"America will not enter the League of Nations." That is the verdict of the American voters in the national election Tuesday.

The Peace Treaty and the League of Nations have been two of the most discussed issues of several decades. Both have occupied miles of space in newspapers and magazines of this country and of European nations' as well.

We think it meet to open up the col with the contrib of our first contri-bute—Oh Henry. (We've read his books). Dear Ed: You failed to print my last contrib to this cereal (no I'm not a breakfast food poet) and if you don't publish this masterpiece, I'll never write to you again, so there. (Signed) Oh Henry.

We're glad to know that Oh. Henry is a reader of Life.

All ye Frosh who are being pursued by ten thousand evil, malignant, malicious, malevolent, vile and vicious little devils, colored poisonous green and slimy snaky purples, (all this being a short definition of the "Blues") read this logical bit taken from Life and be happy.

It is rumored that Si Swanstrom was called on the carpet by the council and dean of women for dancing cheek to cheek style. When interviewed, Si emphatically denied it, but said that, the report is altogether

With incomplete election returns indicating that Harding has carried the presidential election by one of the greatest majorities ever given a candidate for this office, a thorough shaking up, a renovation which has perhaps never before been equalled in American history is impending the present governmental machine.

For eight long hungry years, Republicans have viewed with wistful eyes the fat political plums, which were being devoured by Democrats. For eight years they have planned their revenge, and now the time seems right for a reaping of the ire.

Democratic waste and incompetence have been made a great talking point by the Republicans. The League of Nations was the chief issue in the campaign. But so far as we can learn, the Republicans have made no statements or promises as to how they shall determine our status in the affairs of the world. Neither have they been explicit in their explanations of methods to be followed in correcting governmental waste and extravagance.

We venture to say that many Republican wheel horses, and all of their political opponents will be watching until the wee small hours of the morning to see how these two great campaign issues will be finally determined.

GOOFEY GOSSIP
WHEREIN WE EXPLAIN OUR EXISTANCE

It is said that in Nature's omnipotent plans, there is an explanation for everything. Hence it appears that we should be called upon to make an explanation for this atrocious column.

But after sitting up half the night in an attempt to make a suitable explanation, we have come to the conclusion that there can be neither explanation, justification or condonation. It will go down in history as one of the great unsolved mysteries of the nineteenth century.

P. S. We did write a perfectly good excuse for this column, but after his Nibs, the editor, read it, i. e., the column, he sat down and dashed off the foregoing explanation, which is another way of saying that the only reason the stuff appears, is to render a galley of white paper unfit for conquest by paper hungry printers.

He wore his college frat pin Just southward of his heart. And vowed that from that resting place

That pin should ne'ev depart. Years that passed still found him Firm and standing pat, Still wearing his college frat pin In honor of his frat. (Second verse same as first)

One day two eyes confused him His high resolve took chase. A soft voice coaxed the frat pin From its old abiding place. They're now in a little bungalow With "Welcome" on the mat, And the frat pin?—fastens baby's clothes, In honor of his frat.

We have some more junk like this to print someday. Not so good, girls. Something like kissing your sister. Not enough kick, as 'twere.

We think it meet to open up the col with the contrib of our first contri-bute—Oh Henry. (We've read his books).

Dear Ed: You failed to print my last contrib to this cereal (no I'm not a breakfast food poet) and if you don't publish this masterpiece, I'll never write to you again, so there. (Signed) Oh Henry.

We're glad to know that Oh. Henry is a reader of Life.

"Some people look down on the people who they think inferior to them. But I look down on the people who think they are superiors to me."

It is rumored that Si Swanstrom was called on the carpet by the council and dean of women for dancing cheek to cheek style. When interviewed, Si emphatically denied it, but said that, the report is altogether

CHAFF AND WHEAT
By A. Flaier.

There is something the matter with any woman when she is willing to let a man do all the talking.

Women.

A woman is queer, there's no doubt about that. She hates to be thin, and she hates to be fat.

One minute it's laughter, the next it's a cry You can't understand her, however you try.

But there's one thing about her which everyone knows— A woman's not dressed till she powders her nose. —Student Life.

How a bald-headed man does sneer at a woman who dyes her hair!

LINDLEY HALL MEN PURCHASE PIANO

An addition has been made to the school's supply of musical agony through the purchase of a piano to grace the basement of Lindley Hall. On the evening of Wednesday, October twentieth the stork left the new arrival and the little dear soon announced his presence.

It was held hopeless to silence him, so the students collected and earnestly tried to drown him out until mess was sounded. Food quieted both contestants.

The piano was imported after the decision on the part of the L. H. A. (Lindley Hall Association, you ignorant) to donate one and a half of the silver wheels per man, for that purpose.

Plans are being made to give a play to wipe out the deficit on the instrument, and a committee under Ted Turner has already secured the cooperation of the English department, and the Association will attempt to stage some sort of a play in the near future.

If the squad ever finds itself penniless in a tank town, a hall can be hired and a glee club concert staged. Features of the singing at the dinner table were vigorously emphatic renditions of "When Idaho Rips 'Em Up" and Babe Brown's whistled accompaniments of several other songs in the squad's repertoire.

George "Pedro" Pearson, who displayed unusual ability when he had an opportunity to display his wares in the final quarter, left his pale brown Stetson head-gear at Starbuck on the trip down. Thirteen members of the squad helped him select the cap he felt called upon to buy in Walla Walla.

FREE ANNUAL FOR JOKE. A 1920 Gem of the Mountains will be given as a prize for the best joke, suitable for the annual, which is submitted to the joke editors of the book, before Dec. 17th, 1920.

The conditions of the contest are as follows: 1. All jokes must be submitted before Dec. 17th, 1920. 2. No prize will be given unless 250 jokes are submitted. 3. The judges, consisting of the Annual Staff, will give preference to jokes which contain local color.

4. One may submit all the jokes he wishes.

5. All jokes must be placed in the "Gem Joke Box" in the Ad building (but not in the Argonaut box— with the name of the person submitting it, on the same paper.

Someone will win an annual, valued at four dollars, for simply dropping a clever bit of wit in the joke box. Why not be the lucky one? Joke Editor.

HOW DOES THE MAN GET OFF? We ask would it not be possible for the woman's governing council and other woman's governing bodies of this university to devise some other means of punishment than that of cutting dates of various offenders? We wish merely to point out that the punishment thus inflicted is not always restricted to the offender. How about the man? When he has made a date for some six weeks in advance for the most important event of the year he is usually called up the night before the said occasion and informed by the distressed damsel that owing to some unforeseen circumstance, in the shape of the powers that be, she has been denied the privilege of attending the aforementioned function. Are there not other means of enforcing regulations?

SIDE-LIGHTS AND HIGH-LIGHTS ON THE TRIP AND THE GAME

The longest run of the day was Joe Whitcomb's 45-yard return of a Whitman punt. Joe gathered in the pigskin on Idaho's 25-yard line and, by the grace of good interference and the aid of vicious straight-arms, he rambed until three Whitman tacklers brought him down 30 yards from their own goal posts.

Grover Evans, whose recovery of a Whitman fumble paved the way for Idaho's third touchdown, was on the receiving end of several long passes. Twice in the last half he battered his way through a personal body-guard of three Missionary backfield men, went up into the air and came down hugging the oval.

Duddy Gowen, who was inserted into the game early in the second quarter after injuries had forced the withdrawal of Huck Breshears, hurt his shoulder on the first play sent around his end, but he gamely battled throughout the remainder of the game with apparently undiminished effectiveness.

Fleeta Brennan and Gertrude O'Keefe motored to Lewiston Sunday.

Grace Vogleson, ex '23, of Lewiston was a guest at the Kappa Kappa Gamma house Sunday.

Friday evening the Kappa Sigma house was the scene of an impromptu dancing party at which twelve men entertained their friends for the evening. Mrs. Scott chaperoned. The guests present were the Misses Verna Wilkinson, Peterson, Channel, Munson, Langroise, Hummel, McMartin, Roberts, and Morris.

Phil Tolman and Lynn Hersey visited in Pullman Saturday and Sunday.

Norma Cox, Aleta Green and Cornelia Burbridge were dinner guests of Kappa Alpha Theta on Tuesday evening.

Miss Florence Bauer of Kappa Alpha Theta is in Spokane with her sister Mrs. Roy Stillinger.

Misses Rose, Edgecomb, Collins and Kendrick attended the game at Pullman Saturday.

Both Frank and "Babe" Brown came out of the game nursing injuries. "Babe" suffered a badly bruised hip and Frank was hurt when his back was made a landing place for the knees of a Whitman runner. Despite their casualties, however, these redoubtable Boisettes played sensationally good football.

The justly famous Breshears clan registered all of Idaho's touchdowns. Huck went over the Whitman line for the first score after plucking a pass from Neil Irving and Beany twice duplicated his brother's more than admirable performance.

Captain Plastino was responsible for discouraging Whitman's aerial offensive in the first half. He intercepted passes on two occasions and the Idaho backfield celebrated each incident by starting a parade down the field.

Pat Perrine and Grove Evans joined forces for the purpose of shattering a Whitman pass in the last quarter. Pat permitted the oval to collide with his brawny chest and Grove made a successful grab and started down the gridiron.

Members of the Idaho squad were guests of the Whitman "W" club at a dance in the college gymnasium Saturday evening. Dates were obtained for Jim Neal, George Pearson, Joe Whitcomb and several other varsity athletes.

Bert "Pip" Dingle, quarterback on the 1916 and 1917 elevens, held down Idaho's end of the yard-sticks, and Jean P. Gerlough served as the Idaho time-keeper.

Whitman rooters—equipped with coin of the realm were few and hard to find. Several Idaho backers, however, bellying with Tennyson that "odds do not a wager make," got down some 2 to 1 bets.

Neil Irving booted all three of the goals from touchdowns, his squaretoed shoe sending the leather hurtling straight over the mathematical center of the cross-bar.

OUR FALLEN SONS
By Lt. Herbert C. Fooks, U. I. 1916

Oh! Worthy sons of Idaho
Who fell on fields of France
To stem the tide that westward flowed,—
The frightful Hun advance.
You paid the supreme sacrifice.
Your deeds were nobly done.
No words of ours can add one bloom
To the laurels you have won.

We ask ourselves what may we do
That seed which you have sown
May not be lost in wayside paths
Or crowded out by thorns.
To grieve or sigh would little aid,—
But is there not a way
That they take root in hearts of men
And live forever and a day?

May not each worthy son take heed
Even in the great turmoil,
To shield the seed of loyalty
That grow in freedom's soil,
Until they yield in many fields
A fragrance far and near

From folded fruits of noble deeds
By men who know nor fear.

CATCHY SLOGAN IS TAKEN BY BOOSTERS

Association of Southeastern Students Formed to Boost University in South Idaho.

"The U. of I. is the U. for U." reads the slogan adopted by the "Association of Southeastern Idaho Students" at the University of Idaho. This organization was recently formed for the purpose of encouraging students from that section to attend the state university.

L. A. Thomas, formerly superintendent of the consolidated public schools in Jefferson county, was elected president of the association. O. R. Weaver, Idaho Falls, Bonneville County, vice president; Miss Edith Cooper, Roy, Power County, secretary; and C. J. Kelley, Idaho Falls, Bonneville County, treasurer.

The meeting unanimously decided to devote the balance of the year to encouraging the state legislature from their section to work for the student rate bill in the coming session of the legislature. This measure provides that the state shall grant each student the amount he pays for railroad fare in excess of $5.00.

"This bill is of great importance to all students attending the university," said President Thomas today, "and affects the students from our section most of all. If this bill is passed it will have a splendid effect upon the high school graduates of southern Idaho. We are planning a vigorous, direct campaign to get every graduate to Moscow but feel the necessity of having this bill passed if we are to achieve the success this movement deserves."

FRESHMAN GRIDIRON STAR IS OUT FOR THE ENTIRE SEASON

Leon Woodrow, a former North Central high school star who had been expected to bulwark the freshman offense in some of the season's later games, will be unable to don football togs this year. Woodrow suffered what was thought to be a sprained ankle in a September scrimmage, but a recent X-ray examination disclosed the fact that his injury is a serious fracture which definitely eliminates him from 1920 gridiron activity.

The wise man and the fool's money are soon united.

The first contribution of the Thirsty Three is now in our hands, ready for immediate release. This time it takes the form of prose. For originality of subject matter and chastity of diction we prepared to back it against the field to our last penny, which happens to be the only one we have on hand at the moment. Gather around, ye avid columnites and let us list to the affecting tale of

SADIE THE SORROWFUL SALMON SLINGER

By the Thirsty Three.

Now this here Sadie what I am going to tell you about ain't one of these here hikafutlin' dames what rides a coal black horse what is feared by all the grooms. She ain't never had the chance to lap around on one of these here fancy diveons and inject chocolates into her face with her lily white mits. Her old man ain't got coin enough to buy her one of these here coming out shrouds what makes her look like a cross between Christmas Eve and September Morn. She never had the chance to drape her sinuous form over the tonue of one of those limazenes.

But listen, Al. When she hollered "Ham and over!" It sounded like Melba tiklin her throat to the tune of "Whispering." One night as our hairion was swabbing up the basement with the boss's other shirt a beautiful hak drug by six milk white steeds came gallopin up to the joint, a man stepped out. He was none other than Lord Helpus of the House of Drunkor-sobor. Leaning over the counter he said, (To be continued).

FOOT PRINTS FROM AD-DANCE

Those lonely old specimen cases in the south end of the third story hall could tell Miss Butler some shocking stories, if they but would. Heaven be praised, they never will.

There were said to have been 250 couples at the dance Friday. Then we bet there were 250 disappointed couples when they found all the class room doors locked.

The walls of the old Ad Building will groan for years when they think of the terrible desecration which occurred there Friday.

We take our hats off to the faculty. They are a good-hearted, loyal bunch of good sports. Giving permission for a dance in the Ad building shows that they are with us, heart and soul.

IDAHO CO-EDS WILL ATTEND CONFERENCE

Women Of Western Colleges Will Meet In Pullman, Nov. 11-13. To Discuss School Affairs.

Idaho will be represented at the Intercollegiate Conference of All-Women's organizations from institutions of higher learning west of the Mississippi which is to be held at W. S. C. November 11 to 13, by Lar Vern Borell and Grace Taggart. Representatives will be present from Reed College, the Universities of Utah, Idaho, Nevada, Oregon, California, Montana, and Washington, and from Oregon Agricultural College, Washington State College, McMinnville College, Oregon and the Lewiston State Normal School.

The Idaho delegates are to give talks on "How organized activities may be controlled," and "Big Sister," and similar ideas.

The rest of the program and topics to be discussed are:

Oregon Agricultural College, "Equal Distribution of Campus Opportunities." Leader, "Women's Participation in General Elections."

University of Oregon, "How Organized Activities May Be Controlled." Leader, "Big Sister" and similar ideas.

University of California, "Student Employment." Leader, "Equal distribution of the Campus Opportunities."

University of Nevada, "Women's Participation in General Elections." Leader, "How Organized Activities May Be Controlled."

Reed College, "Methods of Raising Scholarship Standards." Leader, "Vocational Guidance."

University of Utah, "Vocational Guidance." Leader, "Financing Student Organizations."

University of Washington, "The Honor Point System; Its Effect and Administration." Leader, "Student Employment."

State College of Washington, "Big Sister and Similar Ideas." Leader, "Campusing."

University of Montana, "Campusing." Leader, "The Honor Point System; Its Effect and Administration."

Lewiston State Normal School, "Financing Student Organizations." Leader, "Dissemination of Campus Information."

McMinnville College, Oregon. "Dissemination of Campus Information." Leader, "Methods of Raising Scholarship Standards."

In the discussion, a topic is to be handled by each institution and the discussion is to be led by a delegate from another institution.

Once when Manville and Miss Hunt were dancing, Manville bumped the top of his head on the under side of one of the aforesaid cases. Mannie says that they should place "telltails" around the side of these low bridges so that he will not get off the track.

Did you notice how Dean Cockrill sniffed the air whenever he passed those empty kegs on the floor?
