RACKETERS MAY MEET W. S. C. NEXT WEEK

Ken Hunter and Bill Denecke Will Probably Represent Idaho in Tennis Match.

Ken Hunter and Bill Denecke will probably represent Idaho in a dual tennis meet with W. S. C. in the near future.

In the men's tennis doubles this week the team composed of Hunter and Denecke defeated Ott and Rowell Wednesday night. Thursday night they met and defeated McCrea and Weber. This victory makes them eligible to enter the dual meet with W. S. C. tomorrow; in case it is held.

The freshman teams entered in the Idaho tournament have not played yet as they would be ineligible to compete against Pullman.

The Idaho singles competitors have not been chosen but will be named by Coach Bleamaster tonight.

I. W. W. Situation National Reaction Says J. Stitt Wilson

"Farmers of Idaho should organize their efforts in order to safeguard their interests against unscrupulous agencies," said Mr. J. Stitt Wilson when asked what Idaho could do in preparing for the reconstruction that is coming. "Interests of the rural classes should not be dominated by banking, political, mining, or railroad interests."

Speaking further Mr. Wilson said, "People of the United States claim to be scientific but they seldom look facts in the face. Before we can be scientific we must learn to examine social questions with open eyes."

Rests in Ignorance.

"The I. W. W. and the Non-Partisan League are both persecuted and railed by people who have never studied the economic platform of either party."

"I do not stand for any 'ism,'" said Mr. Wilson. "I believe in looking at things in the clear white light of objectivity."

"The I. W. W. situation is a natural reaction to the monopolies whose policies are concerned to such an extent with their own interests that the social welfare of their employees is not considered."

FORESTERS HEAR LECTURE ON PINE TREE BLIGHT

Mr. Geo. A. Root, field assistant in White Pine Blister Rust control, U. S. Department of Agriculture, is visiting the university this week. He addressed the Forest Club Tuesday morning on "The Present Status of the White Pine Blister Rust in Idaho."

"The office of Forest Pathology, Bureau of Plant Industry of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, located at Spokane, Washington, is taking precautionary measures to prevent the introduction of a very serious forest disease known as the white pine blister rust," said Mr. Root. This disease attacks all five-needled pines, among which is Idaho's most important timber tree, the western white pine. This particular tree extends as merchantable timber throughout northern Idaho, northwestern Montana and northeastern Washington and its combined value is estimated at $240,000,000.

"As stated above, this tree is susceptible to the disease and if it became seated in this western white pine belt the growing of this important tree would be greatly retarded if not altogether stopped."

John McGowan and C. O. Hyde have been spending the week in and around Moscow.

WILSON EXHORTS STUDENTS

"Put Your Attention to Future's Problems," says Berkeley Man.

"There has been no generation except the present in the history of the world which has done so little for what it has received," was the keynote of J. Stitt Wilson's address in the auditorium Monday.

He exhorted the students and faculty to take some constructive part in the next great movement for world advancement.

"The future of the world," said Mr. Wilson, "is going to be in great peril between ignorant change on the one hand and ignorant resistance to change on the other."

"You are living," the speaker continued, "in a period in which the greatest change in the history of the world is destined to be enacted."

"To the students in particular, you are the men and women of the future. There are men in this room who will be nationally known."

"I exhort you," concluded Mr. Wilson, "to put your attention constructively and intelligently on the great problems of the future."

BENEFIT ORIENTAL TEA

The Y. W. C. A. gave a tea at the "Y" hut last Wednesday evening to arouse interest in the "Y. W." work in Japan and China. Slides showing conditions in Japan and China were flashed on the screen.

Mrs. S. J. Chaney presided at the teapot and tea was served by girls in oriental costumes. Bernadine Adair sang a song which was acted out by Daisy Crump and Helen Frantz. Violet Meeham sang a selection from Madame Butterfly.

Watch for House Papas Dean of Men, And Multiplicity

"Multiplicity and Change" will be greatly in evidence upon the University stage tonight when the annual stunt fest is pulled off, with the Dean of Men and many prospective House Papas also figuring in the stellar roles.

House Papas.

The Juniors have at last disclosed the deep secret which has lain for many days enshrouded in deep blackness. The Office of the Dean of Men and the familiar figures who flit in and out of the English Office will be shown in their true colors. Many prospective "House Papas" also figure strongly in this act.

Sophs Vote for Multiplicity.

The Sophomore Class will endeavor to portray effectively Prof. Hulme's "Intellectual Class" with appropriate setting.

The Freshman program is extremely varied but it may be combined under the head, "The Campus Before the W. S. C. Football Game." It is rumored that here also many familiar figures will be seen.

More Dean.

The stunt of the Senior Class which for a long time was kept entirely in the dark, has at last come to light. Dr. G. M. Miller, the newly created Dean of Men, is to be featured and there will be two elaborate love scenes to add flavor to the program.

DON TO TOUR CANADA AND U. S.

The Hereford herd bull at the university farm, University Don, has just been sold by the Animal Husbandry department to A. B. Cook of Townsend, Montana. This bull was bred and raised by the Animal Husbandry department of the university and is now 3 years old. He was sired by Western Fairfax, a son of Fairfax 16th, the Grand Champion Hereford bull of American in 1912, owned by A. B. Cook. His dam, Donna Perfect, is an extra fine well-bred cow, and is still in the university herd.

University Don is considered to be one of the best Hereford bulls in the northwest. Mr. Cook, one of the most extensive and prominent Hereford breeders of the United States, plans to place the bull in his show herd to show at the leading fairs of Canada and the United States this summer and fall.

John Bechdal, herdsman for Cook's Hereford farms, came here to take the bull to Montana this week. Mr. Bechdal visited the university farm and was well pleased with the livestock and equipment.

Talks on Bolsheviki.

The Bolsheviki and their Methods was the subject of the address of Dr. F. A. Golder of W. S. C. Wednesday afternoon at the "Y" hut.

He drew a sharp line between the Russian and American democracies. "Bolshevism," he said, "was the rule of a class while the ideal of the American democracy is rule by the people."

Costume Committee.

Gladys Clark, Ellen Waring, and Josephine Brown have been appointed as the committee on costumes for the English club plays to be given, Monday, May 19th. The committee is busy, buying, designing and sewing and will have the costumes ready by the end of this week.

Boise Club Meeting.

The Boise Club met Wednesday night at the Delta Gamma house. The club decided upon a picnic date, Sunday, May 25. The entire club voted on no dates. After the business meeting dancing was enjoyed and light refreshments were served.

ENGINEERS VISIT SPOKANE

Seniors and Juniors Investigate Practical Problems.

The Senior and Junior Engineers, accompanied by several members of the engineering faculty, left for Spokane today to visit the Long Lake Power plant. They will go by way of Potlatch, where they will visit the Potlatch lumber mill.

They will also visit the Spokane Pumping plant and the cement mill. The power plant is one of the latest development of the Washington Water Power Company. The trip is being made under the direction of Prof. Johnson and Prof. Miller. The following men were included on the trip: Arthur Almquist, Edgar Nettleton, Victor Pierson, Leonard Helland, LeRoy Thompson, E. D. Peterson, Henry King, Leonard Yost, Gustav Carlsson.

READY FOR LAW PRACTICE

Taylor, Denman, and Ott Admitted to U. S. District Court.

Alvin Denman, Richard Ott, and Clarence Taylor, three senior law students, were admitted to the bar by motion Wednesday, according to Dean J. J. Gill, head of the law department.

This admits them to the United States District Court. Denman, Ott, and Taylor are the three seniors who recently passed the bar examination at Lewiston.

HULME TO TEACH AT CHICAGO

University's Offer Pleases Head of History Department.

Dean Hulme is to teach throughout the summer quarter in the University of Chicago. He will give two courses—one in the Renaissance and the other in the Reformation. His courses are intended only for upper-classmen and post-graduates.

Chicago is one of the seventy colleges and universities that use his book as the required text in the course with which it deals. In addition to his regular courses he will give several lectures at the general assembly.

The offer from Chicago University is especially pleasing, according to Dean Hulme, who states that he is looking forward to his work there with much pleasure.

Will Speak Sunday.

Miss Ethel Hazlett, who will visit the Y. W. C. A. Saturday and Sunday, will speak to the college students Sunday night at 7 o'clock in the "Y" hut. Miss Hazlett's subject is "The World Fellowship Movement."

Ag. Meeting Postponed.

The meeting of the Agricultural Club which was called for last night has been postponed until some time next week, in order that all agricultural students may attend. An especially good program is arranged. The feature of the evening will be a film showing the Carnation herd of Holsteins. Explanatory lectures will be given by Prof. Davis of the dairy department and Prof. Hickman of the animal husbandry department.

Speaks to High Schools.

Dean Iddings left yesterday for Reubens, where he is to deliver the Reubens high school commencement address tonight. From there he goes to Gifford, where he delivers the address at the high school commencement tomorrow night.

In a high wind and hail storm three events of the annual University of Idaho interscholastic track meet were run off this afternoon. Coaches of the five teams entered and Coaches W. C. Bleamaster and Tommy Matthews, decided to call the meet off until tomorrow at 10 a. m. Genesee leads with 10 points. The three events were the 50-yard dash, the 880-yard run, and the 100-yard dash.

Genesee Leads.

The score for the three events was Genesee, ten; Lewiston, six; Coeur d'Alene, five and one-half; Orofino, four; Boise, one and one-half.

Ties Record.

Boliou of Genesee, a fast starter and brilliant high-school sprinter, took the 50-yard dash in 5:3 seconds, equalling the interscholastic record set by Almon Carley of Boise, in 1912. Boliou's record may not stand as he had a wind at his back. He was closely pressed by Wrighter, of Lewiston, who took second place. In the second heat Holman of Boise, led the field. Harmon of Coeur d'Alene, and Holman were tied for third place.

According to the system worked out certain time had to be made by the men in the second heat in order to place.

Fast Half-Mile.

Conner of Coeur d'Alene, took the 880-yard run in good shape. He passed Casebolt of Genesee, who had been leading, in the last 220 yards. Casebolt took a third. Estes of Lewiston, took second place. The time was 2 minutes, 12 2-5 seconds.

Split Points in Century.

In the 100-yard dash Johnson of Orofino and Boliou of Genesee, ran a dead heat for first place. Cobley of Boise took third.

The shot put and the pole vault events were started but the wind blew over the standards and the weather got too cold for shot putting.

Resume Play at 10:00.

The meet will be continued tomorrow morning if the weather is good. If tomorrow morning the weather continues to be poor the meet will start at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Summary.

50-Yard Dash—Boliou, Genesee, 1st; Wrighter, Lewiston, 2d; Harman, Coeur d'Alene and Holman, Boise, tied for 3d place. Time, 5 3-5 seconds.

880-Yard Run — Conner, Coeur d'Alene, 1st; Estes, Lewiston, 2d; Casebolt, Genesee, 3d. Time, 2 minutes, 12 2-5 seconds.

100-Yard Dash—Johnson, Orofino, and Boliou, Genesee, tied for 1st place; Cobley, Boise, 3d. Time 10 3-5 seconds.

Genesee Stars.

Lewiston Men.

Orofino Entrants.

Johnson, Fisk, Fuller, and Waldrath are representing Orofino High School.

Three Boise Men.

A. Cobley, E. Cobley, Holman are the three Boise High School men in the meet.

Coeur d'Alene Enters Nine.

Nine men were entered by Coeur d'Alene: Harmon, McQuaig, Marker, Warren, Tardie, Drus, Whitney, Conner, and Penney.

They're With Us.

The merchants of Moscow demonstrated once more their loyalty to the University when they offered to close their stores from 2 to 4 today on account of the Interscholastic track meet. This move was voluntary; a few of the leading store decided to close whether the rest did or not. But they were soon followed by a number of others. Those who started the fashion are: Davids, Creightons, Oberg, Williamson, The Fashion Shop, The Parisian, The Togs, J. C. Penny, and the Hub.

To the Victors.

Just a word to remind you that this is your university. The entertainment tonight is for you, there is a dance tomorrow night. We would like to show you more of Idaho college life, but you aren't giving us enough time. Only when you become a part of the University will you appreciate it.

RIFLE PRACTICE BY MAY 24

Reconstruction of Range Progressing - To Have Complete Equipment

The reconstruction of the university rifle range is progressing rapidly. With the help received from the students on Campus Day, it will be ready for use by May 24.

The old stone revetment is being replaced by a new one of concrete, about nine feet high and from four to six feet thick. New target frames are being constructed and three targets will be installed.

The targets are 4 feet wide by six feet high and have an 8-inch bulls-eye. There will be two targets attached to each frame in such a way that when one target is up, the other may be marked and repainted.

The special course "A" will be fired by all members of the battalion. Ranges of from one to six hundred yards will be used.

RESURFACE ROAD IN FRONT OF HALL

The new road into the campus in front of Ridenbaugh Hall is being graded and resurfaced with fine gravel. The work was begun on Campus Day and, since the rain, the dirt can be easily worked up and moved into the holes. The gravel will put the road in fine condition after it is graded.

Pitman Atwood, '18, was at the Kappa Sigma house Friday and Saturday.

T. D. Wyman spent Saturday and Sunday in Pullman.

THE CAMPUS ROOMER

There has been an awful slump in the daily meeting of the Corridor Dogs this week. This rainy weather doesn't seem to make much difference. Some of the most consistent "gossips" and "fussers" that so bravely started the organization had better get busy or the other 157 varieties of clubs are going to get ahead.

Probably one reason that the attendance is slumping is the fact that the recent dust storm left the windows in such a condition that they no longer serve their purpose.

The annual stunt and song fest will be pulled off in great style tonight. There is something in the air that seems to say the proposed "Dean of Men" phenomenon is going to receive an awful boost. The boosting will probably stop when the "antique corner" of the attic is reached.

The A. S. U. I. nominations were surely exciting and every man was whooping and shouting for his own country. It is a good thing that they all can't be elected or we would sure have the lady's bicycle slipped to us. Several boisterous aspirants for the "Dean of Men" position were interviewed and they denied their wish for any such disease with much gesticulating and wailing and gnashing of teeth.

The Interscholastic was a great success this year. For once old man Jupiter didn't go to sleep with his foot on the sprinkling can.

VURSE

BEAR WITH US

Well, we used to think a while ago That this idea of being a poet was good; Just to sit all day and scrawl away, The result would be cash and fame in a flood. But much has happened, And we are chastened, feeling very sour; Our ideas have been sadly disarranged Idly, chewing good pens, we sit by the hour; And so we sit in silence deep, and smoke Good costly (borrowed) cigarettes, Gently tickling the Muse and now and then a poke, To which, unheeding, she lies sleeping.

Say, if you laugh at this And think its lots of fun, Just try it and see what you can do, Just try it yourself and see what can be done. You won't have any grand and glorious success Because, like me, you will really find That, after all, the things don't rime a bit; The best remains behind still hazy in your mind.

That which you started out to say After all, you will leave it all unsaid, That which you really have put down Came from somewhere else in your head. You try like thunder to make things rime And think of something, with a sense of time, And we tell you its hard to do. -duo-duo

MANY INTERESTING RESULTS APPEAR IN SCHOLARSHIP REPORT FOR LAST YEAR-COE-EDS LEAVE MEN BEHIND-JUNIORS LEAD CLASSES

According to the scholarship report for last year, which was completed Tuesday, Frances Orley Bailey, Irene Neoma Gould and Jeanette Orr head the honor list with highest honors for their four year courses.

By classes the junior class led with 16 "A" honor students and 12 "B" honor students. The fourth year class was a close second with 14 "A" honor members and 12 with "B" honors. The sophomores had 12 "A" honor students and 12 "B" honors, while the first year class came last with 13 "A" honor members and 10 with "B" honors.

How About it, Professor Reed? Based on totals for all classes the report shows that the women students lead the men by a considerable margin. The co-eds had 25 on the "A" honor list while the men had 24 and they had 32 in the "B" honor column while the men had 15.

Arranged by colleges, the B.A. course easily led all others with a total of 53 honor students. The colleges of agriculture and engineering tied for second place with 12 honor students each. The law school made a weak finish with a single "A" honor student.

Following is the complete honor list for the college year 1917-18 which has just been completed:

Zeta Chi Dance.
Zeta Chi Alpha gave their annual informal dance in the gymnasium Saturday evening. The gym was effectively decorated with red and blue toy balloons suspended by ribbons. The red and blue lighting effect added greatly to the decorations.

Those invited were the Misses Morgan, Reick, Denning, Schott, Buckhorn, J. NEVER SAW BETTER TALENT

"I have never found better musical talent that that which is here at Idaho," said Miss Helen Wegmann, head of the piano department, when interviewed by an Argonaut representative. Many of the girls intend to major in piano, and to take the summer course offered. After completing the Idaho course some plan to continue their studies at the Boston Conservatory of Music.

The University of Idaho girls are decidedly diligent, according to Miss Wegmann, and sometimes practice three or four hours every day.

"Many boys are beginners in piano," she added. "While not so diligent as the girls they will soon be able to play well enough for their own enjoyment, at least. Every one should know something about music, it will help them so much in the appreciation of music."

Miss Wegmann is proud of the showing made by the university students in the music course. "Nothing is more enjoyable," she concluded, "than the ability to really appreciate music unless it is the ability to make real music for the mutual pleasure of your friends and yourself."

SOULEN VISITS HIGH SCHOOLS
Head of Education Department Studies Conditions for State Board.

Professor Ph. Soulen returned Sunday from a trip to Lewiston and the Boise country where he went to study conditions and organizations at the various high schools. The information secured is being held for the State Board of Education.

At Lewiston Prof. Soulen addressed the students of the Junior high school and discussed the organization of Junior high schools with Supt. F. W. Simmons, who has been engaged to conduct three courses in education at the summer session of the university.

Other high schools visited were those at Wilder, Caldwell and Emmett. At Emmett the state board is trying out the experiment of introducing vocational high school courses for teachers. Seniors who intend to be teachers may take these courses.

War Prices Will Remain High For Long Time Says Prof. Lewis

TAX ON LUXURIES, HIGH RAILROAD RATES AND GOVERNMENT POLICY OF PRICE FIXING ARE NOW FACTORS WHICH WILL KEEP PRICES UP

Never again will prices or wages reach the before the war level. This is the opinion of Professor H. T. Lewis, head of the economics department. Professor Lewis said:

"Altho prices will fall from the present level in almost every case, this fall will not be rapid enough to be noticed by the consumer. The share labor will get from the national income will be proportionately larger than ever before."

Many Reasons for Decline.
In his analysis of the high cost of living problem, Professor Lewis has emphasized the following facts:

"The general public is mistaken in its feeling that prices will fall immediately after the signing of peace, altho there are many factors in the situation that would lead to this conclusion. We have every prospect for producing the largest wheat and corn crop the United States has ever had. The meat packing houses have enormous holdings of meat and meat products in cold storage.

"Large stocks of goods of every description which were being held for war use overseas will not be needed as demobilization becomes a fact. The government purchases will fall off. England has already cancelled all her meat orders. Finally, the men returning from overseas service will materially increase the supply of produce.

War Tax on Elevator.
"There are many forces which will tend to keep prices up. The cost of transportation is still high. Ocean rates have dropped slightly. Railroad rates continue the same. A new tax levied by the government on almost every conceivable luxury will go into effect May 1.

"The uncertainty of European supplies will tend to keep prices up. Finally, the government's price fixing policy, adopted as a pre-war measure is being continued in peace times. This policy holds that it is unwise to demoralize industry by a sudden shifting of prices. The government believes that it is unfair to compel producers to sell at a loss goods that they produced at the request of the government."

Producers Reluctant.
Professor Lewis believes that the consumer will not notice this change at once. Retail prices change much more slowly than wholesale prices. Producers are making every effort to keep prices up.

Altho wages will fall somewhat, Professor Lewis believes that they will be readjusted to meet the needs of labor. This is a result of a growing recognition on the part of the employer that wages must not be reduced while prices are high.

Labor Position Stronger.
Labor has gained advantages during the war that it never had before. It is now in a position to enforce demands that it could not have made two years ago. Employers are beginning to recognize that labor and employer were not on the right terms before the war and there seems to be a tendency on the part of both to make conditions right.

Tells Blood-Curdling Tales Of Experiences in Old Mexico

PROFESSOR D. C. LIVINGSTON LED THRILLING LIFE AS MINING ENGINEER DURING REVOLUTIONARY DAYS OF 1910-11—HAS TENSE MOMENT UPON MEETING DISCHARGED NATIVE WHO HAD SWORN REVENGE—FRIEND ESCAPES EXECUTION BY FEIGNING DEATH.

Prof. D. C. Livingston of the School of Mines has told of some of the thrilling experiences he had while a mining engineer in Mexico between 1906 and 1911. Cold blooded murder, sieges by rebel bands, and head-breadth escapes were commonplace occurrences during Professor Livingston's last days in old Mexico. His adventures sound like chapters from a dime novel. The best thing about them is that they are true. Livingston vouches for them.

"The Red Devil."

Among the notorious rebel generals were Rovco and the "Red Devil." This title was in perfect harmony with the man, according to Professor Livingston.

In 1906 Professor Livingston went to northern Mexico as a mining engineer. The mine was located about 80 miles south of Douglas, Ariz., 30 miles from a fairly good railroad.

In telling of his experiences Professor Livingston said: "In 1910, Madero, craving excitement and a soft government job, broke loose with a revolution. Federal troops were immediately stationed at the mine where I was employed. The event led to trouble.

Hide Women in Tunnel.

"The rebels appeared at the mine one morning, defeated the federal troops and took charge of the town. There were a few white women there and in order to save them from the abuses and insults of the invaders we placed them in the tunnel of the El Tibra mine.

"All the time the federal troops, who had telephone connections with the railroad station, were attempting to communicate with the station master. They suspected, however, that the rebels were tapping the wires and they conceived the novel idea of using Chinamen at both ends of the wire to convey their message for help. The rebels, unable to understand a single word, promptly cut the wires.

Shot in Cold Blood.

"I saw a few shooting scrapes during this period. One especially I remember for its cold bloodedness. A certain man did something that angered the rebels, escaped them and hid in a small brush hut. The soldiers immediately surrounded him and fired into the hut from all sides.

FACULTY AND STUDENTS COOPERATED ON CAMPUS DAY

The success of Campus Day was due, says Permeal French, dean of women, to the splendid organization of the student committees which worked with the faculty committees. Especially does she commend the work of the senior girls who organized their work so efficiently, stayed with it, served the meal and saw that everything was returned to its proper place.

Thanks should be given, thinks Miss French, to the faculty women who donated over forty cakes for the campus supper. She also believes that the students owe Mr. E. O. Bangs and Mr. Bernt Nielson their thanks for the music provided during the day.

Engineers Meet.

Victor Pearson and Edgar Nettleton were the principal speakers at the regular meeting of the Associated Engineers Wednesday night. Mr. Pearson spoke on the topic "Efficiency in Engineering." Mr. Nettleton gave a paper on "The Big Bend Irrigation Project."

Dean C. N. Little spoke briefly on the "Cottrell Process" as applied in the Anaconda smelter. Short discussions were made on topics mentioned in the papers.

Vaccine Talk.

F. S. Jennings addressed the Pre-med club Tuesday afternoon. Vaccine, its uses and great benefits to mankind, was the theme of his address.

Many other students attended the lecture, altho it was intended especially for the pre-medics.

They dragged him out a few minutes later, a horribly mangled corpse.

Feigns Death and Escapes.

"I was doing some survey work during the first year of the revolution and I had as an assistant a young man named Douglas. He remained in Mexico after I left. I heard nothing more of him until a year or so later when the report came out in the papers of the massacre of 10 American engineers, on their way to Chihauhau to open up a mine. Douglas was among them.

They were all led from the train to be shot. As the soldiers fired Douglas fell, feigning death. By a strange chance he escaped injury and was the sole survivor of that ill-fated party.

"Things were fixing up for a boom directly preceding the revolution. Irrigation projects were under way, mining properties were being opened and everything pointed to prosperity for Mexico.

Brigands Everywhere.

"Madero's revolution came in 1910 and during my last year in Mexico I never ventured out without a gun. There were drunken rebels everywhere and the roads were infested with brigands.

Moment of Suspense.

"I didn't have much use for my gun. Several years preceding my location at the Mactayuma mine I discharged a native. He swore vengeance, but the incident slipped my mind until one day during the revolution this same man at the head of a band of revolutionists, rode up to the mine. He recognized me and I stepped out and greeted him. I resolved that if he was going to get me I might as well get it over right away. Instead of shooting me as I had every reason to believe he would, he greeted me as a long-lost brother and I felt much better.

Rebels Burn Town.

"During a lull in the revolution I, in company with some other American engineers, left Mexico and came back to the states. A short time before my departure the rebels burned the town, but I saved all my books and instruments."

Professor Livingston is the head of the geology department of the university.

Irrigation Expert Will Speak.

J. C. Rolston, consulting engineer for the Big Bend irrigation project, will speak at a meeting of the Associated Engineers Wednesday, May 25. Mr. Rolston is a prominent engineer of Spokane.

"Y" Movies Make Hit.

Douglas Fairbanks in "Reaching for the Moon" was featured in a five-reel production at the "Y" hut last Tuesday evening. A fair sized crowd saw the show.

Geraldine Farr will be featured in "Carmen" at the Y. M. C. A. next Tuesday night.

Ruth Coffey and Virginia Dermott spent the week-end in Spokane.

Prof. and Mrs. J. E. Wodsedalek and Prof. and Mrs. H. L. Axtell were dinner guests at the Kappa Kappa Gamma house yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Jameson, Miss Ruth Soclen, and Prof. and Mrs. Gail were dinner guests at the Chi Delta Phi house Thursday.

Walker Visits University.

Ramsey M. Walker of the State Board of Education visited at the University, Wednesday.

Judge Dietrich, prosecuting attorney McClellan and Clerk McReynolds of the federal court were guests at dinner at the Kappa Sigma house, Wednesday evening.
