieut.; Robert O. Burns, ex-'15, 2d Lieut.; Chas. C. Fields, ex-'14, 1st Lieut.; J. D. Matthews, graduate of '09 class, Capt., and Earl C. Simpson, a graduate of '17 class, 2d Lieut.

VANDALS SWAMP O. A. C. BY FAST FLOOR WORK

Score 50-11 Win in Second Contest With Aggies—Entire Team Stars.

Idaho placed a fourth conference win on the map, by taking the count of O. A. C., 50 to 11, last Thursday night in the gymnasium. The game was faster, and the Vandals showed some of their old form. They played all around the visitors in the second half, piling up 35 points in 15 minutes.

Whole Team Stars. For Idaho, individual stars were hard to pick. Hunter played his best game of the season, hooping nine baskets. Campbell played his usual consistent game, and slipped seven baskets into the ring. Moe was exceptionally fast in his field work and shot five baskets. Brigham, at running guard, showed fast calibre ball and looks big for some of the remaining games.

For O. A. C., Arthur played a plucky game, with Eikelman and McCart probably sharing honors with him. The line-up

O. A. C. (11) Campbell C. Eikelman Moe F. Arthur Hunter F. Kincaid Lindley G. McCart Brigham G. Eileron

Substitutions—Reynolds for Eileron; Rickson for Kincaid. Field goals—Hunter 9; Campbell 7; Moe 5; Brigham, Eikelman 2. Free throws—Hunter 6 out of 11; Arthur, 7 out of 11. Referee—Hunter.

TO HAVE Y. W. C. A. SPEAKER

Dr. Wordfeldt to Address Young Women on Social Education.

Dr. Margaret D. Wordfeldt, a representative of the National Board of the Y. W. C. A., will give a course of lectures on Social Education to the students of the University of Idaho. Dr. Wordfeldt will arrive in Moscow Sunday, February 16, and will give her lecture from four to five on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons. She will also give personal interviews and conferences on these days, and Friday will be left entirely free for consultations.

Sent By National Board. Dr. Wordfeldt is being sent by the National Board of the Y. W. C. A. which has secured a staff of exceptionally qualified women physicians who will give a course of lectures on social education to women students in colleges, universities and normal schools. This is a part of their program for reconstruction.

Experience in New York City. Dr. Wordfeldt has been devoting special work among the girls of New York City for the past years. Her work has been under the supervision of the Social Hygiene Division of the War Department.

Home Ec. Club Meets Thursday. The meeting of the Home Economics Club announced for last Thursday, and postponed because of the basketball game, will be held in the Home Economics rooms Thursday evening, February 13.

Faculty Women to Give Valentine Tea. Invitations are out for the Valentine Tea, given by the Faculty Women's Club for the young women of the University. Tea will be served at Ridenbaugh Hall from four until six o'clock Friday, February 14.

VANDALS TO BATTLE WHITMAN AND W. S. C.

Missionaries Play Return Series Tomorrow and Saturday—Pullman Comes for Opener Monday.

WHITMAN PROMISES SCRAP

Defeat of O. A. C. Gives Walla Walla Five Hope—W. S. C. Out for Pennant.

VANDAL BASKET SCHEDULE
Feb 14-15	Whitman at Idaho.	*
Feb. 17	W. S. C. at Idaho.	*
Feb. 21	U. of Oregon at Idaho.	*
Feb 24	W. S. C. at Pullman.	*
Mch. 3-4	U. of W. at Idaho.	*
Mch. 7	W. S. C. at Idaho.	*
Mch. 8	W. S. C. at Pullman.	*

Whitman College will put on the gloves for a two-round bout with the local hoopers Friday and Saturday nights, and Washington State College opens the first game of an alternating four-game series here next Monday night.

The Missionaries will come for their return bouts with a much stronger team, and, in the opinion of Coach Bleamaster, may slip a dark horse on the Vandals. Clerin is a real star, while he has some men backing him who possess the "Old Whitman fight" combined with good basket stuff.

Whitman has lost two games to Idaho, and won one from O. A. C.

W. S. C. Strong. Washington State College quintet is the nut that Idaho hopes to break, but it will tax her hammering quintet to the fullest extent. The Pullmanites have the dope with them to furnish the best games of the season, and the natural antipathy of the two knowledge centers will be out in full force.

Rocky, McIvor and Kotula furnish the nucleus of the Washington team. In the first two "Doc" Bohler has two of the fastest forwards the northwest has seen in the last few years. The quintet made an exceptionally fine showing on its coast trip, winning five out of seven games, altho traveling with only six men.

Play Four. The games will alternate, the Muscovites playing at Pullman the week following. The last two games of the series will be played in March. All contests here will be called at 7:15 sharp, regardless of crowd.

The Vandal organization for the oncoming scraps will be unchanged, with the exception of the running guard position. Romig and Brigham are still neck and neck, and will probably both see action. Boyd Cornelison, who has recovered from the injuries he received some time ago, is eyeing the basket with remarkable results, and may be slipped into the lineup during the next week or two.

GEM OF MOUNTAINS WAITS UPON STUDENTS

Report of Committee and Executive Board to Be Submitted at Open Meeting of A. S. U. I.

The Gem of the Mountains question now rests again with the student body. Both the committee appointed to investigate the advisability of putting it out, and the executive board of the A. S. U. I. have placed an "O. K." on the problem and passed it on.

The committee composed of Richard Ott, Alfred Kinney, and Ernest Lindley, ascertained that the cost of publication would be not over ten per cent greater than last year, and that with a large subscription list, the book could still be sold at the old price of three dollars.

The report was accepted by the executive board of the A. S. U. I., and by Dean Eldridge and Mr. Jenkins, who were called into consultation. Further committees were appointed to look over the possibilities of securing an editor and a business manager with sufficient time to publish the book before the end of the college year.

The question will be put before the students at an early meeting of the A. S. U. I.

THE UNIVERSITY ARGONAUT

Published Every Week by the Associated Students of the University of Idaho.

Rates: Per year, $1.25, except subscriptions outside the United States, which are $1.75.

Entered at the postoffice at Moscow, Idaho, as Second Class Mail Matter.

Agitation is abroad for the founding of an intellectual senate, composed of the entire student body. Such an organization, it is proposed, would be the forum where undergraduates could discuss the living questions of the day.

OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

In this column may be published announcements of meetings or of any other official activity of a recognized university organization.

BOXERS! The class in physical exercise and boxing meets on Tuesdays and Thursdays from five to six.

A new course in boxing for members of the R. O. T. C., who volunteer, will be held on Tuesday and Friday afternoons from four to five.

KINNEY. Notice.

All student organizations (A. S. U. I., fraternities, sororities, athletic organizations, Argonaut, Gem of the Mountains, departmental clubs, etc.) are expected to turn in a complete list of all officers to the undersigned not later than Monday, February 17.

THE CAMPUS CHINOOK

Military Cy Is a popular (?) guy Within these halls of fame The Freshmen squall But heed the call The fair would they refrain.

We got this straight from the English Department: "Tie that foolish expression outside when you attend assembly, you frosh. Don't be sophomoreified before your time."

Extreme quietness is reported on the pre-med-lawyer front this week. We fear, however, it is but the proverbial calm before the storm.

The ruling that there shall be no talking in the library certainly does inflict a hardship on our women. 'Tis pitiful to watch the contortions some of them go thru striving to hold (for once) their tongues.

Judging from reports and opinions gathered here and there (chiefly from among the Frosh) we have discovered the meanest man in the world. Lawyers and judges may waste their eloquence on the man who takes candy from a kid or steak the pennies out of a blind man's cup.

We have long watched the Associated Press reports for news of the petition sent by us to the Peace Conference. In exchange for the noble work done by our boys "over there" we feel it entirely within our rights to ask for a few square feet of the muddiest part of the Rhine.

"It is an ill wind that blows no one good." We wish that Shakespeare or Solomon or whoever made this bright remark would investigate the record of the mischievous gale that sweeps across the campus every morning.

UNIVERSITY INDEX

The Freshman is as brainless as the ass. He savors of the new mown summer grass. His aspirations are his only obsessions, his paddle and green cap his only possessions.

The Sophomore wends his way with jaw set firm. The world must on him turn—as did the worm. His conscience troubles him, he is with passion torn, for without his guiding hand, the universe were forlorn.

The Junior tramples round with open jaws and argues on all things known to man—without cause. His will is jaw, what cares he for anyone! He is above them all—an upper classman!

The Seniors looks not to earthly care, around him, will whirl man's future welfare. At last, he has to heavenly heights risen—the world, n'everything, is his'n!

The Faculty looks on with paternal joy, to lands of knowledge they hope to convey their proteges. But their words are vain—from our brains they slide as water from a window pane.

If S. A. T. C. men will open up the seams of their old wool socks and press them out, they will make excellent carpets, and one pair will cover the entire floor.

There has been quite a panic in fire wood since these dateless B. E. games. The committee visited all the wood piles and the result is some nice shiny, sliverless, business-like paddles. Bang—but it was a regular surprise party too—only the refreshments were light—dates being the main course.

Anyone seen a mustache running loose about the campus this week? It is reported that a well-known faculty member is minus such a facial adornment.

EDITORIALS.

The ancient custom of the "wearing of the green" by Freshman should be abolished, and be taken up by the Sophomores and upper classmen. It would signify greater achievement of educational prowess for the upper classmen and be much more easily enforced.

The editor of this magazine, Mr. Ivor E. Dome, would like contributions from all brainless persons, as himself. Look towards a noble goal—see words issued from your own brain in print. It will be a most noble inspiration to great deeds.

a man's life—physical fitness, intellectual efficiency, social adaptability and morale.

"Pershing has said, 'Physical fitness can only come with clean minds.' Socially there has been little done until recently. The 'Y' furnishes games and recreation. Students need rich social experiences. In the great fight for the maintenance of morale, religion should not be overlooked. Religion should be a big brotherhood, devoid of sectarian spirit. This means devotion to the right ideas of life. As we are, we do; as we do, so is done to us."

McDOUGALL RECOMMENDED FOR EARLY PROMOTION

Idaho Aviator Who Won Croix de Guerre Commended by Chief of Air Staff.

Lieut. Harry McDougall, A. E. F., who was recently cited for meritorious conduct, has been recommended for promotion, according to a letter received at the University.

Lieutenant McDougall is a former University of Idaho student, who enlisted during the early part of the war. The following letter was written to him by the chief of air service.

No. 29, 1918.

From: Chief of Air Service, American E. F.

To: 1st Lieut. Harry C. McDougall, 100 Aero Squadron.

Subject: Recommendation for promotion.

The exceptionally meritorious service which you have rendered with the American Expeditionary Forces resulted in a recommendation for promotion in grade submitted by your superior officers. The Chief of Air Service approved the recommendation, but unfortunately instructions from the war department discontinued all promotions of officers on the 11th inst., making it impossible to confer the regard which you have so well earned.

While communicating the above information, the undersigned takes this opportunity of thanking you personally for the assistance contributed toward the American Air successes in the great war now drawing to a close.

MASON M. PATRICK,
Major-General, N. A., Chief of Air Staff.

Selection and Designing of Miss Leiby and Assistants Wins Praise.

The success of the Y. M. C. The window hangings combine soft tans with rich blues and the mellow brown of the furnishings. Miss Cora Irene Leiby and her assistants are responsible for the selection of materials, the clever designs carried out and hanging the curtains.

UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN SENDS PROFESSOR OVERSEAS

The University of Wisconsin has sent another professor overseas. This time it is Professor Chester Lloyd Jones, chairman of the political science department of the university, who has been on leave of absence since 1917. He has recently been named commercial attache to the American embassy in Madrid, Spain.

In 1917 Professor Jones investigated political and economic conditions in Mexico. Since then he has been associated with the federal war trade board. His graduate study at the University of Madrid in 1905 and subsequent travel to South America in 1914 to visit universities and study the political situation makes him familiar with conditions in Spain.

SMALL CONSOLATION FOR ARTILLERYMEN

Must Die Without Seeing Foe—Reminds Lieutenant Talbot Jennings of Nampa, Idaho.

YANKS DISREGARD ETIQUETTE

No Clean Clothes for Germans While Doughboys are on Guard.

"Sadly out of luck" is the only consolation offered to the artilleryman who gets killed in war," said Lieutenant Talbot Jennings, ex-'19, while speaking last Saturday to the Idaho R. O. T. C.

Lieut. Jennings of Nampa, Idaho, told before the battalion much of his work and war experience as an artillery officer in France.

The danger of an artilleryman being killed by the enemy is comparatively little as compared with that of an infantryman, he added. About the only way to get killed is to blow up your own gun.

Lieutenant Jennings said many Americans lost their lives through their own carelessness and the hasty training give them. Upon two occasions the speaker was attending a gun that exploded, killing other members of the crew but leaving him untouched.

An incident was told where a gunner in excitement, fitted the primer before closing the breach, which mistake left nothing of him but his shoes.

Men chosen for artillery service received training in an open field where they learned to move their guns over all kinds of obstacles, such as hills, ditches and mud holes; to get into firing position, and to operate them.

Beat French Record.
After a few weeks of such training the American boys, who had never before seen a big gun could place one in position in less than fifty minutes which was beating the French record by ten minutes.

Lieut. Jennings said, "I never saw French gunners fire before they had dug a trench to get into for safety; but the Americans never did take such precautions. The first American gunner, that fired one of the big French guns, to the amazement of Frenchmen, used a firing string about a foot in length and pulled open the breach block on the recoils. Such a performance meant suicide to a Frenchman."

He Meant War.

A story was told of how one American changed a quiet sector into one of the liveliest. This sector and the enemy's just opposite, were each busy for one hour a day shelling the other but as they opened fire by schedule the side receiving the bombardment know exactly when to enter the dugouts. No one was injured and during the quiet hours, men from both lines washed their clothes together in no man's land. One day an American was detailed as sentry and when the Germans flocked out to their daily washing business he opened fire with his rifle, and shot them up. This rude rupture of war etiquette was too much for the enemy and that sector was no longer a "pipe sector."

It was explained that no one handling the long-range guns ever saw the object he fired at. Before him is a map of his region showing positions of the two armies, and according to the scale of the map he sights his gun.

Beside the mathematical adjustments, according to the map, other factors are taken into consideration before it is possible to approximately locate the target with the first shot. The weather conditions, direction of winds, condition of powder and gun, all must be taken into account.

There is always an observer, either in a flying machine or in some advance lookout post who reports by telephone or radio, the position of the hits. From these observations new calculations are made and so the adjusting continues until a direct hit is made. A crew might deliver a direct hit in a dozen shots and they might shoot half a day without success.

Barrage Ticklish.

The most excitement in the life of an artilleryman is laying down a barrage or enduring one, said Lieut. Jennings. When treating the enemy with one, the batterymen have orders to fire at a certain time, at an objective for so many minutes, then follows a rest, and, again the firing would continue. Each body of infantry is accompanied by an artillery officer who has a telephone connection with his battery to prevent destruction by his own guns. Occasionally a detachment would miss their objective, in the dark or become so interested in chasing the Huns that they would go beyond their goal and in either case would receive the barrage from their own artillery, if it were not for the artillery officer who informs the battery not to fire. It often happens that the officer or his wires are destroyed and the raiders suffer a distinctive bombardment from their own side.

Doughboys Upset Hoyle.

Speaking of the Germans' inability to change quickly their tactics or fight independently, Lieut. Jennings said: "When the Germans understand that 60 rounds was supposed to wipe a position off the map, and just then the Americans in that position who by German rules are supposed to be annihilated, jumped from their works and charged with fixed bayonets, the German was at an utter loss what to do next."

If their rules did not work, they were helpless, while the doughboys were able to adjust themselves to the changing order of circumstances.

Spurred Hiding.

Lieut. Jennings described, in praising terms, the courage, valor, and good conduct of the American boys in France. He said they were keen for the France. He said they were keen for the conflict and absolutely fearless.

Fashions For Springtime That Are Appealing Because of Their Newness and Beauty

We have particular reference to the new suits and dresses.

There is a decided newness, not alone to the styles, but to the fabrics and the colors.

The suits may be had in box coats, semi-fitted belted effects, and a number have waistcoats or cuff borders.

Probably one of the most decided features is the ankle-length of the skirts, which are extremely narrow.

The materials that enter most into the making of the new dresses are georgette crepe, shantung, and a number of knitted materials.

These new garments are priced at $15 to $50
