NEW LOCAL SORORITY ON CAMPUS SOON

NEW GROUP WILL BE IDAHO'S SOLE LOCAL SORORITY

CONTAINS PROMINENT WOMEN

Miss Helen Johnstone Leads New Organization—New Home Expected

A new women's secret Greek letter organization, which has been recognized by the faculty, but which has not announced its helmic cognomen, will soon formally introduce itself and take its place in campus social life. After the advent of Kappa Alpha Theta, this group will be Idaho's sole women's local.

The organization has been complete for several weeks, the faculty having been formally petitioned for recognition two weeks ago. The purposes of the society, as announced in the petition, will be to gather together a group of the women of the Idaho campus for their mutual benefit, and to abide by and enforce such rules as the group shall see fit to establish for its self-regulation.

The membership of the embryo sorority includes several women who are well known on the campus due to their active participation in student activities. At present the chapter role includes: Helen Johnstone, Norma Gowgill, M. Featherstone, Anna Paige, Ruth Litton, Vera Luse, Ethel Nelson, Helen Ramsey, Florence Graves and Genevieve Jones.

The officers of the group are: Helen Johnstone, president; Norma Gowgill, vice president; Anna Paige, secretary; and Vera Luse, treasurer. It is expected that the group will take immediate steps to secure a home.

FORUM WILL DISCUSS HIGH COST OF LIVING

An interesting meeting of the forum is promised for this Thursday evening when a discussion will be staged upon the question of the "High Cost of Living." Whether prices will immediately take the hint and oblige with an unceremonious fall is problematic, but at least it is a nice thing to talk about and some clever arguments are likely to be given at this meeting.

A committee of Forum men have been appointed to investigate what is being done in the way of providing for a men's dormitory, and a report is expected to be given at this meeting. Those on the committee are: George Space, chairman; Kulberg, Ralph and Freedman.

Hanzlick Addresses Foresters

E. J. Hanzlick of the U. S. forest service addressed the School of Forestry Wednesday. He is making investigations of the working plans of the different forest reserves of the country. His talk was taken up with the different phases of working plans.

FORUM BOOSTS FOR EXAM HONOR SYSTEM

Committee Will Attempt to Find out What Can be Done to Put Idaho on the Honor System List

A movement has been set on foot by the Forum society to try and have adopted by the faculty of the University an honor system of conducting final examinations, patterned somewhat after the way in which law students are given their finals. Backers of the new movement feel that it can be successfully accomplished and will give the students the chance of showing their real ability and fairness in their final exams.

The men of the college have selected the following committee to work with a similar committee to be chosen from the girls' council and see what can be accomplished toward placing Idaho among the colleges which have already the honor system in actual practice. Those on the committee are: Chairman, Carl Carlson; A. J. Priest, Bunny Taylor, Holbrook, Maurice Jackson, Earl Hunt, and E. K. Lindley.

VOCATIONAL GUIDANCE WILL BE GIVEN STUDENTS

Questionnaire Will Soon Be Issued By Committee From the Faculty

That definite advice and assistance towards the choosing of a life vocation will be given to University students in the future was the substance of an announcement issued recently by Dr. P. H. Soulen, chairman of the University committee on vocational guidance, who has prepared an elaborate questionnaire which will be submitted to all undergraduates by way of obtaining data on which the committee may base its work.

"We expect to work both through the students and through prospective employers," said Dr. Soulen today, making ourselves a clearing house which will bring the undergraduates in touch with the opportunity he is seeking. I am sure that the larger concerns, particularly if they are in need of technically trained men, will be glad to offer their cooperation.

"Students who have not fixed upon a life work will be assisted in coming to a wise decision and others who have chosen their vocation but who are shaping their university courses in conformity with their ambition will also be given assistance. "This spring we intend to make a special effort to see that undergraduates find summer work which is not only congenial but which also will have a definite value from the standpoint of the student's prospective life work."

"GEM OF THE MOUNTAINS" WILL SOON BE OUT

Work on the 1921 "Gem of the Mountains" is fast nearing completion, according to the statements issued by Editor-in-chief Kinney and Business Manager Langroise early this week. The majority of the material is in the hands of the printer, and the work of reading the proof will soon be begun.

The book as now planned will be about 80 pages larger than that of last year. The management plans to put the volume out for $3 the copy. Taking into consideration the increased size of the book and the raise in the cost of materials over last year, this price has been remarked upon as being surprisingly low.

A Correction

A slight error has been pointed out in one of the articles appearing in last week's Argonaut. The monies that the individual members of the team contributed toward the expenses of the trip was for a side trip made on their own account. There is still $210.21 left in the debate fund, out of which two more debates must be financed.

BACTERIOLOGY DEPARTMENT GET ORDERS FOR CULTURES

The Department of Bacteriology has received orders for legume cultures sufficient to treat over 3000 acres. These nitrogen-gathering bacteria are prepared by the department and sold to the farmers of Idaho at cost, of twenty-five cents per acre, postpaid. Orders have been received from Utah, Montana, Arizona, New Mexico, Washington, Indiana and Idaho. These orders have ranged from one acre to 780.

Shipments are nearly double those made at this time last year, and the department is expecting to place at least 12,000 acres of the cultures before the planting season is over.

Mabel Sweeney of Kappa Gamma is spending a few days in Spokane.

INTERCLASS TRACK MEET NEXT SATURDAY

Weather Permitting, All Campus Athletes Will Be Asked to Appear To Represent Classes

Any rising young Olympian who, as a youth, has surprised the home folks by heaving the pitchfork across the cow-yard or pushing father's pet paper weight through the front window, will have an opportunity to demonstrate his skill with regulation accoutrements of the track next Saturday, April 17, when the annual inter-class track meet will be held.

"The more the merrier," said Track Coach Matthews when interviewed on the subject. "The object of the meet is not only to promote class spirit and a general interest in exercise, but also to unearth any speedy geni that may be hiding in the student body. Anyone who can set one foot in front of the other is eligible, and is asked to enter."

It is announced that the meet will be conducted under the regular rules that usually govern such contests. The various events will count as five, three and one, for first, second, and third place. The class winning the meet will be awarded a trophy.

Notice

The Economics Club will meet at the A. K. E. house on Tuesday evening. Charles Moore, a civic expert, will speak.

LIGHT RESPONSE TO SERVICE SCHOLARSHIP

Men Who Served Are Urged to Get In Touch with Y Secretary For Scholarships

The Y. M. C. A. announced a short while ago that the Educational Service branch of that organization was prepared to award scholarships to ex-service men, and up to this time but few have signified their desire to obtain such aid to an education. Approximately 70,000 scholarships are available to the men who followed the colors and but few have taken advantage of this opportunity.

Secretary MacPherson of the local Y. M. C. A. has charge of receiving application for scholarships for five surrounding counties. The awards are made for any recognized college, state institution, high school, and many short course and technical schools. All ex-service men who would be interested in obtaining such a scholarship are asked to get in touch with Secretary MacPherson at the Y Hut as quickly as possible.

The courses which a man may take through these service awards cover a broad territory. For the benefit of the man who has never acquired even an elementary education, scholarship awards will be made in grade school or elementary courses as well as in commercial, academic, agricultural, professional and highly specialized technical courses. While one may be learning "reading and writing" and "arithmetic" in a primary course, another may be preparing himself for a highly technical position.

SPRING CONCERT BY CADET BAND PLANNED

Prof. Nielson's Tuneful Tutors Have Many Promising Numbers In Repertoire

The cadet band, under the direction of Prof. Bernt Nielson, is now conducting special rehearsals for a concert to be played on the campus during campus day. New music has been received, and a most pleasing program is promised.

Among the numbers that the band is now drilling on are "Light Cavalry Overture," by Suppe; selections from the opera, "Martha," by Flo- low, selections from "Pinafore," by Sullivan; selections from Gounod's "Faust," and many tuneful compositions for band.

The band, as it will be worked down for the spring concert, will number about thirty pieces, in a well balanced arrangement.

VET CLUB THROWS "CASUALTY LIMP"

Vocational Men Promise Exceptional Struggle—General Pershing and Wilson Send Official O. K.

Fall in for the Veterans' Vocational club dance Saturday evening at the gymnasium starting pronto at 8 o'clock. One legged world war veterans will throw away crutches for one "fleeting hour" in the best struggle, so 'tis claimed of the year, and the entire college is cordially invited to join in the jolly festivities.

"Ensnare the fair co-eds of Idaho and attend" is the statement made by General John J. Pershing in an official bulletin issued from headquarters, and stamped with the official approval of President Wilson and Dean French.

The Veterans' Vocational Club, now an integral part of all university activities in their first dance have worked hard to make it a highly enjoyable and delightful affair. The vocational students in making their dance all college have set a precedent which will be followed each year, thus giving the dancers of the university of Idaho another event to be looked forward to throughout the entire college year.

As the Veterans' Vocational Club is an ex-military organization, the dance will not be a military "struggle," and students can wear anything not extrajudicial by society.

OFFER FIVE MONTHS FORESTRY SHORT TERM

Dean Miller Announces Longer Course Next Year for Benefit Of Forest Rangers

Dean F. A. Miller of the School of Forestry announced recently that next year a five months short course for forest rangers would be offered instead of the three months course offered the past few years. "After having experimented with both types of courses we have come to the conclusion that the five months term will best meet present needs," Dean Miller stated.

"The schedule will be arranged in two parts, however, so that men who wish to enter in January for three months only will be thus enabled to do so. Next year, by virtue of our cooperative arrangement with the school of agriculture, ranger course students will have the opportunity to take valuable work offered in the agricultural short course."

FORMER REED COLLEGE PRESIDENT SPOKE HERE

Dr. W. G. Foster, until recently president of Reed's College of Portland, Oregon, and one of the leading educators in the west, spoke at an assembly Wednesday morning, on "The Spirit of the New West."

In his talk Dr. Foster gave some new ideas to the student body of what the west of today typifies, and it was given in an offhand whimsical way which added much to its interest.

LINDLEY ASKED TO SERVE ON COMMITTEE

Prominent Alumni of Eastern University Named to Arrange for Centennial Celebration

President Ernest H. Lindley has been named as one of a committee of 30 of the prominent alumni of the University of Indiana which will have in charge the arranging of a celebration of the centennial of the founding of that institution. Among other prominent members of the same committee are Dr. David Star Jordan, chancellor-emeritus of Leland-Stanford, Dr. E. A. Bryan, Idaho commissioner of education, and President E. O. Holland of Washington State College.

Professor Lewis and Miss Jensen were present at an alumni meeting at St. Maries last week.

FROSH

- Your second semester dues are long past due. The Gem of the Mountain space must be paid for. It must be or there will be no space devoted to the class of '23 in this year's annual.
- Be a sport; show your pep; play the game and pay up. Don't be one who sits back and lets the other fellow do it; your dollar will buy just as much as his if turned in to the treasurer. Shine up that rusty dollar and give it to Port Arthur or the collector in your house or group.
- We need the Money.

GRAINGER CONCERT IS WELL RECEIVED

Noted Musician Features Contemporary Composers in Brilliant Concert

What is considered by many to be the musical climax of the collegiate year came Saturday night when Percy Grainger, the noted Australian-American pianist, played a well received concert in the university auditorium before a large and appreciative audience.

Grainger Likes Audience

"One of the most delightfully receptive audiences that I ever played before," was the manner in which Mr. Grainger characterized the enthusiastic audience which nearly filled the large hall, when he was interviewed after the recital. He continued, "It is most unusual to find such a responsive audience in the west. I was both surprised and charmed." He also spoke of the excellent impression made on him by the school in general.

Program is Modern

In his program Grainger featured the works of contemporary English and American composers, giving his own productions, both original and adapted, a prominent place. With the exception of a Bach-Busoni "Chaconne," and Liszt's "Twelfth Hungarian Rhapsody," every number was modern.

In his opening number, the "Chaconne," which was a florid adaptation to the piano of a Bach melody, Grainger exhibited his wonderful technique, and at the same time made it plain that his strong fort was in simpler and more lyrical tunes. His interpretation of the number was in every way satisfying, and created such enthusiasm in his audience that he was called back on the stage several times.

What proved to be the most popular number on the program was a "Juba Dance," by Dett. The striking rhythmical pattern of the piece, and the haunting, almost monotonous melody, made an instant appeal to the jazz-stuffed college folk.

Last Group Good

In his last group, made up entirely of either original works, or arrangements of the pianist himself, Grainger shown most brilliantly.

Just what the appeal in the country folk-songs and dance tunes is cannot easily be expressed. Nevertheless, they never fail to charm alike the musically informed and the musically beknighted. Mr. Grainger's adaptations were so arranged as to bring out in the fullest manner all of the innate delightfulness of these British folk-tunes.

Mr. Grainger responded to encores several times.

Artist Course Next Year

The Grainger concert concludes the Artist Course for the present school year. According to the reports of the management, the course has been most successful, financially, and in every other way. Plans are now being formulated to bring a similar, and possibly larger, course to the University next year.

UNIVERSITY EXTENSION DIVISION ISSUES DIRECTORY

The University Extension Division has recently issued a Purebred Livestock Directory, listing over eight hundred breeders of livestock in the state. The name of breeder, his address, breed of stock, and other highly useful information is contained in the directory, which will be distributed throughout the state.

Mrs. J. A. Harsh of Deary visited at the Gamma P. house last week.

IDAHO TO SEND TWO TEAMS TO COAST MEET

IF SUFFICIENT MATERIAL DEVELOPED, THREE MAY BE SENT

GOOD MATERIAL AVAILABLE

Gerlough, McCallie, and Van Housen Included in Those Likely To Go

That Idaho will probably send three teams to the relay carnival which is to be held in Seattle on April 24, is the substance of reports now in circulation on the campus which have been evolved from the results of the workouts that have been conducted for some weeks by the University track prospects.

Will Be Five Races

The Seattle event will consist of five races, a 100, a 220, a 440, a half mile, and a mile, all of which will be relays. Idaho will surely enter teams in two of these races, the 440, and half, and if the expected material developed, will probably send a team to compete for the 220, according to T. D. Matthews, track coach.

No Accurate Dope Yet

As yet no official announcement has been made as to who the personnel of the various teams will be. When interviewed on the subject T. D. Matthews, track coach, said: "The weather has been so bad so far during the track season that we have as yet been unable to get on the track. All of our work has been done on the campus. None of the men have had the stop-watch on them yet, so we do not know just exactly what any of the prospects are doing."

Many Promising Prospects

Campus dopsters have eight men as the most promising of the runners now out who would be eligible for relay work. Leading this list are Van Housen, McCallie, Harsh, and Gerlough. Four others who are reported to be showing up in fine shape are: Penwell, Hughes, Eaton and Morris.

FORMER IDAHOANS MEET IN THE FAR EAST

Word has been received at the University of a small, but appreciated Idaho reunion that occurred during the Easter season in Portland, Maine. Misses Jennie Peterson and Bernadine Adair went to the northern city to spend the Easter vacation. While there their pictures were published in a local paper. Brooks Weber, who chanced to be in the same city at the same time, noticed the likenesses in the publication, and immediately proceeded to hunt them up. The two young ladies are attending the New England Conservatory of Music. Mr. Weber is a student at the University of Pennsylvania.

Notice

The Y. W. C. A. will entertain for the "big and little sisters" at Ridenbaugh Hall Wednesday afternoon at five o'clock. All Y. W. members are requested to attend.

HISTORY OF IDAHO ON LIBRARY SHELF

Famous Old Landmarks Are Features of New Book On Gem State

Unique both in form and contents is a history of Idaho territory published in 1884 which has just been obtained by the University of Idaho library. Sketches of early territorial scenes and a map containing 14 counties instead of the present 44 are among the unusual features of the volume.

The old Overland hotel, the Pinney store labeled "books and stationary," the residences of Milton Kelly and C. W. Moore, and the "home villa of General L. F. Cartee" are Boise sketches given full-page display in the book. The Weisgerber Brothers brewery is given first place among scenes captioned "In and about Lewiston."

Acknowledgment of profuse gratitude to the Hon. Milton Kelly of Boise and to the Idaho Statesman for the use of its files is made in an editorial preface.

THE TRAINING AMENDMENT PURPOSE

"Criticism of the 'I' awarding amendment which will come up for a vote on Wednesday is based on a mistaken conception of the purpose of the new provision. This amendment, or any other constitutional provision for that matter, will not alone improve conditions in the University one whit. Enforcement of training regulations lies wholly with the coach and the student body, not with the constitution of the A. S. U. I.

An athlete who breaks training should be dropped from the squad by the coach and spurned by the student body. According to reports, Coach Thomas Kelley is a man who will act with speed and decision in such a case. It remains to be seen whether the students will play their part as well. If the students can surmount personal friendships, fraternity relationships, and petty politics in their allegiance to the University of Idaho, the athlete who does not train will be shamed as he should be.

It is not expected that the proposed amendment to the constitution will accomplish what can come only from the coach and the students. It is offered only as an instrument of justice. At present the Athletic Board has no recourse but to vote an "I" to any athlete who meets the minimum requirements called for in the constitution. The man who breaks training in the season, whether dropped from the squad or not, must be given his letter. This is manifestly unjust to the men who earn their letters fairly, and it reflects badly upon the integrity and honor of the athletic insignia. The amendment which will be voted on Wednesday merely attempts to rectify this source of injustice by providing that the athletic board may withhold a letter from a man who has not trained and worked conscientiously throughout the season.

IDAHO DOES NOT WANT A SWIMMING POOL

Such is the natural conclusion one receives after looking over the results of an active campaign just waged to get signers to a petition for an All-College tank. After all the various sheets of the petition had been gone over and the John Henries of those bold enough to attach their signatures tallied up, it was found that Idaho was solidly behind the movement a little less than fifty percent of those registered in the college and possibly fifty per cent of the number in actual attendance now.

Something must be wrong when we stop to realize what this means to the University. We have during the past few months been talking quite vehemently about what we needed in the way of athletics and athletic equipment to make a Greater and Better Idaho. We have just now had the opportunity to help make our college a bigger and better college, and that opportunity was let slip by with only half the students even interested enough to write their names on a sheet of paper signifying they were in favor of a plan to make a wonderful improvement to our university.

Those back of the campaign feel justly discouraged over this failure for what promised to be an overwhelming majority in favor of having a swimming tank on the campus. It is exceedingly doubtful now in the face of this disinterested spirit on the part of the college student body whether the Board of Regents will give the matter serious consideration. Every one was urged repeatedly to sign the petition. It was brought up before two assemblies, it was announced before an A. S. U. I. meeting, and those in charge even went so far as to have a copy of the petition sent to every classroom Friday morning and an announcement made by the faculty members there to be sure and sign it then.

We need to do less talking about the things we need for a greater Idaho and do more when we are given a concrete opportunity to make our college really Greater and Better. We have failed to see Opportunity when it presented itself for us to seize.

WATER POLO OR TENNIS?

Did you ever notice the picturesque little pools that all but cover the one paved tennis court of which the University can boast after every rain? And, having noticed them did you ever try to play tennis on the court? Better try it some time, the water is fine. It would make an excellent scene for a water polo match.

It is no bodies business but the students to keep the courts in condition. If we all continue to pass the buck our courts will soon be unusable, and everybody will be yelling bloody murder because it is time for the spring tournament and there are no courts to hold the affair on.

Lets not wait for campus day to fix up the courts. Why not start now? A days work by a dozen men would put the courts in good shape.

CAMPUS ROOMER

The "Muckers" bust on Friday evening was one of the rarest social events that the campus has enjoyed in many a day. The lovely and unique decorations were the feature of the evening. In the right-hand corner was a rustic bower over which presided Jone, a brown-skinned debutante of the sturdy barn-yard variety, kindly loaned to the Muckers by the Military Department. The wet corner was graced by a relic of the bench and bar society. Here non-refillable waiters dispensed drinks to the guests. (The kicks were put in the opposite corner.) The other corner was decorated in wearing apparel kindly loaned by the Betas, with bunks from the D. G. house. Chaperons gracefully draped the wrong corner.

Miss Ken Matthewson (knee Hunter) of Lewiston, and Orofino, has been visiting at the Sigma Nu house the past week end, and attended the varsity ball Friday evening. When our reporter asked Miss Anderson for her impressions of this institution, she said: "I think Bunny Taylor is awful cute, don't you?" Miss Anderson contemplates attending this college next fall, but said that all her dates were taken with the Kappas.

That lighting effect, a la candle, that the Muckers effected, reminded us of that famous old nursery rhyme: "Twinkle, twinkle little star How I wonder where you are, Are you on the D. G. side, Or with the Kappas do you abide? Where in Hector have you strayed? Really, you seem quite misled! Hey, turn on them 'lectric lights Those candles may be alright, In fact, blow 'em out and do your worst, Only let me find by pardner first."

An Appreciation

The theatre-going set of the University wish to take this opportunity to express their admiration of an actor of distinction and ability, who plays to crowded houses every other Tuesday night. (He would play every night, but the authorities wouldn't let him.) In the role of the stalwart hero which he invariably plays, he has introduced several innovations. Of course there were men before him who have tried to shake women, with varying degrees of success, but his unique method of impressing the heroine of his undying devotion by shaking her, has been pronounced by critics as no less than epoch making.

My parents told me not to smoke:

I don't!

Or listen to a naughty joke:

I don't!

They told me it was wrong to wink:

STUDENTS.

There are two classes of students the ones who come here to do something and the ones who come here to do everybody. Students, like the pros, all have the aspects of humans, they talk, laugh at anything or nothing, go to dances and write home for more money (education has gone up, especially higher education). Some of the students have family trees which have been carefully pruned and cultivated for the last two hundred years, there are other students in the University who could not even find a good sized bush in their past if they went back twice that far. In fact one student looked up his family tree for two generations and got hit in the beezee with a coconut, thrown by what Darwin called the Missing Link. Another one went on a similar hunt and on his way down town a couple of mules hailed him as their long lost brother.

The student who comes here to get something done and to fit himself for a place in life usually has little or no money. He wears his old clothes, which are also his new ones, he foregoes all social life, works in the labs and down town to garner in the extra shekels. The girls call him a poor stick and the high flying fellows say he is a hick. The pros say that he is a good skate and give him a C average when the year rolls by.

The student who comes here to do everybody, borrows his Dad's car and is given a bid to a fraternity. He learns to play poker all night and to miss his eight o'clock's the next day. He develops the art of drawing the cue ball across the table and perfects some brand new alibies to feed the faculty. He attends all the dances, takes in three picture shows a week, all with dates and the confectionery afterwards. He has three new suits per year. He tolerates the other class of student on the campus till the week before exams, when he loves him like a brother. The pros call this type of student a nuisance and give him an A average at the end of school so that they will be rid of him in three more years.

The student who comes here to do something, finally graduates at the end of the four hardest years of his life, and gets a job teaching a bunch of young prodigies in some obscure high school for eighteen seeds a week. The other student falls heir to a soft snap in his uncles' office and in time becomes one of the foremost men in business life.

Our idea of heaven is a place where the first mentioned class of students ride around in twelve cylindered autos, drinking Kelly specials, an over-seeing the other class of students while they wash test tubes and digging cellars and raking lawns, etc., etc., etc. It would also include the privilege of jabbing a few of the more liberal minded (liberal with C's and D's) pros with red hot pitchforks.

OH! BOTHER!

History tells us of the guy that roosted on the top of a stone pillar for several years. It also makes some mention of the early Christians who had to fight the lions for the amusement of the emperors. Popular Science contained a picture of some fanatic in India who expected to receive surcease for his soul by lying on a bed of spikes.

But take it from me, Bo, there ain't none of them guys what has got nothing on us when we have to start studying again. Talk about suffering and mortification. If we received credit on the Heavenly books for the effort that it costs us to settle down to the old grind again, we would have a record good enough for a charge account for the next three million years.

SOCIAL & PERSONAL

Miss Thelma Hare of Three Forks, Montana, and Miss Leta Firkins of Nampa, Idaho, announced their engagements to Elmer Roberts, Boise, and Ambrose Johnson of Idaho Falls, at Sunday dinner served to Claire Hobson, Oscar Weayer, Genevieve Pringle, Reuben Johnson, Bernice Gleason, Adolph Green, Helen Stevens and Maurice Jackson. The table was charmingly decorated with pink roses and carnations. Many toasts and expressions for their future happiness followed the dinner.

Sunday Sigma Nu entertained at dinner for the Misses Virginia McRae, Fleeta Brennan, Lucy Davis and Gladys Hastie.

Chi Delta Phi entertained Sunday evening at a "fireside" for Helen Bloom, Mercedes Jones, Gladys Clark, Avis Selby, Mary Owings, Leah Faris, Leah Borden, and Verna Wilkinson of Gamma Phi Beta.

Kappa Kappa Gamma entertained at dinner Wednesday evening of last week for Dean Permeal French and her guest, Mrs. Frank Blackinger of Boise.

Mrs. Grace Barker Hulscher and Helen Hamilton of Pullman and Meeka Herschberger of Lewiston were week end guests of Gamma Phi Beta.

Kappa Sigma entertained at dinner Sunday for the Misses McKenna, Alebaugh, Chrisman, Wilkinson and Selby.

Dean French, Mrs. Blackinger, and Miss Margaret Blackenger were dinner guests of Kappa Sigma Tuesday.

Eva Niel left Sunday to teach for two weeks in the high school at Genesee, during the teacher scarcity there.

The Sophomore Frolic, scheduled for April 24, will be one of the large all-college dances of the year. The Sophomores have been planning their dance for several weeks and every indication points to a real good dance, with many new and original features.

Mules, muckers, skeletons, old clothes, grape juice, pretzels, and good music proved a joy giving environment to the pleasure seekers who swarmed to the Muckers' Stampede in the Gym last Friday evening. "Buffalo Bill" and the famous Bill Hart had nothing on Paul Rowell, "Duddy" Gowen, Horton McCallie, and Keith Horning who showed their marvelous ability at hurling bullets, and of the female attendance Theda Bara Hunter was beyond question the most prominent figure at the dance, due to the fact that this is her first appearance on the Idaho campus. It is to be regretted that Miss Bara did not appreciate the hospitality of the hosts. She refused to make herself tight turban and evening wrap.

Alpha Kappa Epsilon announces the pledging of A. Reuben Johnson of Lewiston.

Charles Darling, A. J. Priest and "Doc" Scott were dinner guests of Phi Delta Theta Tuesday.

Karl Bonham of Wardner spent the week end at the Beta house and attended the "Muckers' Ball."

Ralph Morrow, "Mugs" Shenberger and Ted Holderman spent the week end in Lewiston.

Lottie Works, '18, of Kappa Kappa Gamma was a guest of Gertrude Stephenson over the week end. Miss Works will soon leave for the east to take up an advanced course in music under Percy Grainger and she made the trip from Kamiah to hear the recital given by the famous musician Saturday evening.

Drs. W. C. Stalker and L. E. Lewis of Lewiston were dinner guests of Sigma Nu last Tuesday.

Mary McKenna and Clarinda Boder attended the Junior Prom at W. S. C. Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Livingston and Misses Lions, Oylear, Collins and Christen were dinner guest of Alpha Kappa Epsilon Sunday.

Dr. R. C. Peterson of Lewiston was a Tuesday dinner guest of Phi Delta Theta.

Kappa Kappa Gamma entertained at dinner Wednesday evening of last week for Dean Permeal French and her guest, Mrs. Frank Blackinger, of Boise.

Lottie Davies and Ruth Brockway of Zeta Phi sorority in Pullman were guests over the week end of the Kappa Kappa Gamma house.

Miss Olive Merritt, Miss Manilla Reed, of Chi Delta Phi, and Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Fulton of Seattle, Wash., were Sunday dinner guests at the Beta Theta Pi house.

Gladys Molloy, ex-'22, of Kappa Kappa Gamma has resumed her course at the Lewiston Normal after a leave of absence of several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Fulton were dinner guests at the Beta house Friday evening. Mr. Fulton is a member of Beta Theta Pi from the Wooster chapter at Wooster, Ohio.

Messrs. Creelman, McDougall, Simons and Kerin spent the week end in Lewiston.

Professor Brown was a luncheon guest at the Beta house Friday noon.

Norma Dow, '19, of Kappa Kappa Gamma has accepted a position in Dean Eldridges' office for the remainder of the school year.

Vernor Clements is visiting in south Idaho, returning the latter part of the week.

Grace Vogelson of Kappa Kappa Gamma spent the week end at her home in Lewiston.

Captain Bridge and the Rev. W. H. Bridge were dinner guests of Beta Theta Pi Thursday evening.

Ralph Breshars and Alfred Kinney attended the Kappa province of Phi Delta Theta convention at Whitman college, Walla Walla, last Friday and Saturday.

Ralph Glasgow was a dinner guest at the A. K. E. house Tuesday.

Chi Delta Phi entertained at dinner Wednesday for Messrs. Brown Cushman and Chislett.

Gladys Channel of Kappa Kappa Gamma attended the Junior Prom in Pullman Saturday evening. She was the guest of Zeta Phi sorority over the week end.

Mrs. Crandall of Spokane was a Wednesday luncheon guest at the Gamma Phi Beta house.

W. S. Storms was a dinner guest of Kappa Sigma Wednesday.

Sigma Nu announces the pledging of Gustav Bjork of Lewiston.

F. N. Holland, H. Gittens, G. O. Penwell and Geo. Wedgewood were Sig Alph guests at Pullman Sunday.

Pat Perrine and Zella Ellis were Sunday dinner guests of Chi Delta Phi.

Lewis Pritchard was a Sig Alph dinner guest Tuesday evening.

Raymond Mathieson was a dinner guest of the Sig Alphas Thursday evening.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon entertained at dinner Sunday for Dr. and Mrs. C. L. von Ende and the Misses Reich, Easley, Sweeney and Salter.

EX-SERVICE MEN, NOTICE

Under an Act of Congress March 3, 1919, the Secretary of the Treasury is empowered to provide hospital and sanatorium facilities for discharged, sick and disabled soldiers, sailors and marines, and the U. S. Public Health Service will furnish relief to any honorably discharged veteran, male or female, who was discharged on or after October 6, 1918, and is seeking treatment for disability due to illness or injury incurred previous to discharge from the service and in line of duty.

Due to the fact that the treatment provided for in the above Act will not be furnished unless applied for within one year from date of discharge, The American Legion urges men who are in the above class to file application for treatment without delay. Even if the present condition of the man does not hamper his earning power, the application filed now will entitle him to treatment in the future, should his disability return, and his capacity to earn his living be reduced.

In making this application, W. R. I. form 526 must be filled out. These may be obtained at any local post of The American Legion in Idaho. If the data on the above form shows the applicant is entitled to treatment, the Medical Officer of the Public-Health Service directs him to report to the nearest Relief Station for an examination. Whenever possible, the patient is treated at the hospital at the Relief Station. If his condition makes it impossible for him to travel, arrangements are made for his treatment at his home. Travel expenses are paid in all cases, and under certain conditions, the wages lost while absent from his occupation.

Further information may be obtained from the adjutant of any local post of The American Legion, or the Chief Medical Advisor, Bureau of War Risk Insurance, Washington, D. C., through the Surgeon General of the Public Health Service. The envelope should bear the following address: "Surgeon General of the Public Health Service, Hospital Division, Washington, D. C."

PROFESSORS.

Professors have two purposes, one to torment the student to the point where he would commit murder, if killing a prof was more than a misdemeanor, and the other is to jam a little knowledge into heads which already contain more (censored) than is good for them.

Most professors have the outward aspect of human beings, the male professors have legs and walk upright, the female professors have skirts so we dont know what they walk on. They all have a remarkable gift of gab, except one of the Deans, and one of them was seen to laugh in class, once. If the average person is entitled to one good hard laugh a day and a big smile every hour, we bet that some of the professors on the campus crack a sickly grin once every 29th of February.

There are two colors of professors. One kind is white all the way thru, and the other is of the shade that makes an Irishman ready to whip the biggest man that ever walked. The white kind of profs are those that were students themselves once, and haven't forgotten it. They are willing to overlook a little thing like sleeping in late on snowy mornings, provided it doesn't happen more than once a week, or to excuse a fellow for missing the Sunday afternoon train when he has spent the week end with his best girl. They are the kind of profs who forget to assign a lesson for the day after vacation and are not afraid to laugh in class when somebody pulls a good one, even if it is on the prof.

The other shade of prof is the fellow who takes up class two minutes before the bell rings and gives you a zero if you are not there when he starts the barrage. He also gives a zero when you sleep in, no matter if you tell him you were sick, or that wife's stepmother caught her wooden leg in the sidewalk and you had to run all over town to find a crowbar to pry her up. His is the kind that springs a quizz the afternoon that vacation begins and assigns an extra ten pages for the morning after. They never smile, never deal in realities but continually hary on theory and stuff long forgotten by the practical world.

The white profs either die or get a better job, but the other kind neither die or go away, they hang on until they become dried up non-entities, dealing misery to all who know them. They flourish like the evergreens on the mountains and last like the rock of Gibraltar.

Vacation is over and once more the lucky devils who were able to convince Dad that it was cheaper to go home than to remain at school for the week, are with us again and are lording it all over us. They not only insist on a full description of the good things they had to eat while at home but also remind us of the dates they had with our best girl, while back in the best li'l ol' town on earth.

TABLEAU OF LIVING PICTURES ON FRIDAY

UNDER DIRECTION OF ART DEPARTMENT FAMOUS PAINTINGS WILL BE POSED BY STUDENTS

ALL HILL GROUPS ACTIVE

Pictures to Be Accompanied By Music and to Be Reproduced With an Idea To Correct Color Effects

The Living Picture Tableau will be presented in the University auditorium Friday, April 16, at eight o'clock under the auspices of the Art Department.

The tableau will be posed by Idaho students of the various organizations and clubs on the campus. Each tableau represents a famous painting, the picture being posed with the idea of reproducing the background, lines and color as nearly like the original as possible. Every painting will be accompanied by music which will harmonize with the theme of the painting. The musical numbers will naturally be varied, ranging from orchestra selections to a whistling solo. Among other musical numbers will be a vocal solo by Natalie Teckenberg, and a violin solo by Mr. Dickenson.

Accomplish Dual Purpose
The tableau will have two values for all Idaho students and friends. They will afford an opportunity by which the audience may familiarize themselves with American paintings as well as some of the master pieces of the ages and will also afford an opportunity in assisting the art department as the net proceeds will go to the department.

Result of Many Hours Work
The art girls under the instruction of Miss Palmer, have been busy reproducing a composite background with crayons for some of the pictures. The program will be varied and something entirely different than anything ever attempted at Idaho before.

The Program
The complete program follows:
Kappa Kappa Gamma—"Madam La Brun and Her Daughter," posed by Mary Finnigan and Inez Sanger.
Chi Delta Phi—"Hope," posed by Lettie Smith.

Gamma Phi Beta—"The Knight's Vow," the knights being posed by Jean Richards, and Lea Paris, also Eleanor Paris, Albertine Benoit, Katherine Stanford, Bernice Babcock, Lola Chricman, Hallie DeCamp, Lila Harsh, Verha Wilkinson, Helen Bloom, Helen Roberts, and Esther Motie.

Beta Theta Pi—"Boyhood of Lincoln," posed by Abe Goff.

Alpha Kappa Epsilon—"Greek Wrestlers," posed by Stanley Phillippi and Gerald Friedman.

Y. W. C. A.—"Song of the Lark," Galatha Hatfield.

Women's League—"Dance of the Nymphs," Clarinda Bodler, Leah Bordon, Vernice Graybill, Helen Frantz, Mildred Dowling, Elaine Wheeler, Zella Ellis, Phoebe Jane Hunt, Lella Lyon, Doris Tipton, Elizabeth Woods, Avis Selley and Verna Wilkinson.

Economies Club—"Syndics of the Cloth Hall," posed by Ord Chrisman, Charles Gerlough, Carl Nagel, Boyd Cornelison, Nash and L. C. Stenger.

De Smet—"The Angelus," posed by Margaret Blackinger and Al Kinney.

English Club—"Pot of Basil" or "Isabella".
Home Economics—"The Spinner," posed by Sylvana Pechanec.

Engineer's Club—"Song of the Arrows," posed by Fred Veatch, Louis Cady, August Schroeder and Raymond Harsch.

Ridenbaugh Hall—"The Gleaners," posed by Alene Martin, Marie Hummel and Naomi Chapman.

Women's Faculty Club—"Whistler's Mother," posed by Miss Mathieu. Andre Del Sartos' "Madonna," posed by Mrs. Angel, the Angel Twins, Mrs. von Ende, Pauline and Joan Bridge.

All high school and university students are admitted for twenty-five cents, others for thirty-five.

Margaret Barrie, Mary Sanders, Joyce Steele, of the W. S. C. chapter of Theta, were over for the concert Friday, and visiting at the Chi Delta Phi house.

ALUMNI SECTION

KELLEY DEMANDS SANDPOINT WILL "MADE" ELEVEN CAMPAIGN ABLY

Prospective Football Mentor Takes Firm Stand Against "Paid" Teams

Belief in clean athletics is vigorously expressed by Thomas Kelley, the former Chicago football star who is to direct Idaho's 1920 gridiron destinies, in a letter recently received by W. B. Kjosness, president of the university alumni association.

"Made" Teams Essential
"Made" football teams, not "paid" elevens are essential if an institution is to win its way to lasting gridiron reputation, in the opinion of the recently appointed Idaho mentor.

Extracts from his letter follows:
"Note your letter of March 17th, with much interest and appreciate the attitude that the alumni are taking for the betterment of athletics at the University. I feel sure with such a well organized machine Idaho has brighter prospects for the future in athletics."

"A football team, built of splendid material and well tutored by an able coach, can still be a failure as a winning combination if said team has not had instilled into it a real fighting spirit. This as it seems to me is both the duty of the coach and of the alumni. Any University football team to be successful must either have a very able coach with an unlimited quality of splendid material or average material with an unusual amount of support and backing from the University student body and the alumni at large. The coach needs your utmost confidence. I am a great believer in clean athletics. I have upon occasions found several institutions who were so overly anxious for winning teams that they have used anything but legitimate methods of securing material for these teams. Paid teams in my estimation have not the spirit and co-ordination behind them and crumble and decay much faster than made teams."

ALUMNI PERSONALS
Mary Nodde and Margaret Rawlings, both of the class of 1917, are teaching at Deer Park, Washington.

Edna Herrington, '18, is teaching at Harrington, Washington.

Jessie Starr, '16, teaches cooking in the schools of Spokane.

Walter E. Sandelius, '19, sends in his dues from Wadham College, Oxford, England. Mr. Sandelius, who is Idaho's latest Rhodes scholar, has only recently taken up his Oxford residence.

Mr. E. G. Nettleton, '19, graduate of the College of Engineering, is instrument man on the Washington State Highway in a section extending from Central Ferry, on the Snake River, to Dodge Station, twelve miles west of Pomeroy.

Mr. E. C. Simpson, '17, graduate of the College of Engineering, has been advanced to the position of resident engineer for the Washington Highway Department with headquarters at Connel.

Teachers Get Raise.
News Item:—"Carpenters to get $10.25 per day in Chicago."
News Item:—"Plasterers get increase in pay in Denver, scale now to be $10 per day of eight hours."
News Item:—"Riveters in ship yards receiving $75 per week, six hours a day, double time for overtime and holidays."

And after we have spent some four or more long years at College at a cost of about a thousand dollars per year, some teachers' agency will have the nerve to tell us of a swell teaching position, only twelve subjects to teach, with the magnificent salary of $20 per week, and by gravy, what else will he be good for?

Dean Cockerill Praises Vigor and Enthusiasm of Newest Club

Vigor and enthusiasm are certain to characterize the future activities of the Sandpoint university club, according to Dean O. P. Cockerill of the university law school, who attended the club's organization meeting held Thursday evening.

"Splendid spirit was displayed by all of those in attendance at the meeting," said Dean Cockerill today, "and my personal conviction is that this enthusiasm is likely to be sustained very creditably. The model constitution and by-laws prepared by the alumni association were adopted unanimously after one or two minor changes which in no way affect the 'Greater Idaho' program."

Dunkle Made President
M. B. Dunkle, who was elected president of the club, Miss Katharine Jensen, head of the university home economics department, Superintendent Breckenridge, the Rev. Livingston, Dr. Floyd G. Wendle and Dean Cockerill were among those who made brief talks at a banquet given at the Sandpoint high school under the direction of Miss Helga Anderson.

Idaho, Washington, Washington State, Oberlin, Ohio Wesleyan, Ohio State, Texas, Tennessee, Rush Medical and California are among the institutions which have representatives in the Sandpoint organization.

THE OPEN FORUM

Fellow Students:—There has been a great deal of discussion lately over the athletic situation and over the amount of training certain athletes have done during the seasons their respective sports are being conducted. The basket ball team has taken a commendable stand on the topic that has been discussed. However there is one other thing that needs mention at this time, while the alumni and all former students are backing the University and all college activities.

For a great many years there has been gossip of some coaches favoring this or that group, or some particular athlete. This has not been confined to any one coach or to any one staff of coaches. It has been a common source of bickering and ill feeling for the last five years to my knowledge and seemed to be going strong when I came to the institution. Perhaps some of it was true, so any rate the downfall of some of Idaho's strongest teams has been ascribed to this cause and on one occasion, not many years back, it was open and evident to all the university that this had a material effect on the standing of one of the strongest teams we have ever had. It has given rise to strong antagonism between the groups on the campus and to members of the teams engaged in all of the major sports and to the same cause can be ascribed two thirds of the petty jealousies that keep the undergraduates of the best college in the west from being the friends they should be.

As long as this thing exists we cannot give to our Alma Mater all that is best in us and really get down to work as a unit for the good of old Idaho. We must forget that we are members of this or that group or not members of any group and think of ourselves as all members of the big family of Idaho students that is to make the name of the university one to be spoken of with respect wherever colleges or college athletics are mentioned. Forget that the captain of your team is of a group that used to be an old time enemy of the group that you belong to and lets all get together and make it mighty hard pickins for the coach or player that tries to push one man ahead merely because he likes the design of the pin the man is wearing. That may be all right in private life or in personal dealings with one another but it doesn't tend to improve the character of the teams we are putting out or make college life any easier for one another. Why not have a committee of athletic men picked to hear and act on complaints of this kind and working in conjunction with the proper authorities remove the person that is to blame for all or any of the causes of dissension that may arise in the future. I think the men and women of the university are big enough to recognize the true state of affairs and to act impartially in regards to this matter. At any rate why not give it a trial; it cannot be any worse than the present state of affairs and it may improve the conditions that now exist. So lets all together for a winning team in every branch of athletics, a closer friendship between all the students of the university, and a BIGGER and BETTER IDAHO.

B. A. McDevitt.

The Junior Prom is past and the new class officers have been seated but there still remain a few delinquents whom we are unable to reach in no other way than the Argonaut. Therefore we take pleasure in announcing said delinquents and also pleasure in praising the Delta Gammas and the S. A. E.'s for being 100 per cent perfect, in their remittances. The A. K. E.'s, Betas and Kappas are tied for second. If one member in either organization would pay his dues his organization would then be on the honor roll. Why not shell through with 100 pennies?

For third place the Gamma Phi's, Phi Deltis and Chi Deltis are all tied. Six hundred pennies would place all of these on the roll of honorable mention. Why not?

Now for the remainder very little can be said so that to prevent any discomfort read the list following and remit either to R. N. Irving or Fred Cline. Contributions may be made by check, which, if left in a sealed envelope and placed on the bulletin board, will receive prompt and courteous attention. For the benefit of those just joining the class, don't be backward:

Marie Anderson, Alice Bessie, Fletta Brennan, Frank Blackinger, Body Brigham, Howard Campbell, Ord Crisman, Jeanette Clarke, Boyd Cornelison, Bernice Cornelison, William Carder, Mary Clark Gertrude Davis, Virginia Dermott, Charles Darling, Mariett Ensign, Lenore Elliot, J. Paul Evans, C. C. Evans, Margaret Fanning, Paul F. Green, Fred Graf, Kenneth M. Hunter, Paul Hinchcliff, Raymond Harsh, Robert Hibbard, R. S. Patrie, Clyde Redinger, Alice Sheffield, Freda Soulen, George Space, Edith Starr, William Sutherland, Walter Smith, J. E. Talbot, Garde Wood, J. H. Winegardner, Francis Young.

We need the money so let's pay up! Right away!
Signed,
Junior Class.

"THE OLD GUARD"

Why not let the dead rest in peace. In a recent editorial in these columns a suggestion was made that a tradition be reinstated which at one time was one of the biggest events of the school and which at another time gave the fair name of the University of Idaho a stain from which it took several years to recover. True it is that it was an honored tradition at one time, and that the reason for untimely end was due to its poor leadership. For those who do not know the wherefore of these remarks the organization known as the Old Guard inadvertently played the Star Spangled Banner and performed other antics imitating the military department on the annual inspection day. Result—Idaho was ranked last among the Universities and Colleges of the United States which received government support because of their military department.

I do not question the right of any tradition which in no way harms the University, but I do question the right of one which so affected the standing of the institution to the extent that if the performance were again repeated the government would

AN ORATORICAL TWIRLER.

One of the most perfect examples of American cussing that the writer has ever listened in on occurred the other night at the Moscow er-er-er, English hall. It seems that some poor boob, who is a base ball aspirant, had had the chance to go home for the holidays, and there was a girl who was wild to have him there, and Mother had made up a lot of pies, etc., and this guy passed it all up because his arm was sore and he wanted to stay here and work it into shape thro vacation.

It snowed Monday, and Tuesday it rained and snowed, Wednesday it rained, snowed and blowed. Thursday it did all those things and threw in a sleet storm for good measure. Friday the sun shone, for about five minutes somewhere in Hawaii, and Saturday the weather man made a mixture of every thing in stock and gave it to us all in a gob. And that's why this bird was giving us fellows such a beautiful commentary on Moscow weather.

BOOKLET ON SUMMER SESSION CAN NOW BE HAD

Dean Eldridge announces that the illustrated booklet of the summer session of the University is now ready and can be had at his office. Interest in the summer session offered by the college is keener than usual this year, and several new courses have been offered for those who plan to attend.

One of the new features of this year's summer course will be a weeks conference of the Smith-Hughes teachers of agriculture, which conference will be under the charge of M. S. Lewis, state director of vocational education and Prof. C. B. Wilson, supervisor of vocational agriculture. This conference is slated for the closing week of the session, and it is expected a large number of people will be on hand for this feature of the summer term.
