UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, MOSCOW, TUESDAY, MAY 27, 1919

NUMBER 33

CONFERENCE TRACK TITLE AWAITS A. A. U. DECISION

FAILURE OF W. S. C. RELAY MAN TO CARRY BATON ACROSS LINE WILL PROBABLY GIVE IDAHO NORTHWEST CONFERENCE MEET BY 42-41 SCORE—SILVER AND GOLD TAKES SIX FIRSTS—IRVING BREAKS TWO RECORDS

The protest filed by the University of Idaho at the finish of the relay leaves the final standing of the Northwest conference track meet held at Pullman last Saturday still in doubt, and until such time as the decision can be rendered by the Amateur Athletic Union, no winner can be officially announced.

Before the relay, the final event of the card, Idaho led the other teams, the closest competitor being W. S. C., one point behind. Idaho did not place in the relay, but Parker running the last quarter for W. S. C. failed to bring in the baton and as soon as the event was completed, Coach Matthews filed a protest. Should the decision be against W. S. C., Idaho will be declared the winner by a score of 42 points against Pullman's 41 and the trophy cup will be lodged on Idaho shelves. Oregon was third with 35, and Montana fourth with 14. Idaho Shows High Class.

Whatever the final decision is, the meet will go down in history as one of the closest and most exciting that he ever been staged. The entire affair was a battle between Idaho and W. S. C. Again Pullman's ability to garner seconds and thirds kept her in the running, and placed her in every event in which she was entered.

Wins Dashes With Ease.

Contrary to dope, Richmond was not hard pressed in either the 100 or the 220 and won in good style. Foster of Oregon who took seconds in both events was off-form due to injuries received the previous week, but it is doubtful if he could have won under ordinary conditions.

Mac Outflights Parker.

One of the prettiest events of the day was the beating handed to Parker in the quarter by McCallie. After being led all the way, Mac showed an abundance of the old Idaho flight and won out in the last few yards by a couple of feet.

Irving Smashes Two Records.

Irving, the super weight man, was not contented with winning the highest number of points, but insisted upon breaking a couple of records besides. He shattered his own mark in the shot set last year by nine inches when he heaved out the brass pellet 42 feet 9 inches. His second record of the day came in the discus with a fling of 127 feet 8 inches, lowering Tom Lomasson's record of 125 feet 9 inches made in 1916.

Nerve Brings Campbell Across.

Campbell ran the two mile for a third entirely on nerve, as his side bothered him all the way, and he partially collapsed at the tape.

Moe Out of Luck.

Moe was beaten by Howell in the low hurdles by a eye-lash, some of the judges at the finish even calling it a dead heat. All of Moe's events were bunched at the end and he was unable to do himself justice, the officials refusing to hold up one event for another.

Abbott of Oregon ran a beautiful half, winning over the exhausted Ratchford in 1:58 3-5 which is within 1 2-5 seconds of the conference record.

Irving of Idaho was high point winner of the meet with 15 points. Foster of Oregon was second with 11 points and Richmond totaled 10 for third.

The summary of events follows:
Mile Run—Ratchford, W. S. C., first; Belding, Oregon, second; Smith, W. S. C., third. Time, 4:29.

440-Yard Dash—McCallie, Idaho, first; Parker, W. S. C., second; Calder, W. S. C., third. Time, 51 3-5 sec.

McCALLIE TRACK CAPTAIN

Fast 440 Man Will Lead 1920 Cinder Men—Seven Letters Won.

Horton McCallie, Idaho's fast quarter-miler, was elected captain of the 1920 track team at the annual track meeting held at Childers on Monday night. The "I" wetting was dry as no man earned his letter this year for the first time.

McCallie took the quarter mile in the duel met with W. S. C. and also in the conference, winning over the much-touted Parker of W. S. C. He has two more years at Idaho.

Seven track "I's" were earned this year. The men winning their letters for the second time are McCallie, Perrine, Irving, Howard and Moe; and for the third time, Captain Richmond and Campbell. Richmond and Campbell will also receive the University blanket for three consecutive years on the track.

PRESIDENT WINS OVATION IN SOUTH

Development of University Under His Direction Remarkable, Says Twin Falls Chronicle.

President Lindley received many ovations in southern Idaho, where he delivered a number of high school commencement addresses last week. His tour included Filer, Gooding, Twin Falls, Nampa, Aberdeen, Shoshone and Payette. In addition to commencement addresses, President Lindley gave a talk to the Rotary Club at Twin Falls and the Commercial Club at Payette.

In speaking of President Lindley, the Twin Falls Chronicle says: "The development of the University under direction of Dr. Lindley has been remarkable. The best minds of the state—men who have heretofore taken but slight interest in educational matters—are now given to cooperation with the state board of education and the president of the university for the building of constructive educational work.

"This condition is the outgrowth of the confidence the men of affairs of Idaho have in Dr. Lindley and the state board of education.

"Recently Dr. Lindley made a trip to coast cities, where he addressed the civic bodies, the commercial clubs and business organizations in all the important cities. He was given an ovation, and the newspapers acclaim him the greatest asset of Idaho. Because he thinks, because he is constructive, because he would build, not tear down, his is not a preaching of theoretical socialism. Rather he inspires the individual to effort for achievement. And this inspiration he gives to the citizenship by his mastery of fundamentals, just as he imparts it in the process of education."

MEMORIAL DAY EXERCISES

- Parade of Cadet Battalion.
- Exercises at 9:30.
- Invocation.
- America, sung by audience, led by band and glee club.
- Reading of names on Honor Roll.
- Nearer My God to Thee, audience.
- Address—Col. Avery C. Cummings, former U. of I. Commandant.
- Salute fired by battalion.
- Benediction.
- Dedication of Memorial Tree Grave.

The entire University will participate in the Memorial Day exercises to be held on the campus, Friday. A holiday has been declared, and the morning will be used in special ceremonies for the "Idaho" dead.

The exercises which are to be held at 9:30, May 30, will be centered around the flag pole on the campus, with the flag at half mast and the speakers grouped around the monument. Memorial bulletins will be distributed during the morning.

Cummings to Speak.

Colonel Avery B. Cummings of the 91st Division, who was University of Idaho commandant when war broke out, will deliver the principal address. His services were secured only after extended correspondence with war department officials, who extended his leave in order to permit his presence here on Memorial Day.

Cadets to Parade.

Before the exercises the cadet battalion and band will parade down town, returning to the campus at 9:30.

As the President reads the names on the Honor Roll, giving the home town, date and place of death, one of the University girls, from the man's own town, if possible, will come forward and lay a wreath at the foot of the flagpole.

Distribute Memorial Bulletin.

The memorial booklets, which are to be distributed during the day, will contain the dedication by the President; a copy of the resolutions sent by the faculty to the nearest relative of the dead, the memorial day program, and the names and service records of the 32 men who gave their lives and most of their pictures.

Memorial Grove.

The Memorial tree grove, which will be dedicated at the close of the ceremony, consists of a tree planted for each "Idaho" man who died in the service. It was planted above the University gardens on Campus Day.

CLOCK FUND SWELLED

English Club Gives $50—Over Half of Play Proceeds.

The English Club has given $50 to the clock fund from the money which was derived from the plays, presented last week. Before the production of the plays, the club promised half of the proceeds. This sum of money was not sufficient, however, so the members of the club voted enough from this year's dues to make up $50.

The English Club is the first undergraduate organization on the campus to take any definite stand in regard to the raising of this fund.

PUBLIC OPINION—INSIDE AND OUT

The student body of any university seems always between two fires. If it criticises directly and frankly there is the danger of harming the institution through misinterpretation by the outside public. If student opinion is suppressed the faculty and administration do not gain the student viewpoint and their rulings, made independent of that viewpoint, can not but arouse hostility among the undergraduates.

In the dual capacity of University news organ, distributed all over the state, and student journal of opinion, the Argonaut perhaps feels the apparent conflict most keenly. If the Argonaut refuses to print an outspoken editorial it is "dead," if it publishes it, it is "yellow."

We believe that the problem has a solution. At least, opinion may be exchanged between the faculty and the students much more freely and safely if a false premise that exists in the minds of both factions can be obliterated. The students instinctively base much of their criticism upon the supposition that the faculty is "bucking" them, that the faculty is the enemy of student life; and many of the faculty act upon the false idea that the undergraduate body is essentially hostile to work and discipline, in fact, all that the faculty is here to give. The premise in both cases, whether conscious or unconscious, is that the faculty and students are working for cross purposes. It is wrong. Both are stoutly loyal to the University, both are toiling for a Greater Idaho. They differ only in method. That is at the same time the result and cause of a failure to discuss questions frankly.

The Argonaut is primarily a publication for the expression of undergraduate opinion. It offers wider services only because the students' greatest interest is the University as a whole.

Open exchange of opinion is the best preventive for misunderstanding. The students should be direct and uncompromising in presenting their views. At the same time they should remember that, in reality, there are no differing factions, that we are all working for a common ideal, and that therefore only criticism which is of distinct aid in furthering that common cause can be of any value.

Constructive criticism, no matter how radical or how blunt, will accomplish much here at Idaho, and at the same time will let the outside public know that the students are attempting to boost Idaho to a higher level, and are thinking about how to do it.

THE SECURITY OF LIBERTY IS LAW

(By Alvin Denman)

The period of history thru which we are now passing in the United States as well as most of the civilized world is the most critical of the ages because everywhere there is a tendency on the part of uneducated men to change the order of things when they have no constructive program to offer as a substitute. As the result of Russia's experience at the hands of those forces which are at work in an attempt to undermine the democratic governments of the world such men are generally denominated Bolsheviki. There is no class of men so sensitive to Boshevist attacks as that composed of students and practitioners of the law who are familiar with the battles which have been fought to acquire the legal principles which stand today as the real protection to civilization. Every day the lawyer comes in contact with these principles, to obtain which men have given their lives by the thousands, and to defend which other thousands have heroically shed their blood. It is therefore quite natural that the members of this profession should be active in resisting every attempt to lower the fortress of law and order which stands between organized government and Bolshevism.

Why is it said that "The security of liberty is law?" Is that a dream, or is it a fact? Ought not that question to be asked of the opposition to law and ought not the opposition to act only after a careful, logical, even religious consideration of that question? The reason these words of the poet are fact is because at one time there was no such thing as law, or at least very little of the law which we have today, and at that time there was no such thing as liberty. Liberty existed then only in the imagination. History tells of the chaotic condition of affairs prior to the granting of Magna Charta, the Great Charter of English Liberties. It also tells us how this great body of law-made justice fixed and permanent, mitigated the infliction of penalties, protected individual liberties by decreeing that no one should be subject to arrest and imprisonment, or injured in person or property, except by the judgment of his peers and according to fixed rules of law. Men gave their blood to secure these laws and the forces of anarchy are at this time seeking to overthrow them. The principles of Magna Charta are embodied in our own statutes which prevent the repetition of the despotism of the thirteenth century. That is why it is a fact that "The security of liberty is law."

The record Russia has made since the overthrow of the Czar is sufficient evidence to convince the ordinary man that without law liberty is not secure. The best informed writers who have visited that country during the reign of Bolshevism tell us that one does not know what day his lands will be confiscated, his stock driven off to feed the starving masses, who have been put into their present condition by the paralysis of industry resulting from anarchy, or when even his life may become a prey of the greedy Soveit. Such is the result of an attempt during the present age at government without law.

Because of the great fortune college people have in superior intellectual training should not they take the lead in a campaign of education to teach those with whom they are associated in the world outside of the purview of the college campus what law means to liberty, and what the destruction of law would mean to the world? We receive our college education as the direct beneficiaries of the government. Do we not owe to the government the same debt which we owe to a parent? And is not that debt loyalty, to the government to such an extent that we should think loyalty, teach, and live loyalty? If we are deaf to the call of humanity to keep the world safe for democracy by our most zealous and ardent support of law whom shall we expect to do this? Organized government in our own country has been challenged and the crisis is not passed. Shall we accept the challenge and equip ourselves for the preservation of "the security of liberty" or shall we lie idly by and see not only the rights of others destroyed but our own fall at the hands of the Bolshevist?

Why Go to "Idaho"

The choice of a university or college to be attended should be based upon four principal requirements: 1st, a high purpose and broad field of work; 2d, a competent faculty; 3d, a sufficient equipment; 4th, a student body of high ideals. The University of Idaho fully satisfies these requirements.

1. Purpose and Field—
Its purpose is to serve the people of Idaho in developing and training students; in advancing the entire State educational system of which it is a part; in assisting toward the solution of economic and social problems; in furnishing expert knowledge in Agriculture, Engineering, Forestry, Mining, Home Economics, Law, and Educational matters not only to students in residence but also to all who desire it throughout the State.
2. Faculty—
The faculty is made up of eighty-three teachers of thorough training and efficiency attained by years of study and experience. They are deeply interested in the progress of each and all under their instruction. They know the State and its conditions and give their best efforts to its development. In addition there are more than seventy workers in the agricultural extension division and fifteen agricultural county agents.
3. Equipment—
Its equipment is ample. It has a library of over 40,000 volumes, excellent facilities for teaching literature, philosophy, and the social sciences, and well provided laboratories for the natural and applied sciences and for the technologies.
4. Students—
Its students are earnest, wide-awake, and democratic. A large number of them earn their own way. Its alumni now occupy high positions and will be the future leaders of Idaho in professions, the industrial vocations, and in the building and maintenance of homes.

The six colleges, the central agricultural experiment station and the sub-station of the U. S. Bureau of Mines are located at Moscow; the main agricultural extension office is Boise, and the agricultural sub-stations and demonstration farms at Caldwell, Sandpoint, Moscow, Aberdeen and Felt.

Why Hold Stunt Fest On Night of Interscholastic

"While the stunt-fests are exceedingly amusing for a university audience and are well worth continuing, it might be better to hold them at another time, and to entertain the high school guests, at the time of the interscholastic, with a program made up not wholly of local hits," suggested Dean J. G. Eldridge in discussing the stunt fest.
"For several reasons it might be better to have each class present only its best song and one or two English Club plays might be used.
"It should be remembered that the origin of the whole event was to stimulate the production of catchy, permanent Idaho song. The present method of hurriedly getting up two songs in the last week is not likely to produce the desired result unless we have downright musical geniuses."

I'll Say She Does!
Does Mirandy smile? You'll say she does if you go to the "Y" hut tonight. Vivian Martin will be featured in five reels of comedy called, "Mirandy Smiles" at the "Y" hut tonight. This may be the last movie shown at the "Y" hut this term, so turn out, "fellers"—it's free.

THE CAMPUS ROOMER

Everybody is anxiously waiting for the results of the track meet that took place last in Pullman last Saturday. If we get what is coming to us we are going to get that meet yet and incidentally a little of the money back that some of those birds over there were lucky enough to grab on to. The next time we have a track meet over there maybe their coach will be wise enough to tie that baton on their relay runner. If they lose that meet yet through a technicality it will be a case of "Another heart is Broken."

No matter how it comes out, it will give a chance for a lot of fireside gossip for the next five years.

There were several picnics last Sunday, and as usual it rained. Moscow weather ought to be classed as one of the "seven wonders" of the world, because everybody is always wondering when the weather will be suitable for a trip to the mountains.

California hasn't anything on us for the dread of the "yellow peril." Any body that takes a squint at the campus will see that we have a few things on our mind regarding that subject ourselves. If dandelions were only at their best during some of the formal dances the greenhouse would have to go out of business.

The president of the freshmen class says that the Freshmen class of 1922 has accomplished everything that there is to do so from now on the rest of the classes will not have very much to do.

It has been suggested that we have school on Sunday from now on in order that the picnics may be pulled off Monday, since the latter always seems to be a nice day.

There has been no kicking on the part of the Cadets because drill has been stopped. The only interest that has been shown for the last month was in inquiring when the final halt would be given.

It has been recently roomered that if the Forestry Department allows the trees which they have planted on the hill above the Athletic Field to grow up, it will be a wonderful place for our children to fuss thirty years hence.

GLEE CLUB SINGS TO LEWISTON CROWD

No Other Trips to be Made Because of Shortness of Time.

The University Glee Club made a trip to Lewiston, Monday, May 20th, where a concert given in the high school auditorium in the evening was well received by a large audience. The program presented was practically the same as that given at the University Auditorium. Mr. Jimerson was unable to accompany the Glee Club on account of his participation in the English Club plays given the same night.

Members of the club were taken to Lewiston Monday afternoon, in cars, and brought back Tuesday morning. Other trips, which were planned, will not be made because of the shortness of the college year.

GIRLS' TENNIS NEARING FINALS

Only Seven Contestants Remain in Tournament — Interest is Keen.

Only seven contestants remain after the second round of the girls' tennis singles was played. The interest increases as the end of the tournament draws near.

Two series were begun last week, one for the Hays' cup and the other for the David cup. The second round was finished yesterday and the finalists meet May 30. Several good players have developed among the girls and the winners cannot be predicted.

Results.

The results for the second round are:

Hays' Cup—Elsa Voss defeated Eula Badger, 6—0, 6—1.

Gertrude Sabin defeated Jeanette Sholes, 6—3, 9—7.

Florence Allebaugh forfeited to Margaret Byrns.

David Cup — Elsa Voss defeated Gertrude Sabin, 6—4, 6—3.

Margaret Byrns defeated Lillian White, 6—2, 6—4.

Jeanette Sholes defeated Lyla Harsh, 6—0, 6—2.

There being only 14 contestants in each series the last winner on the list for each cup could not enter the second round. They were Sylvena Pechanec for the Hays' cup series and Thora Jackson for the David cup series who forfeited the third game to Jeanette Sholes. This leaves Jeanette Sholes one of the finalists for the David cup.

The other remains to be seen when Elsa Voss and Margaret Byrns meet next week.

Hays' Drawings.

For the Hays' cup the opponents are: Elsa Voss versus Gertrude Sabin, Margaret Byrns versus Sylvena Pechanec.

Applications Still Come

The Commandant is still receiving applications for the R. O. T. C. camp at Presidio. It is believed that the number will increase to quite an extent before the time to leave for the camp.
