TEAMS PRIMED FOR TITLE RACE

UNIVERSITY FLINGS DOORS WIDE OPEN TO VISITING ATHLETES

"GET-TOGETHER" FEST IN "Y" SATURDAY NIGHT, AND TOUR OF UNIVERSITY NEW TOURNEY FEATURES

Every available hour has been seized in providing a week-end filled with entertainment for the contestants in the Second Annual State High School Basketball Tournament. Coaches meetings, athletic association meetings, a tour of the university, an exhibition contest by the Northwest Champion Vandals, and boxing and wrestling matches, are among the features crowded into the two days, in addition to the eleven basketball games of the tourney.

The climax to the celebration will be the big "Get-together" meeting in the "Y" after the final game, at which all the visiting athletes and the Moscow high school men will be the guests. At this gathering the tournament trophies will be awarded, and the All-state team announced. There are three cups this year: one for the state champions, one for the runner-up, and one for the team showing the best sportsmanship. The receiver of this last prize will be chosen by a committee of Idaho faculty basketball followers.

Fobs for All-State. A silver half-basketball watch-fob will be presented to each of the five men selected for the All-state team. The six Idaho basketball "I" men, and the sporting editor of the Argonaut are entrusted with this pick.

After the trophies are awarded some of Al Kinney's stock of pugilists will take the floor for exhibition bouts. A wrestling match is also being arranged.

"Jazz." The "jazz" orchestra and the University quartet will be on hand to enliven the occasion. Warren Barber, chairman of the committee which has the "Get-together" meeting in hand, promises that some surprises will be in store, but that he guarantees "eats" and "big time" for every one.

A second innovation this year will be the tour of the university on Saturday morning. A regular clock-like sight-seeing trip will introduce the visitors into some of the sanctuaries and interest points of the university campus. All of the high school men will gather at 9:45 a. m. Saturday at the "Y" hut, from which the circuit will start under the supervision of Alvin Denman and Walter Sandelius. Two hours have been allotted for a hasty glance around the hill. The schedule is as follows:

- 9:45 Meet at "Y" Hut
- 10:00 Military Department. Captain Felker and Lieut Everley
- 10:15 School of Mines. Dean Thomson
- 10:30 College of Agriculture, School of Forestry, Dairying. Dean Iddings and Dean Miller
- 10:45 Administration Building. Dean Eldridge
- 11:00 College of Law. Dean Gill
- 11:10 Geology. Professor Livingston
- 11:20 Home Economics. Miss Leiby
- 11:25 Auditorium. President Lindley.

Vandals in Action. The Idaho Varsity will exhibit its wares Saturday afternoon after the high school men are thru, in an exhibition game with the freshman team. Three members of the freshman outfit were on the All-state high school pick of last year.

An information bureau is installed in the hallway of the gymnasium for the use of the visitors. Complete university and city directories are on hand. Telegrams, letters, messages of any sort will be handled for the visitors. The stand will also be the headquarters for "Paging" and lost and found articles. Bernard McDevitt, '20, will be in charge.

Draw This Morning. The coaches meet at 10:00 to draw for places. There will be one "bye" in the first round, and the best losing team of Friday will re-enter the race Saturday afternoon in the semi-finals.

The fraternities are entertaining the visiting teams.

President to Boise. President Lindley goes to Boise Saturday to meet with the board of regents.

LITERARY SIDE OF GEM DEVELOPING SLOWLY

Examinations Interfere With Progress of Copy—Must be at Printers By April 10th

ADVERTISERS SUPPORT BOOK Langroise and Hibbard Almost Double Amount of Advertising Matter.

According to the contract with Shaw and Borden of Spokane, half of the copy for the Gem of the Mountains must be in the office of the printer by April 10. Very little of the literary work has been done thus far. Editor-in-chief Jack Raymond has been working diligently with the staff but the week of examinations has taken practically all of the time of the students, so that his efforts to get any copy this week, he says, have been in vain.

The art editor, Miss Pearl Morgan, under the supervision of Miss Ziese, has designed a very artistic cover design and border. The art work in the book this year will be uniform throughout, following out the plan started by Mr. J. Edgar Miller. Mr. Miller who is at the present time attending the Chicago Art Institute, has kindly consented to complete several cuts for class headings. His drawings are very classical and unique. With the assistance of Miss Ziese and Mr. Miller, the art work promises to be a greater success than ever before.

Snapping Slow. Organization and Kodak Editors have been having difficulty in getting the various organizations to respond. The kodak work has been held up almost entirely because of the weather. Denecke promises to have some characteristic poses and original snap suggestions by the time the book has to go to press.

Alvin Denman has been appointed head of the department on traditions. The traditions of the school will be featured too by actual photos. Denman promises to make this department a live one.

Double Advertising. Advertising Managers Langroise and Hibbard spent the first part of last week in Spokane collecting ads there. They returned with over twice as many ads as have ever been collected in Spokane in the past. The Moscow men have supported the annual stronger than ever before. Bill Langroise said in an interview, "We are going to have more than $800 worth of ads this year. This almost doubles last year's subscriptions, and if we had had the time we could have gotten a thousand."

About 45 of the students have not had their pictures taken. The delay of these students have delayed the entire work of the photo manager. Manager Wilson has consented to work overtime during vacation to give these few persons one more week to have their pictures taken. After this week, ending March 22, there will be absolutely no more pictures taken for the annual.

R. O. T. C. Equipment Here Soon. Requisitions for full equipment to be issued members of the R. O. T. C. have been approved according to word received from Washington by Captain Felker, and are to be filled immediately.

Dean Iddings at Lewiston. Dean E. J. Iddings attended a meeting of the board of directors of the Northwest Livestock Association, held in Lewiston last Saturday afternoon.

MAUD POWELL HERE SATURDAY, APRIL 5

Famous Violinist Comes to University Under Auspices of A. S. U. I.

Maud Powell, world famous violinist, will give a concert at the University of Idaho auditorium Saturday, April 5th.

Miss Powell is the best known violinist in the United States and is probably the greatest woman violinist in the world.

In her concerts both abroad and at home she has won many laurels. She has toured all of the United States and has played for almost all of the colleges and universities in this country.

Miss Powell is being brought here under the auspices of the A. S. U. I. Professor Bangs has been negotiating with her manager for some time and the date of her concert has been set for the 5th. She will play in Spokane before coming here.

"THE PIGEON" IN APRIL English Club to Present Three-act Play by John Galsworthy

"The Pigeon," one of the best modern plays, written by Galsworthy, will be presented in the early part of next quarter by members of the English Club.

A try-out was held Saturday afternoon and although the candidates were new people, the coaches and dramatic committee report the discovery of some very good material. They are eager to secure the very best material on the campus and since this play is a three-act one, it is rather difficult to cast and other try-outs will be held before the players will be selected.

Parts in one of Dunsany's one-act plays were also read. This play will probably be given soon after "The Pigeon."

FRESHMEN MIL-SCIENTISTS SLIDE OVER EXAM EN MASSE

This year's freshman class has the distinction of being the only class of which no member failed in military science. Not only were there no failures, but the larger percentage of the students received "A's" and "B's."

SUMMER SESSION AROUSES INTEREST

Professional Courses for High School Teachers and Superintendents Will Be Offered.

The University of Idaho will conduct a summer session this year, in which students will have an opportunity to make up back work, or to secure a few extra credits. Professional work will be offered for high school teachers and superintendents, but there will be no professional work for teachers of elementary schools. It is hoped, however, that grade and rural teachers will avail themselves of the splendid opportunity for completing a college education, or pursuing some special subject while enjoying a delightful vacation.

A number of inquiries concerning the summer terms have already reached the office and it is believed that the attendance will be even larger than for previous years.

PROFESSOR KOSTALEK VISITS IN MOSCOW

Professor Kostalek, of the chemistry department, is visiting with his family on South Washington street.

Dr. Kostalek has been on leave of absence from the university since the first of November when he entered the Research Division of the Chemical Warfare Service in Washington, D. C. He has been with the Agricultural College of North Dakota since the Research Division was disbanded January 1.

"SARAH" APPRECIATES US

Spokane, March fifteenth. My dear Dr. Miller, Just a brief line to thank you for the papers just received. I greatly appreciate your sending them and also the generous expressions which they contained. Please accept again, too, my thanks for all your courtesies, and may I ask you, too, to convey them to all the young ladies of the sorority houses and to the members of the Club for their charming treatment of "Sarah." Faithfully, Sarah Truax Albert.

VANDALS TO TOUR SOUTHERN IDAHO

Accept Rexburg Independents' Challenge to State Title—Play at Boise and Pocatello.

REXBURG WANTS WORLD TITLE Team of Old Utah Stars Will Enter National Tourney if They Defeat Vandals.

University of Idaho sport circles were surprised the past week by an offer from the Rexburg (Idaho) Independents to play the Vandals for the state championship. Contests of this nature are rather unusual, but satisfactory financial arrangements having been completed, the team leaves Wednesday at 8 o'clock for Rexburg where the title event will be pulled off. This is the climax of the agitation during the past season to take the northwest champs south to display their wares.

The Rexburg Independents are composed of a number of old Utah stars, some of whom played on the team that copped the national championship at Chicago some few years ago. That they play a high class of basket ball is shown by the fact that they trimmed the college of Idaho, 88-19 a short time ago.

Want National Title. The Independents are desirous of going to the national play-off at Los Angeles April 17-18-19 and are anxious to go with a state title hanging to them. The team is backed by business circles in Rexburg and their offer of $500 for the Vandals to make the trip looked good to Coach Bleamaster and the deal was closed Wednesday.

Play at Boise and Pocatello. Tentative arrangements are also under way to give the fans of the capitol city a glimpse of real basket ball. A. J. Priest is handling the Boise end of an attempt to raise $250 to induce the Vandals to stop over for a game. The Idaho Institute at Pocatello has also been wired regarding a game under a $200 guarantee. Coach Bleamaster is anxious to play at least three games by way of advertisement and also to make the trip pay out, so it is hoped both Boise and Pocatello can make good.

The Vandals have been out of training for two weeks, but the long conference season had them in good shape so a strong come back is anticipated.

Plan to Send Vandals to Los. There is no dope on which to base a comparison of the two teams, but the Rexburg team looks strong on paper and the known calibre of the Vandals, points toward a real battle. A win for Idaho from this aggregation would be the last strong argument in favor of seeing the Vandals at Los Angeles. Plans are already under way to finance the trip, and there are a lot of Idaho supporters who will contribute towards sending their favorites to a new field.

If the Independents think they are good enough to go providing they beat Idaho, then there is no reason why the reverse should not be true. The following men besides Coach Bleamaster will make the trip south: Captain Campbell, Moe, Hunter, Carder, Lindley, Romig and Perrine.

Alpha Kappa Epsilon announces the pledging of James Ferrol of Boise.

"If Fight Will Win, We Will," says Gooding Coach.

With eleven teams on the ground all cocked and primed for the opening, whistle the stage is set for the Third Annual Basketball Tournament. Everything points to a successful meet. The teams began to arrive Wednesday night and several of them took work-outs in the gym on Thursday after the long ride from the south. There have never been a classier bunch of teams assembled here before and the team that carries away the trophy will have to go at top speed the whole way.

Dope Scarce.

There is a scarcity of dope on which to base a comparison of the teams from the two extremities of the state but each team has had a good season in its own district and only the get-together starting this afternoon can decide the respective merits.

Gooding Will Fight.

Coach R. E. Maricle of Gooding arrived with his team Wednesday night. This outfit is considered the best in the Boise and Twin Falls districts, with wins over Twin Falls, Weiser, and Caldwell.

When interviewed for a statement, Coach Maricle said, "I know nothing of the class of teams we'll meet but if fight wins this tournament, my team will be in the running every inch of the way."

Sugar City earned the right to compete in the tournament by upsetting the dope and registering a win over Pocatello. They arrived Wednesday night under the tutelage of Coach Archer Willey prepared to finish strong.

Two From Southeast.

Blackfoot played a heavier schedule in the south than any of the other teams, and although they lost a couple at the end of the season, were picked to compete here as the best loser. Supt. W. D. Vincent has been a strong factor in promoting the tournament in that district and there are many who are glad to see his team in the title struggle.

Wallace Looms Up Strong.

The arrival of Wallace is bound to throw a sackful of jazz into the events, the team having won the Inland Empire championship in Spokane two weeks ago. With this title to defend and the Idaho title to win, the fans can expect a real battle every time the Miners go into action.

Coeur d'Alene promises a comeback after falling out in the semi-finals of the Spokane tournament and is bringing a team that looks good on paper to enforce its argument.

Bonners Ferry is an unknown quantity, having played a schedule composed of games with western Montana teams almost entirely. They may loom up as the dark horse of the tournament.

Several Darkhorses.

St. Maries, Genesee, and Nez Perce are all possible dark horses. Two years ago St. Maries put up a game fight, getting into the semi-finals, and Nez Perce has always played a bang-up game. Last year they were runner-up and gave Moscow a bad scare in the finals. Most of their last year's team was lost by graduation, but the town has a reputation of turning out a new string of stars each year.

Lewiston Unknown.

Lewiston is here eleven strong and the old fans are still remembering the battle they gave the winners in the first tournament, and a repetition is not out of the question.

Old Champs in Running.

Moscow, twice winner, looks better than ever and the team that beats them out of the trophy will have to play a top-notch game. The local boys have a clean record to date and the precedent they have set in the last two tournaments will make them fight a few degrees harder.

Clyde Hunter, northwest conference referee, will work all the finals and semi-finals, but in the preliminaries will change off every other game with E. W. Hulbert of the university.

TO THE VISITORS

This is YOUR university. And this particular week, not only the campus and buildings, but the students, as well, are yours.

This is perhaps your first opportunity to see your own university, where the spirit and traditions of the state of Idaho are crystallized. If you want to see, ask to be shown. At the Information Bureau in the gymnasium you can obtain any facts you desire, and guides who will be glad to show you any part of the university.

The door is wide open.

THE CAMPUS ROOMER

The Semi-Century meeting of the Foot Rest and Bar Association happened last Tuesday, March 11th. Several fiery addresses were rendered by the "bona fide" members of the organization. A great deal of time was monopolized by the said "bona fide" members in discussing the various questions of the day including "The High Price of Spinach," and Gladstone's debate with Julius Caesar on the famous point of law, regarding "The Idiosyncrasies of Prohibition."

The Chief Mogul made a short but very fluent address on "The Abbreviated Stay of All Agriculture, B.A., and Pre-Legal aspirants and ended up with the polite yet forceful remark, "pull your freight."

The "Freight Pullers" were invited to attend and then were invited to abscond, taking their persons with them.

Moral:—Never wipe your feet on a "Welcome" door mat, or all that glitters isn't necessarily gold.

In the new Pullman catalog for the second semester, they are advertising a course in "The Art of Constructing Bell Clappers That Stay Put." (Note: They have lost four.)

The New Championship.

The championship of the Wax Chewers of the world was at stake. There were two contenders for the title. "Nutz," the present champion and the dark horse challenger, Will E. New Mann from the wilds of Washington.

The sides of the arena were packed with vociferous rooters and the howling was slightly in favor of "Nutz."

A cryer announced the entrance of the first contestant, the popular champion, and a great hubbub ensued at his approach. Majestically he wobbled across the floor, in one hand swinging a cane, and he stopped at a huge cake of wax weighing twenty pounds. Time was called and a silence fell over the arena, the champion was at it. One, two, three, four pounds were forced into his mouth, amid a smacking that was deafening. He then raised his right hand to show that the first round was over, and he retired to the scenes to recuperate. Then entered the "dark horse" and as time was called he fell to with great alacrity, and as the first round was over the referee announced it a draw, five pounds apiece. The betting was now raging high and more wax was brought in. The second round was a tie and also the third and fourth, but it was very evident the "dark horse" was weakening. The fifth and last round opened with a flourish and the dark horse heroically consumed six pounds, it was unbelievable and astonishing and hardly possible to the occupants of the galleries, their champion was surely lost, the "dark horse" took on another half pound for good measure (shouts of despair). The champion entered and looked refreshed. He glanced around to see if the girls were looking and began with a flourish. One, two, three, four, five, six, six and a half, and with a heart-rending shrug threw in another pound. He had done the unbelievable and broken the world's record, and retained the championship.

The next day the participants received a bill from the zoological laboratory.

Idaho's campus expresses a gloomy aspect—mentally and physically. Mental darkness is the result of those deadly wreckers of human happiness—exams. Twice every year the dread of such invasion hovers over us for weeks and then descends with a mighty thud plunging us into the depths of misery and settling on us that grave worry of deciding whether we possess brains or not.

This time the weather man is kind enough to provide an atmosphere in keeping with our mental condition. The steady downpour is typical of our downtrodden hopes and aspirations. Professors have taken up the French cry, "On ne passe pas"—they shall not pass—and we see no ray of hope from any source.

In the midst of desperation lets stop a moment and remember that gloom is always deepest just before dawn and exam week will pass along with all the rest of our troubles; the rain will cease. Spring will make its appearance, and along with it the third quarter and a chance to begin all over again.

The various oculists in the city announce a great demand for glasses. Sore eyes are very popular right after examination.

A balloon manufacturing company announces its intention of building a factory near Moscow. We suggest that it ought to be a success as the necessary filler is plentiful.

George, the janitor, says that he has everything up at his store room in the gym, from a bucket of hair pins to a Ford steering gear and that owners may have same by presenting him with a "Moss de Rope" straw filler. Identification is not necessary.

The stillness was broken again this week by those same ukelele vandals that used to rob the nights of their peace last year.

With spring coming and the campus drying off and the trees beginning to bloom, and the robins flitting from bush to bush, a fellow feels sort of like needin' a friend to get caught up in the gentle are of campestry.

Why Go to "Idaho"

The choice of a university or college to be attended should be based upon four principal requirements: 1st, a high purpose and broad field of work; 2d, a competent faculty; 3d, a sufficient equipment; 4th, a student body of high ideals. The University of Idaho fully satisfies these requirements.

- 1. Purpose and Field—
Its purpose is to serve the people of Idaho in developing and training students; in advancing the entire State educational system of which it is a part; in assisting toward the solution of economic and social problems; in furnishing expert knowledge in Agriculture, Engineering, Forestry, Mining, Home Economics, Law, and Educational matters not only to students in residence but also to all who desire it throughout the State.
- 2. Faculty—
The faculty is made up of eighty-three teachers of thorough training and efficiency attained by years of study and experience. They are deeply interested in the progress of each and all under their instruction. They know the State and its conditions and give their best efforts to its development. In addition there are more than seventy workers in the agricultural extension division and fifteen agricultural county agents.
- 3. Equipment—
Its equipment is ample. It has a library of over 40,000 volumes, excellent facilities for teaching literature, philosophy, and the social sciences, and well provided laboratories for the natural and applied sciences and for the technologies.
- 4. Students—
Its students are earnest, wide-awake, and democratic. A large number of them earn their own way. Its alumni now occupy high positions and will be the future leaders of Idaho in professions, the industrial vocations, and in the building and maintenance of homes.

The six colleges, the central agricultural experiment station and the sub-station of the U. S. Bureau of Mines are located at Moscow; the main agricultural extension office is Boise, and the agricultural sub-stations and demonstration farms at Caldwell, Sandpoint, Moscow, Aberdeen and Felt.

MOSCOW CHAMBER HONORS VANDALS

Northwest Champions Guests at Luncheon—Merchants Will Boost Tournament.

The Moscow Chamber of Commerce entertained at their Tuesday luncheon Coach W. C. Bleamaster and his victorious Vandals.

Reverend Charles MacCaughey spoke in welcoming and praising terms to the team, and expressed the sentiment of the club as considering it an honor to have the privilege of entertaining the champion basketball team of the northwest and coast. Rev. MacCaughey said that he considered athletics as deserving of a very definite and important place in the social and religious structure of society. Speaking further, he said: "Modern religion needs the virile manhood and red blood of the college athlete."

Coach Bleamaster was asked to introduce the players individually. While speaking, Coach Bleamaster described the purpose of the coming state basketball tourney. "The last two yearly tournaments have shown that such undertakings are profitable to the teams and to the university," he said. "From each town sending a team to Moscow there have come more students to the university than ever before. Every cup that is carried away is a standing advertisement for the University of Idaho."

Another speaker whose words were of interest and importance to the University was Representative Hugo. He gave a short history and explanation of the bills passed by the recent Idaho legislature that bear upon the state's educational interests. The bill introduced, to refund all Idaho students their railroad fares in excess of $5.00 passed the house but was killed in the senate.

President E. H. Lindley was the last speaker and he extended to Mr. Hugo the appreciation of the university and Moscow for his persistent and successful efforts in securing liberal appropriations for all the departments of the institution.

FACULTY WOMEN HOLD POSTPONED MEETING

The Faculty Women's Club had a very interesting meeting Tuesday afternoon at Ridenbaugh Hall. Mr. R. D. Jameson gave a splendid discussion of contemporary poetry, and Mrs. Collier sang two delightful numbers.

The meeting was quite impromptu, being held in place of the regular meeting of the club scheduled for March 1, and postponed because of the flu situation. About thirty members were present to enjoy the program and the delicious St. Patrick refreshments which followed.

SCHOOLS SEEK ADVICE OF IDAHO EDUCATOR

Lapwai and Orofino Heads Consult With Professor Soulen—Praise Idaho Graduates.

Representative officials of the high schools of Lapwai and Orofino consulted the Department of Education regarding administrative problems characteristic of their schools.

Mr. Segris and Mr. Hofee of Lapwai visited Professor Ph. Soulen's office last Thursday and discussed with him several proposed plans for some reorganization and changes in the administration of their school system. Lapwai is considering a high school consolidated district. Professor Soulen represents the state board of education in such school affairs and, because of his experience and intensive study of Idaho's high school system and its problems, is constantly being interviewed for his suggestions and recommendations.

The visiting board members spoke very highly of the work done in their high school by two of Idaho's graduates, Miss Grace Darling, '17, and Miss Mary Nodle, '17.

Professor Soulen said: "These trustees are anxious to retain these university graduates and are looking over the prospective material in college now with the intention of filling next year's vacancies with other Idaho graduates." Superintendent R. R. Richmond of Orofino has visited the university, asking for aid in planning for considerable reorganization work and new buildings.

Superintendent Richmond told Professor Soulen that Miss Eunice Keller, '18, was doing very successful work and he would look to this college for his teachers.

FEW PAY A. S. U. I. FEES

Uncertainty About Grades and Lack of Coin Hold Down Registration.

At the close of registration Tuesday three hundred thirty-three students had registered with the A. S. U. I. treasurer for the third quarter.

It is thought that many students either did not know that Tuesday was the last day to register or neglected to do so on account of examinations.

According to the treasurer, too, there are many students who seem a bit uneasy concerning their final grades. Many of these are waiting till they knew their quarter's standing before re-registering.

It is thought, however, that the first week of the new quarter will see the enrollment of the University regain its former total, despite the present uneasiness regarding grades.

NEW MINING BUREAU TO USHER IN NEW ERA

Lesser Mineral Deposits of Idaho Will Be Exploited—First Board Meeting in April.

The signing of the bill creating a bureau of mines and geology for the state marks an important era in the development of the mineral resources of Idaho, according to F. A. Thomson, dean of the School of Mines. The lesser known mineral deposits of the state are to be exploited rather than silver and lead which are already rather well developed. The lesser known minerals include tungsten and mercury among the metals, and clay, building stone, phosphate rock and the like, among the non-metals.

The controlling board is composed of the following members:

Governor D. W. Davis who acts as ex-officio chairman; F. A. Thomson, dean of the School of Mines, ex-officio secretary; Robert N. Bell, state mine inspector; D. C. Livingston, head of the department of geology at the university; Jerome J. Day, president of the Idaho mining association.

The first meeting of the board will be held in Boise April 6, when a definite announcement of the plans and program for the next two years will be outlined. Further announcement will be made at that time.

WILL EXPLORE PINE FORESTS

Forestry Students Leave for Ten-day Tour of Potlatch Lumber Districts.

The forestry students, accompanied by Professor Cook left yesterday on a trip into the white pine forests near Potlatch. They expect to be gone about ten days.

Professor Cook has planned to spend most of the time in the woods, observing the large logging operations and taking trips thru the white pine forests. He expects to spend a couple of days, also, in the mills at Potlatch and Bovill.

This is an annual trip, made by the foresters, but will be the first trip into the white pine forests near Potlatch. An interesting and instructive trip is expected by these men.
