STAGE SET FOR INTERSCHOLASTIC MEET

INAUGURATION OF PRES. UPHAM WILL BE HELD MARCH 29 AND 30

MANY NOTED MEN OF AMERICA TO BE PRESENT—DR. J. A. McLEAN, DR. W. O. THOMPSON OF OHIO, GOVERNOR DAVIS AND SUPREME COURT JUSTICES WILL BE ON CAMPUS—PROGRAM IS COMPLETE.

CEREMONY TO BE SIMPLE

Inaugural Ball and "Clarence" Will Be Student Contributions to The Program—First Inauguration

The formal inauguration of Dr. A. H. Upham, new president of the university, will take place on Tuesday and Wednesday, the 29th and 30th of this month. The event will be of particular significance, for it will be the first time a president of the University of Idaho has been so honored, and leading men from all parts of the country will be present to witness the ceremony.

The presidents of most of the western colleges and universities will represent their schools, while members of the faculty and alumni of eastern and southern institutions will probably be present.

Among the noted men who will be present is Dr. W. O. Thompson, president of the University of Ohio, who was president of Miami University when Dr. Upham was graduated from that institution. Dr. Thompson has been prominent in public life for many years, having been often mentioned for cabinet positions, having been active in the war in civilian relief work, and serving as a member of the Agricultural commission of the United States which visited Europe during the war. Dr. Thompson will be one of the speakers at the inauguration.

Dr. James A. McLean, president of the local university prior to 1913, will also be in Moscow for the occasion, it is thought probable. This man has done much to stimulate the early growth and development of the university, and under his administration much of the basis for the school's present high standard of ideals and scholarship was established. Dr. McLean is at present the resident of the University of Manitoba, at Winnipeg, Canada.

Governor D. W. Davis will also be in attendance, and will act as chairman at the inauguration ceremony. Other state officials of considerable prominence, members of the supreme court, many state senators and representatives, members of the U. S. Bureau of Education, and delegates from all the educational institutions of the state, as well as many prominent citizens, will be here.

In spite of the fact that the affair will be treated by extreme simplicity, the presence of so many noted figures will make the inauguration of President Upham a landmark in the history of the university.

The inauguration program has been outlined by a committee of deans. At present it stands as follows:

Tuesday evening, March 9, 8 p. m., Reception at Ridenbaugh hall, in honor of the visitors and guests.

Nine p. m., Inaugural ball, under the auspices of the Associated Students of the University of Idaho.

Wednesday, March 30, 9 a. m., Academic procession.

Ten a. m., Inauguration; Governor Davis in the chair; introduction of the new president by Dr. E. A. Bryan, commissioner of education; acceptance and inaugural address by Dr. Upham; address by W. O. Thompson, president of the University of Ohio.

The ceremony will be closed by the singing of "America" the benediction and a recessional. The faculty and students of the school of music will render numbers at various times in the program. The university orchestra will play the processional and the recessional.

As to Dr. A. H. Upham, the new president, the students and others have already had time to become acquainted with him, and feel a liking for their new prexy.

"During the few short months that Dr. Upham has been at the university, he has become immensely popular with both faculty and students," said Executive Secretary Parsons. He

GOVERNMENT SENDS NINE MEN TO IMPERIAL VALLEY

Federal Training Men to Be Sent to McDevitt Project to Take Course Under Specialists

Nine federal training men from the university are being sent, by the government to El Centro, California, in the Imperial Valley to take training on the McDevitt project, under the instruction of technically trained men.

The men will be handled there for a period of two years on the community plan, during which time they will be receiving practical training in the methods used in the Imperial Valley at government expense.

This project is being financed and backed by Mr. McDevitt who in 1912, went into the Imperial Valley with a very severe case of tuberculosis. Mr. McDevitt, who has not only regained his health but also made a fortune, has decided to make known the possibilities of the valley for the cure of lung trouble. He has about six thousand acres of land which the men will use during their two year training period. At the end of this time the men will be given a piece of the tract for their own.

In selecting the men three points were taken into consideration. Their ability to withstand the intense heat of the valley, which of course took into account the nature of their disability. Married men were given preference because it is that that they will not be as apt to give up the scheme as single men and third, men of agricultural experience. If this project is successful it is the plan of the McDevitt company to develop another similar project in Arizona.

Select Nine Idahoans
The nine men who have been selected from the University of Idaho are P. Burrell, Hume A. Knutson, J. Cox, L. Kitch, W. Matthews, L. Schroeder, Snelson, and J. Sparks. These men will be on the project by the twenty-fifth of the month.

CO-EDS PRACTICE FOR COLLEGE TENNIS MEET

Sixteen girls reported for tryouts in tennis last Thursday night after the basketball game. The regular practice nights will be on Tuesday and Thursday and any others interested in trying out are requested to report at the gymnasium at that time. Miss Watson said the contestants will be chosen through a process of elimination which will begin immediately. It was also stated the gymnasium would be open spring vacation and time set aside for the girls to practice.

ALL NORTHWEST BASKET BALL TEAM ANNOUNCED

By J. Fred Bohler.
P. I. N. News
Director of Athletics at the State College of Washington and advisory member of the Basketball Rules Committee of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, representing the Western District.

Position on All-Northwest
Forward, Durno, U. of Oregon; forward, Rich, Whitman College; center, H. Latham, U. of Oregon; guard, Hunter, U. of Idaho; guard, McIvor, W. S. C.

"In picking these teams, considerable consideration has been given the judgment of the other coaches of the two conferences, and their choices were collected and compiled before the final selections.

"For second forward, there is little to choose from between Rich of Whitman, Stinson of O. A. S., Moe of Idaho, and Wapato of Willamette. Rich has a slight edge because of his versatility, and he is a clever floor worker, and a good dodger and dribbler.

"Hunter of Idaho is named for the offensive guard position. Although he played forward in previous seasons, he was shifted to guard this year, where he has done very effective work, easily outscoring his opponents. His ability to make long shots makes him a valuable man for this position."

SUNDAY RECITAL MERITS ENTHUSIASTIC RESPONSE

ONLY SMALL AUDIENCE PRESENT—PROGRAM OF UNUSUAL WORTH CLOSES SUNDAY RECITALS.

The department of music of the University presented a charming vesper program to an appreciative audience in the Auditorium Sunday afternoon. Every number was presented with an artistry and charm which won the instant approval of the hearers.

Ava Maria, sung by Mrs. David McMillan and accompanied by Mr. Dickinson on the violin, Mrs. Sharp at the organ and Miss Clark at the piano, won the greatest appreciation from the audience. The cloudy afternoon gave a sacred, cathedral aspect to the auditorium and the deeply touching, anthem like music brought a spirit of reverence over the audience which is seldom equalled in church. The beautiful lyric voice of Mrs. McMillan presented the "Ave Maria" with a charm and beauty which went straight to the hearts of the audience. The number was repeated when the unstinted applause which the number was accorded, refused to be stilled till the singer reappeared.

Chorale and prayer from the Gothic Suite by Boellman and Chant d'Amour and the Processional March, played by Miss Gertrude Christen at the organ, were especially beautiful numbers, and were highly in keeping with the Sabbath air which seemed to flood the auditorium.

The closing number, The Angelus, played by Fannie Rink at the Piano, Felcome Garlock on the marimba and Clark Rush at the organ, was of unusual merit, and brought forth a storm of merited applause.

The entire program was of more than ordinary merit, and was deserving of a much larger attendance than was accorded. Sunday's program is perhaps the last for the current year.

BETA HOOP ARTISTS GRAB OFF INTERMURAL PENNANT

By winning two games from the Sig Alphas, champions of the second section, the Betas, champions of the first section, won the Inter Mural Basketball championship for the 1920-21 season.

The first game, played March 10, resulted in a 19 to 10 victory for the Betas. The game was hard fought and well played although the Betas were at no time in danger.

The second game, played March 12, was also a Beta victory, the score being 19 to 11. It was a much closer game, the first half being comparatively even. During the last half the Betas succeeded in gaining a substantial lead, which they held throughout the balance of the game.

These games give the Betas the Inter-Mural championship and the Sig Alphas runners-up.

The Phi Deltas and University Club played a game March 12 to decide third place in the league, the game being won by the Phi Deltas 24 to 12.

ENGLISH CLUB HOLD MEETING.

The English club held its regular meeting Tuesday evening at the Delta Gamma house. Plans were made concerning the production of "Clarence," a Booth Tarkington comedy. Later in the evening Miss Evadna Roberts entertained the club members with a vocal solo, and Professor Chenoweth gave readings from Julius Caesar and Poe's "Raven."

HEY! GET THIS RIGHT

There will be no classes Thursday afternoon. This holiday is extended to the student body so that they may be able to attend the inter-scholastic basketball games. Just because there are no classes, don't drive over to the Dorm or some of the sorority houses and park all afternoon in a fussing corner. Attend those games.

IDAHO HOST TO COMPETING HIGH SCHOOL BASKETEERS

SIXTEEN FIGHTING QUINTETS ARRIVE ON CAMPUS FRESH FROM DISTRICT VICTORIES TO ENTER STATE BASKET BALL TOURNAMENT—TWIN FALLS HOOP ARTISTS ARRIVE TODAY TO WORK OFF EFFECTS OF LONG JAUNT.

FRESHMAN BEWARE

You are hereby ordered to don the verdant sky-piece next Thursday, the 17th of Ireland, and any Frosh who appears on the campus on or after this date, without the festive headgear, known as the green beanie, will do so at the peril of his life.

"CLARENCE" COMING INAUGURATION NIGHT

STUDENTS WILL PRESENT POPULAR PLAY—WAS DECIDED HIT IN EASTERN CITIES

Booth Tarkington's play "Clarence" is to be presented to the students and people of Moscow, Wednesday, March 30th, by the English Club of the university. The play with its original cast had a successful "run" in New York year before last and was received with similar enthusiasm in Chicago last winter. Since then a part of the company has been traveling over the United States presenting "Clarence." The plot is modern, light, and attractive and characterizes the boy and girl of about seventeen years as no one but Booth Tarkington could with his clever interpretation of youthful characters.

The cast presenting the play in Moscow includes the following:

Mike Thometz in the role of "Clarence" attempting throughout the play to demonstrate the truth of the slogan "Join the Army and be well-informed." This is not the first time he has demonstrated his dramatic ability before the public. Mr. Thometz held a prominent part successfully in "The Amazons" last year and is a member of the debating team.

John McCallam, who as Mrs. Piny Cora's governess, enacts with real ability the part of a natural heart-breaker.

The flapper, Cora Wheeler, spoiled seventeen year old daughter of Mr. Wheeler, who is very well represented by Fleeta Brennan, is tormented throughout the play by her younger brother, a boy having the distinguished honor of being expelled from three boarding schools within a year or so. This part is taken by Joe Moore, brother of Josephine Moore, the famous Danseuse.

Cameron King as Mr. Wheeler, portrays with real talent the man of affairs, both financial and of the heart; and Pearl Stalker, the incompetent step-mother, who sobs herself through the play with abundant self-pity.

Everyone is in love with Clarence down to the Irish maid, Della (Margaret Mims).

Bethel Collins as Mrs. Martyn, secretary to Mr. Wheeler, and Doy McKinley as Mr. Stem, grass-widower, and the object of Cora's love, completing the cast.

As a basketball player Leon Woodrow makes a fine butler.

Now that you are acquainted with the popular and talented caste you are cordially invited to see the greatest dramatic production that has ever been presented at the university. After viewing four acts of this interesting, witty and thoroughly humorous plot you will reluctantly leave saying "The play's the thing."

TOM JACKSON VISITS

Tom Jackson, '19, of the school of forestry, who is in charge of the logging operations of the Ed. Rutledge Co. at Clarkia, is on the campus attending the Phi Gamma Delta initiation. Mr. Jackson addressed the students of the school of forestry on the problems in connection with the logging work and stated that there were many openings in this work for college trained men because of the many problems to be solved.

A GREAT FIGHT IS EXPECTED

Dopsters See Big North-South Scrap Ahead for Much Coveted Cup

All indications point to the most successful state basketball tournament ever put on by the University Athletic Department here when eight high school fives compete Thursday and Friday at the gymnasium for state wide honors. All district supremacy tournaments have now been played, and credentials have been received by the Athletic department from the respective teams of each district coming to take part in the fight for state leadership. The active management of the meet is in the charge of Felix Plastino, who is working hard to make the affair one which will make every high school visitor a future Idaho student.

Up to a few days ago, it was doubtful which teams would represent two of the district in the tourney. Lewiston-Friday night won the right to represent district number 4 by defeating Culesac in a hard fought game at Lewiston. On the same night Twin Falls came out victorious of the seventh district's tourney, so that she will again be counted as among the strong contenders for the state cup. They have notified Manager Plastino that they will arrive in Moscow Tuesday in order to work off the effects of the long trip before entering the meet. Pocatello will in all probability come as the representative of her district, altho no definite word has been received by the department to that effect. In the fourth district, Boise high's fighting quintet managed to walk away with the free pass to Moscow, and is reported as coming up with a bunch of hoop artists intent only on taking back with them the silver trophy. Driggs, the spectacular dark horse of last years meet, will again compete as district number eight's representative, having easily faded all other contestants. From the north, Couer d'Alene will enter from district 1, and is reported as having the strongest team in the pan handle. She will be accompanied by a twenty-two piece high school band, and if support counts for anything, she should make a whirlwind of a fight. Kellogg and Moscow will represent districts 2 and 3 respectively, and are expected to put up a strong fight to keep the cup in the northern part of the state.

Twin Falls Determined Contestants

It is impossible from any outward evidence to pick the strongest contenders in the meet, but from the showing made in last years contest, and the line ups of the teams, it looks as the Twin Falls and Couer d'Alene will come pretty near both making the finals. Each team has gone through an almost undefeated season, and the former five holds a narrow victory over the Boise team. The Capital City lads, however, are not to be discounted, as they will go on the floor with much the same line up as they had last year when they put up the long remembered fight against the whirlwind outfit from Driggs. Moscow, state leaders for three successive seasons, this year seems to be wholly out of the running, and but little is expected from the home town five.

Thursday morning a conference of the coaches of the respective teams will be held to discuss rules, elect officers of the Idaho State Interscholastic Association, and draw for preliminary opponents. The I club men will later in the forenoon show the visitors around the campus and the city. In the afternoon each team will play its first game in the preliminary elimination match, and in the evening the semi-finals will be played between the winners of the afternoon matches.

TO THE AG STUDENTS.

It has been brought to the editor's attention that a number of Ag students who assisted in preparing copy for the Ag special number of the Argonaut, were more or less miffed because certain of their articles were not published, while space was given to a number of "feature" articles, and other matter not pertaining to the college of agriculture.

For the benefit of those not acquainted with the situation which confronts the staff in publishing the Argonaut, we offer the following comments: The feature columns, story on the Press Association and a few other articles were prepared by the editor while returning from Salt Lake. They were to the printing office Thursday night, and were set up. The regular night composer, who sets the Argonaut, left town Friday, and contrary to expectations, did not return until Tuesday afternoon.

As a matter of accommodation, the two day operators at the shop came to the office at 7 o'clock Monday night and set composition until 1 o'clock, when they announced that they were tired out and were going home. During this time, the only copy they set, other than Ag news, was the basketball story, and the social items. (Members of the regular staff were on hand all this time, to read proof, make a dummy for the paper, and to write heads, and one of them at least, did not get home till 2 a. m.)

Due to the great amount of composition which is set in the Star-Mirror office, and the limited equipment on hand to be used, no Argonaut copy can be set during the morning of publication of the Argonaut. Hence the paper had to be assembled from the copy which was set and corrected. There was no possible means of getting the other items contributed by the Ags into the special issue.

The regular staff regrets that this situation had to occur, but it was a matter beyond control. It is hoped that with a more thorough appreciation on the part of the Ags of the difficulties under which the paper was published, that their ire will be mollified, and that kicks, if any, are registered where they properly belong, and not against the anatomy of the regular staff.

(The Ag material which was not published last week, and is still suitable for publication, is being used this week.)

What One Student Thinks of the Lawyers.

It has often been whispered over the campus that a student who is incapable of getting-by in any other college invariably chooses law. This, no doubt, accounts for the self-evident fact that the law school is characterized by students of doubtful intelligence, who have the despicable habit of parking along the wall on the second floor of the "Ad" building and polluting the atmosphere with an obnoxious flow of child's prattle, to the utter disgust of the brilliant and capable students registered in other schools.

We have repeatedly asked ourselves why these self-proclaimed forensic artists, who have so loudly and vociferously announced their superior intellect, rank forth in scholarship among the colleges in this University. We have been successful in formulating but one conclusion: that they are unable to evolve from the proverbial cave man habit of orating instead of acting, thus falling to indulge in sufficient expenditure of brain and energy in preparation for class room duties. If they were only capable of realizing how futile have been their attempts to make the rest of us believe them of importance, by their endeavors to run the A. S. U. I. they would immediately cease to degrade the University by their unwelcomed presence.

It is not our purpose in this article to attempt to hand anyone the old enameled raspberry. We are merely speaking for the good of the University. Therefore, do not misconstrue our purpose in advocating the removal of the lawyers to a separate and secluded school, that the appearances, before the public eye, of another such atrocity as last year's addition of the Law School Argonaut may be prevented.

THE FACULTY JERKS

Slightly over a week ago one of the members of the team preparing for an Idaho-British Columbia debate received a warning informing him that he was dangerously low in scholarship. He was not, however, put on probation. At 10 o'clock on the morning before the debate he was informed that he would not be allowed to speak, because of low scholarship. It was necessary for another to read his speech.

One finds it a sore task indeed to attempt to hunt out either the fairness or the reasonableness of this act on the part of the faculty. Giving those authorities who are responsible for the affair all credit for the ability to judge of the fitness of things that is due a university professor, it becomes apparent that the deed was actuated by one of two motives: Either those who commanded the debaters withdrawal were desirous of making a sensational display of authority, perhaps with the idea in mind of "teaching a lesson," or they sought in this way to take out some personal spite.

The preliminary object of probation is to improve the scholarship of the student. When put on probation the student is forbidden to take part in any extracurricular activities, thus giving him every opportunity to bring himself up in his studies. This is very much as it should be. But how, we ask, was the scholarship of this debater improved by putting him on probation on the eve of the debate? He cannot raise his standing in one day. And it seems that the University might have run just as smoothly had the fellow been allowed to remain on the team until after the debate. All of his hard work was done. His speech was written and memorized. Evening would have seen the end of his forensic activities. The time was passed when his participation in the debate could injure his scholarship.

Had the probation been started at the time that the warning was sent, there would have been little cause for complaint. Two ways out would have been possible: The debater himself would have had an opportunity to raise his standing sufficiently to allow him to take his part in the argument, or, in case he was not able to do this, there would have been time for another speaker to acquaint himself with the part sufficiently well to make a creditable delivery.

But certain members of the faculty could not see these things. Either through narrowness or spite they "jerked" one of the regular members of the debating team. The only thing that their act accomplished was to contribute largely toward the loss of the debate.

(Signed) A STUDENT.

SUPPORT THE TOURNAMENT.

The annual interscholastic basketball tournament is only two days away. From a standpoint of material good to the University, this tournament has more value than perhaps any varsity athletic event, or even than any season's activities. For the first time in their lives, some seventy or eighty of Idaho's finest, most verile and wide awake high school students have an opportunity for first hand information of college life, and the richness and value of collegiate education. These men, from every section of the state, will come here, receive their impressions of our University, and then return to their home schools and towns, to disseminate those impressions. And every high school boy who comes here, is a missionary sent out from the University, to spread its message broadcast throughout the state. Needless to say, everyone of us will make an attempt to see that our guests receive the right kind of impressions, and that he goes away from here bearing the right sort of message for the fellows at home.

But that is not the extent of our responsibilities. We must accord a hearty material support to the tournament. Coach Kelley, and MacMillan, the athletic department, and many of the prominent letter men of the campus, have devoted countless hours in getting things in readiness for the tournament. This time and labor has been expended without thought of remuneration or glory. The cost of financing such a tournament is a problem in so small a school. In the past years, the support of the people and students of Moscow has been a big factor in putting the tournament across, but it is rumored that as Moscow's prospects for a championship team are rather more than hazy, their support will be more restricted this year.

The students are not asked for contributions. They are offered seven rattling good games of basketball and numerous features of entertainment, for the paltry sum of a dollar and a half. That is at the rate of less than twenty-two cents per game, with all the extra entertainment thrown in. You can't afford not to go.

Let's dig up the check book and go after a ticket right now, and make this tournament a financial success. And don't forget that the members of the teams here this week are missionaries for Idaho. Send them back with an unquenchable desire to make Idaho their Alma Mater.

Gets Busy on Songs

If you should happen to have a brilliant inspiration one of these days, jot it down. Why? Because the annual Stunt Fest and Song Contest is coming soon, and ideas of all sorts are accepted. The stunt prize goes to the class whose stunt has been most truly representative of college life. The song prize goes to those whose song excels in harmony, clever ideas and effective presentation.

The Seniors have already begun to make plans for their songs and stunt. Other classes are advised to get busy and do likewise. In previous years things have been neglected until almost the same week as the Stunt fest. Make your plans now. Give the public the best entertainment you can. A word to the wise is sufficient.

Electives.

The women's novelty shops in New York are offering a new contribution to the success of spring styles. It is in the form of a tiny silken bag, filled with sand or iron filings. Wonder what excuse our grocer will offer for his high prices now?

Sugar has dropped one hundred and fifty per cent in price, but it still costs a fellow six bits to take a girl to the confectionary, after a dollar dance which followed a thirty-five cent show, and "Merciful Heavens, George, it's three minutes of eleven. We will have to take a taxi."

A local movie house used a washing machine not long ago to advertise its show. We could have helped a lot with the realism of the thing, if they had called for some of our soiled clothes.

At a meeting held on Wednesday evening of last week thirty students from the state of Washington met and organized what promises to be one of the most active of the University organizations. The Washington Club was adopted as the name of the new organization. Officers of the club elected at this meeting are: Gladys Hastie, of Seattle, president; Ralph Jacobsen, of Spokane, vice-president; Roscoe Franz, of Spokane, treasurer; Esther Motie of Spokane, secretary.

Due to conflicts with three other scheduled meetings many students eligible to membership in the club were unable to attend. At the next meeting, to be held the first Tuesday evening in April, it is urged that all students who reside in Washington be present. A proposed constitution with by-laws will be presented to the club for their adoption and plans for the club's activities during the balance of this semester will be discussed.

ON OTHER HILLS.

A campaign to eliminate bizarre and suggestive dance steps at the University of Illinois has been instituted by the Illinois Union and the Women's League. It has received the unanimous approval of students, faculty members and university officials. Letters of warning have been mailed to all men's and women's organizations on the campus.

Although the 1920 football season was unusually well attended at Harvard, and every game poured thousands of dollars into the Crimson coffers, the official report of the college year shows a loss of $6,343.44 in major and minor sports. The total expenditures were $174,578.28 and the receipts $168,234.84. Football which showed a profit of $74,281.60 and baseball which made $12,486.76 were the only sports on the plus side of the ledger.

Horseback riding as a sport is regaining its popularity among the students of the University of Missouri and local colleges. Formerly, students settled back in their cars for a spin through the country, but now car riding has become so much a habit that the younger generation turns to horses for something new.

Enrollment in the University of Oregon for the present school year has reached a total of 4,026. This includes the enrollment for the regular and summer terms, the medical

The University of Utah passed an amendment to the honor constitution recently which virtually kills the honor system. The amendment leaves to the discretion of the professor whether or not he shall remain in the classroom while his students are taking an examination. The honor system failed because some of the professors absolutely refused to leave the room.

IDAHO STUDENTS PROTEST AGAINST NEW LAW

Following the resolutions presented by the Utah servicemen against the anti-tobacco bill, perhaps we should submit to the faculty resolutions somewhat like the following:

"Whereas, the students of this university during the period of their service have steadfastly stood for the stern repression of any and all forms of hilarity, frivolity and amusement and for the development of piety and gloom; and

"Whereas, there has just passed a law by the faculty of this institution regulating the social events of each house to two a semester, and it is feared that those in authority will not be sufficiently mindful of the duty it owes students and citizens generally, affectually to prevent the terrible, dangerous evils which are not threatening the students in particular; therefore, be it

"Resolved, that we, the members of the University of Idaho, respectfully recommend to the faculty the following amendments to the Anti-Social Event law:

DEAN HULME TO GO TO STANFORD

IDAHO'S MOST BELOVED PROFESSOR ACCEPTS CALL FROM HIS ALMA MATER—TO TEACH HISTORY.

AT IDAHO NINETEEN YEARS

Dean Hulme is Among America's Greatest Authorities On History, And is the Author of Many Noted Books.

Dean Edward M. Hulme, head of the department of history and dean of the college of letters and science at the University of Idaho, has received and Saturday accepted a call to the chair of history at Stanford University. Dean Hulme was some time ago tendered this honor by the California school but did not accept till Saturday. He will leave for his new place shortly after the termination of the present collegiate year. Dean Hulme has always been immensely admired by students, in whom he has shown a great personal interest.

His study and his historical work "Renaissance and Reformation" has made him an international figure. His book is now used as a text by 70 prominent institutions including Columbia, Cornell, Yale, Chicago, California and Stanford. At Stanford he will have added opportunity for further study and the continuation of his writing. He now has two books in the course of preparation. Dean Hulme recently returned from a year's leave of absence which he spent travelling through Mediterranean countries and the war zones.

Dean Hulme came to the University soon after being graduated from Stanford and has remained here for 19 years. He has spent several summers lecturing at Stanford, University of Chicago and California. Early in his career here he won considerable distinction in coaching Idaho debate and three times under his coaching the northwest championship came to Idaho.

In speaking of Dean Hulme being honored by the position offered by Stanford, President A. H. Upham said:

"Dean Hulme has endeared himself to students and alumni, and to all of Idaho, by his many years of service in the University and throughout the state. He is a rare combination of scholar and public man and has an inspiring figure in the class room and on the platform. While we greatly regret to lose him, it is a pleasure to know that he has been called back to his own university, where he will have larger opportunities for advanced scholarship. We shall proceed at once to secure the best possible man for the position he will leave next fall."

Dean Hulme seemed deeply affected over his decision to leave Idaho, saying: "It is not without the greatest reluctance that I shall leave Idaho. I have lived here longer than I have lived anywhere else. This was my first college teaching position. This is where I met my wife and where my children have been born. And here it is that I wrote my book. I have been happy in my work here, and I hope it will have some lasting effect, for I have always tried to make it count in the improvement of the lives of the students, and, therefore, in the betterment of the life of the state. But I am glad to leave the University in the care of its new president. I am sure that the right man has been found in President Upham. He is, unmistakably, a gentleman and a scholar. He has already revealed the fact that he has sound ideas upon education, that he has a fine sense of procedure in conducting the affairs of a university, and he aims steadily at admirable ideals. He has the complete confidence of every member of the faculty; and under his guidance I am sure the University will move forward in its work as fast as its endowment will permit."

LOCAL POST, D. A. V. OF W. W. BOOST FOR THE UNIVERSITY

In gratitude and appreciation of the courtesies shown by the students of the University towards "Disabled American Veterans of the World War," the local post votes cooperation and help in making the University of Idaho an institution to be proud of.

When interviewed as to the outcome of the meeting Ivan McPherson, speaking in behalf of the local post said: "We, the vocational men, want to express our appreciation of the courtesy and feeling of good will shown us by the students and faculty of the University of Idaho."

"Our coming here to the University has caused the upsetting of college traditions of many years standing. We are men from different parts of the United States and the most of us have bucked the game of life according to our own particular standards."

"Some of us have had the prerequisites of a regular college course, while others of us have not been so fortunate as to finish the grammar schools. We cannot share in all your sports and activities, because, some are handicapped by gunshot wounds, others are T. B. cases, and some are burnt out with mustard gas."

"In spite of our handicaps we feel we are gradually getting the college spirit, and are taking an interest in college affairs. As time goes on we will take more interest in college life, and will boost the University of Idaho to the utmost. We do not feel like outsiders now, for, the fellows that are so fortunate as to have been here a year or more, in spite of their handicaps, take as much interest in the college as the regular students."

"We take this means of expressing our gratitude to the University as a whole, and we assure them of our hearty cooperation."

VARSITY BASEBALL TRAINING BEGINS

EIGHT LETTER MEN ANSWER CALL OF COACH FOR SPRING TRAINING—RIVALRY KEEN.

Suits were issued to the candidates for the 1921 basketball team Thursday afternoon, and as soon as the weather permits practice will begin in earnest. The pitchers and catchers have been working out for several weeks in Lewis field in order to harden their arms, and in a short time they will begin their real practice.

Idaho's first games take place April 29 and 30 when she meets the fast Gonzaga outfit at Spokane. The Spokane school has a well established reputation for turning out speedy diamond stars and Idaho must be in good trim by then, if hope to put up serious opposition. Games are also arranged for with Whitman and W. S. C. but the schedule will not be completed until the first of next week.

The hurling staff will be headed by Eddie Foran of Seattle, experienced moundsman from last year's team. In addition, "Ah Me" Kearn of Genesee, "Lefty" Marineau of Coeur d'Alene, Eddie Eddy of Dietrich, Leo Schroder of Orofino, N. J. Jacobson of Boise, are testing out their flinging ability with good prospects of making the first squad.

"Rich" Fox of Moscow, who caught every game for Idaho in 1920, has so far shown the best form for that position this year, although "Babe" Brown, former Boise high school star, who is a fast, dependable man at the receiving end, will make Fox travel a fast pace. John W. Clark of Malad and Frank Kinnison of Payette, will likewise make a strong bid for this job.

"At first glance the outlook for infield and outfield men is fairly promising," said Coach MacMillan today, "only a few men from last year's year's squad were lost through graduation. Spring rains may be expected to interfere considerably with our practice and the problem of hardening the players' arms must be our main consideration at present."

"Perce" O'Brien of Coeur d'Alene and LeRoy Thompson of Moscow will tryout for first. These men indulged in an interesting fight for the keystone sack last year. The men who get to hold it down this season must be going in great shape. Capt. "Chick" Evans of American Falls, and Les Moe of Kellogg, both experienced varsity heads, are the most promising for third and short. Each can play either position with considerable ability.

"Second base is a breach which must be filled quickly. A number of men are trying for it, but as yet no one has shown any real form."

"Grover Evans of American Falls, last year's captain and one of the squad's best hitters, is probably the most dependable man for an outfield position. The other two gardens will be filled by men now trying for infield jobs."

A Campus Secret.

Among the secrets on the campus, the canteen in the Y hut deserves to rank first. The canteen has been operated for some two months and the only ones who have come to know the fact are the band boys and the girls who have hygiene classes in the Y hut.

The canteen has a very excellent assortment of five and ten cent bars as well as salted peanuts, chewing gum and the like. Those who have found out its existence have become regular customers.

The money made on the canteen will go to equip the Y hut. It is proposed to purchase a set of dishes so that dinners and banquets may be served in the hut. The worth of the Y hut as a place in which to serve dinners can be attested to by those who attended the debate banquet.

A Mere Trifle.

Bonnett (in Agr. 3): "For Tuesday you will study chapters III and IV from page 115 to page 139; in addition read the two bulletins which I am handing out; have that chart, which I had you make, ready to hand in; and if you have any spare time read the following references:—, —, —. That will be all for this time."

FACULTY MAKES MISTAKE IN ANNOUNCING NEW RULE

In a recent issue of the Argonaut it was announced that the rule set out below had been adopted by the faculty, to take effect at once. It seems there was a mistake on someone's part in announcing this rule as adopted. The committee of Discipline and Attendance recommended the rule. On final consideration, the rule was not adopted.

The rule as announced is as follows:

In line of the penalty now prescribed for students who absent themselves from any class, exercises without excuse immediately prior to or following a vacation or upon the day known as "sneak day" or who join in any concerted action to remain away from any class exercises, your committee on discipline and attendance recommends that any such student so offending in the future, be required to complete one credit hour in addition to the number of hours regularly required for graduation in his course and that a memorandum to that effect be indorsed upon the record of every student so offending kept in the office of the registrar.

Recommended further that this change in penalty be given the same publicity heretofore given the rule, touching the matters herein mentioned adopted the fifth day of March, 1920. Recommended further that the penalty here provided be not inflicted upon any bona fide member of the senior class on account of absence from classes on "sneak day."

INAUGURATION OF PRES. UPHAM MARCH 29-30

has made trips to several parts of the state and everywhere he has been heartily welcomed as the ideal man for western institutions.

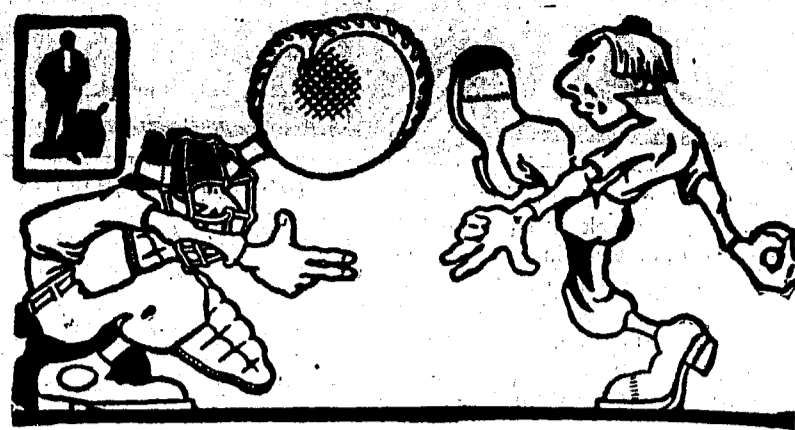

"Having earlier in his career served as professor of English at the Utah Agricultural College, he is intimately acquainted with the west, knows its needs, and clearly understands the opportunities the future holds in store for it."

"In addition to holding a professorship of Miami, Dr. Upham was later made vice president and during the absence of the president of the university was president for a year. He received the degree of bachelor of arts from Miami, a master degree from Harvard and his doctor's degree from Columbia university. He is the author of several well known books, the most of which deal with phases of English literature."

the visitors and college students, consisting of a gymnastic exhibition, tumbling, apparatus work, wrestling, boxing, and aesthetic dancing by Miss Watson's classes. Later in the afternoon the Idaho vandals will meet the frosh team in an exhibition game to demonstrate the "Idaho system" which has been used so successfully during the past season.

The game which will finally settle all doubts as to the state high school supremacy will be played that evening at 8:30, after which there will be a general get-together and the All-State team will be picked and to the winners will be given the spoils of the tournament. Besides the large loving cup given to the championship team, a cup will be given the runner up quintet, and another to the team is paying the best sportsmanship throughout the tournament. Each member of the All-State mythical five will be given a gold basketball by the university as a token of his individual ability.

Tickets Move Slowly

A portion of the expenses of the tournament will be born by the university Athletic Department, but the larger part of the expense money will have to be realized thro the sale of tickets to university students and townspeople. As yet Manager Plastico reports the sale of tickets to be very discouraging. Only two hundred have so far been disposed of, and it is necessary to sell around eight hundred to make the affair a financial success. A strenuous ticket selling campaign will be inaugurated the middle of the week, and every Idaho student is urged to get under the proposition and make this the most successful state basketball tournament ever held.

While here the various teams will be housed and entertained by the different fraternity houses as follows: Couer d'Alene at Beta Theta Pi, Kellogg at Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Boise at Phi Delta Theta, Driggs at Sigma Nu, Twin Falls at Phi Gamma Delta, Lewiston at Kappa Sigma, and Pocatello at Elwetias.
