Schroeder, Kline, Macey, Leighty Showing Up Well In Distances-Richmond Be Missed.

"Although it is entirely too early in the season to make any definite statements, our prospects seem fair. We are certain to be strong in the weights and the middle distances and should develop a few point winners in the other events."

This is the estimate of track prospects for this season offered yesterday afternoon by Coach Tommy Matthews, who, with Coach R. F. Hutchinson will carry the burden of putting in condition 1920 wearers of the wing-

EDUCATION STUDENTS WILL

Among the unusual school conditions which are found this year is the fact that some schools within eight weeks of the close of the year find teachers dropping out, leaving the school sadly handicapped. At a meeting last year the University faculty passed a resolution permitting advanced students in Education to do cadet teaching, provided the permission is secured from the major professor and from the Department of Education. No student will be absent from classes more than two weeks as the teaching will be done by a relay team. In speaking of this prospect, Professor Soulen said, "This ruling will not only give the student a splendid opportunity for teaching experience under real school conditions and under careful supervision, but will relieve the serious emergency conditions in some of our schools."

GYMNASIUM AND SWIMMING POOL TO COME BEFORE THE STUDENTS AT ONCE

REGENTS PETITIONED

Committee Is Investigating Methods of Other Schools, And Prices of Construction

New gymnasium and swimming. pool prospects increased precepibly when the Open Forum took definite. action on the matter by instigating a general student petition to go before the Board of Regents, and organizing a strong committee to investigate prices and methods of raising money for similar projects in other institutions. The petition will be given the rounds either tonight, or within the very near future, the committee hoping to have it finished before vacation. Fifteen colleges and universities have been asked to give information on their methods of tinancing and construction.

An affair involving the use of the gym never passes without numerous expressions being heard regarding the necessity of a new building.

Many and often have come in the sentiments that a swimming fool would be a big asset to the school: The Open Forum claims to have attacked the problem at the psychological moment, and in the logical manner. They request the assistance of everyone in pushing the movement. It has been pointed out that in the first step of accomplishing their sims that of crystalizins student sentiment, the wholehearted aid of every student is necessary.

TOOT! TOOT!

Probably the most delightful touring resort for the political steam roller is the monthly meeting of the A. S. U. I. The number of instances where a motion has been voted down in such a convocation during the present college generation might be counted on the fingers of one hand.

We all like to talk and dream our "Bigger and Better Idaho." At the same time it is also apparent that the most of us seem to feel that the most effective time for our beauty nap is during the A. S. U. I. meeting.

. Now, Mr. Student, pinch your pretty cheeks each twice and wake up for a moment and read what a radical red bolshevik who holds down a job on the editorial staff of your official organ has to say regarding your attitude towards your monthly

Did it ever occur to you that working these three parts of your anatomy in logical harmony might do some good once, the thrill is great.

Tomorrow there is an A. S. U. I. session. Some vital matters will be discussed. If you oppose one of those amendments, amputate yourself from that anchor of indifference and ride forth on the sea of constructive activity, proving to those who may have the idea, that you are not a weak sister.

QUITE TRUE.

It has often been noticable that the fact mentioned in the Open Forum this week is true. The students are many times inclined to discourage training for athletics, rather than encourage it. It even seems that the mass of the students, in their indifference to the matter, are more to blame than the individual who breaks training.

The greatest power in enforcing any measure in college is student opinion. If student opinion sanctions its athletes breaking training rules, training rules will be broken.

This same principle, or a variation of it, aplies to every other branch of student activities. Whatever phase of college life one goes in for where the honor of his school is at stake popuhar student opinion should require him to give all that he has. If he does not give his best he is guilty of violating the trust and confidence imposed in him by his Alma Mater.

The last basket ball tournament proved again the inadequacy of our present gymnasium to meet the requirements of the school. The school, on the other hand, is growing constantly. Each year the need of a new gym becomes more acute. The Open Forum has done a worthy thing in starting agitation in the direction of obtaining a new gymnasium and swimming pool. It is a project that deserves, and will get, the support of every active, interested Idaho student. The movement must have this support if it is to come to any effective end.

THE OPEN FORUM

For several weeks the Open Forum has been neglected, the student body seemingly forgetting, for a time, that there was one means by which lic without restriction. It should alare the sentiments of the writer, not athletes, do not take his trainover. Contributions to the Open Forum are in no way altered to suit the Argonaut policy. If you have something about which you wish, to "Bolshevik" publically, write an article about it and send it to the Open Forum. If there is something about the school which you think should be changed, follow the same course.

Here is a good hot one to start out with. Read it and write the Argonaut what you think about it next week.

Mr. Editor:

You are aware, are you not, that the athletics of a college are the heart, the life, if you please, of the student spirit of any school? If you will grant this first premise, I earnestly supplicate you to publish the following dissertation upon one of the evils woefully extant on the campus in your next edition of the Argonaut.

It is difficult, without undue scurrility, to express the usual attitude of the public mind to a traitor to any cause. The crime in itself is one of the most heinous in the entire catagory. Its perpetrator is contemptible. In the case of a traitor to a who has just recovered from a long national trust, the penalty is death. But what should come to the traitor to his school? Do you realize, Mr. Editor that there are dozens of these pseudo criminals (I call them "pseudo criminals" because, while they are not guilty as a class of violating any act of their state or national legislatures, they are wrongdoers in that they have been unfaithful in keeping their trust as exponents of the best their school has to offer in spirit.) passing on our campus every day who are worthy only of the scorn and contempt of campus society, but who receive the best that student life can give in honor and high esteem?

In speaking thus I refer first to the members of the athletic teams of the school who persist in breaking training during the athletic season, seeming even to derive a secret joy from the fact that they are able to "get away with it." The amount of self respect that these persons show in so doing is pitifully small. The interest in the wellfare of their school thus manifested is a minus quantity. Arling Moe of Kellogg visited the They are worthy of the contempt and Beta Theta Pi house during the past disrespect of the entire student body, they justly deserve. This situation reached a climax when, during the height of the basketball season, one of the mainstays of the squad, who was once a member of a northwest championship team, was found in such condition that he had to be helped home and into bed. If that man applies the same selfishness to all his actions that he showed in that one, it may well be said that his success as a leader in any line will not be great. During this orgy that person was accompanied by supposedly loyal members of the student body who offer an excellent illustration of the second class of our pseudo criminals. It is a hard thing to say of any many that he would deliberately sally forth and break training, alone. The student body as a whole is open to teams keep in trim, and looks with criticism for the attitude that it proper scorn and contempt on any takes toward things of that kind. break, this evil will be done away If one of the athlets succeeds in doing with. CO-EDS LACK TRAINING

Perhaps it's due to a lack of equipment, as some of the fair athletes haven't them made yet, but at any rate, the season is getting old and the cinders are yet to record the imprint of the numbers 3's to 5's inclusive as spiked-shoe prints.

CONFERENCE TENNIS TOURNAMENT AT IDAHO

Tennis is a game not very well known in the Northwest as a sport. Last a topographic and relief map of the year the first effort was made to make the sport popular. Many of the Idaho student and tennis enthusiasts do not let me go, as at that time nearly two know that there is a letter awarded for the participation in one conference meet. We have several courts here which with a little interest could be made into very good playing courts and up to this time there has been said, however, that he undoubtedly very little interest shown. It was noticed yesterday on our Ad-building bulletin board that the bearded lads of the tall-timber and "Copenhagen" cans districts had issued a bold challenge to all comers for an encounter to be fought in nine innings wiht can't-hooks and a horse-hide sphere.

Evidently this noble boast to meet the general public was noticed for Mr. "Ham" has been instructed to state to the Hon. President "Tuffie" that if the Timber Beasts will allow the Muckers to consolidate with their instructors, in order to acquire the desired (not "required") number of players, they will gladly extend the same right to the challengers and most willingly accept the gauntlett for the "Mucker-Timber Beast" game.

Let it be known, however, that if the above named Beasts insist upon using can't-hook bats, the party challenged reserves the same right in respect to their scoop-shovels and muck-sticks.
