OREGON JINX AND UNLUCKY "13" TRIP PLAN FOR IDAHO VICTORY

THIRTEENTH ANNUAL BATTLE GOES TO UNIVERSITY OF OREGON. UNTIMELY ERROR GIVES WEB FOOTERS FIRST SCORE. HOODOO STILL IN EVIDENCE AND FAVORS OPPONENTS.

RESULT IS 13 TO 7

PLUCKY FIGHT WINS PLAUDITS FROM OREGON JOURNALS. IDAHO OUTWEIGHED.

BRASHEARS GETS TOUCHDOWN

Game Is Brilliant Scrap To Finish. Spectacular Plays By Both Teams. Much Ragged Playing.

The University of Oregon took the thirteenth annual grid contest from the University of Idaho with a score of 13-7 in a brilliant game at Eugene Saturday.

Both teams played brilliant ball, with Oregon tumbling into her usual breaks of luck which were responsible for her victory. The first appearance of the celebrated "jinx" came within six minutes of the opening whistle when Idaho fumbled at quarter and Rud Brown of Oregon grabbed the oval and made a forty yard dash for a touchdown.

The "hoodoo" appeared again in the end of the first quarter when Idaho, by a series of passes and line smashes placed the ball within one half yard of the Oregon goal. With the goal apparently won, Leslie, Oregon's center smashed through the line and downed Whitcomb in his tracks, and Oregon took the ball on downs.

First Period. Idaho won the toss and kicked the ball to the 40-yard line, Rinehart returning it 20 yards. After five minutes of play Brown grabbed an Idaho fumble and ran 45 yards for a touchdown. During the remainder of the quarter Oregon was largely on the defensive, the ball being on her seven-yard line when the whistle blew. Oregon, 6; Idaho, 0.

Second Period. Idaho kicked to Oregon's four-yard line, where Idaho failed to make yardings and lost the ball. Steers kicked out to the 50-yard line. Steers later plunged through for an 18-yard gain, and then Brown pushed through three men for the second touchdown of the game. Rinehart kicked the goal. Score end second period: Oregon, 13; Idaho, 0.

Third Period. Rinehart left the game with a strained ankle, being replaced by Jacobberger. Idaho and Oregon were each penalized 15 yards for holding. Fox went in for Evans of Idaho. Hill made a pretty run of 28 yards when Irving kicked 45 yards from Idaho's 10-yard line. Oregon, 13; Idaho, 0.

Fourth Period. Shift plays and plunges netted 20 yards for Idaho. H. Brashears went through the line for Idaho for a touchdown, and Irving kicker goal. Steers was put out and replaced by Meade of Oregon, who made 30 yards and later 1 yard round the end and just missed getting to Idaho's line. Final score: Oregon, 13; Idaho, 7.

Francis Jacobberger came near sending a dropkick over the bar for Oregon shortly before the final whistle. Idaho was penalized for off-side play. Oregon received forward passes at this juncture, but was more successful on smashing cross-backs outside tackle by Meade, a second-string half, who replaced Steers in the last period. Meade tore off several rushes of eight to 12 yards.

Two Oregon fumbles in succession spoiled chances for a touchdown just before the whistle blew, with Oregon the aggressor on Idaho's 22-yard line. Both elevens showed lots of fight and both were ragged and brilliant in succession. Both showed decided weakness in sustained offensive, their work being spotty. In the first half Idaho gained 69 yards from scrimmage to 54 yards for Oregon. In the second half Idaho gained 50 yards to 66 yards for Oregon, making the total yardage from scrimmage by each team, not including forward passes, Idaho 119 yards to 120 for Oregon.

ALUMNI LAYING PLANS FOR GREAT GATHERING

REPORT OF SEAT SALE GOOD

Reports Show Belse's Greatest Crowd May Be Expected. Special Trains Run From South Idaho.

Fifteen hundred former Idaho students will welcome Coach Keely's gridiron warriors on November 14th at Boise when they meet the Mormon state aggregation in the annual Armistice day classic at the capital city, according to a statement given out by W. Kjosness, president of the University Alumni Association, today.

"If letters of inquiry and offers to co-operate in a state wide ticket sale, and requests for assistance in chartering special trains and cars to Boise, are any indication of the attendance expected, no less than 1500 former students will assist the Varsity in running up a winning score against Utah," said Mr. Kjosness today.

Former Idaho Star In Charge. Mr. Claude Gibson, '02, of Boise, and one of Idaho's famous football stars, is in complete charge of all affairs appertaining to the game, and it is said that he is putting the same "pep" into the preparations that characterized his football work at Idaho.

"Mr. Gibson has dropped his professional work for the interim between now and the game, and is devoting his entire time to securing hotel reservations for out of town visitors, obtaining transportation facilities, and supervising the work of the many committees necessary for the perfect functioning of an event of such proportions.

"Transportation committees are working in the Southeastern Idaho, Twin Falls, and Boise and Upper Snake river valley districts, and already tickets are being supplied to alumni who have requested them for

LEWIS AND CLARK HIGH HAND FROSH DUBBING

SENSATIONAL RUNS AND HEAVY LINE PLUNGES FEATURE CLASH.—SCORE 26-13.

YEARLINGS WEAK IN PINCH

High School Firm. Two Runs For 80 Yards. Infants Loose On Fumbles.

Lewis and Clark high school of Spokane defeated the Idaho Freshman by a score of 26-13 in a sensational game played at the fair grounds in Moscow last Saturday.

Weaver and Towers of Spokane made 80-yard runs for touchdowns, intercepting a forward pass when it seemed sure that Idaho would score. Weaver made his sensational run in the first part of the opening quarter. After an exchange of punts Idaho got possession of the ball and by steady gains reached Lewis and Clark 20-yard line. Here they attempted a forward pass and on the play Weaver caught the ball as it was leaving Nelson's hand and raced nearly the length of the field for the first score.

In the latter part of the quarter Lewis and Clark scored again. Powers made a 25-yard run to Idaho's five-yard line where after three unsuccessful attempts at plowing the line, Skadan passed across the line to Taylor, the latter making a beautiful catch. Powers kicked goal. Score, end first quarter, Lewis and Clark 14, freshmen 0.

Idaho then forced Lewis and Clark to the defensive, and held them there for the remainder of the game. With the playing in Lewis and Clark territory, Cogley of Idaho intercepted a pass and Idaho strove in vain to push the ball over. Lewis and Clark got the ball on downs and soon kicked Hsbrouck made 8 yards through the line and a moment later clipped off 30 around the visitors' right end.

"AG BALL" LOOMS AS BIG SOCIAL EVENT OF WEEK

Bovine Ladies, Baled Hay, Milk Cans, Real Milk, Feathered Chickens, And Rusticity Will Charm.

Hallowe'en is the occasion of the second annual "Ag Bawl" when the would-be farmers of Idaho will show their girls a good time in the good old fashioned way. Denzins of the University farm will grace the festive scene and it is said that costumes are expected to harmonize in rusticity with the decorations.

Members of the University of Idaho Ag Club say that the coming struggle will be better, if such a thing is possible, than the one last year. There will be doughnuts and milk for those who hunger and thirst, while those who are weary will find bales of hay, hard, but acceptable resting places.

Starch your gingham, girls, and try your best to get dates. It's going to be some dance. The Ags say so—and they know!

CONTESTANTS CHOSEN FOR W. S. C. DEBATE

Co-Eds Win Places. Freshmen Place Men. Question on Political Issues Of Present Campaign.

Two co-eds of the University of Idaho, Miss Bessie Derr of Clarksfork and Miss Cornelia Burbidge of Idaho Falls, were selected as alternates on the University of Idaho debating team at a tryout held yesterday. Six regular debaters and their alternates were chosen for the dual forensic contest with Washington State College December 10.

Debaters who made the team are L. A. Thomas, Lewisville, Walter Greathouse, Boise, Theodore Sherman, Boise, Glenn Wilkeson, Twin Falls, Ed. Littooy, Boise, and Bryan B. Bundy of Culeadac. Alternates selected were Miss Bessie Derr, Clarksfork, Miss Cornelia Burbidge, Idaho Falls, and Harold Guyer of Burley.

Only once before in the history of the university has a co-ed made the debating squad. Judges of the contest were O. P. Cockerill dean of the college of law, Kenneth Collins of the English department, and Dean J. G. Eldridge.

Greathouse, Sherman Wilkeson, Littooy, Derr, and Burbidge are members of the first year class. Thomas is a senior and Bundy and Guyer are sophomores.

STUDENTS RALLY TO GREET FOOTBALL TEAM

Despite the fact that it was a team without the bacon, that returned Sunday evening for Eugene, Ore., a large crowd of Idaho rooters turned out to meet the team and inform the world that they are still stong for Kelley and his jinxed apprentices. The train was ninety minutes late, being due at five, but at six P. M. the crowd gathered at the campus steps. Thence, led by the jazz band, they vociferated to the O.W. station and amused themselves with songs and yells until the arrival of the "bug" half an hour later.

The university and ravenous appetites of Kelley's squad broke up the meeting soon after the arrival of the train.

No greater compliment could be paid any girl—she made other girls wish to be good.

BIG CROWD EXPECTED

UNIVERSITY LEADERS PLAN TO GIVE REPRESENTATION AT UTAH GAME.

WILL BE JAZZ BAND BENEFIT

Students Plan For Biggest Feet Shaking of Year. Dark Halls Invite.

On Friday night of this week, the staid and somberous halls of the old Ad building will reverberate with the rumbling laughter of the Eds, and the rippling mirth of the "Co-eds. Yea Bo, and that is not half of it.

The hardwood floors of the old fortress of education, which for so many college generations have dully echoed the steady tramp of men and women, classward bound, will be treated to an entirely new sensation.

For the first time in its old history, the fairy feet of laughing lassies, and the brogans of lichesome laddies, will treat the long maltreated planks to rhythmic massage and polishing, as hundreds of couples, joyous and animated swing to the lilting measures of "Whispering," or "Tripoli" and "Just Like A Rose."

And for the first time in history, the jazziest jazz band will escouche themselves in the little balcony, just off the library, and there crash out their most blatant strains while a gaudy, giddy group of students and University friends shake the tripping toe down the long (and perhaps just a trifle gloomy) halls.

In other words, on Friday evening at eight o'clock, a jazz band benefit dance will be given in the Administration building, and with music permeating the entire building, the dancers will invade all three floors.

And oh boy, think of swinging that "light of my life" between those tall, silent, unseeing cases on the third floor. Think on, of those soft lights casting a fantastical spell over dancers and chaperones, and making dim the eyes of those who are there to watch. And think of those staid old halls, for centuries prison walls, now containing all of the suddenly loosed enthusiasm and pep which they have suppressed for years.

The reason for the sudden change in the use of the Ad building is occasioned by the fact that the jazz band must be at the Utah game on Armistice day, and lacking the necessary muzulum to take them there, have gained faculty approval of the benefit dance in the Ad building.

It is said that there will be several hundred Moscow friends there. And the committees are anticipating the attendance of every student. Don't worry, fair ones, there will be room for us all.

Men, hoard up your "English" fees, save the simoleans, cash in your coin to the extent of one big round cart wheel, and be there. Put on the big kicks and begin work on the maple floors.

The jazziest jamboree of the season begins at 8 o'clock and lasts, well it will last until the night watchman gives up in despair of ever catching those gliding couples who refuse to leave, and goes on his way.

MISS STEPHENSON RESIGNS RETURNS TO HOME IN UTAH

Miss Gertrude Stephenson, '12, who has been employed in the office of Dean Eldridge, as assistant registrar since 1913, has resigned and returned to her home in Bountiful, Utah, near Salt Lake City.

Miss Stephenson began work as stenographer to Dean Eldridge, in 1908 when she began her collegiate work.

The highly pleasing personality and efficient work of Miss Stephenson will be long remembered by students and faculty.

STARTLING VAUDEVILLE SHOW IN AUDITORIUM ELECTION NIGHT

JOYOUS JAZZ, HUGE BEVY OF BATHING BEAUTIES, TOE DANCERS, SINFUL SINGING, ACTIVE ATHLETES, TICKLIN' TROMBONES, FUNNY FARCE AND MURDERO US MELODRAMA WILL CAPTIVATE.

TO SMASH RECORDS

UNIVERSITY PREPARES TO SEND BAND TO BOISE FOR UTAH GAME.

COMMITTEES WORKING HARD

Greatest Aggregation of Fun Makers Ever Collected in University. T. B. M. Show.

As a grand climax to election day and all its incident blare and jazz, University students will present the wildest orgy of jazz, melodrama farce and bathing beauty in the Auditorium Tuesday evening, which has ever been witnessed in the city.

Surpassing all classic stunts: putting to shame all former plays and entertainments, the great aggregation of beauty, wit and melody will shake the rafters of the assembly hall at 8 o'clock on election night.

Bathing Beauty Galore Mack Senett in person will introduce a charming bevy of bathing beauties, attired strictly for pleasure and not for bathing, who will invade the stage and captivate the heart and eyes of the most blasé business man. There will be the choicest aggregation of shapely (censored) which any student has ever seen, in one congregation. It is said that this act offers an unparalleled opportunity for becoming acquainted with the multitudinous charms of the co-eds.

Wicked Melodrama to Shock Fierce, shocking melodrama will send delicious little shivers down the spines of the fair ones, while their coarser male escorts will gurgle with ill suppressed laughter. Dark dyed villains with darker mustaches and characters will pursue charming maidens with characters as white as snow. The hero will dispatch with the villain with neatness and celerity.

Jazzy Jazz will Jazz

Blatant strains of Bluing the Blues, the soothing swing of "Let the Best of the World Go By," and the shivering soul sydop of Shakin' Sister's Shim-mie, will make the audience sit on the most Westerly portions of their seat, and brace their feet to keep from doing the Hulu in the heart of the throng.

And when Nora Bayes, and Al Johnson cut loose with their wonderful songs, you will hold your breath till it hurts. There will be sad, sentimental, jazzy and joyous singing that will make you want to die before it stops and leave you with unresponsive world.

There will be tumbling that will make you hold your breath in suspense. But what is the use. On Tuesday evening there will be eight of the snappiest acts of vaudeville on the auditorium stage that you or anybody else ever saw, and you will back up to a mule and poke him with a nail, if you fail to be there.

Send Band to Boise

This grand display of beauty, jazz, melody and T. B. M. stuff is being assembled for the purpose of assuring the presence of the Jazz Band in Boise on Armistice Day. The management is working at top speed to make this entertainment far above any similar enterprise which has ever been given on the University. It will be in the nature of a huge vaudeville stunt, with the cream of University talent carrying the lead in every department.

A small admission will be charged, and girls will invade the audience with trays of candy to sell. Every cent of money taken in will be used to send the band to Boise. Let's Rare Over.

NATIONAL POLITICS

The impending national election and its incident campaign present a most unusual aspect. The American voters seem to be in a hopeless apathy concerning the comparatively important duty of electing competent officers to head the national and state governments.

The League of Nations, undoubtedly one of the greatest issues before the American public in several decades, has been made the dominant issue between the Republican and the Democratic parties; but so far as public interest in it is concerned, the contention might as well be relative to the consistency of the whipped cream on ice cream sundaes.

It is apparent that neither the presidential candidates, nor the platforms on which they are making their campaigns, are satisfactory to the voters who make their privilege of voting a conscientious duty, a duty which is only discharged when they cast their ballot for the man who will best serve the governmental affairs.

Many of the really worth while, thinking citizens of the country have expressed themselves as being disgusted with the present campaign and the candidates as well. Debating societies have already recognized this feeling and are now arguing the question as to whether either party has advanced a platform worthy of intelligent voters.

Governor Cox, realizing that American interest in the League was well nigh dormant, sought other means of arousing the voting public, and launched his slush fund talk. The American public merely yawned and rolled over for another nap. Harding and his political leaders responded to the bait offered by Cox, and the people only yawned the wider.

In the last week Republican leaders have come out with the statement that the League is utterly repugnant to their principles and that they will fight it to a finish, and allege that the party is in complete accord on this issue. But there has been a wavering in the ranks of the G. O. P. and it is now rumored that Taft and Hughes are leaning on the wrong side of the fence.

The Democrats, in answer to the ultimatum of the Republicans, state that their rivals are merely jealous of the honor shed upon the promoters of the League, and are bucking it merely because they, the Republicans, do not want the Democrats to get the glory.

The Democrats base their campaign on the original draft of the League, while the Republicans make theirs solely upon opposition to the issue, and have not advanced any other solution to the international problems which are confronting America. So far the only thing which seems to be settled is the fact that the Democrats will have a league, if they carry the election, and that we will not have a league if the G. O. P.'s take the honors.

The old time tried plank of "protective tariff" has come into its own for the umpteenth time, and the Republicans are alleging that the American industry will be crippled without high duty on manufactured articles. The Democrats point to the unparalleled prosperity of the country as an answer to the issue, and the Republicans counter by laying it onto the war.

Administrative inefficiency and waste under Democratic leadership is made a strong point by Republican campaigners. And the Democrats trump the trick by laying it onto Republican party interference in Congress.

The political situation, one week before election, is a hopeless muddle, surcharged with mud slinging and paid propaganda, a lifeless clammy thing, repugnant to a great number of adherents of both parties; a campaign offering but one positive issue by one party, and its contravention by the other, and withal, not in keeping with the ideals of the world's greatest country, AMERICA.

LET'S GO

Friday night offers a wonderful opportunity to the students who have a bad case of grouch against the Ad building, occasioned by bitter recollection of eight o'clock and other means of torture. For the price of one toad hide, the wrathful Ed may take his fair one to the old place and gleefully waltz her over the entire building.

Men, garner in that dollar, and step up and grab the first girl you see, for when this news really breaks, girls will be scarcer than hens' teeth. And say, co-eds, listen, will you? You know that a girl can make any fellow on the campus (who hasn't a date already) take her to this dance, if she will go at it right. Vamp 'em a little. The men like it, and say, they do fall easy for a thing like this. Put on a little sob effect if necessary, to bring him over; say its a matter of life and death with you. If he still hangs back, tell him that you don't mind if he is broke—offer him a dollar and see how quick he breaks the necessary news that he is wild to date you up.

Let's all be there and settle the floors. Let's whoop it up till the old halls will echo for months. Grab your friend and bring her too. If Ed kicks on the amount of company, tell him that this is for the pep band, and is to see that Idaho goes loco at Boise. Ed won't mind if he sees it in that light.

Press up your Gingham, girls and someone will come for you, and if he gets lost, go anyway. You will find him at the Ad building with feet rarin' to go. Let's go!

The Utah-Idaho game at Boise on Armistice day furnishes the means for a greater publicity for the University than any other event connected with the school year.

People from the South, especially, who are naturally not in so close a touch with University life as we are, are keenly anticipating the opportunity of seeing the famous fighting team of Idaho in action. They want to know if there is such a thing as "Idaho Spirit," they want to see if "Idaho fights."

Every student in the University has an opportunity now to render a valuable service to his college. He can assist in awakening a sincere interest and hero worship among the people of South Idaho. He can materially foster the ambition of every Idaho boy and girl to attend her own University.

On a news page of this issue, will be found portions of a letter from Secretary of State, R. O. Jones, who assures us that the game is the most anticipated event scheduled for South Idaho this fall. And in the same article will be found a valuable suggestion for making the game and the alumni re-union a complete success.

The alumni of the University and the many University friends in Boise and other South Idaho towns are putting forth every effort to make the coming gridiron classic with Utah the greatest event of the year. They have asked for student aid in accomplishing a thing which is within the control of the students alone.

Will you, Idaho students, respond to the call. Sit down to-night and write to all your friends, relatives and acquaintances in South Idaho, who, by any means, can attend the game, and urge them to be there. When you have done that, you will feel the satisfaction which comes from doing your utmost for the Alma Mater of your heart.

AN EXPLANATION

Owing to the fact that it was impossible to cover the Oregon game with an Argonaut reporter, and due to the fact that the story of the game was not available from those who were there, the write-up of this game had to be gleaned from the Oregon Journal and the Spokesman Review. After talking with Coach Kelley and members of the team, we are of the opinion that the story is too partial to Oregon, and carries far too little praise of the Idaho players. The statements as to yardage made, first downs, and general playing are now regarded as entirely an Oregon view. It is said that Idaho outplayed Oregon in every stage of the game, made more yardage, more first downs, punted fewer times and showed better offensive and defensive than the Webfooters, and that it was only an exceptional break in luck which gave Oregon the game.

A girl is apt to have many pressing engagements before she marries.

four games this season, breaking even on the victories. Pullman's Cubs have engaged in a similar number of contests and have a full string of victories to their credit.

The Frosh team did some excellent work in the scrap with Lewis and Clark last Saturday, but at critical times tried fake plays and passes which were tripped up by the fast Spokane aggregation and were the means to the power city's victory. As long as the Frosh were playing straight line bucks and end runs, they were able to make consistent gains upon their opponents.

It is expected that a material change in the Freshman lineup will take place as a result of the Saturday game, and a different style of playing may be expected.

PATRONIZE HOME INDUSTRY

SOCIAL & PERSONAL

The second month of college finds campus society keeping up with the pace set at the opening of the school year. Idaho co-eds emerge from a dinner hour of telephone calls only to find themselves dated up for a Thanksgiving house-party, a Junior Prom, or S. A. E. formal scheduled for an early spring month.

The Sigma Nu and A. K. E. house dances of Friday evening, though in striking contrast, were equally enjoyable. As opposed to the dainty organdy and crepe-de-chine frocks much in evidence in the parlor of the house on the hill, the spacious main floor of the Sigma Nu house was a scene of kitchen aprons, pig-tails, high-neck and long-sleeved flannel blouses, and gum teeth on the part of the female attendance, while the hosts at the appropriately named "hard-times party" were very hideous in leather collars, overalls, horn-rimmed glasses and loggers' boots.

The Hallaween Hoe-down of Ridenbaugh Hall and the University Club dance, both events of Friday evening, were very enjoyable.

The De Smet Club dance of Saturday evening afforded a most pleasant diversion to about one hundred fifty couples.

The dance given by the women of Ridenbaugh and Jenkins Halls, on Saturday night was one of the most enjoyable affairs of the social season. More than one hundred couples, garbed in fantastic costumes and weird masks, tripped on willing feet to the joyful jazz of Whitehead's orchestra from Spokane.

The guests were denied the privilege of escorting their friends to the Gym, and ghosts stationed along the way, informed the male element where to look for the fair ones. And after following the advice of a dozen or more white garbed ghosts, the men found themselves in the basement of the Gym where Stygian darkness prevailed. After trailing over yards and yards of corn husks and straw, they were finally given a gentle shove in the direction of the stairs, and after tripping over the jumping board and other obstructions, the guests found themselves on the dancing floor, where their partners, in full costume and thoroughly masked, eagerly awaited the swains. After a period of anxious search for the damsels, the orchestra jazzed and the throng divided their time for the remainder of the evening between the dance and the barrel of cider and heaps of doughnuts in "focastle."

The invited guests were: Bill Carpenter, Wayne Barclay, Nealand, Chas. Stidwell, Elmer Wyland, Ralph Litton, Paul Reed, Arthur Sawyer, Adrian Nelson, Earl Bradford, Bert Bowlby, Rollin Farmin Fitzpatrick, Cameron King, Ivan Packingham, George Hemert, Gene Ralph, Arthur Yaggy, Paul Sargent, Ray Mathieson, Earnest Tolbert, Reuben Johnson, French Amos, Rudolph Jenesse, James Her, Sherman Breshers, Clyde Richards, Byron Bundy, Day, McKinley, Ashley Bivens, Mr. Young, Doc Tompson, Frank Kinneson, Marvin Scott, Mr. Dickson, Ted Schwarz, Greek Wells, Ralph Alley, Jack Armstrong, Clare Lowe, George Baker, Amand Kerns, Carl Swanstrom, Geo. Tucker, John Loseth, Harry Messenger, Adolph Green, Reed Throckmorton, Henry Heitman, Perdie Eaton, Royal Irving, Harrison Armstrong.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott of Coeur d'Alene visited their son Donald G. Scott and were dinner guests of Phi Delta Theta Sunday.

The Misses Gladys Hastie, Alice Fiske, Bernice Cornelson, and Esther Harris were Sunday dinner guests of Sigma Nu.

Borton McCallie and Lillian Horsey spent the week-end in Lewiston.

On Thursday afternoon of last week Mrs. Tess Keane Hickman of Kappa Kappa Gamma entertained at a delightfully appointed bridge-luncheon at her home on street in honor of Mrs. Rosa Van Tess Weatherly, the Kappa Kappa Gamma house-mother. Besides the hostess and the honor guest, those enjoying the affair were Mrs. Fred Veach, Mrs. Whittier, Mrs. Geo. Mix, Mrs. Mix.

Kappa Alpha Theta entertained Al Graf, Titus Le Clair, Lora Kitch, Ed Foran, Howard Hanson, Arthur Fiske, Paul Evans, Leo Schroeder, and Darwin Simms of Sigma Nu Sunday evening.

Friday evening Alpha Kappa Epsilon entertained at an informal house dance. The guests were Dr. and Mrs. G. M. Miller, Dr. and Mrs. Henry Schmitz, Mrs. I. W. Newman, Mrs. Harold Ayers, the Misses Kutnewsky, Tabor, Moffat, Adelman, Jacobson, Morgan, Kouold, Rolands, Sommons, Greene, Griggson, Nason, Kendrick, Felton, Belsivinger, Stevens, Friedman, Oylear, Hill, M. Armbruster, F. Armbruster, Cooper, Langroise, Luce, White, Paterka, McRoberts, Thomas, Patterson, Munsen, Rick, Wiley, Philippi, Broadwater, Spielburg, Macey, Seely, and Channel.

Mrs. J. F. Euders visited her daughter Lois at Ridenbaugh Hall for a few days last week.

Esther Motie attended the Phi Delta Theta dance at Pullman, Friday.

True Shape HOSIERY
STYLE NO. 564
TO thousands of discriminating women absolute hosiery satisfaction has been summed up in one number—TRUE SHAPE 564. I you haven't worn TRUE SHAPE No. 564 ask us to show you these stockings—and then please take note of these features:
FIRST, you will be impressed with its beautiful, silk texture—then note the patented "cross-stitch" in the garter top which prevents runs. And while you're examining the "cross-stitch" note the flare top, which makes the stocking a "comfy" where it is often tight and binding. Now look at its shaped and fashioned leg, the narrow, close-fitting foot. And the heels and toes are four-ply yarn Well—just buy one pair, and then see how easy it will be to always remember TRUE SHAPE 564.

STOCK JUDGING TEAM WORK FOR CONTESTS

Strong Aggregation of Idaho Aged Plans to Grab Judging Honors At Western Shows.

The stock judging team which represents the University of Idaho at all of the principal stock exhibits of the Northwest, is working hard for the impending contests with the Western colleges at Spokane, Lewiston and Portland.

The Idaho squad, which is composed of ten men, have visited the principal pure blood herds of the Palouse country during the last week, and are trying for places on the first string of judges.

Last Wednesday, the team went to Pullman and judged ten classes of sheep, cattle and swine from the W. S. C. herds. Saturday they were in Uniontown passing on the merits of the shorthorn herd which is owned by Mr. Graff. They also judged the famous shorthorn herd of Nordby Bros. at Genesee and the herd of Herefords owned by Mr. Platt.

The men who are trying for places on the team are, Leon Taylor, Reuben Johnson, Elmer Roberts, Loren Kitch, William Pechance, Jimmie Fox, Chas. Warren, Knutson and Speedy. It is said that Leon Taylor is to be looming as the individual star of the contestants at present. His experience in past years is of material advantage to him, but it is said that there are other members of the group who will make him work to keep his place.

The team will judge at Western Royal Stock Show in Spokane the week of November 1-5, and the following week, they will be at Lewiston at the Northwest Livestock Association, and the third week will compete at International Show in Portland.

The schools which will compete at these shows are Idaho, W. S. C., O. A. C., and it is said that there is a strong possibility that Montana, Utah and Canada will be represented.

JUDGE T. A. VALTERS VISITS UNIVERSITY. SEES NEED OF EQUIPMENT

Judge T. A. Valters of Caldwell, a former member of the board of regents of the University of Idaho, spent Saturday on the campus, looking over the university buildings and noting the many changes and improvements. Judge Valters took special note of the congested condition prevailing here both in classrooms and laboratories.

In speaking of the conditions as he found them he said that the need of more room was evident and that every nook and corner seemed to be utilized for some purpose.

"The over-crowded condition I find here and the holding of night classes," said Judge Valters, "is not a profitable investment for the state and should be remedied without delay. The legislature should appropriate funds to remove this menace and to provide for the payment of salaries at least equal to those paid to university instructors in our sister states. This essential in the university is to build up a strong, permanent faculty. In walking about the campus Judge Valters was surprised at the large number of Caldwell students he met.

NEW ORGANIZATION IS BOOSTING S. E. IDAHO

An organization that is different, has been launched by the calling of a meeting of all students from Southeastern Idaho. In the past there have been organizations of students formed into town clubs, but this is the first attempt at sectional organization. Although no permanent organization has as yet been affected, another meeting is to be called Wednesday morning at eleven o'clock and proceedings will be carried forward at that time.

The object of the society will be to promote interest in the University among the citizens of southeastern Idaho. Due to their proximity to other colleges, the high cost of transportation, and a lack of knowledge of the University standards, many south Idaho students go elsewhere to college. The new organization hopes to create such an interest in the Gem State University as to cause a material increase in the representation from that portion of the state.

sales among high school students and former University people."

In a statement relative to the impending game Mr. Gibson said, "From the standpoint of attendance, this will easily be the biggest game of the year."

Alumni Plan Reunion.

"The alumni are planning a meeting to be held in Boise, following the game," said Pres. Kjosness today, "which will be in the nature of a huge reunion. It is hoped that at this time the alumni will be able to partially express their sincere appreciation of the work done by Coach Kelley at Idaho this fall."

Special Train Possible.

The Alumni organization of Moscow and vicinity are hopeful of obtaining a special train from Moscow to Boise. It is thought that there will be a substantial attendance from the University and many of the local alumni are planning to make the trip. Pres. Kjosness is working hard to interest enough students and University friends to make the trip to warrant a special train, or at least for several cars of rooters.

Definite plans will be announced as soon as the necessary information can be obtained.

LEWIS AND CLARK HIGH HAND FROSH DRUBBING

With the ball on their own 10-yard line Lewis and Clark was penalized twice, on successive plays, for "kneeling." Bringing the ball to their 2 1/2 yard line. From here Wicks punched the ball over and Cobley kicked goal. Shortly before this Lewis and Clark scored their third touchdown when, after a 30-yard run by Towers and short pass, Towers to Skaadan, Collared poked the ball over. Towers failed at goal. Score, end first half, Lewis and Clark 20, freshmen 7.

Between halves, the large crowd of Idaho rooters staged a huge serpentine under the leadership of Right Bower Turner, and after winding into a ball in the center of the field, gave a number of peppy yells.

It was during this yell rally that word was received that Idaho was leading the Oregon team, six to nothing at the end of the first quarter. The news was greeted with a tremendous outburst of cheering and the crowd went wild with enthusiasm. A moment later it was discovered that the report was erroneous, but the crowd continued to vent its enthusiasm with cheering for the freshmen.

Idaho continued her offensive in the second half. After three unfruitful attempts through the line, Lewis and Clark attempted to kick from her 30 yard line. The center threw the ball wild and Skaadan was downed on his own 15-yard line. Vigorous line plunges by the Idaho backfield rushed the ball close to the goal, where Wicks again pushed it over. Cobley failed at goal. Idaho received the kickoff and was consistently ripping holes through the Lewis and Clark line when another pass was attempted. Powers intercepted it and another chance for Idaho to score was lost.

Idaho Near Goal Line.

In the last quarter Idaho came within scoring distance, gaining the ball on a fumble while backed against her own goal. Idaho fought down the field to the Lewis and Clark 20-yard line. The high school line stiffened and after trying in vain to tear through it, Idaho tried a pass. Towers intercepted it and raced down the side line for a touchdown. He failed to kick goal. Cobley, attempting to tackle Towers, missed and was injured by the fall. After a short rest, however, he continued to play.

In the second quarter Parmeter, who entered the game with an injured hip, was taken out. Conley went in at full and Collared shifted to half. In the same quarter Nelson was injured while carrying the ball and was replaced by Hasbrouck.

OREGON JINX RAZOOS IDAHO'S GRID PROSPECTS

Idaho Has Edge.

In the first part of the game, Idaho had an edge in offensive scrimmaging. The Idaho backs plowed through for 48 yards in this quarter to only 13 yards for Oregon. In the third quarter again, Idaho made 20 yards and Oregon only four.

The longest forward pass of the game was that of 20 yards that gave Oregon its second touchdown. Oregon made first down three times in the first half and six times in the second, a total of nine, and Idaho made first down four times in the first half to three in the second, a total of seven. Oregon averaged 171 pounds to 167 or Idaho.

Bill Steers whose return to Oregon a week ago strengthened the team vastly. He played through most of three quarters.
