FOOTBALL OUTLOOK BRIGHT

Thousands Go To Put Idaho On Football Map.

With every prospect for the coming year being the most glorious in its history, the University of Idaho will today open its doors to the incoming of an ample class of 1924 and to the return of the legions of loyal followers of the silver and gold who are returning to spend another collegiate year in the halls of their Alma Mater.

"Despite the loss of a noble and able head in the person of Dr. E. H. Lindley, the University is driving toward the opening of the next school year with a force that it seems may not be stopped short of splendid achievement," were the recent words of a prominent campus personage.

During the past summer the campus has been improved and beautified by the building of stretches of cement walk and by the erection of lights on the campus.

A Men's dormitory has been erected at a cost running close to six figures, which will furnish accommodations for one hundred men.

An annex has been obtained for Ridenbaugh Hall, the women's home, which, it is thought, will eliminate all danger of a shortage in quarters for the Idaho girls. Miss Evelyn Butler has been engaged as acting dean of women in the absence of Miss French.

The athletic outlook is most encouraging. With practically all the varsity string from last year back, directed and trained by a coach with a national reputation, equipped with thousands of dollars worth of new accouterments, and fired with the determination to fight and win, it would be hard to picture any other than a victorious season for the silver and gold.

The faculty roster totals twenty more names than last year. Among these new directors of student destinies are many who are known throughout the country for their brilliant scholastic and pedagogic achievements.

This is the roseate outlook that welcomes the incoming class of 1924. The Argonaut wishes to take this opportunity to extend a hearty welcome to the incoming Frosh, and to journalistically slap the back and shake the hand of the returning hords who have trod Idaho's halls in years past.

"I'M FOR IDAHO," SAYS HUTCHISON

As Train Pulls Out Former Idaho Coach Avows Loyalty.

"Tell them that I am for the University first, last, and all the time," was the sentiment voiced by Coach R. F. Hutchinson when asked for a farewell message to the students of the University.

Mr. Hutchinson left a short time ago to take up his work at the Idaho Technical Institute at Pocatello, where he will be director of athletics.

Frosh Football Aspirants. All aspirants for positions on Frosh football squad should report for issuance of equipment to Coach McMillan at the gym on Wednesday, September 15.

HULME RETURNS TO UNIVERSITY

LEAVE OF ABSENCE SPENT IN TRAVEL AND STUDY ABROAD

SIX MONTH IN ITALY

Series Of Interviews On European Travels Arranged For

Edward Maslin Hulme, Dean of the college of letters and sciences, has returned to the University after a years leave of absence, the greater part of which he spent traveling and studying in the countries of southern Europe. Upon hearing the news of his return expressions of great satisfaction have been heard from all who have known him in the years past.

"I am most happy to return to Idaho wonce more, and I am looking forward to the coming year's work with a great deal of pleasure," said Dean Hulme when interviewed by an Argonaut representative.

Of his visit to Europe, three months were spent in Paris, six months in Italy, one month in Spain, and six weeks in London.

During his stay in the British capital, he read in the library of the British Museum, gathering material for his "History of the British People."

"I also started work upon an intensive study of a Lelio Socino, a liberal Italian thinker of the 16th century who has long interested me, and who in a remarkable manner anticipated much that is finest in modern thought," continued Dean Hulme.

"In this connection I was permitted to examine the archives of the Inquisition at Venice, which are now kept in the Church of the Frari."

Dean Hulme has been engaged to lecture in various parts of Washington and Idaho during the coming winter on European conditions.

It has been arranged with the Dean to publish later in the year a series of interviews taking up some of the many interesting details of his work in Europe.

PLAYED STELLAR BASKETBALL

Classes In P. E. and Varsity Baseball Under His Jurisdiction.

David MacMillan, a former director of army athletics who last year was sensationally successful as coach of all major sports in the high school at New Brunswick, Maine, has been appointed assistant physical director at the University of Idaho. This was the announcement made today by Coach Thomas Kelley.

Mr. MacMillan, who did his collegiate work at the Savage School of Physical Education, was a brilliant performer in college football and since leaving college he has played professional basketball. His basketball career included a term of service with the famous Troy, New York, team which played through the west without losing a single game.

Freshman football, classes in physical education, and varsity baseball will probably be the principal assignments given MacMillan and he also will assist in basketball and in the physical education classes. He succeeds R. F. Hutchinson, who has accepted the position of head coach at the Idaho Technical Institute.

In the few days that MacMillan has been on the campus, he has already won himself a place in the highest esteem of all that have met him.

SOON ANNOUNCE NEW PRESIDENT

NEW UNIVERSITY HEAD MAY BE MADE PUBLIC SEPT. 13.

DR. BRYAN WILL AGT

Offers Optimistic Statement About University Conditions.

The University of Idaho's new president will not be named before the opening of the college year, was the announcement made by E. A. Bryan, state commissioner of education, who returned to Moscow Saturday night from a meeting of the university executive committee held in Spokane.

"It is quite evident that the election and installation of the president cannot be effected prior to the opening of the first semester," said Dr. Bryan, "but I do not believe that an immediate choice is a matter of vital importance. Thoroughly organized institutions like the university, with experienced men in charge of every department, will operate quite successfully in the absence of a president. It must be remembered, too, that such consequential appointments as this should be made deliberately."

Commissioner Bryan himself has been directed by the university executive committee to assume all necessary responsibility for decisions which must be made immediately. He will be present when the institution opens and will be on the campus frequently in that short period which it is believed will elapse until a president is installed.

FACULTY ENDORSES FEE AUGMENTATION

"No Opposition From Women," Says Miss French.

After deliberative conferences with Dean Hulme, of the college of letters and sciences, Dean Thomson, of the school of mines, Dean Miller of the school of forestry, Permeal J. French, Dean of Women, Dean Iddings, of the school of agriculture, graduate manager A. J. Priest, and executive secretary Parsons, it decided at a late hour Saturday afternoon to tentatively raise the A. S. U. I. fee to $8.50.

All members of the faculty heartily concurred with the plan as presented, of charging the new fee at registration, and in the event that the raise did not meet with the approval of the student body at the first meeting of that organization, to order a refund.

Dean of Women Permeal J. French, when interviewed, stated, "The plan you suggest of raising revenue for the athletic enterprises of the coming year seems to me to be thoroughly sound and reasonable. I think that I can say for the women of the school that on their part there will be no objection to the slight raise in the A. S. U. I. fee."

Three Thousand Goes Into Togs For Idaho's Pigskin Pushers.

"Fight, and more fight, by every member of the student body and football squad, is the only thing that will win Idaho a name in the football world during the coming season," was the opening remark of Coach Thomas Kelley, Idaho's new football mentor, when interviewed in regard to Idaho's football prospects for the coming year.

The tone that pervaded Kelley's talk throughout was one of neither optimism nor pessimism. His central theme was that Idaho can win, but that to win will mean a long, hard fight.

"The world was not made in a day, and no more can a football team be made in one season," he continued. "By hard work this season, we may be able to bring forth a team that will put Idaho on the football map in seasons to come."

Is Up to Team. "However, it is all up to the team," he went on. "A coach cannot make a team alone. He can only teach, organize, and drill. If the individual members of the team will not do their part by giving their most serious thought and earnest effort to the affair, all that the coach can do will be of no avail."

Student Backing Vital. "Another vital aspect of the situation is the backing of the entire student body. Every student must believe in the team and in the coach. Leave condemnation until the season is over. Then, if the coach, or the team have not done all that it was possible to do, get rid of them."

First Games Hard. "It is unfortunate that the first two games on our schedule this year are the hardest of the season. On October 15 we play Washington State College. Barely a month's practice will be available to prepare us for this game, which of all the games of the season we most desire to win. There is, however, no assurance that we will win. Our only hope lies in dogged determination and fight on the part of every man and woman in the University. If we can slip W. S. C. the razor, we will feel that in a large part our efforts have been repaid."

A WORD OF WELCOME FROM IDAHO'S COMMISSIONER OF EDUCATION

In the absence of a president and on behalf of the Board of Regents of the University, which is also the State Board of Education, I desire to bid you welcome to your university—the University of the fair state of Idaho.

With so loyal and competent a faculty the lack of a President for a few months is a much less serious matter than might at first appear, and the Board is fully confident of the ability of the university staff to keep the machinery of instruction and administration running smoothly and efficiently. To do so, however, requires the most loyal cooperation of every true son and daughter of the University, and in this too, the Board has complete confidence.

The search for a new president has gone on diligently during the summer, and will continue to go on, but the same financial limitations that lost President Lindly to are still operative, and this makes the problem a difficult one, since no mediocre man can or will be placed in the president's chair. In the financial situation we can expect no relief until after the convening of the legislature, when it is expected that such provisions will be made as to permit more adequate salaries for faculty and president alike. It is hoped, however, that we may have a president at no distant date.

Finally, a word of counsel—the value of your course at the University will be measured by the work you put into it—work hard, think hard, play hard and you will be worthy sons and daughters of Idaho.

E. A. BRYAN, Commissioner of Education

ATHLETIC CLAIMS NECESSITATE PROMPT RAISE IN A. S. U. I. FEE

INCREASED COST OF ATHLETIC EQUIPMENT AND AUGMENTED GUARANTEES BY OTHER SCHOOLS GIVEN AS REASON FOR RAISE—VOTED ON SOON

Arrangements completed Saturday have resulted in raising the A. S. U. I. registration fee from $6.25 to $8.50. Under the plan announced, this increase of $2.25, virtually all of which will go far the support of Idaho athletic teams, will be paid at once. The matter will be submitted at an early meeting of the student body and, if the scheme is disapproved, an immediate refund will be made.

Those who have endorsed the present plan believe that action is imperatively necessary at this time. The increased cost of athletic equipment of every description, demands being made upon Idaho by other institutions for heavy game guarantees and augmented expenses naturally resulting from the "Greater Idaho" program are only a few of the reasons why additional funds must be had.

It being conceded that an increase must come this semester, all those consulted expressed the belief that

THE SUCCESSFUL YEAR.
A prominent campus personality recently made a statement to the effect that nothing short of splendid achievement can be the result if the trend of University affairs continues in the same course that they are now following. Our worthy friend may be a truthful oracle, and it is profoundly hoped that he is.
Sadly, it is almost irresistibly tempting in times such as these, to shout with great glee, spread jubilantly screaming headlines across the front pages of newspapers, slap ourselves complementarily on the back, and settle ourselves comfortably to watch ourselves leave the rest of the world our dust and fond memories.
Now history tells us of only one fight that was won with bright lights and loud shouting, and that was about the same time that they used to make booze out of water. The days of such miracles are past. This is a material age, and to reach material ends we must put into the reaching just so much of material energy.
All that is contained in the foregoing paragraphs only goes toward saying that if the Idaho students would have the school year of 1920 and 1921 stand out as an epoch in the history of our school, it is largely up to us to supply the drive and energy that will make it so. Many and noble are the men and women who have grown gray while giving the University the start that it now has. The ball has been started rolling in a manner that is most joyous to note, but the uphill pitch is still steep, and the least lessening of the push on our part, will mean that retrogression will result.
Work, fellow student, and more work—drudging work, if you please—is the only thing that will rank Idaho among Universities as we wish to see her ranked. Hard, grinding work in study and class rooms, on gridiron and track, in the shop and in the laboratory is the only medium through which we may reach our desired goal. Play there must be, and plenty of it, but no horse play.
Therefore, let us so direct our activities during the coming months that at the end of the year we will have a glowing consciousness that both ourselves, and our University are better for our having been here.

SOCIETY AND PERSONAL
Oh golly, its almost on us again! IDAHO MEN WIN AT CAMP KEARNEY
Fifteen Alma Mater Cadets Receive Highest Marks in Competitive Scoring System.
Highest honors at the R. O. T. C. camp which closed on July 28th at Camp Kearney, California, were carried by the University of Idaho. University of Idaho cadets triumphed by a large margin over cadets representing the other colleges and universities in the western department, based on daily marking by instructors on a competitive scoring system.
At the six weeks R. O. T. C. camp at Camp Kearney this year, over 1100 cadets received training. Fifteen cadets represented the University of Idaho, five of whom upon receiving degrees from the University, will be given regular commissions. The commanding officer of the camp was Col. E. R. Chrisman, head of the military department at the University.
The excellent performance of the University of Idaho students at the camp this year is only in bearing with records established by Idaho men at training camps before, both during the war and after. This is the first opportunity the Idaho cadets have had to show their superiority on the competitive scoring system.
This system was developed by Colonel Chrisman, and requires the daily scoring of the work of each group by experienced regular army officers and drill masters, of whom there were over 100 at the camp. With a possible 3295 points as a goal, the Idaho cadets in the advanced course scored 3258, the University of California scoring only 4 more points. However, in the Senior basic course, the Idaho men forged far ahead, so that the average for the two won the University of Idaho undisputed first place.
The Idaho men in the advanced course were: P. T. Rowell of Lewiston; T. H. Shrontz of Longmont, Colorado; Carl A. Burke of Star; J. Fred Cline of Moscow; and J. F. Chod of Salmon. The Idaho representatives in the basic course were: G. W. Friedman, J. S. Gill, and H. W. Thomson of Moscow. O. W. Lemon of Middleton; G. J. Gill of Sioux Falls, S. D.; S. W. Robinson of Caldwell; S. THE UNIVERSITY ARGONAUT
Published weekly by the Associated Students of the University of Idaho.
Entered the postoffice at Moscow, Idaho, as second class mail matter.
This edition was published by a special staff consisting of: Gipson Stalker, Editor; Boyd Cornelison, Bus. Mgr.; A. J. Priest, Gustav Bjork, Eric Leithe, Ralph Spears, Gladys Hastie, and Fleeta Brennan, Assistants in various capacities.

THE SUCCESSFUL YEAR.
A prominent campus personality recently made a statement to the effect that nothing short of splendid achievement can be the result if the trend of University affairs continues in the same course that they are now following. Our worthy friend may be a truthful oracle, and it is profoundly hoped that he is.
Sadly, it is almost irresistibly tempting in times such as these, to shout with great glee, spread jubilantly screaming headlines across the front pages of newspapers, slap ourselves complementarily on the back, and settle ourselves comfortably to watch ourselves leave the rest of the world our dust and fond memories.
Now history tells us of only one fight that was won with bright lights and loud shouting, and that was about the same time that they used to make booze out of water. The days of such miracles are past. This is a material age, and to reach material ends we must put into the reaching just so much of material energy.
All that is contained in the foregoing paragraphs only goes toward saying that if the Idaho students would have the school year of 1920 and 1921 stand out as an epoch in the history of our school, it is largely up to us to supply the drive and energy that will make it so. Many and noble are the men and women who have grown gray while giving the University the start that it now has. The ball has been started rolling in a manner that is most joyous to note, but the uphill pitch is still steep, and the least lessening of the push on our part, will mean that retrogression will result.
Work, fellow student, and more work—drudging work, if you please—is the only thing that will rank Idaho among Universities as we wish to see her ranked. Hard, grinding work in study and class rooms, on gridiron and track, in the shop and in the laboratory is the only medium through which we may reach our desired goal. Play there must be, and plenty of it, but no horse play.
Therefore, let us so direct our activities during the coming months that at the end of the year we will have a glowing consciousness that both ourselves, and our University are better for our having been here.

SOCIETY AND PERSONAL
Oh golly, its almost on us again! There is about two hundred of 'em on the campus now, with the Lord knows how many more coming, and ready the Greeks have begun the grand annual interfraternity battle over the pick of the annual crop of verdant embryo seniors. The society editor becomes tired and careworn when it (?) thinks of the reams of copy that will be necessary to announce all results after the juggling has been done and people have begun to think about settling down again.
Society, as a whole, has been very active during the past week, saw-dust tea and dust cakes having been the prevailing dainties served at the informal afternoon things that have been daily happening at the various society homes on the campus.

There was also some clever rushing done when the Phi Deltas, Elwetats, Sigma Nus, Kappa Sigs and Betas, all had their eyes on the same cook.
WHAT THE * *!
"Shall I do it now?—shall I do it now?"
The fair and blushing co-ed was all aquiver at the sorority luncheon held in the state capitol.
On receiving an affirmative nod from a sympathetic sister, she did it, and a table full of Gamma Phis sat agog at the wonder of it all.
Which all goes to say that a short time ago, at a luncheon given by the Boise summer chapter of Gamma Phi Beta, Miss Florence Allebaugh announced her engagement to Mr. Theodore Holderman, of Twin Falls and Kappa Sigma.

IDAHO MEN WIN AT CAMP KEARNEY
Fifteen Alma Mater Cadets Receive Highest Marks in Competitive Scoring System.
Highest honors at the R. O. T. C. camp which closed on July 28th at Camp Kearney, California, were carried by the University of Idaho. University of Idaho cadets triumphed by a large margin over cadets representing the other colleges and universities in the western department, based on daily marking by instructors on a competitive scoring system.
At the six weeks R. O. T. C. camp at Camp Kearney this year, over 1100 cadets received training. Fifteen cadets represented the University of Idaho, five of whom upon receiving degrees from the University, will be given regular commissions. The commanding officer of the camp was Col. E. R. Chrisman, head of the military department at the University.
The excellent performance of the University of Idaho students at the camp this year is only in bearing with records established by Idaho men at training camps before, both during the war and after. This is the first opportunity the Idaho cadets have had to show their superiority on the competitive scoring system.
This system was developed by Colonel Chrisman, and requires the daily scoring of the work of each group by experienced regular army officers and drill masters, of whom there were over 100 at the camp. With a possible 3295 points as a goal, the Idaho cadets in the advanced course scored 3258, the University of California scoring only 4 more points. However, in the Senior basic course, the Idaho men forged far ahead, so that the average for the two won the University of Idaho undisputed first place.
The Idaho men in the advanced course were: P. T. Rowell of Lewiston; T. H. Shrontz of Longmont, Colorado; Carl A. Burke of Star; J. Fred Cline of Moscow; and J. F. Chod of Salmon. The Idaho representatives in the basic course were: G. W. Friedman, J. S. Gill, and H. W. Thomson of Moscow. O. W. Lemon of Middleton; G. J. Gill of Sioux Falls, S. D.; S. W. Robinson of Caldwell; S. L. Sampson of Kellogg; R. M. Mattieson, and A. H. Schroeder of Cottonwood.

"It is not possible at the present time to make any definite announcements as to the details of the program," said Dean Francis A. Thompson, chairman, of the committee in charge. "There will, however, be a program presented by the musical faculty, singing by the assemblage, and a rehearsal of student yells and songs. The features of the assembly will be addresses by Dr. E. A. Bryan, state commissioner of education, and Ramsey M. Walker, president of the state board of education and board of regents of the University of Idaho." "It is imperative," he continued, "that all students and members of the faculty be in attendance at this gathering, more especially those students who are attending the University for the first time."

NEW MEN'S HOME ERECTED WITH FUNDS RAISED BY MOSCOW CITIZENS.

FILLS LONG FELT WANT

New Institution Will Accommodate 94 Men With Room and Board

Lindley Hall, the University of Idaho's new men's dormitory, built at a cost of $82,000 from funds raised among the business men of the city of Moscow, is now rapidly nearing completion, and it is fully expected that the building will be in shape to accommodate the students the time set for the opening of classes.

For years there has been noted by all in connection with the University the need of such an institution as Lindley Hall, on the Idaho campus. During the past school year, when the University faced a record breaking attendance for the coming year, it was seen that some means of providing for the men of the student body was imperatively necessary. Accordingly the enterprising business men of Moscow raised a sum of $82,000, to be used in the building of a men's dormitory for the University. Plans were drawn up, and the erection of the edifice placed in the hands of the Roth Construction Company. The work had been going on all summer, and the result is the handsome new structure that is all but ready to welcome the new men of the University.

Named For Recent President
At the request of a committee of business men, the home was named Lindley Hall, in honor of the recent president of the University.

Accommodated Many
Lindley Hall will offer housing accommodations for 94 men. The rooms are comfortably fitted up with special care to make them as convenient as possible for college students. Rooms in Lindley Hall will be offered for the nominal sum of two dollars a week.

Miss Gessner in Charge
Table accommodations there will be for 184. The kitchen and dining room will be under the management and supervision of Miss Hattie Gessner, Miss Gessner is a graduate of the department of home economics of Kansas Agricultural College, and has had wide experience in the management of enterprises similar to the dining room of Lindley Hall.

Board will be offered to any who wish it, whether they be resident at the Hall or not, for $6 a week.

Athletic Training Table
It is planned to place in the dining room of Lindley Hall, a training table for the athletes of the University.

FOOTBALL VICTORY FOR IDAHO DEPENDS

football that what lost Idaho the game with Oregon last year was the poor physical condition of Idaho's men. It was said that during the first half Oregon was outplayed all around. If it is true that only poor condition lost the game for us last year, there is possibility that we may defeat Oregon this fall, when we meet her on October 23. For every man will be in as near perfect condition as it will be possible to put him in the short time that will elapse between now and then.

Be Strict Training

Kelley stated himself to be for absolute strict, clean training by every member of the team. He made it clear that any who do not wish to train will get out. Training tables have been arranged for in Lindley Hall for the Varsity string, where rigorous dieting will be administered to the team. One very ironclad rule will be that every man must be in his room by ten o'clock at night, and in bed by ten-thirty, with the privilege of staying up until 11 on Saturday nights.

Practice Monday Afternoon

The majority of the Varsity men of last year were on the campus by Saturday, and uniforms were issued Saturday afternoon. All men will report for practice Monday afternoon. The strictest of drill and training will start immediately.

Much New Equipment

Approximately $2900 worth of new football equipment has been purchased for the coming season. This includes shoulder pads, shoes, with mud cleats, footballs, pants, wool and cotton jerseys, headgears, and socks. This is housed in a new equipment room located in the rear of the varsity club rooms, where a regular storekeeper will be in charge.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR ENROLLING OF 1920 EMBRYO SENIORS

Registration in the University of Idaho, which will begin at 8:30 on the morning of September 12, 1920 will be greatly simplified for the new students, according to announcements issued by executive secretary Parsons and Dean of the University faculty Eldridge concerning new modes of procedure to be adopted this fall.

Students Met at Trains
Incoming students will be greeted at the trains by committees appointed for that purpose. Men will be met and directed by a group under the chairmanship of Prof. Schmitz. Women will be taken care of by the Y. W. C. A. Especial attention will be paid to those students whose arrival has not been anticipated by any of the Greek letter societies.

Temporary Accommodations
The new men's dormitory not being entirely completed, all men not cared for elsewhere will be conducted to the large tent that has been erected on the campus. Here sleeping accommodations will be provided until the completion of the dormitory and the and the perfecting of arrangements for the placing of men in the private homes of Moscow.

It is expected that the new dining room in the men's dormitory will be ready for use by Monday, the first day of registration. In the event that it is not, it has been arranged to give the men ample boarding accommodations in the chamber of commerce rooms in the Moscow business section.

All women will be conducted at once to Ridenbaugh Hall, where they will be cared for by acting dean of women Evelyn Butler and the Y. W. C. A.

Students' Information
Any information that any new student may desire concerning the registration may be obtained from the information committee, which will have its headquarters at a desk just inside the main entrance of the administration building. Catalogs and time tables may be obtained here.

All students are asked to prevent confusion by going direct to this committee for their information, or by checking there any information that they may have acquired through hearsay. Because many of the steps in the registration have been changed this year, information given by old students concerning methods employed in former years may be wrong when applied to the present time.

For the guidance of new arrivals in making their way about the campus and buildings, posters and signs will be placed at various points to designate buildings, steps in registration, offices of deans, etc. The instructions on these posters should be followed implicitly.

Students are also cautioned to adhere absolutely to the published programs for registration. Complete one point before going to the next. As far as it is possible, do not leave one room until you have finished all that there is to do in that room. If in doubt at any time, ask the nearest professor.

Steps in Registration
I. The students first step in registering should be to go to the office of Bursar in room 107 of the administration building, which is the first door to the right on the ground floor after entering the main entrance. Here a fee of $13.50 will be paid. Of this $8.50 goes to the Associated Students of the University of Idaho, and entitles the payer to all privileges of membership in that organization, including admission to all athletic contests and other events held under its auspices, and to a subscription to the University Argonaut for the college year. The remaining five dollars is taken by the University as a general deposit fee, which will be used to cover damages to library books or fines for overkeeping them, loss of locker keys, etc. All that remains of this fee at the end of the semester will be refunded to the student.

On Monday and Tuesday the bursar will receive no fees or deposits except the A. S. U. I. fee and the general deposit. Beginning Wednesday morning the various special fees may be paid. A list of these will be found in another part of this paper.

2. The student should now have in his hands his A. S. U. I. ticket and a receipt of the deposit made at the office of the Bursar. He should next present his entrance credentials to the committee on admissions, which will be found in room 110, the fifth door to the left across the hall from the Bursar's office. All students desiring to enter the University, including those who have sent their credentials before them, must pass the committee on admissions before enrolling in their classes.

3. With their card of admission from the committee on admissions, all students should proceed to make out their class schedules and enroll in their courses as follows:
Freshmen and Sophomores in the College of Letters and Sciences will go to the committee in charge of Prof. Angell in room 113. Here a course card must be filled out for each course enrolled in, and a complete list of studies made on cards provided for those purposes. Have your study list "O, Ked" by one of the committee in charge, then take all of your course cards and your study list to Dean Hulme, in room 202.

Juniors and Seniors in the same college should enroll with the committee in room 108, of which Dean Eldridge, in room 105, is chairman.

Law Students
All students desiring to enroll in the College of Law should go at once to Dean O. P. Cockerrill, of the college of law, who will be found in room 210 on the second floor of the administration building.

Miners
Prospective students in the school of Mines should go direct from the committee on admissions to Dean Francis A. Thompson, in room 1 of the assay building.

Foresters
Students wishing to enroll in the School of Forestry should go from the committee on admissions to Dean Francis G. Miller, in room 32 on the third floor of Morrill Hall.

Education
Those contemplating entering the School of Education should, after passing the committee on admissions, go to Dean Messenger, who will be found in room 303 on the third floor of the administration building.

Agriculture
All prospective "Ags." after leaving the committee on admissions, should go to E. J. Iddings, Dean of the College of Agriculture, in room 12 on the first floor of Morrill Hall.

Engineering
Those who wish to enroll in any of the engineering courses, should go to Dean Little, of the College of Engineering, after having been passed by the committee on admissions.

Special Students
Special students should file their study lists with Dean Eldridge, in room 105 of the administration building.

Advanced Standing
Students having advanced credits from the other schools should interview Dean Eldridge in room 105.

These steps having been completed, the student will find himself or herself fully enrolled in the University of Idaho, which is acknowledged by leading critics to be the best school of its size and class in the United States.

Classes Wednesday Morning
Regular classes and school work will begin at eight o'clock on Wednesday morning.

ATHLETIC CLAIMS NECESSITATE RAISE

The only only feasible means of collecting an added amount was that outlined in one of the foregoing paragraphs. "No one doubts that it will be virtually impossible to make collections in mid-semester," was an opinion voiced quite generally.

"I am sure the student body will understand the necessity for this action," said Coach Thomas Kelley Saturday morning. "We need more money and an increase in the A. S. U. I. fee seems to be the only way we can obtain it. If the student body fails to express its approval, we will simply have to go ahead and create a deficiency, because I refuse to send Idaho teams out the field without proper equipment."

"The increase seems to me only proper," said Captain Felix A. Platinio. "Our present fee is substantially lower than that paid at the institutions with which Idaho competes, I am convinced that the proposition will be cordially endorsed. I never have known Idaho students to be lacking in loyalty."

"Idaho spirit of the right sort is certain to be displayed in this crisis," declared William Langroise, president of the A. S. U. I. "No one questions the athletic department's urgent need for more money and this seems to be the way it should be raised. Idaho's athletic teams must be made to feel that we are strongly behind them."

"Unless we are able to raise a definite amount in this way," said Grad-that more money must be raised at once. The present plan should be endorsed unanimously." An attempt was made to obtain other expressions of opinion, but Argonaut reporters found it difficult to get in touch with representative men and women from whom statements were sought. Others will be asked to voice their sentiments later.
