GLOOM SHADOWS KELLEY'S CAMP; INJURIES SERIOUS

IDAHO WARRIORS IN POOR CON- DITION TO MEET CAMP LEWIS ARMY TEAM

BETTER STUDENT SPIRIT IS NEEDED

Frosh to Meet Lewiston High School In Curtain Raiser For Next Saturday's Games

Idaho's gridders will be given their acid test on McLean field Saturday afternoon when they meet the all-star Ninth Corps Area Army team of Camp Lewis. The silver and gold is agog with excitement over the prospects of the coming season and results of Saturday's games, involving teams which Idaho will meet this season, have been sufficient to bolster up hopes to a level of optimism.

All-American Players

In view of the fact that Camp Lewis is Idaho's first opponent this season the game is attracting considerable attention. Camp Lewis comes to Idaho with a lineup fairly bristling with players who at one time or another were picked by Walter Camp for positions on his well known mythical all-American eleven. The ability of Walter Camp to pick an all-American team is well founded and mere mention of the fact that a player was at one time picked by this noted dopster causes the fans to take unusual interest.

Among those on the personnel of the Army squad who are decidedly in the limelight on this score is Major Merelatt, coach and quarterback, who was picked for an all-American position from the West Point Army team. Another is Captain Everett Mays, chosen for the all-Northwest half from O. A. C. in 1913, who is reported to be playing tackle for the soldiers. Practically the entire lineup is composed of veteran gridiron warriors.

Idaho Badly Crippled

Whether the "old guard" will be able to display the brilliancy of their yesterday's remains to be seen, but drawing conclusions from indications Idaho will have a hard battle. Not only the strength of Camp Lewis but the crippled condition of several of the silver and gold mainstays must be taken into consideration.

The Washington "Sun Dodgers" administered defeat to Camp Lewis at Seattle Saturday, 24 to 7, two touchdowns being made in the last two minutes of play. One touchdown on a "fluke," another on a long forward pass. A drop kick and a block punt recovered behind the army line was the road over which the Washingtonians travelled to victory. This array of scoring leads one to believe they were unable to penetrate the soldier's line for any noticeable gains.

Estimates at this time give Camp Lewis a slight weight advantage over Idaho, but Idaho's shifty backfield can be depended upon to offset such a handicap. There is little doubt but this game with Camp Lewis will be watched with keen interest by followers of northwestern football, especially those most vitally interested in the work of Coach Kelley and the success of the Idaho Varsity.

Frosh Spring Surprise

Although freshman football stock jumped as a result of the "Frosh-Varsity" tussle last Saturday, judgement cannot be passed on the Varsity based on the merits of that battle. The "Frosh" pounded terrifically at the Varsity line and produced discomforting results.

"Beany" Breshears, quarter, completely outgeneraled the "Frosh" eleven but as a unit the Varsity appeared indisposed to make yardage. In the third period, neither side having scored, the Varsity entered with a grim determination to start things and a touchdown was made. Apparently satisfied with seven points the regulars took the rest of the game easy but the "Frosh" kept banging away. Despite the fact the Varsity was able to score against the first yearlings the game was far from satisfactory and as a result gloomy forecasts were heralded.

Indignant over the showing made, Coach Kelley held the varsity on the field and drove them through an additional hour of gruelling scrimmage with the second team.

PEP RALLY WEDNESDAY EVENING TO SPREAD "IDAHO FIGHT" SPIRIT

The time—Wednesday, 8:00 p. m.

The Place—Bleachers, McLean Field.

The Cause—First Yell Rally.

Wednesday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock has been announced by Yell King Ted Turner as the time for the first Campus hour of the school year.

Band To Be Out

The rally will be held on the bleachers in McLean Field and all students are urged to be in attendance to practice yells and songs for Idaho's first football game Saturday. Representatives of the Vigilance Committee will be on deck to give an especial invitation to all Freshmen who are not present.

The pep band will be present to help out the excitement and the Varsity will scrimmage in front of the stands.

Preliminary arrangements are under way on Idaho's songs, and stunts for the Harvard Yell contest.

Want New Ideas

Idaho won the contest last year on her home field, with her snappy songs and yells, and the building of white 'I's in yellow fields, and vice-versa, with cardboard squares, and now holds the shield in the trophy case at the Gymnasium. When she has won three of these shields she will be entitled to the cup, presented by the Harvard Club of Spokane.

The contest is based upon four different activities—yelling, singing, sportsmanship and stunts. A number of new, snappy yells have been secured by Yell King Turner, new songs are being arranged for, and Idaho's sportsmanship is unquestionable. This leaves only the stunt to consider.

Hard Work Necessary

The yell staff scratched its head and finally decided to call on the student body for help. Anyone having in mind a clever, original stunt is requested to see Yell King Turner personally, as soon as possible, as immediate action is necessary. Turner requests that the student with a stunt in mind remember the fact that the important thing is to bring in the entire student body, and not run to individuality. Idaho's stunt last year took in everyone, and Idaho won, while the W. S. C. stunt was more individual.

Much harder work will be necessary this year in order to win, as the contest will be held in Pullman where different conditions will prevail.

PEP BAND PLANNING SOUTH IDAHO TOUR

SEVERAL LAST YEAR'S MEN BACK SAXOPHONE QUARTET WILL BE FEATURED

The Idaho "Pep Band" initiated its 1921-22 season in a tryout at the University Hut Tuesday afternoon. According to a statement made by Lynn Hersey, leader, prospects are indicative of a successful year ahead.

Because of the reputation established on the trips to various towns and cities of the state it is being planned to make a more protracted tour this year in behalf of the University and for the purpose of supporting Idaho men on the athletic fields. It is expected to play at every football game in the near vicinity.

The material available for the pep band this year makes for an especially optimistic air of success. With a strong lineup of veterans in the persons of Hersey, Ostrander, McKinley, Walters, Eldridge, Marineau, Armstrong and Sheneberger the band has a starting basis of exceptional talent. In addition the new material is extremely promising. Powell of Boise is a clarinetist of ability. Rush of Grangeville and Moe of Kellogg, brothers of former U. of I. musicians, will substantially strengthen the trombone section. Maule of Boise will greatly enhance the reed section on saxophone.

Feature Sax Quartet

Through the ability of Hersey, Moe, Maule and Powell to double on saxophones it is very likely that a saxophone quartet will be featured.

The "Pep Band" dance given Saturday, Sept. 24 was the first of series of entertainments to be held for the purpose of raising money to defray the expenses of the band. In addition President Upham has promised a tag day for the same purpose.

Alumni Wants Band

Boise people who were privileged to hear the pep band at the Utah-Idaho football game last year have requested a return engagement for Armistice Day. As an advertising agent for the University the trip to Boise last year accomplished a great amount of work. The attendance of the Idaho-Utah game was largely augmented by the canvass made by the band which held engagements at all towns in the vicinity of Boise. It is likely that a tour of southern Idaho will be made a permanent part of the band's yearly schedule. The support of the southern Idaho alumni has been pledged and upon this depends the ultimate stand to be taken regarding a south Idaho tour.

SOPHOMORES VICTORS AT HULME DAY SCRAP

WRESTLING MATCHES PROVE MOST INTERESTING; TUG- OF-WAR EXCITING

The sophomores won a ten to three victory over the frosh in the annual Hulme Day fights Saturday. Though contesting vigorously, the wearers of the green were steadily shown to the back seat in every event of the afternoon. The animated cheering of their classmates could not arouse the verdant hued ones to a single victory over their opponents, who gained decisions in all but three wrestling bouts which were called ties by referee Babe Brown.

The onslaught of the frosh in the Packer-back was furious and promised to be for them an easy victory. Gerald Black, first runner for the frosh, gained a good half of the distance over his opponent on the first lap of the contest but subsequent fumbling on the part of the other runners soon gave the advantage to the sophomores who easily maintained the lead throughout the rest of the race.

When the opposing teams of fifteen huskies each lined up for the Hulme fight no dope was forthcoming as to what the probable outcome would be. At the crack of the pistol there was a general clash of frosh and soph. Each contestant had a man picked and proceeded to carry him off in a manner suitable to prehistoric methods. Squirring frosh and twisting soph proceeded to leave footprints upon the campus green in their endeavor to outdo each other. As the struggling continued it soon became evident that the second year men were too much for the yearlings. When the pistol sounded the recessional the score stood four of the sophs and one for the frosh.

Close Fight in Wrestling

In the wrestling bouts honors were evenly divided. In the lightweight class W. J. Osborne, sophomore, and Kelley, freshman, pounded the mat for nine minutes without either winning the victory although it is the common opinion that Osborne took the aggressive. Wicks, sophomore, and Disney, freshman, were the actors in the middleweight class. This match was pronounced a tie by referee Brown. Neither man could get the advantage over his opponent. The heavy weight class was filled by Gehrke, sophomore, and Parks, freshman. Gehrke began the battle with a mighty rush but Parks' effective resistance and timely use of the leg scissors soon reduced the speed of the second year man. The remainder of the bout was spent in an attempt to gain an advantage but neither man

STUDENTS WANT KICK IN LIFE AT COLLEGE

CHANGES IN EVERY DAY LIFE CAUSE DIFFERENT DESIRES FOR PLEASURES

"Getting a Kick out of College," was President Upham's topic at last Wednesday's assembly.

"Young men and women of today measure the value of a thing by whether there is any 'kick' in it or not and this continual searching for 'thrills' is causing us older folks a good deal of worry," declared President Upham.

"Possibly, though, there isn't half as much to worry about as we are disposed to think," continued the president. "The heart of the difficulty is that the conveniences and organization in every day living have made life so simple and colorless that they are looking to other sources for a 'kick'."

"In former times when men were forced to fight in battle for their religion and beliefs, they found plenty of 'kick' in that. The boy of yesterday who got his 'thrill' out of letting his pony go at a breakneck pace on the six-mile run to town seems to be replaced by the lad who drives 60 miles an hour in high-powered cars. The historic Boston Tea Party was the work of a group of young men who sought a 'thrill'."

But What Kind of a Kick?

"I am willing to say frankly that I thoroughly believe life should have a 'kick' in it for young folks but I am desperately interested in the character of this 'kick.' Everything worth while in life should have a 'kick' in it. Our professors should be so thrilled with their courses that they instantly impart this enthusiasm to the students—and it is possible to make every course attractive. Politics, literature and the mere pleasure of living should each have their kick."

"There are certain 'kicks' on which I wish to brand as not being worth while. These are disrespect, irreverence and soubbery, campus extravagance, dishonesty and sharp practice."

TO SEND DELEGATES TO BERKLEY CONVENTION

CO-EDS ADOPT NEW RESTRICTIONS FOR DATES; CUT SHORT SUNDAY DATES

Three new campus rules were added to the present restrictions placed upon students by the Woman's Self-Governing Council, at a meeting of the Woman's League on Friday afternoon.

Rule No. 1 requires that automobile parties driving beyond the city limits shall obtain permission for said drive from the Dean of Women.

Rule No. 2 restricts "walking dates" to the hours of 4 to 6 on week days.

Rule No. 3 states that Sunday dates shall cease at 6:30 in the evening.

An unanimous vote was cast in favor of sending a representative from the University of Idaho to the Women's Intercollegiate conference at Berkeley, California in November. A nominating committee has been appointed by the president of the League and the delegate will be elected by ballot at the next regular meeting.

CAPT. GROVE EVANS TO TALK AT ASSEMBLY

10 O'CLOCK HOUR TURNED OVER TO STUDENTS FOR PEP AND FIGHT DEMONSTRATION

Adopting pep and the old Idaho spirit fight are to be the main features of the student assembly for Wednesday. The first football game of the season is to be played on the home field next Saturday afternoon when the varsity will take on the hefty Camp Lewis aggregation and the Frosh will do battle with Lewiston High School. Therefore the order of the day will be to arouse student pep.

Grover Evans to Talk

The program paper is in charge of the A. S. U. I. and will consist of a talk by Capt. "Grove" Evans on the football situation. Yelling and song practice will no doubt be featured and every true Idaho booster is urged to bring a healthy pair of lungs. Mr. Kilppler the special agent of the O. W. R. & N. Co. will be present to propose plans for the special to be run to Pullman for the W. S. C. game which will be played the twenty-second of this month.

This is an Idaho rooters' meeting. The school must be one hundred per cent present. Come and show the type of pep that will boost the team to a victorious season.

Adopt Idaho Cap

At last week's meeting an official rooster cap, different in style from those previously in use, was adopted. Get one for the yell rallies.

GREATHOUSE APPOINTED FOR DEBATE MANAGER

SUCCESSFUL YEAR LOOMS UP FOR IDAHO DEBATEES; MA- TERIAL PROMISING

Walser S. Greathouse, '24, of Boise has been appointed debate manager according to advices given out Monday by Paul Rowell, president of the A. S. U. I. The appointment was made at an Executive Board meeting last Tuesday. Wm. S. Briggce who was elected to the position last spring was unable to return to school.

The appointment of Greathouse to the position of debate manager came after considerable deliberation and seems to meet with general approval throughout the campus. He is eminently qualified for the position. In addition to considerable experience in high school, Greathouse has established a reputation in intercollegiate forensics. The success of last year's affirmative debate team in the W. S. C. intercollegiate debate was due in no small part to his ability.

Already extensive plans are being completed for a larger debate season than ever and prospects are bright for success along this line of endeavor. A contest will be scheduled at Spokane with Harvard University sometime in December. In addition, the regular intercollegiate meets promise to be of a higher character than ever before.

GIRLS PLAN FOR YELL RALLY

Will Take Full Part in Harvard Root- ing Contest With Pullman; New Girls Wanted

A girls' yell rally will be held in the gymnasium today at 5 o'clock for the purpose of familiarizing the new girls with Idaho's yells and songs.

Gladys Hastie with appointed assistants will lead the yells.

Similar rallies will be held at short intervals within the next two weeks in preparation for the Annual Stunt and Song Contest with Pullman, and the traditional serpentine through the the fraternity houses on the evening before the Idaho-W. S. C. game.

MORTAR BOARD MEETS

Members of Alpha Sigma Epsilon, honorary women's fraternity, at their organization meeting for the year, discussed their petition for a charter from the Mortar Board, national women's society.

Eleanor Faris is president; Gladys Hastie, vice president; Helen Bloom, secretary, and Gladys Beach, treasurer.

FAMOUS SINGERS TO BE FEATURES OF ARTIST COURSE

MARIE SUNDELIUS FIRST NUM- BER OF DRAMATIC-MUSI- CAL PROGRAM

TONY SARG'S MARIONETTES ARE COMING

Arthur Middleton, Metropolitan Opera Soloist Promises To Be Big Drawing Card

Tony Sarg's famous marionettes, Marie Sandelius, noted soprano of the Metropolitan Opera company and Arthur Middleton, considered the greatest tenor who ever sang to northwestern audiences, also a leading soloist of the Metropolitan Opera company, are the three numbers arranged for the University of Idaho's artist musical-dramatic course this year.

Miss Sandelius is said to have ascended to heights seldom attained in the musical world and her pre-eminence in operatic circles makes her engagement here of unusual importance. It will be the first time that her type of voice has been heard here, according to Professor E. O. Bangs, head of the department of music. She will appear here October 17.

Low Ticket Prices

Season tickets for the three numbers will cost town people $2.50 and students $1.75. Single admissions will total $3.50 and $2.75 respectively. The talent for this year costs hundreds of dollars more than ever before and only excellent attendance will prevent a loss. Tickets will be put on sale in a few days.

Puppets Dramatic Sensation

Tony Sarg and his marionettes are booked as one of the first dates on the first tour this company ever has made into the west. Sarg, a prominent American illustrator, began working with marionettes several years ago and his creative development in this field has brought a new significance to the art. Eastern critics credit Sarg with a dramatic sensation that is unique.

The marionettes are puppet figures three feet high. For the manipulation of countless guide wires from behind the scenes, and to read the parts of the marionettes, from 12 to 15 persons are required.

Figures Life-Like

"The most remarkable thing about this production," said Dr. G. M. Miller, head of the English department, "is the perfect dramatic illusion produced. The mechanism is so perfect that it is impossible to distinguish between the behavior of the marionettes and that of high class dramatists." The Sarg event will be presented at the university auditorium December 9.

Because of the comparative infrequency of appearance of noted male singers in the northwest, particular significance is placed upon the coming of Arthur Middleton, who is scheduled for February 22. For years Middleton has maintained high rank among the foremost singers and constantly is growing in favor with the American public.

GLEE CLUB NEEDS SINGERS

Loss of Last Year's Men Makes Room For Much New Material

With but eight men of last year's glee club trying for the state tour this year, once again their is an opportunity for new students to make a place in the ranks of the Idaho warblers. This leaves 12 vacancies to be filled.

Tryouts are being held at the music hall each afternoon at 5 by Prof. E. O. Bangs, glee club director and head of the music department. As yet, no first tenors have turned out and other sections are unusually light.

An effort this year will be made to inject more life into the Idaho club and consequently the sooner the men are picked out the sooner time can be spent of extra numbers.

Energy Misapplied

If there is one thing that is wrong for a student to do it is to misapply his energy. The economics of this statement is obvious. By this we do not wish to imply that the student misapplies his energy consciously or voluntarily. In fact there are many instances when we all do those things that are not for the best interests of the University or of the student body as a whole—and which we would not think of doing if we were cognizant of their far-reaching results.

One instance of misapplied energy that comes to our attention is the general attitude that has prevailed recently in regard to the Varsity football men. At the practice game last Saturday considerable feeling was expressed for the Frosh players while but a minor portion of the sentiment and support of the rooters was with the team that is to represent the University. This attitude was more or less excusable under the circumstances—but it was also detrimental in a high degree.

The enthusiasm expressed at the occasion under discussion was well meant. There can be no doubt of that. But one important point was overlooked. In a few short days those men who uphold Idaho on the gridiron are to meet one of the most formidable teams in the northwest. It is highly essential that they are supported in a manner that will develop the highest morale. It is the morale factor that must be supplied by the student body if we are to be successful on the football field.

As students we cannot develop morale by criticism. Nor can we develop players that way. It is the duty of the coach to criticize; ours to encourage. To develop morale then is our obligation. Then it is up to us to support and encourage our varsity players in every possible way. That is the thing of prime importance with us.

What we must do with the next few days is to have some real pep rallies. We must talk football, football, football and live on football. We believe in our football men and are going to prove to them that we do. Psychologically, we are going to win that game in the next few days. With a few good yell rallies and pep meetings, we can change the whole situation.

Will we do it?

FOOTBALL!

This is neither "Bull" nor "Bear" but a simple expose of things as they are found.

Few students realize the seriousness of the football situation at present. Idaho is threatened with what is termed a "mediocre" season and more predictions, well founded, are that Oregon and W. S. C. will give us terrible "lickings" while Whitman, Montana, Camp Lewis, Gonzaga, Utah and Wyoming will humble the Silver and Gold football standards to the dust.

Varsity line-men—letter men of last year—are not playing football! Saturday's football game with the "Frosh" substantiated the most gloomy of feelings. There has been no fight on the varsity field for the past two weeks.

Is the slogan, "Idaho Fights!" to become meaningless?

Whose fault is it?

Not Kelley's—no, a thousand times no. Coach Kelley is the greatest football coach that ever inspired an Idaho man to deeds for Idaho. Is it the team? Yes and no. Some men are playing football and some are not. Whose fault is it then?

It's yours!

The spirit is bad. Students who have turned out on the grounds to watch football practice have come to laugh, to be amused at hearing a man called. You coaches have encouraged football men to stay later on dates than is in accord with training rules.

Things are gloomy and Idaho students as Idaho men and women may just as well face the issue. We hope for better days. Idaho MUST be peerless this year.

Just remember this. The football played on McLean field is representative of the fighting spirit of the student body. It's up to you. Take things seriously.

Between now and Saturday, students themselves can either win or lose the Camp Lewis game.

Send out your golden-geared warriors with their own prayer ringing in your ears:

"FOR IDAHO I WILL."

OREGON LOOKS FOR SUCCESSFUL SEASON

OLD MEN FAST ROUNDING INTO SHAPE AND NEW PLAYERS SHOW PROMISE

Evidence that Idaho will run into a serious proposition when she meets the University of Oregon at Portland on October 15, is given in an item this week in the Oregon Emerald.

In an optimistic air, the Emerald sings in praise of her gridiron warriors and in running over the list of veterans, shows that Oregon looks for an excellent list of victories.

Says the Emerald:

In the backfield Bill Reinhard is showing especially well, his kicking is accurate and he is getting back his old-time speed. "Tiny" Shields' kicking and passing are improving rapidly, and Tiny is beginning to look like a sure bet behind the line. Hal Chapman and "Chuck" Parsons are kicking accurately and with the experience these practice games will afford should show some real stuff. "Dutch" Gram, Ed Kirtley, Ward Johnson and De Armand are all going strong and will likely have a chance to shine in the opening clash with Willamette, at Salem, Saturday.

Ends Showing Well.

"Brick" Mitchell, end coach, refused to express an opinion of the team as a whole but has six candidates for the end berths who are showing up well though lacking in speed. Captain Mart Howard, Neil Morfitt, "Hunk" Latham, Campbell, and Karl Von der Ahe.

Bart Spellman, line coach, was of much the same opinion as Shy. They've got the beef, but they lack the speed."

The men out for line berths are big and hunky and as they develop speed much can be looked for from them. "Spike" Leslie, Rudd Brown and Bark Loughlin are all from last year's varsity, while the holes left by graduation will be filled from among Hugh Clerin, Byler, Dick Reed, McCraw, Floyd Shields, McKoown, Bill Johnson, McAllister, Benjamin and K. King.

May Spring Surprise

Graduate manager Benefiel is not especially optimistic over the prospects for a team and believes that it will take lots of work on the part of coaches, players and students to get a team together that will be as good as that of last year.

Approximately 25 men will make the trip to play Willamette, as Shy intends using all of the men possible in the initial set-to and while little is known of the Bearcat's strength, a hard game is expected. Roy Bohler the third member of the famous Bohler family is coaching the Salem college and is expected to put a strong aggregation into the field against the varsity.

W. S. C. STARTS LOAN DRIVE

WASHINGTON STATE COLLEGE, Pullman.—Plans for a substantial increase of the student loan fund at the State College of Washington were formulated at a meeting of local citizens and friends of the college held Monday night. The necessity of increasing the fund and ways and means for accomplishing this end were discussed in full at the meeting, and the situation was explained by J. L. Dumas, President E. O. Holland and members of the college faculty who handle the fund. It was brought out that the fund now is approximately $10,000 and that during less than ten years of its operation some $60,000 has been loaned to deserving students. Of this amount only $103 is considered lost, a fine tribute to the honor of the students of the college.

A friend of the college has volunteered a subscription of several thousand dollars provided the fund can be increased $10,000 by other subscriptions, and has offered a $500 initial subscription on the $10,000.

An active campaign will be inaugurated in Pullman at once to raise the required amount and will be carried to other parts of the state. With the increased enrollment and the prevailing hard times the present fund is entirely inadequate to meet the urgent requirements of deserving students.

TO EXAMINE STUDENTS

Physical examination of all students of the university is under way. The men are being examined by Dr. E. R. Edson, veterans' bureau surgeon, assisted by David MacMillan, assistant director of the department of physical education. Examinations for women are conducted by Dr. Martha Gilchrist, assisted by Irene W. Murray, assistant professor physical education.

FOOTBALL GLOOMY—

Injuries Hurt Team

One of the greatest handicaps facing Idaho is injuries to several of the more dependable players. "Huck" Breshears is limping around the field with a sprained foot. Dale Vohns, "Babe" Brown and Captain Grover Evans are all suffering from serious sprains. The real problem confronting Coach Kelley at present is these injuries, which may result in several of the mainstays being returned to the shelf for part of the season at least.

Lewiston to Meet Frosh

As a preliminary to the Idaho-Camp Lewis game the university "Frosh" eleven will have a chance to unload part of its wrath on the Lewiston High eleven. The "Frosh" eleven, composed of some promising material for next year's first squad, is speedily developing into a creditable eleven. By the end of the season Coach MacMillan will have one of the fastest and strongest first-year teams in the northwest.

The annual Idaho-W. S. C. game, originally scheduled for Saturday, October 22, will be played at Pullman Friday, October 21, according to an announcement made by Coach Kelley.

A special train of twelve cars will leave Moscow for the Cougar camp at 1:35 o'clock Friday, carrying the Idaho boosters. A fare of 25 cents each way has been announced for the special.

Frosh Lose Tug-of-War

A cold reception was given the frosh in the tug-of-war. Campus talk had it that the frosh would run away with this event but such was not the case. The crowd witnessed a steady advance of the yearlings towards the stream of ice cold water.

The sophomores attribute their success of the events of the day to the fact that they were better organized and had more carefully picked their men. The frosh took their defeat with good spirit and blame a lack of organization for their loss.

Put Numerals Up

Preparatory to the big day the freshmen showed themselves to be on the job. The vapors of mult-colored paints assailed the nostrils of all late goers Friday night as the first year men enhanced the scenery along the different streets and on the different buildings with big brown, black and other colored 25's.

General interest was awakened on the campus for the events of the Hulme fight. An azure sky and temptingly verdant campus were added incentives in arousing eds and coeds from lethargy. Standing room was at a premium as everybody jostled everybody in an endeavor to see what was going on.

PRESIDENT ENDORSES BETTER SCHOLARSHIP

ASKS FOR MORE INTENSE APPLICATION OF STUDENTS AND THE FACULTY

The following is a summary of the latter part of President Upham's address before the faculty at the first general meeting. Certain parts of the address which are not of interest to students have been stricken out.

The address follows:
"New conditions put a decided premium on correspondence and extension courses and make service on that committee a genuine piece of service. Departments in which there is demand for such courses should make every effort to meet it, not by undertaking a number of different courses, ill-prepared and carelessly handled, but by limiting themselves to one or two courses which can be carefully worked out."

Should Curb Spending
"If I were asked today to indicate the particular ideals which, in the light of less than a year's experience, seem to me most important for us to strive after in the immediate future, I should mention three very obvious and commonplace things: the cultivation of higher scholarship; the suppression of much of the extravagance which has characterized our social life of late; and the promotion of greater cooperation in all our efforts and activities."

No Place for "Rest Cure"
"In eastern colleges the so-called 'gospel of getting by' and the 'country-club' idea of college life have been notorious for some years. Gradually our western institutions, even those where the courses are largely technical and vocational, have set up similar standards which to a certain type of student are sacred things indeed. Faculties everywhere spend many hours a year discussing new restrictions which will minimize dances and encourage study and respect for scholarship. The greatest discoverer and inventor of our day has recently discovered that our educated young people do not know anything. Certainly this year of all years, when money is so scarce and prices have gone tumbling, parents and the tax-paying public can have no patience for the boy or girl who, at some one else's expense, is playing at an education."

Wants Courses Interesting
"The most effective solution of the problem here as elsewhere, would appear to be higher standards systematically applied to all our class work. I do not need to remind you that this must be done with sound judgment and patience, and should be attended with greater effort from every instructor to make his subject vital and appealing to the student mind."

"D" Students Threatened
"Action is in this body on what is generally known as the 'D Rule.' That is, a rule limiting the credit hours of D grades which can be counted toward graduation to one-fourth or even one-third of the total number required. It will certainly be a step in the right direction. The machinery of reporting and recording absences, which was set in motion last year, can be made effective toward the same end. Absences and slovenly work go hand in hand, and a deliberate class cut in as much an insult to the instructor, the institution, and the public as a poorly-prepared lesson."

Would Favor High Students
I should like to see some group of the faculty, preferably this Committee on Survey I have referred to, consider at length the plans now in operation in various places, to put more of a premium on sound scholarship among students. Some of these we have already. But what I am particularly interested in is some form of special privilege which will be a constant recognition of those students who dig into their work and act as if they like it and are graduated at last in the honor group. I want to separate the real student from the slacker and the drone."

Mental Tests Possible
"Serious consideration of such points as these cannot proceed very far nowadays without reckoning with the intelligence test. Colleges and universities are experimenting very freely with these tests, sometimes testing the student and very often testing the test. Undoubtedly these tests give us something we want to know. They do not tell us everything, and what we learn from them as deans and professors we had best keep to ourselves.

But our consideration of deficiencies, our graduation of sections, our permissions for added hours and added student activities, will be greatly illuminated from the results of such a test.

Our department of Psychology stands ready to provide these tests for all entering freshmen if the faculty so wills, and for groups of advanced students as the demand arises. I believe that the time and energy devoted to these would be well spent.

Good Spender Poor Student
"It is no far cry from our problem of poor scholarship to our problem of extravagance. I do not believe that the majority of our students spend money extravagantly. Many of them could not however much they wanted to. But there were numbers of young men and women last year who tried to keep up a foolish pace by spending needlessly for themselves or through their organizations money they could ill afford to throw away. Some of these students had to drop out of the University last spring, leaving their college year broken and wasted. Others will be unable to return this fall. There are unpaid bills for board and room-rent, for clothing and laundry, all the way down Main St., largely the result of somebody's extravagance."

Praises Library

"There are two features of our cooperation here which I wish especially to emphasize. Our library is now duly installed in its new quarters in the first floor and basement of this new South Wing. Documents and pamphlets, which have heretofore been almost inaccessible because of crowded stacks are being made available as rapidly as possible and every feature of library service will be greatly improved. It will never be possible for all of us to get the books or periodicals we want just when and where we want them, even under present conditions. I often used to find myself greatly inconvenienced in the Harvard library, the Columbia library, or even the British museum. All library rules are devised to make the books and periodicals available to the greatest possible number of people. Librarians are really happiest when the most books are in use. Library books have a strange fondness for lingering for months and accumulating on faculty shelves and periodicals get lost with surprising frequency. Let us all go out of our way for a while to think of other people's needs and convenience, and give the new library a most auspicious opening."

Wants Higher Loyalty
"Finally, I wish to crave your whole-hearted interest and cooperation in the recognized meetings and activities of the University. It is not always convenient to attend faculty meetings. Sometimes they bore us insufferably. Academic costume is expensive and may not be becoming to our face and figure. Weekly assemblies are not always interesting. At least it was so stated in a recent session of this body. Some of us do not even enjoy athletic contests. But there is no loyalty to the institution without loyalty to all its essential functions, and we cannot expect the students to get back of the University in all its phases if we ourselves are half-hearted in our support. All these things means morale, esprit de corps, the spirit of the institution. The University of Idaho is still small enough to possess and cherish such spirit in a marked degree. Shall we not all of us, from the ranks of the 'Old Guard' to the youngest instructor on the staff, highly resolve that we shall make ourselves genuinely concerned about all the worth-while features of University life, because it is now our University, a community of kindred spirits of which we may well be proud."

ARMISTICE DAY ARGONAUT

A special issue of the University Argonaut, will be published Armistice day by the university A. E. F. club, composed of overseas men. Appropriate cartoons and photographs are being collected and interesting tales brought back from France will be featured. A record is being made of the 146th field artillery which was made up largely of Idaho men of the old Second Idaho.

Ex-soldiers will handle the Armistice day program at the university and are arranging appropriate exercises. In the evening the A. E. F. club will give a banquet and dance.

CRITICS PRAISE SOPRANO

New York Writers Have Highest Praise For Marie Sundellus

Marie Sundellus, who appears here Oct. 17, at the Auditorium, always wins plaudits from the admiring public who crowd the spacious auditorium of the Metropolitan Opera house in New York at every performance; but when the dean of the New York musical critics voices his sentiment in the way he recently did in reviewing an important performance in which she sang one of the leading roles it is worth noting.

"A reviewer who failed to mention the finished singing of Miss Sundellus might be justly charged with neglect of duty towards the art of pure song."

This graceful tribute was paid to Mme. Sundellus at the second night of the opera season by H. E. Krehbiel, the veteran critic of the New York "Tribune." What Mr. Krehbiel said, the other critics elaborated upon, the substance being the same or even more glowing.

When this same singer sang Micaela in a special performance of "Carmen" Thanksgiving day matinee, that other formidable critic of the New York press, H. T. Finck, the musical editor of the "Post," waxed even more enthusiastic: "But her singing, he it said again, was a joy. So was the singing of Marie Sundellus, whose Micaela was the best shown here in years; her actign was sympathetic, her voice sweet, rich and pathetically expressive. The audience was hugely delighted and brought the performance to a halt with its applause."

SCREAMINGLY FUNNY FARCE COMEDY COMES NIGHT BEFORE CAMP LEWIS GAME

Daily rehearsals for the past two weeks assure that the Varsity Players in "Her Husband's Wife" will be just as perfect and professional-like as they were on the northwest tour this summer.

Coming the night before the Camp Lewis game, the farce-comedy will furnish an outlet for overflowing energy and spirit.

Popular Prices

Tickets will go on sale Wednesday. Reservations previous to the night of the performance can be made at Sherry's Book store. Moscow high school students are showing a great deal of interest in the play and a special ticket sale will be held at the high school building.

So that everyone can attend, the price has been cut to 50 cents with no tax.

"Her Husband's Wife" will serve as the opening number of college dramatics for the year, the members of the cast being prominent in dramatics and stars of other shows. It will be a good opportunity for new students to see what college dramatics are like.

TO GIVE FOOTBALL TROPHY

Idaho's Most Valuable Gridiron Hero To Be Honored By Trophy

The name of some member of this year's Idaho varsity football squad will at the end of the season be engraved on a trophy shield donated by James E. West, '16, formerly of Lewiston, it is announced by Coach Kelley.

The stipulations cited by Mr. West are that at the end of each gridiron season the man proving of the best value to the squad shall have his name engraved on the shield, which will hang in the athletic building.

The "West Trophy Shield" pictures a player kicking goal after a touchdown. Above the remainder of the team, lined behind the kicker, is a blank space bordered with laurels, in which the names of the honored will be engraved.

QUIET MID-WEEK NIGHT

SORORITIES ANNOUNCE NAMES OF 55 PLEDGES; 200 STUDENTS VIEW PARADE

Sorority rushing came to a grand climax last Thursday evening when at 8:30 the pledges-to-be hit the trail for the houses of their choice.

As the "parade" was shifted from Sunday to Thursday so that men would not line the thoroughfare as the women marched by it is quite natural that about 200 were out this year to witness the event. As a rule, there are 30 or 40.

The crowd gathered about 8 o'clock on the corner near Ridenbaugh hall. Soon a taxi from one of the sororities drove up in front of the hall and, fearing that they would be outwitted and robbed of their pleasure, the men swarmed around the entrance, allowing a thin open trail from the door down to the walk.

Automobile headlights and flashlights brilliantly illuminated the front of the hall.

In all, 55 girls were pledged. Delta Gamma pledged 16, Kappa Kappa Gamma 7, Gamma Phi Beta 17, Kappa Alpha Theta 7, Omega Phi Alpha (local) 5, and Alpha Delta (local) 3.

Pledging was as follows:

Delta Gamma—Annabelle McMathers, Mae Alvoid and Polly M. Thomas, Twin Falls; Eugenia Cruzen and Harriet Bliss, Boise; Eloise Kelsey, Nampa; Mary Thompson and Gladys Kuhn, Caldwell; Pauline Pence, Payette; Mary Patsley, E. 223 Twenty-second Ave., Spokane; Mary McCallum and Bertha Glindeman, Coeur d'Alene; Alice Peterson, Moscow; Mary Van Deusen, Emmett; Elizabeth Mac Inniss, Wallace and Rhoda Felton, Lewiston.

Kappa Kappa Gamma—Louise Yeaman and Molly Porter, Idaho Falls; Vida Richards, Seattle; Martha Collins, Tacoma; Lucille Gahan, Boise; Nicoline Kjosness, Lewiston and Vaughan Prater, Boise.

Gamma Phi Beta—Clara Shallis, Coeur d'Alene; Charlotte Jones, Newburg, Ore.; Louise Jenness, Welsor; Hazel Seeley, Mary Angell and Bernice Day, Moscow; El Mina Jones, and Emily Wade, Idaho Falls; Helen Grim, Nampa; Bernice Stambaugh, 1249 S. Wall St., Spokane; Nellie Prescott, 1104 S. Walnut, Spokane; Eugenia Alford, and Gwyneth MacKinley, Lewiston; June Crosson and Alice Bowman, Boise; Mary MacMahon, Shoshone and Demersie Ebbley, Wallace.

Kappa Alpha Theta—Freda Howard, American Falls; Grace Jacobson, 507 E. Nora, Spokane; Marie Hogenson, Burley; Florence Stone, Twin Falls; Gladys Perry, Moscow; Emeline Gillman, Boise and Ethel Povey, Halley.

Omega Phi Alpha—Vivian Roberts, Wallace; Helen Lovelane, Coeur d'Alene; Decella Lemmer and Gertrude Ramsey, Sandpoint and May Anderson, Boise.

Alpha Delta—Florence Casey Juneau, Alaska; Ruth Wright, Clarkston, Wash. and Ruth Hove, E. 228 S. Ave., Spokane.

INTEREST IN TENNIS GROWS

Lure of Campus Championship Draws Many Racket Wielders Out

With only a little over two weeks to go before the inter-class tennis tourney, the courts have been full for the past week with tennis sharks, ambitious for the title, "Campus Champ."

Several new stars among the freshmen, students who attended other schools are showing up, and some keen competition can be looked for in the class preliminaries, which will precede the final series.

No work has been done on the courts, as yet, but the Athletic Department expects work to start the middle of the week.

The coming contest appears to be stirring up considerable interest among the co-eds, and many of the weaker, but cleverer sex, have been seen at surreptitious practice since the announcement of the tourney in last week's Argonaut.

TO PRESENT ORATORIO

The "Messiah," Handel's sacred oratorio, will be produced here this winter with 100 voices and an orchestra of at least 30 pieces, according to Prof. E. O. Bangs, head of the department of music.

University students and Moscow people will co-operate in presenting the oratorio. Music will be furnished by the Moscow community orchestra, composed of both students and townspeople, probably supplemented by additional musicians. The orchestra will be led by John W. Dickinson, instructor in violin.

Co-eds, both sorority and non-sorority, have three new rules to comply with as a result of a meeting of the Women's League the last of the week. Rule No. 1 decrees that no "auto" party shall leave the city limits without first gaining permission from the dean of women. The second rule converts what were formerly considered "Sunday night dates" into evening engagements, by declaring they must cease at 6:30 o'clock. Rule No. 3 specifies that walking dates on week days must be confined to the hours of 4 to 6 o'clock in the afternoon.
