PRIMARY ELECTIONS THURSDAY CANDIDATES MAKE STATEMENTS

POLITICAL POT BOILING VERY GENTLY—SOAP BOX ARTISTS HAVE FAILED TO MAKE THEIR APPEARANCE UPON CAMPUS. LOG ROLLING AND HALL POLITICS ARE ABSENT

FINAL BALLOT COMES IN MAY

Managers of Departments Will Be Elected For First Time IN MANY YEARS

Under the new constitution of the A. S. U. I. adopted two weeks ago, a primary election shall be held on the third Thursday of April for the purpose of electing a ticket for the general election which comes in May.

At a students assembly last Wednesday, a complete ticket was nominated for all elective offices of the A. S. U. I. The Executive Board has made nominations which are left to that body by the provisions of the constitution.

Candidates for the offices of student body president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer and associate editor, were asked to make statements for publication in the Argonaut. The statements that were received by the staff in time for publication are contained in this article.

The complete ticket follows:

For President of the A. S. U. I. Herbert Glindeman. Michael Thometz. Paul Rowell.

For Vice-President Floyd Cossitt. Hull.

For Secretary Elizabeth Woods. Betty Collins. Pauline Rieck.

For Treasurer Marie Hummel. Agnes Sweeney. For Associate Editor Robert Holbrook. Ted Sherman. Jack Rodner.

Manager of Glee Club Rex Kimmel. Port Arthur. Fred Veatch.

Debate Manager Wm. Briccoe. Walter Greathouse. Laurence Huff.

Manager Argonaut Lynn Hershey. James Farrell. Joe Curtiss.

Athletic Board Duddie Gowen. Rich Fox. Frank Brown. Jim Neal. Van Hoesen. Howard Breshears. Gerald Gill. Purdy Eaton. Al Fox.

Yell Kings Elmer Wyland. Ted Turner.

The statements of the candidates for the respective offices which have been received are as follows:

If elected to the presidency of the A. S. U. I., I should, first of all, set about to do two things:

ONE—to see that our new constitution is strictly abided by. TWO—to bring the students of the University closer together, promoting the development of the student body as a whole, with the elimination of factional groups within the body.

Comparatively speaking, our student body is as yet in a formative state, as is the University itself. Any group of students who may attend here for some years hence will have an opportunity to speed on or to deter the University in its progress toward the place it should occupy among the well-known educational institutions of the country. As president of this body, I should do my best to see that the efforts of the students were united, and directed along lines that would develop the initiative of the individual, yet benefit alike the student body and our Alma Mater. (Signed) Paul T. Rowell.

Michael Thometz My nomination for president of the A. S. U. I. came as complete surprise to me, having been made while I was out of town and also having been made without first consulting me as to my willingness to accept the nomination. I have no statement to make other

REGULAR FORUM MEETING; MR. BARTON IS THE SPEAKER

The Open Forum held its weekly meeting in the Y Hut on last Thursday evening. Mr. Barton was the speaker of the evening and his subject was "Effective Mentality in Relation to Eugenics." He stressed the subject of feeble-mindedness saying that about 5 per cent of the public school children were feeble-minded. He then talked briefly on Mendelism.

JOEL L. PRIEST TO SPEAK AT ASSEMBLY

Prominent Railway Man and One Time Noted Newspaper Man Will Entertain With Recollections of Old Days.

Students attending Wednesday's assembly will receive quite a treat in hearing Joel L. Priest, district manager of the Oregon Short Line, speak on the subject, "Rambling Recollections of an Old Reporter."

Prior to his entry into the railroad business, Mr. Priest had many years' experience of the newspaper game. He has held positions on newspapers in Chicago and other various large cities. When he finally abandoned the game, he was editor of the Salt Lake Herald, one of the leading western newspapers.

Mr. Priest is well known on the Idaho campus. His two sons, A. J. Priest and Joel Priest Jr., have both been exceedingly prominent in school activities, and on his frequent visits Wednesday's speaker has made a large number of friends among the students.

And all of those who are acquainted with Mr. Priest know him personally and by reputation as an unusually interesting speaker, and one who could under other circumstances keep any audience interested for much longer than one hour by recounting his novel, whimsical tales of experiences in newspaper work.

FACULTY NAMES CAMPUS DAY COMMITTEE SATURDAY

The president announced Saturday that the faculty committee for Campus Day had been appointed and consists of the following members: Dean Miller, Professors Vincent, Webb, Parsons, Kostalek, Coach Kelly, Mrs. Murray, Miss Jensen and Miss Hyde.

A committee of like size is to be appointed from the student body, and plans for the day will be worked by the two committees working together.

"The administration has no desire to run Campus Day activities," said President Upham, Saturday. "We have appointed this committee solely to be of help to the students in outlining a program whereby the most can be accomplished for Idaho. It is a student day, and we want them to feel their wishes will be respected so far as it is possible to do."

ATHLETIC COMMITTEE APPOINTED SATURDAY

It was announced from the President's office Saturday that the faculty committee for the supervision of athletics had been appointed. The committee is composed of the following faculty members: Dean Cockerill, Professor Angell, Coach Kelley and MacMillan and Col. Chrisman.

This committee has been appointed by the president for handling the problems connected with athletics which are purely a matter for the faculty to control, e. g. determining eligibility and other matters of a similar nature.

The committee will not encroach upon legitimate student control of any matter.

LAST FORMATION FOR ARCHIE HAWLEY, HERO

Idaho Alumnus and Veteran of World War Given Full Military Burial By Cadets and Legion.

The last remains of Ira Archie Hawley, an alumnus of the university and a well-known Moscow boy who was killed in the recent war at the battle of the Marne, were laid to rest here Tuesday with a full military funeral. The body was shipped to Moscow from France by the war department.

The funeral, attended by hundreds of townspeople, many of the former schoolmates of the deceased and a host of men who were his "buddies" in the service, is said to have been the largest ever held in Moscow. The sermon was delivered by the Rev. J. Orrin Gould, student pastor.

Approximately 100 former soldiers and sailors attended the services and marched in the funeral procession to the Moscow cemetery. The entire university military staff and the battalion of cadets took part in the procession. It was headed by the cadet band, which was followed by the three cadet companies. Preceding the hearse ex-service men marched by two. Ex-service men acted as pall bearers and an honorary guard of eight soldiers accompanied the casket.

DEAN COCKERILL WILL BE A. S. U. I. ADVISOR

Following a recommendation by the student body president, President Upham Friday evening appointed Dean Cockerill to act as faculty advisor to the executive board.

Dean Cockerill was chairman of the Board of Supervisors until the new constitution was adopted, and made an admirable record in that capacity. His appointment meets with hearty student approval.

COUNTY SUPERINTENDENTS WILL MEET HERE IN MAY

The annual state convention of county superintendents of public instruction will be held at the University of Idaho May 2, 3 and 4, it was announced from the president's office Thursday. The university will act as host to the visiting superintendents and will serve lunch to them every day on the campus. The program, now being prepared by Miss Ethel M. Redfield, state superintendent of public instruction, will not be announced until all speakers have been selected and the details worked out.

On the second day of the convention, the superintendents will be taken on an auto ride to Lewiston, passing over the famous Lewiston grade.

WALTER CASEBOLT WILL LEAD FROSH TRACK MEN

Set New Record in Intercollegiate Tract Meet Last Spring—Hails From Genesee.

Walter Casebolt of Genesee was elected captain of the freshman track team Wednesday at a meeting held in the Y. M. C. A. hut. Casebolt last year won the 440 dash in the Idaho high school track meet, establishing a new record of 52 seconds flat.

Coach Thomas Kelley is planning several meets for the frosh this year. Two with the W. S. C. frosh are practically certain and the coach is now endeavoring to make dates with Lewiston, Moscow and either Lewis and Clark or North Central of Spokane.

Both the frosh and varsity squads have been sent through stiff workouts for the past ten days, Kelley making sure that his men will not be lacking in condition for the coming meets. He is working hard trying to bring out four fast half-milers to enter in the two-mile relay at the coming Seattle meet, but has received a setback through the loss of Horton McCallie, Idaho's star short distance man, who recently sprained an ankle.

ORATORICAL CONTEST TRYOUTS THURSDAY

Winner Will Be Sent to Seattle to Compete for $100 Prize—Contest Open To Men and Women of U.

Debaters and orators will be given another chance to win laurels, both for themselves and for the university, in the coming oratorical contest between the universities of Idaho, Oregon and Washington, which is to be held in Seattle some time in May. The try-outs for the selection of the Idaho representative will come on Thursday of this week.

The contest is open to both men and women. The only two requisites for a contestant is that his or her speech be an original one, and not more than 2,000 words in length. The speaker may choose his own topic.

The winner of the tryouts will be sent to Seattle as a representative of the university, and will have all expenses paid by the department of debate. The winner of first place at Seattle will receive a prize of $100 in cash.

BUREAU OF MINES PUTS OUT A NEW BULLETIN

Contains Reports of Flotation Experiments on Idaho Minerals Copies at Washington.

A report on the results of cooperative experiments in "Flotation in Idaho" made by the state bureau of mines and geology and the U. S. bureau is contained in Bulletin No. 205 just published and released by the Washington office of the latter organization, Dean Francis A. Thomson, director of the Idaho bureau, announced today.

"Authors of the bulletin are C. A. Wright, formerly metallurgical engineer of the U. S. bureau of mines, and J. G. Parmelee, assistant metallurgist of the state bureau of mines and geology," said Dean Thomson. "The report covers extensive experiments made with four typical lead zinc ores from the Coeur d'Alene district, a copper-iron ore from northeastern Latah county, an antimonial-silver ore from Idaho county and a gold-silver-copper ore from Lewis county."

"Contained in the bulletin are a large number of photo-micrographs which illustrate clearly the relation of different minerals in the ore to each other. Complete analysis of different ores are given, together with detailed results of various tests made with exact information as to the nature and amounts of flotation agents used in each case."

"Copies of the bulletin may be obtained from the U. S. bureau of Mines, Washington, D. C."

PERRINE HONORED BY PENNSYLVANIA UNIVERSITY

(By J. E. Armstrong)

University of Pennsylvania honors "Pat" Perrine, Idaho's famous pentathlon athlete, in a recent letter received from Geo. W. Orton, manager of the Intercollegiate and Inter-scholastic Relay Race Carnival, which is to be held April 29th and 30th, at the University of Pennsylvania.

Geo. W. Orton saw Perrine in action once before and was very highly interested in his athletic ability, so much so that he kept track of Perrine and sent a special letter to Coach Kelley requesting Idaho to send him to the eastern meet. His letter was as follows:

Dear Sir: You have a very fine all-round athlete in Perrine. Why not send him east for the Relay Carnival on the 29th and 30th and give him a chance to win the pentathlon, which represents the all-round championship of the United States? Yours very truly, Geo. W. Orton.

As much as Coach Kelley would have liked to have sent Perrine, it was impossible due to a number of events which are scheduled for that date. The Washington Relay Carnival takes place about the same time, and "Pat" is entered in that, which means of course this name could not be withdrawn. He is also a strong factor in the team and is expected to annex a large number of points in the meet.

Being Perrine's senior year his scholastic standing must be kept up and if he had gone to Pennsylvania it would have consumed a number of days which at this time are highly necessary for study.

CO-OPERATION IS ASKED

Alumni, Students and Faculty Are Asked to Assist in Informing All Graduates About U. of I.

Under the direction of Mr. Mason, Director of Publicity for the University, a campaign has been outlined by which the advantages of the University of Idaho will be brought home to every graduating high school student in Idaho.

"Each Idaho high school senior is a prospective purchaser of the state University's service" said Mr. Mason Friday. "He is, as a citizen coming of age, a prospective part-owner of the University. Who will sell him the service? Who will display to him the opportunities awaiting his command? This is the problem as I see it," said Mr. Mason. "The University owes to itself, it owes to the prospective students, the prosecution of a vigorous sales campaign."

"The University's present students, its alumni, the deans and professors, the extension staff and the friends of the institution, under the leadership of the President, comprises a sales force of great potential power. The present need is to organize this sales force."

How Campaign Will Be Conducted The principal need in a campaign of this nature is to secure the hearty co-operation of every source of help, and to unite these into a steadily working unit, having a common purpose.

Through the cooperation of practically all the public school superintendents, the University has at hand a card index of high school seniors throughout the state. The card for each student indicates his present state of interest in higher education—his intention to attend a university, normal school or vocational school, and the sort of training toward which he is most inclined. His address is given, as is that of his parent or guardian. Working material is thus available for publicity campaign, in which the following steps have been proposed.

Attractive Booklets to Be Sent Every graduating student will receive a copy of the very attractive booklet, "Father and the Boy" which has just come off the press. This book depicts an imaginary visit of a father and son to the Idaho campus. It is an appealing narrative, which not only visualizes invitingly the tangible aspects of University life, but skilfully introduces many valuable talking points in a conversational manner. The book contains many attractive cuts of typical University views. Under separate cover, the booklet will be accompanied by a letter from President Upham, inviting inquiries concerning the University. There will also be a card on which the student may make application for a University catalog.

A personal letter from the president to the parent or guardian will follow the booklet after a few days. Deans to Cooperate The dean of each school or college will receive copies of the cards which have been sent in by the students, expressing interest in their respective departments. The deans will be asked to write kindly, personal letters to each of the students, which will invite further inquiries. A bulletin of the department will accompany these letters. All correspondence will be filed so that when occasion arises, the students may be referred to alumni or friends of the University who reside in that particular section.

University Students Asked to Aid Every student in the University will receive a list of all high school seniors in his community, with a request that he indicate to the university, the names of the various students, to whom he believes that he can present the claims of the University with advantage. He will be asked to write to these people, or such of them as can be reached effectively in that manner, and he will be especially asked to interview them personally when he returns to his home.

SUPPORT THE CONCERT.

Every student has the right to select the sort of education he or she desires. If an ordinary movie show or dance appeals more to the individual than an evening of the world's best music, of course it is their right to attend that sort of entertainment. But the majority of us are in colleges to receive the fullest, most complete education, that we can. We are sufficiently broad minded and old enough to realize that the true education consists of the widest possible acquaintance of all that is worth while in life.

A concert by such an eminent artist as Godowsky is pre-eminently worth while. It is even more than a worth while event, it is a golden opportunity to really round out and add luster to our education.

It is true that an appreciation of such great pianists as Godowsky is often more a matter of cultivation than of instinct or natural liking, but it is an appreciation which is easily cultivated, and one that readily responds to the master ability of these artists. And the thrill that comes to listening to the master artists comes alike to the musician and the non-musician.

The writer of this article is not a musician. He can barely carry a tune with any degree of accuracy, and knows nothing of the technic of music, yet to him there is something majestic and gripping about the work of such artists as LeVigne, Hoffman and the great singers. The sheer beauty of their work is a source of greatest pleasure to him. Beyond a doubt, there is something in the personality and the work of these great artists that can be instantly felt by those who were not so fortunate as to be blessed with musical ability. We are touched almost at once by the inspiration of such artists, which must be akin to a divine gift. Is not the offering of an artist who has such ability as that, a thing worth availing ourselves of?

The music department undertook a heavy burden in guaranteeing the cost of this artist number. It is true that it is an extra event, but one so worth while that we cannot possibly afford not to have Mr. Godowsky come to the students to this number, may depend the possibility of having more of equal merit next year. It was brought here for our benefit. The least we can do is to show that we do appreciate these finer, better sides of life, and attend this concert with a representation that should be all but unanimous.

A LESSON

Dear Editor:
My attention was called to a quite serious matter this morning in a class-room discussion. It seems that recently a young man of our institution has been severely "chastised" and came very nearly getting into serious trouble because he was, apparently, ignorant of the laws of our state. He was caught in the act of cutting articles out of the papers on file in the library. This sort of thing has been going on for a long time but this young man bears the "distinction" and embarrassment of being the first one caught and consequently had to suffer the penalty. The faculty, after much discussion and pleading on the part of some members, "decided not to put it in the hands of the law so the young man got off with a severe penalty from the faculty. But the point is this—the papers and books in the library are the property of the state, paid for with state money, and will be protected under the laws of the state. Why should a few of us mutilate the books that are the property of our state and given to this university for the benefit of all the students and not for just the few who take the privilege of cutting pictures and articles out of the old files. Although the books and papers are not worth very much today, some day they may be very valuable to students and the university.

The mutilation of this kind of property comes under the head of larceny and the penalty by law is from a jail sentence and a heavy fine to upwards. So if we would think of these things in the terms given by law I'm sure there would be very little of it done. And it isn't right to steal for yourself what lots of other students want access to.

In all probability it is only thoughtlessness on the part of the student, but if we would use our heads a little more in matters of this kind we wouldn't have nearly as much trouble. I am just mentioning this to you, Mr. Editor, because it may save someone a lot of serious trouble some day. I would suggest that you notify the students of this seemingly harmless occupation of mutilating state property.

"People in the west can be thankful that the war was fought across the Atlantic instead of the Pacific. A very ordinary meal in a good New York hotel costs 15 berries, and they soak you twelve bucks for the privilege of wearing your two dollar pajamas.

The Post-Intelligencer of Seattle carried a story some time ago about the election of a captain for the girl's basketball team at Idaho. It carried a picture of the lucky girl, who was wearing an "I" sweater. According to the Post, this was conferred upon the co-ed in recognition of the fact that she was elected captain. We would like to have this thing straight. It isn't mentioned in the new constitution.

It may be no snap to get blood from a turnip, but did you ever try to interest a movie fan in a plano recital?

No wonder so many scrappers are willing to have a try at Dempsey. We would be perfectly willing to take a licking for say about fifty thousand.

We are feeling too gol darned good natured to take slams at many prominent people of the campus, and at long standing traditions, as we had planned to do this number. Instead we are going to try to be a help to suffering humanity, and this week will devote a little of our valuable space to "Practical Hints for the Family aGarden" which have been prepared by the highly successful gardener, Miss Lotta Weeds.

"In the first place" says Miss Weeds, "the garden spot should always be chosen with reference to its natural possibilities. For instance, never plant a garden on the south side of your house. The hot sun will cause the vegetables to be dark in color, and frequently quite freckled. It is also trying to the gardener.

"This is a good time to plant peas, beans and asparaguss. A crate of each kind in number 10 tins should be sufficient for the average garden. It is a good plan to open the cans before planting. Plant the tins in hills, about ten feet apart. The pea and bean trees are large plants, and need to be planted deep so that they may withstand the strong winds of early summer, and the distance between the hills will allow room for the branches to spread out.

"There is a rumor prevalent among amateur gardeners that to grow potatoes, one must plant reai potatoes. This is a myth which has long since been abandoned by practical gardeners. The proper method is to secure some potato seed, about a bushel for the family plot, and sow them on the ground, covering lightly with a rake. If you find the potato bugs bothering the bushes later in the season, they may be readily killed by placing them on an anvil and hitting them rather forcibly with a sledge hammer.

Peanuts and sweet potatoes grow well in the northern states. Bake the potatoes thoroughly and plant in drills. The peanuts should be roasted and salted to insure proper growth. Do not plant the potatoes near a window as they may embarrass you by looking into your rooms.

"Celery is a very easy crop to grow. Plant the seed in hills, using twenty or thirty seeds in a hill, which will make beautiful bunches. Bleach the stalks in the fall with lemon juice.

"Remember that careful cultivation and frequent irrigation are the two prime necessities for a successful garden. The best method of cultivation which we have found is to hire a man with a good team and a heavy disc harrow. He can do the work in a very few minutes, and this method will save you much needless effort later on in the season. Irrigation has often been found quite a burden for the city gardner. This need not be the case. We advise building a large bon fire in the center of the plot, and then calling for the fire department. The department will be glad to make the run for the practice, and they will thoroughly irrigate the garden plot."

"These suggestions are to be continued next week."

Don't fool yourself. We intend to have something to say next week ourselves." Signed, Spizzierinktum.

IDAHO TOWNS PLANT WITH TREES FROM UNIVERSITY

Gooding, St. Maries and Emmett are planning to plant out civic parks this spring and have ordered shade trees from the school of forestry at the university. Dean F. G. Miller announced yesterday.

"Several other Idaho towns have been corresponding with us in regard to parks, but they will probably wait until next spring to plant." Although this is not a year in which an unusual amount of tree planting might be expected, the amount of orders that have been received lately indicates that this year will probably outstrip all previous ones in the number sold.

SOCIAL & PERSONAL

The Sophomore Frolic of Saturday evening attracted many and the "twenty-three's" proved again their ability to entertain. Many out-of-town guests were in attendance. The Phi Delta Theta informal on Friday evening was very delightful. About fifty couples attended.

Phi Delta Theta Dance Attractive
A crowd of about sixty couples enjoyed an exceedingly attractive dance given by the Idaho chapter of Phi Delta Theta in the gymnasium on the evening of Friday, April 14. Those present included all of the active chapter, and also a good representation of alumni from Moscow and neighboring towns.

The decorations carried out an artistic scheme of Argent and Azure, the fraternity colors. Punch was served in a prettily draped booth in one corner of the floor, and a cozy corner in the corner opposite made comfortable those desiring to recuperate by resting out a dance. In the center of the floor, the orchestra played in a specially built pavilion. The programs were clever in their make up, and bore the crest of Phi Delta Theta.

The other houses on the campus were represented as follows: Beta Theta Pi, Eas Johannesen; Sigma Nu, Al Graff; Kappa Sigma, James Neal; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Pat Perrine; Phi Gamma Delta, James Farrell; Lindley Hall, William Scott. Dean and Mrs. O. P. Cocekerrill and Professor and Mrs. Gail acted as patrons and patronesses.

Spud Loomis and Mike Gannon of W. S. C. visited the local Sig Alpha chapter over the week-end.

Kappa Kappa Gamma entertained at dinner on Wednesday evening for Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Wodsedalek, Mr. and Mrs. Murray, Prof. Muttkowski and Dr. Gibbs.

Jack Armstrong was a dinner guest of The Elwetats Thursday.

Edris Randall of Lewiston, was a guest of Gamma Phi Beta.

Delta Gamma announces the engagement of Doris Tipton to Orval Garrison of Sigma Nu.

Frieda Soulen and Grace Eagleson of Gamma Phi Beta were Sunday dinner guests of Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon entertained at dinner Sunday for Misses Myer and Luce and Mrs. Sharp.

The active chapter of Gamma Phi Beta acted as hostess at a charmingly appointed tea Saturday from 2 to 6 in honor of Mesdames Wilfred G. Harrison and Francis R. Fuller. Spring flowers were used in the decorations. The predominating note in the color scheme being yellow and white.

Mrs. Harrison (Rosa Forney) was one of the founders of Alpha Delta Pi which later became Xi Chapter of Gamma Phi Beta and Mrs. Fuller (Catherine Chrisman) is one of the chapter's prominent alumnae. About 150 guests called during the afternoon.

Mesdames Truitt, Little, Forney, M. E. Lewis, Kostalek, Evan Lewis, and the Misses Willis, Lewis and Moody poured.

THE MODERN GIRL

Her hair—in grade school it was black,
But now it has a copper glint.
"You fool," I said unto myself,
"That's just the henna tint."
It used to be in straight pigtails,
Now it ripples like—or well!
I thought unto myself again,
"Is that what they call Marcel?"
I gazed upon her plucked eyebrow
That had six hairs in all.
And as I gazed, I wondered
If any more would fall.
Her eyelashes—they were lovely once,
But they're beaded now, I've seen,
Just like Bebe Daniels' or
Some others on the screen.
Her coloring, it was lovely too,
Sometimes like a flash at dawn,
But now the rose seems permanent.
I guess it's rouge she puts on,
And mixed with the pink on her cheek
There still is a delicate white.
Maybe I shouldn't tell it—but
Some was left on my coat last night!
Her lips, they are such pretty lips,
and such a rosy red;
But when I looked into the glass—
Lipstick was on mine instead! —Frosh.

MEET SEAMAN AT SEABECK

Mr. Gale Seaman of Los Angeles, Calif., was a visitor on the campus last week, having been here in the interests of the Seabeck Conference which will be held June 17 to 27 at Seabeck, Wash. This is the great conference for college men from Oregon, Idaho and Washington, and is the greatest inter-collegiate gathering in the northwest. If you are for the great out-of-doors, with streams, forests, lakes and mountains all around, you will like Seabeck from the start. There is very endorsement of nature and facility for recreation you could desire. It is hoped that a large delegation will attend from the University of Idaho. If you can go, or are interested in this conference, see Mr. Gould at the Student Center. Put Seabeck on your date book for June 17 to 27.

GERALD GILL WITHDRAWS FROM EDITORIAL RACE

Due to a misunderstanding as to the time the associate editor-elect will assume the duties of editor I have withdrawn my name from the candidacy. Instead of assuming the editorship next fall, as I understood it at the time of nomination, the editor takes charge the second semester, which in the event of my election would conflict with track work. CLARENCE PLEAS NORTHERN AUDIENCE

Shows in Kellogg, Wallace and Coeur d'Alene Win Approval of Big Crowds—Trip Paid All Costs.

The cast and management of Clarence returned to the university Saturday, after having presented the play in Kellogg, Wallace and Coeur d'Alene. According to reports, the play went off in a finished manner in each of the towns, and made decided hits with audiences that taxed the capacity of the theaters.

The play was a complete success and more than paid expenses. Receptions were tendered in all the towns where the show was presented. The alumni in Coeur d'Alene made a gala event of the reception and the players were accorded a royal time.

The cast were all given the heartiest welcome, and were entertained both by the alumni and by the high school students who lodged the players in their homes. Two shows were given in Coeur d'Alene on the 16th.

HOME EC. GIRLS WORK UNDER HOME CONDITIONS

Actual experience under average household conditions in preparing meals and entertaining guests is now being given to advanced students in cooking classes of the home economics department of the University of Idaho, Miss Katherine Jensen, head of the department, announced Monday.

Working individually, each girl has the responsibility of planning a dinner, preparing it without aid and then acting as hostess to her friends.

Some students are required to emphasize economical features while others are allowed to include modest luxuries in the meals. A schedule is arranged so that everyone in the junior serving and cooking division will receive this training by the end of the year. The preparation of somewhat unusual foods which do not belong to the "expensive" class is emphasized. Thus far, the average cost of the meals has ranged from 20 to 35 cents per plate.

Following the completion of this work, the students will receive training in conducting demonstration work that will be required of them if they enter the professional field.

NINE WEEKS SUMMER SCHOOL OFFERED BY U.

The University of Idaho will this year offer a nine-weeks summer school, beginning June 13, in addition to the customary six weeks' term beginning the same date, President Upham announced Monday.

"This action is necessary in order to accommodate the teachers of the state, as the last session of the legislature passed a new school code making it compulsory for all teachers seeking certification under the Idaho

"An extensive curriculum adapted to the specific needs of Idaho teachers is now being arranged."

MILLIONS OF CHINESE MENACED BY FAMINE

Chinese Students Are Making Many Sacrifices to Save Their Countrymen.

What the war did to the universities and colleges in this country and in England, the present great famine is doing to those in China. The students are forsaking their class rooms in response to a call of need.

Several of the Chinese colleges already have closed, and the students have gone to the stricken districts in the quickly mobilized army of relief workers through whose efforts many among the millions left destitute by food and drought are being kept alive with food rushed in from the outside world.

In other institutions, where some students still remain, they are dividing their food with the starving folk of the five stricken provinces on the "stint yourself to save" plan.

And this is one of the striking signs of the awakening in the new republic for which our own American colleges are largely responsible. Whatever progressive western spirit China has today, she owes to the young men and women educated here and in Europe, many of whose expenses at American universities and colleges were paid for out of Boxer indemnity money. Her hope for the future rests with them and with the students in the Chinese colleges modeled after our own.

Before the call for men and women willing to endure hardship and hard work in famine relief because so urgent, the 800 students of the University of Nanking petitioned the authorities of that institution to reduce the amount of food served at the student tables in rder that what should be saved might be sent to the famine victims.

They saved $800 during the first half of the school year, besides contributing more than $3,000 in cash. Eight hundred is a lot of money in China. Board at the U. of N. costs about $3.50 a month. No, not a day or a week—a month! Figure up and you'll see that the Chinese students really stinted themselves. They saved a good many lives. At current prices in China, their $800 would buy 20 tons of sweet potatoes, 13 tons of millet, 5,000 pounds of meat, or 8,000 pounds of fish.

Everywhere Chinese students are throwing themselves into the organized effort to save their starving countrymen. In Soochow University Number Three, a much smaller institution than the U. of N., they saved $120 in a month by denying themselves meat and fish. Many of these same students are now in the famine provinces busy with the tremendous work of distribution.

raised a large amount of money by giving a series of entertainments which lasted a week. In New York City they produced a Chinese play and turned the proceeds over to the fund.

And the cry of the starving is bringing a generous response from other students than those in Chinese colleges or of Chinese birth. In Syria, two thousand miles from the stricken land, a group of Christian students gave substantially to the famine fund from their scanty means.

In this country, contributions are now being received from the universities and colleges by the American Committee for China Famine Fund.

No contribution is too small to be welcomed by the relief organizations—and none is too large. For three cents, a famine victim, a man, woman or child, can be supplied with food sufficient for a day. One dollar will keep one alive thirty days, and $5 a month will support a family. But the need is great; there are so many millions who will have to be carried through to the next harvest by outside aid or starve.

IDAHO RELAY TEAM IS CHOSEN SATURDAY

Gill, Harsch, Macey and Van Hosen Will Compose Relay Team—Irving and Perrine For Weights.

By J. E. Arntström
Idaho's relay team, which is to be entered in the Seattle meet next week, was given its last tryout Saturday the 16th on the university campus. The team will leave Thursday, Coach Kelley announced today. Irving, Perrine, Gill, Harsch, Macey, Van Hosen have been chosen to go.

Over a half mile course, the contestants showed fairly good form, considering the nature of the ground upon which they ran, and the numerous handicaps which they had to overcome. Coach Kelley seemed highly pleased with the condition of the men, and felt that chances for victory in the coming meet were of the best.

Only a relay team for the two mile, and a team for the weights will be entered. This was due to accidents which barred Idaho from entering men in the one-mile relay. It had been hoped that a team could be sent to contest in this race, but up to the last moment it was found impossible. Horton McCallie, letter man for the last three years in track, and Purdy Eaton, were slated to compose the mile relay, but serious injury to the foot of McCallie barred him from participating. As no man could be found to run with Eaton it was decided not to enter in the mile.

The race Saturday to pick the four men for the two-mile relay was run upon the campus over a quarter mile track. The reason for the tryouts not being held on the regular field was principally due to the muddy condition. It was in. Although the time shown was rather slow, it was better than anticipated, as slippery grass, side-walks, and the none too gentle breeze in the campus ground gave the men plenty of handicaps for running.

Those who tried out for the team were Gill, Van Hosen, Harsch, Macey, Williams and Penwell. The finish of the race was fast, with Gill breaking the tape, Marsch a close second and Van Hosen and Macey third and fourth. Williams, who seemed to be a strong factor at the start, finished last, on account of a stumble which cost his lead in the second lap. The time for the course was 2:08.4.

Pat Perrine and "Gus" Irving go to make up the rest of the team, and will only go for weights. Both men are exceptional in their lines, and have been Idaho's best men, in nearly every contest for the last three years. They have been working consistently and seem to be in A1 condition, which means that Idaho will show up strong.

The team is expected to leave here Thursday noon, April 21, which gives the men a chance for rest before the meet on Saturday, April 23d.

GEM OF MOUNTAINS FOR DELIVERY MAY 1

Manager Calls Upon Subscribers to Locate Final Two Fifty to Meet Payments When Distributed.

The 1922 "Gem of the Mountains" will be off the press May 1st. This is the promise the publishers made to Manager Paul T. Rowell in Spokane last Saturday, when he completed final arrangements on the book. Final presswork is now under way, so no difficulty is anticipated in completing it in the length of time at hand. This means that the "Gem" will be ready for delivery in Moscow sometime during the first week in May.

As the "Gem of the Mountains" is in the habit of making its appearance on the campus about the 10th or 12th of June, after a large share of the students have left for their homes, this news should be particularly welcome. Even those students who wish to finish a month early will have ample time to accept delivery of the book before leaving. This marked change in the policy of the management has of necessity crowded the staff to the utmost in completing the work, but they feel that everyone should have this chronicle of the year's events in their hands before leaving Moscow.

The 1922 "Gem of the Mountains," the nineteenth volume of our annual year book, is according to Manager Rowell, the largest and most complete that has ever been published, containing over 300 pages full of interesting reviews and pictures of every phase of the life of our university, and promises many pleasant surprises for a in the matter of cover material and other individual features that the book has never before possessed.

This year, the "Gem" sells for four dollars, the additional dollar over last year's figure having gone into higher class cuts, better cover material, special features, and in general improvements in workmanship. The cuts were made by the largest and best equipped engraving company in the northwest, located at Seattle, and they have given us a high class of workmanship that the "Gem" has not received for several years past.

This, then, is a last timely call for you to dig up that final two dollar and a half payment and have it ready in about two weeks. A limited number of extra copies have been ordered for those who were unable to place their orders on "Tag Days," and these will be sold to the first applicants, at the $4 figure. Come early or you'll miss out. Better yet, see Manager Rowell and place your order now.

Further announcement as to the exact time and pace of delivery will be made in the Argonaut not later than two weeks from today. Watch for it.

ENGLISH CLUB TO HAVE ANNUAL GUEST NIGHT FRI.

Pres. Upham to Speak on "Cartoons"—Every Member to Bring a Guest—Dancing and Refreshments.

Following its regular custom the English club is making preparation for its annual guest night. The meeting will be held at the Guild hall on Friday evening, April 29th, at 8 o'clock. The speaker of the evening will be President A. H. Upham who will give an illustrated lecture on "Cartoons." Knowing our president's reputation both as a speaker and as a humorist we feel sure that "Cartoons" will be well worth hearing.

Every effort is being made to make this meeting a memorable occasion. Let us see every member of the club out with a guest. Refreshments will be served after the lecture and the rest of the evening spent in dancing.

FIGURES ON HONOR SYSTEM

The following are excerpts from the pamphlet on "The present status of the honor system in colleges and universities," published in 1915 by the United States bureau of education. One hundred and twenty-three institutions now practice the honor system in all or a few departments. In sixty-three cases the council (student governing body) is elected, in eighteen cases it is appointed, and in fourteen chosen.

Of the 116 colleges reporting on final jurisdiction in cases of violation of the honor system, eighty-one report that final power lies in the faculty, twelve that it lies in the president, and one that it lies in the president and faculty. In twenty-two cases a student may be punished, suspended or expelled from college without other authority than that of the student council.

Sixty-four colleges and universities report that the instructor may be present or absent from the room as he may choose. The majority of colleges report that violations are "seldom" or "rare," and others that they occur two or three times a year. Only two large institutions have reported any considerable number of cases, the larger being on an average of ten per year.—Cornell Daily Sun.

Great interest still centers in the Hebrew University on the Mount of Olives. It is planned to make it the world center for Jewish culture and education. A collection of books is being made from all over the world. One collection of 40,000 volumes has been given. Among the world famous Jewish scholars who have joined the faculty of the university are: Prof. Albert Einstein, author of the new theory of relativity; Prof. August Von Wassermann, discoverer of the blood test which bears his name, and Prof. S. Freud, the psycho-analyst.—Exchange.

SEED CLASS ADDS NEW UNIT

PRESIDENT UPHAM TALKS TO S. E. I. U. CLUB

University Head Makes Interesting Talks to Members—Emphasizes Need of Student Help.

"We want to serve the state of Idaho," said Pres. Upham, in speaking of the loyalty of Idaho students to their university, before the S. E. I. U. club Wednesday evening, April 13, in the Administration building.

Pres. Upham's talk was based upon the amount of loyalty and fellowship we show in sending other students to the university. He placed himself in the position of the student from the southern part of the state and said, "Suppose I lived in southern Idaho. What would interest me in going to the state university? I believe it would be the personal touch, the personal connection with someone who had been there. Coming to a university is largely a matter of the number of people taking it up, and if that medium is not used then the university is cheated of its own students."

In speaking of the university itself he continued, "Either this university ought to appeal to the fair-minded people of the state or else there is something wrong. And that is one reason why I am here—to make it right. If a school is worth the while, that is the biggest place on earth, but to be worth while it must have a good campus, community spirit and fellowship. I can't make college, I can't make people like the place, but it is up to the individual member, the home-going student, that is going to work wonders and have everyone in the state looking to this institution as the best."

Pres. Upham then commended the S. E. I. U. club on the splendid work that it has done in the past year, especially in its efforts to effect the passing of the five dollar rate bill. He said, "I hope this organization continues and will do everything I can to help it, for I see a big future ahead for its members, and it will be greatly due to their loyalty that the students of the southern part will be induced to come to one of the best universities of the country."

SUPT. SHANK SPOKE AT ECONOMICS CLUB MEETING

The regular meeting of the Economics Club was held last Wednesday evening in the Y. Hut. The business meeting of the club lasted but a few moments when Superintendent Shank was introduced.

Superintendent Shank spoke on the subject of the organization and management of Rotary clubs. These clubs are made up of a representative from each business in a town or city. They meet once a week at lunch and once a month in the evening. The Rotary clubs work in a quiet way and aid all classes of people. Mr. Shank read the creed which is in the form of the Ten Commandments. The slogan of the organization is, "He profits most who serves best."

PRES. UPHAM WILL ADDRESS SENIORS AT WASHINGTON

President A. H. Upham Thursday accepted an invitation to deliver the commencement address at the University of Washington on June 20th.

PRIMARY THURSDAY CANDIDATES MAKE STATEMENTS

than that I am indeed grateful to my friends for so much as mentioning my name as a possibility for such a coveted position. If my friends see fit to elect me, I can assure them of no more than that I shall make every effort to successfully perform my duties for the best interests of the University and the student body as a whole.

(Signed) Michael Thometz.
A few weeks ago the students of the University of Idaho adopted a new constitution which in itself meant that the policy of government by a committee of faculty members has ceased to exist. Whether or not it was policy to turn over the control of student affairs and student money to a faculty committee does not now concern us. The old order has changed and from now on it is to be hoped that purely student affairs will be taken care of by the students themselves. Under the new constitution the elected officers of the Associated Students will have greater power than ever before. Within the next year this new system will be subjected to the acid test. It will succeed or fail according to the interest that the students themselves show in trying to make a better and stronger Idaho. For the first time in the history of Idaho, the candidates elected will, thru the means of the Primary Election, be elected by a majority vote of the student body. Let us hope that everyone will get out and vote.

I appreciate the honor of having been nominated for President of the A. S. U. I. and if elected will remember at all times that I am the servant of the entire student body, will endeavor to preside in a fair and impartial manner and to push to the utmost all things which will be for the benefit of the A. S. U. I. and the University of Idaho.

(Signed) Herbert L. Glindeman
Associate Editor

In Jack Rodner for Associate Editor a man is being offered who is fully qualified to hold the position. Mr. Rodner has had a great amount of experience in an executive capacity in newspaper work. He was active on the staff of the Moscow high school paper for two years and he was chosen as Assistant Alumni Editor for that publication during his freshman year in college. In addition he has had a wide experience in fraternity publications. Mr. Rodner has natural ability in the newspaper line and he is a careful manager. He is in every sense the man we need for Associate Editor.

If I should be elected, I'll try to make the Argonaut representative of the whole school.

(Signed) Ted Sherman.
Robert Holbrook

The Argonaut was unable to get in communication with Mr. Holbrook in time to get a statement from him. His qualifications were submitted by friends. (Editor's note.)

Robert Holbrook was Editor of the Boise County Sentinel for one year. For 14 months he was editor in chief of the "Base Hit", the official organ of the 12th infantry, which had a circulation of 3000 copies per week. The Base Hit was a weekly paper. Holbrook has had an extensive course in journalism and has a varied experience in practical newspaper work and is a printer by trade. He has worked as a job printer for two years in Moscow and has held every position on a newspaper from Devil to editor in chief.

Under the constitution of the A. S. U. I. recently adopted by the student body, the treasurership is the most responsible office of the Association. It involves not only keeping a record of more than $15,000 income from various sources, but its distribution among five separate funds, and the responsibility of checking each manager's reports.

If I am elected to this office, I will perform to the best of my ability all duties connected with this position, in order to secure and promote the best interests of the A. S. U. I.

Marie Hummel.
The position of treasurer is a responsible one, and will require a great deal of time. If the students see fit to elect me to the office, I will endeavor to fill it successfully.

Agnes Sweeney.
I consider it an honor to serve the A. S. U. I. and if I am elected to the office of secretary, will promise to carry on the duties to the best of my ability.

INTENSIVE CAMPAIGN TO REACH GRADUATES

University students will be asked to canvass all students which they have indicated, and will also probably be asked to interview others in their respective localities. Students will be asked more specially to see the students who have indicated a preference for the courses with which the University people are the most familiar.

Alumni and Vocational Workers
Both alumni and vocational workers will receive the names of high school graduates who have indicated a desire to be informed about the University, and they will be expected to interview these students.

Faculty Will Present Message
All faculty members making out of town trips will be scheduled to address high schools and to present the message from the University to as many students as possible. All prospective students will receive letters from the university which will inform them where they can find alumni and extension and vocational workers who will be able to give them detailed accounts of the University and its equipment.

Student Help is Needed
A program of this nature, which will extend to every high school senior in Idaho is a tremendous undertaking and can only be made a success by unstinted cooperation on the part of the present students of the University. The alumni are willing to do their share.

It has been suggested that one of the best methods of helping in this campaign is to get thoroughly acquainted with the entire University and its resources and equipment. Students are asked to make a thorough visit to each college and department of the entire University, and obtain at least a general idea of the nature of the work and the equipment of all departments. If this is universally done, every student will be a competent sales agent to put the message of Idaho across to the prospective students.

That this suggestion is highly practical is illustrated by the following incident which occurred last June, just after the close of school. A Junior from the University had just returned to his home town. He had hardly stepped off the train until he was accosted by a former school mate and asked these questions:

"What kind of an Ag school have they at Idaho? Can a fellow learn how to handle live stock there? What kind of stock do they have? How does it compare with W. S. C. and O. A. C. for this sort of work? How much money will I have to have for actual expenses? Can a fellow get any work there?"

Could you answer these questions, or suppose the same kind were asked about the engineering school, or the school of mines, or forestry? It will be a tremendous help in bringing new students to Idaho if every Idaho student could give the essential facts about these various schools and colleges, and he is certain to be asked these same questions.

The Personal Letter
Students are especially asked to write personal letters to high school seniors of their acquaintance. It is said that nothing will make a stronger appeal than this. It makes the University a personal thing, much more real and appealing than the same story told by catalogs or bulletins.
