ACTIVE WORK BEGUN ON SUMMER DRIVE FOR LARGER ENROLLMENT

DIRECTOR OF PUBLICATION, MASON, PLANS TO HARNESS UP ENTIRE STUDENT BODY IN ACTIVE WORK—EXPECT TO REACH EVERY HIGH SCHOOL SENIOR IN ENTIRE STATE.

BOOKLET MAILED MONDAY

Students Will Receive Complete Lists of High School Graduates In Near Future.

Machinery will be set in motion this week to put 700 or 800 University of Idaho students into the field to "sell" the university this spring and summer to the 1200 or 1500 high school seniors of the state.

Each university student this week will receive a list of the high school seniors in his own home town, with a request that he choose one or more whom he will invite to attend the university. Students will be asked to write immediately to as many of these seniors as they think they can correspond with effectively, and to canvass all of them personally this summer.

Lists of seniors in each high school have been obtained by the university through the aid of superintendents and principals. Each senior has indicated whether he plans to attend a university, a normal or a vocational school, and what course of study he is interested in. All this information will be placed on the list that will be supplied to each student.

With the list and the accompanying letter will be furnished a blank on which the student will designate his choice for the canvass. This blank, according to the plan, is to be returned to the president's office.

These blanks then will be checked over and if it is found that the same choices have been made by several students, new assignments will be made. New assignments will be made also, it is announced, in the cases of seniors whose names are not chosen by any of the university students.

Alumni, faculty members and extension workers, it is announced, will help in the canvass. Deans of the several schools and colleges of the university are preparing to issue letters descriptive of the work of their own departments, for the benefit of students interested in their lines of study. But it is considered by university authorities that students are in a peculiar way well fitted to present the claims of the university to the high school seniors. They can approach them on the fellow-student basis, it is pointed out; they will have the confidence that is established by their being fellow-townsmen; and they will be able to supply first-hand and up-to-date information concerning the university.

"Father and the Boy," an attractive booklet describing the imaginary visit of a father and new student to the campus, was mailed Monday to each high school senior in the state. This booklet, it is considered, will arouse sufficient interest to make a further canvass easy. A letter from the president of the university accompanied this booklet and another letter, addressed to the parents of the senior, is to be sent in a few days.

The new student campaign is in charge of Edward F. Mason, director of publication, who has an office in the new wing of the Administration building, beyond the library. A corps of workers has been busy there for two weeks or so, addressing envelopes, making up student lists and otherwise preparing for the campaign.

"There are students aplenty who are ready and glad to get into this new student game," said Mr. Mason yesterday, "but they are waiting for the university to suggest what it would like to have them do. The plan under which the campaign is outlined gives each student a very definite task. It makes him responsible for the one, two or three or more seniors at home whom he can best influence.

"We now are especially in need of a system of local followup in the several sections of the state. I should be delighted to receive suggestions of methods for keeping in touch with the campaign in each locality in the most effective way throughout the summer. I have been particularly glad to find some students ready with new ideas that would help us put the thing over in their own localities."

SPRING FOOTBALL

Spring football practice starts May the 3rd. All football men are requested to be upon the field Tuesday at 4 o'clock for the issuance of suits. The fundamentals of the game will be given and the course will extend for a period of about five weeks.

ENGLISH CLUB MEETS MAY 4

The meeting of the English Club, which was postponed from last Friday, will be held at the Guild Hall on May 4th. The meeting will be promptly at 7:30. Each member of the club is entitled to invite one guest.

DUAL TRACK MEET WITH W.S.C. SAT.

Idaho will meet her traditional enemy in a dual track meet, Saturday afternoon at Pullman. Dope seems to indicate close scores, with Idaho a favorite in the odds. While the Silver and Gold squad is weak in the vault and jumps, there is but little question that she is vastly superior in the weights, javelin and middle distances. The sprints are expected to be bitterly contested, although there is at present but little indication of the ability of either squad in these events.

Raymond Harsch, the sensation of the Seattle Relay Carnival, is expected to gallop home with the garlands of victory in every event in which he is entered. Perrine and Irving are sure point getters. Gill, who won out last year in the Conference meet on pure grit will be on hand to add to his laurels.

As there have been no meets so far this year to test out the ability of the new men of the squad, it is useless to make prophecy as to the results of their respective events. However the new men have shown some real quality, and W. S. C. will not take first in any event without putting forth everything she has.

The athletic department is extremely anxious to have a large delegation of Idaho rooters accompany the track team to Pullman Saturday afternoon.

MISS BIGELOW MAY TAKE EASTERN TRIP

POPULAR HOME ECONOMICS HEAD ASKED TO VISIT MASSACHUSETTS SCHOOL.

Miss Zella Bigelow, associate professor of home economics and clothing specialist at the university, Friday was invited to deliver an address on "Home Analysis" before the convention of the American Home Economics association to be held this summer at Swampscott, Mass.

The "analysis" plan is that in preparing a home economics program the home is first visited, every duty of the house wife is noted and the course arranged according to these findings. Charles R. Allen, who during the war was government agent for the training of vocational teachers, developed the analysis method for rapidly training supervising tradesmen in essential war industries and soon extended the plan to home economics. Miss Bigelow, then an agent for the federal board, did much pioneer work along this line and is considered an authority on its practical application.

There are 11 general classes of knowledge and skill, each type including numerous duties needed in practicing vocational home making according to Miss Bigelow. They are planning home commodities, employing, producing, maintaining, training for individual efficiency and social relationships, caring for members of the family, conducting social life and meeting civic responsibilities.

THIS WEEK YOU PICK A STUDENT TO BRING BACK TO "U" IN FALL

This week you'll get a letter containing a list of high school seniors in the old home town. Pick one, or two, or three, and bring them back to the "U" next fall. Can you do it? Of course you can. "When new students come to a university," says President Upham, "they come because somebody has advised them to—somebody they know, whose opinions they respect, and whose enthusiasms they have found to be contagious. This somebody may be an old grad living in the same town and still cherishing the memories of college days. It may be a teacher fresh from university halls and bubbling over with loyalty. It may be a student who was a class or two ahead in high-school and has already experienced the 'great adventure' of university life. It may be YOU!

SPANISH DEPT. WILL PRESENT NOVEL PLAY

"Los Castillos de Torresnobles" to Be Given in Spanish—No Admission Will Be Charged

The department of Romance languages will present the play, "Los Castillos de Torresnobles" in the University Auditorium Friday evening. This marks the first attempt ever made at the university to present a play in a foreign tongue. All the players will give their parts in Spanish.

The department has spared no efforts to make the play a success from every standpoint. Special scenery has been made for the three acts, and all characters will be costumed in specially designed costumes. There will be no admission charged for the play.

Among the novel features of the presentation will be Spanish dancers, dancing native dances in the costumes of the land, Gypsies, peasants and torch-bearers, all artistically costumed. Nearly fifty people will take active part in the production.

Synopsis of the play and the principal speeches will be contained in programs printed in English, so that even the people who have not made a study of the language may follow the play without difficulty.

The play was written for the elect drama club of Spain. The author is unknown. The play is a three act comedy-drama, and is said to contain unusually good character work, and dialog that is brilliant and fascinating.

The department is presenting the play in the hope of creating even more enthusiasm than now exists for the courses in Spanish, and to demonstrate what can be done in this language in the way of drama and literature.

The cast is composed in the main of second and first year students in the regular Spanish courses. Leading parts will be taken by Clayton Hoover, Fleeta Brennan, Betty Woods, Harmon Cutler, George Gahan and Chauncey Steadman, Cornelia Burbridge, Robert Holbrook, R. M. Mathiesen and Florence Graves. There will be nearly forty other people in the play besides these named.

THREE DAYS TENNIS TOURNAMENT HERE

FIRST ALL-UNIVERSITY TOURNAMENT BEGINS SUNDAY, MAY 15 AT THE U.

The first annual all-university open tennis tournaments will be held May 15, 16, 17, Thomas Kelley, director of athletics, announced today.

"Singles and doubles for both men and women, will be staged," said the coach, "and as we have no old men back, the team must be developed from the host of candidates now working out. We are wanting every effort to raise tennis to a higher standard and the introduction of the open tournament, we hope to interest a great number of students.

"Idaho will enter in three tournaments, the conference tournament at Whitman and the dual meets with W. S. C. at Pullman and with Stanford at Moscow. Unique in conference athletics is the women's tournament to be held between Idaho and Whitman of Walla Walla.

Robert Garver has been appointed tennis manager.

LEWIS COURT TO GET IMPROVEMENTS

Armory Annex To Have Oiled Floor, Good Track, Tennis Courts and Indoor Ball Diamonds.

According to plans which were announced Saturday by the athletic department, Lewis Court will be remodeled this summer so that it will provide double the gymnasium space which is now available. It is hoped that the remodeled building will be ready for use for the opening of school next fall.

As planned, the jumping pit is to be filled with sand, the floor carefully leveled off, and given several coats of road oil, which will make the entire surface dustless and firm. The track will be repaired and well cindered.

Lights will be installed so that the entire court will be well illuminated with a strong indirect lighting system. After the floor has been oiled, tennis courts, diamonds for both indoor and playground baseball and volley ball will be marked out. Movable standards for volley ball nets will be installed so that the building may be readily made available for that game.

The building will not be heated at the present time, but will have new doors, and the walls will be repaired so that the room will be windproof. It is thought that the court will not be altogether uncomfortable for such games as indoor baseball, volleyball and tennis and track work during the greater part of the winter. People using the courts for athletics can dress more warmly than for workouts in the gym, and be thoroughly comfortable.

The athletic department is planning inter-mural leagues for volley ball, indoor and playground baseball for the coming year. The court will be open to the women at least half of the time and it is hoped that inter-scholarship leagues will be using the court for the games.

When remodeled the court will be a big asset to track and tennis, as it will provide a well lighted, roomy place for winter practice.

IDAHO VS WHITMAN THURSDAY-FRIDAY

The Varsity baseball team will tangle with the Whitman Missionaries on the home lot Thursday and Friday of this week. The visitors are playing the final games of a six fray trip, having met Montana and W. S. C. teams before coming here.

Idaho got away to a poor start in the Gonzaga game Friday of last week but staged a real comeback on Saturday, when the Irishmen barely nosed them out of victory, by annexing a wonderful piece of luck in the tenth frame.

The opening games should be exhibitions of real playing, and the dopester says that Idaho should win both. Games are called at 3:15 each afternoon. The fair grounds will be the scene of the contests.

NOTICE! NOTICE! There will be a Junior Class meeting at the Kappa Sigma house Wednesday evening at 7:30. All those who feel they have an idea for the Junior stunt be sure and come and bring that idea.

ATHLETIC FIELD SCENE OF "CAMPUS DAY" ACTIVITIES

ENTIRE STUDENT FORCE TO BE DEVOTED TO MAKING PERMANENT IMPROVEMENTS ON TRACK AND FIELD TILE DRAINS WILL BE LAID AND STRAIGHTAWAY MADE LONGER

WASHINGTON CLUB

The Washington Club will meet for a short business session Wednesday evening in room 108 of the Administration building. Plans for the dance and other business will be taken up.

INTER-SCHOLASTIC TRACK MAY 16-17

The annual Inter-scholastic track meet will be held on MacLean field May 16th and 17th. To date, over 100 athletes, representing the finest of Idaho's high school material have already made entry for the meet. It is thought that this meet will be the largest and the best ever staged at Idaho.

At last year's Inter-scholastic, several state records were smashed beyond recognition, a new national record was set and the world's record for the fifty yard dash was tied by Doe of Burley. While no such sensation is to be hoped for two years in succession, it is extremely likely that new state records will be hung up, for incentive to future contestants.

IDAHO FROSH DRUB L. AND C. 13 TO 5

Idaho Frosh sluggers pound Lewis and Clark's fast team to the tune of a 13-5 victory in the first game of the season played Saturday April 30 at the fairgrounds. Numerous errors on the part of Lewis and Clark are mostly responsible.

Upsetting dope sheets and off-setting the varsity defeat in Spokane the Idaho Kittens showed true to form and won their first game against the Lewis and Clark High School.

The weather was cold making the plays slow and causing numerous errors on both sides. Lewis and Clark seemed to have dropped their horse shoe on the way down, for they were unable to score twice with bases full and other times muffed the ball continuously.

The frosh infield worked fast and only one error is credited to them, while the Lewis and Clark infield seemed to be up in a balloon when they were most needed. Stivers for Idaho played a stellar game and his infield work and batting was of the best.

ENGINEERS ARE IN CHARGE

Work Will Be First Step Toward Developing Entire Field. "To Be Done Scientifically."

Definite plans for Campus Day activities have been announced by the project committee of which Raymond Harsch is chairman, Coach Kelley and MacMillan, Secretary Parsons and Si Swanstrom are members. The program for this year will be distinctly a student affair and for the betterment of the athletic field.

The entire program has been mapped out with a view to the permanent improvements for the athletic field, which have been entertained by the athletic department for some time. The entire male student body will be utilized on the project.

The plans as now adopted call for re-digging the drains which now flank the straight away track, and putting them on an accurate grade. The drain will be carefully leveled by the engineers of the university and the work done under most careful supervision, so that what is accomplished will be of a permanent nature.

A pit will be dug on the south side of the straight away, and a concrete drain box installed there. A ditch will lead away from this box to each end of the track, laid on a predetermined slope, and these ditches are to be laid with four inch tile. Broken rock will then be piled back on the tile, and the ditch refilled with earth.

From the concrete drain box, another ditch will be dug due north, across the center of the football grid, and a six inch tile will be laid in it which will connect up with the smaller lines, thus affording a complete drainage system for the entire straight away track, and for the center of the grid.

As soon as funds are available, a concrete curb will be laid between the dial, and the track, and over the drain a concrete gutter will be installed to catch all surface water, and to prevent silt from clogging the rock and tile drain below. It is thought that it may be possible to have this work done in the coming summer, and no attempt will be made on Campus day to undertake this phase of the job.

Drain Placed Around East Side. The present rock filled ditch which runs from the end of the straight away, past the bleachers and to the north side of the track, will also be re-dug and laid with tile and rock.

At present there is a rock drain on the south side of the track and in front of the bleachers, but due to the silt and clay which has washed in from the hillside, it is not functioning properly, and the new drains are to replace this drain in a permanent manner.

It is also planned to lengthen the straight away track by excavating on the east hill. This will make the straight stretch some 780 feet in length, and will give plenty of room for all the dashes, with a comfortable margin in which the athletes may slow down before coming against the hill side. Teams and fresnos will be on hand to remove the bulk of the dirt which will have to be excavated to lengthen the track. The dirt taken from the bottom of the cut will be hauled away by teams and wagons.

Work Is Permanent. All the work to be done is the first step toward carrying out the program for definite improvements of the field. As soon as possible, the football field proper will be tiled with four inch tile which will connect up with mains, running north and south across the field. The work done on Campus day will be a permanent improvement, and will not have to be repeated when the field is finally improved.

The Engineers are at work running levels for the drains, and all digging and the installing of the tiles will be done under rigid inspection, so that they will be laid in the proper manner to best accomplish their purpose.

SHOW YOUR LOYALTY.

Appeal has been made before thru these columns for active student support in the campaign to acquaint high school graduates with the University of Idaho and its resources and possibilities.

Your president is again voicing that appeal for your aid. The director of publicity, Mr. Mason, has counted upon you to win at least half of the battle. In a few days each and every student in the university will be given a list of all graduating high school students in their home towns. You are asked to designate to which of these students you can best present the message of Idaho thru a personal letter, followed by an actual meeting this coming summer.

You have enjoyed the benefits of the university. Your life has grown richer through the friends and associations which you have formed here. You have become a better, more useful potential citizen by reason of your sojourn here. It is nothing more than an example of your loyalty that you should take it upon yourself to disseminate the facts as you know them to as large a number of high school graduates as possible.

As good students you should do this. In fact, you should be glad that an opportunity has come to you to render a valuable service to your alma mater. Your personal letter will do more than the university can do. Your splendid loyalty, your enthusiasm, and your love of Idaho will make your letters win students for Idaho. Again we ask you, will you not write tonight to as many prospective students as possible?

OPEN FORUM

Tennis has been recognized in many of the colleges and universities in the West, and in fact by many all over the United States, as a major sport. Here we classify tennis among the minor sports. From the interest demonstrated on the campus this spring, many have seriously questioned the advisability of even classifying tennis as a minor sport, and some have thought of suspending tennis as one of the university activities entirely. The final determination of this question rests with the students and will be definitely decided in the next two weeks.

Idaho has one intercollegiate tennis match for women this year and four matches for men, scheduled at the present time. It these matches are going to be played they must be played by men and women worthy to represent this university, and who can creditably uphold the reputation of the school and bring credit to the school and to themselves. To do this it means that everyone with any ability along this line must get out at once and train hard and consistently for the next few weeks. The question is, will this be done?

We feel assured that the students of this university are interested in tennis and want to see this school excel in this line of athletics. We feel certain that there are enough men and women in this institution who can and like to play the game, to form a creditable team and the cooperation of everyone can do a great deal to further this object. The athletic department of the university is very anxious to put tennis upon a higher level. Much money has been spent this year in repairing the courts and for equipment. It is up to the students to get behind the athletic department and put this plan of theirs across.

On May 14th and 15th will be held the preliminaries in the University Tennis Tournament. The finals will be played the afternoon of the 16th. A silver cup will be given to the winner of both the Men and Women's singles. Medals will be given to the members of the winning Men and Women's doubles teams. Any regularly enrolled student in the university is eligible to compete in this tournament and the members of varsity teams will be picked from the winners of this tournament. A poster will appear on the bulletin board and all those wishing to enter any of the events will sign a list appearing thereon. Entries for this meet will be accepted up to 6 P. M. of Friday May 6th, and drawings will take place Saturday morning at 10 o'clock in the gym.

There will be four events, Men's singles and doubles, and Women's singles and doubles. This will be an elimination tournament and it behooves those interested to start practicing at once. Two courts will be reserved between the hours of 10 and 12 in the morning and 2 to 6 in the afternoon of each day for those trying for varsity teams. Let everyone turn out and make this tournament a success. Make it a fashion to appear upon the campus with a tennis racket, for the next month.

HONOR SYSTEM WILL BE INSTALLED FOR NEXT EXAMS

About 1,760 signatures to pledges for the adoption of an honor system at Stanford have been received by the committee working out the plan, according to an announcement made this morning by President F. L. McElroy. These signatures will be classified and sent to the heads of the various departments, who will then authorize the installation of the system.

The system will probably be in operation for the next examinations in all departments of the university. Professors and instructors in many courses conducted their final examinations last quarter in accordance with the plan. Several of them have announced that in courses where cheating was previously known to have existed there was no evidence of unfair play during the last examination period.—The Daily Palo Alto.

SPIZZERINKTUM SAYS

Some of the fellows who have made letters in athletics, or who are now trying to, remind us of the story of the native sons of Topeka, Kansas, who were boosting the merits of their town to the man from New England. After some time the visitor replied:

"You fellows have a wonderful town here. The only thing that you need, so far as I can see, is a seaport."
"Seaport. Why that would be impossible in Kansas," was the reply.
"Oh, I don't know. All you would have to do is to lay a two-inch pipe to the Gulf of Mexico, and if you fellows can suck half as hard as you can blow, you would have a seaport here inside of half an hour."

It wasn't the blowing that made us think of the story either.

Yes, that is the fellow we were thinking of.

A story in the Spokesman-Review of last week contained the statement made by an official of a street car company in a Florida town, in which he said that accidents on the company's lines had decreased more than fifty per cent since the advent of the short skirt. (i.e. accidents among the women passengers.) But he never said a word about the thousands of men who have been run over by automobiles since the same date.

Mr. Priest related the story of Caruso as the San Francisco fire, when his prevailing passion seemed to be to get something around his neck, without regard for other matters. When we look at some of the prevailing dictates of Millady Fashion, we are forced to conclude that the same instinct is still prevalent and that it is not confined to the great singers alone.

We have heard some awful lies in our day, and incidentally have promulgated a few ourselves but the following taken from "Judge" beats anything we have heard or ever hope to hear, relative to the conduct of man. It's something like this. A newly married couple were stopping at a hotel. The groom felt somewhat indisposed, so the bride went out for a little shopping. On her return, she was somewhat baffled by the long line of doors, all of which looked alike. However she was sure that she knew their room, so she rapped on the door and said, "Let me in, honey". No response, so she rapped louder and said, "Honey, honey, let me in, I've come back". No response. In her desperation she knocked very loudly and said, "Honey, it's me, let me in".

A cold, deadly voice from behind the door answered, "Beat it, woman. This is a bathroom, not a beehive".

No, gentle reader, you are mistaken. We were thinking of another girl altogether.

Don't think for a minute that station in life doesn't count for something. In one station the lower two-thirds of a pair of silk stockings is "an indecent exposure" while the same amount among the upper crust is "a charming pair of ankles."

SOCIAL & PERSONAL

Social activities took another well deserved rest this past week, and doin's along the great white way were few and far between. Spring, with its inherent listlessness, has pallid the inclination of the multitudes for dancing. Hikes and two-somes among the arboretum are coming into their own. The Glee Club ball on Saturday evening brot forth a small crowd of the lovers of terpsichore and the "Injunerees" picnic on Sunday conjured a goodly mob to the mountain fastness.

The weather man has prophesied real spring weather sometime between now and June first so picnics and frat pin barterings are soon to hold away as never before.

GEM OF MOUNTAINS ENROUTE TO MOSCOW

According to advices received from the publishers in Spokane, every copy of the 1922 "Gem of the Mountains" is now bound, both literally and figuratively, for Moscow. Shipment was made by freight yesterday, which assures us of arrival in Moscow within the next couple of days.

Preparations are being made for their disposal during the latter part of the week from the Argonaut office, adjoining the first floor hall in the Administration building. As all the books will arrive at the same time, no one need fear delay in receiving his or her copy. Manager Rowell, in return, asks that every body cooperate by getting their's during the couple of days they are on sale.

Bear in mind that two-fifty which is a necessary adjunct to receipt of your book. Also, it behooves those who have no copy previously ordered should come early with four iron men, the total cost of the book. A number of reservations have been made during the last two weeks, so the supply of extra copies is now more limited than ever. Watch for final poster announcements, and then—come prepared!

Varsity Trackmen TRAIN FOR MEET

Team Shows Weakness in Vault and Jumps... Coach Kelley Calls For More Material at Once.

Varsity track men are working hard for the first scheduled meet of the season to be held May the 7th at Pullman. Many new men are out this year making competition keen in the sprints and long distance. The team is weak in hurdles, pole-vault, and both broad and high jump, Coach Kelley announces.

With less than a week off for the first scheduled track meet of the season, the varsity track squad have been putting in some gruelling work in preparation for the first contest.

This certainly has been a disheartening year for the men, for conditions for a successful training season has been the worst in years. Rain and cold weather have done their share in disheartening the team, while the loss of several of last year letter men has greatly changed the probable schedule.

It has been hoped that Horton McCallie, star 440 man, and captain of last year's team, would be in shape for the coming meets, but it appears that "Mac" will be unable to compete due to serious injury received some while back.

"The greatest weakness lays in the pole-vault, hurdles, and high and broad jump," Coach Kelley announced when asked as to the showing made so far. "I hope," he continued, "that this will be taken as an appeal for more material, and anyone who feels or is a track man will come out and give Idaho his support in making this a successful track year. Competition is the life of trade and unless a man has someone to try to beat there is no fun in playing the game."

In the 100 yard dash, Moe and Leach seem the most likely contestants. Both men are fast, with a shade the best to Moe.

The two-twenty event will be taken care of by Leach, Moe, and Eaton. Eaton is a last year letter man in this event and to all probabilities will be as successful this year.

The hardest race, the 440, seems to have few aspirants although Van Hoesen, Williams and Penwell are making a good showing for the team. Van Hoesen, last year wearer of the "I" looks certain for a berth in this event, while Williams and Penwell have displayed the needed fight to make up successful 440 men.

In the half mile, Harsch, Van Hoesen and Penwell have shown the best form. Harsch is good for this race and needs no comment upon his ability.

POLITICAL ASSEMBLY IS HUGE SUCCESS

Speeches Made By All A. S. U. I. Candidates Proves Novel Feature of Assembly.

For the first time in the history of the University, A. S. U. I. nominees were called upon for political speeches before the student body in assembly last Wednesday. All the candidates were seated on the platform of the auditorium for inspection by the student body.

The military band opened the assembly by playing three numbers which made a decided hit with the students. The efforts of the band were generously applauded. The assembly was held open for business, and none being presented for consideration, President Langroise informed the assembly that nominations for May queen, maid of honor and page were in order.

May Queens Nominated.

Jean Kendall, Virginia Dermott and Marie Anderson were nominated for May Queen. Phoebe Jane Hunt, Besie Newman and Irene Johnston were nominated for Maid of Honor and Mary Hepton, Betty Woods and Mary Finnegan were placed on the ticket for the position of page.

President Langroise then made a short speech in which he stated that the elective officers of the A. S. U. I. composed the Executive Board and that this board was practically the supreme governing force of the student body. He asked that consideration be shown in all balloting at the final elections and that a conscientious effort be made to elect the persons who would best fulfill the heavy responsibility of their positions.

Glinderman Opens Campaign.

Glinderman, nominee for president of the A. S. U. I. made the initial volley in the campaign by making a short talk in which he stated that if elected, he would to all his power to abide by the new constitution and to see that it was followed to the letter in all departments. He assured the students of an impartial and whole hearted rule.

Rowell, who is the second candidate for the student body presidency, assured the students that he keenly realized the bigness and importance of the office of president for the coming year. He emphasized the fact that the student body is the only continuously organized body of people that is representative of the entire state, and that it was our duty to make the people of the entire state realize that the University is the melting pot of the state. He pledged support of the rate bill, and whole hearted cooperation with students and faculty for the upbuilding of Idaho.

Candidates for Vice Pres.

Lloyd A. Burkey, candidate for vice-president, said that he felt the responsibility of the office and that if elected, he pledged his hearty support of either candidate for the office of president, and for the entire university.

Horton McCallie stated that his platform for the office of vice president was solely what he considered best for the University and of what he was capable of doing.

Suffragettes Present Policies.

Betty Woods and Bethel Collins, candidates for secretary each made assurance of cooperation and sincerity, no matter who was elected. Both assured the students that they would make every effort to do their work efficiently.

Marie Hummel spoke very briefly concerning her candidacy for the office of treasurer, pledging her best efforts to fill the office in a capable manner. She also briefly outlined the duties of the position. Miss Agnes Sweeney, opposing candidate for the same office was not able to be present.

Editorial Nibs Speak.

Candidates Holbrook and Sherman, who are in the race for the associate editor of the Argonaut followed with short speeches. Holbrook made a grateful acknowledgement of thanks for the support shown him in the primaries, and that he pledged his every effort to make the paper representative and impartial, with "Idaho First" as his main consideration. Ted Sherman also thanked the students for the support shown him. He stated that he "had done his best for the Argonaut this year, and if elected to the associate editorship, would continue to do so next year". He assured the assembly that he would make every effort to make the Argonaut truly representative of the entire university.

Debate Brings Real Speech.

William Briscoe made the opening speech for the position of debate manager. "My interest is debate" said Briscoe in his opening remarks, "not the result of this election". He then made an effective appeal to the student body for more active support of debate and oratory. He stated that he felt that it would be better to arrange for less debates, but to have those that were scheduled with the best universities of the West. Briscoe took several lively pokes at the friction which exists between debate and athletics, and told the students that such an attitude was mere foolishness. His entire talk, which occupied several minutes, was not a campaign speech so much as a carefully thought out appeal to support the forensic side of university activities.

Walter Greathouse made a creditable talk in the interests of debate, and incidentally his campaign. He emphasized the need of fewer debates, but with better schools and universities. He pointed out that the debate record of Idaho for the last eight years was by far the best of any school in the northwest. He assured the students that if he was accorded the privilege of being elected as debate manager, he would do his best to serve the interests of debate.

Business Manager Argonaut.

Lynn Hershey, candidate for business manager of the Argonaut emphasized the importance of this position, and the fact that it was not a boy's job, nor in any sense one which should be controlled by politics. He stated that the business manager was largely responsible for the final success of the paper, and that upon his ability to get ads and to make the business men believe that the Argonaut was the best advertising medium in Moscow, depended the financial success of the paper. He pledged his cooperation with the editorial staff, and the best of his abilities in behalf of the Argonaut.

James Farrell, also candidate for business manager, closed the oratorical fireworks. His address to the students was short simply stating that he realized the responsibility of the position, and that he would perform his duties to the best of his ability, and that he would make every effort to make the Argonaut a truly representative paper.

Warblers Sound Off.

Rex Kimmel and Fred Veatch, candidates for the office of Glee Club manager were next in order. Kimmel speaking first stated that he considered the Glee Club was an official representative of the University in the high schools of the state. He promised that if elected, he would put the

IDAHO TAKES COUNT FROM GONZAGA MICKS

Opening Battle Is Disaster For Idaho. Merineau Shows Great Form In 'Squaw' U.S. 'Squaw' U.S.

Gonzaga Irishmen capture Idaho scalp in both of the first scheduled games of the baseball season. The first ended in a lopsided affair with the score 12-1. The second game Idaho caught herself and only by the superior playing and fielding of Gonzaga was she defeated by a score of 6-5. Pitcher Merineau proved a puzzle for Gonzaga carrying the second game to 10 innings.

In one of the most one-sided games of Idaho baseball history, the proverbial jinx haunted the Idaho men into giving the Irish rooters a chance to holler.

Gonzaga was at no time in danger of being scored upon, playing an unusual game of baseball in both batting and fielding.

Idaho's weakness seemed to lay in both pitching and fielding, for the Gonzaga boys were allowed to gather in 11 hits and 12 runs. The only run for Idaho came in the eighth inning when Les Moe drove out a three bagger scoring on R. Fox's infield out. This game was played in a heavy wind and greatly hampered Idaho from controlling the long drives shot over by the Irish "Babe Ruths".

The second game played Saturday gave Idaho her only chance for victory. In this game the old Idaho fight predominated and only through a fluke clout made by Magnuson, Gonzaga star, in the tenth inning gave them the winning point.

Idaho took the lead in the second frame and held it until the fifth inning when Gonzaga bunched and drove over for three tallies. Idaho came back again strong in the seventh and eighth, tying the score and causing the game to go ten innings for a decision.

"Lefty" Merineau played a game of an exceptional kind only allowing 5 hits, while 13 hits were chalked against the fighting Irishmen. Four of the thirteen hits he garnered for himself, one being for a two bagger.

Magnuson starred for the Gonzaga crowd, his fielding ability in handling the long ones coupled with his timely clouts, were responsible for Idaho's loss.

glee club in as many high schools of the state as possible, and would endeavor to make it the best possible medium for the representation of the University. Fred Veatch stated that his ideas were largely expressed by Kimmel. But that he felt that the glee club was one of the important phases of student activity, in that it was a University representative which carried the University message to so many high schools of the state. He also stated that he realized that the responsibility of the position, and if elected, would do his utmost to fulfill that responsibility in a creditable manner.

Yell Leaders Demonstrate.

Ted Turner, nominee for yell king, passed the buck in favor of Wyland, who took the stage, led the crowd in fifteen big ones for Turner, told a funny story or two and then led "The Old Idaho". Turner responded with a favorite poem and led the crowd in fifteen for the Frosh. The assembly closed with a number from the band.
