IDAHO WARRIORS OFF TO TEAR UP UTAH ELEVEN

ZION CITY UNIVERSITY TEAM TO BE IDAHO'S NEXT OPPONENT AND MOST PROBABLE VICTIMS—BLEAMASTER'S MEN LEAVE THURSDAY.

Coach W. C. Bleamaster takes his crew of warriors to Salt Lake, Utah, Thursday to meet the University of Utah Saturday. With three days for practice this week Bleamaster has a problem in getting his crippled gridists in the best of shape.

The University of Utah has trimmed the Colorado College eleven 20 to 0 in Utah's first game.

Little is known about the Zion city team at the Idaho camp except that Utah is usually a leader in the Rocky mountain football conference.

Despite the crippled condition of Idaho men, "Tommy" Thompson, "Turk" Gerlough, Grover Evans, "Gus" Irving, Captain Breshears, "Chick" Evans, the Utah team may well count on a terrific battle and most likely a trimming.

Oregon beat Idaho. But Idaho always comes back and Utah is going to be the victim of Idaho's "come back." Every Idaho student sends off the team with loyal support and a well founded realization that the eleven will return with victory.

1919 is to be a banner football year and Idaho victories start with the Utah game.

ASSOCIATED MINERS IN UNIQUE MEETING

Assay Lab Scene of Novel Feed And Canned Jazz—Organize Into A Club

"A bunch of boys were whooping it up in the Malamute saloon, etc., etc." The boys were the mining students of the University; the Malamute Saloon was the Assay Laboratory.

The ragtime kid at the music box was absent, although his musical appendages were highly in prominence, his outfit consisting of a 1920 model Edison and a dozen rompin' good records. At the end of the Spear-mint bar was the old conventional free lunch.

The course (not coarse) dinner was prepared on a furnace seasoned by frequent jabs with a pin-stick administered by Dean Thomson. About 30 members were present. At dinner time these were lined up in cafeteria style and marched by the kitchen where the interesting sport of balancing a meal on the palm of the hand was started.

"Sure we had plates," said Shorty Rolinc, "but we just wanted to see how Adam managed in his time." Assay ??? were utilized as cups from which many pints of coffee were consumed. The bread lasted but six rounds after which doughnuts were used as sandwich material to keep the numerous miners company.

Every one being satisfactorily stuffed, the meeting was called to order and the nomination and subsequent election of the following officers ensued.

Clifford Burgher, '21, president; Justin Gowen, '21, vice president; John McGovern, '22, secretary-treasurer.

Following the election short talks were made by Dean F. A. Thomson, school of mines; Prof. Livingston, geology department, and Mr. Norton, school of mines, after which the "miners" were adjourned.

HARVARD CONTEST

Considerable time will be devoted during the next two weeks to preparation for a yelling contest with the Washington State College student body which is to be a feature of the annual Idaho-W. S. C. football game. The Harvard Club of Spokane has offered a prize for the rooting contingent which best yells, sings and cavorts for judges yet to be elected. Yell King Francis Bartlett and Yell Duke Garde Wood, will direct this activity. When these men call on the events, their orders must be carried out immediately.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Darrah of Emmett, Idaho, spent Monday afternoon at the Kappa Kappa Gamma house. Mrs. Darrah was formerly Alice Hartley, a graduate in the class of '17.

Y.M.C.A. COURSE IS PROVING POPULAR

Bible Study Enrollment is Encouraging—More Men Than Women—Says Secretary.

The results of the enrollment taken at Wednesday's assembly for the Bible study course being offered by the churches of Moscow through the Y. M. C. A. are very encouraging according to Secretary MacPherson. It is interesting to note that more men signed up for the course than women; some ninety-two men attached their names to the blanks, while only seventy-six of the women did likewise. This number said Secretary MacPherson does not include those who had previously enrolled in the churches of the city. Of those who signed for the study, the greater majority signified their partiality for the following churches: The Methodist church seemed to be quite popular, fifty-eight choosing that denomination; the Presbyterian church comes next with forty seven who wished to take up the work in that church, while the Christian church follows with twenty-one, and the Episcopal and Baptist next in order with fourteen and seventeen students respectively enrolled.

M'APHEE SPEAKER AT ASSEMBLY WEDNESDAY

Portland Y. M. C. A. Worker Gives Talk On the Needs of Religion—Urges More Bible Study

Ralph C. McAfee, a live wire Y. M. C. A. worker of Portland, Oregon, now executive secretary of the Portland church confederation, and who at one time was the Y. M. C. A. secretary at the University of Colorado, was the speaker at Wednesday's assembly.

Mr. McAfee is a very forceful speaker and commanded the attention of every one in the auditorium. He spoke for a more religious attitude in the every day life of the American people, a more diligent study of the Bible. Mr. McAfee quoted as an authority Babson's Barometer for the American Bankers Association. Mr. Babson is perhaps the highest authority on banking in the country, and in one of his circular letters he states that what we need today to right the conditions existing between capital and labor was not more legislation, much as that is needed, but more religion.

At the close of Mr. McAfee's lecture enrollment cards for Bible study were passed around for the students to sign. President E. K. Lindley of the Y. voiced the student body's appreciation for Mr. McAfee's talk.

HIGH CLASS PLAYS SLATED THIS WINTER

Dean Miller Says That Plans Are Being Made to Bring Good Productions to Moscow.

It is probable that during the coming winter the students of the University of Idaho will be offered some attractions in the line of high class entertainment that they have not heretofore been able to enjoy. The Musical department contemplates bringing to us several musical attractions. In addition to these there will probably be brought to Moscow some plays of a high order. During an interview on the subject Dr. Miller stated:

"The students of the University of Idaho have been unfortunate in the past in that they have not been able to enjoy many of the things that it should be the undeniable right of college students to enjoy. Most Universities are so situated that attractions of a high order can be brought to the students at very little expense. Sadly, Moscow is not so located. However we are going to attempt to arrange it during the coming season so that the students will be able to hear some really good plays presented by players of repute. Nothing definite has been done beyond the fact that we have decided that such a thing should be done, and are setting about to do it."

IDAHO "FROSH" PLAY W. S. C. 6 TO 6 TIE

Two First Year Elevens Stage Prelude to Oregon Game—Dingle's Men Outplayed Opponents

Coach Bert Dingle's University of Idaho freshmen and the Washington State College first year eleven played a 6 to 6 tie as a preliminary game to the Oregon contest Saturday afternoon.

"Babe" Brown featured heavily with a 65 yard run for a touchdown in the third quarter. "Huck" Breshears made a 25 yard pass to Brown and he went the rest of the way for Idaho's touchdown.

The following is an account of the detailed play in the W. S. C.-Idaho game:

The W. S. C. captain elected to kick off and as the whistle blew he sent the ball twisting toward Idaho's goal into the arms of "Beany" Breshears. The Frosh failed to make yardage and punted. Dutton of W. S. C. was carried off the field with his leg broken in two places. W. S. C. was held for downs and punted. Idaho then took the ball, but after failing twice to gain thru the line Brown punted 50 yards. W. S. C. immediately returned the punt. Idaho bucked the ball for 15 yards, but could go no farther and Brown dropped back to kick, but the punt was blocked. By a series of bucks and end runs W. S. C. put the ball on Idaho's 20 yard line when time was called.

The second quarter began with W. S. C. on our 20 yard line. Sax took the ball on an end run and went over for a touchdown. He failed to kick goal.

Idaho received the kick-off on the 20 yard line. Idaho made the necessary 10 together with a 5 yard penalty for being off-side. W. S. C. braced at the spot and held. Brown punted 45 yards. W. S. C. made 15 and then held by Idaho. Wyman fumbled the punt. On the first two downs Idaho was held, but the third down a pass netted 15 yards. This was repeated on the fourth down. Whistle blew for first half with the score 6 to 0 in favor of W. S. C.

The second half opened with Idaho receiving. "Huck" Breshears caught the ball and ran it back 20 yards. Idaho was penalized 15 yards for holding. Brown punted a beautiful spiral for 60 yards. W. S. C. attempted a forward pass, but Patch at tackle broke it up. W. S. C. was then forced to punt. Idaho took the ball on the 35 yard line. Breshears passed to Brown who ran 65 yards for a touchdown. Through a technicality Idaho was not allowed to kick goal.

Idaho again received the kick-off, and "Beany" who caught the ball ran it back 15 yards before he was downed. An end run netted 20 yards. Attempts to gain through the line at this point failed and Idaho was forced to punt. The punt was blocked. Pearson took Turner's place at left half. Idaho was held and forced to punt.

The game ended with Idaho on the enemy's 20 yard line. Brown was the star of the game with his sensational run, and his steady consistent punting. "Huck" and "Beany" Breshears both played a good game. The entire line worked well together.

Sax of W. S. C. was their most prominent figure. He is fast and clever.

Ted Turner did good work, and the work of the Idaho "Frosh" line was a big feature. The lineup:

Margery McCrea and Guy Calquhoun, both of Coeur d'Alene were married in Spokane Saturday. Margery McCrea is a member of Gamma Phi Beta and was a Sophomore here last year. Mr. Calquhoun is engaged in business in Coeur d'Alene, where they will make their home. He is a Kappa Sigma, having attended W. S. C. and Idaho. At the beginning of the war he enlisted in the medical department of the navy, being discharged some time ago.

Outweighed by almost 15 pounds to the man and still in the grim steadfast grip of the "Oregon Jinx" the University of Idaho's 1919 team went down to defeat 27 to 6 at the hands of the University of Oregon Saturday afternoon on the athletic field. Idaho presented a crippled lineup. Oregon outweighed the Idaho line, and yet Coach Bleamaster's scrappy gridists gave their opponents one of the harest fought football battles ever seen on the Idaho field.

The fact that Saturday's misfortune was the first appearance of the Idaho team is no criterion for the rest of the season either in the minds of the players and the coaches or the students. 1919 is to be a banner football year in the history of the University of Idaho.

With the score 6 to 6 at the end of the first half in the third quarter two Oregon touchdowns were shoved across and goals kicked making the score at the end of that period 20 to 6. In the fourth quarter following a series of end runs that put the ball within striking distance of the Idaho goal line Huntington, Oregon fullback, smashed across for his and Oregon's fourth touchdown. Manarud kicked goal.

Huntington, Oregon fullback, a brother of Coach "Shy" Huntington, made all four of the visitors' counters. The first quarter was the best period of the entire game. Idaho brought across their touchdown in the first eight minutes of play. In three minutes or 11 minutes of the first quarter Oregon had evened the score.

"Gus" Irving, suffering from an injured side, made the real sensation of the afternoon in a 65 yard run through the Oregon line that put Idaho on the 15 yard line. From the 15 yard line plunges by backfield men brought the Idaho team to the 12 yard line. Captain Breshears called for a short pass. Irving passed five yards to "Turk" Gerlough and "Turk" went the rest of the way for the touchdown.

"Gus" Irving's run was way from the 20 yard line clead down the field to the 15 yard line. His tear was unquestionably the feature of the game and was responsible for Idaho's score. "Bill" Steers, Oregon quarterback, brought football enthusiasts to their feet for the other outstanding feature in a 63 yard run from behind the goal post on the Idaho kickoff. He was well protected by interference and his slippery, speedy work through the broken field was a beautiful exhibition of individual prowess. His run was responsible for the "Web-footers" first touchdown.

No scoring was done by either side in the second quarter.

In the third quarter Anderson, substituted for Harding at left tackle, caught one of "Tommy" Thompson's passes on the 35 yard line. Line plunges barely made Oregon's yardage. Again yardage was barely made. Oregon hit a stonewall defense and then Huntington, apparently Oregon's most dependable ground gainer, went for nine yards and again for five yards, putting the pigskin on the one yard line. The Idaho line held for three downs and then the dependable Huntington drove himself over. Steers kicked goal.

V. Jacobberger's end run for 45 yards, Huntington's 20 yard end run, several short passes, and Oregon held the ball in the 10 yard zone. Huntington again punched over and Steers kicked goal.

Manarud and Huntington made the fourth touchdown. Huntington made 25 yards on an end run and Manarud, diminutive quarterback who went in for Steers, flashed away for good gains until Huntington staged another of his powerful line drives for a touchdown. Manarud kicked goal. At the end of the game Idaho was driving down the field with forward passes and backfield transportation of the ball. The timekeeper's whistle stopped all strife and Oregon and Idaho men formed circles, giving each other a yell.

PRESIDENT OF LOAN CLUBS TO SPEAK

Mrs. M. J. Sweeley of Twin Falls to Come in Interest of University Loan Clubs

The University Loan Club will be favored next week by the visit of Mrs. M. J. Sweeley of Twin Falls, president of University Loan Clubs. While here she will address the student body, explaining the "Growth of the University Loan Club and Regulations pertaining to it." Mrs. Sweeley has made the matter of increasing this fund, the chief purpose of her administration.

"Mrs. Sweeley comes as a friend to many students at the university. In the past years she has done much to aid Idaho's students," said Dean French, in an interview Sunday. "It is a certainty," added Dean French, "that the faculty and students anticipate her visit and that much interest will be manifested in her work."

STUDENT BIBLE STUDY DELEGATES TO COME

Northwestern Conference Meets Here This Week—Live Program Lived Up by "Y" President

The Northwestern Conference of the Students Bible Study Association will convene here the last of this week. About forty delegates from the surrounding colleges are expected to come to the conference, and President Earnest Lindley of the Y. M. C. A. is lining up several committees to care for and entertain the delegates.

The Conference will open Friday night at six-thirty with a dinner for the delegates at the Presbyterian church, after which they will go to the Y Hut for the first lecture and formal opening of the conference. It is quite probable that President Holland of W. S. C. will deliver the opening address Friday evening at eight thirty, upon the topic, "The American Colleges' Obligation in the Present World Situation." President Lindley will speak at three-thirty Saturday afternoon upon the subject, "Facts in the Present Unrest—Christianities Message—The Part College Students Must Play." After President Lindley's lecture the delegates will be entertained.

Bench and Bar Association

William McClure was elected to fill the position of chief justice, William Langroise associate justice and Robert Hibbard as clerk of the court, in the election of officers for the Bench and Bar association. This organization is limited in membership to the students of law and has for its aim the promotion of good feeling and the broadening of the knowledge of court proceedings.

At the first meeting Dean Cocherill addressed the association on legal proceedings, and Professors Gill and Evans both gave short talks on legal subjects.

Dr. V. H. Young, head of the department of botany, addressed the Forest Club at its weekly meeting Monday evening on the forests and forest conditions of the Philippine Islands.

W. A. A. For Idaho.

A great many of the universities and colleges of prominence all over the nation have realized the worth of an athletic association for women, and having formed such an organization have found it to be an indispensable factor in the promotion of college spirit and college interest. The Woman's Athletic Association is a national organization which provides for the proper systematic and intelligent control of woman's sports. Under its supervision any girl may win points in tennis, hockey, soccer, basketball, swimming and track, which count toward a sweater. The constitution and regulations are made to fit the conditions of the university in question. The association as an incorporate unit of any university is a worthy recommendation for the school, and carries with it a very certain and valuable significance. Any school may be justly proud if it has the type of girls who are enough interested in their own physical development and true Americanism to expend their energies in the promotion of an organization so surely representative of modern ideas. W. A. A. will do more than any other recognized factor in furthering democracy among the "co-eds" and toward making them appreciative and interested in men's sports. The benefits of such an association from a moral as well as physical and mental standpoint are invaluable. Associations formed in athletics develop into the most lasting and valued friendships.

Why not W. A. A. for Idaho.

It will be well to inform the athletic board that their dance is scheduled for November 1. Also that when a dance is arranged, such minor things as music, plans and the like are not to be bothered with until two or three days before the dance. But this athletic board is well organized, and the numerous committees are working fine. Whether it is to be a formal struggle or not will be decided before the game, November 1. We will all get our (?) dress suits ready for it, but if it is not a formal, we can put them up till the Junior Prom.

Pee-readers Shock the Natives.

The naughty college boys once again shocked the citizens and worked some pep for the Oregon game when they pulled off the big annual Peejama Parade last Friday night. casual onlooker no doubt would have wondered if Mr. Griffith was resting the "Birth of a Nation" had he seen the wild assemblage that gathered at the Campus steps at seven o'clock. Two by two and three by three and bunch by bunch they came dressed in pajamas purple and red and blue and every other conceivable hue. Some one was heard to utter, "I wonder if Poozey really does sleep in those things?"

After much deliberation and spitting of tobacco juice it was decided that Homer Lipps should be extinguished by being allowed to lead the parade through the Village. So Homer collected the clown band and ordered them to play Our Director March in honor of the occasion. Everything went fine until Frank Blackinger blew his Climax into his trombone, when the party was somewhat dampened.

Finally the riotous rooters got into sinuous motion towards town to the tune of "Hail, Hail, the Gang's all Here," and various others. The journey nearly resulted disastrously for Ted Holderman, who rubbed a blister on his chest while trying to Shimmy with his helicon. Such rash Moscowites as were bold enough to be abroad at the daringly late hour of seven-thirty looked on agog as the nocturnally garbed procession wended its way thru the streets.

The line circled and halted on the City's busiest corner. Here Schlitz almost ruined himself while trying to coax the citizens to say "Hell yes!" After Schlitz fainted Guard Ward took the stand and led the boys in some strenuous vociferations. This stage of the party was ended by a violent shin-dig on the pavement to the music (?) of the clown band. It was after this event that Dutch Green was proclaimed to be the University's prize shimmyist.

The struggle being over the party started out to paint the town red. However, some difficulty was encountered when it was discovered that the only red pigment available was a bit of lip stick, which was found in the pocket of Prexy Lindley Jr.'s pajamas. In a later interview on the subject Mr. Lindley stated that he was wearing borrowed pajamas. He declined to make the owner's name public.

The occupants of both theatres were treated to sundry noises from the razzed band and various "Hell yesses" and "noes" from the entire assemblage. The bunch then raided Eggan's Hall and amused the orchestra there for a short time. As the line passed Mac's depression parlor each of the rooters was refreshed by a glass of punch.

After shocking the balls in the pool hall with their naughty language the boys betook themselves to Ridenbaugh Hall where they interrupted the reception long enough to tell the girls "Hell Yes" and go home.

CAMPUS ROOMER

In the matter of holding yell rallies the fates seem to be against us. We came to this conclusion several days ago, when a football nearly annihilated one of our fellow students while playing in the band, that is our fellow student was. The ball struck him on the saxophone, and some terrible noises resulted from the combination of sounds issuing simultaneously from him and the saxophone. And the Lord only knows how we could have a yell rally without him. This old earth probably would not be able to continue its annual peregrinations around the sun if it were deprived of all those good souls who are constantly obliterating self in the desire to help others. If they were all killed off who would coach the yell leaders?

They seen their duty and they done it noble! But it just did fuss them so! In those horrid cordorais and rough shirts one might have taken them for Aggies. Some tried to hide the effect by modest sweaters, but darn—it was advrtised as "Ruff" and they did try so hard, to live up to it.

Even the girls. Didn't you notice the "round-her-neck-she-worea-ribbon effect and the little glass attached to it? Do you know what that glass is for? Well, you open your mouth and then you try to screw it in your eye! Darn me, if you don't! But oh, you hard boiled creatures! They even had cider, a third of a cup a piece, and after his allotment we saw Lew Morris trying to dislocate a hip.

YE GODS!

The Beta siren was wailing its blood-curdling cry into the night. Some one rang the fire bell as tho the final flames of judgment were rolling toward the campus. A thousand voices blended into a terrific roar. Girls, snug in their beds, were awakened by the fearful din and came to the windows white faced, terrified but learning the cause of the commotion, added kimonas, speed and shrieks to their skanty attire, flocked to the campus steps. Men in bathrobes, pajamas and frenzy of excitement poured across the campus. The Kappa Sig Jazz Band blared discordantly; the cannons, ancient felics tho they were, were loaded to the muzzle and discharged with reports that shook the

Persian Missionary Speaks.

Dr. E. T. Allen, a returned missionary from Persia, spoke at assembly Wednesday morning in behalf of the Syrian and Armenian relief funds. Dr. Allen told of the "Holy War" which has been raging in Persia for the last five years, in the midst of which he was stationed, just thirteen miles from the Turkish border. In the course of his address Dr. Allen said in part, that although Persia itself remained neutral throughout the entire period of the world war, its land was overrun by the Turkish and Russian armies, until its villages and towns were almost entirely destroyed, and thousands of its people were massacred. Throughout the whole five years the only safe place for Christians was behind the American flag, to which thousands flocked from every part of the land. Other missions under the flags of other nations were ruthlessly violated and the keepers as well as the refugees murdered.

15,000 Refugees.

At the station in which Dr. Allen was stationed fifteen thousand Christian refugees were crowded into a space smaller than our campus. Then the typhus broke out. Sixty per cent of these people were ill at one time, and many thousands of them died.

The speaker stated that the Persians have many things in common with the Americans; they are of the Iranian race and their language has a great resemblance to ours. He stated that they place the utmost confidence in the Americans, many times giving the missionaries their money to use, never asking for security or receipt, telling them to pay it back when possible. Dr. Allen urged that this confidence be justified, that we lend our moral and financial support to the oppressed country.

"Y" hut. The reading will be given by Mrs. H. H. Conwell.

The program committee expects to have a visit from Ralph B. Dyar, author of the most successful melodrama in recent years, "A Voice in the Dark." The idea of this play was so unique, states Professor G. M. Miller, that Al G. Woods, the New York producer accepted it as soon as it was read and has made a five year contract with Mr. Dyar for all his plays. Members of the club may expect a recipe for writing successful melodramas.

Members who have paid their dues to either Verl Oliver, Marie Anderson, Phyllis Oxford or Paul Rowell will be served refreshments at the meeting Wednesday.

Raymond, The Victor Shoe Shining Parlor certainly leads in quality. There is no getting away from it. Yes, Stavencham, I have often heard others say the same. I was there last night and of course I'm going again tonight. But it's immaterial how often or how seldom you go there, you will always meet with exactly the same experience. No favoritism is shown and no distinctions are made. It is just a plain case of First come, First served, with Quality Service—that is a little better than the best.

Professor Lewis Gives Details of Health Clause

The Doctor's Fee, which all students of this institution must pay before enrolling in college, has been the cause of much confusion, due to misrepresentations on the part of the students. In hopes of clearing away the confusion, Professor Lewis has offered a brief explanation of its existence and purpose. He says that by an amendment to the constitution of the A. S. U. I. two years ago, the voluntary health fee of $1.25 was made compulsory. By order of the Board of Regents this fund is controlled by the chairman of the faculty committee on health and housing and by the treasurer of the A. S. U. I. It has been agreed to offer a Moscow physician $700, if for this sum he agrees to act as physician for the University during the school year.

If this offer is not accepted, or until such time as it is accepted, the following provisions have been made: That any student may secure from the authorized authorities, either Miss French or Professor Lewis, a card which entitles one to a consultation with any Moscow physician. There is a general provision that one card is good for only one consultation. The committee in control of the health fund will pay all fees up to $5, and 50 per cent of the fees from $5 to $10. But no fees will be paid unless an authorization is first secured.

This last proposition, which is in force at the present, is tentative until a reply is had from the first proposal.

Ex-University Men Visit Washington

WASHINGTON.—Dr. Clifford Weston, a former University of Idaho student, and of Silver City, Idaho, has just returned from service overseas with the rank of lieutenant in the U. S. Marine Corps. He graduated in medicine after leaving the University of Idaho, and his home for several years has been New York City. His mother is Mrs. Minnie Weston who for several years was county treasurer of Owyhee county.

Major Perrott Gault, son of Dr. F. B. Gault, the first president of the University of Idaho, has returned from overseas, and is now in the Judge Advocate General's office in Washington for indefinite service. During the war Major Gault was an officer in the infantry and saw service at the front.

Major Herbert Wadsworth, a former student of the University of Idaho, has just been ordered to Washington from Fort Riley, Kansas, and will probably be detailed for service.

Mr. W. W. Yothers, of the class of '03, was in Washington several days last week, coming up from Florida where he has charge of Citrus Fruit Investigations under the Department of Agriculture.

THE OPEN FORUM

This column, "The Open Forum," is open each week to any person or organization who wishes their views expressed on any subject pertinent to the University campus. If the amount of hot air and crabbing that goes on around said campus is any criterion, this column should be easily filled. If anyone has any ideas that might operate towards the general good, we wish them to be free in expressing themselves, with the restriction that all articles be signed.

OPEN FORUM

In the last issue of our sheet some wise bird, who didn't understand quite everything he was writing about, made public some of his personal musings on the subject of the Glee Club. His article was headed, "Where Goes the Nine Per Cent?"

For the past two years the nine per cent has been going to pay up debts accumulated by the Glee Club three years ago. During this time not one cent of A. S. U. I. money has the Glee Club seen. It will be remembered that while the Club was on its last trip, thru an unfortunate accident, one of its members was killed. This, of course, put an immediate stop to the trip. The Club had at this time, just reached southern Idaho, and had given only one concert. They had the expenses of the trip down and back to pay without the proceeds of the southern concerts to help defray them.

We challenge our worthy critic to sight a single specific example of a college Glee Club that operates without financial aid from the student body that it represents. Idaho, when sending out her Glee Club to tour the state, is confronted by a peculiar problem. The trip from Moscow to the southern part of the state costs a matter of $400. No other University Club has this to contend with.

Possibly the much beridden member of the faculty who attempts to direct the Glee Club has made mistakes. He is by no means perfect. But possibly it would help some if certain parties, instead of crabbing, would help boost a little bit. If some perfectly good vocalists around the campus would blow the dust off their warbling machinery and come out for Glee Club, it would relieve the forementioned faculty member of the embarrassment of having to sing on the quartette.

There is no other student activity

Make and Hold Friends

THEY'RE mixers. From the wash of the Atlantic to where the Pacific splashes its spume, you'll find them making firm friends of men who pay mighty close attention to every detail of dress. They appeal to men who spend money, not haphazard, but on carefully thought out plans—men whose money-making instincts teach them instinctively to save. To the mind that thus analyzes the wear-value of Society Brand Clothes is as distinctly evident in their superior tailoring as is their unmatched style. For every dollar you invest in these clothes you get, compared to other makes, better than 100 per cent in service and satisfaction.
