DR. UPHAM OF OHIO NAMED U. OF I. PREXY.

ABLE EDUCATOR FROM MIAMI WILL FILL "VACANT CHAIR"

IS SELECTED OUT OF LIST OF 25 APPLICANTS BY STATE BOARD OF EDUCATION AND BOARD OF REGENTS OF UNIVERSITY AFTER PROTRACTED SESSION IN BOISE LAST FRIDAY

HERE DECEMBER FIRST BEFORE LEAVING FOR WEST WILL ATTEND IMPORTANT EASTERN CONFERENCE

LIKES UNIVERSITY OUTLOOK

During Visit Here In October, Regarded Idaho as Having Great Future

Dr. A. H. Upham, professor of English at Miami University, was elected president of the University of Idaho at a session of the state board of education and the board of regents of the university held in Boise Friday afternoon.

Dr. Upham will take up his duties as president December first. At present he is engaged in directing a campaign to raise a $1,000,000 building fund for Miami University.

Students Send Telegram

Immediately upon hearing of the election of Dr. Upham, William Langroise, A. S. U. I. president, sent the following telegram to the new president:

"It is with the greatest satisfaction and pleasure that we hear of your election to the presidency of our university. Allow us to express our appreciation of your acceptance, and extend our heartiest congratulations and assurances of our most loyal support. Associated Students of the University of Idaho.

By William H. Langroise, President."

Will Occupy Lindley Residence

The board of regents has engaged the residence formerly occupied by Dr. Lindley. Upon the arrival of Dr. Upham, he, with his wife and daughter, will make their home there.

Attends Important Conferences

Before coming to the University of Idaho, Dr. Upham will attend a meeting of the association of presidents of land grant colleges, which will be held in Springfield, Massachusetts, the latter part of this month.

He is also scheduled to be present at the inauguration of Dr. Burton, formerly of Minnesota University, as president of the University of Michigan.

Dr. Upham expects to take a part in the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the University of Ohio before leaving for the west. It is probable that Evan Evans, of the state board of education, will attend the same affair as a representative of this state.

Is Favorably Impressed

Six weeks ago Dr. Upham visited the University and became thoroughly acquainted with the situation at the school and throughout the state. He expressed himself as being very favorably impressed with the condition of the school and the outlook for future development.

"There is opportunity for the greatest of constructive activity here," he is reported to have stated. "The resources of the state of Idaho are marvelous. With these as support, and with the loyal backing of the citizens of the commonwealth, there is no reason why the University should not become one better than which there is not one in the land."

Selected Out of Twenty-five

Dr. Upham was selected from among a list of 25 educators. He was recommended by President R. M. Hughes, of Minn.; President W. O. Thompson, of the Ohio State University; President W. J. Kerr, of the Oregon Agricultural college, and

CLASSES DISMISSED

All classes will be dismissed for Campus Hour next Wednesday afternoon. Every student is expected to turn out for the hour. Assemble at the "T" bench at 4:00 o'clock.

LINDLEY HALL MEN WILL GOVERN SELVES

ENTERPRISE HAS SANCTION OF FRANCIS JENKINS, PROCTOR OF MEN'S HOME

TO LIVE BY GOLDEN RULE

R. R. Johnson, of Morton, Heads Committee to Draft Constitution and Bi-Laws.

In the belief that college men are mature enough to govern their own actions, "self government" is being advocated for the men living at Lindley Hall, the new boys dormitory, and will be established within a few days. The move is not only sanctioned but encouraged by Francis Jenkins, proctor at the hall.

Preliminary meetings have been held at which a unanimous opinion favoring the plan of students laying down their own restrictions was formed. A committee is now working on a constitution and bi-laws for the association and will report soon on the results and at that time a permanent organization will be started and regulations put into effect. This committee is composed of R. R. Johnson, chairman; Morton, Laird Johnston, Aberdeen; R. E. Russell, Boise; Ted Sherman, Boise; and Leopold, Twin Falls.

"I am lending the boys every encouragement in their desire to organize to govern themselves and make their own limits in regard to their conduct both on the campus and within Lindley hall," said proctor Jenkins. "When a man is of sufficient age to attend a university he is old enough to know what he should do and what he should not do; he should know when he is infringing upon the rights of others and when his actions inconvenience or disturb his fellow house-mates. In response to queries as to what the regulations were at Lindley hall I told each of the boys that they were only the ordinary principles of a gentleman and the Golden Rule.

"Rules to be made by the boys will govern such items as study hours, regulating noise and disturbances in the halls and in their rooms and such other details as they adjudge require attention.

"Since the boys commenced moving to the hall without exception they have shown a splendid spirit of co-operation in getting along in spite of the minor inconveniences incident to the work of putting everything in shape for the year. Not the least semblance of trouble or even the most minor sort has occurred and the boys are getting along together swimmingly."

The dormitory is now filled to capacity and Lindley cafe is growing more popular with students daily, many of those who must room in residences come to the hall for their meals. Wednesday 135 students were accommodated with the number increasing each day. The cafe can seat 175 students at a time.

PROFESSOR DAVIS WILL ATTEND NATIONAL DAIRY SHOW

H. P. Davis, head of the department of dairy husbandry, left yesterday for Chicago, where he will attend the National Dairy show to be held in the windy city October 7 to 16. Professor Davis does not expect to return to the university until the last week in October.

In a game featured by spectacular runs and loose play, the freshman lost to North Central high school of Spokane by a score of 20 to 6, in a gridiron battle staged in Spokane Saturday October 2. Inclement weather was a detrimental factor to both teams, as a cold south wind swept the field and confused the backfield when gathering in the punts.

Old man jinx is following "Frosh" football as well as Varsity because the deciding factor was the inability to present their strongest eleven on account of injuries. Most noticeable was Cobby at end. In the beginning of the first quarter he wrenched his ankle badly. Woodrow, who was hurt in Varsity scrimmage was on the field

WORKOUTS ARE SECRET

Closeness of Hardest Games And Lack Of Football Veterans Makes Coaches Task Hard.

Deep, dark, heavy gloom is the predominate color around the campus wherever Idaho's football prospects are being discussed. Between almost incessant rain, and injuries each day the light of victory seems to grow dimmer.

The football field is kept a sea of mud by the rains, making practice reavy and difficult, and making it almost impossible for scrimmage between the teams.

Injuries are beginning to play a part as a predominating factor. Capt. Plastino and Glindeman are laid up with sore shoulders, Schmidt has been unable to be in a suit for several days with a pair of bad ankles. The latter may pull thru for the Pullman game, but it is doubtful whether or not he can last thru the whole game. Frank Brown, who played guard on last year's team is also laid up with a sore knee, due to a bad wrench received last week.

In spite of the rain practice goes on every night. Spectators have been forbidden the privilege of seeing the

Contest To Close Thursday Of This Week.—Want Contribution From Each Student

Names entered in Argonaut contest to obtain a name for the varsity football squad are slowly dropping into the Argonaut office. As yet the judges have given out no information as to whether or not a possible winner has been submitted.

It should be remembered that the contests closes at noon of Thursday of this week. On the day of the Pullman game it will be announced who has won the ten dollars offered as a prize. It costs nothing to enter, and there are chances for three people to profit by the contest. The least that anyone will win will be two fifty.

It is anticipated that during the coming two days names numbering in the hundreds will be dropped in the Argonaut box. A contribution is expected from every wide awake student.

RECEIVE NEW EQUIPMENT FOR CAMPUS INFIRMARY

Will Enable Students To Undergo Minor Operations Without Necessity Of Visiting Town Hospitals

The new clinic equipment has been received at the infirmary and will be set up ready for work within the next week. This equipment will enable students to have minor operations, such as removal of adenoids and tonsils, done at the infirmary, thereby lessening the strain on a student's finances.

Mrs. Franklin has been making a sanitary inspection of the various houses and dormitories and stated that on the whole the conditions were very good. Lindley Hall showed vast improvement in the last inspection over the first. The rating of all houses and dormitories will be published twice yearly in the hope that it will establish the feeling of competition between houses. Mrs. Franklin states that she makes these inspections with the attitude of bettering conditions on the campus and has a desire whatever to learn anything which privately concerns anyone.

Undergraduate Cites Instance Of Success Of W. S. C. Homecoming Of Last Year.

Plans for the "Home-coming" of the University Alumni, which will take place on Friday, October 15, on the occasion of the W. S. C. game, are being put into execution with the return of alumni secretary Kjosness from Boise, according to an announcement made this morning by A. J. Priest, graduate manager of athletics. Through publicity notices, sent throughout the University News service, of which Mr. Priest is the editor, the fact that the University on the day of the W. S. C. game will be prepared to welcome her alumni has been thoroughly advertised. Many communications have been received by both Mr. Priest and Mr. Kjosness from alumni signifying their intention of returning to their Alma Mater for the annual event. It is expected that the fiftieth will see Idaho grads on the campus numbering well into three figures.

Fraternities Can Help.

It was pointed out that one of the greatest drawing cards to an alumnus contemplating returning for the game will be the visit that he will have the opportunity of paying to his fraternity. It is understood that all of the chapters have been active in urging their alumni to return. It is the earnest wish of secretary Kjosness that they continue.

Campus Thrown Open.

The campus will be thrown open to the old grads during their short visit. All fraternal homes are expected to have "open house" for the alumni at this time. As an added attraction it is planned to give the old boys the privilege of chastising any of the freshmen that they, individually, may choose in regular college style.

To Speak At Rally.

At the rally and bonfire to be held the night before the Pullman game, a number of talks by various members of the alumni aggregation have been planned.

Secretary Kjosness announces that a meeting of all alumni will be called for Friday of Saturday. The projects to be brought up for discussion have not as yet been announced.

Cites Homecoming.

"In considering the alumni homecoming," commented a prominent undergraduate recently, "The immense success of the similar enterprise that W. S. C. put over last year or the occasion of the game with the University of Washington should be remembered.

"It was my privilege to be placed in a position where I could see the good of the plan in actual operation. I was a guest at one of the greek letter houses, where some thirty old ex-grads were assembled. Their joy at sitting and spitting once more around the old fireplace and telling the yarns and experiences that they had enjoyed for the first time years ago was something that gave me a happy thrill just above the solar plexus to behold. In thirty minutes this particular group had raised enough finance to guarantee a new home for their chapter the following year. And the encouraging part of it all was that one knew that what was going on there was going on also at a dozen other places on the campus."

Norma Dow is spending the week-end in Spokane.

SYMPHONY CONCERT PROGRAM ANNOUNCED

Bursar Still Has Twenty-seven Seats In Good Section For Thursday Afternoon Musical.

A program of great strength and interest has been announced for the concert of the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra, which will be here in the University auditorium on the afternoon of Thursday, October 7.

The Schubert "Unfinished Symphony" has been said to be the best known work of its kind. It is universally acceded to stand as one of the masterpieces of orchestral composing. Begun by Schubert when he was in his prime, he for some unaccountable reason left off work on it, and the composition was never finished. Since the time of Schubert many musicians have attempted to finish the work, but not one has had the musical vision necessary to work out a fitting ending to the marvelous two movements composed by Schubert.

By special request the overture to "Tannhauser" will be played here. Wagner, of whose mind this number is a child, has been said to be the peer of all composers for orchestra. "Tannhauser" will be played here masterpiece.

The office of the Bursar announces that there are still seats that are not taken. "It seems impossible," said Prof. Bangs, in commenting on this situation, "that there are students in the University who do not realize the rare fortune that is theirs in having the opportunity this far west to hear an organization of the caliber of the

THETAS ARE AWARDED SCHOLARSHIP TROPHY

Cup Offered By Mrs. Lindley Is Presented By Dean Hulme At Wednesday Assembly

The University of Idaho chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta proved itself to comprize the intellectual aristocracy of the campus when Dean Hulme presented it with the Lindley scholarship cup, which goes as a prize to the campus society making the highest scholarship average for the school year, at the general assembly held last Wednesday.

The Lindley cup is offered by Mrs. Earnest Kidder Lindley, wife of Dr. E. H. Lindley, recent president of the University. Mrs. Lindley announced her intention of offering the cup last spring as an added incentive for the maintenance of high scholastic standards in the various society homes on the Idaho campus. The cup will become the permanent property of the group winning it three times in succession.

A congratulatory telegram from Mrs. Lindley accompanied the cup. Miss Florence Bauer received the cup for her chapter.

Art Instructor Arrives on Campus Miss Mary P. Lean, who comes to us as an Art Instructor, made her first appearance on the campus Saturday. Miss Lean is a graduate of the College of Art Education in Minnesota and the Applied Summer School of Chicago. She is a member of Phi Lambda Theta, an honorary educational sorority which corresponds to Phi Beta Kappa in Home Economics.

THE HARVARD CONTEST
Whether or not one may be in sympathy with the principles that brought about the institution of the Harvard Contest, every student should feel it to be his or her duty to do what small part he or she can to make the Idaho rooting the best rooting on the field at the W. S. C. game.

The afternoon of October fifteenth will see a double contest. On the gridiron, eleven men representing the silver and gold, and eleven wearing the crimson and gray will contest to see which has the better vigor, the better training, and the better sportsmanship. The contest will be conducted under fixed and scientific rules. There will be nothing in the game but clean, hard playing, and, other things being equal, the best team will win.

Around the border of the gridiron will be gathered approximately two thousand students. It is for their honor that the two groups are fighting in the mud of the field.

That their respective teams may feel that those for whom they are playing are supporting them with heart and soul, the students from the contesting schools will organize themselves and drill in the production of vocal sounds calculated to instill in their team an irresistible desire for victory. The knowledge on the part of the team of the loyal support of its student body is as essential to the playing of a winning game as the daily drilling of the team itself.

It is here that one sees the second contest. The Harvard Contest is nothing more than a standardization of the best principles of rooting, so arranged that the school approaching most nearly those standards wins a prize.

Every member of the student body is a member of the rooting team, and should consider himself one of the indispensable members of that aggregation. While the football team is striving to best W. S. C. on the gridiron, the rest of us, while urging our team on to victory, will be doing our best to beat W. S. C. on the bleachers.

Why not leave off the petty scuffling and cap snatching for once, and try the finer method offered by the Harvard Club of slipping our rival a double defeat? If Idaho can win both the game and the contest on the fifteenth, it will be a day long to be remembered.

Jack Richmond, '19, superintendent of the Nezperce schools, is at the Beta house during institute week.

KNEPPER SPEAKS ON BIBLE STUDY

At Second General Assembly Miss Florence Sharp Makes First Appearance With Liszt Rhapsody

The Rev. George W. Knepper of Spokane delivered a stirring address before the A. S. U. I. at the assembly Wednesday morning on the necessity of University students pursuing a course in bible study, which may be had in a university town, but is not included in the institution's curriculum.

In opening his talk, Mr. Knepper related experiences of the various types of university students he had met after their graduation, gave many illustrations to prove that they had obtained sufficient knowledge at their alma maters to help them gain a livelihood, but that in the end they had not grasped one important course, "Biblical Knowledge."

He then pointed out how easy it is for a college student to become expert at the many recreations offered by pool hall proprietors and what not. Closing, Mr. Knepper, reversed the tables to point out an easy way of gaining knowledge of the bible, a course that is not offered by the university.

Dean Cockerill, chairman of the assembly, opened the meeting by introducing Prof. Bangs. The latter called upon the Glee Club in singing several Idaho songs. Following this Prof. Bangs led the A. S. U. I. in singing the same songs.

Mrs. Florence Sharp, instructor of piano, made her first appearance before the A. S. U. I. with an interpretation of "Hungarian Rhapsody" by Litz. Before the piano solo, Mrs. Sharp explained the nature of the rhapsodies and the inspiration which directed Litz to compose them.

The assembly closed with the presentation to the Idaho chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta of the Lindley scholarship cup, which is given each year to the organization on the campus making the highest mark for the year in scholarship. Dean Hulme made the presentation speech, Miss Florence Bauer receiving the cup for her sorority.

OPEN FORUM

It seems to me that here at Idaho some way or another we have the wrong idea about some things and the most prominent of these is athletics.

If you have friends they should have your photograph.

Make your appointments early with letics. In an institution like this with as many students as Idaho has such a mistaken idea as this one should not be tolerated. It is very noticeable to any one watching the Herculean efforts that the football team and the coach are expending that they are not having any fun and that their work is doubly serious. By doubly serious I mean they realize that this year Idaho must come thru (that "must" is a mighty word when it is used right and I know that it is correctly used in this instance) and the second thing is closely related to the first, that we must (again) beat Pullman. There are two things that stand head and shoulders above the rest of the college year and when we wax funny over those things something is certainly wrong. I leave it to you who have been here a number of years and who know better and yet who let it happen without remark. Here it is.

I have noticed time and again that when some man either on the varsity or the second string makes a mistake and Coach Kelly corrects him in a manner befitting his mistakes, everybody thinks that it funny and a roar of laughter greets his remarks. I do not believe that that is fitting at all to the occasion. Who ever stood on a parade ground and roared with laughter when some mistake was made with commands, the repetition of which might some day cause the loss of your buddy or mine along with many others. Here, I think, is exactly the same proposition. Coach Kelly is not posing as the village funny man, and if he was he would probably be on the stage, and he does not care to have remarks which he means shall be taken in earnest by on man greeted with laughter by the rest. The corrections that he will make will help beat that bunch over the hill, and without a doubt it is up to us to assist him in very way.

This little harangue may sound a little bit far-fetched but this year if Idaho is coming back why not have her come back all the way? Her on crutches and his absence from the lineup was keenly felt. Both lines displayed meretricious caliber, and were evenly matched. Each team made frequent use of the punt and Kinneson showed up well when it came to boosting the oval.

Davis Is Luminary.
Davis, North Central's quarter, played brilliant on offense but was erratic on defense. His muff of a punt, which was gathered in by a "Frosh," combined with several rushes cost the Spokane eleven the first goal, which Kinneson carried over.

Kinneson Goes Over.
The freshman won the toss and elected to defend the goal with the wind to their back. After exchanging several punts, Kinneson sent one sailing over Davis's head which was recovered by a "Frosh" and resulted in the lone "Frosh" tally.

Bucklin Shows Technique.
Bucklin at quarter showed real technique at calling signals and each time he carried the ball he made consistent gains. Kinneson at half made several good line plunges and leaned his cleated shoe against the ball to the satisfaction of everyone. Casey and Hasbrock made good showing at the remaining backfield positions. The only thing that seriously worries Coach McMillan is the line, which will need much bolstering. He is still in the market for heavy linesmen and two ends.

WALLACE PREPARES TO GREET ALUMNI

Plan Greater Idaho Dinner In Connection With Institute Of Teachers Of Northern Idaho.

The University of Idaho Alumni Association of Wallace at its last regular meeting appointed a committee under the leadership of W. E. Newman to arrange for a "Greater Idaho" dinner to be held during the early part of the North Idaho Institute. The institute this year is to be held in Wallace and is composed of all teachers in the five northern counties. It is expected that over 600 teachers will be in the city at that time and that among the number will be a large number of Alumni and former students of the state University.

At this meeting it is planned not only to give the visitors a chance to exchange college yarns and meet former classmates and associates but it is planned to start a well defined program to be used throughout the northern part of the state in connection with the service that such associations can render.

The dance committee of the association has announced that a University circle will be formed at the general dances for the visiting teachers.

HULME TO ADDRESS FORUM THURSDAY

Plans Will Be Made For Straw Vote To Ascertain Student Choice For President

Dean Hulme will address the members of the Open Forum on "Leadership" at their next meeting Thursday evening, October 22nd. The talk will be informal and include a discussion in which all present will have an opportunity of participating.

The discussion will be followed by a short business meeting for filling vacant offices and the formulation of plans for holding an election at the University to ascertain the Student Body's choice for President, Governor, and U. S. Senator.

Everybody is cordially invited to attend the meeting and hear Dean Hulme's interesting talk.

practices. Armed guards patrol the banks of the field, and those caught trying to see practice are turned up and walloped on the spot. The Campus Hour will be the only time from now on when spectators will be allowed to see the teams at work.

"Having a guarded practice serves two purposes," stated Lynn Hershey, who has charge of the guards. "It allows the fellows to concentrate on what they are doing with nothing else to interrupt them. It also prevents anyone from seeing and reporting the style play to any team that will play Idaho."

Few Old Men.

The line this year will have only three or four old men on it, the rest of the line coming from last year's freshman team. The backfield will have two old men and the rest will be new inexperienced men. The team will be a great deal lighter this year than any team in the last four years.

A campus dope artist has Idaho's prospects sized up as follows:

"This year Idaho's schedule has been made so that all the hard games come within the first few weeks when the team will have had very little experience. Last year it was almost the same way. We played Oregon off her feet the first half but the men were not in condition and they could not hold out against the better conditioned coast team. This year's schedule reads: Pullman October 15, and then Oregon on the 23d. Which means that we have the two hardest games at the very first, and the further the season progresses the easier the games.

"In spite of the handicaps the old Idaho spirit will keep us in the running until the final whistle blows. Coach Kelley is working day and night and will leave no stone unturned in an effort to produce a winning team for the Silver and Gold. Much credit must be given to the men, who are working like Trojans. They feel the handicap that is thrust upon them and will fight to stave off almost certain defeat.

Walloping W. S. C. Questionable.

"Since last year the great cry from Idaho's Alumni has been that we beat Pullman, and it seems that their wall is going to go on. Everything points to the fact that Idaho will again suffer at the hands of her ancient rival.

"Last year Mr. Bleamaster had to break in a new team after the disarrangement caused by so many of the old men still being in the service, and he did not succeed in getting them in shape quick enough for their season's games. This same thing now besets Coach Kelley with this year's team. He has but two or three old men to use as a nucleus around which he must build his team, and these few men he must teach his style of offense and defense. Even if he had a team of veterans, to make such changes in such a short time would be well nigh impossible. He is gradually beating his men into a semblance of a football team, and whether or not he has succeeded cannot be judged from the Pullman game alone."

From 1902 to 1905 he was professor of English at the Utah Agricultural college. In the latter year he married Miss Mc Clintock, of Spokane, Wash. In 1905 to 1906 he attended Columbia and in 1908 he took the Ph. D. degree. Up to 1910 he was professor of English at Miami and from that year to 1913 he was professor of English at Byrn
