THE FORUM

To the University Argonaut:

The university should possess a students' forum. A forum is a place where the students meet and talk upon economical, social and political questions, or I might say, a place where they can talk concerning domestic, state and national questions. This forum should consist of all the student body. Those who would not speak on the various subjects could at least listen and learn. I will also say that it should not include the teachers for I believe in the individual initiative of the student; the teachers have a time to speak, at eleven o'clock. Such a forum would be of great benefit to the students as an educator. The university would have as much to do with the future development of the state as the state capitol. The students, during vacation, after leaving the forum would educate the state in the ways of the world. The state would be forced to better understand the desires of foreign nations which would prohibit war. The state would also understand her own thoughts, ambitions and aspirations. I believe a forum, so constructed, is the most beneficial thing, at the present for the progress of the university and the state.

Yours sincerely, of Education, the Vandals romped away with the Boise Up-to-Dates, 68-38. This was the first defeat for the Capital City team. They have been winning by such scores as 88-17 against the College of Idaho. Several of the Boise players showed promise, however, particularly Paul Reynolds, a fast forward, who will enter the University next year. Max Smith, a University of Washington guard, proved a reliable scorer from the foul line and mid-field.

Old Stars at Rexburg.

At Rexburg the Vandals stepped into basketball of real class. With Packer of the U. of Utah National championship team, Halverson, of B. Y. U., and Crookston of U. A. C., as a nucleus, the Rexburg Athletic Club had a big, fast five, which played clean, driving, passing basketball of the first order. The Idahoans were headed early in the first contest, and never caught up, altho the playing was hard-fought to the final whistle.

Second a Battle.

Led by a 19-10 score at the end of the first half, the Idahoans entered the second period of the second contest with red-eyes. By furious passing they tied the score within a few minutes, and from then on it was nip and tuck. With fifteen seconds to go, Bitters of R. A. C. threw the winning basket. Score 32-31.

Coach Bleamaster, Hunter, Moe, Carder, Romig, Perrine and Lindley made the trip. "Pat" Perrine, playing center position in place of Campbell, won laurels for himself in all three games, and scored more points than any other man on the team.

India," by Rimsky-Karsakoff, a delicate dream phantasy, and with Bazzini's brilliant and yet gently shaded "Dance of the Imps." The music was impish, decidedly so, but the imps were well trained.

"Mme. Powell has her splendid technique always at her command; her graceful but unmoving poise, a revelation to students of the violin; but there was a marked change which the violinist herself is quite well aware of, but for which she thanks her work among the soldier camps of her country, which she says has revealed to her the many hidden and fine things of American character.

THE CAMPUS ROOMER

The senior class plans for their annual sneak were about as carefully concealed as the rattle in a last year's Ford.

The small but representative parade that journeyed to the city for the "chow" was quickly noticed by the eagle eyes of the other classes and their respective Hawkshaws were not as slow as the "funds for the Ad building clock" in getting on the job. Apparently the wily seniors gained the first "jaw blow," as they managed as if guided by some evil power, in secreting the "grub" without the knowledge of the delegation of Hawkshaws.

The night of March 31 was shocked and horrified at the terrific uproar, as it was the first real "blood" celebration since the town went dry in '32. The days of '49 were never wilder as shooting and "fisticuff exhibits," that night were as common as defeats to the German army.

Well the "eats" were found, but were not acquired due to the inventor of the lock and key and the marauders were forced to retire to their places of habitation undaunted but also unsuccessful. The final score stood seniors 1, others 0.

The senior sneak, the junior walk-out and the under classmen A. W. O. L. were in the minds of the students a great success. Considerations of the honorable faculty will be published in a later issue.

The terpsichorean struggle given at the University Dreamland Tuesday afternoon was enjoyed by all. There were thousands of ice cream cones on tap, and the summer dresses of the girls and "setting sun" shirts displayed by the opposite sex lent a lustre to the afternoon that resembled the fireworks of the Pan-American Exposition.

Now, since the greatest of college holidays has been held the next thing to look forward to is Campus day and the final result of yesterday's celebration.

The vandals have returned from their southern trip, and outside of the loss of a couple of hard fought games the trip was a success. "Wild Bill" Carder, the team's heart-smasher, carried on his regular program, and held now quoting the famous words of Jupiter Pluvius in his great work on "The Other Sex," "Not Only Sailors leave a girl in every port."

Several of the players went home thru Montana. They have since written their regrets that the trip was not made before the first of the year.

Vacation was enjoyed by those remaining in Moscow. The national sports of fusing and pinocle predominated, while, tennis and late hours ran a close second.

A suit has just been started against Happy Hatfield and the senior class for wrecking the organ at Haddon's grove. It wasn't a heavy weight organ and couldn't stand the terrific abuse; it was returned with only 13 keys left and they were sharps. (Happy doesn't use them).

PROFESSORS IN SPOKANE.

Many of Idaho Faculty Attend Inland Empire Teachers' Association Meeting.

Many instructors of the University have gone to Spokane to attend the Inland Empire Teachers' Association, which opened there last Wednesday. This is an association composed of all teachers of secondary and higher schools from Washington, Oregon, Montana and Idaho. The session will last three days. Among those attending are President E. H. Lindley, Professor Angel, Professor H. L. Axtel, Dr. G. M. Miller, and Dean J. G. Eldridge.

President Lindley delivered one of the opening addresses on the interesting subject, "From Plato to Henry Ford."

Mrs. C. C. Brown, Delta Gamma house mother, left Tuesday for Canada where she will join her son, who lives there. Mrs. Meacham of Spokane, has taken her place.

Attends Inland Meeting.

DEAN HULME NAMED AS LEADING SCHOLAR

Appears on List of One Hundred Chief American Scholars in Recent Publication.

Dean Edward M. Hulme of the University of Idaho is named on a list of one hundred leading American scholars, in a book recently issued under the title of "Science and Learning in France."

Some time ago a movement was started by a number of leading instructors in eastern universities for the purpose of bringing French and American universities into closer relations with each other. It was thought that this purpose would be furthered by the publication of a book containing descriptions of all the universities in France, giving information regarding the facilities for graduate study in them, and publishing pictures of some of the leading French scientists and men of letters and giving biographical information regarding them.

A definite organization was formed for the purpose of bringing the colleges of the two countries into closer contact, named "The Society for American Fellowships in French Universities." And the book relating to the universities in France has been published. In order to add to the prestige of the book it was decided to select one hundred of the leading scholars of America as sponsors for the movement and for the book. The names of the scholars are printed in the book. Among them is the name of Professor Edward M. Hulme.

The book is entitled "Science and Learning in France." It is beautifully printed, and it is so arranged that one can find with ease the information relating to instruction in France in any subject in which one happens to be interested. A copy is in the University Library. There is an introduction that deals with "The Mind of France;" and another that has to do with "The Intellectual Inspiration

NO COMMERCIAL FEES IS BOARD RULING

All Charges to Be Eliminated But Small Assessment for Typewriter Repair.

It has been determined by the state board that work in typewriting and shorthand will be given without any fee next year, except a nominal charge for typewriter repairs.

Three credits will be given for shorthand and two for typewriting. The course will be broadened and enlarged.

Next year two full years of shorthand will be offered. This will include secretarial work.

The number of machines and equipment will be doubled. The department will have special rooms and new cabinets and files will be installed.

The demand for a secretarial course is very great. The advanced work in shorthand will be continued with office management and court reporting and various other phases of secretarial work. The department has an enrollment of about 60 students this quarter.

Zeta Chi Alpha announces the pledging of William G. Beetler and Ray Eubanks of Gooding, Idaho.

BAT-SWINGERS LONG TO PRANCE ON GREEN

Old Man Dope Reticent, But Five Letter Men Give Hope.

(By "Mac")

With the fate of spring baseball as yet a matter of mere conjecture, Old Man Dope is rather backward in expressing himself. However, a few of the more rabid umpire-baiters have ventured into the field of prediction that you can't tell how many errors the short-stop is going to make by watching him oil his glove and are clamoring for some lung-splitting exercise.

Finances are the prime stumbling block this year and plans are already under way to alleviate in some degree this factor. Baseball has never been a well-supported branch at Idaho as track has held the lime-light in past seasons, but with most of the meets away from home this year, something needs to be done to keep alive the fire of "Idaho spirit" that developed during the basket ball period. Many of the real fans think that under these circumstances, the sport will draw better than ever before.

Five Letter Men.

The return of Frank Thomas to school the past quarter assures Rettig, captain-elect and pitcher, a battery mate of some calibre. If Almqvist, last year's captain and versatile first-sacker, registers next quarter, Coach Bleamaster will have three letter men out of last year's infield as a starter. Moe, who held down third is good for any infield position, and was the leading sticker in the 1918 gang. Hunter made his letter cavorting around the keystone position.

It's Your Move.

There is absolutely no dope on the remaining positions, but there are a lot of men in school who have played baseball, who have signified their desire of turning out should there be a spring call. It's simply up to the student body to show signs of enough enthusiasm to warrant their support, for no team ever won that had to do all the playing and rooting itself.

MEET TO CLASSIFY GRAINS

New Commissioner of Agriculture Calls Meeting at University to Standardize Classification.

A meeting for the discussion of the classification of grains will be held in Moscow on April 3rd, in Morrill Hall. The conference has been called by the new Commissioner of Agriculture, Mr. Miles Cannon, who is in charge of the comprehensive marketing plans to be carried out under new state laws.

A part of the plans contemplate the classification of grades of grains. There will be three laboratories in the state, one of them located in connection with the Farm Crops Department of the University.

Some of this work is of a pioneer nature, and in order that the views of all interested parties may be considered, the meeting will discuss the grades to be established for wheat, oats, beans, peas, etc., and to formulate rules for carrying on the marketing and other work under the direction of the Commissioner of Agriculture.
